A hot tip to a vacuum cleaner salesman. Tom Davis at the Dimmitt Gin Company should be a good prospect for the sale of a vacuum cleaner, his pretty new gin that was so nice and clean just a few days ago is beginning to look like any old gin, lint, burrs and hulls all over the place. I guess ginners in general are very poor housekeepers.

Fish on the carpet. That's what you get when you kick the fish bowl in the dark. Somebody had set the fish bowl on the floor at the end of the piano, in our house that is, and as usual it was my job to close the place up for the night, turn out the lights and other pesky details such as getting the alarm clock off the piano and letting Major in if he was out and putting him out if he was in and needed out. It was when I walked over to the piano to reach for the clock, in the dark, that I discovered that the fish bowl had been set on the floor. When I got the light turned on those three little fish were swimming around on the carpet and Viola hollered from the bedroom, "You didn't?" I said, "I did, and do you want me to put these pesky fish in the sink or let them swim down the floor furnace." Our fish are now living in an old dishpan, the carpet is practically dry and if that alarm clock and those fish are ever put in the same room again I won't even look to see what time it is.

A group of Castro County people are singing their way to fame. The Castro County Farm Bureau Chorus will leave Sunday for Houston where they will compete for the state chorus championship and the right to represent Texas at the national convention in Chicago in December. The chorus has been rehearsing and performing under the direction of Ray Bearden. They have furnished some wonderful entertainment at various gatherings and functions, in addition to winning first place in Farm Bureau District II in a contest between county choruses at Plainview.

The Bobcats were superb Friday night against Olton. They did everything just right and a lot of it. The Olton boys just couldn't penetrate that Bobcat line and they couldn't go around the ends without getting out of bounds. The Bobcat backfield was on a par with the forward wall, a better job of ball handling has never been witnessed in these parts and as far as passing and rushing was concerned the local gridmen left nothing to be desired from the most optimistic fan.

At present there seems to be some uncertainty as to which team the Bobcats will play next. Being champions of District 2A the Cats are supposed to mix it with the champion team of District 1A in a bi-district game, that district, however is having some difficulty in determining a champion and it is possible that the Bobcats may win region before they have a chance to play a bi-district game. Maybe there will be some announcements from the district to the north clarifying the situation, as to football, in that neighborhood before the week-end. Apparently Canadian was well on the way to a district championship in District A1 where the team's eligibility was contested. Another strong team, Clarendon, had already been declared ineligible, and according to a news release all of the teams in the district might possibly be ruled ineligible. Now if I was a player on one of those teams and knew that I might have to tackle Glenn Brown there wouldn't anything please me any better than to be ruled ineligible. Arrangements for the bi-district game will probably be made following the game between Canadian and Wheeler Friday night. Naturally I think the bi-district game should be played on Bobcat field so that the fans from the North Panhandle (or however its classified) could have the opportunity of visiting one of the state's fastest growing cotton towns, but chances are I won't be consulted about the matter as I am recognized more as an authority on where to play football games.

The Bobcats will win the game next week by a comfortable margin. And we have learned since we started this paragraph that

Dimmitt School Building Project To Require Larger Building Fund

The school board of the Dimmitt Independent School District has authorized a request to the Volunteer Credit Restraint Committee, a government agency, for authority to authorize an election to vote a supplemental bond issue to complete the construction of the new grade school building and gymnasium. The action was taken at a meeting of the school board Monday night.

The original bond issue of $375,000 was authorized by voters of the district in a school bond election held on July 1, 1950. When all bids on the contract to construct the building exceeded the amount of the bond issue the building project was temporarily postponed. However, after further consideration and after being faced with an increasing school building facility shortage the school board reversed its original action and let contracts for the construction project. At the time public opinion was sounded out as best as possible and the school board was assured that they were representing the thinking of the patrons of the district in going ahead with the building program.

At the time the contracts were let it would have been very difficult, if not impossible, to determine the amount of additional bonds to vote so it was decided to start the building program and before the funds from the original bond issue were exhausted secure a definite estimate for the supplemental bond issue.

