AT BELL OPEN HOUSE

Solar Batteries to Be On Display Here

When a bright Texas sun sends the mercury soaring on a summer day, perhaps you have wondered if all that heat couldn't be transformed into power for men's use. If you have, then you are like many scientists who have pondered this problem for years.

Scientists at the Bell Telephone Laboratories have found one answer by inventing a battery that directly converts light into electric current.

One of the Bell Solar Batteries that does this job will be on display at the Telephone Open House in Ranger Thursday and Friday, according to Archer Marx, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Visiting for the open house will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 9 p.m. both days.

The Bell Solar Battery has excited power experts throughout the world with its possibilities," Marx said.

"Open house guests here will see the battery provide power to operate a radio," he added.

The battery's main parts are thin strips of silicon, a common element found in sand.

Although scientists don't consider the Bell Solar Battery a competitor with present commercial power supplies because of the low output, they do hope it will be useful where low quantities of power are needed and are hard to obtain. A good example is a rural telephone system, Marx pointed out.

The solar battery has been successfully used in an experimental rural telephone system in Georgia.

In addition to the Bell Solar Battery, there will be several other special exhibits on display at the open house, the manager added.

USO To Have Coast-to-Coast Broadcast

The United Service Organization is planning a coast-to-coast NBC-TV broadcast, April 26 from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. EST.

The show is sponsored by Lincoln-Mercury. A finished script has not yet been prepared, nor has participation stars been set. However, the program will incorporate historic film clips of USO entertainers from World War II, and the musical background will draw heavily on outstanding war-time tunes.

The "live" portion of the show will be done before an all-service audience in New York, in a section designed to represent a typical USO show set-up overseas. An effort will be made to have President Eisenhower close the program with his own endorsement of the USO.

Strawn Joins Little League

Ranger Little League has expanded from four to five teams by inviting Strawn to join the Ranger League.

Strawn has been interested in forming a Little League for the past few years, but has been unable to get enough teams in their area to form a league. They have had one team the past two years, but were unable to match games with other little league teams due to the Little League rule prohibiting organized Little League teams from playing outside teams.

Strawn was approached by Ranger Little League officials last fall about joining the Ranger League. Final plans were arranged last week and steps were taken to expand the Ranger League to include Strawn.

The Strawn team will be the Braves, sponsored by the Strawn businessmen and managed by Hershal Gibson. They have paid their $250 sponsors fee to the Ranger Little League.

The Rangers will do all their practicing in Strawn, but will play all their league games in Ranger Little League Park. Due to the fifth team in the league there will be one team each game night that will have an open night. This will give the boys a little more rest between games than they have had in the past.

Charles Mahaffey, Ranger Little League President, said, "I believe that having Strawn in the League will promote better attendance in the League, and will certainly allow Ranger to field a stronger All-Star team."

The Ranger Little League started signing up new players Monday afternoon and practice will get underway this afternoon. Only new boys who are not already members of a team are involved in the first few days of practice. This gives the managers a chance to get a good look at the new boys before the player auction on April 24. Regular signed players will report Monday, April 25, and League play will start May 9.

FOR KNUCKLEHEADS—Adding graphic force to her argument, Assemblywoman Mrs. Mildred Barry Hughes wears homemade spiked knuckles confiscated from a juvenile. She introduced a bill in the New Jersey Legislature to make such weapons illegal. Roman gladiators called the device a "caestus." It is simply a leather band studded with nails.

ENORMOUS AIR-INFLATED, AIR-TRANSPORTABLE SHELTER used by STRAC for briefings at Exercise BIG SLAM/PUERTO PINE held in March. Developed by Army Quartermaster Corps, the shelter when fully inflated is 40-feet wide, 80-feet long and 15-feet high. When deflated it makes a package four by five feet and weighs less than 700-pounds. Made of vinyl coated nylon, it attains and maintains its shape through high volume, low pressure air supplied by power blowers. The shelter has no center supports, poles or other obstructions to hamper movement within.

