As I Meet Ranger

By Gene Townsend

A few curious fans had a sneak preview of the 1959 Bulldogs Wednesday afternoon as they watched them scrimmage Baird. It is still early in the season to really tell anything about the possibilities of what is to come, but from all indications Coach Prescott is going to have a fighting team. They showed a lot of spirit and desire out there on the field.

There were mistakes which is to be expected this early in the season. But when someone made an error you could see him try a little harder next time to correct it. The line was a little slow, but you could see promise of a hard charging line in the making. The backfield was a little off on their timing and ball handling, but when a play did click, you could see some smooth operation.

The backfield is small in size but large in desire. They are going to be a quick-hitting, tricky group. The reserve unit showed a lot of fight when they had their try in the scrimmage.

Football fans that make the trip to Rotan Friday, Sept. 4, will get a chance to see the son of the "famed" Sammy Baugh in action. He led the Rotan team to the district championship last year, and was named on the all-district team.

I noticed this sign in Lilley's Drug Store, "Use your head, its the little things that count!"

Another one at the Ranger Auto Parts has this to say, "Every Third salesman is shot... the second one just left."

Lloyd Bruce has these words of wisdom to say: "Those who think straight, seldom go around in circles."

Police - Fire Reports

Don Butler, Chief of Police, reminds everyone that the dog catcher is on the job picking up stray dogs that have not been vaccinated and licensed. He suggests that anyone who has a stray dog hanging around their neighborhood should call the police department and they will send the dog catcher out and have the stray picked up and carried to the city pound.

The Chief also reports that they picked up a forger suspect this week, and warns all merchants that they should be on the look out for check forgery and hot check passers during the busy fall season.

Chief Charlie Isbell of the fire department reports three grass fires this week, one at East Main Street at 10:38 a.m. Monday, another at North Marston Street at 2:02 p.m. Monday, and East Main Street at 5:45 p.m. Monday.

Chief Isbell reminds everyone that the grass fire season is getting here, and everyone should be extremely careful of starting fires and letting them get out of control. He goes on to say that all residents should clean up any fire hazard around their property.

Lucille Angus Opens Beauty Shop in Ranger

Mrs. Lucille Angus announced today that she has opened a new beauty shop at 429 Hunt Street, on the Old Strawn Road.

Mrs. Angus doesn't need an introduction to the people of Ranger as she has been a beauty operator in Ranger for the past 15 years, associated with various beauty shops.

Her new shop is equipped with all new equipment, and she will specialize in Helen Curtis permanents.

Her husband, Jack Angus, works for Lone Star Gas Company as an operator in the plant west of Ranger. They have one son, Jimmy, 8, living at home. They belong to the First Baptist Church of Ranger.

Five Injured In Auto Accident In Ranger Wed.

Five Negroes were hospitalized from an automobile accident Wednesday in Ranger.

Kenneth Sewell Jordan, driver, and four others were injured when their car skidded on the wet pavement and crashed into a telephone pole on Highway 50 East of Blainfield Street.

Three of the occupants were seriously injured and the other two slightly injured. The 1957 model Mercury car they were driving was considered a total loss.

Occupants of the car were from Fort Worth and Waxahatchie.

FROM OUR FILES

Thirty Years Ago This Week August 25, 1929

The Ranger Bulldogs will enter Monday their second week of practice for the football season which will be ushered in on Sept. 14.

No less than ten lettermen are expected back, nine have already reported in and another is expected soon.

The lettermen returning are: Al center, Horton last year regular, is back. Dreinhoffer and Bishop are also making bids for the pivot spot.

Experienced guards galore are on hand, Bomper, captain, Bassett and Blackwell — all lettermen are back and there is Moser who lettered at guard on the Eastland team last season.

Blackmon is the only tackle who won a letter last year. Other candidates for tackles are Murray, Smoot and Anderson.

Love is the only other letterman in camp for end but Bowden is expected back soon, and Stevens, Greg and Beardon are striving to win out over the veterans.

Work in earnest began for the Bulldogs last Monday when they had their first workout of the season.

Twenty Years Ago This Week August 27, 1939

Ranger Junior College will open for its 14th annual session Monday, Sept. 11. Every indication points to the largest enrollment and the most successful year in the history of the institution.

