Two Ranger Cadets Receive Officer Training

Two cadets from Ranger, Paul T. Hinds and Alan D. Lewis, are receiving six weeks of training at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Fort Hood, Tex. The training is scheduled to be concluded July 29.

During this training the cadets are receiving practical experience and instruction in tactical, technical and administrative subjects, with special emphasis being placed on the duties of a second lieutenant.

P.F.C. Brummett Participates in Army Training

Army PFC Bobby J. Brummett, whose wife, Ruby, lives at 304 Elm St., Ranger, Tex., recently participated with other personnel from the 4th Armored Division in a six-week field training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany.

The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to evaluate the combat effectiveness of the unit, a major element of the NATO shield of defense in Europe.

Brummett, a cannoneer in Headquarters Battery of the division's 10th Artillery in Schwabach Gmund, entered the army in February 1959, completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark., and arrived overseas in July 1959.

Brummett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldo L. Brummett, 223 Alice St., is a graduate of Nashville (Ark.) High School and attended Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tenn.

Time Limited Parking At Mail Deposit Box

Chief of Police R. A. (Bob) Patterson issued a statement today asking the citizens of Ranger to observe the time limit parking area adjacent to the Post Office on Walnut Street.

The area is for use of people walking to deposit mail in the sidewalk mail-box. If anyone leaves a car parked in the marked off area it interrupts the deposit of mail in the box.

The Post Office department has asked for this area to be marked off for the convenience of Ranger citizens, and have asked that every one observe the time limit parking in this area.

VA Employees To Celebrate 13th Anniversary

Next Thursday a federal agency which has profoundly influenced the lives of nearly half the population of the United States will mark its Thirteenth Birthday.

The Veterans Administration was formed by executive order of President Hoover on July 21, 1930, "to consolidate and coordinate governmental activities affecting war veterans."

Here in Dallas VA employees at the veterans' hospital and regional office will celebrate the occasion with a picnic at the Cedar Canyon Caterers Club in Oak Cliff. The picnic will be Leonard Goude, Area Field Director from VA's Washington, D. C. office.

World War II Vets Given Loan Extension

World War II veterans have two more years in which to obtain Veterans Administration—guaranteed home, farm and business loans as the result of a bill signed into law July 14, 1960, by the President.

Under this same law, both World War II and Korean conflict veterans can continue to apply for direct loans from the Federal Government if they live in designated rural areas where GI loans are not from the local lending institutions.

The new law authorizes Treasury Department advances of $150 million in each of the next two years of this direct loan extension program.

New expiration date for the guaranteed loan program for World War II veterans and for the direct loan program for both World War II and Korean veterans is July 25, 1962. The prior deadline for both programs was July 25, 1960.

Since it was started in June, 1944, the GI Loan Program has guaranteed more than Five Million Loans to World War II veterans, totaling approximately $41 Billion, and to 775,000 Korean veterans, amounting to nearly $3 Billion.

Since direct loans were first authorized in July 1950, the VA has made 166,000 Direct Loans totaling $1.3 Billion in rural areas and small towns where veterans could not secure loans from local lending facilities.

While both World War II and Korea veterans may now apply for direct loans through July 25, 1962, Korea veterans may continue to seek VA-guaranteed loans through July 31, 1965, through previous legislation.

The GI loan interest rate of 5 and 1/4 percent remains unchanged by the new law.

The new law also will require that earned money deposits veterans make be placed in trust accounts so that they will be safeguarded in case the builder becomes insolvent.

Another provision will allow the VA to guarantee a loan so long as the application is received prior to the new terminal date. Formerly, the law provided VA had one year in which to issue its evidence of guaranty. This amendment will allow the guaranty of loans submitted before the terminal date when because of title problems, delays in construction, or other reasons the loan cannot be completed within one year.

