

Dissatisfaction Voiced By Sudan Business Men; To Pay Transportation Charges

Dissatisfaction with the action taken by the Lamb County Commissioner's court in not renaming the County RFC board which has been serving this county since August 15, was voiced unanimously by the members of the Sudan Business Men's club at its regular meeting Tuesday at noon.

The club stated in its resolutions that it could not see why the Court would appoint a new board, when the men on the old board had spent practically four months acquainting themselves with the work of the RFC, and had handled the work so efficiently that the total expenditure for relief work since August 15 was only $2,000 while from early spring to August 15, $6,000 per month was expended. Good care has been taken of all widows, orphans, and others in need too.

Mr. Boesen, the chairman of the board, had just returned from Austin where he received schooling on the new CWA which is supplanting most of the RFC work. Although the men on the board did not protest the action, because they do not receive any pay for the work, they voiced a willingness to stay on the board, in order that they might help Lamb county in correctly distributing these funds, so that the most good could be derived. They could have probably gotten the new CWA program started two weeks sooner, if they had been reappointed.

No criticism was made of the new committee appointed, but it is a well known fact that these men will have to spend much time in order to acquaint themselves with the work of the old committee already known. The new chairman will probably have to make a trip to Austin to obtain the details, the same as Mr. Boesen did.

The club lauded Mr. Nelson, county RFC administrator, for his good work, and went on record urging that he be reappointed. A committee of five local men—L. E. Slate, W. V. Terry, J. C. Barron, W. W. Carpenter, and Sam Saunders—was appointed to meet with the Commissioner's court Monday at Olton and ask for their cooperation in getting V. C. Nelson renamed as county RFC administrator.

Other matters which will be presented to the court by the Sudan club are: to ask that Lamb county be redistricted into four evenly divided precincts, in order that Sudan's territory will be in one precinct, so that the country roads leading to it may be kept in better shape; to ask that an assistant for County Agent D. A. Adam be appointed for at least the remainder of this year, in order that 4-H club and other farm agent work may be carried on better, while Mr. Adam is having to devote so much time to the government cotton, wheat, and hog program.

Due to the fact that the Commissioner's court has failed to appropriate funds for the hauling of 5,350 pounds of pork and 1,400 pounds of butter from Lubbock to Sudan, in order that it may be distributed to the widows and other people in need this winter, the Sudan Business Men's club voted to bear this expense, in order that the people of Lamb county will not lose their share of the products being donated by the government.

Church Workers Enjoy Banquet

The stewards of the Methodist church, their wives and other church workers were entertained with a banquet last Wednesday night in the Sam A. Thomas. The turkey for the feast was furnished by J. E. Dryden.

After the wonderful meal, those present discussed the different problems of the church and the steward rolls were made out.

Those attending the banquet were: Mr. and Mrs. McNeely, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Masten, Mr. and Mrs. Alderson, Mr. and Mrs. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Furneaux, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dryden, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dryden, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Salem, Forrest Weimhold, Charlie and B-rtha Vereen, Mary Will McNeely, Frances Lou McKinley and the host and hostess, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas.

Mrs. Glen Miller spent several days with her parents in Floyd last week.

2,894 MORE BALES GINNED HERE THIS YEAR THAN LAST

Despite the fact that the farmers in the Sudan Public school district plowed up enough cotton last summer to receive $250,000 from the government, Sudan's three gins have ginned 7,536 bales of the 1933 cotton crop to December 6th, as compared with 4,642 bales of the 1932 crop ginned to December 6th, 1932.

This is an increase of 2,894 bales over the same period last year. The 1933 crop is probably nearer harvested than the 1932 crop was on December 6, but the ginnings this year is expected to exceed last year's total ginnings by 2,500 bales.

Ideal weather for the gathering of crops has speeded up the ginning of cotton. Only about four days of wet weather has been experienced this fall.

Sudan farmers, business and professional men are much enthused over the wonderful crop being harvested. This puts the farmers in much better condition than they have been in for several years, as the cotton has sold on an average of from nine to ten cents this fall, while it was around the four cent mark last year.

This in addition to the $250,000 received for the plow-up cotton has stabilized business in Sudan considerably.

Sudan Football Fans See Tech Beat Kansas

Many Sudan football fans attended the football game in Lubbock Thanksgiving and saw the powerful Kansas Aggies defeated by the Texas Technological college football team. Tech made their touchdown when Russel of the Kansas Aggies fumbled and Tech recovered the ball back of the Kansas goal line.

Nelson, Ves Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Lovd Chesher, Kirk Dean; Misses Fansberger, Bobo, White, Lillian Hunt, Lewis and Messrs. Arnold Partel, Nebs Warren, Horace Scott and others.

