As I See Ranger

By Gene Townsend
Some seem to think that I was giving Norman Morrison all the credit for the Giants having an undefeated record going, but this was not the intention at all. Everyone connected with the Giants deserve their just credit. Manager Bob Galley, the Giants players, the Giants fans and Astor Morrison. My article was a personal item with Norman, and as for not giving Bob credit for worrying, it is my opinion that anyone that works with electricity eight hours a day would have nerves of steel, and worry wouldn't bother them.

It seems that the Giants have been promised a fish fry if they win two more games, and I was trying to wrangle an invitation out of Norman to get in on that fish fry.

Ranger has picked up about five more citizens to be added to the census count since the first report came out. This will bring the head count to over 3300. If anyone else has been missed in the first count, they can still get their name on the list by contacting R. V. Gallaway at the Chamber of Commerce office.

This department received another one of those unsigned letters this week. We like to receive letters, because it indicates that people are reading this space, but as for unsigned letters, they go in to file thirteen, which is dumped into the trash can each morning. There may be a lot of people (and I am sure there is) that disagree with what this column includes, but I still sign my name to it. Any letter that I get that is unsigned leaves the impression that the writer doesn't have the nerve to have their name associated with what they think. Therefore the deep six with said letters and contents.

Since I am on the subject of complaints and gripes, I might add that as for any item that is an opinion of the Ranger Times, it will have an editorial byline attached. That will indicate the opinion of the paper, or of the person whose name appears on the byline. This column has my byline, it is my thinking and may or may not go along with the rest of the staff of the Times.

Any news item or item without a byline is news of the town and county. Whether it is good news or bad news it is the duty of the newspaper to put it before the people. I don't think that just because it is something that might go against the town that it should be hid. The better people are informed of something, the better chance they will have to counteract it, or promote it, whichever their wish may be.

The topic that has brought this little parlay about, is the idea of a central high school. I think that we should learn all we can about the idea. Learn its merits and its disadvantages. There just might be something there that would benefit Ranger, then there might not.

BULLETIN

A Ranger Negro was picked up early Saturday morning and is being held in the Ranger city jail under suspicion of assault and robbery.

Bob Patterson investigated the incident which occurred on the old Country Club Road, following a tip from a Ranger citizen. Patterson found a woman that had been knocked unconscious. He called an ambulance and Deputy Sheriff Johnny Boyd.

Boyd and constable Ralph Neal began an investigation of the incident and picked up the suspect who had been reported in the vicinity of the incident. The woman's purse was found in the suspect's room and he was booked for further investigation.

Boyd said a full report would be given as soon as the investigation was completed.

DODGERS DOWN BRAVES

Giants Increase Lead With 6th Win

The Dodgers downed the Braves 12 to 8 and the Giants edged the Yankees 5 to 3 in Little League play Thursday night. The Indians had an open night.

In the first game the Dodgers had the best night they have had this season to come from behind with a big nine run inning to defeat the Braves.

The Braves scored six big runs in the first inning in what looked like a run-away game, only to have their lead erased in the second when the Dodgers capitalized on five hits and a host of errors, to take command of the game behind the pitching of little Raymond Jimenez. Jimenez came into the game in the first inning after starter Jerry Watson and reliever Jimmy Gryder failed to hold the Braves. Jimenez allowed two runs on three hits after entering the game. The Dodgers collected 11 big hits off of starter Robert Tally and reliever Martin Salazar.

Hitting for the Dodgers were Jimmy Gryder, Rudy Mendoza, Gilbert Nail, Jerry Watson and Jack Watson, with two hits each. Jimenez got one hit. The Braves' three hits were off the bats of Martin Salazar, Billy Polk and Joe Gibson who each got one hit.

In the second game the Giants came from behind to keep their undefeated record alive, behind the pitching of Johnny McGee and reliever Daryl Swiney.

The Yankees scored two runs in the third inning when the first two batters reached the base and scored.