Third Annual Pecan Budding School Set

The third annual Pecan Budding School has been set for April 25 at the Chamber of Commerce office in Cisco. It was announced recently at the County Agent's office in Eastland.

The one day school will begin at 9:30 a.m. that date in the conference room of that organization. The morning session will be devoted to demonstrations and lectures on budding, types and kinds of budwood, stock, scion, tying the bud, forcing and the after care of the young buds.

The group attending will go to some nearby native pecan grove after lunch where they will have a chance to practice budding on small pecan trees using the patch bud method.

"We are delighted to have the pecan budding school in Cisco and we cordially invite all interested men and women to attend," Sam Kimmell, Cisco Chamber of Commerce president said when asked about the affair.

The school will be taught by J. M. Cooper, Eastland County agricultural agent who taught similar schools in Eastland in both 1958 and in 1957. Several of his pupils have become quite proficient in the art of budding.

Cooper said that out of county people who might be interested would also be welcome and that there would be no charge for participation.

Motor Vehicle Inspection Cuts Fatal Accidents

Friday, April 15 is the last day for getting motor vehicles inspected in compliance with the Texas Motor Vehicle Inspection Law.

The Texas Motor Vehicle Inspection Law—in effect now just seven years—has reduced accidents caused by vehicle defects by nearly two-thirds.

Association of Texas Fire & Casualty Insurance Companies' studies of Department of Public Safety reports show that in 1952 vehicle defects were a cause of 16 percent of fatal accidents. By 1958 —the latest year for which statistics are complete—the rate had been reduced to 6 percent.

In one year—from 1953 to 1954—vehicle defects as a cause of accidents dropped from a high rate of 18 percent to a level of only 6 percent and has remained at either 6 or 5 percent each year since.

The reduction in non-fatal accidents caused by vehicle defects has also been substantial. The drop in the 1953 to 1954 period was from 18 to 8 percent. Presently, DPS figures show vehicle defects as a cause in 10 percent of non-fatal accidents.

In 1952 better than 1-out-of-10 automobiles involved in a fatal accident had a defect contributing to the accident. Now, only 1-out-of-20 automobiles involved in fatal accidents have contributing vehicle defects.

The inspection law was continued in force despite demands for repeal. The full effect of the law was shown in the drop in vehicle defect-caused accidents in 1954—the year following the Legislature's decision to leave the law on the books.

More About World Outboard Speed Record

Scuttling the idea that high engine speed is necessary to high boat speed, Hu Entrop, famed Eastland racing boat driver, set a new world outboard speed record of 114.650 miles per hour with an engine turning a leisurely 4900 revolutions per minute.

Entrop drove his Starline Too, a 14-ft. racing hydroplane, powered by an Evinrude V-4 engine, to the new mark on Havana Lake on the California - Arizona border, March 29.

Making the record even more impressive was the fact that the standard compression and displacement engine was equipped with stock spark plugs and burned the normal fuel mixture of regular gasoline and outboard motor oil available at filling stations, rather than a racing fuel mix of alcohol.

In direct contrast to the usual mannered Entrop was the dynamic collaborator in the record trial, C. W. Jones, Phoenix marine distributor, who for almost 10 years had been obsessed with the passion of setting a world unlimited class outboard record.

Jones coordinated all the details of the project, including modification of the engine with a speed lower unit designed by "Fep" Lubbell of Los Angeles.

Jones commented at the end of the record run, "Hu has done such a tremendous job of raising outboard speeds that it is now academic that any engine capable of pushing a loaded cruiser at speeds of more than 50 mph can hustle a prop-walking hydro past 100 easily."

The ultimate speed of the pumped-like boat was limited not by the V-4's ability to respond to more throttle, but by the fact that the boat sought to leave the bare stability of its sponsons and be-

The Eastland County 4-H Entomology and Dairy Judging team won third and fourth place honors in the District 4-H Elimination contest held at Tarleton State College at Stephenville April 9.

