

Sudan Ships Poultry Direct to New York

Norris Produce Co., of New York City, Buys in Car Lots in Sudan.

Sudan is now in direct touch with the world's greatest poultry market, New York City, and the world's largest buyers, the Norris Produce Co., are now handling carload lots direct from Sudan.

On Saturday night, Nov. 16, Mr. H. H. Weimhold, head of the Sudan Commercial Hatchery, left Sudan with two carloads of fine turkeys, bound for St. Joseph, Mo., where is located one of the principal branch houses of this widely-known company. Mr. Weimhold had been dealing with the Norris Company for a number of years, and as opportunity offered, was anxious to inspect the plant and meet the people with whom he had been having such pleasant dealings.

The personnel of the St. Joseph house of the Norris Produce Co. consists of:

James N. Norris, Jr., president. Albert Gross, auditor. Marvin Reed, bookkeeper. Miss Hazel Worley, secretary. Miss Helen Ward, cashier. The working force of the plant consists of 12 men on the main floor; 12 men in the picking room; 15 egg candlers during the candling season, and 30 car men. A loading dock, part of the plant, accommodates three cars at a time.

The capacity of the refrigeration room is five cars of dressed poultry, with cold storage capacity for 200 cars available.

The main floor of the plant accommodates 80 feeding batteries, and two to three cars of eggs, with feeding room capacity of 150 batteries.

The St. Joseph house of Norris ships annually around 1200 cars of live poultry, 100 to 200 cars of dressed poultry, 500 to 800 cars of eggs. This produce goes to all the markets of the world.

Mr. James N. Norris established the Norris Produce Co. at St. Joseph, Mo., in 1914. He is a member of the firm of Norris Produce Company of New York City, established in 1873, and which is the largest shipper of live poultry in the world.

Mr. James N. Norris has made an outstanding success of the St. Joseph plant, and the name Norris stands for straight dealing and integrity wherever it is known—which is throughout the entire country.

Mr. Weimhold found the personnel of the Norris house to be one of the most cordial and friendly business groups that could be found anywhere. The visitor to the plant is always cordially received and made to feel that his interest is appreciated, and that the loyalty of the concern's army of customers is valued as its greatest asset.

Board Provides for Cotton Transfer

Has Arranged for Transfer From Price Fixation Pool to Seasonal Pool. More Money for Loans.

DALLAS, Nov. 23.—In order that all members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association might be in position to take advantage of the special farm board cotton advance, the board of directors of the association has approved a plan providing for the transfer of all cotton which members have in the price fixation pool to the seasonal pool, Harry Williams, general manager, said here Saturday.

"No cotton will be transferred from one pool to the other except upon special request of the members," Williams said, "but on the basis that the bulk of such cotton will be transferred by the members in order to get an additional advance at this time, fully $1,000,000 more will be distributed in cash to them in the immediate future."

"The $2,000,000 approved loan by the Federal Farm Board is this time sufficient to take care of cotton on hand, but if increased deliveries continue as they have recently the association will take advantage of the farm board's assurance that as many more millions of dollars is available for this program as found necessary."

Williams explained that the permitting of the transfer from the price fixation pool to the seasonal pool was a sweeping change in the plans and policies of the association, but that it was approved in order that another additional million dollars cash might be distributed to cotton growers of the state prior to Christmas time, over and above the regular authorized advance of the association.

President Takes Advanced Stand

Speeding Up of Construction Is Urged in All Departments, State, Municipal and County.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Hoover Saturday telegraphed the Governors of 48 states asking their cooperation in his business program by "the energetic yet prudent pursuit of public work by state, municipal and county authorities."

The chief executive said the government would "exert itself to the utmost within its own province" and that he would like to feel he had the cooperation of the state, municipal, county and other local officials.

"It would be helpful," he added, "if road, street, public building and other construction of this type could be speeded up and adjusted in such fashion as to further employment."

The President already has received telegraphic assurance of cooperation from Governor Phillips of Arizona, Mayor Macdonald of Philadelphia, John M. Connelley, commissioner of public works of St. Paul, and C. B. Randall, president of the St. Paul Association of Commerce.

The telegram sent to each of the governors said:

"With view to giving strength to the present economic situation and providing for the absorption of any unemployment which might result from present disturbed conditions, I have asked for collective action of industry in the expansion of construction activities and in stabilization of wages. As I have publicly stated, one of the largest factors that can be brought to bear is that of the energetic yet prudent pursuit of public works by the federal government and state, municipal and county authorities."

"The federal government will exert itself to the utmost within its own province and I should like to feel that I have the cooperation of yourself and the municipal, county and other local officials in the same direction. It would be helpful if road, street, public building and other construction of this type could be speeded up and adjusted in such fashion as to further employment."

"I would also appreciate it if your officials would canvass the state, municipal and county programs and give me such information as you can as to the volume of expenditure that can be prudently arranged for the next 12 months and for the next six months and inform me thereof."

"I am asking Secretary Lamont of the Department of Commerce to take in hand the detailed measures of cooperation with you which may arise in this matter."

PIONEER OF M. E. FULPITS IS DEAD IN LUBBOCK

LUBBOCK, Nov. 23.—Rev. R. F. Dunn, 74, West Texas' first Methodist circuit rider, who came to West Texas to preach his first sermon in a Colorado saloon 46 years ago, died Saturday at his home here following a sudden heart attack.

