

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa,
I want a baby doll with clothes and a telephone. Please fill my stocking with goodies. We will leave you some hot chocolate and cookies. I'm five year old.
Don't forget all the other boys and girls.
Love
Jana Anderson

Dear Santa,
I am a little girl five years old and I have been good all this year. I would like a nurse's suit, nurse kit, a doll with some clothes and anything else you care to bring me. I love you Santa and hope you have a nice Christmas.
Carolyn Sue Highsmith
1312 Spring Road
Ranger, Texas

P.S. Santa, don't forget my little sister Patricia. Bring her a little doll, a ball and anything else you care to bring her. She is real sweet.

Dear Santa,
I am a little boy four years old and I have been a good boy this year. I would like for you to bring me a rocky horse and a pair of cowboy boots.
Santa, please fill all the other children's stockings too.
Love
Glenn Arterburn

College Student Is Dancing Instructor

Everyone knows that going to school, participating in school activities, and working and up to a very big task. Many of the students at Ranger College undertake this task every week. Some work in town, some at the College, and some in surrounding areas. Some have the usual "run-of-the-mill" jobs, but others have unusual and interesting jobs. One such student in the latter class is Jackie Waggoner, sophomore law major from Rotan.

Jackie, known as "Wag" to all his friends, is a former Arthur Murray dance instructor. Twice each week he teaches dancing at Lone Cedar Country Club, specializing in the Latin dances, the Rumba, Samba, Mambo, and Cha Cha, and the Jitterbug.

He began his training as an instructor in Odessa, in January of 1959, and taught there until school started in September. Some of the reasons for his choice of this work are that he finds it interesting, he enjoys dancing, and he likes the working hours. Waggoner has met many interesting people in his work and has had many exciting experiences. A highlight was the Graduation Ball in Dallas, where he saw many of the better dancers perform.

At Ranger College he is a member of the 1959 Rangers squad, a class officer, and one of the sports editors of the 1960 annual, The Ranger.

Social Security Tax Rate Up For Coming Year

Persons in work — employment or self-employment — covered by the social security tax rate will be increased beginning with 1960, R. Tulency, Jr., district manager of the Abilene social security office, announced today.

When employed people get their first pay envelopes or pay checks in January, they will find a 2 percent increase in the social security tax rate. When self-employed persons file their 1960 tax returns early in 1961, they must pay 4 1/2 percent instead of 3 3/4 percent social security tax. This increase will not apply to self-employment returns on 1959 earnings which must be filed on or before April 15, 1960. The above increases in social security tax rates apply to wages or self-employment income for 1960 through 1962.

The increased social security taxes which become effective as of January 1, 1960, were enacted by Congress to assure the continuing self-supporting nature of the old-age and survivors trust fund and the disability trust fund in which the social security taxes of employees, their employers, and the self-employed are deposited.

Before amending the law to provide for the increased tax rates, Congress appointed an advisory council on social security financing to investigate the trust funds. This council was made up of representatives from business, education, Government, and leading insurance companies. They recently reported "It is our judgment, based on the best available cost estimates, that the contribution (social security tax) schedule enacted into law in the 1958 session of Congress, makes adequate provision for financing the program on a sound actuarial basis."

Holiday Period Expected to be Deadliest Yet

With the 12-day Christmas-New Year's holiday opening Dec. 23, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety has issued a special warning to rural motorists.

Garrison pointed out that this holiday period is expected to become one of the deadliest in several years for Texas motorists. To overcome the threat, he said every driver must accept his responsibility to drive in accordance with traffic laws and other rules of safety.

The Texas Department of Public Safety earlier had announced that it would start counting motorist deaths and all other violent deaths in Texas at 12:01 a.m. Dec. 23. The count period will end at 11:59 p.m. Jan. 3.

Throughout this period every available patrolman of the Texas D.P.S. will work overtime to regulate traffic on our highways and make every effort to prevent traffic accidents.

Garrison warned rural drivers of the increased dangers of holiday driving and called their attention to the fact that farm-to-market roads and ranch roads will be used more than normal during the period.

"During this holiday motorists will have two long weekends in which to make trips. We have other indications that there will be more driving than usual during this holiday period.

"We wish to call upon rural motorists to use extra caution in all their driving this yuletide. Be extra careful in entering a highway from a side road or private drive, and observe the signs erected for your protection, especially at areas under construction."

The department expects a death count of 111 motorist deaths for the 12 days of Christmas and New Year's and a total of 200 violent deaths including other accidental deaths, homicides and suicides.

