THE LOAFER

A consistent loafer who puts in full time at his steady occupation can find more fault in a day than a busy man would locate in a week, besides having more time to talk about them. Which might not be so bad, since faults must be found to be corrected, were it not for the fact that so many of the faults he finds, exist only in his imagination. For the loafer's imagination works steadily, unlike the man who carries it around, and it is most likely to find fault with busy, useful men, who haven't time to be bored by him. Having no business of his own, it is easy for the loafer to imagine all business is bad, and say so. And in saying so, he can do some damage without much exertion, which is his way of doing things. A loafer would not be quite so bad if he would just loaf, but there are only a few like that.—Hockley County Herald.

SCIENTISTS UNABLE TO EXPLAIN CAUSE OF FIRE

The most logical explanation as to what causes the heat which is generated in a hay stack and sometimes ends in spontaneous combustion, as known today, though by no means the most universally accepted, and the one scientific observations of actual cases seems to support is as follows: When hay is stacked in a moist condition, plant tissue enzymes are able to continue their activities and micro-organisms are enabled to grow. Both of these reactions may, and probably do, produce heat. The plant tissue cells and some of the micro-organisms may be assumed to be killed at 115 degrees-125 degrees Fahrenheit. Here highly heat resistant micro-organisms, known as thermophiles, may begin to grow and also to liberate heat. Just how high they may carry the temperature is not known, but probably not as high as 212 degrees Fahrenheit. However, temperatures as high as 680 degrees Fahrenheit have been recorded in hay stacks before fire broke out. What the reaction is that produces this temperature is not known, though it is undoubtedly some oxidative reaction.

THE FARMER WHO NEVER FAILS

There is one type of farmer who never fails. He is not a farm specialist. He is not rich. He is not regarded as a money maker. He is looked upon by many as behind the times. Perhaps he is ahead of the times. He has no ambition to be a big farmer. He doesn't cultivate a great deal of land. He doesn't need much land. Hence it isn't necessary for him to tie himself down with an embarrassing mortgage. This farmer doesn't concentrate his thought and energies on any single crop. He produces a modest amount of almost everything that can be produced to an advantage on his farm. In addition to field crops, he gives considerable time to vegetables, fruits, berries, poultry, hogs, sheep and cows. His various activities do not really conlict with other, but they do keep him busy the year around. He has little time for extended vacations. He is too much interested in his various activities to care for vacations. This farmer is not rich, but he lives well and is always independent. He knows nothing of a farm problem. He is worthy of study at this time.—Southern Agriculturist.

HOME DEM. NOTES

(Ruby Mashburn C. H. D. A.) The International Canning Contest this year was much larger and the products of much higher quality than ever before. Nearly 50,000 jars were entered, wrote Miss Grace Viall Gray, Secretary of the home demonstration agent. Entries were made from each of the forty eight states, outlying possessions and several foreign countries. After the contest 5000 of the most attractive jars were exhibited in Marshall Field's Crystal Tea Room in Chicago. The interest was so great that we were asked to prolong the exhibit three weeks. 10,000 of the jars are now cold storage waiting for the World's Fair in Chicago in 1933. All of the remaining jars have been given to charity and will surely be deeply appreciated by the needy this winter. Wrote Miss Gray in her announcement of the winners.

The following Lamb County women placed in the International Canning Contest.

Mrs. Allen R. Scoggins, Friendship Club, pickles, $1.00.
Mrs. L. L. George, Sand Hill, soup, $1.00.

Mrs. Robert White, Sod House, Lima Beans, $1.00.

Mrs. W. E. Logan, Blue Bonnet, Canned Chicken Imported willow hamper fill with sugar products.

Mrs. Chas. W. Reynolds, Olton club, Damson plums, 5 years subscription to "Farmers Wife."

FARM NOTES

A meat demonstration was conducted at the Millard Phillips farm last Friday and Saturday with an attendance of 24 farmers and their wives. One beef was killed and one hog was dressed under the direction of the county agent, and was cut and canned and cured under the direction of county agent and the home demonstration agent. Following are those who were present: Mr. and Mrs. Millard Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wood, Earnest Wood, Luther Wood, Eldon Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Bennett, and two colored boys working in the farm, Bill Johnson, and Rob Davis.

A meat demonstration was held at the Sam Clearley home at Earth last Monday and Tuesday, one beef, one hog, and one lamb was killed under the supervision of the county agent. Cutting and curing, and canning was in progress as this went to press.

Following are meat demonstrations to be held for the rest of the month of January: Friendship, January 4-5; Sandhill, January 6-7; Sudan, Jan. 9-10; Ruby, Jan. 12-13; Spade, Jan. 16-17; Bluebonnet, Jan. 19-20.

A grape pruning demonstration was conducted on the Millard Phillips farm in connection with the meat demonstration.

A meat trimming demonstration and curing was demonstrated on the Halsell farm last Monday afternoon by the county agent.

A terracing demonstration is to be conducted on the following farms: January 11, L. L. Usselman; soon after on the John Moody farm, L. L. Blackman, Anton, A. A. Whitfield farm, and others that will be announced. The month of February has been set by the agent for this work. Get your request in.

W. Alderson, president, Mr. F. W. Miller, and Mr. Ernest Jones. Sam H. Branch is scoutmaster and Buster Darr is assistant Scoutmaster.

