Our Sunday school has entered upon the new conference year with increased interest and attendance. Beginning with last Sunday, the Beginners and Primary classes will have their own separate department and worship program and work to themselves under the superintendency of Mrs. J. R. Dean. This is a decided improvement over the former plan. Let the mothers come and bring their children with them; the mothers will find classes for them and a cordial welcome.

The Young people's class has been reorganized with Mr. J. T. Salem as teacher. The young people are alive and working, and will soon outgrow their present quarters.

Mr. W. H. White, teacher of the men's Bible class, has recovered sufficiently from a 3 month's attack of rheumatism to be back and teach his class. We are expecting his class to catch the spirit and join with us in a bigger and better Sunday school.

Let's all remember that the Presiding Elder will be with us on the afternoon of November 4, and close out reports for this conference year. Let every member do his best.

Team Work Between Cooperatives and Southern Congressmen Score Another Victory For Farmers

The plan as presented by the Cooperatives and approved by the Secretary of Agriculture in collateralizing Seed Loan Cotton on the basis of nine cents means at least $10.00 a bale more at this time in the collateralization value of 1932 Seed Loan Cotton, according to a statement issued by R. J. Murray, General Manager of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association. The plan will affect more than 31,000 borrowers or approximately 1,000,000 bales of cotton throughout the South, 400,000 of which are last year's Seed Loan Cotton. All Cotton Producers Benefitted

The plan, in addition to increasing the value of collateralized Seed Loan Cotton, opens up a possibility of withholding the 1,000,000 bales of Seed Loan Cotton off the present market during the usual heavy marketing season, thereby giving substantial support to the market. All farmers and business generally in Texas should profit from this plan as announced by the Department of Agriculture.

Where last year's loans were fully collateralized at 8c per pound, there will be no requirement to sell cotton and pay last year's loans. This year's loans collateralized at 9c together with last year's Seed Loan Cotton is required to be handled by the Cooperatives or placed in Federal Bonded Warehouses. Borrowers reserve the right to fix the price on collateralized cotton up to March 1, after which time the Secretary of Agriculture reserves the right to sell Seed Loan Cotton at his own discretion. All uncollateralized balances from last year's loans may be collateralized with this year's cotton at 9c.

Fewer Bales Needed

The 1932 Seed Loan Cotton already placed with the Cooperatives on which the price has not been fixed, will automatically be brought up to the 9c level, which is 2c per pound more than the present market. It will therefore take fewer bales from Seed Loan Borrowers to collateralize their loans and permit them to release the balance of their crop to apply on other indebtedness and local purchases of needed merchandise and equipment. All business, including farming, will benefit by the tremendous sum of money being placed into the channels of trade in local markets.

Cooperative Facilities Available

In the Lubbock delivery district of 42 counties, there will be many thousand bales of Seed Loan Cotton. With the facilities and services of 17 branch offices where Federal licensed cotton are employed by the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, farmers of this section will have the full and complete services of the association which will enable them to comply with the requirement that all Seed Loan Cotton must be classed by Federal licensed classifiers. This service is free to those who ship their cotton through the association, otherwise 20c per bale is charged for certification. All cotton handled by the association is not only classed by the branch office manager but is rechecked by a representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, thus assuring the farmer that he is getting the exact and true value of his cotton.

This additional successful achievement of the co-operatives is securing such a general and beneficial ruling from the department of Agriculture, emphasizes again the results made possible through farmer organized effort.

BULLINGTON WRITES WEST TEXAS C OF C

(A copy of this letter has been sent to Officers and Directors of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and members of the Real Estate and Insurance Boards in Texas cities.)

Since I have announced my candidacy for the Governorship of the State of Texas, I have received many requests from taxpaying citizens as to what I propose, if elected, to do toward the constantly mounting cost of taxation.

This is of the most vital importance to every Real Estate man in the State of Texas, because taxes must be reduced if the proper tangible value of real estate is to be raised, and more people own farms and homes. Certainly we cannot expect people to purchase real estate, or hold real estate, if the taxes and upkeep exceed the revenue derived from farms and buildings and prevent them from owning their own homes.

