Sun Shines; Gins Start

Due to wet and cold weather which prevailed in this territory the latter part of last week, only 329 bales of cotton was ginned the past week by the local gins, bringing the total amount ginned to date up to 3316.

Wednesday and Thursday gins were running at full speed as the weather permitted pickers to get into the fields and gather the crops. Ginning was slow the early part of the week due to the moisture in the cotton.

Farmer's gins had ginned 1,226 bales, Whiteside gin 1,025, and Terry's gin 1065 bales to Thursday noon.

METHODISTS GIVE REPORT

The local Methodist Church conference year which closed Sunday was one of the most successful years in the history of the local church. Under the able direction of Rev. and Mrs. Sam A. Thomas, the local church has been able to accomplish much.

The report for the conference year including the achievements of the church during the past year. They read: Young People's class clothes an orphan girl at Waco; the church and parsonage were moved to a new site on Main street; four Sunday school rooms were added to the church; the annex was sheetrocked; a young woman's circle of the Woman's Missionary Society was organized; a choir has been organized; a 9x14 sleeping porch was added to the parsonage; new floor coverings and modern fixtures installed in the parsonage; Sunday school and church attendance was increased more than 100 per cent; the pastor's salary for 1932-33 was raised $100 and was paid in full; the salary for 1933-34 raised $400 which now makes the pastor's salary $2000; 40 additions to the church, raising the rank from number 11 to three in the Plainview District; new suits for Rev. and Mrs. Thomas amounting to at least $75; 15 bales of cotton left over to start the new year.

As can be seen by reading the report, the accomplishments of the church for the past 12 months are something that any one could be proud of.

This wonderful report was made possible only through the co-operation of the congregation and the people of the community with Rev. and Mrs. Thomas.

Rev. Thomas has also been active in civic life in Sudan and has been instrumental in the promoting the organization of a business men's club, the giving away of a Chevrolet car, and in securing RFC money to pave three blocks of Main street.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas are attending conference at Clarendon this week. They will return to Sudan Monday.

Father Of Mrs. L. E. Slate Dies Thu.

Postmaster G. W. Smith, 74, of Henderson, father of Mrs. L. E. Slate, died at his home in that city November 2. Mrs. Slate had been at his bedside for several weeks, and Postmaster L. E. Slate left Sudan the night Mr. Smith died.

Postmaster Smith had been prominently identified with Republican activities in the state for more than half a century. He served as deputy internal revenue collector for several years before beginning his service as postmaster at Henderson.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Slate sympathize with them in their hour of sadness.

LOSES FOREARM IN ACCIDENT AT BECK GIN WEDNESDAY

M. L. Collins of the Friendship community had the misfortune of getting his hand caught in a gin saw at the Beck gin south of Sudan where he was employed, Wednesday afternoon about one o'clock. His right hand was cut off and the flesh on his arm was badly lacerated.

Enroute to Lubbock the arm began bleeding so fast that he was required to stop at Littlefield and have the arm amputated just above the elbow.

On account of the nature of the injury, the loss of the blood was so great that physicians state that the patient is in a serious condition.

Interesting Talks Made At Business Meeting Tuesday

Several interesting talks were made at the Business Men's luncheon Tuesday at noon at the Lam's cafe. V. C. Nelson, who had just returned from an RFC school at Big Spring, made an interesting talk on what he learned at the school.

L. A. Wells of Amarillo who formerly had real estate interests in and around Sudan, made an interesting talk on conditions of neighboring cities, and how thankful Sudan and community people should be for their splendid crops.

Mayor W. W. Carpenter made a short talk on the payment of delinquent taxes. He stated that the City Commission had extended the period for payment of delinquent taxes until December 1 without penalty or interest, but said that this was the last extension.

Occupation taxes were discussed and a committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of a strong occupation tax law.

Other things of interest were also discussed by those present.

In order that the tax payers of Sudan might pay their delinquent taxes without penalty the period for payment of such taxes without interest and penalty has been extended until November 1, 1933, according to John A. Dryden, city secretary.

The interest and penalty on delinquent taxes paid during this month will be omitted, but after the first of December penalty and interest will positively be added and another extension will not be made, according to Mayor W. W. Carpenter.

The extension for a month makes it possible for the people to use money from their fall business to pay their taxes with.

Retail Code Does Not Apply to Small Towns Of Less Than 2,500

Most Sudan business concerns have had their pulses calmed considerable and are resting easier this week since the NRA retail code went into effect and towns of 2,500 and less population are exempt from many of its requirements.

