

Six Voting Places Set for Referendum

Six voting places for the Dec. 15 peanut and cotton referendum in Eastland County were listed today by Emmett Fowell, office manager of the Eastland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

The voting boxes will be at the ASC office in Eastland, City Hall in Ranger, Chamber of Commerce in Cisco, Smith Motor Co. in Gorman, Carbon Insurance Co. in Carbon and City Hall in Rising Star.

Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. Both husband and wife may vote.

D. B. Warren, a member of the Board of Directors of the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, has strongly stressed the importance of all peanut producers voting in the coming marketing quota referendum.

In accordance with the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 as amended, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has set the date for voting to determine the wishes of the producers relative to marketing quotas for the 1960, 1961, and 1962 crops of peanuts.

According to Warren, if at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum favors quotas, they will be in effect in each of the three years. If more than one third of the voters oppose, quotas will not be in effect for 1960 and another referendum would be held in 1960 for the following three years.

Warren emphasized that if marketing quotas are approved in the referendum, growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support at the full announced rate, and marketing penalties will apply to the excess peanuts produced. He stated, however, if quotas are disapproved in the referendum, quotas and penalties will not be in effect for 1960, and price support will be available at only 50 percent of parity to growers who comply with their acreage allotments.

Peanut marketing quotas have been in effect each year since 1943. The last referendum was held in December 1956, when 93.5 percent of the growers voting approved marketing quotas for the 1957, 1958 and 1959 crops.

Governor Asks For Support of 'Safety Sunday'

Sunday, December 13, has been designated by Governor Price Daniel as "Safety Sunday" in Texas as a special observance of the Christmas - New Year's holiday traffic safety campaign throughout the state.

The Governor's proclamation said efforts to "end death and destruction on the streets" and "highways of Texas will not fully succeed until each driver comes to realize that traffic safety is a spiritual concern." The Governor urged each citizen to help "awaken in the conscience and mind of every driver the realization that negligence at the wheel of an automobile is a transgression of God's Own Command, 'Thou Shalt Not Kill.'" He also asked the assistance of every pastor in Texas by reminding each church member of his moral responsibility in obeying the traffic laws.

Numerous organizations have already pledged their support of the annual campaign to reduce the holiday slaughter. In anticipation of the Department of Public Safety's annual prediction of holiday deaths, a statewide program is now getting under way through the coordination of the Texas Traffic Safety Council, the state's official unit, the Governor's Highway Safety Commission and the Texas Safety Association.

Members of the Outdoor Advertising Association of Texas and other outdoor poster firms have contributed space for about 800 highway signs which will carry the Governor's holiday safety message, "Don't Let a Collision Spoil Your Holiday." The posters were contributed by organizations and individuals interested in the Texas traffic safety movement.

"Last Christmas, Governor Daniel recalled, the tremendous effort put forth in behalf of traffic safety during the holiday season saved one-third of the lives expected to be lost. The prediction anticipated 95 deaths; there were actually 63 deaths. If Texas can do this once, they can do it again, and I am certain we will again receive the same fine cooperation from everyone that helped bring about the major reduction last year."

But he reminded Texans that traffic deaths are up about 6 percent for the first ten months of (Continued On Page Three)

SPACE AGE TERMS

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles taken from an Air Force Glossary of Space Age Terms to help the public better understand terms used in some of the articles in today's news stories.)

Absolute zero — Theoretical point at which all molecular motion stops; the lowest possible temperature, equivalent to -459.6 Fahrenheit or -273.15 Centigrade.

Air Breakup — Destruction of a high-altitude or re-entry research vehicle by aerodynamic forces on its re-entry into the atmosphere, done to reduce the impact velocity and to aid in the recovery of records and instruments.

Airframe — Assembled structural and aerodynamic components of an aircraft or guided missile.

Airglow — Radiation arising in the upper atmosphere from recombination of dissociated molecules and ionized molecules and atoms after they have been affected by solar radiation. In the daytime it keeps the sky light even at heights of fifty miles, while at night it limits photographic exposures at astronomical observations.

