As I See Ranger

By Gene Townsend

The editor of the Eastland Telegram, who has long been noted for his willingness to do battle (on paper) with other columnists, seems to have lost his spirit, along with his loyal backing of the Mavericks. It seems that he nor the publisher of the Telegram either one is willing to wager as much as a cup of coffee on the Mavericks' chances of winning the ball game Friday night.

Remember back in the days when Ranger competed in the Oil Belt Football District with San Angelo, Abilene and Breckenridge to name a few? Those days are long gone and near forgotten due to the increase in population in some of the larger towns, and the decrease in population in the towns such as Ranger, Eastland and Cisco.

It seems that there is one person in the county that would like to see Eastland County get back into the same class with those before mentioned larger towns. Dr. James Whittington of Eastland gave the following report, in part, to the Eastland Rotary Club this week.

Everyone talks about it, but there are not many people who want to do anything about it. We feel that the time is near when we will have to do something about it. The ideal solution to our school problem would be for each town to grow to about 15,000 people each, and each town have its own perfect school system; but in the foreseeable future we cannot see this. Actually we need a good school system for growth and not because of it.

This plan I present will not be perfect, and many details will have to be perfected, but I believe that it will answer most of the criticism I have heard against such a plan. Consolidation of present school systems is impossible because of the financial condition of the separate systems. It is not fair to expect one system to assume too heavy a fiscal load when it is the problem of the community to get its own house in order. We would like a system that could support itself, give proper education, and at the same time reduce the expense of our present system. This plan would do it.

THE PLAN

1. Establish a rural high school district to cover the whole of Eastland County. It would be an accredited high school of three (12, 11, 10th) grades only. It would be a separate taxing unit with a tax rate of close to 35 cents per $100.00 evaluation.
2. The present school system would send their high school students to this new high school.
3. The location of the school would be far enough away from any town that it will not be identified with any town. No school bus would go through any town to get to it. Its location would be influenced by geography and population.
4. If desired, the present junior college program could be incorporated into such a system. It would be similar to that found in San Angelo, Texas.

Such a plan would offer to our children as good an education as found anywhere in Texas. Small children would not have to ride the bus any more than at present. It would decrease the operation and maintenance of our present systems and allow us to make improvements on our present elementary school system. Also, one must not forget that such a school system would produce quite a football team!

The plan would, when and if the times come when it is needed, be a good plan to follow. It has its merits and could be worked into a very good plan, but what would happen to that old rivalry between Ranger, Eastland and Cisco.

And speaking of rivalry, the long lived feud on the gridiron between Eastland and Ranger won't die because of Eastland reverting back into Class A in football. Ranger and Eastland got together and scheduled a game where the open date was on the schedule this year. Ranger also picked up another Class A opponent for next year. Cross Plains replaces Diamond Hill. The Bulldogs will play ten straight weeks next year and have an open date at the end of the season. That will make it nice for the week of rest before they play for District. Well, if the schedule remains that way for a few years it could be so. Ranger is down in football now, and prospects for

The Ranger College Rangers, although out of the Texas Conference race, still have a big one to win Saturday night.

The Rangers will host the Blinn Junior College Buccaneers in the last home game of the season and the Ranger's annual homecoming game in Bulldog Stadium at 8 p.m. Saturday.

The gala event will start with

Ranger College Player of Week

This week the Ranger College coaches selected Dean Faulkenberry as Ranger College player of the week.

As Ranger lost the game against Henderson County by only a two point margin, it is obvious that the whole team played a good game. Dean Faulkenberry was one of the main protagonists in this hard-fought battle. Had Ranger scored on the conversion, Faulkenberry's touchdown would have tied or won the game. His sparkling catches and electrifying runs were prominent throughout the contest. All that is asked of a football player is that he put forth his best efforts, and that is exactly what Faulkenberry did.

