As I See Ranger

By Gene Townsend

It seems like this is going to be a year of many snakes being killed. Mrs. J. Seary reported Tuesday that she was in her yard working and a rattlesnake struck at her and bit her dress.

Mrs. Waverly Massengale who lives on the road between Lake Leon and Eastland killed a rattlesnake Wednesday that measured 58 inches long.

An Pete Jameson caught a water moccasin on a fishing line a few days ago.

Ask Morris Campbell what a good substitute for motor shears is? We heard from our Lake Leon scout that Morris sheared a pig a few days ago and the only thing that he could find to use for one was a piece of wood. Of course this is not recommended by heat manufacturers, but we understand that it did get Morris back to his dock.

(Printer's Note: Morris Campbell and Lynn Nicholson requested that this little note be clipped into Gene's column without him knowing about it.)—It seems that Lynn Nicholson and Gene were running a trotline together and they had a nice fish on the line. Gene grabbed the landing net and scooped the fish up into the boat. That was great, but in his excitement he threw Lynn's brand new landing net (of course the best one he ever owned) into the lake, and it went down like a rock. Morris and Lynn just wanted to let the people know about this little incident since it has been kept very quiet.

We received a letter from the Jack County Sheriff's Office today with a couple of free passes to the Jackboro rodeo. We wouldn't want to be accused of accepting this payola without giving in with some free publicity. So the Jackboro Rodeo is scheduled for June 2, 3 and 4.

Chief of Police Don Butler called a few days ago and notified us that we have two new policemen. They are J. W. Vinson and E. F. (Bud) Griffin. He said that he was happy to welcome them to the department.

Remember to attend the town meeting of the Ranger Community Development Movement in the High School Auditorium Friday night. Everyone should attend and hear the three speakers out line the plans for the organization.

There were a group of the leaders of this organization working Tuesday afternoon on some work that will improve the appearance of the Town. You will notice that all the trash receptacles were fresh painted Wednesday morning with nice neat lettering on them. This was a project of the RCDM. This can be built into a worthy organization—So come out Friday night and give them your support.

I received word from a reliable source that an out of town client had purchased the Ranger Livestock Auction and was planning to remodel and open up the auction barn.

The American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary has asked again that everyone with a plot in the Evergreen Cemetery please make an effort to have the plots cleaned by Sunday. Many have worked on their plots, but there is still some that haven't been cleaned. The Memorial program will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday and a very good program has been prepared.

This 'n That

Junior High Teen Town night will be changed from Thursday night to Tuesday night beginning June 1 due to Little League baseball.

After June 1 new tickets will be required. The tickets will cost 50¢ each and everyone must have one to get into Teen Town.

Gordon won the Class B Baseball District championship by defeating Flat 28 to 9 at Meridian, recently.

The Brownie Troop 464 of Arlington has planned a train trip to Ranger Saturday, May 28. There will be 16 girls, 8 and 9 years old, and four adults. They will eat lunch here and visit the town.

One of the girls, Hatacha Fae Fullwood is the granddaughter of Mrs. Joe Calder and niece of Mrs. Idus Bond of Ranger.

Big Open House At Frozen Food Center

The Ranger Frozen Food Center announced today that by special arrangements with the Amana Company, the Amana Freezerama, a large van truck displaying Amana Freezers and Combinations, will be at the Ranger Frozen Food Center for two days, May 27 and 28, commencing a gigantic sale of Amana Freezers and RCA Whirl-

THOUGHTS
By Bobby Fren
You twinkling star, hung high above,
Just shining down on someone's love.
He makes a wish; you make it true
To start a life, a life anew.

You glittering moon, perched on your starry left,
The dark night, you make it soft,
A glow of hope in the midst of despair,
A breath of life in the cool night air.

You glimmering sun, floating from your rest,
To make your journey from east to west,
On us below let fall a guiding ray
That from your light we can go our way.