ATTENDS STATE MEETING.

Superintendent M. A. Smith, of the Sudan Public schools attended the meeting of the Texas State Teachers' association in Austin last week-end.

About 7,500 school teachers and people interested in public school work attended the meeting.

Mr. Smith returned Sunday from the meet.

400 Lamb Co. Men To Get Employment

Lamb County's quota of men in the new CWA work has been placed at 400 by the government, according to V. C. Nelson, Lamb County RFC administrator.

Each town in the county will have an opportunity of making out a project and using a part of these men on their project.

Sudan application which has already been filed calls for 60 men, while Littlefield is asking for the employment of 200 men.

The work will probably be started by the first of January.

HIS ANNUAL VISIT

British Say U. S. Is Lucky to Have Found Roosevelt

Desertion of Friends Is Called Shameful

London—The Daily Express, often outspoken in its criticism of American affairs, paid tribute to President Roosevelt with an editorial headed, "Here Is A Man."

"In America," it said, "Roosevelt stands up to furious onslaughts."

"The Wall Street banks line up against him. His old friends and colleagues desert in droves. Their flight is shameful."

"The president is lacking a job which would be enough to break most men's hearts. The mess was made by interests in a panic."

"Roosevelt keeps his nerve. He carries on and he will carry through."

Other news from over there concerns a fresh wave of lynching. A country which lets criminals play their trade unchecked and then takes the law into its own hands and goes mad wants a brave, strong man for its head in a crisis.

"Americans are lucky to have found him."

Sale At Spring Lake Friday, 15

C. T. Venable, who lives on the J. Boone farm 2 miles south and 3-4 miles west of Spring Lake, on the Sudan-Olton cut-off road, will sell a large list of personal property on Friday, December 15, at public auction, according to Col. Jack Rowan, who will do the auctioneering.

SUDAN FARMER DIES SUDDENLY

Virgil Ernest Baccus, age 54 years two months and four days, died suddenly at his farm home south of Sudan Wednesday morning at 5:30. His death was attributed to acute indigestion.

The Masonic lodge of Sudan of which he was a member, was in charge of the service. Rev. Robinson of Happy assisted by Rev. John E. Evans of Amherst conducted the services at the Amherst Baptist church Thursday evening. He was buried in the Amherst cemetery.

Mr. Baccus was in good health and had worked all day Tuesday, stacking feed. He retired shortly after supper and took sick about two o'clock Wednesday morning. A doctor was summoned, but he grew worse and died at 5:30.

He is survived by a wife and four boys; four brothers, E. W., of Amherst, R. P., of Estelline, P. M. and B. J., of Grandbury; and four sisters, one of Texico and Wellington, and two of Grandbury.

Mr. Baccus has been residing in this county for the past eight years with the exception of two years, and was well known in Sudan.

The News with the many other friends of the family offer condolence to the bereaved.

Congressman Jones Lauds President Roosevelt in Speech at Dimmit Friday

MR. MILLER VISITS SUDAN FOR FIRST TIME IN 4 YEARS

Mr. E. W. Miller, of Amarillo, father of Frances Miller, of this city, was a visitor at the home of his son here last Sunday. Several of his daughters, his son Carl and wife, his son-in-law, Mr. Armstrong and some of the grandchildren were in the party driving down from Amarillo to have a family reunion at the Miller home. They returned to their homes Sunday evening.

Mr. Miller has not been in this section of the country for several years and expressed surprise over the development of the country and the town since he was here last. He was among the early investors in Bailey county lands to the west of us, having been largely responsible for the development of the Circleback and Baileyboro communities. He also has had extensive land interests northwest of us what is known as the Ector county school lands. His holdings in other sections of the Plains country are large in acreage. Mr. Miller's judgment on good lands has been verified by the passing of years and his faith in land investment has proved most profitable.

While visiting here last Sunday many of Mr. Miller's old time friends called on him and enjoyed a short visit. They congratulated him on his noticeable progress toward health, he having been confined to his home for several years by sickness.

Mr. Beale And Miss Ethel Alexander Wed

Miss Ethel Alexander and Mr. Allen Beale were quietly married by Rev. Raney at Muleshoe, November 24, 1933.

Mr. Beale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beale of Corsicana, Texas.

The popular young couple left immediately for Carlsbad, where they spent a few days.

They will leave soon for Corsicana where they will make their home.

Blue Bonnett Locals

The Janes Tabernacle church has called Rev. L. P. Jordan from Morton, Texas, as their pastor. They will have church every 1st and 3rd Sunday. Everyone is invited. Parents come and bring your children to Sunday School each Sunday. Mr. A. E. Mann is Sunday School Superintendent.

