ROOSEVELT-GARNER WIN BY BIG MAJORITY AS DEMOCRATS ARE SWEEPED INTO POWER

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson Returned to Governorship

A mighty Democratic tornado whipped across the country in Tuesday's voting. It tore relentlessly into every section of the nation electing Franklin D. Roosevelt President and John Nance Garner Vice-President. It also assured the President-elect of a Democratic congress.

Incomplete returns show that Roosevelt has a total of 472 electoral votes, while Hoover had only 59 electoral votes. Roosevelt carried every state in the Union excepting Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Maine, Pennsylvania, and Vermont.

This is the greatest victory any man has ever gained for President, as Hoover set the record four years ago when he defeated Al Smith by 444 to 84 electoral votes.

The landslide was just the reverse of that of 1928. Republicans turned to support the Democratic nominees more so than the Democrats did the Republican nominee of 1928. This election showed that the people of the United States wanted a change and that they believed that the only hope for the future was a Democratic President and congress.

Although returns are still incomplete today, more than a score of Democrats and only a few Republicans had been placed in the 32 senate seats involved in this year's contest. In the contests for the 435 house seats nearly 200 Democrats had won when Republican winners numbered less than fifty.

Such arduous Republicans as Senator Jim Watson of Indiana and Senator Smoot of Idaho went down in defeat before their Democratic opponents. One of the few Republicans to be re-elected to the house was DePriest, only negro congressman of the United States, from a district in Illinois which includes the Loop district of Chicago.

Big Majority Given National Nominees; Amendments Lead

The latest incomplete returns give Miriam A. Ferguson 256,398 votes while Orville Bullington Republican candidate for governor had only 162,823.

It was evident that Mrs. Ferguson would be elected governor by a large majority as the people of Texas preferred to vote a straight Democratic ticket in last Tuesday's election.

The latest reports of the President's race in Texas shows that Roosevelt is leading with more than a seven to one majority.

Ferguson carried box number 7, Sudan by 30 votes, Amherst carried for Bullington by 27 votes and it is believed that Amherst was the only box to carry for Bullington in Lamb county.

Centennial Favored Least
The amendment to combine the offices of county tax collector and county assessor received the greatest support—69,887 against a negative votes of 17,449. The plan to authorize the Texas legislature to support the proposed Texas centennial observance received the lowest vote—50,845, against 33,169, and held the least majority of them all.

These figures were based on returns to the election bureau at noon Wednesday.

Eighteen Democratic district congressmen, including Speaker Garner, were elected, as were three congressmen-at-large, Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, Joseph Weldon Bailey of Dallas, and George B. Terrell of Alto. United States Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard were not up for election.

Hon. Marvin Jones Is Returned To Congress

Hon. Marvin Jones who was first elected to congress in 1916 as representative of this district was returned to that position in Tuesday's election with no opposition.

Mr. Jones has served in the House for 16 years. He recently carried out a speaking schedule in the Middlewestern States in the behalf of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner. After his speaking tour he predicted a great victory for the Democrats which was evidenced in Tuesday's election.

Shuttlesworth Wins

J. M. Shuttlesworth won in the race for Justice of the Peace Precinct No. 5 in Tuesday's election by a margin of 94 votes.

Friends of F. W. Dent on an eleven hour notice got him to run on a strict Democratic platform.

Shuttlesworth was the Democratic nominee and was re-elected. Shuttlesworth received 107 to Dent's 102 in the North Sudan box while he got 128 to Dent's 41 in the South Sudan box.

ROOSEVELT'S HOME VOTES FOR HOOVER

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Roosevelt's home county of Dutchess gave a majority of more than 5,000 votes to President Hoover.

Complete figures for the 87 districts in the county were: Hoover 25,511, Roosevelt 20,078. Roosevelt lost Hyde Park, his home town, by 139 votes.

CONDEMNNS NEWSPAPERS

While a reporter for the Sudan News was on the street Saturday afternoon he was approached by a man who lives south of town. The man asked him who wrote a certain article in last week's issue of The News. The reporter told him. The farmer said that the seed that the 4-H club boy used to raise the winning hegarl championship of Lamb county, had been gotten from him and that if the seed the boy raised was certified all of his was certified (which is not). The farmer stated further that he had told his wife previously that the reason he did not like newspapers was that they misrepresented things and that he did not put any confidence in any of them.

The reporter listened intently to what the condemner said. Upon returning to the office he wrote a letter to the 4-H club champion hegarl producer to see what it was all about.

The letter which will be found in this issue of the News will straighten out the trouble of the farmer south of town. The seed gotten from him was not used in the boys project, although the boy's father did get some seed from the man south of town for his own use.

Sometimes people do not know as much about their neighbors as they think they do. Also about newspapers.

Our Gratitude Has Not Wavered!