Faulkenberry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Faulkenberry of Seagraves. As a high school athlete, Dean won letters and honors in football, basketball, and track. In the fall of 1957 he went to Eastern New Mexico University for a year, coming to Ranger at midyear, 1958.

Last year in Ranger College he lettered in both football and basketball. As can be judged by his selection as vice president of the sophomore class, Faulkenberry is both a prominent and popular figure on the college campus. His major is business administration.

Fred Orsini Of Eastland Dies Tuesday

Fred Orsini, 70, of Eastland, died in the Ranger General Hospital at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Orsini was born in 1890 in Italy, he came to the United States in 1922 and had been making his home at Eastland since that time. Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church in Strawn at 2:30 p.m. Thursday with the Rev. Larry Stallings officiating and assisted by the Rev. Rucker.

Burial followed in the Mt. Marion Cemetery with Malcom Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Survivors include one sister Mrs. C. Bernard of Fresno, California and two brothers, Jack Orsini of Strawn and Pete Orsini of Italy. Also many nieces and nephews.

From The Halls Of R. H. S.

At last the time has arrived. The Bulldogs meet the Mavericks! Although the Bulldogs shown very much promise in 11 games, neither have the Mavericks. The game should prove to be quite a battle. As always the game Friday night will be the most exciting game of the year. The spirit of R.H.S. rings through the halls. Instead of saying, "Hi" to the boys, the students are saying, "Beat Eastland!" So come on Bulldogs, BEAT EASTLAND!

We all regret that Ronnie Daskewich won't be able to play Friday night. But he will be there in spirit. The candidates for FFA Sweetheart are now down to one from each class. They are Barbara Crabbs, senior, Sue Cantwell, junior, Donna Drennan, sophomore, and Patsy Naj, freshman.

Scout Leaders To Be Honored Thurs. At Banquet

The Northeast District of the Comanche Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America will hold their annual banquet to honor unit leaders in the Roof Garden of the Village Hotel in Eastland at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith of the Supreme Court of Texas will be the speaker. Justice Smith is a noted after dinner speaker.

The Northeast District of the Comanche Trail Council includes Eastland, Erath, Stephens and the north half of Comanche Counties. The public is invited and urged to attend the banquet. There will be a charge of $1.25 per plate.

'Roaring Ranger' Theme of 1959 Homecoming

The theme of Ranger College Homecoming Parade is "Roaring Ranger." "Roaring Ranger" denotes the oil-boom days of the roaring twenties. College students are busy at work on interesting decorations for floats portraying various aspects of life during the oil boom. Original ideas will prevail as expressions of different personalities on the campus, and results should be a colorful array of floats of various shapes and sizes.

In addition to college entries, there will be floats representing merchants and town organizations, visiting bands, sheriff's posse, and other groups of interest.

New Officers Elected By Alliance Here

Lively Brown and Ralph Perkins were elected to fill offices resigned by the president and vice president of the Ministerial Alliance at a recent meeting of the Alliance.

Lively Brown, pastor of the First Methodist Church was elected to fill the term of president, vacated by Jack Barker, former pastor of the First Christian Church, Ralph Perkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church was elected to fill the unexpired term of K. E. Edmonds, former pastor of the Eastside Baptist Church. The officers were vacated due to the former officers resigning their pulpits to take other positions.

Bulldogs Will Try To Corral Mavericks

Friday night will see two important games in T-AA district play. That will be the game between Cisco and Coleman which will determine the winner of the district, and the game between Ranger and Eastland which will determine the occupant of the cellar in the district. To the Ranger fans the most important game of the week will be the one to determine the cellar occupants. The other game is in most everyone's mind already decided, with Cisco being the heavy favorite.