Those attending the workers meeting last week in Littlefield from our church were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Pope, Mr. O. F. Armstrong, Mrs. C. W. Greaver and Mrs. J. M. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mann and Mrs. Chas Crawford.

Rev. Jordan will bring his loyal group of B. Y. P. U. folks from Maple Wilson church over to put a program on for us in the near future. Let's all listen for the date and have a large attendance to welcome them. Rev. Jordan, wife and two boys were guest of Rev. Thomas of Sudan Sunday evening.

Dr. George Hubbard and daughter, Mrs. Annie Harris from Plainview visited Mr. and Mrs. Chas Crawford last week end.

Most of the cotton is gathered from this community and feed is fast going into the stacks.

Mr. C. R. Terrell is making more improvements on his home. Nice concrete porches are being put down, carbide lights are already in the home and bath room fixtures are being installed. Their home is quite modern. Mrs. Terrell is able to be up again.—Reporter.

SALEM IS FEATURING READY-TO-WEAR SALE.

Hon. Marvin Jones, Congressman from the Eighteenth District of Texas, constantly lauded President Franklin D. Roosevelt in his address to a large crowd at Dimmitt, last Friday evening.

Mr. Jones stated that the last time he spoke in Dimmitt, the nation was going through the sorriest administration in history, but now it is going through the best administration in its history. He stated that the "New Deal" is not working as fast as most of us would like, but that it takes time to sweep out the trash which has collected in the White House during the last twelve years.

Beginning with the Barrons and Lords in the 15th and 16th century, Mr. Jones traced the development of our form of government. At first, he stated, the pistol was the weapon used in governing the people, but was later replaced by the ballot which is constructive rather than destructive like the pistol. He also said that people who thought there was danger of overthrow of an English speaking government were 250 years behind time. When the majority want a change in government, they unite and elect the men who believe as they do.

Religious, Political and Economic principles were discussed thoroughly by Mr. Jones, and he said that he was not afraid but that the government would work out of this, if the people will take an interest in the government. He impressed the fact that the people were behind the government and that their action would determine the outcome of any great movement.

"We have the kind of government we deserve as a people," is the convincing way Mr. Jones told the large audience what we could expect from our government.

In his address, Mr. Jones stated that the financiers with Andrew Mellon in the treasury department had bled the agriculture units white by their unethical tactics. The last twelve years had permitted this to grow and to enlarge to such an extent that a radical change had to be made.

A new machine was not needed, but the old machine, only, needed to be brought to the charted course, according to Mr. Jones. Mr. Roosevelt is giving us a program which is giving us action despite the fact that the same fellows who brought on the depression are fighting the program to a finish.

This program was not gotten up over night but is the result of much thinking on the part of our President, and the men in Congress and the Senate.

Mr. Jones told of President Roosevelt calling him, soon after his election last year, and asking him to get a committee together to work out plans for helpful legislation to be passed during the last meeting of Congress under President Hoover.

Mr. Jones, along with the heads of various departments were instructed to work out the problems following the lines set out in President Roosevelt's Topeka speech.

Through the efforts of Mr. Jones, the Farm Program was adopted and local control was instituted in the farm program, despite the fact that the theorist advocated centralized control.

Congressman Jones stated that the government was trying to see that citizens are placed on the same level, to restore the things which had been taken away from the masses by the capitalist, and to restore the purchasing power of the masses.

Insisting that plowing-up the cotton was not right in normal times, Mr. Jones stated that due to the delay of the farm bill in the Senate that the power program had to be used in order that the price of cotton could be raised. After the delay it was either have 4c cotton or use the power program and get ten cents a pound in addition to the cotton bonuses which were distributed.

However, Mr. Jones is for the control of production as he stated that the farmers must do as the industrialist—let supply and demand control production—in order to keep the price of farm products in proportion. If manufactured products were reduced in proportion to farm products we would all be willing for the farm products to sell at a low price.

Mr. Jones has not missed a roll call in Congress in the past six years, and has never dodged a vote, but has constantly been on the job fighting for the people.

The Smith Carronade

It looks as if Al Smith is nursing a grudge, because of the fact he was defeated by Roosevelt at the nominating convention. Here is what The Dallas Morning News says about his charges:

Much of what Al Smith has to say about the new civil works program he puts into effect, if flippant words; he also voices doubts entertained by many besides the redoubtable wearer of the brown derby. A one-man attack, even by so important a national figure as the Democratic leader of 1928, would merit no more serious consideration than that Secretary Ickes has given it in a rather weak reply. But the administration will be making a serious mistake if it fails to realize the extent of doubt and criticism. The entire complicated program is under fire, a condition that must be faced.

The barrage is likely to increase instead of diminishing in force, for back of the guns are the political malcontents who rejoice to find ammunition ready; these are augmented by nonpartisan and entirely honest critics, among whom there can be little question that Al Smith belongs.

