

What Ranger College Contributes to The Ranger Community

ECONOMICALLY

When a community evaluates the economic contribution of a particular business, industry or institution, the generally accepted procedure is one of computing the annual payroll. In a sense, this gives a minimum evaluation since no account is taken of the dollar circulation which comes about as a result of the annual payroll. Take for instance a hypothetical case of one individual who is paid a monthly salary. He may use this money to purchase merchandise. The merchandiser may use a portion of this money to pay his employees, who in turn keep the money in circulation by further spending or banking. It is not too far-fetched to assume that a portion of the money which a Ranger College employee receives may find itself in and out of the cash receipt box of every merchandiser in the community.

Economics experts propose that one dollar placed in circulation has a multiple national value of four dollars. That is to say, through circulation, the original dollar becomes four dollars in exchange value for services, commodities, salaries, etc. It is also proposed that the value of an original dollar placed in circulation in a local community increases the multiple value to such an extent that it becomes worth approximately eight times its initial figure.

Ranger College dormitory students spend within the range of from $15 to $25 a month with local merchants. Area students who would ordinarily go off to another college and spend an average of $1000 annually, enroll at Ranger College and thus manage to keep this amount in the community for exchange and circulation.

Most of the faculty and employees of Ranger College are home owners in Ranger. They pay taxes in Ranger and will educate their children in the Ranger Public School System. The families of the college employees are clothed and fed from merchandise purchased in Ranger.

Merchandise and materials used for the operation and upkeep of the college property is purchased in Ranger or through Ranger merchants. Food and supplies used in the cafeteria are also purchased through area merchants.

Through Ranger College student, faculty and maintenance purchases, over $100,000 dollars is contributed to the economy of the community annually. It should not be too difficult to ascertain the value of such a lump sum to the total economy of Ranger.

An Editorial

The ordinary citizen of the Ranger Community should take an interest in the operation of an educational institution to which a portion of his tax dollar goes. These articles are an attempt to enlighten the citizens of the community as to the reciprocal contributions made by Ranger College.

SOCIALLY

Ranger College offers opportunities for the development of mature mentality and spirituality. The pursuit of education can give a student intellectual initiative and drive, respect for the dignity and worth of work, open-mindedness, a sense of social justice and a dedication to humanitarian service or religious faithfulness.

The living experiences made available through the social and educational program at Ranger College help to prepare the student for fitting comfortably into the ranks of American life. Educated people are for the most part a happy people. Education helps achieve a happy family relationship, a good preparation for a life career, and a wise use of leisure time activities.

The classroom and dormitory experiences enables a student to exercise self-discipline in adjusting to the heterogeneity of personalities found in campus groups. The contacts with students from various regions of Texas, other states and other countries broadens one's philosophy and helps to develop a socially responsible citizen.

Ranger College presents an effective educational program with many advantages for the people of Ranger and surrounding areas. It plays a distinctive and necessary role in serving the needs of high school graduates and those interested in adult education in this section, and it offers opportunities for development of skills and preparation for senior college and the professions.

The educational training available at Ranger College lays the groundwork for intelligent participation in affairs at the local, national and world levels. Many educational values are intangibles, such as increased understanding of world affairs and interest in politics. The liberally educated student takes an active interest in community responsibilities and keeps well informed about public affairs. All Americans want peace and maintaining peace in the future will test our intelligence, our patience, our understanding, our initiative, and our courage, all of which are developed through education. Developing excellence in science and technology also pays rewards far beyond tangible products. Like liberal arts students, students engrossed in science are likely to be better informed citizens as a result of their efforts, for the study of science fosters mental discipline, respect for truth, objective inquiry, and constructive criticism—qualities of incalculable value to an informed citizenry in maintaining political and individual freedom.

Ranger College as a community college provides a solution to the following typical problems facing high school graduates:

1. The undecided students who are not sure what they wish to do or be but are fairly sure a four-year course is not for them.
2. Those students who are certain that the two-year college course is all they wish, need, have the ability to cope with, or wish to afford.
3. Those students who entertain definite plans, vocational or social, at the end of two years.
4. Those students who plan to enter semi-professional or professional fields for training.
5. Those students who under present overcrowded conditions may have just missed acceptance into the four-year college of their choice and hope to be able to transfer later.

Ranger College as a community college also offers an effective adult education program. Evening and summer programs are given for those who wish to obtain additional training in various areas, including business administration and other courses of a vocational nature.

Young School Colts Down 7th Grade Pups

The Young School Colts upset the favored Seventh Grade Pups 8 to 0 in a football game played in Bulldog Stadium Thursday night.

The Colts struck for a quick score in the opening minutes of the first quarter of play and then threw up a strong defense to stop the Pups from scoring.

Colt quarterback Jerry Watson sent halfback Jimmy Crossley wide to skirt the end for 34 yards on the first play from scrimmage and three plays later Crossley went over on the same play from the five yard line. Crossley also carried the ball over for the extra points and the final score of the game.

The Pups gained a total of eight first downs to the Colts three, but could never get a score across that counted, although Johnny McGee, Pups quarterback, made a 22 yard run into the end zone that was nullified by a clipping penalty.

The center of the Colts line manned by Leland Moore, Bill Arterburn, Phillip Anderson and Bobby Daskevich stopped the Pups on their plays up the middle of the line and forced them to run the ends where they picked up most of their yardage.