Garrison has promised Texas motorists that every available effort will be made to keep our highways safe. He said every available man and law enforcement tool, including radar, will be used through the day and night in this vigil. But he charged drivers themselves with the major responsibility.

He said, "Common sense driving practices can prevent traffic accidents, and it is the moral and legal responsibility of every driver to operate his vehicle in a safe manner. Only with the full cooperation of motorists can we hope to prevent motorist deaths during this yuletide season."

Operators Have Final Christmas Party In Ranger

The employees of the traffic department of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company held their farewell Christmas party Friday at 7 p.m. in the lounge.

Nearly all employees attended, bringing their children. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served.

After the first of the year some of the operators will be transferred to other towns and then when the conversion to dial is completed March 20th, all operators will be gone.

Mrs. Neal, the chief operator, is transferring to Cisco. She has been chief operator in Ranger since 1927. Mrs. Gray, the evening chief operator for the past ten years is undecided about her transfer.

Christmas Week Is Here Again

Today begins one of the busiest weeks in the year as everyone strives to complete their last minute Christmas shopping, packing for that Christmas trip, or getting ready for company.

Many of the Ranger Merchants will remain open later each night for the next four days in order that their customers will be able to shop later. Some of the stores have put on extra employees for the convenience of shoppers.

College students have nearly all arrived home for the holidays since most of the colleges turned out last Friday. The Ranger Schools will close Tuesday and will resume classes January 4th.

Nearly all of the Ranger stores will close Friday for Christmas Day, and many of them will remain closed until Monday.

Many of the Civic organizations have cancelled their weekly meetings through the holidays. The Lions Club will not meet again until January 7th.

Tuesday at 2:45 p.m. the Ranger High School Band will put on a special Christmas program at the high school auditorium. The public is invited to attend the program. Following the program the Christmas baskets collected by the high school students will be taken to the First Methodist Church where they will be delivered to needy families in Ranger. The collecting of the baskets is an area project that the Student Council sponsors each year.

J. T. Johnson Dies In Lubbock Services Friday

Mr. J. T. Johnson of Lubbock died of a heart attack at 2 p.m. Wednesday December 16, while waiting on a customer in his place of business in Lubbock.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Friday from the Rix Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Lubbock officiating.

Mr. Johnson was the brother of J. A. Johnson and Mrs. Carl Eakin of Ranger, Virge Johnson of Breckenridge and Mrs. Boyd Laquer of Ballinger. All attended the services in Lubbock.

Conservation Supervisors To Meet In Galveston

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors will be held at the Moody Center in Galveston, Jan. 13-15, 1960. Total attendance could approximate 1,000, said J. H. Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist.

Soil conservation districts in Texas now number 176 and each has a five-man board of supervisors. These districts, according to Barton, cover approximately 98 percent of the farm and ranch lands of the state. Only three counties and parts of three other counties are not now included in soil conservation districts, he said.

Speakers for the meeting are being drawn largely from among the district supervisors and from agencies, organizations and leaders associated with conservation work. They will be discussing such subjects as "Telling and Selling the Story of Soil Conservation Districts; The U. S. Study Commission—What It Is and What It Proposes; Importance of Upstream Flood Prevention in a Water Program; Needs for Agricultural Production in the Next Fifty Years and Conservation Education in the Schools of Our Soil Conservation Districts."

Many awards will be presented at the annual banquet on Friday evening which will feature an address by Congressman James C. Wright, 12th District, Ft. Worth. Barton said special programs had been planned for the ladies attending the meeting. He added that another highlight of the meeting would be the many exhibits of materials and equipment available for use in soil and water conservation programs.

Covered Sugar

By Mrs. Cuban Perry

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."—St. Luke 2:11.

Do we think too much about the commercial part of Christmas, or is it that we are trying to humble ourselves by doing for others?

In our futile efforts we may overlook the buying and giving of gifts; but, as a whole, we are very conscious that the main celebration of Christmas is the birth of Christ.

This is a speedy world today, but I am sure that we all are thinking more of Christ than what the world can give us.

We think of our families and don't that, after all, part of the scheme of God's law that we are brothers and love one another? The gift giving is part of our way of showing brotherly love.

TV has gone all out for the spending of our money that we don't have but after all is said and done, guess we can turn them off now and then and get a few things done that need doing!

You always think, "when this commercial is over that will be that for awhile" but — 10 — before your interest has returned to the play, story or what have you, here comes another and another. Oh well, that way you can get off that button sewed on, that shirt ironed, the supper dishes done, that letter written or a hundred and one things done that you wouldn't have had time for if TV had no bankers!