The administration's difficulty is that, without making any claim either to infallible judgment or ability to work miracles, a large number of the people expect from it complete economic salvation. The truth is that Franklin Roosevelt is an able and honest leader, who recognizes the tremendous character of the undertaking for recovery and realizes that a given plan may fail. But any plan that offers promise of success is to be tried and discarded only when it fails. After four years of administrative inertia, he has substituted action.

Hence the changes in and patches on the economic program. Governor Smith criticizes the new civil works plan as merely instructing Harry Hopkins to take 2,000,000 men off the dole and put them to work, and to put another 2,000,000 doleless men into remunerative employment. But what else was it expected to do? The President has a hard task. If the Nation behind him does not fail, he will not fail the Nation.

Mob Action Spreads

From Dallas Evening Journal

Missouri joins California and Maryland in the shameful roll of States where lynching occurs. You of Texas who defend such occurrences read the following:

Slow to move, the negro was struck on the nose and stabbed in the back twice. He screamed once. Blood flowed down his naked chest as he was hauled up on the rope's end. Gasoline was thrown upon him as he kicked. A match was applied. It flashed up, went out. The process as repeated and this time the rope burned through. Doors and windowsills from a vacant house were torn out, piled around him and fired as the body lay on the pavement. Women spat in his face. His charred, dead body was kicked repeatedly.

No attempt is made here to condone the crime with which the poor wretch was charged. But the thing to ask yourself is this: Can any possible good come of stooping to such savagery? Can there be any possible justification for it?

Buying Power Increasing

Consumer buying power is growing gradually as ideal men and women find employment under industrial codes of fair competition now becoming effective. As of September 1, the American Federation of Labor reported decline in unemployment since March had reached 2,000,000. The report from the same source to November 1 showed reemployment totaled in excess of 4,000,000, an increase of a million each for September and October. And on November 1 about one fourth of the codes had been approved. The last American Federation of Labor report did not cover operation under the general retail code, the retail drug code, and various other business charters which had just been approved by the President.

Resolutions of the American Iron and Steel Institute, governing body of the steel industry, expressing "general satisfaction with the operations of the code in its effects on the industry" after a 3 months' trial period, which expired November 18, and unanimously requesting the President to extend the code for 6 months, signify the growing popularity of the code system. More and more managements of industry state in code hearings in Washington that economics are effected, through abandonment of expensive trade practices, which offset increased labor costs. They have freely admitted that waste under the old method of "let nature take its course", which could not be eliminated under the archaic antitrust laws, was a greater drain on resources than increased pay rolls.

In the ranks of industrialists there is an obvious determination to take advantage of the benefits to the trade structure under NRA demonstrated by experience of the cotton textile and other industries. These have proved that spread of work hours to absorb more workers at increased pay not only contributed to better working and living conditions and increase of business activity in the community but to improvement in morale that was reflected from week to week in amount and quality of output. The spirit of cooperation which the President admonished all of the people to adopt for the common welfare is shown by the testimony of the employers to be an accomplished fact.

The Christmas Shopper

When people do their Christmas shopping, they should realize, particularly if they are a little late about it, that the store people are doing about two or three times as much work as usual, and that the shoppers must be prepared to do a little waiting before they can expect service. Those who cannot wait a few minutes until earlier comers are served, should rush out and do their holiday shopping immediately.

We must all keep good natured through the Christmas rush. The store clerks who keep their temper when customers are cross and grouchy, are headed for promotion. They show capacity for success in retail trade. And the customers who are tolerant and do not find needless fault, are the ones who get the best service in the end.

The above was taken from The Lubbock Morning Avalanche applies to Sudan as well as Lubbock. Local stores will appreciate your co-operation by doing your Christmas shopping as early as possible.

Advertise for Christmas

With Christmas just around the corner, the stores in the larger cities are beginning to advertise to start the trend of the people to their doors. Attractive display ads in some of the daily papers which send sample copies to Sudan and territory frequently are used in addition to the many thousand circulars being distributed in this community.

Sudan merchants have the jump on all of these out of town merchants if they want to take it. They have access to the columns of their local paper which reaches each home in the community either directly or indirectly. By using this means freely they can draw the trade to Sudan and their stores. But if they do not and sit down and wait for the business to come to their stores, the same thing will happen from now on to Christmas as happened last Monday.

It is up to the merchants. They have the advantage of being able to advertise in the local paper, and if they don't take it, it is their loss.

If you don't know how to write attractive ads for your business, consult your local editor.

Saying A Whole Lot

"Lamb County is in a whole lot better shape financially than any other county in the United States," is what Mr. Boesen told those present at a business meeting in Sudan Tuesday.