It is gratifying to know that more men and women of ability are interesting themselves in this work. They are realizing that it is of little avail to build up a profitable enterprise if political and financial conditions nullify such efforts by crushing taxation, or even worse, to threaten confiscation because of this taxation.

We know that the cost of operating our Texas Government, with its different agencies, has been more than the total value of our cotton crop. Statistics show that in 1930 the value of our lint cotton was $192,700,000.00, while the total cost of operating our State Government during the same year was more than One Hundred Million Dollars. This cost does not include the cost of our County or Municipal Governments, when totalled, would far exceed our net cotton value. The total income to the State of Texas in 1915 was $18,724,000.00; in 1929 it had grown to $94,730,000.00, and during the fiscal year ending August 31st, 1930, it had increased again to $109,227,851.04.

Thus you can see that our total Government expenditures are far more than the annual value of our cotton crop. As a Nation, the cost of operating the government structure, National, State and local, has increased 375 per cent since 1913. During this time our population has increased only 29 per cent. The cost was 8 per cent of our national income in 1913, and in 1931 it had increased to 20 per cent. This means that one day's work or income of every man, woman or child out of every five must go to the cost of government. At the same time, between 1915 and 1931, the cost of operating our State Government has increased even more than this, or more than 500 per cent.

It is high time that this cost is reduced, from top to bottom, and, in this connection, I believe that the work which has been already done by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Central Public Expenditure Committee is worthy of the consideration of every civic body of the State of Texas. In a report recently issued, it is stated, through the work of twenty-five different committees in its organization, functioning in different cities, that by arranging the budget they have already effected a reduction of more than ten million dollars. It is the estimate of Mr. Zandt Jarvis, Chairman, that, when the work has been finished by most of the ninety-nine committees, the saving for this year over last will be approximately $20,000,000.00.

This committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is now cooperating with the Chambers of Commerce of East Texas and South Texas to form and maintain a state wide committee for the reduction of public expenditures.

In my opening address at Waco I dealt with several phases of this question, which I would like to outline briefly to you, as my stand on these problems.

Real Estate has long been our principal source of taxes, but taxes have increased upon real estate and the income from it has been so diminished until, in most cases, it is no longer possible to pay the taxes upon real estate with the income received from it. The very fact that Texas today has more tenant farmers than any other State in the Union, can be directly laid to the exorbitant taxes which have been levied and collected upon real estate.

Most of our citizens would not own their own homes were it not for the unjust, unfair and outrageous system, which we have had in the past and still have, of placing practically the whole of the tax burden upon real estate. During the last few years, thousands of people in Texas have lost their homes because of exorbitant taxes. Still many more thousands, who have spent years of toil in trying to pay for homes, are now threatened with having them confiscated because of our unjust tax system.

I favor the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment exempting from ad valorem taxes homes up to the value of $3,000.00. I go further than this: I favor abolishing the State ad valorem taxes all together. There is no way which we can fairly and uniformly equalize and distribute taxes in this State so long as we have the present State ad valorem tax system. There are only two alternatives: one is a State Equalization Board, which results in centralized and bureaucratic government; and the other remedy is to abolish the State ad valorem tax altogether.

It will not be difficult to supply the revenue needed by the State from other sources. A large percentage of property is escaping its proper share of taxes in this State or paying nothing whatever toward the support of the Government. To illustrate: there are citizens of this State owning millions of dollars worth of bonds, notes and other negotiable securities, who pay nothing whatever toward the support of any of our governmental institutions, while others who own nothing more than a small equity in a home are heavily tax burdened.

There are only two ways in which our tax burden can be lightened. One is by reducing the expenses and the other is by fairly distributing the tax burden among all property owners and among all classes of property, as our Constitution requires.

It is easy to advocate reduction of taxes or the reduction of expenses. You never heard a candidate in your life who was not in favor of both propositions; but the people have a right to know where the expenses are to be reduced; where taxes are to be reduced; and how the tax burden is to be diminished. No person is worthy of your attention if he simply criticizes conditions, says "taxes and expenses ought to be reduced", but is unable to tell how and where they can be reduced. You have a right to demand that I shall give you some of the plans I have in mind, which I shall do as briefly as possible.