No one wants to make any predictions as to the results of the Bulldog-Maverick battle. It seems that the fans at Eastland think that Ranger will win and the fans at Ranger think that Eastland will win. It should prove to be a very interesting contest. Earlier in the season it looked like Eastland would be the favorite to win the game. But due to heavy injuries to the Eastland squad, and their inability to win any of their last five starts the odds have been cut down considerably. Ranger was picked early in the season to occupy the cellar, and it seems that the predictions may be right on Ranger. Eastland, on the other hand, was picked to be a contender for the title. They have been doing everything in their power to prove this wrong. So the question remains, will Ranger be willing to accept the verdict of the sports predictors and occupy that bottom spot, or will Eastland force them out of that position with their erratic performance.

According to the records it is too early for Eastland to come up with a win over the Ranger Bulldogs. They are supposed to win only in the years that have a seven in them. Having won only in 1947 and 1957 in the last two decades. But this year Eastland hasn't been doing anything that they were supposed to do. This unpredictable attitude may be the margin that they need to beat the Bulldogs.

This being the final district game for each team, they have each played four mutual opponents in the district. In comparative scores in district play the figures look like this: Eastland 0, Winters 20, Ranger 6, Winters 22, Eastland 8, Cisco 25, Ranger 18, Cisco 64, Eastland 8, Coleman 28, Ranger 6, Coleman 28; Ballinger 46, Eastland 14 and Ranger 6, Ballinger 46.

Ranger FFA Boys Place Second In Grass Judging

Ranger High School Future Farmers Grass Judging Team placed second in the Palo Pinto Soil Conservation District grass and soil judging contest held at Mineral Wells Saturday.

The Ranger team consisting of Boy Gene Alsworth, David Rodgers and Dwight Scullers won second place in the grass judging contest.

Also competing but not placing was the oil judging team composed of Johnny King, Mike Fisher and Gene Sue. Fern won first in both grass and soil judging. Other towns competing were Mineral Wells, Santo, L'bon and Milan.

Each team has scored 30 points in district play. Ranger has given up 128 points and Eastland has given up 129 points.

To carry the comparison even further in first downs, Eastland has made 39 and Ranger 46; in yards rushing Eastland has made 508 and Ranger 434; in yards passing Eastland has made 190, and Ranger has made 492. Total yardage for the four games is 698 for Eastland 926 yards for Ranger.

Since district play each team has had a major injury to their squads. Eastland's Martin Day is out for the season with a broken foot, and Ranger's Ronnie Daskewich is out with a broken leg. Each was a starter on their team.

Winters 20, Ballinger 14

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of articles outlining the numerous boundary conflicts dating back to 1716, pointing up little known facts which shaped the Texas of today.)

Greer County lies at the base of the East side of the Texas Panhandle between the forks of Red River.

More than many people in that county did not know whether they were part of Texas or Oklahoma. The trouble goes back to the treaty between the United States and Spain fixing Red River as boundary at a time when Texas Panhandle area was unexplored wild Indian territory.

They did not even know Red River had two forks.

In 1882, Captain R. B. Marcy discovered two forks of the river and attempted to locate on the ground the 100 meridian fixed in the old treaty as the northern boundary of Spanish territory.

And his location caused the trouble.

Attorney General Will Wilson, currently fighting another boundary battle, that of the tidelands suit before the U. S. Supreme Court, pin-points the controversy.

"If the 100th meridian crossed below or downstream from the river's forking then the land belonged to Texas unquestionably.

In 1855 a treaty with the United States and the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians called for the ground location of the 100th meridian.

A. H. Jones and H. M. C. Brown, contract government surveyors, located their first boundary monument on the north bank of the south fork of Red River. They were convinced that the meridian crossed Red River 50 miles west of the junction of the forks.

The land in between seemed irrevocably headed for dispute.

The Texas legislature jumped into the middle of the issue and created a county out of the entire disputed area, Indians and all. That was in 1860.

The same year saw the beginning of the war between the states. The boundary dispute took a back seat until 1885 when Congress officially recognized the controversy and appointed officers to join with Texas representatives in ascertaining the point.

