At the present time they are sponsoring a therapy program, taken each meeting a therapy gift taken to Ranger General Hospital.

Rangers Will Start Conference Play Against Navarro JC

The Ranger College Rangers are looking forward to starting conference play Saturday night in Corsicana against Navarro Junior College.

Rangers' Probable Line Up

RANGERS	Wt.	Pos.	Wt.	Navarro	Wt.
Jackie Waggoner	170	Q-back	167	Wade
Jimmy Knickerbocker	155	H-back	175	Land

Howard Stallings	195	Tackle	200	Anderson
Jim Hamilton	170	End	185	Browning
Wayne Cromer	170	End	185	Hickman

Both teams have lost two games this year. Ranger received their losses from Cameron of Oklahoma and from Texarkana. Navarro was defeated by Tyler and Victoria. Ranger has won five games and Navarro has won four.

Both teams defeated Paris, Ranger 28 to 9 and Navarro 12 to 7. Also each team has a win over Murry State of Oklahoma, Ranger edging Murry 14 to 12. Navarro has one conference victory, a win over Blinn Junior College. Ranger will play their first conference game when they meet Navarro.

The game will be a big one for both teams, each needing it to stay up in the conference race. Henderson County, the present power in the Texas game with power will be watching the game with skeptical anticipation as to who will be their rival in the fight for the conference crown.

The eyes of the Texas conference are rapidly turning toward the Ranger's slot T professional type offense. The slot T type offense is primarily a passing offense, as can be readily seen by the passing record of the Rangers. They have completed 78 passes of 171 attempts.

On passing alone they have gathered in a total of 1069 yards. This would make any team raise up its eyes. No doubt the next few games the Rangers play, they will face teams that have drilled many hours on pass defense.

Lineman of the Week
Jim Hamilton, end for the Rangers, made the top lineman of the week in Texas Junior Colleges this week in the Dallas Morning News.

Hamilton, 180 pound sophomore end for the Rangers, hurt Tyler with two big touchdowns the Apaches, 26-23. Hamilton intercepted a pass and raced 28 yards to score one TD and teamed with Quarterback Jackie Waggoner on an 18-yard scoring play. He was a standout on defense. Waggoner made honorable mention on the same listing.

Ranger College Player of Week

Jim Hamilton, a six-foot, one hundred eighty-five pound sophomore, won unanimous honors as Ranger College Player of the Week for his truly spectacular play against Tyler Saturday night.

According to Coach Babbs, his catches were a key factor in defeating Tyler; and Babbs, an ex-pro fullback for the San Francisco 49ers, added that Hamilton made fantastic catches that would give trouble to a seasoned professional end. In Coach Puryear's opinion, Hamilton's was the best individual effort all year. Hamilton's spirit and hustle rubbed off on the whole team, certainly the decisive factor in the victory.

He was also chosen Lineman of the Week by the Dallas News this week. This is quite an honor in that players from all the junior colleges in Texas are eligible.

Jim participated in high school football, basketball, and track. At Ranger College, he also plays basketball and earned his letter last year.

Hamilton has attended Abilene Christian College and is one of the few married team members at Ranger. A quiet young man from Seagraves, Texas, he is a well-known figure on the campus and a very well-liked one. A physical education major, Jim plans either to teach, or to coach.

Bulldogs Battle Bearcats For 7-AA Survival

The Ranger Bulldogs will entertain the Ballinger Bearcats at Bulldog Stadium Friday night.

It will be a game of who will drop into a tie for the cellar. Three teams are now tied for fourth place with two losses each, while three teams are tied for first place with two wins. The winner between Ballinger and Ranger will fall into fourth place while the winner will be tied with Eastland for last place unless Eastland can upset the high-flying Lobos of Cisco. The other encounter in 7-AA play will have Winters and Coleman in a battle of who plays Cisco with an undefeated record.

The last two games that Ranger has played, Cisco and Winters, has seen some new boys advance into the defensive picture. Against Winters Chuck Garrett led in tackles and in the Cisco game Richard Wilhelm was the tackle leader. Records show the defense for the two games as follows: Winters, Chuck Garrett and Richard Robie, five tackles and three assists each; Joe Barker, five tackles and two assists; and Ronny Daskevich and Homer Montgomery, a total of six tackles and assists.

