"Cats" May Outfight "Dogs" In Skirmish

By Ronald Waters

Those Ranger Bulldogs will be after their second win of the season when they travel out of town for the third time to take on the DeLeon Bearcats next Friday night in DeLeon.

They may be surprised to find that the "Cats" can out fight the "Dogs." And certainly they'd be surprised if they're expecting an easy victory.

DeLeon boasts two wins for the season, taking Gorman and Cross Plains, but losing to Eastland last week 8-0. Ranger should be rated as a slight favorite in the game, but over confidence is sure to lose the game for the locals.

Ranger College Bulldogs will clash with the Navarro Junior College Bulldogs of Corsicana in their first home game of the season at Bulldog Stadium Saturday night at 8.

The game will also open conference play for both teams and inaugurate the Rangers first game in the Texas Junior College Athletic Conference (which they joined this spring).

The Rangers will go into the game with a sharpened offense for the hard-hitting and fast moving Bulldogs. Following hard work outs all this week, the Rangers should be ready for a game that promises to be full of excitement and good ball playing.

Navarro has had only six points scored against them this season, having previously downed Connors A & M of Oklahoma and Victoria.

They will be a tough team to beat, strong on defense, said Rangers Coach David Slaughter who scouted the Bulldogs in their game Saturday night with Connors A & M. Assistant Coach Jim Puryear, also scouted the game.

On defense, the Rangers are expected to come up with a five and six-man line (using two line backers). On offense, they will have seven men on the line, sticking to the T formations.

Slaughter said, "I guarantee one thing. We're going to have to play hard ball to win. They're undefeated and they're going to come in here wanting to play... that's the thing we're going to have to battle."

Ranger College will be seeking its second win of the season, having previously downed the Paris Dragons. Last week, they fell to the top-rated team in the North by a 27-0 count. In both games, they appeared to be stronger on defense, than offense.

Doug Roark, guard from Quannah, will be on the starting line-up, in Team No. 1, for the first time. Six other changes in the lineup for Team No. 2 were announced this week. On both teams, the Rangers will display a heavy line and an impressive backfield. If they can get the two working together in precision, they should be able to surprise the Bulldogs.

With lots of spirit and plenty of desire to win, the Rangers will be in there fighting hard Saturday night. And a good game is bound to develop.

Out of the game with injuries will be Jim Clark of Newcastle, who was injured in workouts earlier. Clark will be out of the Rangers lineup indefinitely. Injured in workouts were: Jerry Blakeley, fullback, who is expected to play Saturday night; Bill Jarrard, center and Jimmy Knickerbocker—who will probably play.

Ranger fans can expect to see action galore in the conference opener this Saturday.

ROAMING THRU RANGER WITH RON...

By Ronald Waters

THIS TIME I'm going to stick with the local teams—for the first time—all the way, in my weekly predictions. I'll take the Ranger Bulldogs over the DeLeon Bearcats and the Navarro College Bulldogs. (With so many Bulldogs fighting, it may get a little confusing.)

The Bulldogs seem a cinch to down the DeLeon team if—and this is a big if—they don't get over confident and do make up their minds to play a hard game. If they want to win it—they will, by at least 14 points.

The Rangers play their first home game here against a tough team from Corsicana. The Navarro Bulldogs whipped Connors A & M of Oklahoma last week 13-0 and beat the Victoria Junior College bunch 7-6 the week before.

I'll pick the Rangers by 14 points, looking forward to seeing "Buzz" Boynton, Dick Maxwell, Wylie Wyman, Jerry Blakeley, Jerry Cantrell and "Buttons" Crawford in action.

Puppies Meet Cisco Team Tonight at 7:30

Ranger Junior High School Puppies are ready to romp into action against the Cisco Midget "B" team (Junior high) this Thursday night at 7:30 in Bulldog Stadium.

It will be the first game for the Puppies, coached by Frank Bevers in his first year here. Bevers is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, who attended Mineral Wells High School earlier and played football for both schools.

No admission will be charged for the game, according to an announcement from Charlie Garrett, principal, however fans will have a chance to make donations at the gate.

