Bill Young Accepts Ranger Coaching Job

Bill Vinson Young, graduate of Sull Ross College, has accepted the Assistant football coaching position on the Ranger High School Faculty. His wife, Glenda, will also teach in the Language arts in the Junior High School. Young was born in Cleburne in 1933, and attended high school and graduated there. He went to Paris Junior College for two years and was on a basketball scholarship there. Following two years in the Armed services, he attended Sull Ross College from 1958 to 1960. He lettered two years on the football as quarterback. He will also serve as head basketball coach.

County Savings Bond Sales at 58% Mark Now

"Savings Bond Sales through June 1960 totaled $303,427", in Eastland County, Guy Parker, county chairman of the Savings Bonds Committee reported today. "Our county has now reached 58 percent of its 1960 goal of $520,000. June sales were $28,984." Sales in Texas for the first six months of 1960 were $80,671,012 which is 48.7 percent of the state goal. "Never before have United States Saving Bonds been so attractive to investors and small savers alike", Parker said in commenting on the one-half per cent increase in interest rates on old and new Series E and H Saving Bonds.

Most Guardsmen to Get Weekend Passes

Eastland County Guardsmen at Fort Hood, most of them at least, will have weekend passes, according to the word from the local National Guard unit. Here is the report from Fort Hood. Arrived in our base camp at 3:30 p. m. Sunday after a pleasant trip under cloudy skies. A short while before our arrival, heavy rains occurred in our camp, leaving us with much sticky mud to contend with while unloading and preparing the camp. Luckily for us, we have had no rain since arrival. Troops of the Ranger Battery seem in very good spirits in spite of the fact our extremely low strength is making all our jobs a little more difficult this year. Monday morning was spent in house keeping and minor training details. Monday afternoon our real training began—actually a continuation of the training we ordinarily do at home station—we call it Unit Training—Sectional. Tomorrow we start battery level training again and most of the time through Friday will be spent in field exercises. After the Governor's Review Saturday morning, all except essential guard and mess details will be given passes until Sunday evening—at which time we will complete preparations for movement to the field for 5 days. Commencing Monday all training will be of a tactical nature with a particular emphasis on the hazards of nuclear conflict. Along this line we are especially concerned with the detection of residual radiation and to some extent—fallout.

Dates Are Set For Dove Season

Austin, July — Hunters seem to be well pleased at the bonus dove shooting they will get during the 1960 season, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. The North Zone season this year will start at 12 noon, Sept. 1, and close at sunset October 30. The South Zone will open October 7 and close December 5, except in the counties where white-winged dove shooting will be permitted three days earlier. The white-winged dove season will be for three days, September 9, 10 and 11. This season will be from 2 p. m. until sunset. There also will be an increase in bag limit on mourning doves for the upcoming season. The shooter will be permitted to take 15 per day and 50 in possession. White-winged doves, who may also kill doves at the same time, will be permitted to have 10 white-wings and 5 mourners for the first day of hunting. They may have 20 mourning doves and 10 white-wings in possession after the second day. Generally, the Texas quail season will begin December 1, under the general laws. The Commission will set the quail season in regulatory authority counties at its meeting October 7. At that time, biologists will know more about the supply of birds. Another drastic change in the hunting laws will be legalizing spike bucks in counties under regulatory authority.

Eastland School To Correct Minor Violations

By STAFF WRITER Eastland school officials face a trying problem following a warning from the State School Accreditation Commission to correct "minor violations of accreditation standards." Actually the problem isn't new, school officials have faced it squarely in the face for years, but it is more pressing now since the warning has been issued. The main cause for the warning is the Douglas School, where some 42 Negro students from Eastland and Cisco are educated. Despite the fact that extra local funds have been spent to bring Douglas School up to the state standards, it is almost impossible since there are so few students to spread out in the 12 grades which must be taught. The state has asked that the school be better ventilated, that lighting be improved and that the library be modernized. These things can be done and Supt. Wendell Siebert and Board President M. H. Perry said this week that will be done before the next school year begins. The fact will still remain, however, that there will be three teachers to teach 12 grades. And there is state aid for just two of these teachers; one is paid entirely out of local funds. Actually in many ways the Negro student is better off here than white students are. Far more local money is spent on the Negroes per capita, and there is one teacher for each 14 students. Therefore Eastland's problem is money. If the District was rich enough to afford hiring seven teachers to educate 42 Negro students there would be no problem. Those four additional teachers would have to be paid out of local funds at a cost of some $19,000 to $12,000 additional each year. The State Board pointed to few things in the white schools which they condemned. They didn't like some of the old desks in the buildings and they thought the junior high library needed better indexing. More science and shop equipment were other things needed. School spokesmen said these things could be easily corrected, except for replacing the furniture.