Sudan business men are patriotic and are anxious to do everything within their power to cooperate with President Roosevelt. Many are going ahead and carrying out NRA just like the stores in the larger towns.

The exemption of the small town store keeper is a policy expected to be carried through by the President in all codes so as to not drive out of business the man who finds it impossible to carry out the terms of the NRA without going out of business.

The exemption of stores in communities under 2,500 population apparently removed close to one-third of the country's retail establishments from operations under the industrial control law.

Clarendon Extends Royal Welcome To Methodist Pastors

The twenty-fourth annual session of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference convened in Clarendon Wednesday with Bishop Hiram A. Boaz, Houston, presiding. The roll was called by Rev. C. C. Wright, secretary, and showed that approximately 70 per cent of the ministers and lay delegates were present.

The conference received a royal welcome in addresses which featured the initial session. Welcomes were given by J. R. Porter, representing the Clarendon congregation; by Rev. R. S. McKee, Presbyterian Church, representing the other denominations; G. L. Boykin, representing the city chamber of commerce; and Sam Braswell, representing the Clarendon Lion Club. The response was Dr. Hiram A. Boaz.

BANK STATEMENT SHOWS INCREASED DEPOSITS, CASH

Further evidence that business and industry in Sudan and Lamb county are on an upward trend is indicated by the figures released last Friday by The First National bank of Sudan in their statement.

According to the statement at the close of business October 25, 1933, deposits totalled $247,281.07 which is an increase of $183,471.18 over the deposits at the close of business June 30, 1933. Deposits at the close of business December 31, 1932, totaled $100,769.46.

Cash and exchange increased from $38,033.15 at the close of business June 30th to $152,842.69 at the close of business October 25, 1933.

$25,000.00 worth of government bonds have been purchased by the local institution and five, ten and twenty dollar bills will be issued against them by the local bank and will be available in 30 days, according to J. C. Barron, cashier of the local bank.

Butts Says Road Is Under Construction

In last week's issue of The Sudan News we stated that there was no construction work being done on Highway No. 7 between Sudan and Amherst; however we were in error according to D. L. Butts, local highway superintendent, who states that construction work is being carried on.

"The shortest possible detour from Sudan to Amherst has been mapped out by the highway department," according to Mr. Butts. "It is necessary for the people to take this detour in order to protect the lives of highway workers," he said.

"The highway engineer sets stakes for three miles of highway construction at a time as he is engineer for three different projects, and it costs the state more than $25 per day if the traffic is allowed to travel over the road which is under construction," Mr. Butts stated.

"The county commissioners court and the City of Amherst have agreed to help get the detour in shape for heavy traffic," according to Mr. Butts. Teams are working on the highway near the Amherst depot and the road is being widened at that point.

GINNING REPORT LESS THAN 1932

Castro county has ginned 390 bales this year.

67-Year-Old Farmer Believed To Have Been The Victim Of Killers; Skull Found On Mashed O Ranch

Discovery of human bones and clothing which has been identified as those of T. H. White, has led officers to believe that the 67-year-old farmer who has been missing since August 31, 1932, had been slain and his body dismembered.

Two youthful suspects, held incommunicado at Littlefield and Olton by Sheriff Len Irvin, were released Tuesday afternoon following a court of inquiry held here by District Attorney Meade F. Griffin. Mr. Griffin stated that there was insufficient evidence to bind them over to the grand jury.

Ewing Haisell, a rancher, and "Red" Murrell, a ranch employee, found a skull on the Mashed O ranch seven miles north of Sudan, Sunday morning, and notified Sheriff Len Irvin.

Sheriff Irvin Monday morning with Justice of the Peace, Jim Walker, of Earth and "Red" Murrell discovered human bones and bits of clothing in a shallow grave 30 paces from where the skull was found. Among the pieces of clothing was a grain ticket bearing Mr. White's name. A pocketbook and two nickels and a dime were also found.

All of the clothing was identified by Mr. White's family, and the skull was identified by Herschel and Edgar White, sons of the missing man, by its shape and teeth, the sheriff said.

The skull was found about three and a half miles north-east of the White home in the sand hills. Officers, returning with the rancher, had difficulty in locating the spot Monday. At a place where the earth had been disturbed, the group dug and about 18 inches under the surface found bones and clothing. A piece of cloth was found on the surface nearby.