Any chance of this commission's accomplishing anything seemed doomed from the word go. Representing the United States were four army officers whose luggage consisted primarily of foregone conclusions, misconceptions of their function and a bag full of court martial tricks.

TRUST ARRANGEMENTS EXPLAINED

When property is placed in trust it is turned over to a trustee who will see to it that it is properly managed for the benefit of a person or persons you name as beneficiaries. It is a method of disposing of your property and may be used in conjunction with a will.

Trusts have many advantages. A trust may be used to provide income for persons unable to support themselves, to provide funds for a child's education, as a means of establishing an annuity, or to provide a gift for a charitable institution.

In these days of high taxes, a trust may be utilized to minimize the tax burden. If carefully planned, a trust may decrease income and inheritance taxes.

A trust arrangement works roughly in this manner. A person who desires to create a trust is called a grantor. The grantor chooses a trustee. The trustee may be a bank, an individual, or a trust company. The grantor through a trust instrument tells the trustee how to distribute the trust property or income. The trustee will then manage and distribute the trust proceeds or property in whatever manner the grantor desires.

A very common arrangement is to place the property in trust with directions to pay the income from the property to a wife for her life, and on her death the trust is to end and the property is to be distributed to the grantor's children.

An interesting type of trust is that which is sometimes called a spend-thrift trust. This is an arrangement whereby one sets up a certain sum of money to be given out to another at a definite rate per month or per year, or under definite restrictions.

This type of trust is generally used in wills where a person de-desires to leave money to an individual, but feels that the individual is not capable of properly caring for the money and that if left to them in full that the party receiving the money will spend and waste the money and not receive maximum benefit from it.

Trust property quite often consists of securities. The law regulates the type of property in which trust funds may be invested. However, the grantor may designate the type of investments the trustee may make.

The effectiveness of a trust is dependent largely on its proper creation. To avoid the pitfalls and dangers of lawsuits and ineffective trust operations, a trust instrument should be properly prepared. A poorly planned or carelessly drawn trust instrument can not only defeat the objectives of its creator, but may prove costly as well.

Your lawyer can advise you whether a trust arrangement will be advantageous in your particular situation, and is qualified by education and experience to prepare properly the legal papers necessary to set up a trust. If you have in mind some bank or trust company to act as trustee, that firm's trust officer will be glad to discuss the matter in a conference with you and your attorney.

Illegal Fishing Tops the List Of Violations

AUSTIN — Fishing without licenses topped the list of game and fish violations in September, according to the director of law enforcement, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

One hundred and ninety-eight persons were charged with fishing without the required licenses. Game wardens arrested 15 for failure to have resident hunting licenses.

"Everyone had substantial notice that new licenses would be required after August 31," said the director. "Many people got right on fishing without a license, either because they put off buying one or because they forgot about one until they're in the boat and fishing. Nevertheless, a violation is committed and it cannot be overlooked."

Hunting out of season did not pay off for 22 persons who were caught in the act. Trespassing dropped far below the monthly average, while hunting with unplugged guns jumped up a notch or two. Another 14 were charged with hunting from an auto and 17 were hunting dogs in closed sea-

Deadline Date for NROTC Qualifying Exam Nov. 13

High school seniors and graduates have only until November 13 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officers Training Corps. Vice Admiral H. P. Smith, Chief of Naval Personnel, said today, applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on December 12 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer out post of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summer the student goes on interesting training cruises to many parts of the world. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a prospective career officer with the Navy's far-flung fleets.

High school seniors and graduates who have reached the 17th anniversary of birth and have not reached the 21st anniversary of birth on 1 July 1950 may apply for NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam in 1960. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 1600 will be selected to begin their careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants within these services.

Application forms are available at high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C.

There will be a bonfire tonight. It will be the last pep rally of the year so everyone come out and make it the best yet. Heat Eastland will be the theme of the rally.

Since it seems as if I have a warped groove, that is about all I have this week. See you next week.