SUNDAY DEVOTIONAL

DIVINE APPOINTMENT
By J. F. CHATHAM
Pastor of Church of God of Prophecy

"Whereas a man by one sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." Because of this, DEATH became a divine appointment: "It is appointed unto men, once to die, but after that the judgment." Do all men have to die? Yes. All are of the dust, and all turn to dust again. Willing to wait but ready to go, because we are warned, he is ready for in such an hour, as ye think not the son of man cometh. But you say what are the requirements to be ready. Number one is that God now commands all men to REPENT, and Godly sorrow will help one repent. You may further inquire what is repentance? It is both a condition and an act; it is the state of being in Godly sorrow for sins committed and forsaking those sins. Asking the Lord to forgive you and then accepting him as your personal Savior. This will bring peace of heart if the one who goes through these stages is sincere and has faith, that God is faithful and will help him. Baptism in water should follow the born again experience. Every step the new born babe (Christian) takes in carrying out the sayings of Christ and his Bible, he will keep the Christian justified. For if we walk in the light as he (Christ) is in the light we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Christ will cleanse us from all SIN. Christians to keep

Veterans Home Loans Shows June Increase

Every phase of the GI loan program registered increased activity during the month of June, the Veterans Administration announced today. Applications for home loan guaranty increased 7.1 percent in June, totaling 13,555 compared to 12,655 in May. GI starts were up 11.2 percent in June to 7,711 from May's total of 6,935. Appraisal requests for new units were up 5.7 percent to 15,215 in June, the highest since October 1959. GI starts were up 11.2 percent in June to 7,711 from May's total of 6,935. Appraisal requests for new units were up 5.7 percent to 15,215 in June, the highest since October 1959. World War II veterans have two more years in which to obtain Veterans Administration-guaranteed home, farm and business loans, Edward P. Onstot, manager of the VA Regional Office in Dallas said today. Under the new law just signed by the President, both World War II and Korean conflict veterans can continue to apply for direct loans from the Federal government if they live in designated rural areas where GI loans are not obtainable from local lending institutions, Mr. Onstot said. The new law authorizes Treasury Department advances of $150 million in each of the next two years of this direct loan extension program. New expiration date for the guaranteed loan program for World War II veterans, and for the direct loan program for both World War II and Korean veterans is July 25, 1962, Mr. Onstot said. Korea veterans may continue to seek VA-guaranteed loans through January 31, 1965, through previous legislation. The GI loan interest rate of 5-1/4 percent remains unchanged by the new law. Mr. Onstot pointed out that the new law also will require that out money deposits veterans make be placed in trust accounts so that they will be safeguarded in case the builder becomes insolvent. Moran Student Among Group Taking Special Howard Payne Math Prog.

Twenty-four Texas students are participating in the second annual summer science and mathematics training program at Howard Payne College for exceptional high school students. Included in the group is John Culwell Dyer of Moran. The institute, which opened Monday, July 18, is being financed with a grant of $7,350 from the National Science Foundation. The Howard Payne Division of Science and Mathematics has received grants totaling $165,685 in the last three years from the National Science Foundation, to conduct three summer institutes for high school teachers, two summer training programs for secondary students and an in-service training program to be held during the 1960-61 school year for high school teachers. Dr. Leonard Daniel chairman of the HPC Division of Science and Mathematics and head of the Chemistry Department, will serve as director for the five-week student training program opening Monday. Assisting on the instruction staff will be heads of three other Science Division departments—Dr. Fred Iman, physics; Dr. Chris Jordan, biology, and Dale Maness, mathematics. Charles Brewster, HPC senior from Blanket will serve as head counselor and recreation director for the participating students. Also serving as counselors will be Frances Lamb of Brownwood, who graduated at HPC in May, and Robert Liu, junior from Hong Kong. Each morning, the participating students will have two hours of classwork in physical science and one hour of work in either biology or modern concepts in mathematics. During the afternoons, they will work on individual research projects in biology, chemistry or physics or participate in a group research problem in mathematics. Also included in the five-week program will be two two-day field trips—one to the Fort Worth-Dallas area and another to the Austin-San Antonio area. Students who will participate are exceptional science and mathematics students who are between their junior and senior years in high school of AA classification or lower.