The game Friday night is due to be quite a battle of aerial warfare as Ranger is quite apt at tossing the pigskin, and Ballinger completed four touchdowns passes against Cisco. Cisco is the only team that both Ranger and Ballinger have played this year. By a comparison of the two games it would give Ballinger the edge, having held Cisco to a 18 point lead. Ranger made a full offensive showing against Cisco, but defensively they couldn't hold the fast Cisco backs. There was 46 points difference in the score.

Friday night will be a big night for the Ranger High School Band. They will present the 1959 band sweetheart at the halftime ceremony. Nominees for the crown are Barbara Craig, Linda Drennan and Rita Sipes, all of the senior class.

Community Chest The Salvation Army

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles about the organizations represented in the Ranger Community Chest fund raising campaign that is soon to begin.)

The Salvation Army has a Service Unit Committee in this community composed of leading local citizens and directed by them. This committee has the power to act as they see fit on any case they handle, always keeping in mind, however, that The Salvation Army does not wish to duplicate any other existing agency service nor to conflict with any previously established service program. Thus, the local Service Unit Committee is able to make its own decisions without having to consult a distant headquarters so that whatever need arises can be met without delay or red tape.

Money raised for the work of the Salvation Army in Texas is used in Texas. In fact, only 1 percent of all funds received in the state goes outside the state boundaries to take care of territorial, national and international expenses. Contributions show I know that 99 percent of every dollar given to the Salvation Army in Texas is spent in Texas.

In times of prosperity as well as in times of war, there are many dark areas of poverty and despair where the average citizen, no matter how well intentioned he may be, can not enter, even though he may know full well that help is most urgently needed.

It is altogether fitting that, as we launch the fund-raising campaign of the Ranger Community Chest, with which welfare work in our community is financed, including the Salvation Army, we turn in gratitude to those who do invade these dark areas of poverty and despair and meet need at point of need by administering to the physical and spiritual needs of those in distress.

Unarmed, except for love of their fellowman and an eagerness to be of service, men and women of The Salvation Army walk in the dark and narrow alleyways of run-down neighborhoods, visit wards of hospitals and prison corridors, offering friendly help to the homeless, the destitute, the sick, the alcoholic, and those held behind prison bars.

Frightened unmarried mothers, neglected babies, families beset with problems, the homeless transients, the hungry and needy in all walks of life, are among the millions of all races and creeds, without regard to color, who know the warm smile beneath the blue bonnet, the helping hand and the undaunted courage of The Salvation Army men and women to whom no human problem is too difficult to understand.

T. B. A Salvation Army says "Trouble is our Business," and its unformed personnel prove the truth of this statement every day. (Continued On Page Four)

"Battle Border"

Lifts known facts about Texas boundaries.

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE.

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles outlining the numerous boundary conflicts dating back to 1716, pointing up little known facts which shaped Texas of today.) In claiming the Rio Grande to its source in present day Southern Colorado, the Republic of Texas was faced with establishing possession. Attorney General Will Wilson pointed out: "Since possession is nine points of the law, the Texas weakness was its claim to a chunk of territory not occupied by settlers or controlled by militia." In the northwestern reaches of the Texas' claim was old Santa Fe. "Lamar, President of the Republic of Texas, figured that if these people would consent to becoming Texans it would go a long way toward solving the problem of actual occupation," Wilson says. The Attorney General is an author on Texas history. Out of Lamar's idea sprang the disastrous Santa Fe Expedition. The real purpose was to persuade the New Mexicans peacefully to accept and recognize the jurisdiction of the Republic of Texas. Over 300 men, including traders and soldiers, left Brushy Creek near Austin. "I have a goat ranch on Brushy Creek and I cherish the old camp site which is on the site of Kinney's Fort about two miles east of present Round Rock," Wilson observes. The site is recorded by a marker erected by the school children of Williamson County. They thought Santa Fe was only 500 miles away. It turned out to be 1300 miles in the long way the expedition traveled. Three months on the trail, Indian attacks, starvation, and poor

What Do You Know About Bread?

In recent years much has been said and written about bread, particularly by food faddists, and much of it is false. Here are some questions and answers to set the record straight. They present facts obtained from authoritative sources.

