

As I See Ranger

By Gene Townsend

Noble Robinson, caretaker for the Community Clubhouse, tells us the City is in the bee farming industry. He said that about four years ago a swarm of bees decided to make their home in the wall of the clubhouse. He said that after they had been in the wall for quite a while he contacted a party to go into the wall to ensure the bees and move them. This was done, but the wall wasn't put back properly and the bees returned to their home. Now, there are two swarms of bees in the wall, and probably quite a bit of honey has been stored there during the past year. He is looking for someone who will rob the hives and capture the bees and remove them from the wall. He said the only thing that would be required of the party who wanted the honey and bees was to fix the wall back so that the bees can't return.

There seems to be quite a bit of talk about the 20 percent increase in school tax evaluation. Actually, it's not a large increase in what one will have to pay on their property. If a person's property is presently valued at $1500, the increase would raise the valuation to $1800. The amount of increase would be the tax rate on the $300 increase in valuation. Therefore, the increase in actual taxes will not be very much. It's a small price to pay for an educational system.

A couple of weeks ago my pocket knife disappeared from the office. Everyone here at the Times was very helpful in trying to find the knife for me. In fact, they were just a little too helpful, and it indicated that they knew more about the disappearance than they would admit. Anyway, it led to some accusations against the honesty of some of the individuals in the back shop. Yesterday morning the knife arrived in the mail. It was postmarked in Mirage, Ariz. Several of the afore mentioned individuals asked for a withdrawal of said accusations, but I haven't been to Mirage and the knife didn't walk out there, so I refuse to retract any statements until the mystery is cleared up.

Speaking of accusations, Wilson Simpson heard that Woody Gryder had fish for supper Monday night and accused Woody of getting the fish off of his trotline. Woody said, "that's pretty good, here I have been fishing all year and have had fish two times, and then someone gripes about how I got them."

Correction — We would like to correct the article about naming the girls dormitory at Ranger College. The name in the article should have read Mary Frances Jameson and not Frances Ruth.

Lou Dell's Formal Opening Draws Near 300

Patterson is an honorably discharged veteran of the U. S. Navy, having served for seven years on active duty. He was on active duty in World War II and the Korean War. He had attained the rank of Petty Officer at the time of his discharge.

Former Student Graduates From Tennessee College

Mrs. C. E. Owen, who has just returned from a vacation in Tennessee and Mississippi, was overheard telling her trip. "Seeing your first granddaughter graduate from college is really an event." Dana Lynn Dremlafer, who was born in Ranger, received her Bachelor of Arts degree this June from Memphis State University. During her four years of college, Dana was very active on campus. Both her grandparents and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dremlafer are proud of her achievement.

Paul Montgomery Graduates from Virginia College

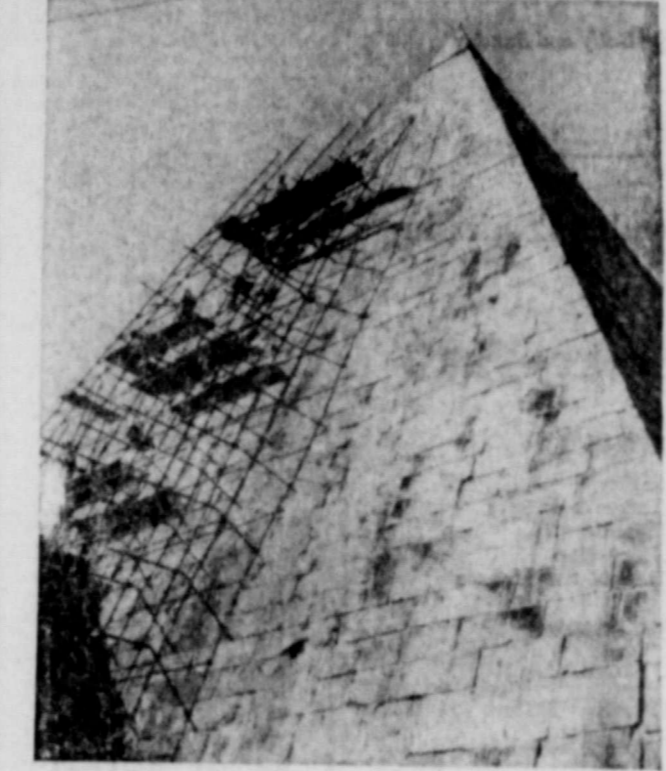

John Paul Montgomery, grandson of Mrs. Margaret Lemley Heard, 211 Mesquite St., Ranger, was graduated from the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia on June 5, and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Army. He has been assigned to the Fourth Infantry Division, Ft. Lewis, Washington. While a student in William and Mary, Montgomery was editor-in-chief of the Flat Hat, student publication; president of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity; a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity; and Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity. He also served as a president of the student body and as vice-president of the University Party, a political party on campus.