Baird, Cisco In Sat. Finals

Cisco and Baird advanced in the finals Saturday night in the Area Three Little League All-Star tournament at Baird. Cisco shut out Ranger 3 to 0 while Baird routed Eastland 19 to 3. Bobby Smith earned a shut out against Ranger and only allowed two hits, and hit a home-run that helped with his win. In the first inning following a costly error, Smith lifted one over the fence that scored two runs. Then in the third inning two more errors allowed another run. Cisco collected six hits with Jimmy Moore the second baseman and Smith leading the way. Ranger's two hit came off the bats of Johnny McGee and Wayne Boone. Manuel Gomez was the start-up pitcher for Ranger and was relieved in the sixth inning by McGee. Baird made their first appearance in the tourney with surprising power against the Eastland Stars who had handled Clyde with comparative ease Thursday night. Baird jumped on Eastland's starting pitcher, Mike Miller, in the first inning for five runs on five hits, and went on to get 19 runs on 13 hits. Larry Moore held the Eastland batters to only four hits, two of them in the last inning when Eastland scored their three runs. He struck out 10 batters. Lead off batter and catcher Wayne Alexander got a double and two singles and Wally Harris shortstop hit a homer, a double and a single to account for the majority of Baird's hits and runs. Miller led the Eastland hitting with a double and a single. In the first round of tournament play Thursday night, Eastland jumped on Clyde for a convincing win of 16 to 5. Eastland collected a total of 43 hits off of three Clyde pitchers, with the big blow being a grand-slam home-run by third baseman (Continued On Page Two)

Teachers Must Keep Up With Changing Methods

Austin, July—School is out, but Texas teachers still are in the classrooms. Most of them simply have switched roles—turning from being teachers to being students. One out of four Texas public school teachers goes back to school each year, a survey by the Texas State Teachers Association shows. They need to brush up on new teaching techniques and to find out what has been happening in their field. Just as a pharmacist must keep pace with new drug discoveries and physicians and dentists must keep up with new professional findings, so teachers must "hit their wagon" to the fast-changing era of the satellite—not to a star. Teachers in both the sciences and humanities are faced with the job of learning tremendous amounts of new material. Many textbooks are almost obsolete before they are published, and the teacher must supplement the textbook from other sources. This back-to-school movement is at the teachers' expense, except to the extent that some secure scholarships or fellowships to help pay the bills. School children reap the rewards by having better teachers. An estimated 25,000 Texas teachers—out of approximately 85,000 total—will be enrolled in college courses beginning this summer. The figure is based on a survey of Texas junior and senior colleges by TSTA. The 58 colleges answering the survey, out of 88 queried, said 17,693 teachers were enrolled in their courses during 1959-60, and they expect 18,491 for the year 1960-61, beginning with summer school. Those attending the 30 schools not reporting would bring the estimated total up to 25,000. Many other teachers must find summer jobs in order to enjoy the luxury of teaching next fall. So, for most teachers, summer is work—not vacation.

Peanut Grading Equipment Display At SPGA Meeting

College Station, July—Equipment to be used for the first time in 1960 for the official grading of peanuts will be demonstrated at the annual meeting of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association in Stephenville, July 29. According to Ben Spears, agronomist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the morning session of the meeting will be held in the Agricultural Auditorium, on the campus of Tarleton State College. The equipment demonstration will be held in the Stephenville City Park following lunch which will be served in the Park by the Association. The annual membership meeting will get underway at 10 a.m., Spears says. Congressman W. R. Poage, Waco, vice-chairman, Agricultural Committee in the U. S. House of Representatives will speak at 11 a.m. The Congressman will be followed by President John Duncan of the Georgia Farm Bureau who will discuss the objectives and purposes of grower self-assessment programs for promotion and research contributions. After lunch more detailed information on such programs will be given to those interested in promoting and furthering research dealing with Spanish peanuts. Spears says that personnel from the Federal-State Inspection Service will demonstrate the new grading equipment. He adds that the program has been arranged so growers can get maximum benefit from attending the program, and believes the information to be presented and the Association business to be acted upon are important enough to draw a very large attendance from the peanut producing counties of the State.

