Morris George Resigns C of C President Post

Morris George has submitted his resignation as a director and president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. It was announced today by Chamber officials. B. A. Tunnell, vice president, will take over the reins.

As I Meet Ranger

It is time to think about school days again. Here are some things you will find will help your child meet the new school year a little better prepared. Some things that research has turned up about child learning and development.

Now is a good time to prepare your youngsters for the new school term. It is important to see that they start off in "tip top" condition.

School children should be in the best possible health at all times, but they should be especially fit when it's time to go back to school.

Take the children first to the dentist, and next to the family physician for complete check-ups. If either dentist or doctor finds anything wrong, there will still be time to get it fixed before school begins.

Every child needs protection against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio. School authorities urge parents to complete vaccinations and immunizations before the start of school.

It is important to make sure that school children receive their polio shots before close contacts begin at school.

If there is any suggestion by the doctor that there is something wrong with eyesight or hearing, parents should attend to it right away.

A child who cannot understand what his teacher is telling him, or who can't see the blackboard, may develop habits that make him a poor student.

The boy or girl who can hear and see normally and who otherwise feels in fine physical condition, is prepared to become well-adjusted in the classroom.

Parents, especially mothers, are as a general rule extremely careful with their younger children; careful in what they eat, careful that they have their shots, careful in their play.

Uppermost in the parents' mind is safety. While the child is home, the mother has a direct control over the safety of her child.

When a child leaves home, for school or other activities, the responsibilities become more complex.

It becomes necessary for parents to do their part to see that the community is doing its best to safeguard children from preventable accidents.

who became ineligible when he became a member of the City Commission, has been made chairman of the Trade Extension Committee, with Delbert Capps and Earl Lebedro as co-chairmen. Other members of this committee include: John Smith, J. H. Hoggus, A. L. Robbins, Ed Brown and Wayne Terry.

Wylie, co-chairman. Other members of this committee are: James Ratliff, John Tibbels, B. S. Dudley, Jr., Ernen Haby, R. V. Robinson and Charles Murr.

CHOOSING A COLLEGE

(An Editorial)

When parents are going to invest in a college education for their children, a firsthand investigation of educational possibilities is a sound investment. Choice of a college should be determined by many things, but first of all by finances. A study should be made of the cost of attending various types of schools. Serious consideration should be given a local college, if there is one in the area, especially if the student is able to secure instruction comparable to that available in schools away from home. The student can reduce expenses greatly by living at home and attending a school in his own locality, for the college away from home involves cost not only of room and board but also of transportation home on vacations.

Second, parents and students need to choose a school with a view to preparation for whatever vocation the students have chosen. Choice as to where the students should go to college should be made on the basis of the quality of instruction he can get in his chosen field.

Fourth, the student should be governed by how well the students of a given college fit in positions after graduation. The reputation of some colleges is so good in certain areas that their graduates fare well in positions. The ratings of colleges and universities can be readily ascertained by asking questions of graduates and others who are aware of the standing of these institutions in various communities.

There are other important questions that need to be considered. One question is whether to send a boy or girl to a large or small institution. There is no one answer. The significant aspect has to do with the needs of the young person. What kind of environment will provide him with appropriate opportunities for growth? A big school is not important simply because it is big, nor is a small school necessarily good because it is small. The small institution does offer the advantage of more personal and individual attention, but the large one presents varied resources and opportunities for personal development that are not to be discounted. On the other hand, the small campus offers, in many respects, an experience in social living that no big institution can duplicate, for some boys and girls need the close association with fellow students and faculty, the sense of security, and the feeling of belonging that are a part of the life in a small college.

Students should be discriminating and accept only the best. Above all, young people, particularly those of superior ability, should look for a place where they will be assured of continual challenge and intellectual growth.

Get catalogues and brochures from colleges and universities and read with a questioning mind. Talk to students and recent graduates, as they will reveal information not always obtainable from catalogues or school personnel. However, do not take hearsay as fact; ask for reasons for any statement of opinion.

Check size and condition of the physical plant, especially the library. Disregard recent articles stating that all colleges are overcrowded, for there are many quality institutions which are not bulging at the seams.

ASC Annual Election Being Held In County
All of the ballots, 14 in all, contain the names of 10 men. Five men will be elected in each of the communities. The man receiving the highest number of votes in each community will become chairman.

Both the farmer and his wife can vote. Ballots must be returned by mail to the ASC office in Eastland before Sept. 8. On that date the tabulation board, composed of Irven Phippen, A. W. Harris, D. B. Warren, Ed Harrison and Robert Tucker, will canvass votes.