When words like these come from a man, who has travelled as much as Mr. Boesen, and knows the condition of the nation as he does, it is certainly something to be thankful for.

Canadian, "Uncle Dick" Russell, former Indian fighter, buffalo hunter, and pioneer of the southwest, celebrated his 88th birthday recently by relating a story of how he once killed six Indians single-handed and saved a family of four from being massacred.

DR. KNAPP FOUNDER COUNTY FARM AND HOME DEMONSTRATION WORK

"In commemorating the hundredth anniversary Dr. Knapp's birth December 16 it should not be overlooked that this great leader foresaw the important place home demonstration work must have in the remaking of country life."

Dr. Knapp's ideal for extension service was: "Let it be high privilege of this great and free people to establish a republic where rural pride is equal to civic pride, where men of the most refined taste and culture select the rural villa, and where the wealth that comes from the soil finds its greatest return in developing and perfecting the great domain of nature which God has given to us as an everlasting estate." This ideal still remains the ideal of extension service.

"The aim and scope of demonstration work is shown in the following quotation taken from a speech made by Dr. Knapp in 1907. "We try to teach the farmer greater thrift, to raise his own provisions, to can his vegetables, so that he may have them the year round; that he must put this money into a better home, and so percolating and drifting through his home there will be a broadening element and there will be a gradual uplift of conditions and as there is an uplift and improvement of conditions the men themselves will become little broader and a little straighter and a little firmer, till by and by this home society where he must live, this rural society, will be a great dominating force in the land, and we shall become a pattern, not only to our own country, but to all countries, showing how a great and free people were able to readjust their conditions."

Mr. O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service, describes Dr. Knapp as the Greatest American Agricultural statesman.

The incident of which "Uncle Dick" told his friends for the first time occurred in the Solomon valley of western Kansas in 1868 when he was camped with 125 other buffalo hunters. A family of four had moved into the valley from Missouri and built a log cabin a few miles from the camp.

Armed with his long range buffalo gun and hunting for any kind of game which might come within his view, Russell found himself in the vicinity of the settler's cabin, just in time to see an Indian brave dragging a girl from the house. He had killed the first Indian when a second appeared carrying another member of the family. This one, too, was killed, as were two others who had dismounted. Before Russell and members of the family could get away from the cabin, two other Indians rode into view, their horses were shot from under them, and they were killed.

Russell escorted the family to the buffalo camp, where they arrived shortly before Indians laid siege to the camp. The Indians, armed only with bows and arrows would not ride within range of the buffalo guns, but settled down to starve out the hunters. Almost two weeks later, when rations in the camp had dwindled to dried buffalo meat, the Indians gave up the siege.

609,000 CHEVROLET UNITS BUILT IN TEN MONTHS

Chevrolet is now in production of new 1934 models as the beginning of next year's program, M. E. Coyle, General Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company announced today.

Employment is nearly normal in the Forge Plant in Detroit, the Foundry in Saginaw and the Carburetor and Die Casting Plant in Bay City. The other manufacturing plants located in Flint, Detroit and Toledo have already half their regular employees back at work and the production at the various assembly plants is starting slowly.

"We are, however, fully staffed with employee, who are being summoned back to work as needed," Mr. Coyle stated.

Radical styling and engineering changes, with increased speed and economy, are promised. Independent front wheel suspension, providing a cushion ride with "knee action" springs, recently announced for all new General Motors models by President Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., will help make the 1934 Chevrolet the most extensively improved annual model since the car was stepped up to six cylinders in 1928, according to the Chevrolet executive.

"Manufacturing operations are being pushed ahead with all possible dispatch to get a full quota of regular Chevrolet employees on the payroll with a minimum of delay," Mr. Coyle stated. "As soon as sufficient display cars to stock the company's 10,000 domestic dealers are in the field, the public showing will be held," he said. In the first ten months of 1933 the company built 609,000 units, 55 per cent more than in the full twelve months of 1932. This sharp increase, achieved mostly in the past six months, enabled the company to finish its 1933 program with hourly wage rates 20 percent higher than at the beginning of the year.

"We believe," said Mr. Coyle, "that the most effective contribution American industry can make to the general welfare at this time is to get all its regular employees back on a payroll as quickly as possible, give them as many hours work as the law allows or sales volume will permit and at the highest wages commensurate with the work being done in their localities.

"In the fifteen cities where we operate plants we have tried to pay wages as high or higher than obtained in other industries or plants in those cities for this same type of work. By this method we hope to inspire an under standing between the men and the management of our mutual problems of keeping factories operating that men may be employed.