In addition to the regular literary courses and vocational opportunities it has offered in business many years, the students will be greeted this session with two new departments.

Through the cooperation of the City of Ranger and the federal government a department of vocational shop work has been added with $75,000 worth of equipment. Instruction and actual shop experience is offered young men in wood work, metal work, auto mechanics and radio engineering.

The second department that is being added this year is that of fine arts. Work of collegiate rank as well as the preparatory courses will be offered in piano, violin, and voice, by skilled musicians who have achieved distinction in these fields, who hold degrees and who have studied in the leading conservatories of America.

Ten Years Ago This Week August 22, 1949

Coch O. C. Warden halted his Bulldogs right in the middle of a hard workout Friday morning, for the election of a team captain.

The honor went to Dean Elder who was an outstanding player of last year's team and who was chosen by the coaches and sports writers of this district for the 1948 all-district team.

Work in earnest began for the Bulldogs last Monday when they had their first workout of the season.

Annual Lone Star Picnic Will Be Held Saturday

The Lone Star Company will hold its annual picnic Saturday, Aug. 29, at 6 p.m. at the Willows Park. There will be free swimming for all. A picnic supper will be served at 7.

After the supper, games of forty-two and three will be played in the Community Club House. All Lone Star employees and their families are invited to come and bring a picnic lunch. Drinks will be furnished by the company.

Two Oil Wells Scheduled For Eastland County

Six miles southeast of Ranger, W. C. Cummings of Ranger staked No. 1 Houston Bradbear as a 1,200-foot rotary project in the regular field. Location spots 300 feet from the north and 200 feet from the east lines of a 30.2-acre lease in Willis Van Norman Survey.

Bridges & Saigling, et al. of Hale Center staked No. 2 H. Z. Mathews as a 1,300-foot rotary project four and a half miles southeast of Eastland.

Location is 1,300 feet from the south and 5,000 feet from the east lines of Nancy Usery Survey 26. It is in the regular field.

Labor Day Weekend

By GENE TOWNSEND

Labor Day can be variously defined as the end of summer; the beginning of the school year; a national traffic jam; or simply an excuse for a long weekend away from the office.

But the founder of the holiday, Peter J. McGuire, conceived it as a tribute to "the industrial spirit, the great vital force of every nation."

In 1882, McGuire — a leader in the Knights of Labor — proposed that a day be set aside to honor the working man. He suggested the Monday in September, since it came almost midway between Independence Day and Thanksgiving Day.

The Central Labor Union of New York adopted his proposal and held the first Labor Day celebration on Sept. 5th. As McGuire had suggested, the union paraded through the streets of Manhattan, to show the strength and spirit of trade and labor organizations.

Shortly after, the Knights of Labor voted for an annual celebration. In 1884, the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions of the United States and Canada — predecessor of the American Federation of Labor — voted to make the holiday nationwide.

The first state to make Labor Day a legal holiday was Oregon in 1887, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York quickly followed. Utah and in 1894, Congress made Labor Day a National Holiday.

Labor Day now ranks with Independence Day, Washington's Birthday and Thanksgiving as the most generally celebrated holidays in the U. S.

In eight days—on Friday, Sept. 4, at 6 p.m.—the dash will start—a frantic race to have fun during summer's final, long weekend holiday. Normally won't return before midnight Monday, Sept. 7.

During these 78 hours, a large percentage of Texas' three-and-a-quarter million passenger cars will flood the state's streets and highways. Accidents, according to the Texas Safety Association, will inflict heavy losses in life, limb and property if history continues to repeat itself in traffic.

Drownings, too, will take their share of lives, as will plane crashes, boats and other holiday activities.

What will people do wrong? They will drive too great a distance in too little time, get impatient with other motorists, and make things tough for themselves by combining drinking and driving.

And, of course, that will drive too fast for conditions.

Many who will miss the traffic slaughter will drop their guards when taking part in other pastimes that go to make a holiday pleasant. Swimmers, for example, too many will go in water alone, some will swim after dark, and some will take chances in waters that are unfamiliar to them.

With bird season opening the first, there will be some hunting accidents, just because of carelessness.

Wherever you go and whatever you do, lets make this a pleasant and safe holiday.

Use courtesy and common sense. The more you think about safety, the less you will read about accidents.