School's Out! Teachers Let The Monkeys Out

When we were kids—and it was after the demise of the cigarette Indian and the horse-drawn carriage, despite what our children may think—this was a pretty exciting time of year. It still is.

Schools across the nation have thrown open their doors for summer vacation. When we were kids, the cry was: "School's out! School's out! Teacher's let the monkeys out!" Wouldn't that be a bit surprised if kids today were saying the same darn thing.

Time for school to let out for summer—a time when kids can indulge in what one writer refers to as "the birthright of every child": having fun. The summer months will be jam-packed with unbelievable amounts of fun—swimming, walking, playing, biking, climbing, running, jumping, and, for some of the older boys and girls, driving a car.

Summer, for kids, is the roiling season. It's a time of freedom. It's also a time of tragedy—tragedy from accidents. The big killer in June-July-August is school-age children in drownings. This information comes from the National Safety Council, a non-governmental agency founded in 1913 to prevent all kinds of accidents—home, farm, work, public, traffic and school.

According to the Council, which has its headquarters in Chicago, no exact figure are available on what injuries befall children in summer. Cuts and bruises are probably high on the list, even a fraction of the safety tips that come to mind to prevent summertime accidents.

Injuries would be an impossible task, and would fill much more space than we have here.

Because the National Safety Council tells us that drownings, in all probability, will be the No. 1 death-dealer to our children during the next few months, we think a few words of advice on that subject are warranted here. The Council says children should, naturally, be in condition to swim, that they should never swim alone, and that they should be impressed with these cautions:

—Wait awhile after eating before you swim.

—Don't swim when you're heat and tired.

—Showing off in the water, ducking other swimmers, and crying "wool" are never done by boys and girls who think before they act.

—Be just as cautious in a boat or walking along a river bank when swimming. Lots of children drown each year from slipping, falling or leaping into the water.

Maybe you believe your children will think you're a fuddy-duddy if you try to give them such advice. We think it all depends on how you give the advice. If you can get across the point that you only want them to enjoy their birthright—but that they can't enjoy it very well from a wheelbarrow—or a grave—you're on the right track, in our opinion.

When all's said and done, it's surely up to the parents to make sure their sons and daughters keep out of danger this summer. Children aren't old enough to be completely responsible for their actions. We simply have to expect the unexpected from children.

Any day now, the cry will go up: "Teacher's let the monkeys out!" It's our responsibility to keep those lovable monkeys safe to enjoy life.

COURTING CONTROVERSY—Intended to eliminate congestion under the basket and to make life miserable for tall players, this experimental hoop was first put into play at Union College, Schenectady, N.Y. Designed by Ed Wachter, of Troy, N.Y., it's shown as U.C.'s athletic director, Wilfred Katz, measures hoop for positioning 20 inches from the backboard. Installation is made 10 1/2 feet above the court.

SUNDAY DEVOTIONAL

Personal Worker
By J. C. Adkins
Pastor of The Church of God
Test. John 1: 41-42

Andrew was never spoken of as a great preacher, but he did some great personal work. He has been called the patron saint of personal workers.

Every time his name appears in the Bible, he was helping someone to Christ.

You remember Peter preached on the day of Pentecost, and there were 3,000 souls added unto them. Acts 2:41.

The second time we read of Andrew, in John 6:8, he brought a lad to Jesus, and that lad had something. The people needed, Andrew himself did not have what the lad had, but he did bring him to Jesus.

So Jesus with the cooperation of the lad giving him his lunch, fed the whole multitude.

So don't underestimate the potentiality of young people, they may have what the people need. If they will give it to the Lord, with themselves.

Don't feel bad, hurt or jealous if you have brought someone to Christ, and they are able to do more for the Lord than you can. You will be rewarded, because you brought them to the Lord.

Another time we find Andrew

Mrs. James P. Morris Makes Europe Tour

Mrs. James P. Morris, Dean of Women and instructor in government and English at Ranger College, left June 4 for a summer in Europe.

Accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. John Barcus of Austin, Mrs. Morris left Idlewild International Airport in New York Saturday via KLM jet for Amsterdam. After a few days in Amsterdam, she will make a brief visit to Norway, Sweden, Germany, France, and England. Once in England, she will enroll in the University of London for graduate study. Here she will be given lecture-type classes by prominent authors, critics, and professors in the field of literature. In addition, she will spend a week at one of the University's extensions at Stratford, where she will study Shakespearean plays as well as critiques of actual plays given there.

On August 7 Mrs. Morris will begin a tour of the continent. This tour is a continuation of her course at London University, as she is to get a first-hand glimpse of literary associations dominant in each country visited. Included on her itinerary are the famous "Ries" of Paris, Vienna, Venice, Rome, Amalfi, Naples, and Pompeii. There will also be a brief stop in Switzerland to attend the Passion Play at Oberammergau and an extension of her visit in Rome to see the summer Olympics.

From Pompeii she will go back to Rome to make a cross-continent flight to Brussels. The last stop on the itinerary is Amsterdam, where she will take a return KLM jet flight to New York, returning to Ranger September 4.

MRS. JAMES P. MORRIS

Mrs. Morris will get impressions of the climate of English and continental literature as well as obtain knowledge of the many different systems of European government. Fall semester students taking her courses should get a deeper understanding of the fields of literature and government from her eye-witness accounts of life abroad.

also told me to handle the line with care. So, in an equally casual tone, I replied, "So—but then I'm comparatively new in West Texas and don't know all the traditions. Why?" His answer was, "Well you know whether it's true or not."

"How is that?"

"Because when the cornerstone of this courthouse was laid, a live horned frog was placed in it."

He then related the circumstance. The courthouse cornerstone was going to be laid. Being a member of these creatures, to survive a part in the ceremonies. As he was leaving home, Wood saw his son, Will, playing with a horned frog. The father had read, a day or so before in the Dallas News, something about the purported ability of these creatures to survive a century without food or water. Deciding to put the matter to a test, he took the frog and proceeded downtown.

Because of his duties as a musician, Wood knew he would not have the opportunity to place the frog in the cornerstone, where also were deposited a Bible, newspapers and coins.

That night, (after our conversation) I wrote a short news article, sweeping the carbon for use in the historical papers and sending the original to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, of which I was the local correspondent. Not only did the Star-Telegram publish the article but the Associated Press, of which that newspaper is a member, sent the dispatch to hundreds of journals.

Letters came to Eastland from many sections. Visitors asked about the matter and townspeople traveling to other areas were showered with inquiries: Was it really true that a live frog had been sealed in the cornerstone? When would the stone be opened? The seekers for information who dwelt in more distant regions wanted to know if there actually was a frog.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Many of us think of a legend as a story handed down from a long ago past; something that our fathers heard from their fathers. But this is the story of a legend that originated in the memory span of many who read these lines—how a legend began, told by one who can be said to know about it at first hand.

Old Rip was one of those fantastic, fearsome-looking but harmless creatures which scientists say are lizards; but any small boy in West Texas knows better than that; they are horned frogs. They have leathery like hides and spiked heads. They are voiceless and the red drab color enables them to blend into the background. Their ability to scurry is their chief reliance in getting away from danger. When aroused, they can emit a reddish fluid from their eyes. In the winter, they find hiding places and go into a state of suspended animation.

The hero of this tale was no different in appearance from any of the unnumbered thousands which swarm over numerous Texas counties each spring and summer. A little, bright-eyed creature that you could hold in the palm of your hand—yet he gained worldwide renown and he has become a part of the lore and legend of Texas.