Since beginning his work in West Texas, Rev. Dunn has never missed a Methodist district conference and he attended conference last week at Pampa, where it is believed he contracted a cold that led to his death Saturday.

The First Methodist churches of Colorado, Sweetwater and Snyder were constructed back years ago when Rev. Dunn was serving as pastor and he was one of the best known Methodist figures in West Texas.

Starting his work 46 years ago, he rode horseback over countless acres of what was then the open country of West Texas. His territory reached from San Angelo north to the Kansas state line and from Baird west to El Paso. His salary was $250 per year and he rode through hot weather, rainy seasons and dry, to ranch houses, to small towns and communities and to ranch camps to hold services for the Methodist church.

SWEET POTATOES MAKE 141 BUSHELS TO ACRE

C. W. Palmer of Lorraine has just finished harvesting his crop of sweet potatoes which made 141 measured bushels on a measured acre of ground. During the last 23 years Mr. Palmer has been growing sweet potatoes in Mitchell county and the crop has failed only twice—in 1918 due to drouth, and in 1922 his crop was hailed out.

The smallest yield he has made was 129 bushels per acre and the largest, 187 bushels. Mr. Palmer plants from one to two acres each year, always on new ground and usually following a feed crop. The crop is grown without irrigation.

Some people are cheerful losers and others can't act.

"Star Farmer of America"

Youth From Hills of Arkansas Capture This High Honor and $1,000 Prize.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—An 18-year-old youth from the hills of Arkansas, Carleton Patton, of near Wooster, who mixes education with agriculture, was crowned the "star farmer of America" and given a $1,000 prize.

The trophy took place in the arena of the American Royal Live Stock Show. Patton, a modest, drawing lad, was chosen from 26 previously selected members of the "Future Farmers of America," an organization of vocational agriculture students functioning in twenty states. The twenty-six youths were named as outstanding members of the club from their respective sections.

Six other boys, named "star" farmers of their states, were given $100 each.

Carleton, the national champion, has earned more than $2,500 from farm operations in the last three years. He has invested more than $1,700 in farm holdings.

This year he leased his father's farm with an option to buy it. In 1927 he put in 623 hours of farm labor. In 1928 his labors totaled 1,559 hours and in 1929 they totaled 1,741 hours.

His grades during four years of high school averaged "A." He was winner of the American athletic scholarship in 1928.

He has been active in work of the "future farmers" organization and for the last three years has been an officer in the Wooster chapter. At the present time he is a freshman in the Arkansas State Teachers' College.

Better Business and Then More Money

The following article taken from the Cleveland (Tenn.) Tribune is sound logic and applies to other towns as well as Cleveland:

"Telling the truth is sometimes painful, but a very necessary duty. And today it may not sound pleasant to say that one reason so many of our merchants or dealers are not rushed with business is because they are not running after business. The common saying with some is: 'Wait until something turns up.' The facts are that we must go after things and turn something up."

"It seems to be the disposition of some folks to talk things down, rather than talk it up. They say it looks like things are going to the dogs. They undertake to locate the difficulty and complain at the political administration. Some would say it is because of the republican administration and that business in general is Hooverized. But say, business is not going to smash. No matter what administration there may be, but unless we make an effort to develop the business that is ours, right here at home, we have no right to complain."

"You say, 'Well, but here, that brings on more talk.' Yes, and we are going to talk more. You say that business is dull and you can't advertise. One man well said that 'if business was not worth advertising it ought to be advertised for sale.' Therefore, newspaper advertising is indispensable to any business."

"Tell the people at home that you want their trade. Put an advertisement in the home paper every week. Let them know you get fresh goods almost daily and have reasonable prices on everything you have to sell. Point out to them the advantages of trading at home and with home merchants. It is all right to send away for what cannot be purchased at home, but right now we doubt if there is a person in the city of Cleveland that can make out a list of goods needed in the average home, that cannot be filled by our home merchants and at reasonable prices."

"A word to the business and professional men and women of our city. Let's do our part on this trade at home proposition, and we will get the sort of results that will satisfy and gratify. Offer the inducements that will be attractive; cultivate civic pride; let the buying public know what you have to sell; cause them to feel that it is your pleasure to do business with them and that you are wide awake to the situation. Advertise your bargain. Make it regular and we are with you 100 per cent. But listen! We must have all-round cooperation. Try this for the next twelve months and see if the results don't surprise you most agreeably."

BOX SUPPER AT FRIENDSHIP

There will be an old fashioned box supper held at Friendship on Friday night, Nov. 29. Friendship community goes wholeheartedly into anything it undertakes, and the program Friday night will be of interest to all who attend.

Member of Congress is Indicted in Rum Case

Suitcase "leaked" and Prominent "Dry" Voter Must Face Prosecution.

WASHINGTON.—Another prohibition scandal, involving a dry congressman and some baggage that "leaked," broke out in Washington this week when the District of Columbia grand jury returned indictments against Edward Everett Denison, Republican, of Illinois, and his secretary, John Layne, charging violation of the Volstead Act.

Denison is one of the veteran Republicans in congress, having represented the 25th Illinois district for some fifteen years. He is serving his eighth consecutive term and is rated a dry. He was one of those who voted for the famous Jones act, which increased the penalties for liquor law violation to a maximum of $5,000 and 10 years in prison. He also voted for the Volstead act in 1918, voted to override President Wilson's veto of the Volstead act, and on collateral issues affecting prohibition was always found on the dry side.