Bevers believes that his small team will play the Cisco outfit a good game if they really get out there and hustle. They have been coached in football fundamentals, learning several plays since the beginning of school.

Although the Puppies are small in size, with an average weight of about 110 pounds per player, they have a promising backfield. Bevers said he thought they were good prospects for the Bulldogs.

Only six points had been scored against the Bearcats before they tangled with the Eastland Mavericks. Last year, the Bulldogs blasted the Bearcats to the tune of 33-0.

When the whistle blows on the field, Ranger starters will hold a slight weight advantage on the line. Bulldogs outweigh the Cats by a total of 45 pounds in the backfield.

Total weight of the Bulldog starters is 1,785 pounds, or an average of 162 pounds per man. Total weight of the Bearcats is 1,760 pounds for the starters, or an average of 160 pounds per man.

In all—the Bulldogs outweigh the Cats 25 pounds.

By combined weights, the Bulldogs will outweigh the ends by five pounds; the quarterback by 15 pounds (up against light-weight Jerry West, a 145-pounder); the halfbacks by 10 pounds; and the fullback by 20 pounds. The local team will be outweighed 10 pounds by the tackles; and 20 pounds by the guards.

DeLeon should be well prepared for the Bulldogs because they scouted the game here with the Eagles, along with Winters.

A passing attack is expected to develop from the Bulldogs, who suddenly discovered this as a means of picking up valuable yardage last Friday. They completed 11 of 16 passes in their game with the Diamond Hill Eagles to pick up 166 yards and one touchdown.

They lost the game to the Eagles due to injuries and the inability to make the extra points.

Again, the Bulldogs will march into action crippled with injuries. Jake Basham, fullback, is the only starter out with an injured knee. Also out of the game will be Alex Eakin, guard, with an injured arm; "Chuck" Garrett, center, with a hurt knee; and Dean Richey, end, with a sprained ankle. Billy Johnson, guard, who was out of the last game, is expected to play against the Bearcats.

Head Coach Harold Barrett said, "It sure will be nice to win one." If the Bulldogs get ready to play a real hard game all the way he said he thought they'd win. The desire to win this game is necessary, Barrett added.

If the Bulldogs do launch a passing attack (and there is a possibility that they may play on the ground) they will need to beware of pass interceptions, which also hurt them last week.

DeLeon runs from a straight T and a split T, while the Bulldogs stick to the straight T, sometimes

Search Continues For Missing Frankell Woman

An organized search for a missing 40-year-old Frankell woman went into the third day, today, with reports indicating that no trace of her has yet been discovered.

No clues or foot prints have yet been uncovered, in the vast search, that might indicate the whereabouts of the woman.

Missing since Monday morning, Neva Langford (Johnson), daughter of Hemp Langford, was last seen wearing a dark cotton house dress. She lives with her father and stepmother about one mile south of Frankell.

Close to 100 people combed the area near Necessity and Frankell Wednesday in an effort to trace the woman. At the same time, two helicopters and two light planes from Walters Air Force Base at Mineral Wells aided in the search. Reports early this morning indicated that the helicopters would continue flying over the area through today.

Police officers from Ranger have been among a good number of area people who have been on the scene. Assistant Chief of Police Don Butler and Charlie Loubell have been over the search area. Isabel, who went to the area last night with Ed Willingham of Ranger, reported that only a few people in cars were continuing the search at that time.

Other reports have indicated that if the woman is not found soon, it is probable that she could die from exposure. From all indications, the woman has completely disappeared without leaving a trace.

She was first reported missing Monday morning, and friends and relatives searched for her that night when she failed to return to the house. She was last seen on the James T. McCleskey Ranch, near her home, about two and one-half miles south of Frankell.

First organized search began Tuesday afternoon, when the Ranger National Guard unit and the Ranger Volunteer Fire Dept. were called. Guardsmen left for the search area at 1 p.m. accompanied by several high school boys, and the firemen left about 5 p.m.

Wednesday morning radio reports from the Ranger Police Station indicated that Sheriff's posse from Eastland and Stephens County had joined in the search on horseback. J. B. Williams, Eastland County Sheriff, was leading his posse of searchers in the hunt and Sheriff Chase Booth of Stephens County was with another group of Breckenridge volunteers.