Sheriff Irvin said he believed the body had been cut into pieces and buried "in three or four different places." Only parts of the skeleton had been found.

Mr. White was last seen about 4 a. m. the morning of August 31, 1932. He was up early the day he disappeared and asked Mrs. White to get his hat. He went to the stockyard, presumably to feed livestock, as was his custom. He has not been reported seen alive since that time.

Besides Sheriff Irvin, District Attorney Meade Griffin, County Attorney Herbert C. Martin, and Chief Deputy J. L. Wall, raven are investigating the death.

A shoe, piece of shirt and several bones were discovered by City Marshal Luce, G. C. Hazel and others who visited the scene Wednesday morning.

How The Forest Army Pays

A glimpse at the potential usefulness of the Forest Camp outfit is provided by a recent bulletin from the Charles Lathrop Pack Forestry Foundation. This bulletin asserts that the white pine blister rust, now spreading through American forests, menaces no less than half a billion dollars worth of timber.

To check the menace, there now are at work some 12,000 members of the Civilian Conservation Corps in 22 states; and, as the bulletin states, "for the first time since a defensive battle against this insidious forest disease was declared in 1918 there are men and money available in a degree commensurate with the value of the standing timber at stake."

A diminution of half a billion dollars in the value of its timber reserves would be a hard loss for the nation to take. If the C. C. C. can prevent such loss, it will pay for itself many times over.

Poisoning Dogs

It seems that dog poisoners are again at work, as a number of local citizens have reported that their dogs have died from poisoning during the past week or so. One of the sadest cases was when a small youngster, Max Mileur, found his dog dead. He would not let his father remove the dog, and it was several days before Max could get over the shock of losing his little dog.

Why people want to be so inhuman as to poison poor innocent dogs, is not known. It seems that there should be means of punishing such people. There is, but who knows the culprit who slips the poison meat into the street or alleys at night.

How much poison meat put out is not known; therefore the people who own dogs should keep them tied so that they cannot get the poison.

AMERICA ON THE WAY TO PLANNED SOCIETY

The time has just about come when it is possible to survey the whole field of recent government endeavor and get a line on the direction in which we are heading. And while such survey reveals a good deal of progress toward entirely new fields, it contains very little to delight the radical or to frighten the conservative.

The various acts taken at Washington begin to drop into place, now, and their inter-relationship begins to be clear. Let's have a look at some of them.

A rigid scheme of production control and price adjustment in the great oil industry is getting under way.

Production control is being exercised in a broad, sweeping way over agricultural commodities.

The cotton textile industry voluntarily has given to the NRA the power to vote the installation of additional productive machinery in any unit of the business.

Sen. Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the National Labor Board, has served notice that NRA penalties can be used to enforce the board's decisions in the industrial disputes, and he adds that the conduct of both business and labor "now is a matter of public interest."

The Federal Trade Commission is beginning to investigate the salaries of executives and directors in practically every big corporation which does an interstate business.

Lump all these things together and add them to such plans the Muscle Shoals scheme, the federal housing plan, the "subsistence farms" program of Secretary Ickes, and similar ventures, and what do you get? You get a coherent, definite and spirited advance toward that glittering abstraction, a planned society.

Now, a planned society is a new thing under the sun, on this side of the Atlantic. Yet the form which this plan is taking is not in the least frightening.

It certainly is not Socialism; it certainly is not Facism; it seems to be, in fact, a new and distinctively American effort to solve a problem which has driven many other nations to dictatorship. If it works, it will be a great achievement.

If it fails, it will leave us in a good position to try something else.—Amarillo News.

TRANSMISSION OF COLDS

"catch cold."

We wonder where and how we An interesting observation on colds was made by Dr. James B. Coston of Saint Louis at the Panhandle Medical Society, which this week convened in Plainview. Discussing in a humorous, semi-scientific vein the usual means of transmission of common colds he pointed out that the most frequent mode of spread is by hand contact, among children as well as adults.

One of his most lucrative patients, a cigar salesman, who shook hands with all his clients, was lost by the doctor as a patient after being instructed to wash his hands before lunch!

The medical fraternity tells us that colds are highly communicable. When you ask them if colds are contagious they say no, but generally add that they are communicable.

The handkerchief over the nose when sneezing or coughing is a precaution that has often been emphasized.

Colds are so common and their effect is considered so unimportant that we do not worry greatly about them, yet everyone speculates about cause and remedy. The doctors have long studied them, but have not solved the riddle entirely of their cause, prevention and cure.