To reduce County expenses, I propose to consolidate all such offices as the Tax Assessor and Tax Collector and County and District Clerks. I would abolish the office of County Treasurer and require the County depository to perform the duties of that office without compensation as is now done in the case of many cities. The offices of Constable and Justice of the Peace should be abolished and the duties performed by the Sheriff and County Judge. By electing County Commission-

PLAY A BIG SUCCESS

The play "Nobody But Nancy" was given Thursday, October 6. The auditorium was packed; every seat was filled and the standing room was completely taken up by the time the play had started.

The outstanding character was Ellen Burnham, who played the part of Nancy King. Nancy was a reckless girl and was always getting into scrapes. She could never find anyone to help her out of them. Ellen, in this part, has given proof of her talent as an actress and we expect to see her go far in this line.

Clara Mae Fisher played the part of Adeline Perkins. Her wig, her horn-rimmed specs, and her long brown suit made up the typical costume of an old maid. Who could have played the part better than Clara Mae?

Adam King, Nancy's rich uncle, was played by Winifred Wells. He was a grouchy, stern old man who thought of nothing but making money. Oh, Winnie, we'd hate to face you with a made-up story!

Then there was Bill Henson who acted as "Ted Porter," the much abused young man. He was constantly being called upon by Nancy to get her out of her troubles. "Where's my hat?" rings in our ears until yet.

Jimmy McCabe, played by Charles Cartright, was the comedian of the play. His Dr. Applepie's "Cyclopedia" contained information on every subject and oh, Charlie, where did you get those trousers?

We have seen Bernice Brothers play before but never more successfully than Thursday night. Bernice was Lawrence Wilson, an enemy to Adam King, and a stranger in Sweet Springs. Going by the name of "Toodles" he posed as Nancy's husband and finally gained her promise to actually marry him.

Mary Luttrell was Fanny, the maid. We've no doubt that Mary can pull the wise cracks now.

Jaunita Pierce acted as Sue a niece to Sarah, the boarding house lady. This part was played by Sidney Gwin. Luella was the sweetest thing in Sweet Springs and a rival to Nancy. This part was played by Kathryn Wilson.

The entire cast have given evidence of their talent and the valuable training which Mr. Branch is giving the students of Sudan High School. The public should watch for the date of the next performance by this group for there certainly will be many more and we are glad of it.

Zeb Payne, Jr. Charlie Rae Crawford and Herman Lyle gave readings between the first and second acts.

Choral Club

Between the first and second acts of the play "Nobody But Nancy," the choral club made its first public appearance in a novelty act. "We just couldn't say good-bye." Five broken-hearted girls dressed in beautiful evening dresses entered the stage followed by their angry lovers, girls were dressed as boys. The girls were Marjorie Alderson, Myrtle McLarty, Hazel White, Eunice Moore, and Willie Mae Clemens. Their lovers were Bonnie Belle Lyle, Kathryn McElfresh, Edith Gann, Estakah Maxwell, and Gaston Maxwell. Bill Henson, acting as the sofa and Clyde Robertson acting as the chair, "broke down and cried" and the curtain, Margaret Erie Gibbs, started waving the lovers to come inside. Actions in the song were carried out and when the song was finished the sofa, Bill, the chair, Clyde, the curtain Margaret Earl, and Eunice Moore acting as the clock came to the front of the stage and sang "They just couldn't say Good-bye."

As an encore the lovers of the novelty act sang "Betty Co-Ed." and the girls lounged during the song. Between the second and third acts Bill Henson sang "My Mom" Then the entire group appeared on the stage again and sang "Old Pals." For an encore they formed a semi-circle around the stage and sang "Paradise."

Elevating Thoughts

Some R's to think about and make a part of you:

1. Regularity of eating.
2. Right amount of sleep.
3. Receptive mind.
4. Ready workers.
5. Righteous influence.
6. Reverent attitude.
7. Regulated exercise.