The team members of the Entomology contest team from Eastland County are all members of the Cisco Jr. High School 4-H Club and their names are Ronnie Handberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Lattings, Cisco; Truly Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton C. Clark, Cisco; and Coy Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Lee Miller, Cisco. The team was trained by Wayne Brock, who is a 4-H adult leader of Eastland County and is a coach and teacher at Cisco Jr. High School.

The Dairy Team members were Roger Wilkerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odie Wilkerson, Scranton; Donny Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Simmons, Scranton; Jerry Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morgan, Scranton and Jimmy Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Johnson, Scranton. The team members are members of the Scranton 4-H Club and were trained by J. M. Cooper, county agriculture agent.

Ranger Cowgirl Wins Again

Jane Ann Bradford, 10 year old daughter of Don and Helen Bradford of Rt. 3, Ranger, was in the winner's circle again in the American Junior Rodeo Assn's rodeo last Saturday April 9, at Waco, Texas.

Each year the A.J.R.A. members compete at approved shows all over the United States receiving prizes according to the place they win in each event. Then at the end of the year the champions are named for each event.

In the Waco rodeo Jane Ann placed second in the barrel race with a time of 12.81 seconds, the first place going to Linda Rogers of Colorado City with a time of 12.72. Jane Ann also placed fourth in the pole-bending and sixth in the flag race to collect a nice total of 129 points at this show.

Jane Ann is a member of the Eastland County Fosse Ann Riding Club. She is planning on attending the American Junior Rodeo Show at Sweetwater April 15 and 16, and at Morgan April 25.

Betsy Teinert Represents R. C. At Coronation

Miss Betsy Teinert of Albany represented Ranger College at the Arlington State College queen's coronation and ball Friday, April 8, in Arlington. Dr. Jack E. Woolf, president of ASC, crowned Miss Pat Egan of Midland as queen of the 1959-60 student body.

Participating in the coronation ceremony were "visiting royalty" from twelve colleges and universities and thirty-two high schools. Those taking part in the actual coronation were representatives from the clubs, the Who's Who, and the eight beauty princess of Arlington State College.

Following the coronation, the queen's ball was held in the Student Union Building.

Miss Teinert is a sophomore majoring in law. She is an officer-member of Phi Theta Kappa and the Debs, secretary - treasurer of the sophomore class, and a Ranger-Ann. She was elected a favorite by the sophomore class and has been chosen by the faculty for Who's Who in Ranger College for two years.

Morris Light, sophomore from Hermleigh, was Miss Teinert's escort.

Luther Kirkpatrick of Ranger caught four bass weighing from 3 to 5 pounds.

Lynn Nickelson caught a two and one-half pound bass.

James Townsend, Lynn Nickelson and Buford Waggoner caught a five and one-half pound blue catfish, and three channel catfish on trotline.

Bonnie Yarbrough and brother-in-law caught 12 bass weighing from 3 to 5 pounds from Friday to Sunday.

Brownie King caught a 5 1/2 pound blue catfish on trotline.

Covered Sugar

By Mrs. Cubian Perry

Have you ever given a thought to just what makes a football game seem so much more exciting than a church? The truth of the matter is that churches are all but minus children. Look around you some Sunday if you don't believe it!

It is really so good that we have nurseries that take care of the small fry? What if they do disturb a few well brought thoughts? Look at the thoughts their little minds grasp; as the minister raises his voice to make a point, they become alive with wanting to know what he meant and ask all about it when they get home.

Now, this is the time for you and your child to get out the good book and you, of course, learn as you teach your child.

We, as adults, can't expect our children to become too interested in a subject that has been tabu until they are bite size. If they are seated with their parents, they might squirm a bit but after all, they aren't little mortars, in the beginning and the good book does say, "suffer little children to come unto Me," also Proverbs 13-24: "He that spareth his rod hateth his son; but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes." A trip to the car, may be two, and they learn to whisper and squirm a little less. The knowledge they soak up like a sponge is worth all the frown you might get from the people around you.

Just smile at them and then forget them as its your child that's learning the ways of the good book.