TIME moves steadily onward. Hardly seems like 14 years since the greatest conflict of all history was brought to a victorious conclusion by the Allied Armies. Yes, and in those 14 years, many of us have had . . . and some still have . . . dark days when it seemed the battle of Life was turning against us. But--

Our personal trials and tribulations are as nothing compared to sacrifices so valiantly made by the heroes of '17 and '18 in defense of the Peace and Security of the world. Many of those brave lads gave their lives. Many still patiently bear the wounds of war, both in our hospitals and in private life. For many of the latter, the war will never be over.

So to them . . . yes, to all veterans . . . and in memory of the honored dead, our salute. And a silent prayer of thanks as we FACE THE EAST at 11 a. m. ARMISTICE DAY!

ON TEXAS FARMS

An army of nearly 40,000 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H clubs in Texas is helping fight away depression blues in Texas. Early returns point to an extra half million dollars added to the total farm income by their efforts.

Helen Jones of Mosheim 4-H club in Bosque county has canned products worth $85.09 besides helping carve out a profit of $75.00 from the family poultry flock.

Coston Norwood in San Augustine county raised 1272 pounds of large roasting peanuts from an acre, contracted them to a roaster for 6 cents per pound, and made a gross return of $76.32.

While Emma and Olga Regmund were chopping cotton on their Brazos county farm they got to figuring how much they could make selling their garden produce in the farmers' market in Bryan. So far they have netted $63.34 on the sales made twice weekly.

Four small Hampshire pigs put in his baby beef lot last year to clean up waste feed from 5 calves, put Norton Mathews, Menard county 4-H club boy in the hog business. From a $12 investment he now has 22 pigs after selling $23 worth.

Club work has enabled Louise and Agnes Lasater, Tarrant county farm girls, to go to college this fall. They raised and canned their meals for the college year.

J. C. and Charlie Northcutt of Spade 4-H Club in Mitchell county changed $4 per ton maize heads into $16.20 per ton feed by using it skillfully in feeding 7 pigs for 117 days.

MEAT DEMONSTRATIONS INCREASE INTEREST IN SUPPLYING HOME NEEDS

The problem of getting food from producer to consumer economically becomes greatly simplified when the producer is also the consumer. Specialization in certain branches of agriculture, such as cotton growing, has tended to change many farmers from producers to purchasers of their own meat supplies. Yet, in recent years, meat demonstrations sponsored by extension and other specialists have done much to acquaint farm families with the practical possibilities of providing a considerable proportion of their home meat supplies.

A typical example is a program of meat demonstrations begun in Texas in the fall of 1930. The activity was inaugurated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, working in cooperation with county agents and home demonstration agents of the various localities. The extension specialists staged demonstrations in killing hogs, cattle, and lambs, and preparing meat products from these animals.

Demonstrations of Killing, Cutting and Curing Methods

Demonstrations in killing hogs, cutting the carcasses, and curing and otherwise preparing the meat were conducted in 13 counties. The meetings were attended largely by the county and home demonstration agents of the counties involved and others near by, together with many rural leaders who desired to qualify themselves for conducting or assisting in similar demonstrations in their own localities. Each demonstration usually lasted a day and a half.

On the afternoon of the first day instruction was given in proper killing methods, from one to three hogs being killed for this purpose. On the second day the carcasses were cut up, the meat was put down in the cure, lard was rendered, and all by products, such as sausage, scrapple, headcheese, liver paste, and mincemeat, were prepared by the women present, under the direction of a home-industries specialist.

Such a pork program has become very popular in many counties of the state. Twenty-five county agents conducted pork demonstrations in their own counties after attending and assisting in a district demonstration supervised by the meat specialist.

As a result of the pork program carried on in 12 counties around Lubbock, Texas, a ham and bacon show was sponsored by the South Plains Fair Association and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. There were 712 entries of cured and canned meat products, including 112 hams, 71 pieces of bacon, 47 shoulders, 11 samples of sausage, 91 containers of lard, and canned products such as roast, chops, sausage, and scrapple. In connection with this meat show, a 4-H club fat-calf and pig show was held. The animals were sold at auction at the close of the show, most of them being purchased locally. This combined show was of outstanding value in increasing interest in farm butchering and meat curing. It was also a means of demonstrating what high-quality cured meats really were, as well as how they could be produced. Special killing cutting and curing demonstrations were held during the show.

Beef and Lamb Program Also Carried On

As much interest has been shown in the beef and lamb program as in the pork programs, primarily because of the high production of cattle and sheep in the state. The beef and lamb demonstrations have been conducted in almost the same manner as have the pork demonstrations. A variety of beef products—some to be used fresh, some canned, some cured and some dried—has been advocated. Lamb demonstrations have become especially popular, primarily because of the general lack of knowledge about handling lamb. Learning how to kill the animal and how to remove the pelt is stimulating lamb consumption, particularly in the important sheep producing areas of the state.