Does bread belong in the reducing diet? Definitely. Almost all professional prescribed reducing diets include bread. It is a food for energy and health and supplies vitamins and minerals necessary for proper nutrition.

Is white bread low in nutrition? No. Any elements lost in milling are replaced through the enrichment process. Because of enrichment with essential vitamins, white bread is equal in nutritional value with whole wheat bread, according to leading authorities.

Is bread important in a balanced diet? The United States Department of Agriculture in developing the "seven basic food groups" essential to a balanced diet gives bread a prominent place.

The contribution of enriched white bread to the nutritional health of America was well summed up by Dr. W. W. Bauer, Director of Health Education for the American Medical Association. "Recent years have seen a remarkable improvement in the nutritional health of Americans," Dr. Bauer said. "Much of this improvement has been credited to the enrichment of white bread, that tasty, beautifully textured bread on every table in America at every meal. Before this enrichment, nutritional deficiencies were widespread among our people. Today, physicians do not see them any more."

Is bread a good calcium source? Yes. Bread is second only to milk among common foods as a source of calcium, the mineral so vital for bone strength and so valuable to general well being.

Do growing children need bread? Yes. They need it for its calcium, for its tissue-building protein; for its important vitamins and minerals. Children's frequent requests for bread are a natural expression of this need of their bodies.

Is bread a good food bargain? Yes. At current prices, ten cents worth of bread daily supplies about one-third of the daily needs for protein, one-fourth of an office worker's daily calorie needs, a good percentage of the daily requirements of thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and iron, and traces of other vitamins and minerals.

How does today's bread compare with the bread grandma made? The one big advantage of grandma's bread was that you could smell it baking. But bread baked at home did not provide as much nutrition as modern baker's bread. Today's loaf contains more milk, more vitamins, more shortening and yeast, and more calcium and iron.

Holiday Pancake Surprise!

Straight from New England come these old-time pancake treats. They are excellent to serve as a luncheon entree, with their filling of cottage cheese and their special topping of cranberry relish made with Log Cabin Syrup, to be served warm. To make the relish grind 2 cups of cranberries and a quarter of a fresh lemon (seeds, of course). Combine with a cup of maple-blended syrup, chill in refrigerator several hours to blend flavors, then heat, but do not boil.

Plymouth Pancakes
2 cups ready-mix for pancakes 1 tablespoon shortening, melted
2 cups milk 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 cups cottage cheese

Combine ingredients except cottage cheese; mix lightly. Bake 6 large pancakes on hot lightly greased griddle, using about 2/3 cup batter for each. As each pancake is baked, roll up and keep warm while remaining pancakes are being baked. Then unroll, spread each with about 1/3 cup cottage cheese, and roll again. Serve immediately with warm cranberry relish sauce. Makes 6 pancakes, or 6 servings.

NET WORTH
Any day now you (and Uncle Sam) may need to figure out your "net worth".

The Internal Revenue Service may use the "net worth" method to check a taxpayer's income tax records. It compares what he was worth, say, five years ago, with what he is worth today. Then it looks to see if his increase in net worth compares well with his reported income during that time, after allowing for his estimated expenditures. By this method, the government can detect tax deficiencies, fraud, or evasion, or assess tax where the taxpayer has not kept records or has lost them.

At a trial for tax evasion, the government must first prove what a taxpayer was worth at the beginning of a period, and what he is worth at the end of the period. The difference is his increase in net worth. The question: Has his wealth increased between the two periods by unreported taxable amounts?

For example: John Doe, a taxpayer, had little wealth when he started his career. He often borrowed. After four years his net worth grew much larger. In court John could not explain how this happened. So, to cut a long story short, he had to pay the tax, plus interest, and civil and criminal penalties.

Richard Roe, another taxpayer, was worth $50,000 in 1946, but in 1950 the government claimed he was worth $200,000. Roe tried to show, but couldn't that he had much more money in 1946 than the government showed. For alas, the government's old tax returns showed that Richard had reported a small income in 1946, and had mortgaged his home and business. Besides, Roe spent freely much more than his reported income, and could not show that he received gifts or other non-taxable money. So the court found a large unreported income, and Richard was convicted for fraud.