BLESSED IN MY ENGLISH CLASS

By Sharon Sutton
Blessed are ye who enter the English class,
Blessed are ye who learn the parts of speech,
Blessed are ye who learn the outlining,
Blessed are ye who learn the rules,
Blessed are ye who learn the book reports,
Blessed are ye who learn the punctuation,
Blessed are ye for ye shall pass.

MALICIOUS MARCH

By Carol Hopper
I tread with you the frozen ground,
And shudder at the mournful sound,
See no beauty in the trees
Stretched out in frozen misery,
I shiver from the piercing wind,
And wonder if I have a friend,
But all at once my spirit wings,
For in the break bush, a robin sings.

SNOW

By Jan Falls
The snow is falling from the sky
In soft and lively puffs,
Each one lands softly with a sigh
And joins the other fluff.
It lands upon this roof of mine,
The same as on the ground,
It doesn't seem to rush for time,
It just keeps coming down.

WAR OF THE SKY

By Bert Young
Ripping the clouds with fingers of fire
The lightning quietly struck,
The lightning strikes thundered back a cry,
As light showed everywhere,
Partying quickly, they threw back
the bolt,
And the tormentor gave out a cry.
So back and forth the forces fought,
Ties tired and spent; peace reigned.

Archie Robinson To Receive Baylor Degree

Archie Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robinson, will graduate from Baylor University May 27, 1960, with a B. A. Degree in pre-med.

Archie was a member of the Alpha Psi Omega National Service Club, the Beta Beta Beta, a National Honorary Club for Biology, of which he was president of the Baylor Club for 1959-60 and a member of the Alpha Epsilon Delta, a National Honorary Club for pre-med students.

He plans to continue his studies at Baylor Medical School in Houston in September of this year.

The Amana Freezerama will mark the opening of the Amana dealership at the Ranger Frozen Food Center and surrounding area. The Amana Company invited Morris Newnam, manager of the Food Center, to visit their factor at Amana, Iowa recently and showed him their modern freezer factory and other industries operated by the Amana people. Newnam said that he was so impressed by the factory and the many years of traditional craftsmanship of the Amana folks that he decided to put in the fine line of freezers and combinations. The Amana freezer factory is one of the most modern factories of its kind in the United States, having in operation over five miles of overhead track. The Amana people also treated Newnam, along with Amana dealers in Texas and Louisiana to two days of entertainment in Las Vegas, Nevada. Mrs. Newnam joined her husband for the two days at Las Vegas.

The Ranger Frozen Food Center has been the RCA Whirlpool agency in Ranger for several years, and the RCA appliances will also be featured in the sale.
Newnam said, "we will have on hand for this sale the largest display of freezers and freezer combinations, ever displayed in Eastland County."
Other than special prices on freezers and freezer combinations, there will be free door prizes, refreshments and a frozen pig contest. A dressed pig will be displayed in a chest type freezer and everyone may take a try at guessing the weight of the pig. The person guessing closest to the weight of the pig will get the pig as a prize. Also, other prizes will be available for runners-up. There is no purchase necessary to be eligible for the prizes.
Newnam stated that although the Amana Freezerama display will be at the Frozen Food Center for only two days, the sale will continue until all Amana and RCA appliances now in inventory are sold.

County Savings Bonds Sales Far Above Average

April E and H Savings Bonds sales in Eastland County totaled $42,119 according to Guy Parker, chairman of the County Savings Bonds Committee.
Sales for the first four months of 1960 were $232,113 which represents 44.6 per cent of the county 1960 goal. Sales in Texas for the first four months were $57,482,776 or 34.7 per cent of its 1960 goal of $165,560,000.

"An important part in assuring our Nation's safety and economic stability and growth is played by purchasers of United States Savings Bonds. Every buyer of a Savings Bond helps provide the strengthened resources on which so much depends, not only for us but for future generations of Americans," the Eastland County Chairman said.

Seniors Receive Diplomas Tuesday

Glynn Covington, president of the Ranger School Board, presented 47 graduating students with their diplomas Tuesday night at the 1960 Commencement Exercises.