The evidence upon which the indictment was returned set forth that last January, almost a year ago, a suitcase arrived from New York by express at union station, addressed to Layne, in care of "E. E. Denison, 411 House Office Building." It was leaking badly, and the odor of the leakage was such that the prohibition authorities were notified.

Agents went to the station and took charge of the suitcase and its fragrant contents. In pursuing their investigation, agents discovered that a trunk also had been a part of the shipment, and that the trunk already had been delivered to the address, which is Representative Denison's office in the office building.

They readily found the trunk there, according to the evidence presented to the grand jury. Identifying themselves, they requested the congressman to open the trunk, but they said Denison told them he did not have the key but that if they would return favor he would try to produce it for them. Returning later, the agents declared Denison told them he had been unable to find the key and suggested that the trunk did not belong to him. They thereupon broke into the trunk and found a quantity of whiskey and gin. No explanation was forthcoming as to why the case was allowed to lie dormant from January until November.

Farm Markets Nearly Stable

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 21.—Many farmer leaders of the nation were here Tuesday for the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America; and the opinions expressed by several was that American farmers are making definite progress toward stabilization of their markets.

J. J. O'Shea of Roberts, Mont., national secretary, voiced the optimistic note felt by many when he said:

"For 27 years we have been fighting for the day when the country would recognize that, like any other business man, the farmer should have some voice in setting a price on the goods and the services which he sells. At last we are beginning to see sunshine."

Report Many Agents Added to Dry Force

Mellon Submits Figures Showing Where Additional Funds Have Been Applied.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary Mellon reported to the senate that 275 additional prohibition agents and 257 additional customs agents had been employed since March 4 to enforce the liquor law under that increased appropriation of $2,427,514 authorized last session by congress.

The report, made in answer to a resolution by Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, also included a comparison of the work done by the prohibition service from April 1 to October 31 of this year, and during the same period of last year.

James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, in a letter attached to the report, said a "marked improvement" shown was "due to the government's policy of concentrating on investigative work."

Of the additional sum appropriated the secretary reported $1,891,563 was allotted to the prohibition service and $707,860 to the customs service. In the seven months period for this year, the report said, 37,190 persons were arrested by federal prohibition officers as compared with 43,218 in the same period last year, while 9,211 distilleries were seized this year as compared with 9,021 last year.

County Club Boys To Be Banqueted

Meeting at Littlefield Dec. 12 Will Express Appreciation for Notable Achievements.

December 12, 1929, is the date set for a joint entertainment of Lamb county club boys who have made outstanding records in their various projects. The entertainment is being sponsored by the various Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations of the county, and will be held with the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce. Prof. W. I. Wilkins of the local schools has been tendered the post of master of ceremonies, and will also aid in the preparation of a suitable program.

This is a worthy move, and should meet with hearty approval and support from the various public organizations throughout the county. Lamb county boys have attained enviable standing in many contests, and the attention of the entire state has been focused upon Lamb county. Our county ranked second in the Panhandle at our fair in Lubbock, and our exhibits attracted much favorable notice at the State Fair at Dallas. Our boys are developing much ability in their work, and this meeting is a fitting recognition of their achievements.

WASHINGTON.—Prospects that money will be available over the country at lower interest rates for business were reported by members of the advisory council of the Federal Reserve Board at a conference with President Hoover.

Fatal Car Wreck on Highway Near Sudan

Weimhold Returns From the Markets

All Eastern Points Crowded With Turkeys and Prices Unsatisfactory. Will Buy for Christmas.

H. H. Weimhold, who left Sudan two weeks ago with two carloads of live turkeys, bound for St. Joseph, Mo., returned to Sudan Monday. Mr. Weimhold found the markets crowded with turkeys, and buyers were slow to offer bids. No. 1 turkeys were selling at 28 cents in New York, and many local shippers were taking heavy losses on account of the rapid decline in prices in New York City and other control points. Kansas City, St. Joseph, St. Louis, Chicago and other eastern and central markets were bidding low. Hundreds of cars of turkeys were on these markets and many were unable to sell during last week.

The outlook for the Christmas market is not encouraging, but Mr. Weimhold will buy again as usual. In order to avoid being disappointed, all who contemplating through Mr. Weimhold are urged to register their offerings at once, so the required number of cars may be on hand when the required number of birds to fill them.

The date of shipment will be announced later. As to prices, Mr. Weimhold can only promise the very best price possible.

TEXAN WINS IN JUDGING TEST IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21.—With memory of a record night thercrowd of 15,000 persons to spur them to new vanities, the blue-bloods of the livestock world entered the busiest judging session of the American Royal Livestock Show.

No outstanding events were scheduled, but 27 classes, bringing everything from draft horses to sheep dogs into the exhibition ring, were to receive ratings. Three-gaited saddle horses had a $1,000 stake to compete for, as did five-gaited animals and jumpers. A $500 purse was to be awarded to polo ponies.

Edward Glibreath of Dublin, Texas, won first place in the individual judging contest for horses. Announcement of results of the national livestock and meat judging contests, held Monday, at the annual dinner Tuesday night of the Future Farmers of America brought California, Colorado and other western boys into pre-eminence.

The silver trophy given by the Kansas City Stockyards Company for the state livestock team placing first in judging of all classes of livestock went to the California team, with Colorado and Idaho ranging second and third.

Business Expansion Plan of Leaders

President and Many Industrialists Decide Increased Construction Is Remedy for Unemployment.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—A White House statement today after the conference of President Hoover with more than a score of business and industrial leaders said it had been found that construction should be expanded in every prudent direction, both public and private, so as to prevent unemployment.

