LIONETTES—The Lionettes, girls' precision drill team from Farmers Branch, will be guests of Ranger College Saturday evening, October 17, and will present halftime entertainment during the Ranger College-Eastern Oklahoma game. The Lionettes will be remembered for the colorful performance they gave at the Ranger-Cisco game last year. The group is made up of sixty girls from the ages of nine to thirteen, with fifteen majorettes and eight cheer leaders. The Lionettes will appear with the Range-ans in the presentation of the Ranger College football sweetheart.

Phi Theta Kappa Has Meeting For Pledges

Delta Tau Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa had a special called meeting recently at Ranger College for new pledges. Freddie Cooper, president, presided, and then they were instructed for preparing for the initiation service to be held later this month.

Morris George Co-Owner Gibson Store in Texarkana

Morris George, formerly of Ranger, is now co-owner of the Gibson Product Company Store in Texarkana.

Locker Room Quips

Ranger College was overwhelmed by Texarkana Saturday night 25 to 6. According to the players, they have had trouble all year getting started, and this time their inability to get started resulted in defeat.

Vernon Sagleton: We were definitely off. Our first team couldn't move the ball. Texarkana had a good team, a team that requires its opponents to be up for it if you want to be on the winning side.

James Knickerbocker: We should have won. Possibly the long bus ride and the heat made us sluggish, but our boys were ready even still.

Coneh Habb: We got outstuffed and outshowered.

Neel Galloway: We were ready but we had some bad breaks.

Delbert Jones: Our offense bogged down because of bad breaks and intercepted passes.

Bobby Lauderdale: We just got beat by a good team. One of our boys said it was their best game all season.

Coneh Puryear: I think the fact that they haven't lost a home game in two years gave them the edge.

H-SU Ex-Students Hold Area Dinner In Eastland Mon.

Ranger area ex-students and friends of Hardin-Simmons University have been invited to join other H-SU exes in Eastland, Shackelford and Stephens Counties at a fellowship dinner to be held at the White Elephant Cafe in Eastland the evening of Monday, Oct. 19, according to Truett Latimer, H-SU alumni director.

Activities will get under way at 7 p.m. There will be no charge for the meal and no financial solicitation during the evening, Latimer said.

Your Ex-Students Association is working to organize local ex-student chapters throughout the state. Latimer has written the area alumni. "A nominating committee will present a proposed slate of officers on the night of the meeting. In cooperation with your local officers, we want to have at least one meeting each year in your area. Through this medium, we can help keep you informed on the progress of the university, as well as help promote mutual friendships with your fellow ex-students."

The Eastland program will include a progress report on H-SU's current funds campaign, a n d building program, to be given by the Rev. Byron Bryant, H-SU public relations director; a look at the future by Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president for development; and a message from Dr. Evan Allard, president, Entertainment will be furnished by a group of students.

The university's finance campaign, in which solicitation is to be completed by Dec. 31, has a goal of $1.5 million. Approximately half the sum has been raised. The building program includes the new $630,000 chapel - auditorium on which construction is just starting; a new student center slated for construction early in 1960, and other facilities. Already completed is a $165,000 enlargement and remodeling program in Caldwell Hall, H-SU School of Music building.

Do you get a kick out of "Tall Tales" that are supposed to be true? They listen so good you believe them in spite of your self.

A certain Ex-Fire-Chief, while in Ranger, told this one. He had a dog that would retrieve sticks from small bodies of water (tanks to you but ponds to me). This man caught a fish on a cane pole and while trying to bring the fish he dropped the pole. The owner of the dog said "fetch" and in went the dog after the pole.

The dog got hold of the pole and pulled and pulled but the fish was a fighter; finally the dog got hold of the line and started pulling; then he got hold of the fish and carried it to land. Can you top it? Much to the sorrow of the owner, the dog was later bitten by a rattlesnake and died.

While we were living in Oklahoma, my Dad and his brother were night fishing in a small row boat on one of the ponds on Dad's lease. The fish or what they thought were fish were so thick around the lights that they had hung on the sides of the boat; then my Uncle decided to jump in and catch them by hand. He caught a great big one and got it half way into the boat to discover, to his horror, that it was not a fish at all, but a water moccasin! Did he ever turn that loose and regain his place in the boat in a hurry? They took their frog gigs and stirred them around and there seemed to be dozens of them. Need I say, they got high behind on those oars and reached land in a hurry?

