

ROAMING THRU RANGER WITH IRON...

By Ronald Waters

RIP GALLOWAY — keeps a fishing calendar in plain sight, above his desk, and claims it gives him the "fishing fever." He recently returned to Ranger, after making some nice catches in Colorado.

He says this week end promises to be an ideal time to fish—by the "calendar"—and the following week end won't be bad.

When those fish turn black, (indicating good fishing)—Rip gets quite excited!

Well, here is another "Mystery Cut." If you fail to know this man—it's just too bad.

You must identify him by name and occupation. And remember he is a man to know.

JACK HUTCHINSON will take over the Sports Corner—here—later this month.

Jack is an employee of Featherlite Corp., a student at Ranger College, and an avid sports fan.

I'm sure we'll all enjoy his column.

MRS. J. B. ROBINSON of San Antonio, mother of Mrs. Marcus Mathews, dropped by the other day to show us three plate glass negatives which are very old and probably quite valuable.

She also brought in a photograph of J. R. (Dutch) Ervin and the late "Peg" Gray in an "old times" car, and another photograph of the casing crew on the W. L. McCleskey, east of Ranger, taken in 1919.

We've said before—and we'll probably say it again, but we think such things make interesting museum pieces. And now these have come into our possession they will go to the first person or organization in Ranger to start a historical museum.

Others, I'm sure are willing to contribute towards such a museum. This would make a BIG tourist attraction and would also bring in outside business.

Ranger—you have a great history—what are you waiting for?

JOE DASKEVICH was an outstanding player for the Saints Tuesday night. They didn't have a half-bad team. With lots of practice they could have "beat the Sox" off the Sinners.

IF YOU CUT OUT Tuesday's football schedule in the TIMES, please note that the "A" team plays Dublin here—not there—as stated.

A LITTLE BULLDOG will go to some kind person if he will go by 110 N. Hodges and talk with Mr. or Mrs. Charles Whitefield. It's a female puppy, part English Pitt.

JOEL WHITEFIELD is missing a glove from Tuesday night's game. He believes it was exchanged, by mistake, with someone else and he doesn't know whose baseball glove he has.

Will someone help him out?

GUESS YOU missed my column Tuesday. Well—it's like this—lack of space prohibited running it. It doesn't have to run every time you know.

So this is the column intended for Tuesday's paper.

Last person to properly identify our set of MRS. MARSHALL (GWEN) JOLLY and to win a free name plate is:

Busy Week Lies Ahead At College

A busy week lies ahead at Ranger College.

School schedules will be issued next week and Rangers' football schedules released.

Preliminary work for the street paving project, now underway, may progress into the first stage.

Friday marks the end of the second semester and the summer term.

New coaches David Slaughter and Jim Puryear are expected to move to Ranger sometime during the week.

All of these plans and preparations are being made for the beginning of a new school year, Sept. 15.

Widening of the streets and grading is now taking place, and telephone and light poles are being removed for the wider streets.

Poles are being removed and replaced by Texas Electric Service Co. and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Rangerites in 1899 Photograph Are Identified

"Oh what a good time we had when the rules were suspended!" reported Mrs. L. L. Neal, in identifying people in the 1899 photograph of the old, two-story school building that ran in Thursday's Times.

Mrs. Neal recalled many Ranger people in the photograph. The building had four rooms, with intermediate student going to classes down-stairs, and the upper grades up-stairs.

Students came from all over the county to attend classes under Joe Horton, who was principal at the time. Also pictured is J. E. Temple, who became co-principal in 1902.

Student exams were given once a month and rules stated that students could have no company, Christmas parties and programs, a long with a few dances, furnished the students with forms of recreation.

Blackboards would raise to let student see the stage, recalls Mrs. Neal.

Plans Progress For Pageant

Plans are progressing for the Cisco Pageant commemorating the 100th anniversary of Eastland county. The event will be staged Friday and Saturday night, Aug. 29-30 at Lake Cisco Pool.

Talent is being recruited for the program, which will include a water ballet, historical scenes, and musical entertainment.