Neiman-Marcus Fashion Award

The Neiman-Marcus Award "for distinguished service in the field of fashion" is presented annually to persons who have made notable contribution in fashions and related fields. It is the oldest existing award of its type in the world.

The presentations are made usually during the first week of September at the Neiman-Marcus Fashion Exposition, when the internationally-known Texas store presents the premier collections of the great couturiers, furriers, jewelers and accessory makers of the world. Each year the Exposition follows a carefully developed theme in presenting the new and prophetic in fashion and generally encompasses two large and elaborately staged benefit fashion shows and an Exposition Ball.

The handsome handcut silver and ebony plaques are actual awards have for years been referred to as "Oscars of the Fashion Industry", and the list of the recipients since 1938 as "a roster of Fashion's Hall of Fame."

The awards are in no sense a competition; but are made after careful evaluation and selection by the executives, merchandise directors and buyers of the store in consultation with the store's fashion authorities of this country and Europe. Nomination and selection of the Awardees can take on the heat, fever and controversy of a national political campaign, a major difference being the unawareness and lack of participation of the candidates who rarely know or guess of the meed that precedes their election.

In number, the awards vary from year to year, from single ones in 1943 and 1957, to eight in 1958. They are made not only to fashion designers but to persons influential in related fields such as industrial design, publishing, manufacturing, for a broader interpretation of the word and world of "fashion."

The awards have ranged from the directness and fashion impact of one to the late Christian Dior in 1947, the year of the "new Look", to the implication and nuance of one of the Director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in 1945.

Winners in 1959 were Miss Rosalind Russell, Arnold Scalet, Miss Anne Klein, Piero Fornasetti, and Emme and Adolfo.

Miss Annabelle Ratliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ratliff, is spending the week in Midland visiting Sharon Crawley and Mr. and Mrs. Price Crawley.

Veterans Home—other provision will allow VA to guarantee a loan so long as the application is received prior to the new terminal date.

Baird—Mike Miller, he also had a single. Larry Wilson led off batter and center fielder for Eastland collected the most hits in the game with a double and two singles.

Cecil Eager, Clyde's starting pitcher also put one out of the park, with one run on base. The leading hitter for Clyde was lead off batter and second baseman David Connel who hit a double and a single.

Winning pitcher was Eastland's Ronnie Pack who went the distance, allowing five runs on seven hits, he gave up two bases on balls and the Eastland team committed six errors.

Eager, Jimmy Taylor and Paul Ramos saw action on the mound for Clyde. They gave up a total of 13 hits which allowed 16 runs, walked eight and the team committed four errors.

The hobby of wood collecting, while being inexpensive, is also very rewarding. Collectors exchange wood samples from their localities for samples from other areas and even other lands. This not only enlarges one's collection and knowledge of wood, but also permits a harmonious exchange of ideas, and forms a basis for friendly relations throughout the world.

WORKING WITH WOOD
TRIAL SERVICE

Most people are, at heart, collectors and nature abundantly provides us with many things of interest to collect. To mention a few, there are rocks, types of soil, leaves, insects, and kinds of wood. Wood collecting is a universal hobby. There is an International Wood Collector's Society through which information and samples can be exchanged.

Collectors generally cut wood samples about 4" long, 2 1/2" wide and 3/4" thick. They are planed on all surfaces so that the natural grain can be observed. General identification of wood is usually accompanied with a small hand lens which magnifies the minute wood structure to 10 or more times its normal size. For very precise work a microscope and other sensitive instruments are frequently employed.