As I See—

Armistice was declared in Eastland today when Victor Cornelius called off his fight against the Texas Electric Service Company renewing their charter in Eastland. He invites everyone quite visiting the White Elephant Cafe for free coffee Saturday. I guess that the some 150 plus employees of TESCO that had quit visiting the White Elephant during the recent feud, have been felt by the restaurant business.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

More recollections of a "has been" sports writer:

Vernon was the scene of a district championship game and I made a mistake; I arrived at the field only 30 minutes before the kickoff. The stands, including aisles, were already packed. So I climbed on top of a car back of the press box, jumped and hands pulled me up.

Another time, Childress was the scene of a district title contest. The stands were so crowded that it was impossible to reach the press box, so I obtained permission to get on the sidelines. I made more yardage than any player because Red Hattikin, Childress' great back, ran only when he had the ball but I ran any time anybody had the ball.

Unusual plays recalled: Mike Todd of Crowell, later an Aggie great, broke into the clear against Chillicothe, looked back and saw he was all by himself and so he walked the last six yards across the goal line; the giant end, Rankin Britt of Ranger, caught a pass near the Eastland goal, was tackled by three small players who turned him halfway around and he backed the final five yards for a touchdown, dragging them along; and, at Brownwood, at almost the end of the game, a substitute intercepted an Eastland pass and ran 35 yards, with Eastland men blocking for him and then tackling him behind his own goal line for a safety which gave Eastland a one-point victory!

Being a sports writer has its occasional embarrassments. I was attending the pre-season district dinner which Breckenridge used to host and, during the meal, the man across the table remarked that Coach Schmidt of TCU was listing huge Dan Salkeld, sophomore end, at 180. In an undertone, I said to the man next to me, "Rags" Matthews, a TCU immortal, "That reminds me that his high school coach used to list Salkeld at 165." Rags, addressing the first speaker, said, "This fellow says," indicating me, and then repeated my remark. I blushed and so did the other man. He had been Salkeld's high school coach.

Among the coaches in my Old Belt days (1920-30) were Dave Pena, at Eastland, who had been University of Texas captain; Blair Cherry, at Ranger, later head coach at Texas; Eck Curtis, at Ranger, later backfield coach at Texas and W. B. Chapman, at Cisco, who went to Lubbock and, after his death in mid-season, his inspired team went on to win the State championship.

Even when I was sports writer in Eastland or Ranger, "Chap" told me I was always welcome to attend any Cisco practice. I never accepted the invitation but felt honored at what I considered to be a tribute to my fairness and sportsmanship. When I happened to mention this invitation, however, one fan said the coach felt that I knew so little about football that I couldn't have described a play so that the Eastland (or Ranger) coach would know what to be on guard against. But I didn't dignify this statement with a reply; in fact, I forgot the remark a long time ago.

Walnuts Add Flavor To Apple Pie

For a new version of an old favorite, serve this deliciously different apple pie. Quick-cooking tapioca helps keep the fresh flavor and color of the apples while the filling bakes to perfect juiciness. The flavor and crunchiness of walnut topping make this pie absolutely irresistible.

Apple Pie with Walnut Crumb Top
1-1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
3/4 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
3-1/2 cups peeled and thinly sliced fresh apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3/4 cup heavy cream
Pastry for one-crust 9-inch pie
Walnut Crumb Topping*
1/4 cup butter, melted

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, spices, apples, lemon juice, and cream. Roll pastry 1/8 inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan, fold edge to form a standing rim, and flute. Fill with apple mixture and bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 minutes. Then sprinkle Walnut Crumb Topping over apple mixture around edge of pie, leaving 1-1/2 to 2-inch area in center uncovered to permit escape of steam. Spoon melted butter over crumb topping. Bake 20 to 25 minutes longer, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

*Walnut Crumb Topping. Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup fine graham cracker crumbs, 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 cup chopped walnuts, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, and 1/8 teaspoon salt.