Coach and Band Director Hired

Contracts for two new faculty members of the Ranger Independent School District were approved by the School Board at a meeting Tuesday night, G. B. Rush, Superintendent of the Ranger Schools, announced today. The board approved a contract for Joe E. Davis, a graduate of Austin College. Davis will be assistant football coach and head basketball coach. Davis graduated from Austin College in 1959, and has been working on his Masters Degree at Austin College this year, and worked as a backfield coach and freshman basketball coach at Austin College. He is attending summer school at Austin College this summer, and will move to Ranger sometime in July.

Little League Week Program Set Friday

National Little League Baseball Week, set aside by act of Congress and presidential proclamation, is being observed throughout the world this week of June 15th to 19th. More than 5,000 leagues are joining in the observance by scheduling special events and ceremonies designed to emphasize the position of stature and respect with which Little League is held by millions of Americans. A special program has been planned by the Ranger Little League in observance of Little League Week. Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Little League Park, following the minor league games, the five major league teams will compete in special contests. The team winning the contest will be given a party by the League. Events scheduled in the contest were: hitting, throwing, fielding and running. Each team can enter two boys in the batting contest and they will be judged on number of hits and length of hits on a point basis. Throwing will be an accuracy event, throwing from center field to home plate. Each team can enter two boys. Fielding will be judged on fielding the ball and making the throw. Two entries per team in this event.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House Thrills recalled: Standing on the very spot where Patrick Henry stood when he thundered, "Give me Liberty or give me death!" Visiting the grave of Sam Houston, the home of Eugene Field (author of course, of "Little Boy Blue"), and the courthouse in which the case of Dred Scott was tried; Hearing and seeing, on the stage, Ted Lewis, Bob Hope, Jerry Lewis and Mary Martin. Yes, life has not been lacking in variety—each Sunday for seven years on a Southwestern radio hookup; hundreds and hundreds of after-dinner speeches; viewing San Francisco, Natchez, Vicksburg, San Antonio, New York, Hollywood and Mexico; interviewing Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard (but not at the same time); seeing Dan Patch to a racing sulky in the twilight of the great racer's career; Writing books, magazine articles, thousands of news articles—and this column.

Final Rites Friday For David Fawcett

David A. Fawcett, 53, Ranger resident for the past 12 years, passed away in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Dallas at 11:20 a.m. Wednesday. Mr. Fawcett was born February 7, 1907 in Avant, Oklahoma. He was an engineer for Service Pipe Line Company, where he had been employed for 28 years. He married the former Norma Lee Coventon in Ada, Oklahoma July 4, 1939. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army Air Force, a member of the IOOF Lodge of Ranger, the American Legion and an inactive Volunteer Fireman. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Ranger. Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Ralph E. Perkins, pastor of First Baptist Church and Rev. Bobby Spross, pastor of the Eastside Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery with military graveside services. COUNTY HELPS ELECT BLACKMON

Sen. Johnson Given Great Texas Sendoff

Eastland County delegates to the State Democratic Convention in Austin threw in eight votes in the 2,252-vote landslide given Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson Tuesday. Just 40 nay votes were registered in the only roll call vote of the day. The Texas sendoff gave Sen. Johnson 52 electoral votes in his bid for the Democratic nomination for President. Eastland County delegates also played a key part in the 17th District caucus on the floor of the convention Tuesday. Abilene delegates to the convention had teamed earlier with delegates from several other counties to gain control of the pre-convention caucus held in the Driskill Hotel Monday. They named a slate of delegates which omitted the names of several key Democrats, including Congressman Omar Burleson, and Eastland County delegates joined a coalition with seven other county delegations to wrest control away from the Abilene group, which was headed by Ed Connally, state Democratic chairman.