Acting on the advice of Mr. O. R. Walker, architect, the school board is making preparations to authorize an election on the proposition of issuing another $375,000 in school bonds to complete the new grade school building and gymnasium, construction of which is well under way. Before the issue can be submitted to the voters of the district it is first necessary for the board to secure permission from the Volunteer Credit Restraint Committee, a government agency which has as its purpose the curtailment of construction projects and other activities that might require materials needed in the government's rearmament program. Due to the fact that the local building project was well under way before the agency was created local school officials do not anticipate any difficulty in securing the permit to hold the proposed bond election. Another fact that favors the building program, as pointed out by school officials, is that practically all materials have already been purchased and the bulk of the additional building fund will go for labor.

Date for the bond election has not been set but according to an announcement by Mr. Earl Harris, school board secretary, all details for the holding of the election will be completed as soon as possible.

A small percent of Castro county voters went to the polls Tuesday and turned thumbs down on all of the proposed amendments to the state constitution. Less than 300 of the county's potential 2000 voters went to the trouble of casting a ballot in the election. Two reasons have been advanced for the light balloting over the state, one is that being an off election year many people failed to pay a poll tax and the other is on the theory that voting on personalities always gets the vote out more than does balloting on issues. According to an announcement today by County Judge Robert Estes 1198 Castro county citizens paid poll taxes for the current year and which represents a little more than half of the county's potential voting strength.

Following are the results of the voting in Tuesday's election:
For county official pensions 36, against 255.

For investment of University Fund in additional securities 93, against 193.

For rural fire prevention districts 50, against 235.

For increasing veterans land fund 113, against 176.

For increasing old age and other pensions 85, against 210.

Health Talks

Between the states of behavior known as mental health and mental illness there are classifications which are a combination of both, in which a person on some phases of life is quite normal, quite healthy, and on other features behaves poorly.

The psychopathic personality is not all mentally healthy nor all mentally unhealthy. In many phases of life the psychopath behaves quite normally, and even in the same situation he does not always behave the same way. He is usually more against people and situations than he is for them and the broadest definition of a psychopath is an antisocial person.

He's the kind of person who may know the rules of the game of life but refuses to apply them to himself. He is morally irresponsible, not because he doesn't know what morals are but because he fails to make them a part of his life. The extremes of psychopathic personalities usually include such people as the sexual perverts, the alcoholics, the dope addicts, the kleptomaniacs, those who constantly start fires, and the "love wolf" criminal. There are less serious characteristics of psychopathy, too, such people as the over-sensitive, the unpredictable, the cranks, the moody, the sourpusses, and the stuffed shirts. The person who refuses to assume independence, who enjoys the dependence of relief and charity, any one who forces himself into the life of others either by brute force or by complete dependence may fall into the broadest definition of psychopathic personality.

How does a person get to be psychopathic? It is possible that some people might be born without the capacity to learn right from wrong, though developing normally in other ways. It is possible that a rough part of town where everyone is out to get what ever he can by fair means or foul would breed children who assumed that same "survival of the fittest" philosophy. It is possible that home abuse or neglect in training would keep a child from ever seeing anything good to model his actions in. It is more probable, however, that a combination of all of these, heredity, environment and home training, with emphasis up on the home, play a part in the development of an antisocial personality.

All children go through a phase when they must have their way, punishment or not. When an adult has no regard for anyone or anything besides his own desires, his own aims, he has failed to develop beyond a normal childhood state and would quite likely fall into the category of psychopathic personality. Mental health is adjustment to oneself, one's fellowman, and one's role in life; the psychopath usually fails to adjust to his fellowman.

Dorothy Stanford Becomes Bride Of Grady Travis Tadlock, Jr. Saturday

Rev. E. Lee Stanford read the double-ring service Saturday evening uniting in marriage his daughter, Dorothy Sue Stanford, Amarillo, and Grady Travis Tadlock, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Travis Tadlock, also of Amarillo.

Vows were exchanged at 7 o'clock in Dimmitt Methodist Church, of which Rev. Stanford is pastor. Mrs. Pat Hyatt, organist, played "Salut d'Amour" by Elgar, "Indian Love Call" by Friml and "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod as a nuptial prelude. While the candles were lighted, she played "At Dawning" by Cadman, and "Clair de Lune" by Debussy as a soft accompaniment for the exchange of vows.

