SOPHOMORE CLASS SCHOOL NEWS

Public program by fifth and fourth grades--Prof. Smallwood and Miss Fryar have colds--Football game--Junior Entertainment--Home economics News--High School Visitor--New teacher to be added--Teachers attended country teachers' association at Littlefield--Miss Black and Coach Brown visit Lubbock--George Wilkins visit school--Superintendent Wilkins visit Amherst School--Prof. Smith visits Sudan School--Pupils hurt.

The little girl says that it never rains but it pours. This seems to be true in our own case. Last week the sophomore were hard pressed to find news to cover the space so kindly reserved for them by H. H. Weimhold in our paper. This week everything has seemed to happen at once.

The rains of the early part of last week made it necessary that the public program of the week be carried over to Thursday. Miss Eads gave her program by the fifth grade on "The Little Girl". Because of few people who could know of the exact date of the program there were not many visitors and the class felt a little slighted, but it is rather the credit of our people that so many were present at that time, for it was not known until noon that the program would be presented in the afternoon.

Monday of this week, Miss Jackson and her section of the fourth grade rendered a very enjoyable little program. The folk game of the class was well presented. A rather large crowd of visitors was present among whom was Miss Margaret Cotham of Austin, state high school supervisor. Miss Cotham was inspecting the condition of the school preparatory to making a report on our fitness for membership in the Association of Southern Colleges and High Schools. She expressed herself as intensely interested in the class of program rendered. Her experience in Sudan and her inspection of the school, its system, organization, equipment, faculty, etc., seemed to make her very favorable to an affirmative recommendation to the committee at its next meeting in Austin. Mr. Smallwood and Miss Fryar have been giving some very active demonstrations this week of how a pupil should sneeze into a handkerchief. It may be only fair to them to state publicly that we feel that their lessons have been very effective, and that we think now we know how to sneeze without further troubling them.

The teachers of the grammar school state that after next week they will be in a position to re-distribute their pupils. Cotton-picking will be practically over then, and the pupils will be back. It will be time to decide what to do to prevent them losing their year. Two weeks more will make three months gone, and then all classes will be divided into A and B groups. This refers to classes of the first seven grades.

On that same date our new teacher, who has not yet been named to us, will take her place in the high school. This addition is necessary for high grade work in the high school. The high school has reached a point where it is absolutely necessary for a division of the classes. This does not include the seniors.

This year the senior class is small, having only nineteen members and can be taught in one section. It is just possible that no other senior class in this school will ever be taught in one section. According to state rules no high school class may have more than thirty members, and according to dimensions of classrooms in our buildings no class may be seated where there are over thirty one to a class. These facts make it essential to our success that the other teacher be added.

The stately seniors are publishing their paper this week. This paper is called the Trial of the Herd in honor of the athletic organization of the school, whose names are The Thundering Herd. This paper will sell at ten cents per copy and will be on sale at the news stands and at the office of the high school. It is being published by The Sudan Printing Company, and is expected to be representative of the school and the people of the territory. Be sure you see and buy a copy of it.

Last Friday afternoon the football team and the pep squad motor-ed over to Muleshoe to teach the boys there how to play football. The attempt was not a success. The team there took the lead in the first half minute of play, made a touchdown from kickoff, and maintained the lead all through the game. Our boys were too confident, they missed the hard hitting of Ted Holden and the terrible tackling of Clem Scott, and too many of them had been out of school recently. Mule shoe is coming here next Friday, and just watch us make that 9-0 beating we had last Friday. Mr. Wilkins says he will find a new use for his cane if his team does not win that game. The team say they do not want to be shown how that stick might be used.

Saturday night of last week the junior class had a dress function at the home of Esther Mae Smith. Games were played and punch and cakes served. The guests went home at a late hour reporting that Esther Mae and her mother were splendid hostesses, and wishing that the evening might be repeated soon.