Never expect to get something for nothing. All things that are really worthwhile must be paid for. Be willing to pay the price of service wherever you go.

Vain and arrogant persons soon become top-heavy, and seldom fail to get the tumble they deserve.

BULLINGTON'S LETTER

instead of by precincts, the salaries could be abolished all together or reduced to a minimum, and at the same time the services of the most competent business men in the County could be secured for advice in the County's fiscal affairs, just as is now the case in most cities where the salaries of the City Commissioners have been abolished.

Our Constitution should be so amended as to give to Counties the privilege of home rule, as is now enjoyed by most of our cities. The principle of local self government should be enjoyed by our Counties as far as practicable. Each County's affairs should be audited at stated intervals by the State Auditor or his deputies, chosen to do their work not because of political affiliations but because of their integrity and thorough knowledge of accounting.

The Salaries of our County Officers and County employees should be reduced to an amount equal to what they would receive for similar work in civil life. There is no reason on earth why the tax payers of our County should pay exorbitant salaries for the purpose of stimulating good hand-shakers to seek public office. We should pay what the work is worth and what is usually paid for such work, and no more.

The archaic and inefficient administration of our Courts is one of the heaviest burdens borne by tax payers. Judges must interpret the law as it is written, and while they are not altogether free from blame, the greatest fault lies with the system which they are called upon to administer. State and National Bar Associations have for years recommended changes which would result in great savings to the tax payers and, so far, few of these recommendations have been followed in Texas.

The expense of grand juries could be almost eliminated by permitting crimes of the grade of felony to be presented by information. This would eliminate the expense of feeding prisoners who desire to plead guilty but who can not do so until the grand jury meets and indicts them. The expense of out of county witnesses in criminal cases should be eliminated by providing that depositions of these witnesses could be taken before the District Judge in the County where the witness resides.

The administration of the criminal law in Texas is a disgrace to jurisprudence. A few simple amendments to the code of criminal procedure would prevent most of the reversals and save the expense of retrial of criminal cases. It would prevent the defeat of justice by delay. It would be better to revise and rewrite our procedure, civil as well as criminal.

It is not only ridiculous but outrageous for tax payers to bear the major portion of the expense of trying civil cases in Texas. The tremendous cost of civil litigation now born by the tax payer should be born by the losers. For example, litigants abundantly able to pay the cost of trying their cases, pay a small jury fee for the privilege of having a jury. A jury in the District Court cost the tax payer $36.00 per day. Some times these cases will go on for weeks and including the salary of the Judge, the Bailiff, clerk and stenographers, the actual cost to the tax payer will average more than $60.00 per day. I heard of a civil case not long ago where the jury fees alone cost the tax payers of the County more than $500.00.

ORVILLE BULLINGTON
Republican Candidate For Governor

What business is it of the innocent tax payer to bear the expense of litigation in which they have no concern whatever. Let those who want to go to law and want law and want to dance attendance upon the Courts, pay the fiddler. In my own County for years it has cost the tax payer a levy of four cents on each hundred dollars to take care of the jury fees. This burden could be largely eliminated by shifting the expense to the litigants and at the same time we would have fewer cases to try in our Courts and would need fewer Judges to try them. It is already taking as many District and Appellate Judges to take care of litigation in Texas as the United States uses to take care of litigation in the Federal Courts throughout the Union.

The office of District Attorney and County Attorney should be consolidated.

Exclusive of taxes necessary to provide interest and sinking funds on bond issues, I doubt if there is a County in Texas whose tax bill could not be cut in half by careful and detailed study of its affairs.

The salaries of all State officials and employees should also be fixed at a sum commensurate with salaries in civil life, and useless Boards and Commissions abolished. When this is done, I am satisfied that the expenditures of our State Government can be greatly reduced, and the State Government itself should work hand in hand with such organizations as our own throughout the State to attain this end.

Possibly some of the proposals which I have made may not meet with your entire approval, but certainly, if we all work toward the common goal, we know that we will materially reduce this disgraceful cost of operating our government.

The members of the real estate profession have done splendid work in this matter but the fight has just started. This work must be continued until useless, unnecessary and un-