The interest in the meat work, including beef, lamb, and pork, was evident from the number of people attending the meetings, as many as 125 people assembling to witness the demonstrations in most counties. As a result of these activities Texas farmers and ranch owners are increasing the production of their home meat supply. Agricultural agents report that many farmers who previously kept no hogs on their farms now fatten from one to five or seven more for home use. For many families home-canned beef was made available for the first time during the summer of 1931.

Meat Demonstrations Held in Cities

Interest in the meat program has not been confined to the farmers and ranchmen of the State. Meat demonstrations have been conducted also in towns and cities. Some were held to acquaint retailers with new cutting methods, others to furnish city housewives with information on selecting and buying both lamb and beef. A survey taken in four large towns in Texas during the spring of 1931 revealed that the consumption of lamb had increased as much as one-third after special lamb demonstrations has been given there.

Though the interest in most demonstrations in cities is noteworthy, the principal aim of the program in Texas has been to encourage a better-balanced meat supply for farm and ranch homes. In many instances pork had been utilized almost exclusively, and often times the supply lasted only a few months. To encourage a more varied and adequate diet throughout the year, the present recommendations include beef and lamb as well as pork, and also other meats such as chicken and fish. The needs of a family of five adults appear to be well supplied by approximately two hogs weighing about 225 pounds each, one beef animal weighing about 550 pounds, and two lambs weighing approximately 85 pounds each.

VISIT TO THE COUNTRY

The editor and wife visited the Fairacre Seed Farm west of town Sunday afternoon and found abundance of feed, cotton, hogs, cows, and poultry during this time of depression.

When visiting farms of this section one's eyes feast on an abundance of these different farm products. The farm families have provided themselves with plenty of food taken from their gardens and fields and many of them have canned enough vegetables and fruits for their own use, and some even have a surplus which will be sold.

Mr. Hammock is one of the few certified seed growers of this county. His farm is made up of good horses, good chickens, good hogs, and he grows the best feed and cotton.

HUBERT NIXON 25 COMMITS SUICIDE

Hubert Nixon, age 25, single, who has been working for E. W. Palmer of the Friendship community for the past six years, took his own life Wednesday morning at the Farmer farm by taking strychnine.

While doing the morning chores Nixon asked Mr. Parmer how much strychnine it would take to kill him, and Mr. Parmer told him not very much he supposed. Nixon then told Parmer that he had taken two capsules filled with strychnine and if that did not kill him he was going to take another.

Parmer pleaded with the boy trying to get him to take something to kill the effect of the deadly poison before it took effect. But while Parmer was trying to get word to a doctor the boy took another capsule and died 10 minutes before the doctor arrived.

The boy told Mr. Parmer that there was nothing to live for as he wouldn't be able to work any more. Nixon suffered from asthma, and had just recently hurt his back which made him unable to work temporarily.

Nixon had been helping Mr. Parmer and farmed about 40 acres of land for himself this year and had several bales of cotton to gin. He owned a Chevrolet coupe and was very well fixed financially. The only reason known for the suicide was bad health.

J. M. Shuttlesworth, Justice of the Peace, was called to hold inquest, but found it not necessary as so many witnessed the death.

The boy is survived by two brothers, a sister and his mother and father of Oklahoma.

Funeral services were held this afternoon.

LOCAL 4-H CLUB BOY COPS COUNTY PRIZE FOR RAISING HEGARI

Seed Donated to Club Boy For Project By J. W. Hammock

Floyd Venable, 4-H club boy living south of town won the prize as champion hegari producer in Lamb county recently in a contest sponsored by county Agent D. A. Adam.

J. W. Hammock, owner of the Fairacre Seed Farm west of town, furnished the seed for the project. Mr. Hammock gave the county agent 1,000 pounds of certified seed to distribute among the 4-H club boys of the county. Floyd received part of this. The first planting was washed out which necessitated replanting. The second planting of seed was donated by J. W. Hammock. The seed was smute treated and certified.

The boy states that he enjoyed his project very much and will carry two projects—hegari and hogs—next year.

He gives a brief account of his project in the following letter:

F. H. Weimhold

Dear sir:

At your request I will give a brief account of my 4-H club work in raising hegari.

Mr. Adams, county agent, gave me my first seed which was planted the 25th of May. This first planting was destroyed by rain.

My next seed was presented me by J. W. Hammock Seed farm. This seed was certified and smute treated. I replanted on the 10th of June on terraced land. It came up 14 to 18 inches apart.

I row bound my hegari on the 10th of October.

I will treat the seed for smut and soil for planting seed. I will keep half my crop to feed a registered gilt which will be one of my 1933 projects, the other project will be hegari.

I like 4-H club work and think it is real interesting. I enjoyed working my crop, watching it grow, keeping records, and most of all winning first place in Lamb county.

Yours respectfully,
Floyd Venable.