Alpha 57-1 — Code system established for identifying earth satellites and components. Alpha 57-1 is the Russian Sputnik 1 Rocket vehicle, Alpha 57-2 the Sputnik satellite body, and Alpha 57-3 the protective nose cone designation.

Alpha 58-1 — Official code identification for Explorer, the first Earth satellite to be successfully launched in 1958.

Anoxia — Lack of presence of oxygen in the blood, cells or tissue, as would be the case if a person were at 50,000 feet or above without oxygen equipment.

Antigravity — Effect upon masses such as rocket vehicles and human bodies by which some still-to-be discovered energy field would cancel or reduce gravitational attraction of Earth.

"HELP; MURDER"—Going as fast as his webbed feet will propel him, an eastern black-backed pelican from Australia dodges his pursuers. The bird was captured by keepers at New York's Bronx Zoo, for transfer to winter quarters.

Interscholastic League Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Abilene, the birthplace of the University Interscholastic League, will roll out the red carpet next month for a special birthday party commemorating that organization's Golden Anniversary.

The guest list will include at least one movie star, all-American athletes, school administrators from all parts of Texas, a supreme court justice, a noted sportscaster and one of the best-known college football coaches of the Southwest.

The two-pronged celebration is scheduled for Thursday, December 10, during the week that Governor Price Daniel has proclaimed University Interscholastic League Week in Texas. It will feature a noon luncheon at the VFW Hall and an historical pageant depicting the evolution of the League at 7:30 p. m. in the Abilene High School auditorium.

The League, which sponsors interscholastic competitions for public school students of Texas in every sport of activity from story telling to football, had its beginning in December, 1910, at the Texas State Teachers Association meeting in Abilene. It actually started as a debating society, and has grown to become the largest organization of its kind in the world and now sponsors twenty-eight music, literary, academic and athletic contests.

Kern Tipp, known to thousands of Texas football fans for his Southwest Conference football game descriptions on radio and TV, will serve as master of ceremonies for the luncheon. Feature speakers will be Kathryn Grant (Mrs. Bing Crosby), former League one-act play contestant and now a Hollywood star; Dr. DeWitt C. Reddick, director of The University of Texas School of Journalism and founder of the League's journalism program; D. X. Bible, former head football coach and athletic director and now consulting athletic director at The University of Texas; and Judge Meade Griffin, former Interscholastic League debator and now associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Other special guests will be Dean T. H. Shelby, dean emeritus of the University's Extension Division and chairman of the League's State Executive Committee for more than 25 years; Leon Graham, representing the Texas Education Agency; W. T. Loffland, Austin, and J. O. Webb, Houston, both former school administrators who were present at the Texas State Teachers Association meeting in Abilene in 1910 when the League was formed; and numerous other teachers and officers of professional associations connected with the operation of the League's competitive program in the public schools of Texas.

Invitations have also gone out to such former League athletic stars as Billy Morrow, who gained national fame as a member of the ACC track squad; Sammy Baugh, all-American quarterback for TCU; and John Kimbrough, all-American fullback at Texas A & M.

From The Halls Of R. H. S.

By Nellie Sue Vinson

Here I am back again with more news from R.H.S. where things have been hopping these last few weeks. The seniors are still laboring on their play which will be presented tomorrow night at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The play, entitled "The Perfect Idiot", is one of the finest ever to be presented by a Senior class. (Naturally, since I'm prejudiced.) We of the senior class of 1960 cordially invite everyone to come. Tickets are now on sale.

Between learning lines from "Macbeth" and lines from the play, I am very confused. Incidentally, twenty-five essays written by Mrs. Robinson's English students were published by the National Essay Association. Mrs. Robinson says that that is the greatest number of essays ever accepted from our school.

I would like to welcome Nedra Sue Hodges to our class. Welcome to other new students, too.

Congratulations to Tommy Ford and Carla Carlson upon receiving the Lion's Club awards. They are two deserving boys. Tommy was a little shook at the football banquet Friday night; but all in all, he did a fine job as master of ceremonies.