You know, I even find myself trying to do one a little better than the one getting all the "moola" that I've heard they get!

This is a very good time to say to all my friends and those that have taken time to write, telephone and stop me on the street to tell me that they have enjoyed my efforts in the writing of "Covered Sugar" that I have really appreciated their very kind, encouraging words. Thanks a Million.

If there is some thing funny, quaint and it won't hurt someone, then I am open for suggestions any old time.

May every one of you good readers get at least one thing for Christmas that you have always wanted whether it be "fine or superfine." Above all, may Christmas day find you with—Peace on Earth and Good Will Toward Men.

A very merry Christmas from the Perry's house to your house.

"Battle Border"

Little known facts about Texas boundaries.

(Editor's Note: This is the eleventh in a series of articles outlining the numerous boundary conflicts dating back to 1716, pointing up little known facts which shaped the Texas of today.)

Rivers usually flow along in a series of loops rather than a straight line.

The Rio Grande is no exception. In times of flood the river will cut straight ahead, rejoining the channel further down stream, leaving an exposed loop which becomes a dry bed.

Inside this loop is a plot of dry ground, which has, by action of the river, changed its position from one side of the river to the other. These tracts of land are called "Bancos."

"These 'bancos' created even more complicated legal questions to add to the stockpile of Texas boundary disputes," Attorney General Will Wilson comments.

In 1836 the Republic of Texas fixed the boundaries along the principal stream of the Rio Grande. The Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo in 1848 fixed the boundary as the middle of the Rio Grande following the deepest channel.

The changing of the river channel began to pose real problems and in another treaty in 1884 it was agreed that any bancos cut off since 1852 by the river should remain part of the original nation.

"This meant that parts of the United States were south of the river and parts of Mexico were north of the river."

This naturally did not work on another treaty eliminated all present and future bancos and fixed the line between the two nations along the deepest channel of the streams. The 58 bancos remaining on the north side of the Rio Grande went to the United States.

The International Boundary Commission is directed to set monuments in the abandoned beds of the river where the boundaries of the bancos could be clearly defined.

Private Mexican landowners continued to own land even when it moved north of the river. In Mexico the government owns all the minerals while in Texas the landowners control the minerals.

By a 1922 statute, the Federal Government ceded jurisdiction over the bancos and provided that they be a part of the State of Texas.

The heart of controversy is this: Because the act did not specifically state what happens to the ownership of the minerals under the bancos it appears, in the light of the Tidelands experience, that another three way battle looms between the Federal government, the State of Texas and the Mexican landowners over the minerals under the bancos.

The General Land Office reports that some of the bancos have been leased by the state for minerals in view of the uncertainty of the title.

The Texas portion of the river bed has been leased, but not the bancos.

"Oil drilling along the Rio Grande will eventually force a decision regarding mineral rights."

Game Violators Pay $9,469.45 Fines In Nov.

Game law violations from automobiles took top billing during the month of November, according to arrests reported by the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission of Austin.

Twenty-four persons were fined for hunting from automobiles, and another 19 for headlighting game animals, making a total of 43. Hunting without a license brought fines to 40 hunters; killing quail in closed season netted 18 fines, and exceeding the bag limit on doves brought 15 fines. Another 15 persons paid fines for hunting with unplugged guns. Shotgun used in hunting all migratory birds and game birds in Texas must be plugged to three shots. Many of the repeating shotguns in automobiles carry five shells in the magazine, and must be plugged back to hold only two shells in the magazine and one in the chamber.

There were 279 violations for the month, which brought in fines and court costs of $9,469.45.

NAME TAGS PROVIDED

The next time you meet a game warden or biologist in the field you'll be able to remember his name while talking with him. Field personnel of the Game and Fish Commission now have name plates which will be worn over the left shirt pocket. They are being issued to men coming in contact with the public to assure easier identification of the men.

SPACE AGE TERMS

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on space age terminology taken from an Air Force Glossary that will maybe help everyone to better understand the present day news articles.)

Boiloff — Vaporization of a coldpropellant such as liquid Oxygen as the propellant mass rises to high temperatures because of exposure to local conditions through the walls of the missile tank or other insulated containers.

Boost — Descriptive term that defines the use of rocket propulsion, either solid- or liquid-propellant types, during the initial climb, the liftoff, and the first phase of propelled flight.

Boost-glide Bomber — Vehicle, with wings or similar aerodynamic surfaces, propelled upward by rocket engines in the manner of a satellite or ICBM into the outer fringes of the atmosphere to glide or skip-glide on the atmosphere (as a stone skipping over water) long distances while completing its mission.