In the winter of 1927-28, this chronicler was editor of Eastland's daily newspaper. A group sat in the office of the district clerk in the old brick courthouse, which had been built in 1897 and was soon to be torn down. It was almost closing time. In the group was Ernest Wood, former county clerk and later justice of the peace. He was a plump, middle-aged man with mild blue eyes and a quiet way of speaking. The conversation had been about this and that; then Wood, addressing me, asked: "Did you ever hear the West Texas tradition that a horned frog can live a hundred years without food or water?"

Newspaper instinct told me that

There is a daily walk with happiness. No fears, no worries, no cares. It is the perfect Utopia.

So fear not when Death brushes near; Look upward for a reward so dear. That comes from Defeat in Life.

Frank

By Garry Goodshaw
I know a fellow named Frank. Who is as wealthy as can be. He owns a yacht, a mansion, a bank. And even part of the sea.

Although a Christian he was not. He had much that a man could desire; But he forgot to remember That God's love is not for hire.

Spring Rain
By Glenda Lee Bains
Hark, there is thunder just above us. In the rolling sky. The lightning flashes, And the green leaves shiver on the tree limbs.

Hark, there is thunder just above On the tin roof spluttering.

The life-giving spring rain has come And renews our own hopes.

Vegetables
By Melvin Anderson
Friendly little vegetables, All in a row. With hints from friendly rains. Un from seed they grow. Healthy little vegetables. Behind the door and here. Born with the '31 of sun. The '31 little blossoms glow. In the early autumn. When the leaves begin to fall. The large, healthy vegetables Are gathered one and all.

I Give You Texas—

were frogs with horns. The young editor was amused at the wide interest which had been aroused.

It was not long until destruction of the courthouse began. County Judge E. S. Pritchard promised to learn from the contractors the exact day and an estimate of the hour that the cornerstone would be reached. So on a Friday morning, the editor was informed that probably in the middle of the afternoon of the next day the cornerstone would be opened. Through the Associated Press, millions were informed of this.

On Saturday, February 18, 1928 shortly after noon people began to gather and the crowd grew steadily larger. The frog was the only topic of conversation. Would he be found—and, if so, would he be alive? There was one member of the crowd who was sure that nothing would be discovered, not even a shriveled mummy or a pinch of dust that could be identified. This individual was the brainy young editor who had started all the speculation. (To be concluded next week).

Gardenhire-Reese United In Church Ceremony May 29

Miss Betty Gail Gardenhire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harless Gardenhire of Route 2, Ranger, became the bride of Harold Michael Reese, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Reese, of 105 East Lens, Eastland, Sunday, May 29 at 3 o'clock in the Mesquite and Rusk Church of Christ in Ranger.

Edgar Bryant, cousin of the bride and minister of the Church of Christ in Ranger, performed the double ring ceremony before an altar of gladioli and French daisies, flanked by jade palms and white tapering candles. The church aisles were marked with white satin bows and ferns.

Wedding music was presented by members of the Abilene Christian College A Cappella Chorus. They sang "O Promise Me", "Always", and "The Lord Bless Thee and Keep Thee."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a simple dress featuring a Sabrina neckline embroidered with imported chantilly lace. The very full skirt enhanced with lace and applique was lighted with lilacs. An oversize bow of lace and organza contrasted her tiny waist. From the bow a continuous line of silk organza fell ending with a whisper train. Her silk illusion veil was attached to the tiara of pure silk and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and feathered mums.

Miss Norma Gayle Emfinger of Ranger was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Peggy Pullias of Fort Worth, Marilyn Lawrence of Mayfield, Kentucky, and Marilyn Weis of Merkel. Their dresses were identical of ice blue lace over blue cotton satin, designed with fitted bodices and cummerbunds at the waist line, with full skirts. The attendants chose matching shoes and hats and carried fan shaped nosegays of blue feathered carnations to match the dresses.

Flower girl was Suzanne Cooper of Eastland. She wore a blue dress and hat to match, and carried a white net basket of blue feathered carnations. Don Fry of Eastland was ringbearer.

Charles Thompson of Eastland was the best man. Groomsmen were Ronnie Luckie of Abilene, Leon Kelso of Merkel, and Mike Cummings of Fort Worth.