Some Activities of a Senator in the Special Session

By Arthur P. Duggan
Senator, 30th Senatorial District

The people have a right to expect service from their legislators—that is what they elect them for—and the thirtieth senatorial district certainly took advantage of this prerogative during the recent special session of the legislature.

On reaching Austin I found a number of requests, and was always delighted to get the information desired or render the service requested. It is doubtful if the people generally know the number of things a senator is called upon to do and as a matter of information some of the requests, outside of the passage of laws, are enumerated:

During the regular session thousands of names were sent in for appointment as notary public. Hundreds came at the special session. This is not a difficult thing to do, but woe to the senator if he leaves a name off or gets it spelled wrong. So far I have not had a complaint along this line.

Obtain old age pensions for the old people;
See game, fish and oyster department and obtain permission for a taxidermist to bring into Texas game killed outside the state;

Go to the comptroller and check claims for a number of persons; banks and individuals; Ascertain why several newspapers had not been paid the amounts due them by the state for publication of notices;

Appear before the state board of education and represent a number of districts in the sale of bonds;

Go to the department of education and straighten out a number of troubles; get information as to various laws affecting schools and a great many other things from this department.

See the director of relief work and find out why more money is not available for those needing help. A lot of this.

Present to the governor a brief showing the possibilities of planting forests in the plains country and obtain her approval. This is a very meritorious suggestion. There are to be some 40 C. C. C. camps in East Texas this winter, and not one in West Texas. Trees do grow out here and this work will be put over.

Urge Highway Construction
Go to the highway commission in the interest of about every road in the district, and did that religiously. Good roads are needed in West Texas and I surely worked for them.

Requests for endorsement for jobs—dozens of them. My keenest regret is that I did not have any jobs to give, and I certainly did my best to get places for people in this district. Aside from the directors of Tech College only one state appointive job has been given a citizen of the 30th district by the present administration.

Appear before the railway commission in the interest of certain freight rates;

Find out from the adjutant general why certain armory rentals have not been paid;

Act as chairman of a committee to name a state poet laureate. This was done. The committee worked at night altogether, taking no time whatever from their regular work.

Obtain Drought Relief
Obtain drought relief for a number of counties in this district. Considerable success followed a lot of hard work along this line. The federal government allotted approximately nine million dollars to drought stricken counties for road work. Help came from a number of other sources and all together will go a long way to keep some 10,000 farmers in this district in their homes;

Improve the only state park I know of in this district—the Hank Smith park near Crosbyton.

The above are just some of the things I was glad to do for the people of this district. I made few speeches in the legislature. It costs about $7 per minute for the legislature to run and I decided that speech making at that cost comes too high to the taxpayers. I did do my best to render every service requested by my people.

It is doubtful if any legislature ever worked harder than this special session. The senate worked all night once, adjourning at 5:30 o'clock in the morning. On two other nights they worked until one o'clock. Almost every night there were committee meetings or conferences, making it a very busy session.

Before too severely criticizing or condemning legislators the people should know better the conditions under which they work, the things they are called on to do, the pressure brought to bear for this, or that, and always remember that they are just human beings after all.

Negro Killed Sunday.
On Len Irvin Farm

From Olton Enterprise, Oct. 2—Pete Dismuke, bad negro, was killed in court records for the last time Saturday. His record is closed.

Arrested Saturday for drunkenness, Dismuke was taken to the court house by Sheriff Len Irvin, where a search of his pockets preparatory to locking him up revealed a check for a bale of cotton he had sold and which the negro, on being questioned, admitted stealing from the Burrow gin Friday night, the cotton belonging to the sheriff for whom the negro had worked on the farm. He told the men at the gin that he was farming on the halves and that every other bale belonged to him.

Sheriff Irvin placed the negro in jail here and took him to Littlefield later in the day Saturday where he locked him up over night, taking him back to the farm Sunday afternoon about 1 o'clock. Back on the farm the negro became troublesome, bemoaning J. J. Moses, tenant on the farm, which is four miles west of Olton, and accusing him of being an accomplice in the cotton theft.

Moses denied this and began questioning the negro about trying to involve him when the negro made a play for his hip pocket with a statement something about his razor, and Moses knocked him down with a baseball bat, hitting him across the top of the head. The negro apparently was not seriously hurt, going into the dugout where the sheriff was sitting, to get a wash pan which he went to the well and filled and took back into the house and washed his face and head. Two trips to the well were made by the negro.