Alfred Rogers, class valedictorian, gave the farewell speech to the senior class. Following is the speech given by Rogers.
Here Today—Who's Tomorrow
As Valedictorian of the Class of 1960, it is my pleasure, as well as my duty, to bid you farewell; and yet, the word "farewell" does not express the full meaning we would convey. "Farewell" sounds altogether too final, so let us use the word "adieu"—"ill we meet again. True, it is "farewell" in the sense that we, as a class, are leaving Ranger High School, never to walk these halls again as students going through the four years demanded for graduation; but we should not allow ourselves to mourn at the separation. Instead, we should look forward to renewed efforts and added learning.

Tonight we are making our final appearance as seniors in Ranger High School. Uncounted numbers of students in other communities are meeting at this time and on other evenings for a similar purpose. The United States has always stood for the highest and best in the field of education. Many of its earliest citizens came to this country for the express purpose of securing educational advantages for themselves and their children. For them it was truly "the land of promise." Nowhere else in the world can the humble climb so high or achieve so much as in the United States. It has been said, and rightly so, that in America Opportunity not only knocks, it reaches a helping hand to all who want to succeed can be lifted up.

We who are graduating tonight fully realize that we never could have reached this position by our own efforts alone. It would be impossible to estimate the number of people who have contributed to our advancement; but we do recognize the fact that you, who have come to encourage, still further, have done a great deal; and we hope that we may in some measure express our sincere thanks.
It is natural, perhaps, that we think of our teachers first, the faculty of Ranger High School. All have done their best to help us. They put in long, weary hours studying their own lessons that they might obtain the degrees which would qualify them to teach in the high schools of Texas. They gave unstintingly of their time and talents to help us. Unhesitatingly they worked with us outside school hours if we had difficulties which we could not surmount alone. They entered into the extra-curricular activities with as much enthusiasm as if they were their own. Literally they have worked with us and played with us throughout our four years in high school. We would be unappreciative, indeed, if we failed to give public expression to our gratitude; yet mere words are not enough. Be assured that as we take our places in the world beyond the school room we shall try to give others help similar to that which you have given us. Undoubtedly there will be many times when those of us who enter the teaching profession think back to our own high school days and do for our pupils what you have done for us. Speaking for the class of 1960, let me say "Thank you" from the bottom of my heart.

Once we begin thinking of those who deserve our thanks, there seems to be no end to the list of names. Right now I recall how many nights the members of the school board have met to plan for the welfare of the school. Perhaps they had plans of their own for a certain night; their families might have wanted them to stay at home, but they sacrificed their own pleasure and comfort to discuss what would be best for Ranger's school system. Looking back, we can see how unappreciative we were and how we failed to understand how they were working for the school as a whole. A little consideration on our part might have made their work much easier. When the time comes that we are chosen to serve on school boards, we will know what a great contribution the school board makes to the community as a whole. We are sorry to have been so unfeeling in the past and hope you will accept our belated thanks, knowing that we mean every word of it.

The word "friends" covers a vast multitude. We could not possibly begin to name them all—the townspeople who co-operated in our plans for special events; the boys and girls who sold tickets for games, plays, and other entertainment; the crowds who thronged the bleachers, rooting for the Bulldogs even when they were not playing winning games; the long-suffering heroes who sat through poor performances, graciously assuring us we had done well; those who labored long and hard to keep the school clean and warm in spite of the fact that pupils—yes, even the seniors—were wholly lacking in co-operation; the local newspaper which gave us splendid publicity, playing our successes up and our failures down; the women who helped make costumes for our various productions, graciously assuring us we had done well; those articles we couldn't find elsewhere; the merchants who permitted us to put posters in their windows, and any others who have contributed in any way to our progress, we now say "Thanks You."