The home economics department seems to be "putting on style" these days. This week they entertained the school board, the two principals, the superintendent and the mayor of the town with a luncheon. We poor little sophs call this doing things in a big way. We believe they would be willing to undertake to feed Herbert Hoover if he were to come this way. The visitors went away well pleased with the results of their visit, and the mayor wanted to make a motion that Mrs. Franks be given a life-time job. Clyde Robertson objected, however, the ground that she might not feed them again if she had that life-time job. Mr. Carpenter seemed to agree with this idea, then Jim Hutto suggested that she have the job as long as she would serve such a lunch to the school board once or twice annually. At Mr. Payne's motion this last suggestion apparently went over by a unanimous vote of the entire assembly. Mrs. Franks, how often can you prepare such feasts for them?

Last Saturday every member of the public school faculty here except three spent the day in Littlefield at a county teachers' association. All report a pleasant experience down there, and say they will attend the next meeting, which will be held in Olton the third Saturday in February. Last Saturday evening as he was returning home from town, Marvin Thomas had the misfortune to mistake which side the light of a one-eyed truck was on. Result, he ran into the truck and was thrown into a bar pit through the windshield. Fortunately he sustained no very serious injury, but he had some terrible cuts in his face, necessitating eight stitches in his face. We boys and girls would like to put this question to our officers: is driving without two headlights, and at a rate of over thirty-five miles an hour statutory offenses? If this is true why is something not done about it?

We have come to another important point in our local register. The two hundredth LOCAL visitor has been in school and has registered. She is Mrs. S. D. Hay. Mrs. Hay the wife of our county judge elect. She is one of the "old-timers" having come to Sudan a bride from her native home four years ago. Her husband had preceded her by a year. Before her marriage she had finished high school and college in her native state, and had served the people of Wisconsin as story hour entertainer for several years. She had also been municipal librarian at Racine for some time. She is an accomplished entertainer, being one of the very best story tellers of the West Plains today. The school is to be congratulated that she is to have charge of its public speaking after Christmas, and will help prepare the boys and girls for their interscholastic league contests in the spring. With a director of the ability of Mrs. Hay we feel fairly safe in that line of endeavor and we are proud of her registration.

TO THE VOTERS OF SUDAN AND LAMB COUNTY

I wish to thank the good people of Sudan and Lamb County for the very nice vote given me in my race for Congress. It was no disappointment to me to be defeated when the home people stayed with me so nicely, and I would much rather live in Sudan and Lamb County than Washington. I certainly appreciate the many nice things that my friends did for me during this campaign and will never forget kindness to me.

Sincerely,
V. C. Nelson

THE NEWS IS LATE AND SMALL

On account of installing new machinery during the past few days the Sudan News comes to you in half the usual size and we are a day late. But, we have installed sufficient new machinery to give you your paper on time and full of good news matter in the future. Much of our job business has also been delayed. You will find a complete announcement of the change in next week's paper.

OUT OF DATE

The fantastic electoral vote system by which we manage to elect a president is a reflection on the common sense of our people. The electoral college system makes it possible for a man to be elected President of the United States with a minority in the nation. Another fantastic thing is that the present congress will hold a session in December after the new congress has been elected. Another odd thing is that we elect a President early in November and he does not take his seat until the fourth of March following.

The "lame duck amendment" which would bring members of congress into office two months after their election instead of 13 months as now provided was defeated at the last session of congress.

THE CUT-IN MOTORIST

"Cutting in" at close quarters is one of the most hazardous practices known to motorists, and one of the most common. Every day and many times a day on the highways reckless drivers take this desperate chance. That they succeed without damage to their machines or those others is often due to the fact that the drivers they pass slam on their brakes or dodge to the right or both, meanwhile using such language as seems to fit the occasion.

The cut-in driver must be checked in his wild career. He is contributing altogether too freely to the long list of accidents that are annually sending from 20,000 to 25,000 people of this country to their graves.

READ WITH CARE

A newspaper is valuable not only for the news it brings you, but the opportunities for practicing thrift in buying from its ads. It's easy to find what you want, and if you're looking for real shopping values, Sudan News ads will lend your search. It will pay you to read carefully the ads in every issue. Local stores have splendid stocks of fine, high quality winter merchandise at most reasonable prices.