Last Friday in assembly our principal Charlie L. Garrett gave a very interesting talk on "Does Your High School Record Count?" As we learned, it counts a great deal. Many of us did not realize that so many students were failing in one or more subjects.

In this week's assembly the seniors will present skits from the play to give the students and faculty a preview of what to expect tomorrow night.

Basketball interest is lagging this year. Let's all try to attend some of the games and back our team.

Thanks to Edwina Deffebach and Helen Haganman for working so hard to make our play possible. You won't forget to come to the senior play Friday, Dec. 11, at 7:30 p. m. will you?

That's all the plugging I'll do for now. See you next week.

Senior Class To Stage Play Friday Night

The senior class of Ranger High School is planning a dress rehearsal tonight to put the finishing touches on their play, "The Perfect Idiot," which is to be presented Friday, December 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The Perfect Idiot, Daniel Tennyson, portrayed by Tommy Ford, will get his friends, school and home town in a confused situation, which makes a perfect setting for the hilarious production, Jerry Wilson.

"What is all this confusion?" shouts Roger Tennyson (Douglas Rogers) Professor Tennyson is not the only one mystified by the chaos in his home. His wife Margaret (Sandra Cooper) glances desperately at her sons Dan and Jackie (Tommy Ford and Don Adams). Visiting high school faculty members Arthur Barnard and Miss Baker (Jeanne Wilson and Carla Carlson) (Karen Killingsworth and Nellie Sue Vinson) try to help cover up for their friends. Not readily seen but there in the room are Aloysius "Puff" Witomski (Homer Montgomery) and Walter P. Latherby (Bobby Fron). Or is it Latherby? Rhodora (Patsy Vinson), the Negro maid, rolls her eyes in wild amazement and then begins sobbing low moans as she covers her head with her apron. Taking notes through out the plot is newspaper reporter Miss Booth (Nina Henry). On top of everything else a policeman (Jerry Wilson) comes to sell tickets to the policeman's ball. What is it? What has happened? Perhaps psychiatrist Dr. Hochstorf Von Barf (Alfred Rogers) or principal's daughter Linda Barnard (Mary Kay Rush) can help find the solution.

Faculty sponsors are Mrs. Arthur Deffebach and Mrs. Helen Haganman. Mrs. Haganman said, "the students have worked hard, and they are pleased with the results of many hours of practice." Proceeds of the play will go to defray expenses for the senior trip.

Sue Cantwell Is Ranger F. F. A. Sweetheart

Miss Sue Cantwell, recently elected Sweetheart of the Ranger Chapter of the Future Farmers of America attended the Cross Timbers District Future Farmers of America banquet in Stephenville Tuesday night and entered in competition with 24 other Chapter Sweethearts for District F. F. A. Sweetheart. Miss Cantwell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cantwell of Ranger.

Also attending the banquet were 13 local F. F. A. members, their advisor, B. S. Dudley, Jr., and Chapter guest, Sarah Johnson.

A good program was heard and climaxed by the Sweetheart contest. The sweetheart of the Mineral Wells F. F. A. Chapter was selected District Sweetheart and will represent this district in the area competition.

Jerry Wilson and Douglas Rogers, fourth year members of the local F. F. A. chapter were awarded Lone Star Farmer degrees, which is the highest state award in F. F. A. work. Their advisor, B. S. Dudley, Jr. received the honorary Lone Star Farmer degree.

Those attending, other than Sue Cantwell, Sarah Johnson, a n d Dudley were the following members of the local Chapter: Melvin Anderson, local president, Roy Gene Ainsworth, local vice president; Douglas Rogers, Jerry Wilson, Jim Hamilton, Doyle Penny, Dwight Coliers, Jerry Hamilton, Jerry Cole, Charles Lemmons, Milard Herweck, Virgil Blackwell and Don Adams.

Approximately 300 were in attendance representing 25 chapters of the Cross Timbers District.