Burnout Velocity (Brennschuss) — The velocity along the ballistic trajectory when the propellant is exhausted.

Captive Firing — Test-firing of a complete missile where all or any part of the propulsion system is operated at full or partial thrust while the missile is restrained in the test stand.

Celestial Mechanics — Branch of astronomy concerned with the laws governing the motions of heavenly bodies.

Characteristic Velocity — Sum of all the velocities that have to be attained or overcome for purposes of braking, by a rocket intended for a particular journey.

Celestial Sphere — Imaginary sphere of infinite radius, assumed for navigational purposes, the center of which coincides with the center of the Earth.

Chromosphere — One of the atmospheric shells of the sun. It lies above the photosphere and is best visible at time of total eclipse; can be observed spectroscopically at other times.

Circular Velocity — Critical velocity at which a satellite will move in a circular orbit around its primary. Circular velocity is a special case of orbital velocity, and one which is not likely to be obtained in practice due to accuracy of control needed.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Kimble Are Held Monday

Mrs. Mary A. Kimble, 24, widow of a longtime Gorman physician, died at 3 a.m. Sunday in Gorman Rest Home. She had been ill about two years.

Her husband, the late Dr. E. W. Kimble, practiced medicine in Gorman for about 30 years prior to his death in 1948. Mrs. Kimble had been one of Gorman's civic leaders until her illness.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday in the First Methodist Church with the pastor, the Rev. John Dowd, officiating. Burial was in Eastland Cemetery beside the grave of her husband. Higginbotham Funeral Home was in charge.

Mrs. Kimble was born Nov. 20, 1865, the daughter of the late Capt. Shelton, one of Eastland County's pioneer families. The Shelton home was located southwest of Eastland. She married Dr. Kimble in Eastland in 1890. The couple maintained a home near Gorman before moving to Gorman in 1933.

Survivors include one son, John S. of Gorman; one daughter, Mrs. B. E. McGlamery of Austin; and five grandchildren.

1947 Club Meets In Judson Hardy Home for Annual Christmas Tea

Members of the 1947 Club and their guests met in the home of Mrs. Judson Hardy Tuesday, December 15, for the annual Christmas Tea.

Hostesses for the occasion were Misses Sam Aills, Morris Campbell, and James Ratliff.

The tea table, covered with a white outwork linen cloth, was centered with a Christmas arrangement. Silver appointments were used. Refreshments of small assorted sandwiches, nuts, Petit Fours candies, and coffee were served.

Members brought gifts for the Community Library, the Ranger Child Welfare Club, and the State Mental Hospital in Wichita Falls.

Miss Winona Gore, Michael Bailey Are United in Church Ceremony

In a ceremony read at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 11, in the First Baptist Church in Strawn, Miss Winona Gore became the bride of Michael Bailey, son of Rex Bailey of Graham. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Gore Jr., of Strawn, formerly of Ranger.

The church was decorated with baskets of white carnations before a background of ferns and branched candelabra. The Rev. J. T. Ferguson of Fort Worth, uncle of the bride, officiated at the single-ring ceremony.

Miss Roberta Gore attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a dress of light blue faille and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Clyde Johnson of Desdemona served as best man. Ushers were Bobby Boon and Pete Fouston, both of Strawn.

Mrs. J. T. Ferguson of Fort Worth, aunt of the bride, sang "Love You Truly." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Jill Watkins of Ranger, who also played the traditional wedding marches and other musical selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length dress of white chiffon. Her corsage was of white carnations, and she carried a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace with matching earrings.

Immediately following the ceremony, a brief reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with blue net over a white linen cloth. A large white styrofoam bell holding blue chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece. Mrs. Roy Baker of Strawn served the three-tiered white wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. T. C. Fambro of Strawn ladled punch. Mrs. Larry Stalling presided at the registry table.

The bride attended Ranger High School. The groom attended Strawn High School. The couple are now at home in Strawn where he is employed by Strawn Grocery and Market.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Bob Hutton of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harmon, Judy, and David, Ronnie Dradley, and Rev. and Mrs. Ferguson and Sharon, all of Fort Worth; Mrs. Elmer Gore of Stephenville; Mrs. Horace Lane, Mrs. Howard Williams, Mrs. Ethel Keith, Clyde Johnson, and Bud Shugart, all of Desdemona; Miss Watkins and Donnie Chesnut of Ranger; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carpenter and Mrs. Floyd Carpenter, all of Comanche; and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gore, Donnie, Bobby Lee, and Vicky of Albany.