Troop 39, our troop, was the first troop in the Lubbock area to meet all the requirements for President Hoover's Award which is a miniature of the President's White Steamer. We are very proud that we were first to win. This award is based on the scouts' advancement for the year 1932 and new members. We have added fourteen new members lately. The last two to join are Lamar Blair and Carroll Preston, making twenty-three members in the troop. The troop did the annual good turn Christmas by carrying baskets of food and toys to the poor.

Supper Served to School Board

The second year Home Economic girls served a light supper to the School Board last Wednesday night, December 28. Mr. Alderson and Mr. Foster were absent. Besides the school board Mr. Davis, Mr. Smith, Mr. Butts, Mr. Branch, and Mr. McNeely were present. A school board meeting followed the supper.

Grade School News

Low First.

Two new pupils have entered in the low first. They are John Watson from Hilltown and Alton Morgan from Winters. Several pupils have withdrawn. Norma Lynn Roy in moving to Crowell; Joan and Christine Jamar have moved to Levelland; and Jack Barbee is moving to Arizona. The primary grades had their Christmas tree and were very glad to have Santa Claus present. The low first is beginning a study of the lives of Eskimoes.

Low Second

There are three new pupils in the low second: Earl and Horace Morgan and Roy Smitherman. Several old pupils have returned for the first time since cotton picking. This class is beginning work in earnest after the holidays.

High Second

John Barbee has withdrawn from school. There is one new pupil, Preston Moore. Destery Williams has returned to school after being out for cotton picking.

Low Third

There is one new pupil in Mrs. McKelvey's section, Georgia Walston from Cook County. The attendance in this section is practically perfect. The girls enjoyed the doll day and all the little girls brought their dolls. Mrs. Barnes the room mother of Mrs. Dodgen's section, gave the class a party Friday. She gave them a treat of apples, chewing gum, candy and nuts. Many games were played and everyone enjoyed himself. Clifford Mann spent Christmas in Commanche, Oklahoma.

Low Sixth

Two pupils have withdrawn from the low sixth; they are Myrtle Askew and Bonnie Barbee.

fact was established that birds eat fruit.

One little girl, however, was unconvinced.

"But, teacher," she asked, raising her hand, "how can the birds open the cans?,"

"What is the rod of affliction" asked Miss Jones of one of her pupils.

"Goldenrod," shouted the little girl whose mother had hay-fever every fall.

Miss Reeves had told her English class that Melton the poet was blind. The next day she asked if anyone knew what his great affliction was.

"I know", said Dugan, "he was a poet."

"What is Australia bounded by, Xezvas?" asked Miss Bobo in history.

"Kangaroos," was the innocent answer.

"Are you laughing at me," demanded Mr. Whittle of his chemistry class.

"Oh, no, sir," came the reply in chorus.

Then he asked grimly, "What else is there in the room to laugh at?"

Miss Lewis: "Charles, where was the declaration of Independence signed?"

Charles Simmons: "At the bottom, I guess."

"GOLD IN THEM THAR HILLS"

Legend has it that Cherokees first sighted Colorado gold. Zebulon M. Pike reported that Pursell, the trapper and trader, told of having found traces of the precious metal in the Plateau. But not until 1858 did the discovery of gold by W. Green Russell of Georgia set the whole country agog. The find was in the sands of Cherry Creek, present site of Denver. So began the "Pike's Peak Rush."

Tabor, now keeper of a general store, thrilled at the magic word. Thousands, their possessions heaped in rickety carts, passed his door. He found himself humming the road-song so popular in those lusty days: "It's time to pack the bacon and the flour and the beans . . ."

It was in April, '59 that the Tabor—and their small son, Mark—reached the straggling boom town of tents and cabins called St. Charles—now Denver. Throngs of prospectors from all walks of life trudged its muddy main street, swindlers, gamblers and silken ladies, in their wake.

Tabor was barely thirty. He produce heat. The plant-tissue cells and some of the micro-organisms may be assumed to be killed at 115 degrees—100 degrees Fahrenheit. Heat-resistant micro-organisms known as thermophilic bacteria grow at high temperatures. They may carry out their life processes at 175 degrees.

Painted a glittering future to Augusta, who sighed, "But riches would make us unhappy." He marveled that she should be so blind to his potential greatness.

"Poker Annie" and Politics Haw Tabor heartily disapproved of the name of his mushroom home town—St. Charles, so he set about changing it.

In the big circus tent which was the main saloon and miner's resort—he smugly dominated the boisterous mob which included Poker Annie, who liked the name of St. Charles, and didn't give a damn who knew it.

"I don't mean to contradict a lady," Haw drawled from a table-top, making a sweeping bow to Annie as he doffed his broad brimmed hat, "but there aint no saints in St. Charles, what with six shootings last week—and two on Sunday. Nobody minds shooting a claim-jumper—but killing a man in broad daylight and on Sunday—is going too far . . ."

He won. The name was changed to Denver, in honor of the governor of Kansas. After several rounds of drinks—Tabor was elected mayor! Later he was told on the quiet, of a big strike near Leadville—City of the clouds! Clouds indeed! Clouds with the silver lining! Again the Tabor were on the move.

H. D. CLUB, QUILT FRIENDSHIP QUILT

A number of the members of the Sudan Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Teal Tuesday afternoon and quilted the Friendship quilt which they have been working on for sometime. The ladies taking part in this were: Messdames Zeb Payne, F. C. Broyles, John Hilliard, S. Townsend and Mrs. Teal.

This is a beautiful quilt, and will be sold sometime soon at the Garden Theatre. The Club will not meet Friday as announced, owing to some of the ladies being very busy at this time.