By keeping proper records of all transactions over a period of years, a taxpayer can properly account for receipt and expenditure of income so that he can forestall the revenue service from using the net worth method.

But I haven't got that much!

Ever add up what you could LOSE?

You have perhaps often added up what you are worth. Ever add up what you COULD LOSE? It might perhaps be several times what you are worth.

Example: you may injure somebody, and the law may take all you're worth and attach your future income for years to come.

Example: your house may burn and it may cost you twice its original price to replace it.

Sometime add up all the losses you MIGHT have and you'll see that you are under-insured at many points — against theft, fires, lawsuits, embezzlement, interruption of business, etc.

Gloomy? Well, the purpose of the America Fore insurance policies we write is to end this kind of gloomy thinking.

A Book One Already Has
Dear Mrs. Post: Some guests who stayed with me recently sent me a very expensive book (they know my love for books) with their bread and butter letter. It so happens that we have a copy of this book in our library and everyone has read it. Do I acknowledge the gift without saying anything, or would it be wiser to try to have it exchanged for something else?
Answer: Write a note of thanks for the book without saying anything about having read it. Perhaps, if the book is from your own local book store, you might take it yourself and exchange it for one you have not read. But do not send it back to your guests nor ever tell them that the book on your own library shelves is not their book.

Including Stepfather In Family Picture
Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married next month and a problem has come up that I need help with. My first husband died ten years ago and I remarried two years later. My son and my husband think the world of each other and are very close. I would like to know if it would be proper to include my husband in the family picture that will be taken at the wedding. Some members of my family feel that as he is not my son's real father, he should not be included in this family picture.
Answer: You most certainly may, and in fact, should, include your husband in the family pic-

Bridge In Young Man's Apartment
Dear Mrs. Post: I am a young man. Both my parents are dead. Another young man and I have rented a furnished apartment. I have no older person available and I would like to know if it would be violating the conventions to have two girls in our apartment to play bridge?
Answer: This will be all right so long as the game is over and you see the girls home at a reasonable hour.
Girls Going To Boys' Houses
Dear Mrs. Post: Around here the girls go to the houses of boys just as they do those of their girl friends. Nobody thinks anything wrong with this except my grandmother who lives with us. She is shocked because I do this and keeps saying that it's cheapening for girls to go to boys' houses. I can't see it her way. Can you?
Answer: If you went alone, I agree with your grandmother that it would be cheapening. But I see nothing wrong in your going in groups if this is the custom in your community and you are made to feel welcome by the families in each of these houses.

Giving A Birthday Party
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband will soon be celebrating his fiftieth birthday and I would like very much to give a party for him. Would it be proper to state on the invitations that it is a birthday party, or would this obligate them to bring presents?
Answer: Because an invitation to a birthday party does indicate that a guest should bring a present, I feel that only family and very intimate friends should be invited to one for a grown person. If, however, you wish to give a larger party and do not want to obligate anyone to bring a present, you could add at the bottom of the birthday invitations, "No gifts please!"
A Dirty Fork
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what to do when dining in a friend's house and you notice that a fork at your place is dirty. This happened to me the other evening and I was at a loss to know what to do without embarrassing my hostess. Is there a tactful way to handle a situation such as this one?
Answer: You might arrange to have the fork fall to the floor, then after you pick it up you will have an obvious excuse for wiping it off with your napkin.
Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-25, entitled, "Menus for all Occasions," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Brown Patch In Lawns Can Be Controlled

COLLEGE STATION — Brown patch disease in St. Augustine grass and Bermudagrass is taking a heavy toll in central and east central Texas now and will probably continue until late winter and early spring. This disease can be controlled if proper measures are used, according to Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist. Pentachloronitrobenzene (PCNB), 75 percent wettable powder, can be used for control. One pound mixed with water will cover 1000 square feet of turf. Enough water should be mixed with the chemical to thoroughly soak the solution throughout the old grass clippings and down to the soil beneath the grass. Smith cautions against applying excess amounts of the chemical. Only two applications a year will give control, and more than this may result in a toxicity problem. Where the disease is already present, applications are more effective if made during the first 24 hours following a rain or irrigation. If the disease covers a large area at a time of application you can expect some results in two to three weeks.