Charles Eads of Amarillo sang "Because" by D'Hardelot and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert. As the benediction, he sang "Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Formal altar arrangements of gladioli were backed by huckleberry, fern and palms and flanked by candelabra bearing cathedral tapers. The bridal aisle was marked with candles, tied with white satin ribbon. Paul Stanford, brother of the bride, and Helen Locke lighted the candles.

Mrs. Eldon Saul of Miami, Tex., was her sister's matron-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. C. W. Fletcher of Amarillo, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Lynn Allen of Miami. Miss Helen Locke of Miami was junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns of wedding taffeta shading from orchid to deep purple, styled with fitted bodices, cap sleeves and full circular skirts. Their Juliet caps were in matching shades and they carried bouquets of chrysanthemums in shades of purple and orchid to contrast their gowns.

As flower girl, Elaine Saul of Miami, niece of the bride, wore a pastel purple taffeta frock and wore a waist corsage of chrysanthemums.

C. W. Fletcher of Amarillo was his brother-in-law's best man. Groomsmen were George Ritter and Doyle Foreman of Amarillo and Paul Martin Stanford, brother of the bride. David Locke of Miami carried the rings on a satin pillow.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Jesse Edgar Stanford, the bride was attractive in a gown of white slipper satin, designed with a fitted bodice, satin sleeves detailed with Chantilly lace, stand-up collar of the lace and full, gathered skirt terminating in a chapel train.

Her finger-tip length veil was attached to a heart-shaped bonnet caught with lace, and her only jewelry was a watch, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible marked with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis and satin ribbon. Her bridal handkerchief was borrowed from Mrs. L. W. Sloneker, who carried it at her wedding 45 years ago.

Mrs. Stanford, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress with purple trim and black and purple accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Tadlock, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gray figured crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception honored the bridal party in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Laid with a white linen cloth, the serving table was decorated with bouquets of shaded purple chrysanthemums and white papers in crystal holders. Miss Lenore Longino and Beverly Seiberling of Amarillo served the three wedding cake and Misses Kay Beard-en and Sandra Neumayer presided at the punch bowl. Miss Maxine Sloneker of Amarillo secured names for the bride's book.

Assisting in the house party were Mesdames Sam Hunter, Earl Harrison, Dilmord Neumayer, George Webb and George Bagwell, Glenn Ratcliff, Goldman Dyer, Russell Moran of Dimmitt, and Mrs. John Lesly of Galveston, sister of the bridegroom.

THERE IS A WATKINS VITAMIN SUPPLEMENT FOR EVERY FEEDING PROBLEM

All livestock and poultry need vitamins. This has been proved by the U. S. D. A., by state experimental farms, and by tens of thousands of farmers all over the country. The real problem is not "Do my livestock need vitamins?" but "What kind of vitamins do my livestock and poultry need?" Some types of stock need one combination of vitamins, and other kinds of stock need an altogether different group.

You can take the guesswork out of vitamin feeding when you use Watkins Vitamin Supplements. I have six different vitamin supplements—one for every feeding program on your farm. Let me show you these tested and proved feed-balancers when I call at your farm:

- Multi-Vitamin Supplement (with or without B12 and Antibiotic).
- B-Vitamin Supplement for Swine (with or without B12 and Antibiotic).
- A and D Supplement.
- Vitamin B-Complex for Livestock.

I also have three different complete mineral mixtures, one for livestock, one for hogs and one for poultry. Also several other Farm Line Products. Mail orders appreciated. Satisfaction and prompt delivery guaranteed.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting

Once again Jimmy Robinson has come up with some fine hunting tips, this time on shooting geese. He says the first thing to do is to locate where the geese are feeding. This is not hard to do with a good binocular and a car.

After you find the feeding place, watch them carefully. They won't feed very long, and after they have left for their lake roosting place, walk over and inspect the grounds. Then ask permission from the farmer to dig your pits.