A preliminary examination, the statement said, indicated that construction activities could in 1930 be extended even over 1929, adding that "the American Telephone and Telegraph Company was proposing to assist by a considerable expansion in their construction and betterment program over the year 1929, when something in the neighborhood of $600,000,000 was expended for this purpose."

Further, the statement said that the power, gas and other public utilities could undertake a program in excess of 1929; that leaders in the automobile industry, had said that industry should quickly return to its normal production and that it was stated that large construction programs would be undertaken in the steel industry for the replacement of antiquated and obsolete plants.

Up to Nov. 14 Texas had ginned 3,317,894 bales.

J. L. Collard Killed Instantly; W. E. Love Is Hurt, Not Fatally.

Saturday afternoon, on the highway between Sudan and Amherst, occurred one of the worst car wrecks in the history of this section.

Mr. J. L. Collard, lineman in the employ of the Texas Utilities Co., while driving the company car between Sudan and Amherst, collided with the car driven by Mr. W. E. Love, of near Sudan. It is thought Collard's car had a tire blown out, which plunged him head-on into the car driven by Love. Collard was killed instantly, his skull being badly crushed. Both cars were badly wrecked. Mr. Love was badly bruised, but not seriously hurt.

Mr. Collard had been in the employ of the Texas Utilities Co. for a number of years and was a valued employee of that company. He was a young man of irreproachable character and his tragic death cast a gloom over this entire section, where he was well known and highly respected. Mr. Collard leaves a wife and one child, a little daughter about 18 months old. He was 26 years old.

Stinnett Bank Is Looted of $6,000

Cashier Claims Robbers Forged Him Into Vault. Later Confesses to Participation.

STINNETT, Texas, Nov. 22.—Timing their attack during the absence of the county's two leading law enforcers, two men following an employee of the First State Bank of Stinnett into the bank after it was opened for business today and escaped with approximately $6,000.

Shortly after Leo Franks, assistant cashier, had unlocked the iron door the men, both masked, entered. One of them, a tall person, stood guard at the door, while his much smaller companion forced Franks into the vault room which the loot was taken.

After handcuffing the employee and closing the vault door, the men departed. The vault door failed to lock, however, and about 10 minutes after the robbers fled, Franks made his way from the vault and gave the alarm. Sheriff C. O. Moore and Deputy Sheriff "Red" Burton were in Wichita Falls at the time of the robbery and J. T. Peyton, cashier, who lived over the bank, telephoned Forrest Stradley, another deputy sheriff, in Borger.

Late today no trace of the robbers had been found. Today's robbery was the first major crime committed since the closing of martial law in Hutchinson county last month.

Cashier Confesses Participation.

AMARILLO, Nov. 23.—Admission by Leo Franks, assistant cashier of the First State Bank of Stinnett, robbed Friday morning of $6,000, to participation in the holdup, recovery of $540 here and the arrest of three other men for investigation were developments Friday night in an all-night investigation by Hutchinson and Potter county officers. The remainder of the loot was buried on the farm of Bert Smith, near Lelia Lake, according to Frank's statement, but although evidences were found that it had been there, officers failed to find it Friday night. They believe it has been moved nearer to Hedley and are going again with Bert Smith for another search.

Those arrested were Leo Franks in Stinnett Friday afternoon, on suspicion; Calvin and Bill Adams, cousins, of Amarillo and Clarendon, in a local hotel at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, and Bert Smith, Lelia Lake, at 5 o'clock Saturday morning. Frank and Bill Adams are in the Stinnett jail and Calvin Adams is in jail here. Bert Smith is with the officers. A fifth man, who is claimed to have been the leader, has not been arrested. Franks identified Bill and Bert Smith as being on the deal, according to Franks' statement. Bill Adams and Bert Smith actually made the holdup.

"BOOST OR MOVE."

RESUMING A DISCUSSION.

Several weeks past we began a question discussion of the real standing or rating of Vocational Agriculture in the schools of Texas, with special emphasis upon the Plains schools. Many commendations have been made and some criticism. The first discussion brought a letter from the State Department of Vocational Education. In this letter is a promise to answer specific questions relating to Vocational Agriculture in Texas. This was done, but no answers have been received. Now, as we people have had our questions overlooked, we shall carry a series of discussions dealing with different phases of the questions.

The series of discussions will deal rather specifically with the following issues and questions relating to them:

(1) Too often either technical or practical training is lacking in instructors and in some instances, both.

(2) There is entirely too much elementary work for three and four years of high school credit. We admit that much progress has been made in the last years, but it is now time that young men do a rather high standard of work and not obtain the credit for the amount of elementary work.

(3) If the instructor of Vocational Agriculture is to do principally classroom work and with high school boys, then there is too great a difference between salaries of the graduates of other colleges and the vocational teachers.

(4) Too much of the foundation for Vocational Agriculture and its attendant questions is not built upon the concrete, but upon what we people of the Plains country call in its simplest terms "Bull." The Bull means a spirit with a capital letter. All newspaper men believe in advertising, for that is a large source of our income; but we believe that the advertiser should deliver the goods.

(5) We believe that the interests of the Plains can be best served if instructors are given their training under conditions as nearly like the Plains as practicable. There are entirely too many crop, soil and climatic differences between the Houston section and the Lubbock section for the training to fit into the Plains section.