Four Rangers Named On All-Texas JC Team

For the second year in a row James Stanford, Breckenridge, sophomore student at Ranger College, has received honors on the Dallas Morning News' All-Texas Junior College team.

Stanford, who was picked on the second team was joined by three of his teammates on the honorable mention list. They were Jim Hamilton, sophomore end from Seagraves, Kenneth Hart, freshman quarterback, from Seagraves, and Bill Phillips, sophomore halfback from New London.

The first team honors went primarily to the East Texas and Pioneer Conference teams of which Ranger met three teams in the season and came away with a 2-1 record, winning over Paris and Tyler and losing to Texarkana.

Stanford, weighing 175 pounds, is relatively light for a college guard, but in the 12 games that he played in this season, no opposing guard can say that they whipped him. From the linebacker position in defense, he roamed far and wide with an uncanny ability for following a play. He, at times, caused opponents to think that he was one of their own players by getting into their backfield before the play could get started. Stanford saw more playing time this year than any other Ranger on the squad.

Jim Hamilton, who with his ability to get into the open and catch passes that were anywhere close to his fingers, is a boy that would make any coach happy to have on his team. In eleven games this season he caught 35 passes for 714 yards for an average of 20.4 yards per catch. In the game with Tyler he was the boy responsible for the Ranger's being able to defeat Tyler. He intercepted one pass and returned it for a score, and caught another pass for 27 yards and a score.

Kenneth Hart, one of the most versatile players on the Ranger squad, alternated between quarterback and halfback, and on a few occasions played in the slot position. Hart completed 51 passes

Terry Place Still Has Eight Of It's Original Families

The Housing Authority of the City of Ranger recently submitted an annual financial report to the City of Ranger for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1959.

The 50-unit housing project which is called Terry Place was authorized for the City of Ranger, January 4, 1950 by the Public Housing Authority. Since its completion later that year it has served many families with good housing at low rent. Rent that some of the families couldn't afford to pay for private-owned houses of the same type.

Basic objective of the Public Low-Rent Housing program as administered by the Housing Authority of the City of Ranger, through the operation of Terry Place, is to provide attractive, decent, safe and sanitary housing for families of lower income.

Eligibility for residence in a unit in Terry Place are based on the income of the family. A board of commissioners accept applications from tenants applying for rent of the units. The board of commissioners are: Roy Vandenberg, chairman, J. L. Smith, A. W. Warford, Jess Weaver and Earle Pittman.

The 50 dwelling units in Terry Place consist of 10 one-bedroom units, 26 two-bedroom units, 12 three-bedroom units and two four-bedroom apartments. Rents start at $12.50 per month, this includes a reasonable use of water. Residents pay their own electric and gas bills.

Eight of the original families housed at the beginning of the program are still in residence. Fifteen of the present families have lived in Terry Place for five years. Five of the families are disabled veterans or remaining members of veterans families. Fifteen elderly families are numbered among the residents of Terry Place.

Families with children are preferred. There are now 25 children enjoying standard housing at Terry Place.

The residents take much pride in the appearance of their yards and, together with the full-time maintenance employee of the Housing Authority, maintain the lawn and shrubs. Preventative maintenance practices are used to keep all buildings in good repair.

In addition to the total rent received from Terry Place, an annual payment in lieu of taxes is made to the City of Ranger. Mrs. Mae Isbell, executive director, states in the annual report that the payment to the City of Ranger in lieu of taxes for the year ending September 30, 1959 was $984.08.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

In Fredricksburg a while back, I stopped at a cafe for Sunday dinner. The meal, which was a triumph of German cookery, consisted of vegetable soup, veal chop, green beans, macaroni, potato salad (with a wonderful "dressing"; I guess you'd call it), sliced tomatoes with the flavor that tomatoes had years ago—not the pithiness of the present; crusty light-bread that was made by a rotund baker, whose father before him probably also was a baker; peaches and coffee—total, $1.06.