Probably every valedictorian since the first one in the history of commencement exercises has spent considerable time enlisting what parents have done. I realize that nothing new can be said and that anything I might try to say would be repetition; but I cannot let this evening pass without adding the thanks of the class of 1960 to their parents, individually and collectively, for all they have done to help us. High school people are proverbially busy. It has to be so, for the ordinary, humdrum tasks of running a household, and, we are sorry to say, frequently leaving many things undone. How often have our mothers baked cakes for food sales or parties, whipped up refreshments for impromptu gatherings, pressed garments, needed right now for some school event, taken care of home duties which rightfully belonged to us, made new costumes

AROUND THE CAMPUS

In spite of the many wonderful discoveries in the field of science, there are new inventions needed and cures hoped for every day. Several faculty members and students were recently interviewed, and the quest on put to them was, "If you could make some wonderful scientific discovery, what would you wish it to be?" Their answers follow below.

Dr. George Rushton: In the field of physics, a means of diminishing or negating gravitation temporarily and locally would be of enormous benefit.

Mrs. Marjorie Thelberge: A chemical or medical cure for the common cold would be a great boon to mankind.

Bill Tailon: Further experiments in deep-ocean exploration, with possibly an improvement in diving technique and equipment would add much to our understanding of marine life; perhaps such knowledge could be used to predict weather changes.

David Allsup: Textbooks dealing with scientific discoveries already made, written in simpler terms which could be more easily understood by laymen and students, would be a great contribution.

Sandy Taylor: A pill that would do your sleeping for you would be wonderful. That is, a pill one could take which would refresh the mind and body as much as would a night's sleep.

Bonnie White: Food pills that would provide all the necessary nutrition and eliminate the necessity of cooking should be very popular, especially with busy housewives.

Mrs. LaNita Walton: One of the most urgently needed discoveries in the field of medicine is an absolute cure or correction for allergies and for multiple sclerosis.

Leslie Mobley: We must back research which leads toward prevention and cure of hardening of the arteries. This disease robs so many people of vitality and mental power in their late years that it hardly seems worthwhile for science to have added years to life without also adding life to these years.

Mrs. Hamrick: This time of the year would be greatly simplified for teachers if an automatic theme grader were invented.

arms—like the feudists in Mark Twain's Huckleberry Finn—with blood in your eyes to get even, whether the iller meant to harm your cousin or not.

Later frontier justice gave way to courts and juries. They distinguished crimes — public offenses. Suppose a man runs you down as you cross a street on a green light. He breaches your private right (a tort) to be free from physical harm.

But the policeman there might also haul him in for assault with a motor vehicle, a crime. Such a driver may have to face both civil and criminal trials, paying you for his tort, while going to jail for his offense against society.

Recently, in another state, an unlicensed beauty operator put a strong chemical on her customer's face to get rid of wrinkles. The customer died. The trial court found the operator guilty of "criminal" negligence. But the state's Supreme Court reversed this verdict. It held that to be criminal negligence a more reckless act is called for than mere "civil" negligence, a tort.

For such a deed also to be a crime "the negligence must be aggravated, culpable, gross, or reckless... a departure from the conduct of an ordinary prudent and careful man... as to be incompatible with a proper regard for human life.

"The facts must be such that the fatal consequences of the negligent act could reasonably have been foreseen. It must appear that the death was not the result of misadventure, but the natural and probable result of a reckless or culpably negligent act."

Since punishment for a crime is more severe than a loss of money to a private person, the court also called for a higher standard of proof, proof "beyond a reasonable doubt," rather than merely "a preponderance of the evidence."

(Continued from Page One) often wide and framed with stand-up bands, some roll to form a cowl or loose turtle-neck, and there are many rounded necklines, suggesting the use of jewelry or scarfs as accent. The newest looking sleeves swing easy from a drop-shoulder yoke and barely cover the elbow. There are also many ragland cuts which have the shorter look. Three-piece suits have made a great comeback in the fashion scene.

Coats for Fall '60 are newsworthy, with various silhouettes, including the princess line, the classic coat with straight front and loose back, and the straight boy-coat. Sleeves are often bracelet length and only moderately wide.