If you want to be a goose hunter you must know the lay of the land. Watch every field every day and you will know when new flocks come in. If you have plenty of time to hunt, it is Jimmy's advice to leave the flock alone for a couple of days. Then you will get your best shot. It is best not to shoot a field two days in a row, even if the geese do return. Be sure you fill your pits after you have finished hunting a field. Open pits are dangerous to livestock and tractors.

Don't shoot with more than two hunters to a pit, if possible. Sometimes we dig several pits, one per gunner, about 15 yards apart. Don't make your pits too deep. Usually I dig mine about waist-high. It should be as narrow as possible, giving you just enough room to stand up and shoot.

After you have dug the pit, carry away all the fresh dirt. Scatter a little hay around the edge of the pit. You can place a couple of decoys near the edge if you like. Make the pit look as natural as the surroundings. If you dig your pit at night, mark the spot with a light. Otherwise you'll have a hard time finding it in the dark pre-dawn

Don't leave your car near your pits. It will warn the geese. Don't look up or move when the geese come in and circle. If they intend to come into your decoys, they will come in with the wind, circle once or twice and then sweep down over your block against the wind. When they make that final sweep, within gun range, is the time to rise and fire. Remember geese are large and deceiving as to range.

Always keep cool and pick out a bird. Knock over the leader, if possible—then the others may become confused and swing back. Never jump up for the dead geese after you have fired your first volley. Geese often circle. Check your gun often in a pit. See that it is always ready and free of dirt.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gregory and family and Dalia Twiner attended the Homecoming celebration and visited their son, Carol at A.C.C. Abilene last week end. They also saw the A.C.C.-Austin College football game.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Congressman Walter Rogers

Here is some information on the appropriations passed in the First Session of the 82nd Congress, which I think will be of interest to you. I did not vote for all of the appropriations bills that passed the House, and I voted in Committee to cut many of the appropriations that finally did pass the House. I tried to cast a solvent vote; that is, I voted for appropriations that I felt absolutely necessary in the interest of this country's defense and for necessary domestic expenditures. I did not feel that additional taxes should be voted, and therefore tried to keep expenditures within the amount of money that would be collected in taxes without increasing the tax burden. I especially call your attention to the percentage of expenditures earmarked for defense purposes: Appropriations passed in the first session of the 82nd Congress approached those provided in the peak years of World War II. In the session just ended Congress voted $91,626,541,716 in supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year 1951 and in regular and supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year 1952. In addition to this amount, $6,116,000,000 was provided in the form of permanent allotments which are made automatically every year to cover such payments as interest on the national debt and other recurring statutory items. This $91.6 billion represents an eleven percent increase over the $82.0 billion provided by the preceding session of Congress for fiscal 1951. On a per capita basis, the approved federal spending amounts to about $636 for every man, woman and child in the country. The final amount of money voted was about $4.4 billion less than the original amount requested by the Administration. By far the greatest share of these appropriations is for national defense and defense-related activities. Funds voted to pay for past wars and for preparation for any possible new ones amounted to $75.0 billion or 81.9 percent of all money provided in the session which just closed. Some of the larger items are as follows: $56.5 billion for the Department of Defense with Army, Navy and Air Force getting $20 billion, $16 billion and $21 billion of this respectively. To provide for aid and the defense of other countries against Communist aggression, Congress voted $7.3 billion for mutual security. For such other activities as veterans' services $4.1 billion was provided, and $1.6 billion will be available to continue atomic energy programs. Appropriations for non-defense activities took a much smaller share or 10.7 percent of the total federal spending provided. The amount voted for domestic programs amounted to $9,785,086,341, and was about one billion dollars less than that requested by the Executive. Large amounts were appropriated for the following public works programs: $597 million for flood control, $363 million for grants to states for public roads, and $71 million for public power construction work. Relief payments to states will continue to be large with $1.1 billion going for such purposes. Public health programs will have about $359 million to spend with greater opportunity for research in heart disease and cancer. Congress has provided $803 million for such agricultural programs as aid to farm operators, subsidization of soil building, conservation practices and the school lunch program. The federal government will continue to encourage education with $141 million available to promote the various programs. While large sums have been appropriated for the fiscal year 1952, it is not expected that expenditures will rise to this same height. This is largely due to the fact that contracts for such items as planes, ships, tanks and guns may be let in 1952 for delivery in 1953, at which time payment will be made. The Budget Bureau has estimated that about $67 billion will be spent by the Government in the fiscal year which ends next June.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