Eastland Exes Homecoming Set This Weekend

With the completion of plans for the religious service to be held at the Majestic Theatre Sunday morning at 8, the Eastland High School Alumni Association announced that plans for the 1960 Homecoming are complete. This is the big week. Registration will be going on the remainder of the week with Mrs. Jack Carothers in charge of registration desks. The Village Hotel is headquarters for the Homecoming, which is expected to be the largest homecoming to be held in Texas this year. Thursday and Friday Homecomings, who are interested in golf, will be playing in a tournament at Lakeside Country Club. Next Day is tournament director. A suitable award to the best golfer home for Homecoming will be made at Maverick Stadium Saturday night. The giant barbecue will be Saturday evening at 6:30 at the Stadium with music furnished by the Eastland High School Maverick Band, Handmaster Phil Hewett, conducting.

At the stadium Saturday evening Joe Gray, association president, will preside at a meeting slated to recognize outstanding Eastland High alumni for the accomplishments they've made since finishing high school and special recognition of people who've done much for the association itself. A homecoming queen will be crowned Saturday too, but her identity will remain a closely guarded secret until Saturday evening as the floors of the association wish to surprise the young lady. Justice J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, will make a brief address at the stadium. Judge Hickman for many years was chief justice of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland. Mayor Cyrus Frost will welcome the Homecomers to their old hometown's homecoming. School Superintendent Wendell Siebert will present two honorary diplomas from Eastland High School to two outstanding citizens who are not graduates of Eastland High School but who have done much to mold the life of Eastland in the past years and who have proved themselves to be citizens of outstanding merit to their community.

Screaming Eagles To Jump At Dyess Fiesta Days

U. S. Army Skydivers of the Fort Campbell, Kentucky, Sport Parachute Club who recently defeated Russia's best parachute team are slated to thrill visitors at Dyess Air Force Base's Fiesta Days June 15-18. Five of the half-dozen "Screaming Eagle" daredevil jumpers are Texans, the other member of the elite group representing the club is a Sergeant First Class David Deane, from Pennsylvania. Captain of the team is Sergeant Major Henry Slominski, who was one of the first men to be qualified as an Army Free-Fall Instructor, and has chalked up 279 parachute jumps to be high man among the group. Narrator for the exhibition is 3-Sgt. Jimmy Horton, who won't be jumping at Dyess but has made more than 95 jumps. The team is made up of Slomanski, 2nd Lt. Jerry W. White, who is a platoon leader with 58 jumps logged; 2-Sgt. Evertan Torres, former fly-weight boxing champion who has gone out the door more than 169 times; SFC David Deane, former photographer and newsman who has made more than 350 trips to earth by way of a parachute; Specialist 4 James E. Lewis, 19, and the youngest member of the team, has hit the silk more than 90 times. All members of the group are assigned to units of the famed 101st Airborne Division (Screaming Eagles).

Official High Reading Here Is 105 Degrees

Eastland County gave Presidio a run for heat honors in the nation Wednesday, and there are probably a lot of folks here who would vow the county came out on top. Temperatures rose to 105 degrees, the official United States Weather Bureau station reported. A hot wind did nothing to make it seem cooler. All of West Texas and most parts of Texas had high readings and records were broken in some areas. Presidio had 112 degrees, San Angelo reported 109 and Fort Worth had a high of 104. Dallas had 102, which tied the standing record there for June 15, and Waco, with 104, had the highest temperature ever recorded there in June. The forecast calls for more hot weather today with partly cloudy skies and isolated showers.

Desdemona School Superintendent Resigns Post

James R. Williams, Superintendent of the Desdemona Independent School District for the past two years and re-elected for a third school term, resigned at a special meeting of the board in honor of Henry M. Osburners. The resignation is effective July 31, and the new contract for Osburners is effective Aug. 1. Williams made one statement, "that is, 'he is certain that the Board of Education of the Desdemona Independent School District is the finest school board in Texas.'"

Olden Student On East Texas State Honor Roll

James Cothran Everett Jr., of Olden, was among the 188 East Texas State College Students placed on the Dean's List for high grade records made during the spring semester. Each student named to the list carried a full load of courses (at least 15 semester hours) and maintained better than a "B" average. Minimum grade point totals are: 36 for 15 or 16 semester hours; 41 for 17 or 18 semester hours; and 46 for 19 or more semester hours. In the grade point system an "A" counts three points per semester hour, "B" two, and "C" one.