A permanent stage will be built on the pool by the sponsors—the American Legion Post, operators of the pool and park concessions. It will be a concrete slab, 15 feet wide and 25 feet long.

Tickets for the pageant will go on sale next week.

bridges are planned for the 3.7 miles of highway, according to an announcement from Gordon Smith, resident engineer.

Smith said the job would run over one million dollars, and would rank as one of the largest in the county. According to plans, one of the interchanges will be 200 feet long and the other 190 feet. They will be located overpassing State Highway 16 and the "Old Taylor Road" between Starns and Deadman.

A four-lane asphalt and concrete expressway, with frontage roads on sections and two grade separations, will be included in the project.

The job is expected to require 271 working days about 200,000 yards of base material a day, and 250,000 yards of earth work (grader), Smith said.

Building of the highway will probably start in July of 1960. The program is part of a network of interstate routes over the nation, financed by the Federal Government and states through which the highways are routed.

Former CCC Workers Plan Annual Reunion

Former members of CCC Co. 849 and their families will hold their fourth annual reunion Sunday, August 31, at Brownwood State Park, once headquarters for this group.

Ira "Fro" Guillemin, program chairman of the group, said the "Group Hall," located in the Park, has been rented and a basket lunch will be served. Every one is asked to bring enough food for their own family. There will be a business meeting immediately following lunch.

Former members of CCC Co. 849 met for the first time in 1955 elected officers and voted to make the reunion an annual affair. Last year there were about 40 ex-members present.

Memories of Civilian Conservation Corps was a public works program established during the depression in the early 1930's. In 1940 there were over 1500 camps and over 200 men per camp. CCC Co. 849 was organized in Ardmore, Okla. It moved to the Grand Canyon in Arizona, then in 1936 it moved to Tensep, Wyoming then in the fall of 1936 it moved to Lake Brownwood State Park where it remained till April 1942.

County School Board Announces Six Appointments

Six persons have been secured by the Eastland County School Board to work with county schools during the coming year. Dr. P. M. Rykendall, Board chairman, announced today.

Upon the recommendation of H. R. (Pop) Garrett, county school superintendent, the following have been hired: Mrs. Flarra Caton, assistant superintendent; James L. Hughes, supervisor; O. L. Smeay, supervisor; Mrs. Dahlia D. Steele, librarian; Royal Jack White, itinerant teacher; and Mrs. J. B. Arther, school nurse.

Absentee Voting To End Tuesday In 2nd Primary

Some 40 persons have voted in the second Democratic primary, and absentee voting will end Tuesday.

Little interest in the run-off election has been shown in Eastland County, except in Cisco and Gorman, where there are run-off races for county commissioner posts. Most of the interest seems to be in Cisco, where the race between Clifford R. Phippen and Carl Lamb for the Precinct 4 seat is termed a toss-up. The two men gained run-off berths in a six-man race in the first primary. They seek the position now held by J. E. McCandless, who did not seek reelection.

In Precinct 2, B. M. Bennett, the incumbent, is opposed by A. M. Thurman. Bennett lacked just two votes having a clear majority over two opponents in the first primary.

Child Labor Provisions Pointed Out for Employers

Restrictions For Teenagers Are Listed

Employers who hire teenagers this fall for full or part-time work were reminded today about the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. At the same time William J. Rogers of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division pointed out that youngsters may be lawfully hired for a variety of jobs.

"Boys and girls 16 years of age and over can work under the Fair Labor Standards Act in any job—factories, wholesale houses, communications or other industries—except those which have been declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor," he said.

Thirteen hazardous occupations orders have been issued which prohibit the employment of minors under 18 years of age. The prohibited jobs include work as a motor vehicle driver or a driver's helpers, elevator operator, operator of certain power-driven machinery, and most jobs in logging and sawmilling.

"Although the law prohibits the employment of children under 14, the 14- or 15-year-old may be lawfully employed in office and sales work, fruit and vegetable packing sheds, and in a few other jobs—excluding work in manufacturing, mining, processing or similar jobs," he added.