CINEMA SCOPE SOUND

Spent a couple of days in Mason. That's a place with a quiet that is good for strained nerves. I had forgotten what it was to be awakened by a rooster's crow. The wide street on the east side of the courthouse is the route of the highway and there are no traffic signals, so crossing the street is something of an adventure; however, an "island" gives the pedestrian an opportunity to halt midway in safety and wait till the way is clear.

There had been a death in the town — a 92-year-old man — and the church bell tolled for the service.

A group of men sat at a table in the courthouse yard, probably dominoes, maybe checkers. I was too indolent as I sat in a chair in front of the hotel to get up and find out.

Eight boys, in another section of the courthouse yard, engaged in a football skirmish. A row of white markers — somewhat like the boards in a "boot-hill" cemetery — gave the names of the varieties of grass being grown as a demonstration, I suppose.

A billboard, as one drives into Mason, proclaims that this is the home of Fred Gipson, author of "Old Yeller" and "Hound Dog Man" — truly, here is a prophet who is honored in his home country.

In the hotel lobby is a deer, reminding one that this is a great hunting region. A TV in the lobby brought a prize-fight, a crime story and "Have Gun, Will Travel." Actual happenings in the history of Mason would make the synthetic Western trite.

A rancher remarked to a friend "You hear some men say they like to feed their cows. I don't even like to feed my horse. I'd let him just graze if that would do it."

After arising the second morning, I found that my car—parked in front of the hotel — had a flat. The owner of the nearby service station said, "I'm here alone till after church." By this time I had acquired the tempo of life in the Hill Country so I said, "Sure — when you can." After all, that would be only two hours — and what's the hurry, anyway?

IT'S THE LAW

OUR "BILL OF RIGHTS"
December 15 is observed each year as "Bill of Rights Day" throughout the United States. What does this important "document" mean to us?

The American "Bill of Rights," consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791, specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, speech, and of the press. The same article protects the rights of peaceable assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, and specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompasses not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being placed twice in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; and against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation.

He is also secured against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, or due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the right to compel attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured.

CALENDAR POLITICAL

Here are some important dates on the 1960 political calendar:
Jan. 31—Last day to pay poll taxes.

Feb. 1—Last day for candidates to file to have names placed on primary ballots.

Feb. 4—Last day to pay filing fees for state-wide offices and for justice of court of civil appeals.

Feb. 8—County Executive Committee meets to apportion costs of primary among candidates.

Feb. 13—Last day for candidates to pay assessments.

April 16—Former non-residents or minors who shall have since become eligible to vote must obtain exemption from county tax collector by this date.

April 17 to May 3—Absentee voting for first primary.

May 7—First primary election and precinct conventions.

May 14—County convention.

May 15-31—Absentee voting for second primary.

June 4—Second primary.

June 14—State convention.

July 11—National Democratic Convention.

Oct. 19 to Nov. 4, 1960—Absentee voting for general election.

by another section of the "Bill of Rights."
Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our governing bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

Safe Driving Is Personal Habit Which Is Needed

Safe driving must be made the personal habit of every motorist if the slaughter on America's highway is to be curbed. Vernon Gayle, Safety Director of the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department, declared recently as he spoke prior to conducting driving tests at Eastland High School. "Excessive speed is the greatest single cause of automobile accidents," Gayle said. In the demonstration which followed, he pointed out the conditions under which even 20, 30 or 40 miles per hour can be excessive.

"When drivers know the true facts and base their driving on those facts, highway accidents will drop sharply," Gayle said.

Students and teachers took part in the tests which were conducted in a specially equipped car. The test driver was signalled to stop by an electrically controlled device. A second bullet was fired as the brakes were applied and a third after the car came to a complete stop. Distances between the spots were carefully measured to determine in feet and inches how far the car traveled before the driver applied the brakes, or the reaction distance, and how far it traveled after the brakes were applied, or the braking distance.

Gayle emphasized the fact that a driver who observes the speed laws carefully is not a safe driver if he neglects many other items, such as proper signalling for turns, approaching an intersection in the proper lane for a turn, the proper way to turn around, and many other things which he demonstrated in the test car.