In dresses, the "Fluid Silhouette" is new. This is the year of sharp contradictions or great individuality in fashion, and the dress silhouette is flexible, featuring three outstanding types: the overblouse, the long torso and the coat dress. Fall '60 really has something for every woman, fashion-wise.

A Message from Scott Bailey

Taxes are too high, the people's burden should be lessened, not increased. I will support economic legislation to check government waste and foolish spending. I will oppose any punitive or discriminatory tax plan. Our citizens are being taxed to death and the major problem before the next legislature will again be that of spending and taxing.
 I feel that we should review thoroughly the entire tax field and attempt to find out where we are. The Legislature can spend and tax the people to the point of no return.
 This is my first time to ever run for a public office, so I need your advice and encouragement. I earnestly solicit your vote and active support. If you will elect me your State representative, I will work tirelessly, conscientiously, and impartially for the benefit of all citizens of this district. Paid for by friends of Scott Bailey

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvaire that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvaire's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvaire (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvaire is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

as or altered old ones in spite of things they wanted to do for themselves! How many fathers have mowed the lawn or shovelled the walks because our schedule was so crowded we neglected them? How often have taken car loads of youngsters to out-of-town games or other activities when a quiet evening at home would have been much more to their liking! We see now how many times we imposed upon our parents, failing even to show proper appreciation for all they did. We do not need to wait until we are parents to realize this, and we sincerely hope our thanks at this time and our determination to do for our children what you have done for us will reward you.

As we are about to sever our connections with Ranger High School, we realize that thanks are also due the underclassmen. To the class which will take our place when school begins next fall, we want to express our appreciation for the many courtesies they have extended us in these past few weeks. If we have failed to be properly considerate at times, we ask your pardon, and assure you that we shall always recall your many kindnesses.

Yes, this is commencement night in Ranger High School; and we of the class of 1960 are making our last official appearance. We are here today. No one knows where we will be tomorrow; but wherever we are, whatever we do, the influence of the years we spent in Ranger High School will be with us. Our future will reflect the past. Every one of us can see where he failed at some time to do what he should as well as he should. Every one of us, I am sure, is resolving to go into the world with the firm intention of doing his best. Here today—where tomorrow? No one knows; but it is a certainty that wherever we are we will feel the effects of these years of this night, and live in such a way as to bring credit to those who have contributed so much to our progress.

Farm Accidents Cost Money, Experts Say

College Station, May—There isn't any profit in farm accidents, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The Council goes on to say that it is difficult to place a dollar value on the cost of a farm accident because there are many indirect as well as direct costs which must be taken into account.

The costs of farm accidents—like an iceberg—are largely hidden. The small portion of the iceberg above the water line can represent the direct costs which in case of a farm accident will be largely medical.

The large portion of the iceberg below the water line represents the indirect or hidden costs. Some of these indirect costs are time lost by the injured worker, cost of hired help to do the necessary farm work, possible loss of farm crops due to delay in harvesting, and damage to farm equipment. In addition to these monetary costs there is the physical suffering, discomfort and inconvenience associated with every major accident.

The Council hastens to remind farm families that farm and home accidents are preventable. Farm profits, they add, can be increased by reducing the number of accidents on the farm.

There is no profit in farm accidents. It is often hard to place a dollar value on a farm accident, points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, because of the indirect as well as the direct costs which must be taken into account. But, they add, most accidents are preventable and farm profits can be increased by keeping accidents from happening.

"The Interrelation of the Rural Church and the Larger Rural Community" is the theme for the 15th annual Rural Church Conference which meets at Texas A & M College, June 20-22. Rural pastors and church leaders have a special invitation to attend the Conference.

How much of your food dollar gets back to the farmer? Economists say it is about 38 cents. The remaining 62 cents goes for the costs of getting the food in the form you want it, at the time and place you want it. Food costs less now in terms of minutes of work necessary to buy what you need to eat than ever before in history.