Relative's Wedding Gift
Dear Mrs. Post: What may I do about exchanging a pair of lamps sent to me for a wedding present by a relative of my fiancée? The lamps were sent from a large department store, and while they are very pretty, they are completely out of keeping with the rest of my furnishings. So what can I do? I certainly don't want to start out on the wrong foot by hurting her feelings, but I can't see spoiling my whole room

Selling Chances To Guests
Dear Mrs. Post: We had a small gathering of friends at our house last Saturday evening. During the course of the evening, I asked these friends to take chances on a car that was being raffled off by a charitable organization in which I am especially interested. The chances were fifty cents apiece and the friends present could easily have afforded several chances. However, after they left, my husband was furious with me for having asked them to take chances and said that I was taking unfair advantage of our guests. He has made such an issue of this that I am writing to ask you if I was really wrong?

Answer: The ability of your guests to afford taking the chances was not the point, and you, as hostess, should not have made it embarrassing for them to refuse the chances they may not have wished to take.

An Almost Inexplicable Rudeness
Dear Mrs. Post: I am a housekeeper and have been for a great many years. The other day a package arrived for the people for whom I work. I was startled to say the least to see on the front of the package in bold letters, "Att. Housekeeper - Do Not Open." I thought this last not only incorrect but a direct insult to me. Wasn't this a most improper way to address a package?

Answer: It seems impossible that anyone could be as rude as the sender of this package seems to be, and there must be some explanation. Perhaps "Do not open" was to have been followed by "Until Mrs. Smith's birthday" etc. and these words then carelessly forgotten.

Privilege Of Bringing A Friend
Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and both my fiancée and I have several unmarried friends whom we would like to invite to the wedding. We would like to give them the privilege of bringing a friend to the reception. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be addressed in this situation?

Answer: You address the outside envelope to each of these friends and on the inside envelope write, "Miss Smith and guest."

A Look Ahead At Dairying

Since 1944 the output of American dairies has steadily increased while the number of dairy cattle has steadily decreased. A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman, says that now, however, there are indications that during the next year or two dairymen may be producing more milk—and milking more cows.

One of the most significant indications, according to Meekma, is the increased number of replacement animals on hand. In relation to the number of mature cows, the number of young stock on hand January 1, 1960, was at a record high level.

Meekma points out that the possibility of more milk cows certainly supports the forecast that milk production will increase during the next few years. Increases in milk production will probably be more rapid than increases in commercial demands for milk and milk products, the specialist continues. If this happens, dairymen may again have to depend on government purchases of milk products to support prices, Meekma explained.

Increase in sales in the past several years have been mainly because of increased population. Because of the close balance between milk production and consumption during the past two years, the dairy industry is not burdened with large surpluses. We can, however, expect government stocks of dairy products to increase, Meekma concludes.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

Bill King is manager of the agricultural department of the Ft. Worth Chamber of Commerce, assistant manager of the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, secretary of the Fort Worth Farm and Ranch Club, past Kiwanis Club president and a raiser of min-ture pinchers — or maybe it's boxers; anyhow, they're dogs and one costs a good deal of money. All of this is so you'll know who Bill King is.

It has advanced a suggestion that a book ought to be written on "How It Started", to explain the origin of expressions that we use every day.

For instance, everybody has said, "Jack has more of this-or-that than Carter has oats." Who was Carter? He was a farmer in the Old South a long time ago who was asked how his crop was coming along and he declared that his oats were so abundant they were breaking down the fences.

Then everybody has spoken of such-and-such a situation as being "Hobson's choice." Hobson ran a livery stable in England a long time ago and he rotated the use of his horses. The animal whose turn was next, he placed in the first stall and a customer could select any horse he wanted provided he took the one in the first stall.

And then there is "a Garrison finish." As a boy, I got the idea that it meant the garrison of a besieged fort sniped forth and gave the besiegers hell Columbia. But there was, many years ago, a great jockey by the name of Garrison and he always put on a rousing finish to a race.

However there was also a boxer named Garrison a long time ago who was a favorite with the fans. No matter how badly he had been outpointed in the preceding round, he came rushing out of his corner for the final three minutes and hit his opponent from all directions. Usually the decision went to the other man, whereupon the crowd boomed. They had forgotten the first nine rounds and remembered only that "Garrison finish."

Then there is the expression, "the real McCoy." Kid McCoy was a fighter in middleweight and light heavyweight circles rather early in the century. He was the very unusual combination of a superb boxer and heavy hitter.