Tuesday night, there were about 40 volunteers in the area, including people from the Frankell and Necessity Communities. By Wednesday noon this number had grown considerably.

College Names Three Players Of The Week

The Rangers of Ranger College are selecting their "Player of the Week" during the football season. The boys are voting on the outstanding players on Monday of each week, basing their choice on performance in the game on the preceding Saturday.

The first "Player of the Week," chosen after the Paris game on Sept. 13, was James Stanford, a guard, whose number is 20. Stanford is a freshman student from Breckenridge High School, where he participated in football. His major is industrial arts, and he plans to coach. His hobbies are hunting and sports of various kinds.

As there was a tie in the vote for the outstanding player this week, the Rangers named two boys as "Players of the Week" this week.

George Boynton, back from Quannah, and James Pope, end from Rochester.

Boynton earned two letters in football, two in basketball, two in baseball and one in track in Quannah High School. In 1957 as a member of the Rangers, he received "honorable mention" as a halfback in the Pioneer Conference, and was voted the Most Valuable Ranger Letterman of the year 1957. His major is business administration, and he plans to coach.

Pope, whose major is physical education also wants to coach. He won four letters in football, one in baseball and three in basketball at Rochester High School. During his high school athletic career, he was named all-district end, all-area fullback and best all-round letterman. His hobbies are hunting and fishing and other types of sports.

Students May Reenter Training

College students who stopped training under the Korean GI Bill can re-enter the program, if they have been out of training less than 12 months since the cut-off date and if the training was stopped for a valid reason—according to a release from Ranger College.

The release from the Regional Office in Dallas of the Veterans Administration, considers four reasons valid. These are listed as follows:

1. Immediate family or financial obligations beyond control which required suspending training to obtain employment.
2. Student prevented from continuing training because of personal or family illness or because of a death in the immediate family.
3. The allowable 12-month period during which training can be suspended without Veterans Administration approval ended during a vacation, recess, or other period during which it was not possible to re-enter school.
4. Student was required to suspend training because of unavoidable conditions arising in connection with employment.

SPORTS CORNER

By DRAYTON HEADEN

That Cameron bunch had a more precise team, and they were just a little bit more progressed than we were. Had we played them later on in the year, I think we probably would have beat them. However, as things turned out, I think we played them a good ball game.

None of the staff or any of the squad feel bad about the game.

This week we have stepped up our work-outs preparing for the game Saturday night with Navarro.

I think we will definitely have an advantage due to the fact we play them here. Traveling always seems to take a lot out of a ball club.

Annual Staff Meets With Representative

By Mike Herrington

Bob Saunders, yearbook representative of the Taylor Publishing Co. of Dallas, met with the '59 Bulldog annual staff Tuesday night at the high school to give instructions and to display materials.

Chosen as paper for the new yearbooks was a white satin linen finish. Prospective covers were presented and discussed, but a definite decision has not been reached.

Saunders displayed examples and instructed the staff on new methods. The usage of different manual aids was also explained. Mrs. Helen Haggaman, sponsor, and the staff are enthusiastic about the prospects for the year.

Reports show that committees for ads have proven successful, with both Ranger and Eastland merchants being most co-operative.

Before the meeting an informal meal was served to the staff, sponsor, Saunders and Principal Charles Garrett.

Six Orchards to Be Inspected On Pecan Tour

A large crowd is expected on the third annual pecan tour of the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association Monday, Sept. 29 when six orchards will be inspected, according to officials planning the affair.

Four orchards will be visited before noon. They are the J. W. Sitton orchard at Seranton, the R. H. (Pete) Dunning and the Lee Liska orchards at Nimrod, and the J. B. Inabest orchard at Pioneer.

A short program and business session will follow the lunch at Studier cafe in Rising Star. Several committees are to be appointed by Oscar Schaefer of Cook, president of the county organization, to develop plans for the county pecan show to be held in December.

During the afternoon tour the J. F. Patrick orchard near Rising Star and the young orchard of Earl Conner near Flatwoods will be inspected. Conner is the district attorney of Eastland County and has 23 acres of young trees.