A Special Pumpkin Pie
1 1/2 cups mashed pumpkin
2 eggs
2/3 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 lemon, rind and juice
3/4 cup black walnut or pecan meats (optional)
1/2 teaspoon salt.
Separate eggs and beat separately. Combine beaten egg yolks, pumpkin, and all the ingredients except the egg whites. Fold stiffly beaten egg whites into the combined ingredients. Fill pie shells. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 15 minutes, and in a moderate oven (325 degree F.) for an additional 30 minutes. Makes 2 seven inch pies.

This is a very light filling. If you prefer it heavier, use 1/2 cup of milk and 1/2 cup of cream or all cream.

Jesse Edgar Stanford student at S.M.U. was here last week end to visit relatives and to attend his sister's wedding. He made the trip by plane.

This Is Our School

As I entered into Dimmitt High School Friday, November 6, I was surprised and amazed at what I saw. Over night the interior of the lower halls of "Old D. H. S." had begun to look like a large museum.

They were decorated with long streamers of purple and white and posters which I could not make out from the distance. My first impression was to wonder who was running for what office, but then my heart seemed to leap and twist and as I listened, it seemed to be saying "Hey, stupid, don't forget, Dimmitt vs. Olton." Then my heart again sank to position for a moment only, to be replaced by the trembling of my whole body.

In a moment my strength returned and I proceeded slowly and weakly toward the posters. As I walked the trembling slowed down and to my amazement I found I was calm again. Upon the wall I read signs such as "Yea Bobcats—On to State, Win, lose or draw, We're with you," telling me that the entire school was behind us.

In my classmates this day was a feeling which was easily analyzed but hard to explain. There was a tenseness but yet a warmth deepened by these posters and streamers and thoughts of the big game.

The hours passed with teachers and children alike having a hard time thinking of anything but football. Finally the last period came and we all knew what that meant. Anyone that hadn't been in the spirit before now surely would be in the next thirty minutes. This week was the last week of the regular season, and as far as we knew, without the aid of a crystal ball, it was the last game.

Then we listened for a spine-chilling 30 minutes to speeches which magnified our determination to win and songs that made us clinch our fists. When it was over we were ready for our "big game."

This spirit paid off because that night at the end of 48 hard-fought moments the score read 25 for us and 6 for Olton. Thus was won another victory both on the field and in the school for D.H.S.

 Teachers

Regardless of what the students and worthwhile people of the town think, school teachers are human. They eat, sleep, and breathe, the same as people in other walks of life. In saying this I mean no reflection but mean to take up for the teachers. The average student is around one teacher one hour at the most with conversation limited to the talk of studies. The student is around his parents at least three hours a day and other students more than that. Still people are inclined to blame the school teacher for the child's bad habits. This seems very short sighted to me. Think of the good habits the child receives through the teacher with their constant work. I myself would like to give a good word for the common, yes human, school teacher who molds the future leaders of America.

This article is a little out of line for my type of writing, but it deals with a matter which is very pertinent.

Plainview B Team Beats Dimmitt B

The Dimmitt B team played the Plainview Junior High here Thursday. Dimmitt came out on the small end of the score 32-0. In the first quarter Holland made Plainview's first touchdown and the extra point was good. Then in the second quarter, McNeil ran Plainview's next touchdown and the extra point was good again. At the half the score was 14-0.

Edwin Cartwright was Dimmitt's outstanding lineman. Outstanding offensive backfield man was Robert Yates, and defensive backfield man was Alton Whitworth. Again McNutt in the third quarter ran another touchdown which made Plainview 20 points and in the fourth quarter Hodges ran Plainview's last touchdown. The score at the end of the game was 32-0.