Yellow Jaundice On Rampage In Texas

The wave of infectious hepatitis now sweeping the nation is being felt strongly in Texas. State Health Department officials are rushing quantities of gamma globulin to local health authorities who request it for use in forestalling further increases in cases of the liver ailment. An aggregate of 1,061 cases of the disease—sometimes called "yellow jaundice"—had been reported as of May 28, compared with 553 cases for a similar period last year. Infectious hepatitis, caused by a virus, is usually transmitted through close contact with infected persons and through contaminated milk, food and water. A closely related disease called serum hepatitis is spread by accidental inoculation of infected human blood or blood products, or by use of needles contaminated with traces of blood from infected persons.

The ten leading causes of death in Texas during 1959 caused 60,721 out of a total of 73,753 deaths. Heart diseases and cancer were the number-one and number-two killers respectively. Heart disease accounted for 24,629—and coupled with cancer—11,986 deaths—claimed half of the total for last year. Apoplexy was the third-ranking cause of death followed in order by accidents (including automobile), disease of early infancy, pneumonia, birth defects, general aches and pains, diabetes, and suicides round out the top ten killers. Two-thirds of all deaths in Texas are attributed to the four leading causes which includes accidents. Improvements in the control of communicable diseases—malaria, tuberculosis, yellow fever and typhoid—have made all of these diseases, except tuberculosis, curiosities in Texas. The chronic diseases—heart and vascular disorders, cancer, and diabetes—are now the leading causes of death along with acci-

Milk Is Food Bargain, Agrees Nutritionists

Nutritionists agree, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, that if you were to duplicate the food elements in a quart of milk by purchasing other products, it would cost you about 43 cents. Dr. Charles H. Mayo, late distinguished surgeon at the famous Mayo Clinic said, "Considering its cost per pound, milk offers more food for the money than any other food material available."

Meekma points out that studies of consumer food expenditures show that 18 to 20 percent of the family food budget is spent for milk and milk products. However, he states, the American family gets 23-26 percent of their calories, 40-45 percent of their protein, 75-84 percent of their calcium, 59-76 percent of their riboflavin, 35-39 percent of their Vitamin A, 18-19 percent of their thiamin and 5-6 percent of their iron and niacin for this money.

In terms of today's factory wages, the "real" price of a quart of milk is the lowest in history, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Back in 1890 it took 26 minutes of factory work to pay for a quart of milk selling at the average price of 6.8 cents. Today it takes less than 7 minutes to earn the price of a quart of home-delivered milk figured at 25.2 cents per quart.

Restricted Feeding For Rearing Pulletts Explained

Restricted feeding of broiler strain pulletts from the sixth-eighth week of the growing period until the start of egg production has been found to result in a delay in sexual maturity and a lower body weight at the beginning of egg production.

This practice has several advantages for the poultryman, said Dr. C. W. Deyoe, Texas A & M Poultry Service Department. There is an increase in the number of large, settable eggs during the production period, an overall increase in egg size, reduced mortality, and a reduction in the cost of rearing the pulletts to sexual maturity.

The two general methods commonly used for feed restriction are mechanical restriction of a high energy ration or caloric restriction with a low energy, high fiber formula containing 13-14 percent protein and oat or rice hulls as the fiber source. Mechanical restriction may be accomplished by limiting the amount of high energy feed given to the pulletts to 10-15 pounds per day, or by limiting the length of time the birds have access to the feed. The use of a high fiber diet will restrict the caloric intake because the birds will be unable to consume enough feed to meet their total energy requirement. Since mechanical restriction involves more labor expense, the use of a high fiber formula may prove to be more economical under some conditions, Deyoe stated. Birds on a higher fiber diet, however, will consume up to one and one-half times as much feed as pulletts on a high energy diet, so this must be considered.

The use of restricted feeding practices has also gained much interest in replacement stock for egg production. But here the results of restricted feeding are not as clear cut as with broiler replacement pulletts, Deyoe said. Numerous practices may be used for rearing replacement stock and the method chosen should be one that produces a healthy producing bird with the lowest possible laying house mortality, and a maximum return per chick started, he added.

Good Taste

By Emily Post

Concerning Visits
Dear Mrs. Post: My parents live several hundred miles from me, and I get home on the average of twice a year for a three or four day visit. Whenever I go home my relatives expect me to call them or go to see them. Since I have many relatives this would be an impossible task and I like to spend my time at leisure with my parents. Is it not as much their place to call on me since they know in advance that I will be in town, as it is for me to go to see them? The reason I ask is because every time I go home and I fail to go to see these relatives, they seem very hurt and never fail to tell my parents how ill-mannered I am.