When Dismuke came into the house was the first Sheriff Irvin knew of the trouble between him and the white man, as the scene of action was in the yard of the dugout. Sheriff Irvin noting the condition the negro was in laid him on his bunk and summoned medical aid, the doctor attending him twice Sunday afternoon. The negro gradually grew worse and died about 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Moses was placed under arrest in connection with the affair but was immediately released on bond.

Dismuke had a police record and was considered a "band negro" by those of his own color as well as whites, having killed another negro at Tulla about two years ago. He was not prosecuted in the Tulla murder for lack of evidence, boasting he had killed the only witness that could testify against him. Moses says he had no intention or any idea of killing the negro, but used the club only for self protection.

School Opens

School began Monday with an attendance of approximately eight hundred pupils. Several new pupils enrolled in both grammar and high school. We are happy to continue school work and much success should be obtained.

The State Supervisor, Mr. Holbrook, of Lubbock, will make an official visit soon and report to the State Department of Education the kind of work every one is doing.

New Home Ec. Teacher

Most of the Home Economics girls were surprised when they came back to school after cotton picking vacation to find a new Home Ec. teacher. They enjoyed having Mrs. Moore with them, and they are sorry she had to leave; however, they all feel sure they will enjoy having Miss Dorothy Fenn teach them. She has a B. S. from the North Texas State Teacher's College at Denton. Her home is in Denton, Texas.

Pep Squad

The Pep Squad was organized several days ago and officers were elected. Virginia Vereen and Dugan King were elected yell leaders. Miss Shuttlesworth and Miss Denny were elected as sponsors. We are expecting to have a more peppy squad than there has ever been before. We urged each member to attend each meeting and each ball game.

Boys, we especially invite you to join our squad. We need voices so, come join us and let's show real school spirit.

New Pupils

Sudan High School is proud to note the entrance of five new pupils in school. These pupils are Rosalee Wilhoit, a Freshman, from Herring Hightower High School; Edna Lucille Wilber it is on the stand. Mr. Huffpouer, the school janitor, made the stand from material found around the school.

Trip to the World's Fair

Mr. White and Mr. Hicks have recently gotten back from the World's Fair. They report a very enjoyable time.

They covered approximately 17 states on their trip and they both say from Chicago to Washington including Ohio and Indiana, the most beautiful states passed through, with the exception of our dear old Lone Star State. Some interesting places that they enjoyed seeing were Lincoln's Memorial and birth place, Arlington Cemetery, Lee's home, birth place of Sam Houston, several colleges and Military training schools, the exhibit which Florida displayed at the Fair and the beautiful scenery along the country-side. Mr. Hicks said Washington was the most interesting and Chicago the most "sight-seeing" cities on their tour.

They admit that they enjoyed their trip but were very glad to get back home.

Jokes

Ruby Lee West: "What is the date?"

Mr. Lee: "Never mind the date, the exam is more important."

Ruby: "Well sir, I wanted to have something right!"

We editors may dig and toil 'Till our finger tips are sore. But some poor hick is sure to say,

"I've heard that one before."

Mr. Jones: "Son will your dog chase cows for you?"

Horace: "No sir, you see he's a bull dog."

The belle of the town had eloped, disguised in her father's clothes. The next edition of the town's weekly carried the account of the elopement with the following heading:

"Flees in father's pants."

The Art of Studying

We are all back in school again and most of us have worked hard and are glad to be here. The thing that we have probably forgotten most and need to know most is to know the art of studying. There isn't one of us who doesn't sometimes wonder how he or she can study so much and learn so little. Perhaps there are some secrets we have not learned or at least have not applied. Nearly everything we do has rules and we are able to do these things much better when we abide by the rules. Why, then shouldn't we use rules for studying when they will help us to learn more in less time, make better grades, and have more time to do other things? Some may think that is an exaggeration but just give it a trial and find out for yourself.

We should always be comfortable when studying and not have some little thing irritating us and distracting our minds from the subject we are studying. Believe me, it doesn't take much to distract most of us.

Study a certain thing at a certain time and finish it before beginning a new subject. Don't read a page of English, decide history would be more interesting, study it for awhile and then decide you don't believe you want to study after all.

Don't ask help until you have to, then only have the work explained.

The most important thing in studying is to concentrate and exclude all other thoughts from your mind. This is probably the most difficult as well, but stop thinking about the next basket ball game, your new dress, the last party you attended or what happened at the Sunday night show and think of what you are doing.