"Consideration for the workmen has and will continue to be a major factor in the determination of our annual program. We are, to a greater extent than ever before, spreading work as widely as we can and endeavoring through the build up of parts inventories, to avoid any severe dips in our employment chart."

Mr. Coyle stated that no definite date for the public showing of the 1934 cars had yet been determined. He said he felt sure, however, that it would be held in ample time to enable the company to participate fully in New York automobile show activities where Chevrolet by virtue of leading the industry in production and sales will for the eighth consecutive year occupy first place.

NEWS AD FINDS HOG FOR MR. LUMPKIN

News advertising again prove that it will find strayed animals when the loss of something of value uses News Want Ads.

About two weeks ago one of Mr. Lumpkin's hogs strayed from his place. A two-bit want ad attracted the attention of a neighbor who notified Mr. Lumpkin; thus the hog was returned.

Others will find advertising of value in finding lost things.

Don't forget that a brand new Chevrolet car will be given away December 23, ask your merchant for further particulars. Read ad on another page of this issue. Car is on display at Chesher Chevrolet Company.

Carnival!

Yes, we are really going to have a Carnival. There are four important nights, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 6, 7, 8, and 9.

Each class is selling tickets for the show Wednesday and Thursday night. Thirty-three and one third per cent goes for votes for candidates. Friday night proceeds from money brought in from basket ball games and eats sold, go for carnival fund. Saturday afternoon a parade is to be given to advertise the Carnival. Saturday night is the night of all nights. Various classes have charge of booths, such as "Cat Rack," "Penny Pitch," "Doll Rack," "Fishing-Pond," "Chamber of Horrors," "Bucket and Ball Pitch," "Bingo, Charged Treasurer and "Auction Sale." Money derived from these sources is to be counted in queen's race.

Sandwiches, doughnuts, and hot drinks will be served by Misses Finn and Branch, and the Home Economic girls.

During the Carnival Miss Denny plans to have such stunts as style show, negro minstrel, tapping, and music.

The crowning event will, of course, be the coronation of the queen. The candidates are Edna Coconougher, freshman; Virginia Vereen, sophomore; Nina Coconougher, junior, and Kathryn Wilson, senior, and Vivian Covington, grade school. So COME to the carnival and vote for your favorite candidate.

The money derived from this carnival goes for libraries and athletic and play ground equipment.

EVERYBODY COME!

CARNIVAL PROGRAM

The program committee for the Carnival, which consists of Miss Reeves, Miss Denny, Miss Ransburger, and Mrs. Kitley, is working hard on a program that they think will be enjoyed by the people. The program will consist of a number of snappy negro stunts, the crowning of the queen, a comical play entitled "The Wrong Baby", and a style show put on by a number of the most popular men in Sudan. Folks if you want to get a real laugh come out Saturday night and see Skinny Jenkins in an evening dress.

PARADE

There's going to be a big parade in town Saturday afternoon, December 9. There will be queens, clowns, the Pep Squad, the band, and Santa Claus. Don't miss this parade. You will get lots of laughs and also see one of the loveliest sights of the whole year. Bring your wife and all your kids and let 'em have the time of their life.

MR. SMITH SAYS:

"There seems to be an increased interest in the School Carnival. Political machines are organizing and operating to elect their candidates and at the present it looks as if there will be a close race for carnival queen. We hope that all pupils and patrons of the Sudan School shall take an active part in the school carnival, that they shall enjoy the different activities and receive value from it. There will be many valuable prizes to those who are lucky and at the same time you will help our school provide necessary needs, such as library's for both schools."

SPORTS

The large crowd attending the games played here last Friday night saw Sudan "strut her stuff!"

The girls played the first game. It was fast because both teams were in good condition. The local team won with 30 points and Spade made only 17 points.

The boys played the last game. Several of the fans were surprised when the home club won. The score was 31 to 21. At the beginning of the game the visitors played neck to neck with the locals but the "Hornets" gradually pulled away. Both teams missed several shots that should have been made.

Friday night Sudan will play Anton here. This will be a good game. A small admission fee will be charged to see the game. Each class in high school will sell nuts, gum, etc. Bring your extra nickels and buy something to eat. The money goes for the queen candidate of the four classes.

Remember Friday night and be there 100 per cent strong. The rarest and most wonderful things that you can give anybody in this world is a little honest gratitude.

Pep Squad

Three cheers for our pep squad!

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

Pearl Carter

Pearl Carter is a good sport. She knows exactly when and how to express her opinion on a thing and abides by this knowledge. She thoughtfully prepares her lessons. She is I should think, as near an ideal student as could be found.

Nolan Nutall

That happy-go-lucky wise cracking boy of the senior class is none other than Nolan Nutall. Nolan's hobby is playing basketball and is he a hero on the court. (Better watch out that might not be the only courting he does.) You never see Nolan when he doesn't have a smile spread all over his face. He is one of the favorites among the boys.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS

First Grade: The low first has charge of the chapel program this week. Several of the old pupils are back in school.