Wednesday Nite Services Set at First Baptist

Regular Wednesday night services at the First Baptist Church will begin with choir rehearsal at 6:15. The teachers and officers will meet at 7:15, followed by the prayer service at 8.

Two special features of the evening will be a meeting of the Intermediates and the Young People's choir at 8:15 to rehearse for the Sunday night youth program, and a meeting of the Young People at 7:15 to make plans and preparations for the student night program. Rev. Charles Massee will bring the message Sunday night at 7:30.

Good Taste

Brother's Wife Is Excluded
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's sister invites him to dinner without including me. She is a widow who lives alone and I know my husband is very fond of her. But every time she calls him at his office and asks him what evening he could come alone, I feel like a cast-off show. Isn't this being very rude to me?

Answer: Asking him repeatedly to an evening meal alone leaving you at home is far from proper. That she on occasion might like to see him alone is natural, particularly if she wants to talk over her personal problems with him. But in this case it would be better (and entirely proper) that they lunch together, or that he stop in to see her on his way home.

Diamonds In The Daytime
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in good taste to wear diamonds — such as a necklace, bracelet, etc., in the daytime? I have been told that diamonds — except a diamond ring — are properly worn only in the evening and that a woman of good taste never wears them in the daytime.

Answer: In the daytime, it is not good taste for a woman to wear so many diamonds that she can be described as "dripping with diamonds," but to wear a few is quite proper.

Those Who Brought Shower Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and have planned a fairly small wedding. There will be a reception following the ceremony for about sixty people. Two showers have been given in my honor recently and most of the people who were at these showers are not on the wedding list. Am I obligated to invite these people to the wedding?

Answer: If you possibly can, you should ask all those who were kind enough to bring you shower presents to the wedding. If the reception has to be limited to families and closest relatives, your friends will surely understand and not feel slighted if you cannot invite them.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I own and operate a small motel and very often our guests offer us tips for taking ice to their rooms. I would like to know if it is proper to accept these tips or should we refuse. We do not have bell boys or maid service.

Answer: You might say to those guests who offer you tips, "As my husband and I are the owners of this motel we have decided to help the Red Cross by asking anyone who offers us a tip to put it in the box by the entrance."

May A Guest Ever Complain?

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be rude to complain about something at a lunch or dinner party given in a restaurant? I mean, can I say something to the waiter who serves me if something is not right without embarrassing the hostess?

Answer: No, not possibly. If you find it unattractive, you just leave whatever part you don't like. On the other hand, if you are the hostess and see that something is amiss, you send the waiter to ask your guest if he (or she) would prefer another dish.

Colored Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there any objection to wedding invitations being printed on tinted paper? Instead of the usual white, I would like to have a pale ivory or an extremely light pink. Would this be in good taste?

Answer: Neither pink nor pale blue would do at all. Pale ivory would be considered as white and entirely correct.

Getting On A Crowded Bus

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man is waiting for a bus and finds himself the only man among a large group of women, is he supposed to wait until all the women get on the bus before he does?

Answer: In a crowd, it is best to move with it in the turn you tried secretly and executed earlier this year. The stamp bears the inscription: "1956-1959 Imre Nagy" and "Freedom for the Peoples." The Kremlin has had its propaganda gambit turned into a rout.

But why stop with Nagy? There is no limit to the number of victims of Soviet villainy. Let the free nations of the world issue a constant stream of postage stamps immortalizing them one by one, so that their faces and their tragic stories will be in continual circulation and the memory of Communist perfidy will never be allowed to fade.

'Stamp War' Possibilities Are Unlimited

Hats off to the Greeks, a tiny but doughty kingdom of 8,000,000 on the southern tip of the Balkan Peninsula. They have handed the Soviet a telling propaganda blow in a manner which at once holds the Kremlin up to international ridicule and at the same time brings again into focus the bloody tyranny the Soviet demonstrated at the time the Hungarian patriots arose in their bid for freedom little more than three years ago.

The sequence of events began when the Greek government arrested Manoli Glezos a Greek Communist Journalist, on charges of assisting Communist spies in their plotting to overthrow the government by violence. Glezos was tried, found guilty and sentenced to five years in prison. The Kremlin tried to stir up public opinion for Glezos and did the usual amount of sabre rattling to prevent the trial. In reprisal, the Kremlin afterwards issued a special postage stamp honoring the traitor and bearing his image.

Greece has now come out with a special postal stamp of its own. It bears the image of Imre Nagy, Hungarian leader during the uprising, who was guaranteed safe conduct by the Kremlin only to be