Believe it or not, most subjects are really interesting if we give them a chance to be. Have you ever been guilty of saying, "That is the dullest lesson" when you wouldn't have been able to tell someone what it was about. I fear most of us have.

Let us try to remember that studying should be planned as well as some other things and much more success can be derived from less study if we will only consent to follow the rules. —Xezrus Cockerham

Panhandle Cattle Shipments Decreases But Hog and Sheep Shipments Increase

Texas Livestock Shipments To Fort Worth and Interstate Points Increase 33 Per Cent Over 1932

Austin, November 6.—An increase of nearly 33 per cent over the 2,844 cars shipped in September, 1932, was recorded in livestock shipments of 3,776 cars from Texas to Fort Worth and interstate points during September, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

10 Cookers and Four Wash Pots Needed to Can Beef on a Farm

It is hard to get too many steam pressure cookers and wash pots together when canning a beef or a hog on the farm, declares Miss Lola Blair, food specialist in the Extension Service at Texas A and M College.

More interest in proper canning of meat is in evidence on Texas farms this year than in any previous season in Miss Blair's experience. She warns home meat canners to watch two things particularly in canning meat, both of which have caused trouble and sometimes spoilage in the past.

Products pre-cooked in this way are sausage, hamburgers, roasts, steaks, and liver paste. Due to difficulty of heat penetration sausage and hamburgers should not be put in No. 3 cans.

A second important step which has caused trouble has been in allowing the paper on gasket lids to become damp from water or steam and to buckle up. This can be avoided by turning the lids bottom up on the cans not turning over until just ready for sealing.

To facilitate home meat canning Miss Blair suggests that grandfathers make a wooden paddle about 4 feet long for stirring stew and chili. New pine should not be used for this. She also suggests he put a fork on a broom handle in preparation for canning day.

TECH TO SEEK REVENGE

The Texas Tech Matadors with five victories to their credit this year overshadowing the one defeat, hits the veteran Simmons University team here Armistice Day, in a game that looks like a toss up.

Out of the seven games in as many years, Simmons took four leaving the Matadors only two while the first game was a 0 to 0 tie.

It will be home-coming for the Matadors with thousands of the old graduates and ex-students back to witness the affair. The Simmons Cowboys will have the backing of the Cowboys Band and some 300 fans who will ride a special train to Lubbock next Saturday.

Last year, Simmons upset the dope bucket on Thanksgiving with a much weaker team than they have this year, winning 13 to 12 and placing a gloom upon an otherwise highly successful season.

The Beethoven Music club met at the home of Mrs. Harris Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the following program was given by different members:

"A Little Breeze," Katherine Dean; "The Bear on Skates," Frankie Ruth Faris; "A Sketch of Beethoven's Life," Margaret Dean; "Characteristics of Beethoven's Music and his Greatest Compositions," George Weimhold; "The Cello Prayer," Ruby Inez Lam; "Indian Dance," Joyce Stone; "Amour Coquet," Lena Ruth Harris.

The club meets each second Wednesday afternoon and Miss Mary Frances Akard, local music teacher, is sponsor.

$50,000,000 IS SOUGHT BY THE OWNERS OF HOMES IN TEXAS.

Distressed home owners in Texas have already sought loans approximating $50,000,000 in Texas, according to a statement of James Shaw, state manager at Dallas. This averages $2,500 per application, of which there are now nearly 1,800.

Much delay from various sources has been experienced in putting thru these loans, and many companies are not willing to co-operate with the government in the shifting and adjusting process necessary.

R. A. Underwood, of Amarillo, was last week appointed attorney for the association, succeeding Garland Woodward, resigned.

ON TEXAS FARMS

By W. H. Darrow, Extension Service Editor

Other things equal, good seed wins. Austin Bishop, Jr., Red River county 4-H club boy, picked more than a bale of cotton to the acre on three acres planted to pedigreed seed. His father made three-fourths of a bale planted on the same kind of land at the same time.

Something green from the garden was used on the dining table of the Ed Sklar home in Wharton county every day from late last fall until now with the exception of two weeks following last year's freeze. The gardener was Irene Sklar, president of the Muldoon 4-H club.

When half through terracing a field last year rain set in and prevented Oscar Mangold, Medina county farmer, from finishing the job. The rain was costly, the county agent says. The terraced land was the poor upland of the field but it made 10 bushels more corn to the acre than the richer bottom land.

