Denver To Build Switch

Amarillo, July 27 Work is under way on a railroad switch from the Fort Worth and Denver Railway tracks at the Amarillo Refinery to the livestock exhibit barns at the Tri-State Exposition grounds.

The Fort Worth and Denver Railway last week announced it would build the spur track into the Tri-State fair ground following the efforts of local committee including fair officials Howard Ferguson, dairyman and Mayer Lee Bivins to secure such a track.

All livestock to be exhibited at the fair may be unloaded at the livestock barns now and loaded at the same place. This will do away with all trouble in hauling and driving the animals nearby unloading places. Hogs, cows, horses, sheep and poultry may be unloaded right at the fair building.

Mayor Lee Bivins donated steel rails for the track inside the fair grounds.

The new spur switch track which has been needed for many years will be ready for use one week before the fair opens on September 11, and judging from reports from over this territory will bring the biggest and best livestock exhibits to Amarillo this year that have ever been shown at a Panhandle fair.

Sudan High School Receives Additional Credits

Superintendent L. L. Price reports that the State Department of Education has granted the Sudan High School addition credits in History, Bookkeeping, Science (Biology) and Home Economics.

The High School now has nineteen credits. It is indeed gratifying to know that our school has made such wonderful progress. The standing of the school can be better appreciated when it is understood that 15 to 16 credits will admit a graduate to any college or university. With nineteen affiliated units, all of which are fundamental subjects, to the credit of our school, our graduates should consider themselves fortunate. The teachers and students should be commended for the good work they have done.

Another Circle for Livestock Improvement

The following men met and formed a circle for improving jersey dairy stock by introducing good breeding stock. R. E. Thomas, A. D. Newman, W. H. Walker, W. H. Burrow, U. Z. Burrow, J. B. Wingo and W. H. DeLoach. The following men were elected officer. R. E. Thomas Pres. W. H. W. Walker vice Pres. and A. D. Newman Sect. treas. Mr. Newman will be care taker. The fees will be three and five dollars for outsiders and two dollars for members, cash at time of service.

Mr. Eaton, County Agent Lubbock and a state representative of Texas A and M College will select the Animal at the time they are selecting some jerseys for Lubbock County around the first of the month. There should be more of such organizations in our county, which makes it possible to have the advantage of good breeding stock at a low cost.

Big Sale at Everybodys Closes Saturday

The folks of the Sudan territory have enjoyed one of the biggest bargain feasts that has ever been offered in Sudan, during the past two weeks, at Everybodys Cash Store. This firm has cut the prices on Dry Goods, Ready to Wear and Shoes, to the core, and hundreds of people have shared in this big saving.

Mr. Isenberg will leave in a few days for the eastern market and will buy extensively for the fall trade. He informed the editor that Everybodys Cash Store will be able to supply the folks of this territory with just what they want, at a great saving, when his new fall goods arrive.

Boys May Work Their Way Through College

Arrangements are being made whereby one hundred boys can work their way through the North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington on the half time co-operative plan during the ensuing scholastic year. Three vocational courses will be placed on this basis: general electricity, auto mechanics, and agriculture. The boys taking these courses will alternate between work and study. For a period of six weeks they will be in the class rooms at the College, receiving instruction in the principles and theories lying at the foundations of the courses they pursue. That is to be followed by another period of six weeks in industry where each boy will be assigned a job at which he may work for pay. The jobs, for the most part, will be in the electrical industries, with the automobile dealers and well equipped garages, on the up-to-date farms, and at the well appointed commercial dairies in the vicinities of Arlington, Fort Worth, and Dallas.

In general, the boys will receive enough money while on the job for six weeks, if they are economical, to pay most of their expenses while in school the following six weeks. However, earning one's expenses while in school, or working one's way through school, worthy as that may be, is not the main object of the co-operative plan. That is a mere incident to it. The chief thing in view is its educational value--the proper union of theory and practice. College education is often criticized and even reviled for being impractical. Graduates are denounced as helpless--helpless because they have read about and have been told about so many more things than they have ever had an opportunity to touch, handle and master in a practical way. It is just this weakness, so universally recognized in the American system of education, that the part-time, co-operative plan seeks to alleviate. Boys of limited financial means who desire to take advantage of this plan should apply at once to Mr. D. A. Bickel, Registrar of the North Texas Agricultural College, at Arlington, Texas.

SNAPS FISH AT HOME IN OCEAN

Bartsch Tells Experience Off Florida Coast.

Washington.—The ocean floor, the world's last great unexplored region, will soon have its secrets revealed by motion pictures, according to Dr. Paul Bartsch of the United States national museum, who has made an underwater cinema hunt for fishes among the coral grottos off the coast of Florida.

With his specially constructed waterproof camera he secured hundreds of feet of record of submarine life and spent as much as five and a half hours at a time walking about the sea bottom, 20 feet below the surface.

It is at this comparatively shallow depth, he says, that life is most varied and abundant, since the corals and other sea animals build in the teeth of the breakers, where the backward and forward flow of the water brings fresh supplies of the microscopic plants and animals which form their food. However, next season he plans to descend to greater depths with another camera better adapted to catch the slowly moving fish as they silently glide out of the blue haze which fills the coral-columned aisles of their submarine retreats.

The camera man, in his diving helmet, has little to fear, Doctor Bartsch records, in invading these underwater regions. Sharks are sometimes seen, he admits, but adds that "sharks are always gentlemen." In taking his recent film, however, when he first saw that terror of the coast, the barracuda, instead of leveling his camera, he instinctively snatched up his tripod and prepared to battle for his life as the big fish swam around him, mildly curious at the silvery bubbles rising from his diving helmet. The next day Doctor Bartsch so far conquered his instinctive fear of this fish as to secure a good picture of two barracudas as they circled around him.

Much Nitrogen in Air.

By volume, the air near the earth is about 78 per cent nitrogen and 21 per cent oxygen. Hydrogen is found also uniformly distributed. Other gases and vapors of more complex molecular nature are water, carbon dioxide, ammonia and sulphuric dioxide.

Gilders of Early Times.

Short gilders in the air were made as early as the reign of King Harold of England by a monk named Ellmer, who, after several successful flights, jumped from a lofty tower with wings strapped to his body. He gilded for a furlong or more, when, striking a cross air current, or "air pocket," he fell to the ground, breaking both legs. He attributed the accident to his neglect "to fit on a tall."

Must Have Been Jealous.

Mr. Jack—"Isn't that skirt-dancer a peach?" Mrs. Jack—"I should say she was more like brown sugar; very sweet, but coarse; a little off color, and decidedly unrefined."—Boston Transcript.

Considered Smoking a Crime.

Sultans and priests of Turkey once considered smoking tobacco so serious a crime that in many cases torture and death was the punishment meted out to those indulging in it.

Prudence Necessary.

Every state, every commonwealth is to be governed by prudence, if it is to be lasting.

The Busy Bee.

In order to store up a kilogram (two and one-fifth pounds) of honey, bees have to visit at least 6,000,000 heads of red clover, according to computations based on observations of their work by Dr. L. Arnbruster of Berlin. Clover honey requires the most work. Fewer visits to other honey-producing plants are required, as low as 80,000 in the case of peas.