CHILEAN CHARMER—This tiny Chilean child is too young to realize the tragedy which struck her country—but not too young to know that she can trustfully seek the helping hands of American soldiers. Medical units and Engineers of the U. S. Army's Strategic Army Corps rushed early to aid the stricken country and continue round-the-clock work in their humanitarian role.

Covered Sugar

By Mrs. Cubian Perry

IRK—To weary, to give annoyance or unpleasant to be distressingly tiresome; to annoy; used chiefly or only impersonally.—(Webster).

Some of the things that IRK me—

See a nice, clean wash hanging on the FENCE because some big, strong male is too tired or indignant to put up a small clothes line. Especially in rural areas or routes do you see this most often. Don't tell me it is a lack of money as there is usually a couple of huge tractors parked in the field where they were used last.

Step in chewing gum (well used) just as you enter church! Why don't people throw it away before they get to the front church steps?

Go to picnic grounds and find the refuse of some other party's picnic left on tables and grounds for me to clear before I can even get near the tables.

Usually there are trash cans placed near that are supposed to be used, not looked at!!!

Find a perfectly beautiful pond (thank for you Texans) strewn with beer bottles and cans; all around the banks and floating in the lovely waters!!! If it were a law that each can and bottle had to be labeled with the purchaser's name then I think there would be less cans and bottles thrown out on the Hi-way and around picnic areas. Don't you???

Why can't drinkers or picnickers take their filth with them and not expect the world to clean up after them???

Be in the bath tub, have the phone ring, dash down the hall in my birthday suit and have the party on the other end admit they put their finger in the wrong holes!!! Course they are sorry but then so am I as I clean up the wet tracks!!!

Have my better half tell me to be sure and be ready to go at a certain time; then have him be from three to four hours late!!! I have to set an let IT spread because if I start to do something, he will show up just when I am in the middle of it. . . .

Cook up a storm for guests that don't show; then have to eat the sily stuff for days!!! OR, to top that off, have them show up just as the larder is really showing signs of strain??!! Then the challenge to get a meal out of a little of this and a little of that. Course we get a chance to prove our culinary art as it takes a bit of doing to fix a delicious as well as a pretty meal from a limited supply.

Still, it irks me when they stand me up.

Does it fizzle you to have some one in front of you at the movie, talk, talk then report the ending of the play, especially if it is a murder mystery??

If and when I go out to dine, have the very first bite wedge it self between the molars and feel like I have the whole cow between my teeth!!! Now, that is a feeling not even for the birds.

Have some one ask me if I feel bad; THEN, go on to explain how bad I look! I am like the refrain from the song—"Just keep it a secret from me."

To have my feet stepped on in a complete insult and more than "picks" me as I am just fit to be flung up to keep from committing a very serious urge to strangle the culprit.

Get a few blocks from home and wonder why the world is in such a fog, then find the why! My crutches (glasses) are not hooked on nose and ears. By this time I begin to get in a pique just knowing that they aren't within my reach. I have been going all day without them and the end of the world didn't happen but now that I find I go without them, the world is full of woe!

To awake and find that all the wonderful things that had been happening to me is only a dream.

Stephen, the Grandson, was head long over my shoulder and came up with: "Mosquitoes, are what irks me more than anything". OK well—

Lone Star Gas to Begin Laying Gathering Lines

Lone Star Gas Company soon will begin laying gathering pipelines in the Rising Star area of Eastland and Comanche counties to connect with a recently completed 35-mile 12-inch gas transmission pipeline which joins with the company's pipeline system in the X-Ray field south of Gordon.

Work on the gathering lines probably will begin within two weeks, a Lone Star official said. Surveys and right-of-way purchases must be completed first, he stated.

Purpose of the pipeline network is to transport gas purchased from Coastal States Gas Producing Company into Lone Star's transmission system near Gordon. Coastal States is constructing a 1,350-horsepower compressor station in the Rising Star area to compress low pressure gas in the area into the 37-mile pipeline.