There were fighters who used his name to get matches in smaller cities and on one occasion a local man was matched with an opponent who claimed to be Kid McCoy. The local boy took a lot of punishment the first round. In his corner at the end of the round his manager asked, "Is he a phony?" The fighter replied, "No — he's the real McCoy."

Well, I've made a start toward writing that book that Bill King suggested. He has generously offered to give me half of whatever I can make from it.

Mrs. Connie Pittman and Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Reid have as their guest a sister, Mrs. Lora Smith, and her daughter, Miss Jewell Smith, of Oklahoma City. Miss Smith is a missionary in Florida.

Visitors in the morning services at the First Baptist Church were Mrs. Lora Smith, Miss Smith, Mike Linder of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Neil Gilbert of Lasa, Mrs. J. C. Brown of Eastland, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Harry and children and Mrs. George Wilson of Ranger.

Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Baze and children, Joe Ed and Bill, spent Saturday night and Sunday in Ft. Worth visiting with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert White and children.

Mr. and R. E. Boucher were in Rising Star Saturday night attending the Madidonia and Brooks homecoming. Mr. Boucher is a former teacher in those communities.

Mrs. W. C. Ballard and Mrs. O. B. Shora of Abilene visited with their sisters, Mrs. Ruth Slaton, Lee Bennett and their mother.

Summertime Delight! FROSTY PARFAIT PIE

Everyone goes for ice cream. Everyone dotes on apple pie. So, loud cheers, here's a dessert that delivers both... an apple pie with ice cream blended right into it. For the apple part, you marry canned apple sauce to the ice cream, give gentle firmness with orange gelatin and you get a pie meltingly smooth, frosty cool, holding the happy zest of apples and a hint of orange in its depths. You may make this pie with a definite meal in mind. But don't be surprised to find yourself sliding big tender wedges onto plates just any time after the pie is made... for this is a pie practically impossible to resist. Who, indeed, would want to!

For all its light, creamy perfection you don't have to carry on like mad to make it. Just gather the few ingredients and follow the remarkably easy directions.

- 1 package orange-flavored gelatin
- 1 1/2 cups boiling water
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream
- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 9" baked pastry shell

Add gelatin to boiling water, stir until dissolved. Cut ice cream into fourths, add to hot gelatin mixture, stirring until ice cream has melted. Add apple sauce and grated orange rind; mix well. Put filling into pie shell. Chill until set. (If desired, garnish with alternate spoonfuls of whipped cream and canned apple sauce.)

Safety Council Gives Artificial Respiration Ideas

Your swimming companion finds himself in water too deep for him. He can't stay afloat.

He goes under—but rescuers reach him quickly and pull him into their boat. You climb in, too. Seconds are precious. Victims of water accidents die from lack of oxygen—suffocation. Lack of oxygen can spell permanent brain damage. Too long without oxygen means — death!

What would you do? Start artificial respiration at once," advises the National Safety Council, hub of the safety movement in America and concerned with all forms of safety.

The Council goes along with the system of artificial respiration recommended by many authorities — the mouth-to-mouth method.

"The mouth-to-mouth method has the advantage of providing immediate pressure to inflate the victim's lungs. And it enables the rescuer to get more accurate information on the volume, pressure and timing of efforts needed to inflate the victim's lungs than are afforded by other methods," says experts on artificial respiration.

When should you use artificial respiration?

"Anytime someone stops breathing — because of electric shock, suffocation in a discarded refrigerator or in a plastic bag, or a near-drowning," said Ralph Kuhl, the Council's director of public safety.

Here is how you can perform the life-saving mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration, he said.

1. Wipe out foreign matter in the mouth with your fingers or a cloth wrapped around them.

2. Tilt the victim's head back so the chin is pointing upward. Pull or push the jaw into a jutting-out position.

These maneuvers should relieve obstruction of the air passage by moving the base of the tongue away from the back of the throat.

3. Open your mouth wide and place it tightly over the victim's mouth. At the same time, pinch the victim's nostrils shut. Then breathe air — at a normal rate — into the victim.

4. Remove your mouth, turn your head to the side, and listen for air coming out. Repeat the blowing effort.

For an adult, blow about 12 breaths a minute. For a child breathe more softly—about 20 times a minute.

"This, basically, is how to apply mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration," said Kuhl.