If you are one of the frowners, take a good look at yourself and you won't be so proud of what you have accomplished as some young parent will be afraid to try bringing his child's age on.

I have never figured out as to whether the people themselves or the "Men of God" started leaving the children out of the church prone.

Now, don't misunderstand me! I think nurseries are wonderful, especially for those who are serving the Lord in offices that have to be filled each Sunday morning.

My personal experience was that after a couple of nursery stays, I had considerable trouble in controlling them in any kind of public place but back to church, quite a few trips to the car and back with some "little quiet sabb" thrown in and Mother and Dolls did very nicely. I can remember the times with my "Dolls", one on each side of me and it is one of the sweetest

W. L. Womack In Germany Army Maneuvers

BAUMHOLZER, Germany — Army Pfc. Wm. L. Womack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Womack, 524 S. Oak St., Ranger, recently participated with other personnel from the 8th Div. 18th Infantry in a field training maneuver near Baumholder, Germany.

During the maneuver Womack received training in gas and air attacks and reconnaissance and patrol missions.

A senior platoon in the Infantry's Company D in Baumholder, Womack entered the Army in July 1958, received basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark., and arrived overseas the following February.

The 26-year-old soldier is a 1958 graduate of Conroe High School.

Get Ready for Those Baby Chicks

Before those baby chicks come the successful poultryman has several things to do. The performance of these chicks, when mature as broilers or layers, will depend on the care they receive during brooding.

The most important thing is to have the brooder house prepared, says Ed Kosarek, poultry supervisor, Texas A & M Poultry Science Department. Several steps should be followed carefully. Kosarek explains them as follows:
Clean out all old litter and disinfect the house and equipment before putting down new litter. This is a good way to stop disease outbreaks before they occur.

Turn on the brooders a day or so in advance of the chicks' arrival to check for needed repairs and then adjust the broiler temperature to 95 degrees. Thereafter cut the heat down 3 degrees each week until it reaches 70 degrees or until heat is no longer required. Also, set chick guards up about 3 feet from the brooder edge so chicks can spread out.

After the chicks come use paper plates or filler flats to provide one and one-half inches of feeding space per chick for the first few days. A high quality mash is recommended for debeaked chicks for the first few days. It is easy to eat and should be plentiful.

Provide plenty of fresh, clean water, as well as oxygen. In winter, warm water should be used. Two one-gallon waterers per 100 chicks is sufficient.

Keep the chicks warm but be sure there is enough fresh air in the house, Kosarek points out. And let it be noted, a good disease preventative measure is to keep chicks at least 300 feet away from older birds.

If more information is desired, see your local county agent.

Farm Bureau policies are formulated democratically in county, state and national conventions. The resolutions process is repeated each fall, with the adopted resolutions guiding the organization through the next year.

The prevention and control of plant diseases are important in livestock production because profits depend on maximum yields from pastures and crops. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, suggests a visit with the local county agent for information on the subject.

gin to "kite" - become air-borne. Harry Cupp, Knoxville, Tenn., officially referee of the National Outboard Association, which sanctioned the trial and certified the record, commented: "This was the simplest trial I've ever handled. They just put the boat in the water, started the engine, ran the course as required and came in with the record."

Timed by Otto Crocker, San Diego, chief timer for the American Power Boat Association, the new mark was faster by almost seven miles an hour than man had ever before traveled in an outboard powered boat.

AMERICA'S FORE FAMILY LIABILITY POLICY

A $10 insurance policy that every family should have

You have a nice family, but that doesn't mean you may not wake up some morning facing a damage suit for thousands of dollars, for something your family has done.

Your child may hurt somebody with his bicycle. You may hit somebody with a golf ball. Your dog may bite somebody. Somebody may trip on your steps and break a leg.

For $10 a year we can protect you against many kinds of lawsuits up to $10,000* with an America Fore Family Legal Liability Policy. It even pays medical fees up to $250 for non-family injuries even if you are not legally liable. Ask us.

*You can get higher limits if you want them.