It's true. I watched them shoot a lot of them the next day. Years ago women wore what they called "riding skirts", these were what we would call culottes as they really were just a divided skirt. The big difference was the length, as these skirts came to your ankles instead of your knees. My Mother's brother had just purchased a dapple gray running mare that had never been ridden by a woman. He came riding up to our house for Mother to ride her but Mother was dressed in a princess dress with a wide ruffled skirt and two ruffled petticoats was the custom of the day.

While his girl friend, who lived next door to us, was getting into riding togs; he looked we begone at Mother and said, "I wanted you to be the first woman to ride her".

That was all Mother needed. While he held the mare, Mother mounted and she (the horse) started off with an easy "single foot" until all those ruffles blew across her rump and that was all she needed to go "native". Leaving the road she headed for a wooded area; running at break neck speed through the trees as if they didn't exist.

Mother could not hold her so just laid her head close to the saddle horn and let her fly and all the time the ruffles kept at her (the mare). She ran for a mile or so until she came to a barbed wire fence where she stopped dead in her tracks.

Mother turned her around and walked her all the way back. She (Mother) was scratched and bruised but mighty glad to be alive. A few months later my Dad bought the mare for Mother as after that time she was gentle as a kitten.

Mother was never afraid of horses and rode everywhere with me up front holding to the saddle horn but the very first time I started to ride the "thing" she snorted (as horses will) but the coward (I am) in me came out; it took the wind out of my sails and until this day the sails are still down.

There was a time when I dreamed of being a trapeze performer. All told I could hang by my knees, swing as high as a swing would go, skin the cat, (who can't?), hand over hand quite some yards, chin myself more than the other girls, pull up and over any bar (not the kind you've got your mind on) that I could reach. Boy--did I ever think I was good.

My second year in grammar school, the playground was divided, half for the girls and half for the boys. Now all the playground equipment was on the boys side, but we had the teachers clothes line on our side. The clothes line extended from the school to the teachers house; we girls used it for our tight rope, skinny bar and etc.

This day it was my turn to be "it" for hide and seek and I was supposed to count 15 with my eyes closed while hanging by my knees from the clothes line.

Something "happened". When I came back to this world I had left "upside down" I was under the water pump and believe you me, I was blood and water from top to bottom, the teacher was screaming my name, the kids were screaming; I was too near drowned to do anything but breathe till I put my hand on my busted head and saw all the blood on my hands and promptly passed out. (The line had broken and let me fall smack on my head on a piece of broken glass).

They finally got me home. I was promptly on my way to a hospital to have my head spliced back together, but, later, with a spliced head and a hot seat, I gave up being a trapeze artist.

National Guard Grants College Use of Armory

Master Sergeant William Roy McCreger of Service Battery, 3rd Cavalry and Howitzer Battalion (Sp), 132nd Artillery of the Texas National Guard announces that the Texas National Guard has given permission to Ranger College to use the National Guard Armory for the physical education program of the college.

Facilities of the armory include a large gymnasium, a recreation room, and shower rooms. Use of the building with its facilities will greatly enhance the effectiveness of physical education program of Ranger College because of the convenience of its location near the campus and because of its availability. Having the armory put at the disposal of the college marks another step forward in the expansion of the physical plant of Ranger College.

Gene Babb Guest Of Breckenridge Lions Club

Gene Babb, assistant coach of the Ranger College Rangers, was guest speaker Friday, Oct. 9, at the Lions Club luncheon in Breckenridge. He spoke on professional football, discussing such phases of the professional game as the training season, preparation for games, travel arrangements, and offensive and defensive formations.

Texarkana Stops Rangers Slot Offense

The Texarkana Bulldogs threw up a rugged pass defense that the Ranger College Rangers couldn't penetrate Saturday night, to hold the Rangers to 6 points, and the Bulldogs came through with 25 points to win a hard fought game before a large crowd at Texarkana.

Texarkana put the combination of some fast backs and a sound pass defense together to stop the Rangers on all but one of their scoring attempts. The Texarkana defense seemed to be reading the Ranger's signals, as they stopped the Rangers short of that yardage needed for a first down. The alert Bulldogs' secondary picked off five of the Ranger's passes, and turned two of them into touchdowns.

The Bulldogs came out ready for anything and the Ranger's could offer and struck for a quick 6 points and had the game in control for the remainder of the game.

The Game in Figures

12 for 20 Passes Comp. 6 for 11
Passes Intercepted 5
7 for 34 Punt Yds. 6 for 37
3 for 6 Punt Yds. 11 for 95

The Rangers received the first break in the ball game as Texarkana fumbled on their own 20 yard line, but failed to capitalize on the break due to a misplay in the Ranger backfield, giving the ball back to the Bulldogs.