Unintentional Suicide

Many people are slowly poisoning themselves just as surely as if they drank iodine every morning for breakfast. They are daily absorbing the toxins, or poisons, created by accumulated waste matter in their constipated digestive systems. Sooner or later disease will conquer their weakened bodies.

If you have dizzy spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, insomnia, no appetite, bilious attacks or pains in the back and limbs, you are probably suffering from self poisoning caused by constipation. The surest and pleasantest relief for this condition is Herbine, the vegetable cathartic which acts in the natural way. Get a bottle today from H. G. Ramby Drug Store

LAMB CO. MEMBERS OF FARM BUREAU SHOWING LARGER DELIVERY OF COTTON

Lamb county members should feel the need of their Association more the last few days, than at any time since the 1926 season when cotton dropped so low and sold so far below market quotations of the principal markets of the country.

With New York quotations "now" around 19 and 1-2 cents per pound middling basis, and picked cotton being "dumped" here for 16 to 17 cents, when the members can ship to their association and draw 14 cents per pound advance with the opinion of placing it in the daily or seasonal pool, whichever they think will best suit their needs in meeting their obligations that are due, or will be due at some future date.

Some of the members are getting settlement on their dalley pool shipments that are very satisfactory.

While some are waiting to see how the first shippers are going to "come out" in this way of shipping cotton, where the members can sell their cotton, where the members can sell their cotton any "day" they want to and do not have to wait so long for settlement of their crop.

Then another thing the cotton growers of Lamb County have to be "especially proud of", is their new Farm Bureau Gin at Littlefield.

Some are hauling their cotton more than twenty miles to get to patronize this splendid plant.

They are loud in their praise of the quality of ginning and service they find at "our gin" as it is commonly called. They are surprised at the quality of ginning they find especially when the cotton was partly wet, or when they get middling cotton or better out of a load of pulled cotton. It is hoped that the growers of this territory will give this new gin a chance to make money for you by getting quality ginning without one penny extra cost, and in the meantime pay for the gin, so the plant can begin paying the "earnings" back to the farmers on the "per bale patronage basis". Good towns can not be built very successfully without some co-operation, neither can a prosperous farming country build as it should without co-operation.

With about 500 members in Lamb County and working together they can accomplish much toward solving their own problems.

The Cotton Growers of Oklahoma have shipped more than three times as much cotton this year, as at this date last season to their association. The 12 states that are selling their cotton through their own association have delivered more than 84000 bales more this season than at the same date last year, so to take the whole cotton belt the co-operatives are growing, and will be about the only relief the farmers will ever get that will be of much service to them.

Election being over, hundreds of letter writers will now be able to take a vacation, and give tired editors a little rest.

LAMB COUNTY TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The first meeting of the Lamb County Teachers Association for the year 1928-29 was held in Littlefield on November 10. A good representation was present from each of the following schools in the county: Olton, Amherst, Sudan, Fieldton, and Littlefield. About forty attended the meeting. The meeting was called to order by President B. M. Harrison. The general topic for discussion at the morning session was the problem of Lamb County schools. Supt. Wilkins of Sudan gave a discussion of the transportation to and from the Sudan schools. Supt. Webb of Olton led a beneficial discussion about the organization problems of the Olton schools. Others contributed information about the organization of their schools or asked for advice in solving their problems. Mr. Boles, Principal of Littlefield high school, next presented subject of athletics in the organization of schools. Some interesting facts were gathered from his speech and from what others had to say on this subject. Supt. Jackson of Amherst was asked to postpone, until the afternoon session, his discussion of the problem in the primary grades of the work of the pupils who attend schools only a part of the year.

The principal speaker of the afternoon was Dr. R. E. Garlin, instructor in the Technological College. His lecture was on the subject of the present condition of the public school, and the work of the teacher. The central thought presented was that public opinion is the basis and limitation of the public school. He traced the progress of the public school and showed how it ran parallel to public opinion. It is the duty, he said, of the teacher and all others interested in the development of schools, to educate the public to the changes that need to be made from time to time. One organization which might aid in this matter is the P. T. A. as he pointed out. The teacher is a walking advertisement of his profession, and he called attention of the teachers to that fact.