A one-section farm in Hale county made money for C. H. Day and sons last year, the county agent reports. With the help of 4 sons Mr. Day grew wheat, cotton, alfalfa, sudan, oats, barley and grain sorghums and balanced crops up with hogs, dairy cattle, baby beehives and poultry. A garden and orchard helped, too.

FORREST FIRES

Pete Caldwell of Lubbock who is visiting in Sudan this week reports to Dr. W. H. Ford that he killed an extreme large spike buck while hunting in the Heart Bar Ranch in New Mexico, but failed to bring the local doctor any meat; hence the veracity of the statement.

John McCarty in the Dalhart Texan gives the following account of what happens when the merchants of a town do not go out after the business by advertising:

Yesterday afternoon hundreds of copies of the Sears News advertising the Sears-Roebuck Company and particularly their store in Amarillo, were distributed in Dalhart and territory. The News was a neat 8 page tabloid size edition advertising among other things radios, heaters, enamel, paint, hardware, blankets, shoes, underwear, rugs, beds, mattresses, springs, cookers, gas ranges, spark plugs, batteries, tires and motor oil.

Evidently those fellows down there, after having had their ads turned down by the Texan in years gone by, think there is some business up here that they can invite down to their store. They don't have an item that cannot be matched or beaten right here in Dalhart, yet they had ads in their paper on articles which we have not carried an ad for one or two years. Whether it is our fault for not working harder at selling advertising, or the merchants for not going after business aggressively, I don't know. I merely know that a store 90 miles away is getting business from here by asking for it, and I know that the business should stay in Dalhart, because it will not pay anyone to go 90 miles to buy merchandise that can be bought at the same or better prices here.

Not until we have gone after the business in an aggressive way, taking full advantage of our advertising and sales facilities here have we any right to fuss an awful lot about trade going elsewhere. The above applies just as strongly to the Texan as to any firm in town. We have all laid down on the job in selling and advertising in recent months.

Now that business is getting better many of us are prone to cut our advertising expenditures, trusting to luck that the increased business will hold. In the meantime someone else is getting the business. It seems that if we aren't willing to go after the business, someone else always wants it and will spend money for advertising that fact to the people.—John McCarty, Dalhart Texan.

To Make NRA A Success

Carson Pirie Scott & Company, wholesalers, of Chicago suggests 18 resolutions for doing one's part for success of the NRA. These resolutions are short and to the point, and if the people will catch the spirit of them, Old Man Depression will be quickly forced out of the country. Here they are. Read them and adopt them:

- I Promise: 1. To support the code and act on the arguments. 2. To give the iron ear to the fellow who has all the reasons why it won't work. 3. To remember that we are in a war, and that if it was all right for the government to ask a few million boys to give their lives to settle a disturbance in Europe, it must be fairly reasonable to request a few million merchants to endure a little discomfort for the common good. 4. To bear in mind that, after all, this time Uncle Sam is not asking me to leave my home and my family, and show a machine gun squad that I can take it. 5. To realize that patriotism is patriotism even when there are no bugs. 6. To regard the Blue Eagle as a Blue Eagle, and not a chisel-beak woodpecker. 7. To remember that I have an obligation to do something more than stick a picture of a bird in a front window. 8. To realize that the slogan is "We Do Our Part" and not "We Dupe Our Partner."

- 9. To develop a rousing hatred of trickery, chiselling and the old "run-around." 10. To have no time for the fellow who would rather obstruct a plan that might cost him $500 a year than to support a plan that would enable 10 million people to eat regularly. 11. To stop talking about "interference" with natural economic laws. "Inevitable business cycles," etc., and to realize that nobody ever got a wrecked truck out of the ditch by citing precedents. 12. To remember that we were all demanding action—and that finally we got it. 13. To realize when in a critical mood toward little NRA that nobody has suggested a better plan for quick action. 14. To be willing to take it on the nose for a year (if absolutely necessary) to cure a national headache. 15. To keep ever foremost in the mind, when talking about sacrifices being asked of me, that, after all, I'm not asked to put on a uniform, go to France, dodge sharpnel, sleep in the mud, and get what comfort I can out of the fact that a girl named Nellie is knitting me a pair of socks.