Today's safety demonstration which was brought to Eastland High School under the sponsorship of the Eastland County Farm Bureau is part of a long range program of traffic safety now being conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department.

HOW'S YOUR "SPIRIT?"

Signs of the Christmas spirit seem to be popping up all over our town these days. I've noticed a number of attractive Christmas decorations around town and will certainly be interested in seeing others as the holiday season progresses.

In case you haven't seen our business district, why don't each of you take time off from your TV watching schedule to drive downtown some evening soon and look at the colorful decorations.

We certainly owe the businessmen and everyone who helped put up our beautiful decorations a "pat on the back." Besides helping spread the Christmas spirit to us locally, the decorations help make our town more attractive to others.

ANNOUNCE YOUR GIFT WITH A MINIATURE PHONE

I was walking down Main Street the other day, looking at all the nice things our Ranger businessmen have on display for Christmas in their store windows, and just about everything I saw would make a mighty fine gift for somebody.

But I guess that's where the Christmas shopping problem comes in — picking the right gift for the right person.

If you're stumped about what to give, I know a gift that's always right — right for Christmas, right the year 'round. It's an extension telephone in color. A color phone beautifies the home and is a faithful servant in the kitchen, the bedroom, the den—wherever it's needed most.

Now, here's real news. When you order one as a gift—for your wife, your teenagers, a relative or a friend—we'll send you a miniature color phone absolutely free. Packed in a colorful box and ready to be placed under the Christmas tree, it's a wonderful way to announce to that lucky person that a color telephone is on its way.

Call the telephone company today to order an extension telephone in color, and get that miniature phone while the supply lasts.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS

I'd like to take this opportunity, on behalf of all of us here at the telephone company, to extend our very best wishes to you for a "Merry Christmas" and a "Happy New Year."

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

AROUND RANGER COLLEGE CAMPUS

By Ranger College Journalism Class

The college era in a person's life is the time in which he finds his individual self. With this in mind we interviewed several evening students from Ranger College to learn facts that possibly reveal the key to their personalities.

Mollie Mitchell states that she is very much interested in music. Her hobby is playing the flute. She likes Santo and Johnny records and her pet aversion is having people ask her what she does when she tells them where she works.

Sam Owens tells of his great interest in billiard playing. He spends many hours improving at the game. He likes ballads. His pet peeve is school.

Jim Wells' hobby is running around. His pet peeve is working, and he is greatly interested in Fats Domino records.

Dawn Loper's favorite pastime is dancing. She enjoys listening to Sam Cook records. Her aversion is gossiping people.

Mickey Single also spends much of his spare time working on cars. He enjoys listening to Jimmy Reed music. Two-faced people take care of his pet peeve.

Jack Hilliard's hobby is sleeping. He enjoys Johnny Mathis records. His pet peeve is working.

Fred Seay enjoys spending his spare time reading. He often spends his dimes in the juke-box to listen to Clyde McFatter records. He is bothered by interruptions while working.

Don Farnworth's hobby is cars. His favorite recording artist is Kay Starr. His pet peeve is women.

The girls of Theta Tau House held their regular weekly meeting Monday night, December 7. They discussed their Christmas party to be held Thursday, December 17, and various other Christmas arrangements. After the devotional by Christine Hutchinson, the meeting was adjourned.

Truck Operators' Highway Tax Is Explained

A considerable number of truck operators have not paid their Federal use tax on highway motor vehicles, according to A. E. Fogie Jr., Administrative Officer of the Abilene office of the Internal Revenue Service. The Internal Revenue Service has surveyed the State Registration Records and has prepared a list of the truck operators subject to the Federal highway use tax who have not filed their tax return on Form 2290 and paid their tax.

Mr. Fogie explained that although the law had been in effect since July 1, 1956, many truck operators still are not familiar with the tax and with the fact that a return must be filed annually and the tax paid. Other returns may be due if addition to the year. In general, this tax applies to the use on the public highways of motor vehicles having a taxable gross weight of more than 26,000 pounds. The tax applies to these vehicles even if they are operated solely within a city, town, or other metropolitan area.