A Busy Week at Ranger College

The finishing touches are being put on the brick project of the Science building at Ranger College. Jake Lee, Roy Crawley and Kenneth Lee are preparing the grounds around the campus for the opening of school. Buildings and instruction rooms are being put in order for the coming classes. The dormitories are being prepared for the arrival of students, and final phases of the paving project will commence Monday.

Jim Puryear, head coach, is busy checking equipment and getting ready for the arrival of the Rangers. They will start coming in this weekend. Puryear has been doing some scouting trying to pick up some new boys for the coming season.

Harold Bilderback, head of the music department has been out-of-town most of the last month looking for additional members for the Rangans and the music department and checking applicants for music scholarships.

Mrs. R. L. Hamrick is busy closing out the Summer School night session classes and getting ready for a new session to be held. She is preparing schedules of classes for both the day and night courses.

H. W. Little and Mrs. Browning are checking the 1959-60 college budget and getting the finances checked for the coming season.

Mr. Isler is busy sending out transcripts to senior colleges and replying to letters from prospective students.

Everyone is getting ready for registration which will begin at 8 a.m. Sept. 14 and 15 for day students, and at 7 p.m. for night students.

Bond Sales In County Rank High In July

Eastland County savings bond sales during July were the highlight of the entire Fort Worth area, a check of records in the 29 county zone reveals.

Sales of bonds in Eastland County during the month totaled $18,682. That figure was topped by only three counties in the entire zone. Only counties to come out ahead of Eastland were Taylor (Abilene), Tarrant (Fort Worth) and Wichita (Wichita Falls).

Eastland County has now reached a total of $307,062 in cumulative sales. That is more than 56 percent of the county's 1959 goal.

Guy Parker, county chairman, praised sales figures for this county, saying, "Every American who buys Savings Bonds is providing for his own future and adding to the strength of his country, both militarily and economically."

Here is a comparison of July sales in the Abilene district:

COUNTY	BOND SALES
Eastland	$ 48,682
Callahan	35,067
Fisher	2,900
Jones	19,369
Nolan	19,411
Shackelford	5,478
Stephens	19,263
Taylor	101,841

THAT'S WHAT THE RULE SAYS—Popular Houston football announcers Kern Tips (left) and Alec Chesser (right) discuss 1959 rule changes with Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference. The occasion was an announcers seminar held in Dallas. Tips heads the Humble Company's staff of 23 play-by-play announcers who will describe all Conference games this season. Starting Sept. 19, the oil company will sponsor some 50 broadcasts, 13 live telecasts, and a Sunday afternoon videotaped Southwest Conference "Game of the Week" on Houston radio and TV.

A SHOT OF THIS "RED EYE" CAN KILL YOU—BUT FAST—Under development for the modern U. S. Army, this shoulder weapon is designed to track down and destroy low-flying aircraft. Known as "Red Eye," the development of General Dynamics' Convair Division will, if adopted, provide highly-mobile ground troops with a plane-buster similar to the tank-killing "bazooka." The launch tube also serves as a shipping container for the weapon when sealed at both ends, and the missile itself is a composite structure containing propellant, warhead, and electronic guidance systems.

St. John's Church in Richmond, where Patrick Henry delivered his "Liberty or Death" speech, is a white frame building which has been somewhat enlarged since that day in 1776. The church was chosen for the Virginia Convention because it was the largest meeting place in town. Jefferson and Washington were members of the convention.

I had always visualized Henry as standing in the middle of the floor—and even striding up and down—so it came as a surprise to be told that he stood in a pew.

It is a privilege to seat oneself in that very same pew where Patrick Henry stood as he thundered, "Is life so dear, or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take but, as for me, give me liberty or give me death."

The baptismal basin disappeared from the church in early days but was found. The Indians were using the metal vessel to pound corn in. The basin is still to be seen in the church.

In the churchyard are many graves. One is that of Edgar Allan Poe's mother, who died in 1811. She was an actress and so it was forbidden to mark the grave. Some years ago, however, a monument was erected.

The Rev. Alexander Whittaker, early pastor, converted many Indians, including Pocahontas, whom he baptized and whose marriage ceremony he performed. He drowned in the James River in 1617 and the body was never recovered. A stone memorial stands in the churchyard.