Texarkana hit for six points about midway in the first quarter when Russell Green fired a 13 yard pass to James Hargett in the end zone. The kick for extra point was no good.

The Rangers took the kickoff and began a march that moved good down to the Bulldog's 35 yard line, when the alert Bulldogs secondary bottled the pass receivers and stopped the drive.

Texarkana took over on their own 15 yard line and eight plays and 74 yards later Jim Key went over the Ranger goal on a nine yard slant over right tackle. Hans Mullikin kicked the extra point and Texarkana led 13 to 0.

In the closing minutes of the first half Ranger began a drive from their own 24 yard line and moved the ball down to the Bulldog 17, where the secondary closed up and picked off another Ranger pass to stop the scoring threat.

Texarkana didn't lose any time after the half, taking the opening kickoff and turning it into a scoring drive with James Hargett going the final 46 yards on an end sweep for the touchdown. The try for conversion failed.

The Rangers came back with another scoring threat, moving the ball down to the 20 yard line, but the rugged defensive line of Texarkana jarred the ball loose from the Rangers to stop their march.

Again the fast backs of Texarkana dashed for the end zone. Jim Key going 56 yards down the middle for the final Bulldog score. The try for extra point again failed.

The Rangers finally got a scoring drive started late in the final quarter with Jim Brock, the second unit quarterback sparking the drive and going the final nine yards on a roll-out for the score. The try for extra point was no good and that ended the scoring for both teams.

Army Offers Many Technical Courses

SFC Robert Butler, United States Army Recruiting service, announced the opening of 139 new technical training courses effective October 1. These courses include schools in electronics, surveying, nuclear weapons assembly, welding, drafting, automotive mechanics, airplane repair, helicopter repair, photography, intelligence, medical procedures, x ray procedures, and many others.
Young men and women interested in this schooling will be processed upon application and qualified applicants will have their courses reserved for them at that time, and will leave Abilene for initial training in October.
Further details on these assignments may be obtained by contacting SFC Butler at 126 Court St., Rockneville, or call collect III 9-2888.

CONSTIPATED? Medical reports show how folks over 35 can establish regularity

After 35, irregularity often becomes a problem. What you need is something that aids nature and helps establish regularity. Such an aid to regularity is the daily use of SERUTAN. Here's medical evidence: A group of men and women took SERUTAN daily under medical supervision. In case after case SERUTAN, taken daily, helped establish regularity. So, for real relief from constipation after 35, try SERUTAN, powder or granular. "Read It Backwards"

TIGER BY THE TAIL—A Busch Stadium grounds keeper seems to have more than he can handle as he tries to secure a tarp over home plate. Near-tornado winds were whizzing at the time.

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brummett, Peggy and Aivy left Tuesday, Oct. 6, for their home in Riverside, California, after spending a week in Ranger visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brummett. This was the first time he had seen his parents in twenty-six years.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

O. Henry would never have become a brilliant writer had he not gone to prison. This is the belief of one who can remember the famous short story writer.

Mrs. Frances Maddox Massie of Austin was just a little girl but she recalls that Will Porter was fond of children and he was a frequent visitor to her father's home. John Maddox was in real estate business and he gave the young man a job. Maddox was so impressed with Porter's skill as an artist that he offered to provide the funds for him to study in Chicago, an offer which O. Henry did not accept, however.

When she was older, Frances Maddox was permitted to use the same typewriter in her father's office that O. Henry had used. Mrs. Massie's belief is that O. Henry liked people too much ever to have become a writer in the ordinary course of events.

"He was always giving of himself to others—his jokes, his smiles, his singing and conversation," Mrs. Massie declares.

The tragedy of the bank fund accusation, his conviction and his sentencing changed him completely and in prison he began really to write.

One reason that O. Henry visited the Maddox home was to talk to Mrs. Massie's uncle, John C. Duval, a hero of Goliad and author of two Texas classics, "Early Times in Texas" and "Adventures of Bigfoot Wallace." Duval made his home with Mrs. Massie's parents. She recalls that her uncle had a hammock in the yard. The hammock was rather high and he used a chair to climb into it.

Bigfoot Wallace was a visitor to the Maddox home, too. Mrs. Massie remembers him as a large man, quite old, with the palsy. He insisted on chewing tobacco in bed, a practice which did not exactly meet with his hostess' approval.

Game Violators Now to be Tried in County Courts

AUSTIN — All future game violation cases, involving the forfeiture of hunting or fishing licenses, will be filed in county court, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The higher courts have held that a justice of the peace is without jurisdiction to try prosecution wherein money penalty and option or forfeiture of license are both involved. Accordingly, instructions have gone out to all wardens to take these cases to county court.