(6) Too often the great stress placed upon the future farmers of Texas overlooks the training of future citizens of Texas.

(7) While the work in some senses is somewhat new, yet in a general way it is age old, and yet there seems to be a great lacking in the stability of the operation. It seems that someone connected with the work could determine the fundamentals.

(8) There is too much stressing of high priced "young men" barely out of their teens, with little or no experience, as guides and instructors of old, experienced stockmen and farmers.

None of the discussions are to be considered as personal, for we are in hearty accord with all real vocational training. These questions will be given rather full discussion and from time to time as they appear we shall ask that our readers give them thoughtful consideration. These discussions might not have been necessary had the questions been answered in complete and impartial form. So what we have to say may now become general information for all; and we invite discussion by any or all materially interested parties, promising space for all legitimate and pertinent arguments.

HIS LAST STAND.

The mule is no longer rated as collateral for a bank loan in Kansas. There was a time when the hard pressed farmer in need of a bit of cash could give the banker a mortgage on a mule and be accommodated, but no longer. The answer is the tractor. Motorized agriculture is the West has sounded the knell of the mule, and he is making his last stand in many communities.

WORTH-WHILE EDITORIALS

TO TAKE THE CHURCHES OUT OF POLITICS.

(Chicago Tribune.)
 The Rev. Rembert G. Smith of Washington, Ga. has had no success in his attempt to persuade the clergymen most influential in the Methodist Church, South, to withdraw from organized political activity, but his position is sound and his warning that the church may be injured is reasoned from experience. Many clergymen sincerely reject this idea, but they are confusing good intentions with good policies and they are imposed upon by certain leaders who temperamentally are not of the pulp but of the platform and the political caucus. A combination of political and religious activities injures both the state and the church. Neither can find freedom in association with the other. It may be tempting to conscientious clergymen to seek to promote the general good by taking the organized churches into political action and to make such organizations advisers or dictators in government, but the incompatibility is inherent. In Great Britain it results in a dictation of ritual by the state to the church. Here it results in the dictation of unwise legislation by the church organizations to the state.

The Rev. Mr. Smith may not be able to make his point now, but he and ministers who think with him will be strengthened because it will be recognized that separation of church and state means more in spirit than a declaration against an established church. It means that state policies shall not have their origin in churches organized for political action.

THE WORM TURNED.

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)
 The worm has turned. A railroad has sued the owners of a truck for damages growing out of a grade crossing accident in which an engineer lost his life. And as evidence that the suit is something more than a gesture, a Georgia jury has awarded the widow of the engineer a verdict against the owner of the truck.

A recent bulletin of the M-K-T railroad cites the case of a Seaboard Air Line passenger train and a truck collided at a grade crossing at Stratham, Ga. The locomotive and several cars were derailed and the engineer killed. The widow sued the owners of the truck on the ground that negligence of the truck's driver, not the engineer or other railroad public will take advantage of a park. Get sufficient husband. The jury gave her a verdict of $13,500.

The M-K-T bulletin points out that is a reversal of the usual order in grade crossing damage suits and possibly the first instance of a jury returning a verdict against the owner of a motor vehicle, rather than the railroad. If it establishes the legal precedent that the driver of a motor vehicle can be held to accountability if his responsibility for a grade crossing accident can be established, it will have far-reaching effects in the settlement of railroad damage suits and not inconceivably may tend toward a reduction in the number of such accidents.

PARKS AS ADVERTISING.

(Amarillo Daily News.)
 Already the plans for a state park in Palo Duro canyon are reacting in favorable publicity to the state of Texas. Mr. Arthur Carhart of Denver, who has assisted in the development of numerous large park projects in Colorado, was in Amarillo for a few hours yesterday. He said he had been reading of the Texas program for a series of parks, one of which would be in the canyon.

Parks advertise a city or a state in a most favorable light, Mr. Carhart said. He has the benefit of his experience in Colorado where a series of national and state playgrounds have attracted millions of visitors to his state. He knows the value of the Denver city parks, costing millions and heralded throughout the nation as a civic asset, worth to Denver every cent that has been expended.

Mr. Carhart was merely passing through Amarillo, but he said he could not help being interested in any program that calls for parks.

Asked what Amarillo and the Panhandle should do toward furthering the Palo Duro project, Mr. Carhart said:

"Make sure you are getting adequate land. Get all that is possible. It will surprise you how the employees, caused the wreck and the death of her land that it will not be tramped to death. Then develop and improve it in a way that it will benefit the greatest number.
 "Don't build too many roads down into the canyon. Make the people get out of their cars and walk. Make them get close to nature and then they'll really appreciate the park and will get the greatest benefits. The Panhandle can do nothing that will advertise itself so favorably with its neighboring states as a park in Palo Duro canyon properly laid out will do."

It is encouraging to hear from persons who have had a hand in building parks and who are aware of their value to the general public.

DRIVERS' LICENSES.

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)
 Automobile accidents in Fort Worth the past 10 days have taken an unusually heavy toll and have laid a number of victims low with injuries. Chief of Police Lee, who already has done as much as he possibly can toward safeguarding pedestrians and motorists, thinks something more drastic than he is empowered to do ought to be done. Chief Lee favors licensing all drivers and believes this would cut down automobile fatalities.

Other cities and many states require that drivers be licensed, and the results have been satisfactory. A license law at least gives authorities power to stop motorists who wantonly endanger the lives of others and those who are physically or mentally unfit from driving about the streets. Here, about the worst a driver has to face after he has maimed a victim is a damage suit. In cases where there are fatalities, negligent homicide charges, when filed, are prosecuted with little result.