In the business meeting which followed Dr. Garlin's lecture, the place and time of the next meeting of the county association were discussed. It was decided to meet in Olton on the third Saturday in February. Mr. Carter of Olton was elected director of debate, in the interscholastic league meet, and Mr. Wilkins of Sudan, was elected director of declamation.

The Difference.

The rector of a fashionable London church was induced to preach at a well-known prison. When in the vestry he said to the prison chaplain: "Now I have come, I don't know what to say to your convicts." The chaplain replied: "Preach to them exactly as you do to your own congregation; and remember only one thing: my people have been found out and yours have not--yet."

England's Prime Ministers.

The title of prime minister in England was first used by Sir Robert Walpole, who was in office from 1721 to 1742. By this time ministers were being chosen from one political party and they had begun to act together, so that they obtained the name of the ministry. Their leader was then called the premier or prime minister. This title was not recognized by law until 1806.

London's Unhealthy Areas.

In some of the more crowded parts of London, the "unhealthy areas," there is an average of 53 houses and 415 persons to the acre, according to statistics gathered by a committee of the Ministry of Health. The "standard of density" recommended by this committee is 12 houses and 60 persons to the acre.

Available Gabriel's Call.

What has become of the man who always wanted to die "with his boots on"? He has a son who now expires peacefully in bed sans tonsils, appendix, a tumor or two, and with a silver plate in his knee joint. Times have changed since the pioneer days of America--worse luck!

Tomb Used as Billiard Parlor.

It is unusual for a tomb to be used for any purpose other than that for which it was erected. An exception may be found in Allahabad, India, where a magnificent mausoleum, built to contain the remains of an Indian prince who was murdered by his father, has become in recent years a billiard parlor.

The Sixth Sense.

"Cpntacathesia," a sixth sense that enables the possessor to intuitively perceive the truth, has been discovered by a French scientist. He asserts that this sixth sense is especially developed in women. A lot of husbands will wonder why this is hailed as a recent discovery.--Omaha Bee.

Author of "Nearer, My God."

Sarah Adams (nee Flower) wrote "Nearer, My God, to Thee." It was contributed to W. J. Fox's "Hymns and Anthems" in 1841. We find in the book called "Hymns and Hymnology" that the hymn has been edited numerous times to meet the requirements of different persons. The changes and adaptations occurred in the 1890s as a rule.

Progress.

At every crossing on the road that leads to the future, each progressive spirit is opposed by a thousand men appointed to guard the past. Let us have no fear lest the fastest towers of former days be sufficiently defended. The least that the most trained among us can do is not to add to the immense dead weight which nature drags along.--Maurice Maeterlinck.

Golfers' Numerals.

A French caddie, after listening to many visiting players, British and American, informed a friend that he learned how to count the strokes in English, viz.: "Von, do, three, fore, af, zees, damn, ait, damn." Being asked how seven was distinguished from nine in this scoring he replied that when the latter was meant it was pronounced with double force.

Distrust of Ourselves.

Adults Contract Children's Diseases

Adults can, and do, contract many children's diseases. And, usually, they suffer from them much more than children do. For instance, many adults contract worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes they suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their troubles. Yet, the symptoms are the same as in children, loss of appetite and weight, grinding the teeth and restless sleep, itching of the nose and anus, and abdominal pains. And, the same medicine that surely and harmlessly expels round and pin worms from children will do the same for adults — White's Cream Vermifuge, which you can get at H. G. Ramby Drug Store

THE SOLDIER'S PENSION

Because a man has a pension from war service is no reason to contend that he is through. It surely cannot be claimed that he must just set back and consider "well, I'm a pensioner, to there's no effort necessary on my part." If a man has the ability and energy to go ahead and supplement his pension he should have every encouragement to do so. A pension is not charity; it's something he has earned. It surely is not a bottle of chloroform to stop any more effort.

MORE APPLE SAUCE

Uncle Sam's apple crop this year is figured as being around 180,000,000 bushels or about a bushel and a half for every living American. The outlook for apple pie is excellent. The apple industry is being promoted by an extensive advertising campaign. The very striking little slogan "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" has done its part in promoting apple growing in the states where they are produced.