A fair to a good pecanshell peen crop is expected to be harvested from the planted orchards on the county.

I think the Rangers have been very fortunate—no injury wise—with only one injury to speak of in the Cameron game. Jerry Blakeley received severe bruise on his hip bone, but he'll be ready to go Saturday night. This week we had two injuries (Continued on Page Five)

A DISAPPEARING SCENE—Derricks such as these are in the twilight of a fabulous career. In the past derricks were left at well locations for use if it was necessary to work over the well in the future. Now a portable workover rig is in general use. This derrick, near Big Spring, Texas, will probably be torn down as will many others like it as the industry moves ahead into another year of progress.

TALES OF LOST TREASURES IN AND AROUND EASTLAND COUNTY

By ATLAS WILSON
In the early 1800's Juan Manuel, ruthless Mexican bandit and merciless gunman, robbed, burned, and murdered his way across Central Texas wantonly. With his band of cohorts he wrought havoc everywhere he went. To the pioneers moving westward he was feared as much, if not more perhaps than the dreaded Comanche Indians themselves.
Manuel was born in what is now El Macho, state of Coahuila, Mexico in 1793. By the time he was nineteen he had formed his own band of thieves and in two years time had reached the height of his inimitable deeds.

Internal Revenue Service
TAX-MAN
SAM SEZ:

Widows and working wives may be entitled to a $600 child care expense income tax deduction if their child is under the age of 12. This deduction is also available for other dependents who are mentally or physically incapacitated where the child care expense is for the purpose of enabling the tax payer to be gainfully employed.

A working wife must meet several limitations in order to qualify. Widows are eligible in some cases. If you have child care expense in your family, a check of the tax instructions on these expenses and a careful record of your expenses may be in order.

PRESCRIPTION FOR PLEASURE
The telephone by your side can be pretty good medicine—all by itself.
It's one of the best cures for loneliness. I'm thinking, especially, of those long distance calls to talk to loved ones and old friends away from home.
And how about those easy-going conversations women enjoy during the day? When you're tired of looking at the ironing board, or when the mop starts to get a little heavy, a short "telephone break"—just a few minutes chat with a friend or neighbor—really brings you back smiling.
Your telephone is more than just a convenience. There's plenty of pleasure and relaxation built into it, too. So use it as often as the mood strikes you. That's what it's there for.

UP-TO-DATE IDEA ABOUT TELEPHONES
Where is the telephone in your home? Is it where you can always reach it easily when it rings—or when you want to make a call?
Or is it in a central hall or in the middle of the house—not really close to any place where members of your family are when they want to use it?
Families with modern telephone service like to have phones in color in the kitchen, living room, and bedrooms. With your home equipped with handy extension telephones, you can "reach" rather than "run" for the phone. Why not order more telephones for your home today? You'll find the cost of extensions will add very little to what you now pay, but will add a great deal to your comfort and convenience.

"Especially For You"

Bread In A Breeze!

"Coconut raised bread" is so good! Make it often; it's easy to make... surprisingly, any "raised" bread is! To help beginners: (1) Follow recipe exactly—no variations! (2) Turn out on floured board when dough begins to leave sides of bowl. (3) To knead: fold dough over toward you. Then press dough down and away from you with heels of hands. Turn dough around a bit and repeat "kneading" until dough is smooth, elastic and non-sticky. You will be well repaid by beaming faces round your table—when you bake your own bread!

Coconut Bread

- 3/4 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup hot water
1 package dry yeast
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups tender-thin flaked coconut
3/4 cup raisins
4 egg yolks
4 cups sifted flour (about)

Melt butter in hot water; then cool to lukewarm. Add yeast and stir until dissolved; then add sugar, salt, coconut and raisins; mix well. Stir in egg yolks. Add flour to make a dough which can be handled easily. Turn out on floured board and knead until smooth. Place dough in greased bowl and brush surface with melted shortening; cover with cloth and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Turn out on floured board and knead again. Shape into 2 loaves and place in two greased 8x4x3-inch pans. Brush with melted shortening, cover, and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 60 minutes, or until done. Note: About 5 hours are required to make this bread.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

New York Jottings:
Texas are sometimes surprising, remarkable in the big town. For instance, at a cafeteria across the street from Madison Square Garden, oatmeal with milk is 20 cents.
Along the sidewalks are litter baskets. Intended to keep the streets free of trash, these baskets also serve as the source of free reading material. You will see, every now and then, a man salvaging a discarded newspaper.