Miss Hartsell reports that the high first is doing excellent work. They have a new pupil, Jimmie Jewel Norris.

Second Grade: Ernest Malone and Hazel Gilbert have withdrawn from the low second.

Ola Fafe Johnson is a new pupil in the high second, and Mary Evelyn and G. C. Testaman are back in school. Both sections are working on Christmas decorations and programs.

Third Grade: The low third grade boys are weaving little hats, and the girls are weaving tams.

Grover Whizenhunt, Lafoy Norris, Marie Coconougher, and Herbert J. Armand have returned to school.

Fourth Grade: Gladys Becham, Loyal Ray, and Billy Hardy, Jr. have returned to school.

Christine Hawkins is absent due to illness.

L. D. Johnson is a new pupil in the high fourth, Opal Lee Shuttlesworth is back in school after taking treatment in Dallas. They are working on a Christmas program for the P. T. A. which is to be given the third Wednesday in December.

Sixth Grade: The boys and girls of the low sixth grade sold pop corn, peanuts, and candy Friday, Friday night, and Monday. They made about $4.50, which was used for votes for their candidate for queen, Vivian Covington. Vivian won in grammar school, and they feel sure that she will win.

Seventh grade: Nearly all of the seventh grade pupils are back in school. The girls are playing basketball in the gym twice each week.

Low Down on High-Ups

Blanche Fowler, a junior, is learning to crawl again.

Catherine Carruth thinks that she can vamp Radney Nichols.

Xezvus Cockerham has a crush on Cecil Dennis.

We hear the reason Mr. Lee moved his room upstairs is because it is closer to Miss Reeves.

Bill Liston feels honored at the thought of being Katie Wilson's escort.

Clyde Robertson, Jr. is considered the baby of the senior class.

Louise Shaffer wishes Harlan Barnes was back in school. Ouida Doty is constantly looking out the window for a certain Charlie.

Bobble Lee Killingsworth has a crush on Cecil Dennis.

Nadine Willingham is crazy about "Red Heads", especially "Red" Malone.

Mr. Jaskson and Miss Denny are combining school work and pleasure, so say the glee clubbers.

I had my opinion of Mr. Lee and Mr. Whittle considerably lowered the other day. I thought they were good men, but I have changed my mind (they eat onions).

Mary Slaughter and Radney Nichols were caught flirting in bookkeeping class.

PERSONALS

Myrtle McLarty and Rhoda Ormand visited school Friday afternoon.

Margaret Erie Gibbs was in Sudan over the week-end.

Xezvus Cockerham was in Lubbock Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Aldridge were in Sudan over the week end. Mr. Aldridge was coach in Sudan year before last.

Bud Jacobson, Chris Jacobson, and Francis Higgins were entertained in the home of Xezvus Cockerham Thursday.

Mr. Butts visited Miss White Sunday.

JOKES

Jigs Nichols—"I can pick up a cent with my toes."
 Jack Stone—"That's nothing, my dog can pick up a cent with his nose."

Miss Reeves (To Literature Class) "Can you mention any famous last words?"
 Clyde Robertson—"Yes, when the preacher asks, 'Do you take this woman for your wedded wife?' and the groom answers, 'I do'."

Jonny—"Mom, won't you gimme that candy now?"
 Mom—"Didn't I tell you I wouldn't give you any unless you kept still?"
 Jonny—"Yes, but!"
 Mom—"Well, the longer you keep still the sooner you'll get it."

Cure for Headache: Stick your head into a bucket of water three times and pull it out twice.

Teacher: "George, is there any connecting link between the animal and vegetable kingdom?"
 George: "Yes, ma'am. Hash."

PEP SQUAD

What is it which makes our school have such pep? It is only the pep squad. What could we do without our pep squad to pep our team up? Not much! "Bitter Cold TODAY, SON SO I'LL DRIVE YOU TO SCHOOL!"

Donald: "Mother, it is cold—nearly half of my class was not there yesterday." Mother: "Cold weather does interfere with school, Donald, but I'm glad you can get there—thanks to our car." Donald: "But, mother, nearly all the other boys who were absent could come in cars but their folks don't even try to use them in cold weather—'cause they can't get them started." Mother: "Maybe, dear, they don't use the right gas and oil—that's practically the only difference between our car and many others. Understand, Donald, people are careless—they fail to get penetrative oil—found only in Germ Processed Motor Oil made by Conoco. Cold oil, even winter grade, unless it is right, makes it hard for the starter to revolve the motor. Conoco Oil helps motors turn over easily and then the Conoco Bronze Gasoline acts at the first spark and the motor starts at once."