The Internal Revenue Service has available Publication 349 which explains the tax in detail. Fogie advises truck operators subject to the tax who have not previously filed, to file Form 2290 paying the tax due at the earliest possible date.

Those who do not file and pay on time are required to pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent per year on the tax from the time it is due. In addition, there is a penalty of 5 per cent a month, but not to exceed 25 per cent, for delinquent filing in the absence of reasonable cause for the delinquency.

Applesauce Is Delightful in New Desserts

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Ever make an applesauce torte with a spiced, shredded wheat crust? This delicacy is really delicious.

Make it well ahead of the party and chill in the refrigerator! For extra luxury, garnish with whipped cream and apple slices.

Applesauce Torte (8 Servings)

Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 4 cups sweetened canned applesauce, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 5 cups spoon-size shredded wheat biscuits, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon allspice.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat applesauce to boiling point; stir in 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, nutmeg, lemon juice.

Add gelatin mixture, stirring until gelatin is completely dissolved. Remove from heat and chill until mixture mounds when dropped from spoon.

Meanwhile, roll shredded wheat biscuits into fine crumbs. (Makes about 2 cups.) Melt butter or margarine; stir in 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and the allspice.

Add cereal and stir until well-coated with mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until cereal is golden brown. Cool slightly. Press one-half of crumb mixture over bottom and sides of 8-inch spring-mold pan.

Spoon applesauce mixture on top of crust. Sprinkle remaining cereal mixture over top. Chill until firm.

Grease an 8-inch square cake pan. Start oven at 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Roll shredded wheat biscuits into fine crumbs. (Makes about 2 cups.)

Melt butter in skillet. Add cereal crumbs and cook, stirring constantly, for about 5 minutes or until crumbs are toasted a golden brown.

Mix applesauce, sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, and lemon juice. Sprinkle one-third of crumbs over bottom of pan. Cover with half the applesauce.

Add the next third of crumbs; the remaining applesauce, and, finally, place the remaining crumbs on top. Bake for 30 minutes.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

The recent death of Federal Judge James V. Allred removed from the stage of public affairs the most colorful figure of his generation in Texas. The former district attorney, attorney general and governor was a marvelous campaigner man-to-man and, in his era, was without a peer on the stump. It was my privilege to hear him many times and he was always eloquent and clever—equal to any situation. When he was running for governor in 1934, I traveled in his campaign party for more than two weeks as a newspaper correspondent and none of the writers ever wearied of his speeches. Even though they covered largely the same ground each time, he was able to impart a sparkle and a freshness. An audience to him was an inspiration and it was a joy to hear him.

Judge Allred had a keen sense of humor and a spirit of fun. While he was governor, he was on the program of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Plainview. A group of newspapermen called on him in his suite and he asked, "What would you suggest I talk about?" Each of us in turn offered suggestions. He listened attentively, thanked us and, when he made his speech, never touched on a single subject we had mentioned! (He already had his address in mind of course when he asked for suggestions.)

In 1942, Judge Allred ran for the United States Senate and this columnist was a candidate for lieutenant governor. Each of us closed our campaign in Marine Park in Fort Worth. I was to speak until he arrived. When he got there I was in the middle of my remarks and he told the chairman, "Let him go on." The audience of 5,000 was proving very responsive—(after all, this was my home town). After six minutes more, my vigorous speeching closed to cheers and a great honking of car horns. Allred strode across the platform, the first to shake my hand.

Some years later, when I spoke to the Houston Central Lions Club, Judge Allred conferred a great honor by introducing me. Not long afterward, he and Mrs. Allred entertained the members of the couples Bible class of which he was the teacher with a barbecue in the yard of their beautiful home in Houston. He had invited me to speak and, as the Lions Club speech had closed with a poem on Merriman cemetery, "the cemetery that was not for sale," I used a different selection in order to spare the Judge a second hearing.