Stomp Olton 25-6

The Dimmitt Bobcats won their first clear cut District Championship since 1943 here Friday night when they out-classed the high-powered Olton Mustangs by the score of 25-6. The Bobcats racked up 337 yards rushing in winning their ninth consecutive game. The Mustangs could grind out only 58 yards and 5 first downs, while Dimmitt made 27 first downs. Glenn Brown found pay-dirt on the second play of the 2nd quarter, after Billy Gregory had intercepted an Olton pass on the 7 yard line. Wright's conversion was blocked. The half ended this way with Dimmitt on top by 6-0.

Dimmitt recovered a fumble on the Olton 30 yard line on the 3rd play of the 2nd half, and moved the ball down to the seven where Glenn Brown went over for the T.D. Donald Wright's conversion put the score 13-0. Late in the same period Jack Hodges raced around right end for the score. Donald Wright's conversion try was missed to leave the score 19-0. Olton scored early in the 4th quarter after they had recovered a Dimmitt fumble on the Dimmitt 38 yard line. Lonnie Stevens went all the way on the first play, but the conversion attempt was stopped, leaving Dimmitt's lead 19-6. After taking the kickoff Dimmitt marched 72 yards in 10 plays for the T.D., when Glenn Brown hit right tackle, cut across the secondary, and raced 17 yards. The try for the point was missed to leave the final score 25-6.

Dimmitt was knocking on the Mustang's doorstep again when the game ended. Glenn Brown, Billy Gregory, and Marvin Axe were outstanding for Dimmitt. Brown rushed for 200 yards and caught passes for 50 more. Dimmitt will probably play Canadian next week on a field that is to be decided.

Our Bobcats

How did you feel when our Dimmitt Bobcat Football Team became "District Champions" last Friday night? If you were like most of us, you felt pretty wonderful. Our football team has contributed greatly to our school, and they are something we can truly be proud of.

We know our boys have had to fight for all they have achieved. It also takes encouragement from their friends and families. They have to know they have something to fight for or their efforts are in vain.

We want our team to win and keep on winning. But whatever the results, we are going to stay behind them. Are you going to do your part to make this a winning team?

Perfect School

My idea of a perfect school is one where they have seats with soft cushions that will set at any angle. The classrooms would have white black boards with black chalk.

The teachers would wear plain ordinary tuxedos with white collars and black shoes. They would wear gray ties with a confederate flag on the lower end of the tie. They would carry small canes.

The students would wear levis around and really look dignified, with tall fancy or inlaid boots, white shirts and blue hats. The students would carry their books in leather brief cases with silver buckles. They would have little "Black boys" to wash and clean up the inside of their cars while the owner was in class.

The gym would have a big floor with a place for a square boxing ring in the center and long ropes hanging from the high ceiling for people to swing on.

The outside of the school building would be white brick with green window shades.

The landscaping would be mostly grass, but there would be a pretty green hedge around the campus and along all the wide sidewalks. There would be huge trees out on the lawns and lots of bright colored flowers. There would be a parking lot for cars and it would be covered with canvas awnings to protect the cars from the heat and any other thing that might hurt your car would be covered by insurance. This is my ideal school.

Swain Burkett is coming down off his perch. He has held forth in offices in the upper part of the court house for many years, but this week is moving into his new offices next to the post office.

The new County Attorney, who is the guardian of the rights of the people as they pursue life, liberty and pleasure, Russell Moran, will vacate his present offices in favor of the rent-free space vacated by Burkett. Lawyers are funny people, they are always in a hurry but don't ever seem to get much done. As a rule they are men of a high ulcer content, usually three or more, and the pity of it all is that their high nervous state is brought about by worry over other peoples troubles. They don't have any merchandise to sell so they have to charge a nominal fee for their opinions, and they never run out of stock because they keep a buch of books around to get more opinions from when business picks up. A community needs a few good lawyers, fact of the matter is it is not a well-rounded community without them. There are always occasions arising when there is a need for a public speaker, a toast master, or some other function that busy people don't have time to fool with. The lawyers come in handy at a time like that, they have had special training in conversation and are always ready to sound off. They are a highly ethical group, too, they never lower a fee, if they feel that the fee they have charged is a little high they just throw in another opinion for good measure.
