

Game of Rivals Set With Cisco JC Tonight
Loboes Over-Run Ranger Bulldogs 36-7

SOARING THRU RANGER WITH IRON... By Ronald Waters

ODDS AND ENDS - Around about town you can find lots of wits. A wit, as you know, is a person who is "sharp", clever, of unusual mental powers - usually capable of being amusing.

Rev. Lively Brown can be witty about lay-away plans... Calvin Lipkin has a "dry" sort of wit that is effective... Dr. Price Ashton has a perpetual winning wit... Edward Brown likes to exercise his wit on everyone - including his stock boy... Dr. W. P. Watkins may not be a great wit but he certainly has a smile at all times.

ALTHO' written before the game, we thought it might be of interest to pass on the following items "stolen" from The Cisco Press...

MORE new faces about town! This is a sure sign that Ranger is growing. Many people have been brought in here for construction work on Interstate 20 which is progressing very fast.

STOCK MARKET REPORTS

Good ranges and plentiful grass plus a hesitancy on the part of many feeders to pay the asking price for feeder calves have, for the second year in a row, delayed the movement of beef cattle into feedlots, reports A. B. Wooten, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of College Station.

Last year prices of feeder cattle and calves started upward in November and by late March had advanced $6.00 or more per 100 pounds from their October level. A similar increase points out Wooten, is not likely this year. The bumper crops of feed grains has upped the demand for feeder calves, but feeder prices are now squeezing the price margin in feeding, adds Wooten.

The economist believes the continued high demand for beef will hold through 1959 since business activity has increased. Per capita supplies, however, may drop below those for 1958. Beef, he adds, will be competing against larger supplies of pork and poultry, and the general level of cattle prices in 1959 is likely to remain near the 1958 level.

Wooten says swine producers have been stepping up their marketing in order to beat an expected fall price drop and that the earlier movements had somewhat cushioned the price decline. Prices, however, have dropped more than $4.00 per hundred from the mid-summer high.

The latest pig crop report indicates that the number of sows farrowing this fall will be 17 percent higher than for a year ago. When this "hog parade" starts to market next year, Wooten says a sharp price decline is almost a certainty.

County Farmers Get Shipment of Fish

(Editor's Note: The following article was prepared by members of the SCS Eastland Work Unit.)

A live shipment of fish for stocking farm and ranch ponds was received by cooperators of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District at Cisco and Eastland, Friday, Oct. 17.

There were 23 farm ponds stocked with fish at this time. This makes two orders of fish that have been received this year.

Fish are furnished to cooperators in the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District by the Fish and Wildlife Service from the Federal Fish hatchery at Burnet. Land owners and Soil Conservation Service technicians make site selections for the above ponds.

When these ponds are properly stocked and fertilized they will support plenty of fishing for all the family, and there should be no restrictions to fishing as to seasons or size of fish removed. Removal of both small and large fish gives the remaining fish more food for growth. To do a good job of fertilizing, a balanced fertilizer is the best, such as 8-8-2 or 8-8-8. Usually about 500 pounds of fertilizer should do for a year for each one half surface acre of water in pond.

Fertilizer should be applied at the rate of 30 pounds per application. The average pond needs fertilizing every month to six weeks. The pond should be checked with a testing stick or hand. If the white disc or hand can not be seen at 12 inches depth, pond is adequately fertilized. If hand or disc can be seen at 18 inches depth pond is ready for another fertilization.

Fertilizer may be poured in water less than 4 inches deep from boat or broad cast by hand from bank on small ponds. Fertilization should start in February and continue through November.

The following land owners are now in process of constructing ponds on their grass land: Ray Williams, E. E. Norris and Richard Kinsler of the Carbon area. Lee Yeager, Jack Pence and Martin Pryor of Cisco. Elmer Gailey, M. L. Woods and V. B. Gunther of the Ranger area.

E. J. Gilbert of Ranger and W. H. Cooper of Eastland have recently completed terrace systems on their crop lands. Casey Measell, located east of Eastland, is now in process of terracing his cropland.

Many land owners already have fine cover crops on their land and many others are still busy planting. Prospects for winter grazing are excellent on these croplands.

Number Nine On The Ballot (SJR 3)—Authorizes the Legislature to create a Hospital District commensurate with the incorporated limits to the City of Amarillo, Texas and a county wide Hospital District in Wichita County, Texas, and Hospital Districts in Jefferson County, Texas.

Speakers at the annual banquet on the evening of Nov. 11 will be Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burney, Corpus Christi, who will relate some of their experiences on a trip behind the Iron Curtain. Burney is a distinguished Corpus Christi lawyer. The annual dance will follow the banquet.