Proper use of fertilizer and water will help prevent the disease, notes the pathologist. Brown patch is apt to occur on lawns that have received excess amounts of water and fertilizer. Grass should not be watered late in the evening.

Other hints for preventing brown patch are: fill in with soil and level low spots where water tends to accumulate, avoid letting thick layers of old grass clippings or "thatch" accumulate, and mow properly.

The Little Things We Notice—

... in preparing your abstracts often grow into big things later on. For example, if a deed is drawn by a careless person it is sure to be full of errors and these errors will show up in your abstract as originally written. The moral is, have your title instruments prepared only by qualified conveyancers and from a legal standpoint the lawyer is the only person who can do this work for you.

Mona Rae Woods, James Watson Exchange Wedding Vows In Abilene

The double ring ceremony of Miss Mona Rae Woods, daughter of MS Sgt and Mrs. Harold L. Burleson of Eielson A.F.B. in Fairbanks, Alaska, and James Eddie Watson was officiated by Chaplain James Hayes, Captain, in the Dyess Chapel at Dyess Air Force Base Sunday at 4 p.m.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Watson of 1482 Rosewood, Abilene. The chapel was decorated with gladioli and candles mounted in candelabra.

The bridal party entered to the "Bridal Chorus" and the organist, Miss Maxine Vandergriff, and the soloist, Miss Barbara Vandergriff, both of Ranger, presented the bride's song, "Because." The party exited to the Wedding March from Mendelssohn's.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Burl Griffith, wore a ballerina length bridal gown of brocade satin fashioned with an Empire bodice and accented with a satin band and bow. The Sabrina neckline dropped to a "V" in back above the satin bow, complimented with long sleeves tapering to a point at the hand. From the satin band developed a softly-draped train which added graceful fullness to the full gathered skirt billowing magnificently from the waist. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. She wore a crown of seed pearls with a waist length tul'e veil flowing from the crown. The bride carried a bridal bouquet of gardenia among pom mums and white spiraea.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Watson, sister to the groom, wore a dress of blue velveteen with a flowing skirt and a scooped neckline accented by a V in the front. Her headress was of tulle and bow that matched the dress. She carried a bouquet of white pom mums. Mrs. Doyle Lynn Clark, bridesmatron, and Miss Julia Beth Skaggs, bridesmaid, wore identical dresses of blue organza over rayon taffeta with royal blue velveteen jackets. Their headresses were of silk organza bows and tulle to match their dresses.

The flower girls were Sheila Crenshaw and Veanda Griffith, both cousins of the bride, wore dresses of blue organza flowing over rayon taffeta. They wore matching tulle and organza bows on their heads.

Travis Watson served as the groom's best man. Acting as groomsmen were Tom McMullan of Abilene and Robert Dale Watson of Abilene. Ushers were Royce Griffin of Big Spring and Donald Watson of Abilene.

The ring bearer, Dale Griffin, age five, was dressed in a dark party suit, white shirt and bow tie.

The mother of the groom wore a dress of blue silk and a white carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held at the groom's parents home in Abilene with the bride's aunts, Mrs. Rita Crenshaw and Nell Foster serving. The wedding cake was three-tier in blue and white. The table decorations also carried out the bride's color scheme of blue and white.

For the couple's wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride chose a blue woolen suit with black accessories. The couple will return in one week to their home in Abilene where the groom has established a cabinet building business.

The bride has traveled to many different places due to the fact that her father is in the Air Force. She lived in Guam in '55-'56, Mrs. Watson graduated from Abilene High School in '58 and then attended Draughton's Business College.

The groom is a graduate of Birdville High School in Ft. Worth and also a graduate of Ranger Junior College. He is now employed in contracting and cabinet making business in Abilene.

Because of Air Force duty in Alaska, the parents of the bride were unable to attend the wedding.

Used as original upholstery for many modern cars.

Protect and beautify your car seats with covers made of the same beautiful upholstery fabric found in many modern automobiles. Heavy Viscose is a long-wearing miracle fabric that is tear-resistant, colorfast, burn-resistant, wrinkle-proof and non-static. Contrasting vinyl coated leatherette trim looks like expensive leather. Attractive Mylar piping adds to the beauty. Blue or Green.