"It must be remembered, however, that certain restrictions apply during school hours for this age group. Youngsters of 14 and 15 may work only outside of school hours and a maximum of three hours on any school day. All work must also be performed between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m."

With public school registration set in less than two weeks, the Department of Labor issued regulations concerning the use of child labor during the school year.

Ranger's businessmen and others who use part-time child labor this fall will be interested in the provisions, stated here.

Film Seen On Explorers

Morris George, chairman of the Explorer Post committee, presented a program of Exploring, using a strip film, before the Lions Club Thursday noon.

George explained the film had been used here in connection with the Explorer training sessions, held earlier. He pointed out the four phases of Explorer activities. These were listed as vocational, social, out door, and service.

Program planning is basic to making these activities successful, George said.

The four phases of activities were illustrated in the film.

Ranger's Girl Are Widely Known

Ranger may be getting quite famous for its beautiful girls, and particularly the Rangemans, according to a card received here from the Tommy Gue's, now vacationing in Colorado.

The card states: "Just had to pass this along. When people up here ask where we are from they say—'The Ranger that has all the beautiful girls—the Rangemans.'"

Friday.

Children Must Be 16 Years Old For Farm Work

"An employer can protect himself from unintentional violation of the Act if he obtains and keeps on file an age certificate showing the minor to be old enough for the job in which he is employed. In Texas, such certificates can be obtained as a public service from the Texas Employment Commission."

The child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act apply to employment in interstate or foreign commerce on the production of goods for such commerce. There are a few exemptions from these provisions, however.

Rogers points out that the child labor provisions of the Act do not apply to actors or television performers or to children engaged as newspaper carriers. Nor does the Federal law cover such work as baby sitting, caddyding, and working at the fountain of the local drug store. The law also exempts children working for their parents in their parents' own business as long as the work is not mining or manufacturing, or has not been declared hazardous.

He added that where State and Federal child labor standards differ, the higher standards must be observed. Additional information concerning the application of the child labor provisions of the Act may be obtained from the Wage and Hour Division's regional office at 1114 Commerce in Dallas.

MAN HELD HERE

A Louisiana man was arrested here Thursday at 1:55 a.m. and charged with being drunk. He was released from city jail Friday.

Brother of Local Man Is Killed On Highway Job

A twenty-two year old Eastland man died while being rushed to a Fort Worth hospital Friday, after he was struck in the head by a rock in a dynamite mishap near Gorman.

Dead is Paul Reed, a resident of Eastland for 19 years. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Reed, 608 S. Halbrun, Eastland.

Reed, an employee of Norge Construction Co., on the highway construction job between Gorman and Duster took shelter under machinery about 500 yards from where a rock abutment was being blasted. Other workmen, who took shelter under the same machinery, were uninjured.

Fellow workers said Reed apparently raised his head too soon and was struck by a large flying rock.

The injured man was rushed to a Gorman Hospital and almost immediately transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Fort Worth hospital.

Workmen at the scene said that the blacksmith killed Reed was to have been the last charge of the day.

Reed was born March 6, 1936, in New Albany, Miss. He moved to Eastland with his parents in 1939.

Unmarried Mr. Reed is survived by his parents; two sisters, Mrs. Clarence McCullough of Morton Valley and Mrs. Leroy McCullough of Breckenridge; Three brothers Wendell of Ranger, Stanley of Eastland, and Lawrence of U. S. Navy in Norfolk, Va.

Funeral services are pending. The body was returned to Hamner Funeral Home in Eastland.

TEA Disaster Program To Go Into Effect

Austin, Texas—Local civil defense personnel will participate in a disaster feeding program formulated by the Texas Education Agency, it was announced by William L. McGill, state defense coordinator.

Fact sheets on the feeding will be distributed to approximately 3,000 Texas schools taking part in the federal-state school lunch program. During the school year these lunchrooms daily feed more than 500,000 students.

In time of wartime emergency, the feeding will be under the direction of civil defense personnel, McGill said. Use of the building's lunchrooms will be cleared with the local board of education or school superintendent.

Under the TEA program, lunchroom staffs will assist civil defense workers in operation. If a particular lunchroom is not being used for emergency feeding, the training staff will report to the nearest operating center as volunteers.