The ushers were Jerry Bob Greer and Jerry Bradford of Ranger, Ronald Robertson of East-

MRS. MICHAEL REESE
... nee Miss Betty Gail Gardenhire

land, and David Reese, brother of the groom.

Candle lighters were Jimmy Bryant of Roby and Caleb Herndon of Abilene.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gardenhire chose a mauve pink lace dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a gladiolus. The groom's mother wore a lace dress of robin's egg blue with a full skirt and matching accessories. Her corsage was of white feathered carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the church. The table was laid with a cutwork cloth over blue and centered with white French daisies and gladioli in a crystal bowl. Miss Janie Breaux of Merkel presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Jerry Don White served the three tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. W. B. Emfinger, Mrs. J. H. Greer and Charles Hamilton, all of Ranger. Miss Barbara Crabb of Ranger presided at the registry table.

For traveling the bride chose a navy suit with matching shoes and white accessories. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, a 1958 graduate of Ranger High School, is presently a junior business education major at Abilene Christian College. She is a member of the "W" Club, a woman's honor organization and the Business Administration Club.

The groom is a 1958 graduate of Eastland High School and is a junior accounting major at Abilene Christian College. He is employed by the Withrow and Wood Accounting Firm in Abilene. He is also a member of the Business Administration Club at ACC.

The couple will resume their studies in the fall at ACC. After a wedding trip to New Mexico, El Paso and Jaurez, they will be at home at 847 EN 16th in Abilene.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Saturday night at the White Elephant Restaurant in Eastland.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Glen Simons, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Felde, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Luckie and Sheryl, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. NEW BILLING METHOD
In another step to increase our operating efficiency and keep down the costs of furnishing your telephone service here in Ranger, we have adopted a faster, more economical method of billing.

Beginning with your next telephone bill, a punched card will be included in your bill. This punched card replaces the stub portion of your old bill, so please be sure to return the punched card with your payment.

Please remember these two points:
(1) If you pay your bill by MAIL, enclose only the punched card with your payment.
(2) If you pay your bill IN PERSON, bring both the punched card and your bill with you.

You will continue to receive the other part of the bill as you have in the past. Only the stub is being replaced by the punched card.

Also it is very important that the punched card is not folded, torn, or marked in any way.

We will appreciate your cooperation in making this change here in Ranger. We look forward to a continuing search for better ways to serve you and your communication needs.

ONE MINUTE OF COURTESY
It's been my experience that most folks in Ranger try to answer their phone calls promptly. But in the summertime so many are busy outside—with gardening, yard work or just relaxing in the sun or under the stars—that it takes a little longer to get to the phone.

If you've ever just missed a call after running in from outside to answer the phone, you know how disappointing it is. Most folks can get to their telephones within a minute, even when they aren't in the house. One minute is about the time it takes for the phone to ring 10 times.

By waiting at least 10 rings before you hang up, you have a much better chance of getting your call through, especially when the person you're calling is not near the phone. In the long run, you'll save yourself the time and trouble of calling again, and your friends will certainly appreciate your courtesy and patience. So please remember to wait 10 rings—it takes just a minute.

VACATION TRAVEL TIPS
If you plan to go out of town on vacation, there are a couple of things you can do to make your trip more enjoyable and carefree.

First, call ahead for reservations. Second, make arrangements with a relative or neighbor to keep an eye on your house while you're away. Give them your vacation address and phone number so they can reach you in an emergency.

Remember, too, Long Distance rates are lower on Sundays and weekdays after 6 p.m. And you save more than one-third when you call station-to-station.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

The Search for Truth

By Bill Stuart

How can the sun be so bright, Yet the day be so absent of light? How can the truth be so near And the vision so clear, And still remain so near? The truth can be before your eyes, But can you see it? Will you look for it? Will you recognize it for what it is? If good is good, and bad is bad, How can there be an in between?