Here is a list of candidates in the various communities: PESEMONA—J. J. Holland, R. J. Greenhaw, Joe H. Hudson, J. D. McMaster, Leslie W. Riddell, Chester F. Ervin, L. F. Hammond, Lee Jennings, A. L. Rogers and Tony Ash.

RANGER—Thornton Cooper, Morris James, Jessie Belyeu, W. O. Cantrell, Melvin Adams, B. E. Patterson, J. S. Harty, Frank Penn, Walter Mitchell and J. L. Keener.

STAFF—L. D. Holliday, B. W. Robertson, Don Estes, J. L. Yancy, Wayne White, J. W. Overstreet, M. A. Able, Rufus J. Crawley, W. H. Bailey and J. D. Donaldson.

Mrs. Kathryn Robson will be in charge of the Slaughter School.

Boys that are looking good and will be pushing these others are: center and tackle, Bobby Fron; end, James Henry; wingback, Edward Mendez; halfback, Richard Wilhelm and Joe Barber; a d quarterback, Charlie De Los Santos.

The Bulldogs will continue to have two workouts each day until school starts. Jerry Anderson who made the switch to quarterback is looking very good in his new position. He played halfback last year.

See The RCA WHIRLPOOL APPLIANCES at RANGER FROZEN FOOD CENTER

Homer Montgomery, center last year, is making the change to tackle in fine fashion, and despite extra weight gained in the off-season looks to be in good shape.

Transfers Walter Blackwell and Bill Stuart are filling in at halfback and wingback, and are both going to be a great help to the team.

Bobby Fron is the real surprise among the new boys—Fron is playing tackle and center, and shows a lot of ability at both positions.

The team in general shows good spirit, and all are gradually getting over their first workout soreness, and will be able to really start getting in some contact work by Thursday.

Summer Repairs
Improvements and maintenance made in the Ranger Public School this summer has put the buildings and grounds in top condition for the coming school year.

Two side entrance ways to the Young School has been rebuilt. New concrete steps and entrance doors have been installed with brick walls protecting the new doors. The floors and walls of the hallways have been repainted. The auditorium has also been repainted. The grounds at Young School are in good condition.

Hodges Oak Park School also had a face lifting, in the painting of the outside trim in white which makes the building look very good. The hallways have been completely repainted. New shades have been ordered for the windows.

A new flag pole has been installed at the high school. T. C. Wylie donated the flag pole to the school. Floors in the hallways have been repainted. Classroom floors on the second floor have been refinished. New lights have been installed in the Biology laboratory. Grass and shrubs on the high school grounds are in excellent condition.

The work done on the school buildings this summer, added to the maintenance done each year, has put the entire school plant in good condition for the coming school year.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. H. McAnally, Manager

A WORD OF COMFORT

Several of our subscribers have called recently advising us that we have not put a dial on the telephone. That is true—part of the telephones have dials and part do not. It takes us time to get around to everyone. We will get to you before you will need it.

Mrs. Neal, our chief operator, asked me to pass on this request. It is OK to practice or turn the dial when you are not talking on the telephone. But when you are talking, please do not turn the dial. Turning the dial gives the operator a disconnect signal and she may disconnect you from the other party.

A NEW HAT OR A COLOR PHONE

A friend of mine remarked the other day that August is a pretty hectic month around his house. The kids are getting a little restless for school to start even though they'd never own up to it. And this restlessness doesn't exactly help his wife's attitude, either.

I know how restless the small fry can get, and it's hard to solve that one. But I did have a tip to offer my friend that would perk up his wife's morale.

"Since it's too early for her to buy a new Fall hat," I said, "why not order an extension telephone in her favorite color."

The happy ending to this story is that he perked up his wife's morale AND brightened their kitchen with a new color telephone.

P. S. It was an easy sale, because my friend is like most men. He's not exactly crazy about women's hats.

THE CALL THAT'S APPRECIATED

About this time of year, most of us are back from vacation with memories of good times fresh in our minds. I've always thought that the best way to relive a summer vacation—and be courteous at the same time—is to call the people who helped make your vacation so much fun.

If you spend it with other members of your family, they'll be glad to know you arrived home safely. If you vacation with friends, they'll enjoy hearing your voice again.

So why not make the call tonight that's really appreciated? Rates are lower after 6 p.m., and you can talk longer for less by placing your call station-to-station.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

How to build a better sandwich

Start with fresher-flavored, finer-textured Mrs. Baird's Bread... and all your sandwiches will look better... taste better.