The lobbies of the Astor, the Algonquin and several other hotels did not look especially hospitable—the chairs must have been out for re-upholstering; but the Piccadilly presented a small jewel-like lobby with, to one side and up a few steps, the parlor; it was a scene of subdued splendor, silver-encrusted beams, paneling in reddish wood, three paintings in the Gainsborough tradition.
An old-time hearse, horse-drawn, stood in front of a movie

Howdy, Fardner, Welcome to the Fair

"Big Tex," the towering 52-foot cowboy statue who rules as the symbol of the great State Fair of Texas, is ready to welcome some two-and-a-half million visitors to the giant exposition in Dallas, October 4 through 19.

For the Men Who Succeed—

... and for those who will some day succeed them, our suggestion is that they invest part of their earnings in real estate. Wise investments in real properties have yielded fortunes to many people. And those who succeed in this venture never gamble on the title. They buy only quality abstracts made by those who have themselves invested wisely—in their title plant—in their personnel—and in their responsibility to the public.

house. Along the street strolled a man in a long dark cloak accompanied by a brunette in full black dress that almost swept the sidewalk. Their eyes were sinister. The attraction at the movie house? "The Bride of Dracula."
"Tony Canzoneri's Bar"—and the sign brought back memories of the once-great boxer—light-weight champion of the world, wasn't he?
And there is Mickey Walker's Bar. "The toy bulldog", he was called and he held the welter and middle-weight titles. He used to fight Harry Greb on even terms—and Greb once defeated Gene Tunney. Legend has it that both Walker and Greb trained in unorthodox fashion and that after they had fought each other, they met that same night in a bar, had an argument as to who had won, went into the alley and resumed the fight where they had left off.
And Jack Dempsey's Cafe—the Manassa Mauler, still "the Champ".
Touches of Texas: Spindletop Cafe, with an oil derrick painted on the door; and opposite Madison Square Garden, a cowboy shop.
Quaint expression: A waitress turning in an order for a hamburger plain called, "Hamburger! Cancel the mustard!"
And a waiter with the features of a bar-room bouncer and a growling voice said, when this visitor ordered a sirloin, "It's big—but it's tough; I'd rather bring you the filet mignon." So I took that.
Seeing tiny turtles with painted backs for sale at several stands made me wonder what happens to all these creatures—for you see them on sale as souvenirs in every city. And can you think of a more useless gift?
A bellboy, confronted by five suitcases, sized up the situation, then grasped the handles of two in his left hand and, after much groping, succeeded in grasping all three handles in his right hand and lifted all five. I broke into spontaneous applause.

JIVE WITH JEAN

By Jean Getts

YES, it's me, and I'm back to jive!
Let me look deep into my crystal ball and see what is jiving in Ranger...
Oh! I see that Kay Hopper has caused some poor boys to have a wreck. Be more careful, Kay.
I see Teddy Neeley and Jimmy Swinney ran into each other. No one was hurt, thank goodness, and it really wasn't serious.
Tommy—next time you decide to hit something—why not hit something your own size? Poor Jerry and Barbara got the bad end of it.
I'm sure everyone enjoyed the football game.
Did you see the band? They did a nice job Friday night. First they formed a "R" then the lights went out, and little green lights appeared forming the "R". And then they marched off playing the school song.
The mud sure didn't stop the cheerleaders from yelling.
Everyone should have seen the Sub Debs get initiated. The girls had to sit on the street corner and sing. Also they had to sit on the turning post in the middle of the street. Melaine Newman sure looked funny when the bus came by and she had to wave at it.
Mr. Garrett reports: "Driving around the school is better this year than last year."
Let's all attend the pep rally. Please give the cheerleaders, band and majorettes plenty of room.

We have a little orphan in Ranger now. Linda Black is left all alone. Her mother is in Maryland visiting her son and daughter-in-law.
Hope to see everyone at the ballgame!