If licensing of drivers would cut down accidents, as Chief Lee thinks it would, it seems that it would be a good thing for the state to pass such a law.

Reports From the Extension Service

Cotton Produced for Less Than 7 Cents per Pound.

COLLEGE STATION.—While the Texas cotton yield was falling to a new low level of 108 pounds of lint per acre this year, Texas 4-H club boys went their winning ways undisturbed and according to preliminary reports will average at least twice that yield. A summary of the yields on 26 club acres scattered over the state shows that these boys averaged nearly six times as much lint as the average farmer did, or 611 pounds to the acre.

The average cost of production per acre for the boys was $40.66, which means that they produced the fleecy staple for 6.6 cents per pound. These costs include, according to Extension Service authorities, labor at 20 cents per hour, horse labor at the same figure, fertilizer, picking, ginning, and rent of land at $5 per acre. The boys made an average acre profit of $85.84 from average acre returns of $126.50.

How was it done? In the first place, most of the cotton was grown on good land, made good by terracing, cropping to alfalfa, peas or other legumes, and turning under old crop refuse. The seed bed was prepared late last fall or winter, and in nearly every case pedigreed cotton seed was used. Only two boys of this group planted half-and-half cotton and their profits did not exceed the average. Fertilizers played a big part in these yields, especially in East Texas, where most of the boys applied several hundred pounds of various fertilizers with emphasis on the high nitrogen kinds. As for the rest, it's the old story of clean cultivation and shallow, with a little poisoning of insects thrown in where it was needed.

The highest yield per acre thus far reported to Extension Service headquarters is that of Bill Flynt of El Paso county who picked 370 pounds of pedigreed seed cotton from one acre in East Texas the high yield thus far is credited to Homer Thigpen of Rusk county with 2652 pounds of seed cotton on an acre.

Include Sudan in Planting Plans, Dairymen Say.

AMHERST.—Dairy farmers might well include Sudan grass in their 1930 planting programs if the records of local dairy demonstrators may be used as a guide. The C. L. Johnson herd produced butterfat for 22 cents per pound in June when Sudan was abundant and then went up to a 28-cent-per-pound figure in July when taken off this pasture. The C. V. Harmon herd was kept on Sudan all summer and the butterfat production cost dropped every month. In June it was 21 cents per pound, in July 20 cents and in August 18 cents. Careful records are kept by these demonstrators who are cooperating with D. A. Adam, county agent, as members of the West Texas Cow Testing by Mail Association.

Eliminating Light Weight Turkeys

DUBLIN.—A war on light weight turkeys for next year's market has been started here by 17 Erath county farmers who have secured the aid of Mark Buckingham, county agent, in carefully selecting pullets for next year's breeding purposes. All the birds in entire flocks were weighed and measured, and hens and pullets compared to see if last year's toms had improved the offspring. Where much improvement was not noted to a marked degree, owners are planning to secure outstanding toms. The number of pullets retained for breeding varied from eight to ten per farm, every one of which went well over the standard and weighed at least ten pounds before fattening.

Protecting Against Wheat Smut.

AMARILLO.—At least 65% of all wheat sowed this fall in Potter county was treated for smut by the copper carbonate or similar methods, J. F. Ford, assistant county agent reports. This is the result of enormous smut losses last year, coupled with the ever-increasing number of demonstrations of how seed treatment eliminates this hazard. The method advocated by the Extension Service consists in dusting the wheat with copper carbonate at the rate of two to three ounces per bushel. Seed is placed in a tight container such as a barrel churn and thoroughly revolved.

ECHOES FROM SCHOOL PLATEAU

The office reports additional enrollments until the total of the school is above the heaviest enrollment of last year when the total was 752. We are now headed toward 800 total enrollment.

Attendance is heavier the past week than since the opening of the term. We confidently expect very heavy class registrations during the coming two weeks. The heaviest truck load since the last of September was one day last week when the total bus load reached 348 in one day. The school bus beds of this district are built to carry a load of 55 pupils, and already two or three of them are carrying over 50 nearly every day. Several classes are overloaded even now, and the end is six months away. When asked what to do with the increase of attendance, our superintendent says that the only relief in sight is double-decking classes. To say the least of it, every room in both buildings is in use. Rest rooms and dressing rooms for the girl athletes have been called into use. Pupils are accustoming themselves to use of the merit system and it is growing in favor. One great advantage of the new system is that no pupils are ever to receive any whipping unless they ask for it themselves. Otherwise, the punishment is not meted out in high school. The office wishes to thank pupils and reporters for their active participation in news gathering this week. Only the grammar school is not represented, and Mr. Herren promises a regular reporter from that division next week.

Senior News.

Stop! Look! Listen!
This class will present its annual play VERY SOON. Watch the date, December 13, 1929; the place, the high school auditorium; the group, seniors, Mr. Taibott and Miss Jordan, purpose, the class play. Everybody be sure to come and let us help you to enjoy yourselves for one and a half hours. We shall present the famous Indian legend, Hiawatha, for your pleasure and our gratification. This play will be something out of the ordinary and your money's worth is promised to all who attend it.

Our class is being kept busy at present. English, Spanish, mathematics, and commercial subjects keep all on the jump. It is fairly easy to KEEP up, but just get behind one or two days and it seems impossible to CATCH up, ever.
We have had no new pupils in our class since the opening of the second month of school, but we feel that the opening of the New Year will give us our quota of the new pupils.