As I Meet-

What parents can do about this is well worth looking into. The school, police, fire, recreation and health departments all have a part in planning for child safety. A child is fortunate if he has attended a well-conducted nursery or kindergarten before school. Here the youngster learns very early to play safely and happily with other children, and he begins to learn the rules of safety. If he walks to nursery school with his mother, or even if he goes to school in a bus or the family car, the rules of safety can still be taught. The wise parent finds out what safety rules the school is teaching and then sees to it that the same rules apply at home. He makes doubly sure that nothing he says or does runs counter to what is being taught in school, because such conflict only confuses and undermines the child's confidence in both his teachers and his parents. It is well to follow this same practice throughout the early years of the child's schooling. Safety is an important part of the elementary curriculum, as in secondary schools where older children get instruction in safe driving and the rules of the highway. Police and fire departments take an active part in promoting safety practices for children in cooperation with parents. The health department is often thought of chiefly as responsible for controlling sanitary nuisances and contagious diseases. However, it is vitally concerned about accidents, because they are the commonest cause of childhood death. Safety officials long have recognized the importance of reducing the number of teenage fatalities on the highways. One of the results is that 61 percent of all recognized high schools now have a driver-training program of some sort. The National Safety Council says that students who have completed a high school driver training course have an accident rate about 50 percent lower than that of untrained drivers. Safety experts also recognize the fact that many of these high school driver training programs are far from adequate. For example ac-ording to Dr. A. R. Lauer, head of the Iowa State College driver training laboratory, only one U. S. high school instructs students in night driving. Yet, night accidents account for more than half of all fatal crashes. Parents are urged by traffic safety experts to supplement high school driver training with after-dark instruction. A wonderful fellowship and good food was enjoyed by the 25 members and guests who attended. VISIT IN LOUISIANA Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murr and David Charles spent the past week in Jena, Louisiana with Mr. Murr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Coleman. Mrs. Coleman underwent eye surgery, but was reported to be doing fine when the Murr's returned home.

295 Pay Fines For Fishing Without Licenses

Fishing without licenses topped the list of game and fish violations in July, according to the Director of Law Enforcement, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Game wardens charged 295 persons with fishing without licenses during the month. Four persons were arrested for hunting without licenses and an equal number of bait dealers were arrested for failing to purchase the required licenses.

A total of $7,020.15 in fines and court costs was paid by 393 violators. Thirty cases were dismissed in court, six persons served time in jail, 12 appealed to higher courts, and two were found not guilty.

"These violations are usually committed by persons who failed to realize the importance of game laws," said the law enforcement director. "They fail to understand that without the laws, Texas' fish and wildlife soon would be destroyed completely."

Trespassing remained highest on the list of game violations with 18 arrests, while closed-season hunting arrests ranked second with eight.

Seven persons were caught using seines and nets illegally and eight were arrested for having too many hooks on their lines.

Seven cases of water pollution were reported by wardens across the state.

"SERVES YOU FIRST"

Don't cover yourself just part way

Insurance protection should be complete—not patchy. You don't buy half an umbrella or one boot—or roof only one room of your house.

The primary purpose of insurance is to worry-proof your life. You chip a minor sum into a kitty each year to protect yourself against major losses by fire, accidents, law suits, theft, etc.

So make it your business to protect yourself ALL OVER, from every angle. It is OUR business to show you how.

Two Chevy middleweights prove their rawhide stamina!

Top hands on high-country hauls!

Ask any trucker who's been over Wolf Creek Pass, 10,850 feet up in the San Juans: a 9-mile pull to the summit and low gear all the way down. Mr. C. H. Phillips of Alamosa, Colorado, has a 6403 and a 6503 Chevrolet truck that are up over this route the year round, taking sheep and beef to pasture, later marketing the stock in Denver. In less than a year, his Chevy middleweights have averaged about 50,000 miles of this kind of treatment—and they're going stronger than ever!

Watch Chevy trucks at work out in range country. It's a sight to see the way they pack into high-up mountain pastures and handle through brush and rock like a cowman's favorite cutting horse. Take any truck work for that matter. Chevy middleweights probably handle a bigger variety of jobs than any trucks alive. About anything you name, including work that used to be reserved strictly for bigger rigs. When a truck's built the way a Chevy is, lean-muscled and rawhide-tough, it takes to ugly trails the same way most trucks roll over the highway. It just keeps going, without a big to-do, but looking good every mile of the way. How they do it is your Chevrolet dealer's department. He'll be glad to supply details and specifications on the type of models you need.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!