Answer: Those of your relatives who are of your age or younger should not expect you to call on them, but you should go to see those that are of your parents' generation.

Thanking A Group
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please answer the following question for me: If a group of people give me a nice present, should I write only one thank-you note to the group, or should I send each individual a thank-you note?

Answer: It is nicer to thank each individual if possible, but if the group is too large for this, one letter thanking the whole group may be sent to the one who most probably led the others into sending the present.

Candy for One's Dinner Hostess

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper to take a box of candy to one's hostess when invited to her house for dinner? I have always followed this practice but was told recently that it is not done by people of best taste and makes the hostess feel that it is payment for the meal.

Answer: This is more popularly done in some communities than in others, but it is certainly not in bad taste. I can't imagine that any hostess would be critical of this courtesy.

Persistent Neighbors

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what I can do about a neighbor of ours who, every time she has a party asks my husband and me. We have gone to one or two of her parties but find we have nothing in common with either our hosts or their friends. The last two parties she invited us to we declined saying that we had previous engagements. She is having another party shortly to which we have been invited. Evidently our past refusals have not discouraged her, and it is becoming very embarrassing. Will you please tell me what I can do, without being rude, to get out of these invitations?

Answer: There is nothing possible for you to do except continue to have previous engagements, and by and by she will stop asking you.

Seating Best Man's Girl Friend

Dear Mrs. Post: My oldest son is to be married soon, another son is going to be best man at the wedding. The best man has been going with a young girl for the past eight months. They are not, however, engaged. We would like to know where she should be seated at the wedding reception. My son (the best man) thinks she should be seated either at the bridal table with him or at the family table. I do not think she should be seated at either of these tables, and that she should be seated with other younger friends. Will you please settle this?

Answer: You are right. As she is not engaged to your son, she should be seated with the other guests.

Brother and Sister Traveling Together

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother and I would like to go to the West Coast. We plan on driving and will stop at motels along the way. I would like to know if it would be proper to engage one room with twin beds, or must we get separate rooms. It would save us a considerable amount of money if we could get just the one room. What is your opinion of this?

Answer: I'm sorry, but you should take two rooms.

Barbecue Supper Is Given by Mr. and Mrs. Squyres

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

Protecting The Record

Monday morning quarterbacks always have brilliant hindsight. How well they can see the coaches' mistakes last week.

So, with a lawsuit: After the jury brings in its verdict, people can tell how your lawyer should have tried your case.

But, as with sports, it's hard to look forward into the swirl of moves and counter moves to see how a given move would make out in a trial.

What's worse, unless your lawyer objects and makes the proper motion, he may lose the right later to have the court strike a piece of damaging evidence from the record.

Fully to protect you, your lawyer must so fight your case that he could take it, if need be, "on the record" to a higher court by objecting then and there. That's why a lawyer may seem always to be objecting. He has to.

He had not, for example, moved to "quash the indictment," or objected to certain evidence, the higher court might reject his appeal where your life, liberty, or property may be at stake.

By court rules, the lawyer still had the duty of "protecting the record."

In the heat of a trial, your lawyer must always keep in mind the thoughtful justices on the appellate benches. For they may some day sit down calmly to review what he did or did not do in the excitement of a trial.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

SKIPPING ALONG—Crouching low over the wheel of his outboard hydroplane, Bert Ross sets a new record for that type boat. He skipped over the surface of Lake Washington, Seattle, at better than 115 m.p.h.

Specialist Reviews Broiler Situation

Broiler prices in Texas have averaged slightly better this year than for the same period in 1959, reports F. Z. Beaublossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Those prices, he says, may encourage a additional production which could result in a downward price trend. The specialist points out, however, that a cautious credit policy by feed manufacturers and lending agencies may be a distinct limitation on the number of birds grown.

Broiler slaughter in the near future will turn upward in line with broiler placements which, on a national basis, attained a new three year high in May. Beaublossom points out that this present build-up in placements may not have a great effect on prices because we are approaching the season of the year when broiler demand is usually the highest.

Texas replacements, total hatch and eggs set for the week ending May 7 also showed an increase over the same period in 1959, the specialist continues.

The national placement of pullet chicks and the domestic placement for broiler hatchery supply flocks showed a sizeable decrease in March 1960 as compared to March 1959. Placements and eggs set during the week ending May 7, however, showed an increase over the same period in 1959, the specialist concludes.

ever, showed an increase over the same period a year ago, the specialist concludes.