At the conclusion, he expressed thanks, then added, "But I'm disappointed." No doubt, I looked dismayed. After a pause, he said, "Yes, I'm disappointed because our visitor didn't tell us the story about the cemetery during the Ranger boom. Won't you give us that one, too?" (Of course, it was done.)

For all his dramatic fervor when addressing a crowd, Judge Allred was modest. Only a few weeks after he had been nominated for governor, I saw him in Fort Worth, seated alone at the counter of the Texas Hotel coffee shop. And shortly before the date of his inauguration, I saw him one night strolling alone, looking in Fort Worth store windows. When I stopped to chat, he spoke, half-reflectively, of the host of office-seekers he had been encountering.

As time passes, men will tell and re-tell stories about him; how, because of principle, he gave up a lifetime position as federal judge to make a race for the United States Senate; how, in one campaign, he realized, after the first primary, that his choice for governor had no chance but he refused to leave the sinking ship and campaigned even more valiantly for a hopeless cause; how, as governor, he challenged millions of dollars in his fight for the repeal of race-horse betting.

And in time, too, legend will interweave with fact and there will be such incidents told as the occasion when the young candidate, seeing a cemetery working in progress, stopped and introduced himself. Invited to speak, he knew that anything political would be inappropriate and so he gave an extemporaneous address upon Texas and its pioneers, their courage, their sacrifices and the eternal happiness which now was theirs, and the tears flowed down the faces of the stalwart farmers and of the sun-bonneted wives.

When Christmas Presents Become A Burden
Dear Mrs. Post: I married into quite a large family several years ago, and it keeps getting larger each year. Heretofore we all exchanged Christmas gifts, but this year with prices so high and a shrunken income, we simply cannot afford to continue this practice. Please tell me just how to go about this situation in a tactful way.

Answer: Tell each member of the family that in order to try to nearly balance your budget, you are going to have to cut down on Christmas expense, and would he (or she) please help you by agreeing not to exchange your usual presents to each other.

Wedding Pictures
Dear Mrs. Post: I did not give my bridesmaids copies of the group picture of my wedding and now I find myself being criticized for this. I realize that they went to much expense to take part, but I thought the practice of giving pictures was a nice gesture, but certainly not necessary. Will you please tell me if I have been wrong about this?

Answer: You are not wrong. When the bride's family are very well-to-do they are usually generous in giving pictures to their daughter's attendants. But when they are not at all well off, all those who would like pictures order them from the photographer and pay for them themselves.

Tuxedos At A Simple Wedding
Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I are planning to be married in our church on a Wednesday at seven thirty in the evening. I will wear a short white dress and veil and will have two attendants. I had planned a very simple wedding with about fifty guests or even less. My fiance wants the men to wear tuxedos. I do not think they would be in keeping with such a simple wedding. Wouldn't dark business suits be more appropriate?

Answer: If the men want to wear them, tuxedos will be correct and quite suitable even at a simple wedding.

Leaving Girl Friend Alone
Dear Mrs. Post: I have just returned home from a week's vacation in Florida. I went with a girl friend of mine and we shared a room together. While we were there, I met a nice young man who was staying at the same hotel. He invited me to go out to dinner with him one evening. I accepted and when I told my girl friend about it, she was very peeved and said that I was very rude to go off and leave her alone. I was very much hurt by her attitude and thought her very unfair. I feel that I was perfectly right in accepting this invitation and just because we went away together was no reason why I had to spend all of my time with her. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter as it has caused a rift in our friendship.

Answer: If you gave your friend sufficient notice so that she could plan for her dinner without you, you were certainly not rude in accepting the young man's invitation.

A Professional Woman's Name
Dear Mrs. Post: When our club news is written up for the paper, a friend insists that the name of a married woman musician on the program should be given as Mrs. John Doe. I think the musician's professional name should be used (Mary Doe or Mary Grant Doe or and Mrs. Platt of Rucker, and Mrs. Fuller's aunt, Mrs. Kennedy of Levelland.