One of the graves is that of George Wythe, signer of the Declaration of Independence and first professor of law in America. Among his pupils were Jefferson, John Marshall, James Monroe and Henry Clay. Wythe died of poison administered by a nephew, an impatient heir. The guide said that Wythe lived long enough to change his will. What a melodrama!

The guide, by the way, was a pleasant, young man with reddish hair and his name was Ury. He said he was prepared for almost every kind of question but that one day he was rather startled when a lady demanded, "How do you know that Patrick Henry really made a speech? He replied, 'Well, for about the same reason that I know that people are buried in those graves.' That seemed to take care of her skepticism.

Sometimes, in the Virginia Capitol, a Kentucky tourist would give him an argument when Ury would indicate the statue of Henry Clay and claim him for Virginia or a Texan would challenge a similar claim for Virginia when the bust of Sam Houston was viewed.

"Now, I emphasize that they were Virginia-born—and let them take it from there," he said, with a smile.

Gasoline From The Ground To Your Car

The next time a hurried service station attendant dribbles a few drops on your car fender, don't flare up—just stand in awe. Shades of Galileo, Magellan and Admiral Byrd! That gasoline you're looking at is something that no human being has ever seen before. Amazing? You can well believe it.

From the moment that crude oil is raised from its underground prison, it enters a closed system of pipes and tanks. The end of that system, which may be 1,500 miles or more away, is the nozzle through which the gasoline pours into the tank of your automobile. Here is what lies between: well pipe, a producer's lease tank, a crude oil pipeline, the tubes and towers of a refinery, a products pipeline, a bulk station, a transport truck—and the service station. It's a complex system that hides the oil and its products from view as effectively as nature conceals from us the other side of the moon.

The first oil from Col. Edwin Drake's well at Titusville, Pa., in 1859 traveled a different route. You could see crude oil then, as it was poured into wooden tanks or dumped into wooden barrels to be hauled by wagon, team and railroad flat car to refineries. They sold petroleum in glass bottles in those days, too, as medicine to treat all kinds of ills.

It was a matter of economic necessity that oil was first enclosed in a pipeline. The cost to haul a barrel of oil five miles by wagon was about four dollars. In addition, teamsters and wooden barrels couldn't keep up with the demand for transportation in the oil boom days of the early 1860's.

A man named Samuel Van Syckel was the first to make a success out of putting together some pieces of iron pipe and pumping oil through them. He charged a dollar to move oil through his line from Pithole, Pa., to the Oil Creek Railroad, a distance of five miles. From that beginning in 1865 evolved one of the world's largest and most economical transportation systems.

Today, the United States has a network of more than 200,000 miles of crude oil and products pipelines. The pipeline industry includes more than a hundred companies—small and large. Together they move nine million barrels of crude oil and products daily, serving half a million oil wells and more than 30 refineries.

A great majority of these pipelines are common carriers—required to provide transportation for any and all shippers, to the extent of their facilities. They are subject to the Interstate Commerce Act the same as other common carriers, such as trains, trucks, airlines and barges.

Service Pipe Line Co., which operates lines in his vicinity, is a common carrier transporter of crude oil with a pipeline system totaling more than 17,000 miles. It delivers 850,000 barrels of crude daily to 74 refineries directly or through connecting pipelines.

From its beginning in 1916 with 487 miles of pipe in Oklahoma and Kansas, Service has expanded to include gathering and trunk lines in 15 states. It employs some 2,500 people, and its total investment in lines, tanks stations and other facilities is about $270 million—more than $108,000 per employee.

Twenty-four hours a day, the nation's pipelines use giant diesel engines and powerful electric motors to boost the unseen, unnoticed underground river of oil on its way.

Samuel Van Syckel, with his five miles of 2-inch line, started the most economical overland means of transporting oil. One gallon of oil can be carried a thousand miles by pipeline for less than a penny.

Those few drops of gasoline that spilled over on your fender were transported from oil well to service station for only a fraction of one cent. Meanwhile, billions of other drops of petroleum will be used to produce light, heat, power, lubrication and innumerable other things—providing about two-thirds of our country's energy. And pipelines will deliver them to points of use, at the right time, in the exact amount, whenever the need arises. You still have a gasoline stain on your car? Just open a can of wax—another petroleum product.

never before seen by human eyes.