Cases still may be filed in justice court where no license is involved, such as an arrest for fishing with a rod and reel in a home county without a license.

Several counties in Texas already have been filing cases under county court law, according to the director.

CLEAN ELECTRIC COOKING

Utensils keep their bright new look . . . walls, curtains and woodwork stay decorator-bright . . . all with minimum washing and care . . . when you cook electrically. Electric heat is as clean as electric light, and is transferred to utensils by direct contact for maximum cleanliness and efficiency. The radiant-heat electric oven requires no draft of air into and out of it, so heat remains inside and there is no excess of cooking vapors to smudge kitchen walls. Visit your electric range dealer soon. Find out for yourself how clean electric cooking can be. And discover its other advantages of coolness, speed, accuracy and automatic operation.

At a recent meeting of the Fact Finders Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church, the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Kay Park; vice president, Jill Guest; and secretary, Verganna Goswick. The vice president, Jill Guest, appointed Dorothy Ewing and Janet Stephens as group leaders. Mrs. W. A. Lewis is teacher of the class.

Ranger Teachers Attend Opening Meeting of Club

The Beta Upsilon Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday morning, Oct. 10, at 9:30 for a re-assembly coffee at the Woman's Club in Cisco. Mrs. Josephine Clements welcomed the members and presided at a brief business session. Mrs. Ina Stamey presented the year-books. Miss Anna McEyer of Ranger discussed the topic, "Let's Learn Our Constitution."

Abilene Garden Club Hosts Fall Meeting of District VIII, TGC

The annual fall meeting of the District VIII, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. was hosted by the Abilene Garden Club of Abilene. Registration started at 8 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 8, in the Abilene Garden Center.

A warm and sincere welcome was extended to each one present by Mayor George L. Minter, Jr. Mrs. L. W. Hollis, state vice-president, introduced the state president, Mrs. Frank G. Harmon of Dallas, who spoke about state projects. Addressing approximately 240 women, Mrs. Harmon said, "When you increase the beauty of your city and neighborhood, you reflect beauty and courage in your looking glass." She also commented on the background of the construction of a headquarters building in Fort Worth for the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., which will be ready for use in November, and she appealed for financial support. The $65,000 structure will be the first state garden headquarters building to be completed in the U. S. Only recently, a national headquarters was established in St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. George L. Stephens of Abilene, district governor, presided at the morning business session and called for reports from the 18 district committee chairmen.

Mrs. O. D. Bradford of Winters announced future convention dates. Sweetwater Garden Clubs will host the spring district meeting March 22. The 1960 fall meeting will be held in Ozona. The date will be announced later. The 1960 spring meeting will be in Coleman.

Mrs. Stephen appointed Mrs. E. G. Thornton of Olney as chairman of the nominating committee. Elected to serve with her were Mrs. W. J. Bryant of Stamford and Mrs. J. F. Hendrix of Sweetwater.

The Lazy Daisy Group of the Abilene Club was in charge of construction arrangements and the luncheon at the Sands Hotel. Mrs. W. H. Clem of Ranger gave the invocation. The afternoon program at the Garden Center was entitled "Tables Around the Clock" and featured table arrangements for various occasions. Mrs. W. D. Fagan was coordinator. Short talks on the decorations were given by Mrs. Maurice Brooks Dale Littleton, Max Leach, Clifford Kyker, Seth Cox, and Tom E. Robinson.

Before the adjournment, courtesy resolutions were submitted by Mrs. A. Levy of Sweetwater. Nine members of the Ranger Garden Club who attended were: Mrs. L. L. Bruce, W. H. Clem, P. T. Smith, W. J. VanBibber, J. Floyd Kittingworth, Buck Wallace, Robert Jackson, Joe Jackson, and H. S. Perry. There was one ex-Rangerite present, Mrs. Pat Thomas of Abilene.

Jellied Salad—Purple Plum Good!

Idaho's Fresh Purple Plums (Italian prunes) are here again—large, sweet, delicious—so good for pleasant munching, sliced with cream and a sprinkling of powdered sugar or a drizzle of honey for breakfast or dessert, in salads of so many kinds. Put them into pies, cobblers, frozen desserts, upsidown cakes, quick breads; on your canning cupboard shelves as jams, preserves and conserves, spicy relishes.

And, because their season is so short, do stow some away in your freezer. No peeling, no blanching; no worry-over fruit turning dark; no fuss in removing seeds, for these are "free stones" and zip right out; no fancy syruping. The prune halves, sugared lightly and properly packaged, will keep for months, to enjoy as you do those from today's marketing.