In the case of a natural disaster which would necessitate activating a mass feeding center, the American Red Cross will be in charge. Mr. Charles M. Hicks, chief consultant of the school lunch service of the Texas Education Agency, is urging lunchroom staffs to become acquainted with the local civil defense director and the Red Cross disaster chairman.

The fact sheet, which is to be posted in school kitchens, will bear the names of civil defense and Red Cross officials, and lunch room staff members who are to be contacted when emergency dictates that the program is to be put into effect.

It's an old American Custom—
... for people to lose things including their eye glasses and title papers. We later find our glasses on our noses but we seldom, if ever, find our abstracts. There is really no excuse for losing anything we have if we will be careful. Right now we are in the process of losing our Freedom, and will if we don't arouse ourselves and fight. We can make you another abstract if you lose yours, but if you lose your Freedom it's gone forever. Freedom has a high price!

Make Macaroon Medleys!

Luscious desserts of gourmet origin are these crunchy flaked coconut macaroons nesting in a fruity mixture. Easy to make, too, using this recipe that is "cake and dessert" all in one, but with the added advantage of being divided. In other words, the flaky coconut macaroons are perfect as an accompaniment for ice cream . . . while the delicious fruit mixture may be used on cake or a hot cottage pudding. But why bother with other suggestions when the combination given here is so perfect in itself!

3 cups Angel Flake Coconut
2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups (3-pound 1-ounce can) applesauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup sliced fresh strawberries
1 teaspoon almond extract

Combine coconut, condensed milk, and vanilla, mixing well. Drop by heaping tablespoonful on brown paper which has been placed on a baking sheet. Shape into 2-1/2-inch rings. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 17 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from paper at once.

Mix together applesauce, lemon juice, strawberries, and almond extract. Spoon about 1/4 cup filling into each serving dish, top each with a baked macaroon ring, and garnish with additional strawberries, if desired. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Lake Spraying Successful

Austin, August—Recent treatment of Possum Kingdom Lake to kill gizzard shad is proving successful with reports of improved fishing, according to the Director of Inland Fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

The 16, 500-acre lake was treated August 6 by spraying a synergized rotenone solution from airplanes. This is the first attempt ever made to spray more than 99 per cent of a lake by air application, and the largest volume of water ever treated for a fish kill.

Shoreline counts were made after the spraying operation to determine the number of fish affected. On the basis of preliminary counts, hurried calculations indicate that approximately 40 million gizzard and threadfin shad were killed in the treatment. This figure does not take into account the shad eaten by game fish or by small animals along the shore. Other species of fish were found, but spot checks seem to hold their numbers to the original estimate of one-half of one per cent of the total.

Random shoreline samples were taken at different parts of the lake. Along measured 100-foot sections, Commission biologists found as few as 4 and as many as

With the opening of schools close at hand in Texas, farmers were reminded today that the Fair Labor Standards Act prohibits the employment of children under 16 years of age on farms during school hours.

The reminder was issued in Dallas by Regional Director William J. Rogers of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, the agency which administers the law.

"The Federal child-labor law is designed to keep children under 16 off the farm and thereby permit them to continue their schooling," Mr. Rogers said. He pointed out that the law applies to both local youngsters and children of migratory workers.

The only exception to the law, he said, is for the farmer's own child working on his parents' farm.

"Children under 16 may lawfully work on farms before and after school hours and on week-ends or holidays," he said, "but stiff penalties for willful violations can make the employment of children during school hours expensive."

Rogers also stated the Farmers can protect themselves from unintentional violation by requiring an age certificate from youngsters to make sure they are old enough for the job. In Texas, these certificates may be obtained as a public service from the Texas Employment Commission.

84,900 shad. In some sections no fish were found, but this occurred mainly where sheer rocks cliffs extended into the water.

By ridding the lake of this many shad the game fish food supply has been reduced, making for better fishing over the whole lake, the Director said. Proof of this began showing up as early as Friday morning after the Wednesday spraying when fishermen brought in full strings of large crappie and bass.