Samuel Van Syckel built the first successful oil pipeline in 1865. He charged $1.00 for moving a barrel of oil five miles.

Labor Day Safety
Rules Given

AUSTIN — "Going on a trip during Labor Day weekend? Has your car been safety-checked?" These questions were asked of Texas motorists, today, by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, who added:

"Remember this: Drivers who check first... last! Even the best drivers can have an accident with a car that is in poor mechanical condition."

Musick said that people seem to get carried away in a "welter of carelessness" during holiday periods, thus making these the most dangerous driving times of the year.

"With Labor Day just around the corner," he said, "it means that many Texans will be taking short, vacation-end trips before school bells start ringing."

Musick pointed out that 42 persons died in Texas traffic accidents from Friday through Monday, during the 1958 Labor Day weekend. This doesn't include deaths from other causes, such as drownings, airplane crashes, etc., which will come close to matching traffic accidents in total number of fatalities.

For an all-around safer Labor Day, the safety expert suggests the following precautions:

1. First of all, a good healthy helping of common sense with a constant awareness that there is danger in nearly everything you are likely to be doing.
2. If you will be on the highways, limit the miles you plan to cover in one day's driving and be prepared for heavy holiday traffic.
3. Get an early start and pause for rest occasionally.
4. Keep your speed down, but don't be a slow poke and, of course, don't drink and drive.
5. Be courteous on the road — courtesy is a sign of intelligence.
6. Follow the safety rules of swimming, picnicking and sun-play.

Don't over-do.

U.S. OIL

*Indispensable in our way of life...
vital to our national defense*

In the 100 years since the drilling of the first oil well in the United States, the usefulness of petroleum has been often demonstrated in many ways . . . It is an economical and efficient source of energy and a raw resource convertible through petrochemistry into innumerable useful materials. . . It is indispensable in our way of life, and vital to the national defense.

It is comforting to know that today's reserves are ample for today's needs. And if incentives to undergo the heavy risks involved are continued, there is no doubt that more oil will be discovered and produced to replace the oil we use . . .

The United States has found, produced, refined, and used more oil than any other nation. This has made petroleum products a feature of the abundant American life. Americans use more petroleum products than any other people on the globe.

The past is prologue to the future. During its second century, oil can serve you and your grandchildren, and the nation, as well or better than ever before.

The Humble Company, incorporated in 1917, has participated in the development of new and better ways to find and produce oil, and in the research that has improved petroleum products and discovered countless new uses for oil and natural gas. Humble is a major producer of U. S. oil, with production extending all across the southern tier of states from Florida to California. Marketing operations are carried on in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Humble's Baytown refinery, near Houston, is one of the great refineries of the world. (Humble Pipe Line Company, a major transporter of crude oil and finished products, operates more than 9000 miles of pipe lines in Texas.)

Don't cover yourself just part way

Insurance protection should be complete—not patchy. You don't buy half an umbrella or one boot—or roof only one room of your house. The primary purpose of insurance is to worry-proof your life. You chip a minor sum into kitty each year to protect yourself against major losses by fire, accidents, law suits, theft, etc. So make it your business to protect yourself ALL OVER, from every angle. It is OUR business to show you how.

CHEVROLET most m.p.g.* miles per gallon one of 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any car in its field Proof that Chevy delivers the most miles from a gallon comes from an indisputable source: this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. For a pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide walked away with the first two places in their class—got top mileage, in fact, of any full-sized car. Over the Run's long, rugged course, over mountain and desert in the long, long haul from Los Angeles to Kansas City, the winning Chevrolet averaged a whopping 23.38 miles per gallon. That's the kind of economy-engineering that keeps you saving while you drive! BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling." BEST BRAKES—In competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstopped both of the "other two." Naturally—Chevy brakes with bonded linings are far larger, built to lengthen brake life by up to 66%. BEST TRADE-IN—Look at the record—the used car prices in any N.A.D.A. Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines." BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A. make this abundantly clear. Chevy front seat hip room, for instance, is as much as 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars. BEST RIDE—MOTOR TREND magazine names Chevy "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But this is one Chevy feature you really should discover for yourself, at your Chevrolet dealer's. Stop by soon! *National Association for Stock Car Races and Automobile Manufacturers Assn.