But, fresh or frozen, do try this luscious and beautiful salad. It's "plum good."

Fresh Purple Plum Jellied Salad

3/4 cup sugar 1 cup coarsely-chopped peeled apples
3/4 cup water 1 1/2 cups seeded white grape halves
1 package lemon gelatin 1/2 cup coarsely-cut walnuts OR
1/2 cup orange juice 1/2 cup miniature marshmallows
1 1/2 cups coarsely-chopped Idaho Fresh Purple Plums
Bring sugar and water to the boiling point. Dissolve gelatin in the hot syrup. Add orange juice and rind. Chill. When it starts to thicken, stir in remaining ingredients. Pour into oiled individual molds or a 1 1/2 quart mold. Chill until firm. Turn out on cold plate and garnish with crisp greens. Serve with mayonnaise to which has been added a little orange juice and rind, with whipped cream folded in if desired. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Good Taste

by EMILY POST

Dining In A Man's Apartment

Dear Mrs. Post: I live in a community where there are quite a few unmarried men and women in their thirties, mostly of a professional class. Not too infrequently one of these unmarried men will invite a woman friend to his apartment for dinner. He prepares the dinner, acts as host and he and his guest dine alone with no others present. In my opinion, this is socially improper but I am told that it is no longer considered improper for a man to entertain this way.

Answer: Even today this cannot be considered proper and most certainly risks serious criticism.

Impressed With Her Education

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a friend who is a college graduate and tries to impress everyone with her knowledge of the English language by using long words when shorter ones would do just as well. I think it is very pretentious and in bad taste.

Answer: It is true that shorter words are in best taste, especially those of Saxon origin. This does not mean, however, that one can't use long words, but merely that to reach out for a long word instead of a shorter one would seem to be showing off.

A Belated Wedding Announcement

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been married secretly for over two years. For business reasons this could not be made public. I would like to announce my marriage now but do not wish to disclose the real wedding date. Will you please tell me if this would be proper?

Answer: I think you will build up a great deal of distress and confusion for yourself if you do not frankly announce the true wedding date. It does not matter how long ago or how lately it occurred. This detail should not be kept secret.

Welcoming Nephew's Fiance Into Family

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's nephew is going to be married soon. He has been engaged for the past year but we have never met his fiancee. My sister-in-law thinks we are showing very little interest and that we should have invited her to our house. I disagree and think that it was up to my husband's nephew to bring the girl to our house to meet us, or that my sister-in-law should have invited us to her house when her son's fiancee was present and introduced us to her.

Answer: You and your husband, as her future aunt and uncle, should have written to your nephew's fiancee welcoming her into the family and inviting her to your house, if not for a meal, at least to come in for tea so that you could have the pleasure of meeting her.

A Housewarming

Dear Mrs. Post: Some friends of ours have just moved into a new house and are giving a very large housewarming. Does an invitation to this type of party require a present? There seems to be some doubt about this. Some say yes, and others no. If a present is taken, what kind should it be?

Answer: Only those who are very intimate friends would feel inclined to take a present. Any thing that fits into a house, from a parlor ornament to a kitchen implement, would be proper.

Another fresh one...from Pontiac!

The 1960 Catalina Convertible
You find it attractive because of the simplicity of lines; the absence of over-design.
You're drawn to its crisp freedom, its perfect form, its exhilarating freshness.
You'll find it amiably obedient because of Wide-Track Wheels and a thoroughly new suspension system. Wide-Track firms the foundation, stabilizes, balances. A softer suspension makes it responsive, quick and easy to take direction.
Pontiac's Tempest engines for 1960 are more vigorous than ever. You have a wide choice of V-8 power packages, ranging from the high performance 425 to the economical 425E which prefers regular grade gasoline.
The car, the keys, the catalog, the courtesy—all await you at your Pontiac dealer.
Wide-Track Wheels give you swiftness, stability, solid comfort. You maneuver with skillful nervousness, accurate control. It's the sweetest, most precise, most rewarding driving you've ever felt.

YOUR Independent AGENT
"SERVES YOU FIRST"
How would you like to RE-BUY everything in your house?
—if everything burned TONIGHT?
The furnishings in your home are probably worth 5 or 10 times what you think they are.
You've accumulated them one at a time—a chair, a book, a picture, a suit of clothes, a set of dishes—so you underestimate their total value.
Your insurance on these things is probably only a fraction of what it should be. For example, just list the things in one room, and see! Or ask us for a form on which to make a complete inventory of your household possessions. And we'll tell you how inexpensive complete America Fore protection against fire loss really is.