MOTHER DO YOU THINK THE CAR WILL START O.K.?

Donald: "Mother, I should think the school board would make all parents use Conoco." Mother: "They couldn't do that, Donald, but it would be a good idea if the parents themselves would find out why their cars wouldn't start and buy Conoco. And I imagine they would if they knew it would save them money also."

CONOCO at the sign of the Red Triangle

Full motor protection, especially in cold motor starting, can be found only in Conoco Germ Processed (Paraffin Base) Motor Oil because the penetrative oiliness, called "The Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away.

Instant Starting and Lightning Pick-up can best be obtained with Conoco Bronze Gasoline, and without sacrifice of Long Mileage, Greater Power and Anti-Knock advantages. For cold weather starting it cannot be exceeded.

TEXAS RANKS 33
IN GOOD ROADS

Completion of Texas' main trans-state highways is one of the first and most vital requirements of any sort of centennial celebration in 1936. President W. J. Huggins of the Texas Good Roads Association declared today.

"Texas ranks thirty-ninth among the states in proportion of improved state highways," he said, "yet as a further state her future is largely dependent upon it."

"The sort of roads over which visitors from all parts of the nation will travel to our centennial will be, above all else, the yardstick by which they will measure our aggressiveness and progress, our desirability a place in which to live or vacation."

In spite of changing policies and many drawbacks, the Highway Department has made good progress, Judge Huggins said. Texas has 11 trunk roads which total more than 6,000 miles in length, he explained, and in the last four years 2,800 miles of them have been improved, in addition to what had been completed before. Today some 500 additional miles are under construction, with more being let almost every week.

"We have only two years of working time before the centennial," he warned. "State highway revenues have been so weakened by diversion and depression that our main chance lies in continuance of heavy federal aid for roads. This can be achieved if motorists stand together and insist at every opportunity that road-building is the best, most useful and most profitable enterprise from any depression angle; and that, as such, it should stand at the head of any federal construction program."

Half of Texas' $24,250,000 federal highway program is under way, with $13,000,000 in projects approved, the Association said. Jobs for 16,500 men are involved.

Thanksgiving day has gone but we trust that the spirit of the occasion still remains with us. This pastor and wife have much to be thankful for. We were the recipient of a generous "pounding" Thanksgiving eve during or at the close of the fine program rendered by the class of Mrs. Harris. We shall ever hold in grateful remembrance the donors of the many gifts presented to us. Such thoughtfulness on the part of members and friends of the church help to lighten our loads and cheer us on in the pathway of life.

The large crowd that was present at the school auditorium on Thanksgiving night to hear the program was certainly gratifying to those that were responsible for the program. It also speaks well for a people when they will go to hear such programs rather than go to places that some people do go to. Some people mistake entirely the purpose of a Thanksgiving proclamation and spend the time in sinful revelry.

We had a fine spirit in our services Sunday. The pastor is urging the people to much prayer and Bible reading and we believe the results are becoming evident to all. Good crowds are greeting us and many new faces were seen in our congregations. We are trying to make our church a place where visitors feel at home and in order that it may be so we urge our members to greet such and give them a hearty invitation to come again. Our S. S. and B. T. S. is steadily improving. In our B. T. S. Sun. night we had 100 or more which is encouraging indeed. New classes are to be formed in the near future to take care of the needs of the people. Will you not make a special effort to come next Sunday?—Rev. C. A. Joiner, pastor.

Baptist Church Notes

Jones Lauds Roosevelt

ple he represents.
President Roosevelt is the only President in a generation, who is in sympathy with agriculture and the people interested in agriculture should do all in their power to keep him, according to Mr. Jones.
Two things which Mr. Jones set out in his platform, 16 years ago, have been accomplished; they are: passing a National Blue Sky Law by Congress and establishing a credit system which is adapted to the terms of the farming business.
As chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the House, Mr. Jones made the motion that matters which concerned farm credit be turned over to the Agricultural Committee rather than the banking committee. This motion carried; therefore a farm credit plan befitting to the farmers has been established.
Mr. Jones stated that the money problem was not a question of soundness but of size. There must be enough money in the United States in order to take care of the credit. He stated further that this country was not going wild and that the President will control and manage the currency.
It is essential that the people know the whole truth and it is going to demand integrity and honesty, and the great industries are going to have to obey the law the same as the humblest citizens, in order that the government can overcome our economic ailments, according to Mr. Jones.
Those from Sudan attending the speaking were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dryden and daughter, Mary Jo. Rev. and Mrs. Sam A. Thomas and daughter. Mary, and Editor and Mrs. H. H. Weimhold and three children, Frances, George and Forrest.