The final and most important session will begin at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 12, in Exposition Hall when the business session is called to order. After a report by Adopted resolutions dealing with state level issues become the policy of the Texas Farm Bureau for the ensuing year. Approved resolutions dealing with national matters become the recommendations to the AFBF convention Dec. 7-11 in Boston.

A recognition program honoring counties for outstanding achievements in public relations, membership acquisition and service to member activities will be that morning. Following will be the annual report by the secretary-treasurer and the annual message by the president.

Monday afternoon will be devoted to commodity and special conferences and district caucuses which will be held in various downtown hotels. The following conferences are scheduled: Livestock, Field Crops, Poultry, Dairy, Natural Resources, Research, Rural Roads, Education-Welfare-Safety, and Young People.

The two-year terms of directors from districts 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 will be expiring this year, and nominations for these positions will be made at the district caucuses affected. Election of directors will be at the business session on the final day of the convention. By R. R. TULEY Jr., District Manager

In the first two articles of this series I outlined the most important changes in the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program brought about by the 1958 amendments to the security law. Today, I shall discuss in more detail changes in the law as they affect the dependents of retired, disabled, or deceased insured working people.

I feel that the most important changes in this field are those relating to the families of workers who have become too disabled for further substantial gainful work, and to dependent parents of workers who have died.

The first of these important amendments concerns families of insured workers who are no longer able to do substantial gainful work. While monthly benefits payments to qualify disabled workers have been made beginning with July 1957, until now, no payments were possible to their families. Payments to them could not be made until the disabled breadwinner reached age 65 or died before that time.

We of the social security office have had occasion to observe many cases of hardships resulting from this provision in the old law. The disability benefit payments to the disabled worker offset, in part his loss of earnings from work, but they did not provide adequate protection for his dependent family. The medical expenses incurred through disability are a major financial problem for most of these families. Furthermore, the children are more dependent than are the children of retired workers. It is usually necessary that the mother remain at home and not attempt to supplement the family income. In many cases care required by the disabled person makes it impossible for his wife to work outside the home.

Insurance protection in the form of monthly benefits is now provided the disabled person's children under 18 and any older child under a disability beginning before he became 18. Benefits are also payable to the disabled person's wife if she has in her care a child eligible for benefits. An estimated 180,000 dependents of totally disabled workers now on the beneficiary rolls can qualify for payments under this provision in the amended law.

Ready for the opening of the 1959 fair will be a great new Coliseum Building, seating more than 7,000, for livestock judging, horse shows and other events. Tentative dates of the 1959 State Fair of Texas are Oct. 10 through 25, with the Texas-Oklahoma football classic due to be played in the Cotton Bowl on the opening Saturday.

Bulldogs-

Bulldog line trounced on Hess to set him back 12-yards. King intercepted a long pass to end the first half.

Third Quarter Cisco opened the quarter by kicking off to Ranger, but a pass was intercepted by Hale on the second play and it took the Lobos only four plays to make their second touchdown.

Hale returned the pass from the Cisco 45 to the Ranger 35, and Lobe Quarterback Charles Lipsy threw the touchdown strike good for 30 yards into the hands of Hess. The pass attempt was good for the extra points, and Cisco went out in front 14-7.

Ranger lost their chance on a fumble, five plays later, and Cisco took the ball. King was in there, however, to intercept a Lobe pass, but the Bulldogs lost the ball on another fumble.

Following a punt made by both teams, the Cisco team again went into action from their own 48 and romped down the field in nine plays to earn another tally. Quarterback Delbert Schaefer completed a 15-yard pass to Hammer for the score and the run attempt was no good. Cisco led 20 to 7.

Ranger failed to cover the kickoff while tackle Weaver Callaway fell on the loose ball to set the Lobos into action again. On the next play, about 30 seconds after their last score, Hess went all the way picking up 42-yards for the third Cisco score of the quarter. Schaefer passed to Hale to make it 28-7.

Fourth Quarter Cisco took the ball on their own 30 but failed to make much head way before the ball went over to Ranger on a punt.

Ranger took to the air, completing four short passes in advancing downfield from their own 42. Three other passes fell incomplete, however, and the fourth try was intercepted by Hess.

Cisco kept possession of the ball for the rest of the game after picking the ball on their 42-yard line and picking up fast yardage to pose another threat. The threat exploded from the two-yard line, following the advance downfield, with a tally made by Hess. The pass from Lipsy to John Adams, end, was good for the final extra points, and the Lobos led 36-7.

A kick-off ended the ballgame.

'Way Back in the early 20's'- we started out in the abstract business in Eastland County. Then, as now, the abstract was a necessary part of every real estate transaction. We soon learned that an abstract was something more than a bundle of papers with numbers on them. Even more important today, it must not only be accurate, responsible and revealing, but it must be a quality product of completeness prepared to stand the most thorough and critical examinations.