Junior Class Reports

that on Monday, Nov. 8, that class had charge of chapel in one of the best programs of the entire year. This class is sponsored by Miss Louise Kirk, who is considered one of the most versatile of the entire faculty. She teaches history, English and algebra, and for a time it seemed that she would also have some science.

The program was as follows:
Dance by Noel Lumpkin.
Monologue and Song, Grover Crain and Alvin Webb.
Costume Reading by Vivian Pippin.
A Pantomime reading, acted by several of the junior class. (This was one of the high lights of the program, and was very much enjoyed by everyone.) We want to thank our teacher of public speaking, Miss Jordan, for coming so nobly and helping us in this program.

The class, sponsored by Miss Kirk, is planning a trip down to Yellow House Canyon Thanksgiving Day.

The position of the juniors in high school athletics is in evidence from the fact that the greatest number of award sweaters for football work went to our class. This means that the seniors of next year will dominate football. We are expecting our class pins just any day now. Then we shall really be a Class. Our pins shall have the same design as that on the senior rings. This design is for Sudan School, and should always be kept unless by consent of more than one class to the contrary. The school board itself should make this design permanent, and we want to ask the office to use the design hereafter on stationery, etc., just to make people recognize that it belongs to us and to our school.

Sophomores.

Our sponsor, Mr. Wilkins, accompanied by two senior girls, Neal Wilkins and Elsie Carpenter, two teachers, Misses Rannels and Taylor, and Mrs. S. D. Hay, president of the P-T. A. of Sudan, motored to Muleshoe last Friday evening and rendered a P-T. A. program over there. The Muleshoe people seemed to be very much pleased with the result of our effort to help their Parent-Teacher Association. Mr. Duckworth chaperoned the crowd on this trip, and we sophomores wish to thank him for this courtesy.

Only two of our boys, Wayne Wilkins and Leonard Payne, were able to letter in football, but we feel that more of them will make the grade next fall.

We have a new boy in our class this week. He is Aubrey Jones, formerly an athlete of Comanche high school. He will make a good addition to coach's forces soon. We were glad to have him in our crowd.

Please remember our chapel date next Monday. We are trying to make school history on that day. Be with us. Some day you will be glad that you were here on that day.

We are glad that our sponsor is better Tuesday of this week. For two days prior to that he has been having an attack of hiccoughs. They caused him discomfort, and us some amusement when he tried to talk to us, but we are glad he is over them.

Freshman News.

This class is leading the high school with new enrollments. We have had four new pupils this week. They are Lucile and Billie Lee Bowling, Frances Henderson and Sarah Hendricks. Sarah is the daughter of the new Methodist pastor. We are glad to have these pupils among us, and hope that they will be satisfied with our class.

Four of our boys lettered in football, an event almost unmatched in high school football. These boys are J. W. Weldon, Arnold Long, Douglass Herren and O. B. Workman. Next year they will make any man work to beat them out of a place on the team. Just watch us freshmen.

One of our boys, Douglass Herren, is helping Mr. Jones out by doing his janitor work the last two days of this week. He has the late and early help of Mr. Butts in doing this work. Mr. Jones took advantage of the holiday season rates to visit his mother in San Antonio. It would be too dangerous for him to leave his water service in school and go away at Christmas, so he took advantage of the holiday to go this week.

Pep Squad.

We have had few regular meetings recently. There has been little occasion for them. However, we are taking advantage of Mr. Wilkins' help in giving us wholesale prices from wholesale houses to order us some light sweaters to wear this winter.

The squad did certainly enjoy the theatre party the football boys gave them last Tuesday evening. Well, they are our boys, and we just back them when they need us.

We were present and cheered our boys on when they pounded their coach last Thursday at school. They did a good job of it, too, by pounding him with an award sweater, bearing the title, "Coach." We like to see him wearing his sweater about the school. We also saw the last member of Mr. Wilkins' family, his youngest child, Wayne, receive from his father's hands his sweater. Few men can say that they have seen every one of a family of five children entitled to this mention. We are very proud for him at this honor for himself. Mrs. Wilkins, too, came over to be present at the ceremony when the football boys were paid for their hard work. Next year will see others wear their honor sweaters, for it is surely an honor. One little incident in the awarding showed the harmony that exists in our faculty. Coach had not expected a sweater, so when his name was called he came near fainting. Messrs. Jenkins and Duckworth, with wonderful thoughtfulness, caught him and held him up until Mr. Taibott could put his sweater on him. We appreciated that, too.

F. F. T. Reports.

The F. F. T. Chapter met last Thursday afternoon, Nov. 20. We decided to put on a play, at the theatre, to make up funds to help take the team to A. & M. College next spring. We also decided on a Father-Son banquet after the first semester of school has closed. We had two new boys initiated.

Commercial Department.
Here is the first report of this department of the school. We have the youngest department of the whole school, but possibly the most enthusiastic. There are 40 pupils in bookkeeping, 21 in typewriting, and 15 in shorthand. Nine pupils are renting machines from the school. This rental is paying out the machines. This was made necessary by the school having no funds with which to purchase machines. Our rental is cheapest charged to any pupils on the Plains, as far as we can learn. It is the intention of the administration to make this one of the strongest of any school on the Plains within another year. At present we offer only two courses, bookkeeping and stenography, but we feel that two other units can be offered next winter if Mr. Aldredge, our instructor, stays with us. Several pupils own their machines. This makes their laboratory fees much lighter. The machines in the school are of only three makes, Royal, Underwood and Remington. Only one requirement is made of pupils in regard to machines, they must use those with standard keyboards. By this precaution, the graduate of this department will be in a position to use successfully any standard machine in the market. The pupils of this course, and they include several former graduates of our own high school, think this course the best and most practical introduction yet made to the curriculum of the high school of our town.