- 16. To work more and talk less, always realizing that it is impossible to pull a drowning man out of a well by throwing him a plate of boloney. 17. To remember that the only difference between a slacker in this crisis and a slacker in the World War is that a slacker in the World War had more reasons for being scared stiff. 18. To remember that we were all shouting for a "President who would do something."

toxioid treatment for diphtheria. Dr. Ford asked them how they knew he was administering the serum free, and they said, "We read it in The Sudan News." Advertisers have a wonderful opportunity of telling the people of this and surrounding communities about their wares in The Sudan News. You are losing by not taking advantage of it.

Farm Strife Sector Invaded By Johnson

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, Industrial Recovery administrator, invaded the home of the Midwest farm strike yesterday to appeal again for support of the NRA and AAA as "the one possible way out of this depression." and to affirm that recovery program benefits were already on the way to the farmer.

As the fiery general drew his address before 4,000 persons in Shrine Auditorium to close, there were bursts of applause. For the most part, however, the audience listened without demonstration. He had come here from St Paul and Minneapolis where he delivered similar appeals for agrarian support.

One heckler who attempted to interrupt was silenced when the general asked sharply, "What better plan than Franklin Roosevelt's plan can you think of?" Asserting he came here to answer criticisms of farmers that the NRA was moving ahead faster than the Agricultural Adjustment program, Johnson admitted the present situation in the Midwest "is about the worst in the United States."

But, he countered, "NRA had to move fast or not move at all."

The problem of AAA was altogether different. NRA could move in any day. AAA had to deal with annual crops. It could not have moved faster. The Farm Loan Administration is on the job," Johnson said.

Yes—Build Now!

How would this proposition strike you?

You are given a chance to purchase something you need—something that will be of permanent and increasing value to you and your family—for a fraction of what it will cost within a year or so. And, at the same time, by buying it you will be expediting recovery, putting men to work at good wages in a hundred industries, and stimulating businesses of all kinds in your town.

That's certainly an attractive proposition—and it's not fictional. The investment is construction. Individual home building and repairing is one of the most important factors in the recovery program. And, so far, the construction industry has shown less pickup than any business of comparable size.

During the present winter it will be possible to build well and build cheaply. You can obtain a house for a few thousand dollars that would have cost twice the price four years ago—and probably will again four years hence. The same thing is true of repairs of all kinds—from those rickety steps you've been vaguely meaning to have fixed for months, to that roof which has suddenly developed a leak. And—here is something to think about—one-third of the people on the relief rolls in the larger cities are normally engaged or supported by construction industry. Starting home-building on a national scale is all that will bring back their jobs.

Yes—build now! You'll never regret it. Get that bargain in homes that is being offered you—and have the satisfaction of knowing that you're doing your part to prevent privation and want during the coming winter.

What Do You Expect From Your Paper?

What do you expect from your newspaper? Well, you expect more from your newspaper than you do from any other person or institution to which you pay the sum of $2.00 a year.

You expect your newspaper to give you all the news for 52 weeks. That's why you pay $2.00 for it, but,

You expect your newspaper to take the lead in advocating changes for the betterment of the community.

You expect your newspaper to expose graft in public affairs, to forestall it by publishing itemized accounts of all public moneys spent.

You expect your newspaper to maintain a high standard of morality, supporting things that are right and condemning the things that are wrong.

You expect your newspaper to support a high standard of enterprise, devoting column after column to propaganda, supporting the band, the base ball team, community celebrations, Boy Scouts, high school athletics, school programs, home talent plays and dozen of such causes and events.

You expect your newspaper to build up confidence in your home financial institutions and protect home investors from making unwise investments of surplus funds, warning against fake salesmen and other financial pirates.

You expect your newspaper to establish friendly contact with rural readers so as to induce them to make your town their town.

You expect your newspaper to urge support of poor relief benefits library drives, Red Cross drives, Christmas Seal drives, poppy sales, forget-me-not sales, have-a-heart drives, etc.

You expect your newspaper to publish church notices, church programs, club news, farm bureau information, demonstration unit news, market news, weather reports and cover all doings of the many semi-public organizations.

You expect your newspaper to support every meritorious organization effort for the city's good.

And you expect all this for $2.00 a year. No, it can't be done for that. The money you, as a subscriber, pay for this paper covers less than one-fourth the cost of publishing the paper. The other three-fourth must be paid by advertisers.

Since the advertisers pay a large share of the expense of publishing your newspaper, don't you think you owe them the duty to patronize them whenever they offer you equal or better values than non-advertisers?

And you, Mr. Advertiser, don't you think that in view of the many services which the newspaper performs for which the newspaper derives no compensation, but which mean more business and more profits to you, the newspaper deserves