It is planned for the station to begin operating when the gathering system is completed.

The 37-mile pipeline was completed last week by Lone Star's construction crew No. 2 under direction of J. T. Belknap, superintendent. About four weeks were required to finish the line. It runs in a northeasterly direction from the Rising Star area through Comanche, Eastland and Erath counties.

Cisco Wins Over Local Teenagers Monday Night

Ranger teenagers were shut out by the Cisco teenagers 3 to 0 in a game played Monday night in Cisco.

Gary Nettik allowed the Ranger batter only one hit in holding them scoreless.

It was almost a repeat performance of the last encounter of the two teams, only the winning team was different.

Cisco collected four hits in scoring their three runs, with Nettik getting two of the hits.

Jose Monteria was the only batter for Ranger. Ranger only mounted one threat for the Cisco team. That was in the final inning when the first two batters reached base safely, but the next three batters were retired in order to silence the threat.

Ranger will close their season Monday night against Eastland in the Ranger ball park.

English Teachers Enjoy Study Course

(Editor's Note: Mrs. George Robinson, at the request of the Ranger Times, has consented to submit an account of her tour of Europe for publication in the Times. This is the first of a series of reports from Mrs. Robinson.)

The jet airplane flew at an altitude of 37,000 feet, 600 miles per hour, and the outside temperature was 55 degrees below zero. I saw Alla Ray Morris shortly after we had landed in Shannon, Ireland. We toured Ireland for five days. Our Irish guide, whose name is John Kennedy, is a handsome, young man. He played Irish songs on the French harp, he sang (we often joined in) told said, "Ireland is just as green in January as she is now and the people are green, too. God help us!" He spoke with a distinct Irish accent. His usual greeting each morning was, "Good morning, God bless you."

Fields of different shades of green were separated by rock fences. Hay was being raked by hand rakes by both men and women.

All schools subjects are taught in the Irish language, and English is taught as a foreign language.

The hotels in Belfast and Dublin are elaborate. Waiters in white swallow tailed coats, stiff white shirt fronts, and white ties served us five courses and meals. With one meal potatoes cooked four different ways were served.

The guide told us he had kissed the Blarney Stone, and defined blarney as deceiving without offending.

In contrast to the elaborate settings in the hotels were women on their knees with a bucket of water, brush and soap scrubbing the lobby floors and sidewalks.

We are spending ten days at Southampton University and are hearing the "cream" of English professors. Most days we attend lectures. We have seen beautiful palaces, Cathedrals, and pieces of literary interest.

Sunday we went by boat to the Isle of Wight and had tea in the castle where Tennyson spent the last 25 years of his life and where he wrote his last "Idyll" and "Crossing the Bar". I enjoyed "Crossing the Bar" in the library which he left. The boat was crowded, I sat by strangers who proved to be English teachers here in England. I introduced myself. The man, headmaster of one of the schools, said, "Here in England strangers just sit and stare at each other." We had a nice chat.

MIRACLE BOY—Seven-year-old Rodger Woodward recovers a fatherly kiss as he recuperates in a hospital from a plunge over Niagara Falls. He survived the 161-foot drop in good shape.

New 3 3/4% interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

- Q: How does the new 3 3/4% interest rate benefit me?
A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.
With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to 2 1/2% for the first year and a half, then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.
- Q: When did the new rate become effective?
A: June 1, 1959.
- Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?
A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra 1/2% from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.
- Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?
A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.
- Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?
A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.
- Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?
A: No. The automatic 1/2% increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.
- Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?
A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.
- Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?
A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).
H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.
- Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?
A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.
- Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?
A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.
- Q: Where can I buy Bonds?
A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.
- Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?
A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

New Wheat Variety Released

Seed from Tascosa, a new hard red winter wheat variety which produces excellent yields of outstanding quality, will be available from producers of certified seed after the 1960 harvest.

Tascosa was developed by the Small Grains Section of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the USDA. It was named for Tascosa, the early Panhandle settlement west of Amarillo.