Box Supper.

The box supper held by the football boys last Friday night for benefit of the sweater fund was a huge success. The squad made about $57.00 from the supper, which paid a little more than $3 on each letterman's sweater.

The football team wishes to thank the following firms for the packages that they contributed to the supper: Hunt's Barber Shop, Panco's Barbershop, Earnest Grocery, Sudan Mercantile Co., Holt & Son, Alderson Dry Goods Co., Higginbotham & Bartlett, Cooper Grocery, Miller & Crawford, Sudan Tailor Shop, Everybody's Cash Store, Ramby Drug Store, Sudan Drug Store, Hutto Service Station, Garden Theatre, Lamb County Dry Goods, Stuart Hardware & Furniture.

YES, TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

The soulful tale that has been going the rounds for years past concerning the farmer boy's calf that became pa's cow and which itemized various other transactions wherein property which had been given to "son" turned out to belong to "pa" when the time came for it to be converted into cash, illustrated well the methods used to interest the children in the business of the farm up to within recent years. This course of procedure, as might have been foreseen, had exactly the opposite result from what the farmer desired and the boys promptly shook the dust of the farm from their feet as soon as possible. But the Club movement has brought the dawn of a new era to the farm boy and girl. Through these organizations and the cooperation of banks and business men over the entire country, son's shout has very generally ceased to become father's hog and the boy finds both profit and pleasure in caring for his livestock and crops raised under the guidance of the county agent. While the innovation has pretty generally permeated agriculture now, it was not always such smooth sailing. Frequently a farmer who had been in the game all his life, considered the new fangled ideas as utter nonsense. Many years experience had brought him to the state of self-satisfaction and dislike of change which comes with middle life and the knowledge that he has been more or less successful. Some fathers had become lethargic and impatient of innovations while their sons, imbued with the same desire to be successful that had characterized their dads in earlier years, were inclined to be over-zealous and obstinate. Some concessions had to be made on both sides. The farmer with a son has an ideal partner at his elbow. The ambitious aspirations of the younger generation will keep the older man from "getting into a rut," while the mature and conservative judgment of the father will prevent the son from launching out on lines that are ill-advised. Men who have achieved success in any line naturally have the desire to see their sons take up their work when they are no longer able to bear the burden and there is no better training than for father and son to work together. One of the greatest obstacles to progress is self-satisfaction. On the other hand, while ambition is necessary for advancement, without accurate judgment and reasonable conservatism, it may end in disaster. In the ideal combination the farmer becomes the balance wheel for the son's ambition and the son becomes the father's stimulus for greater achievement.—The Southwest Plainsman.

The reason our dreams do not come true is that we just keep on dreaming.—Albany News.

TELEVISION BEING PERFECTED

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Television that may be viewed by a room full of people or flashed on the theater screen are possibilities science hopes to make actualities with a new type of tube it has developed for the reproduction of movies by radio.
Dr. Vladimir Zworykin, television pioneer and research engineer of Westinghouse, said the tube, which replaces all mechanism in the reception of television, will enable more than one or two persons to watch reception at the same time.
He said he felt he was in a position to discuss the practical possibility of flashing images on a motion picture screen so that large audiences could see television broadcasts of important events immediately after a film of them is printed.
Dr. Zworykin addressed a district convention of the Institute of Radio Engineers here.

SILAGE IS CHEAPEST ROUGHAGE FOR CALVES

Feeding silage to western beef calves at the University of Illinois last winter saved $1.70 a hundred in the cost of gain. The lot to which silage was fed put on fat at a cost of $8.80 a hundred. A similar lot fed mixed hay in place of silage gained at a cost of $10.50 a hundred over a period of 163 days.
Livestock specialists at the Illinois Station say that feeders who turned away from silage a few years ago when they changed over from heavy cattle to calves are now filling their silos again. It was a tendency among many farmers at first to feed too much silage to calves. This overfeeding of roughage resulted in rapid growth but slow fattening. Since that time, experiments have shown that the amount of silage fed to beef calves should be limited.
Calves fed at Illinois were given eight pounds of silage per day and two pounds of alfalfa hay in addition to their grain ration. As a result, they gained 2 1-2 pounds a day for seven months and sold within a half a dollar of the top of the market. No other ration has given comparable results with calves at the experiment station.

FARM ANIMALS DON'T LIKE GOAT.

You talk about getting someone's goat. Well, Jess Giles got his own goat last week. He purchased a fine milk goat and on bringing the animal home and turning her loose in the barnyard, the faithful milk cow heard for the back side of the pasture, the horse jumped the fence and the chickens started for the orchard. Brother Giles has been looking for someone to tell him how to make the animals get along with each other.—Vega Sentinel.

CONTROLLED VOLATILITY!

WHEN THE THERMOMETER GOES DOWN THE VOLATILITY GOES UP. Gasoline must vaporize before it can be fired in the cylinders of your motor. Volatility refers to the ability of gasoline to vaporize. With volatility controlled, Phillips 66 vaporizes as quickly in cold as in warm weather.