Tests on the Rolling Plains show Tascosa ranking first in yield. In regional trials in 61 station-year tests, Tascosa averaged 33.7 bushels per acre over a 4-year period compared with 33.3 for Concha and 31.4 for Comanche. The new variety has not yielded as well as Crockett in North Central or Central Texas tests, and because of this and its susceptibility to certain diseases, it is not recommended for these areas.

Tascosa differs considerably from the present commercial varieties grown in Texas. The plants are shorter in stature and the straw is strong, which aid in resisting lodging. The variety resists shattering and may require special setting of the combines for threshing because the kernels are held tightly by the glumes.

Further information about Tascosa can be obtained by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas, and asking for Leaflet 483.

How would you like to RE-BUY everything in your house?

- if everything burned TONIGHT?

The furnishings in your home are probably worth 5 or 10 times what you think they are.

You've accumulated them one at a time—a chair, a book, a picture, a suit of clothes, a set of dishes—so you underestimate their total value.

Your insurance on these things is probably only a fraction of what it should be. For example, just list the things in one room, and see! Or ask us for a form on which to make a complete inventory of your household possessions. And we'll tell you how inexpensive complete America Fore protection against fire loss really is.

Beef Production Costs Studied

Research being conducted in East Texas by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that it costs $99 per mother cow per year to produce beef, according to Tom Prater, extension farm management specialist. This $99 includes interest on investment, operator's labor, depreciation and all other annual costs, says Prater.

With each mother cow producing an average of 378 pounds of beef per year, the operator must receive slightly more than 26¢ per pound of beef produced if he is to break even, Prater points out.

If the operator's labor charge is not included the cost is $82 per year. In this case, the specialist contends, the operator would be covering all costs if he received 21¢ per pound for his beef. This price would not, however, pay him anything for his labor.

Excluding interest on investment, the cost of production is $65 per cow. At a return of slightly over 17¢ per pound the operator would be receiving a fair wage, but he would not be receiving enough to cover any interest charges.

When labor and interest costs are both excluded, the annual cost is $47 per mother cow. This means that over a short period of time the operator could receive 12½¢ per pound of beef produced and continue to operate. He would not, however, be receiving any return for labor and investment, Prater continues.

These costs indicate the items and factors that must be considered in operating a beef operation. They also indicate the necessity for good records and a constant study of the individual operation, Prater points out.

This information is contained in a master's thesis, written by J. E. Wright and based on Texas Agricultural Experiment Station data.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elwood have returned home after a three week vacation. In Washington, D. C. they visited their son and family, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Elwood and family. They also visited relatives in Kokomo, Warren, and Muncie, Indiana.

Other points of interest included Niagara Falls and Canada.

Milk Production in Central West Texas Is Down

Daily Class I utilization by Central West Texas handlers including Eastland County, during June was 2.61 per cent below May and 1.12 per cent less than June 1959. June 1960 daily producer receipts were 2.09 per cent less than May, however they were 3.50 per cent above June 1959.

Producer receipts were 134.1 per cent of total Class I utilization during June compared with 133.4 per cent in May and 128.1 per cent in June 1959.

During June 433 producers delivered 15,334,495 pounds of milk of which Class I producer milk accounted for 11,394,152 pounds or 74.3 percent. Class I producer milk accounted for 75.0 per cent of total producer receipts in May 1960.

The average daily delivery per producer during June was 1,037 pounds, an increase of 61 pounds over the average daily delivery per producer during June 1959.

The minimum uniform price to be paid producers for 4.0 per cent milk received by Central West Texas handlers during June will be $4.99 per hundredweight, according to an announcement by Byford W. Bain, Market Administrator. This price is subject to a location adjustment. For each point (0.1 per cent) that the average butterfat content of producer milk varies from 4.0 per cent a butterfat differential of 7.0 cents applies.