The Young School Twirlers and Pep Squad put on a halftime performance that brought a rousing applause from the large crowd that attended the game.

PROFIT MAKERS—Nodules growing on legume roots. Nodule bacteria extract nitrogen from the air for the benefit of soil organisms and plant growth. Winter legumes are a profitable method of maintaining nitrogen and organic levels in soils in this area. Organic matter and nitrogen are essential for profitable crop yields.

Cover Crop Seeding Conditions Perfect

By SCS TECHNICIANS

Recent showers have made conditions ideal for cover crop seeding. Livestock farmers have their grain drills running at full speed in hopes of getting early small grain pasturage.

Peanut farmers will be drilling rye as soon as they get their crop out of the ground to hold their soil from the winter winds which are sure to come. Small grain for winter cover and grazing has become in recent years a major crop in our local farming systems.

In recent years due to dry falls legumes such as vetch have not been used to supplement small grain cover crops so extensively as in the past. Where moisture conditions are favorable in early fall, however as they are at the present time, vetch is a crop that pays big dividends in forage, soil protection, and in the improvement of soil tilth.

To get maximum growth and benefit from vetch farmers have found it necessary to follow several essential steps in its culture. Many vetch failures are caused by carelessness in the seeding operation. Vetch should be drilled in a well prepared yet firm seed bed with adequate moisture for quick germination and growth.

In this area vetch is customarily seeded at the rate of 10 pounds per acre mixed with rye or oats. The seed should always be carefully inoculated with culture C even if vetch has been grown previously on the land. Our long hot dry summers frequently reduce the number of legume bacteria in the soil. Careful inoculation along with placing the seed in moist soil where the inoculation culture can survive is an essential step in growing vetch.

Another essential factor in growing vetch is a moderate application of phosphate fertilizer. Phosphate fertilizers should be placed in the soil preferably banded with the seed. In general vetch does not respond to nitrogen fertilizer although balanced fertilizers are often used successfully.

To maintain profitable crop yields it is essential that the organic matter in the soil be maintained. Vetch has been proven in this area to be a profitable method of maintaining organic matter and increasing crop yields. Where vetch or other legumes are not used in the crop rotation extra nitrogen fertilizer should be used to properly decay heavy residue from such crops as small grain or grain sorghum.

Buffaloes Blank Favored Bulldogs Friday Night, 12-0

The Ranger Bulldogs, picked as favorites for the first time this season, failed to come up to the predictions Friday night at Cross Plains and went down to a 12 to 0 defeat.

It was the same story as in the last three games, a well played defense, but no scoring punch for the Bulldogs. The "New Look" in the backfield looked good at times, but wasn't consistent enough to keep a drive going.

This was the Bulldogs last non-district game as they enter district play next week against the powerful Winters Hizards.

Ranger received the opening kickoff and failed to make a first down and was forced to punt. On the punt the receiver fumbled and the ball and Ranger recovered.

The Game At A Glance

Ranger	Cross Plains
8	First Downs 7
163	Yards Rushing 109
14	Yards Passing 39
1	4 Passes Completed 4 of 10
3	Penalties, Avg. 2 for 37.5
0	9 Penalties, Ydg. 6 for 40
3	Fumbles Lost 1

but they couldn't capitalize on the break and the ball went over to Cross Plains on the 30 yard line.

The Bulldogs held the Buffaloes and took over on the 42 yard line, but fumbled away their chances and the Buffaloes recovered. The Buffaloes marched right on down the field this time for their first score with Halfback Alvin Hutchins going over from the one yard line. The try for extra point was as good.

Shortly before the half Ranger got a good drive started and moved the ball from their own 21 yard line down to the Cross Plains 20, but time ran out before they could score.

In the second half it was strictly defensive play on both sides with neither team being able to move the ball for any good gain. Cross Plains last score came with only five seconds left in the game.

Mrs. Walton L. Shaffer
... weds October 1

Paula Jeanne Mackey Becomes Bride of Dr. Walton Shaffer

In a ceremony read at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, in Our Lady of Wisdom Chapel in Lafayette, Louisiana, Paula Jeanne Mackey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mackey of Lafayette became the bride of Dr. Walton L. Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shaffer of Ranger.

Father Speyer officiated at the double ring ceremony. The vows were read before an arrangement of white gladioli and greenery. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Wedding music was presented by Kenneth Bowen, vocalist. Pre-nuptial selections were "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "Ade Verum Corpus".

Mrs. Norman Marcel was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sandra Doty of Lawrenceville, Illinois, Miss Gerry Mige of Corpus Christi and Miss Linda Shaffer of Ranger, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore princess styled white length dresses of ice blue peau-de-soie and chiffon. Their hairpieces were of a halo effect, trimmed with seed pearls and covered with a chapel-length veil. They wore matching peau-de-soie shoes and carried nosegays of red roses.

William P. Hamilton was best man. Ushers were Ronald Adkins of Shalagoo, La., Paul Martin and Bubba Voorhies of Lafayette.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white imported slipper satin. The bodice, covered with imported Rosepoint lace, was fashioned with a V-neckline, empire waist, and three-quarter length sleeves. A train extended from the back of the princess style gown.

A crown of seed pearls held the bride's elbow length veil of illusion and she wore white kid gloves. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses, centered with a white cattlegia orchid with sprays of lily of the valley. The bouquet was trimmed with white lace and touches of seed pearls.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mackey was attired in a fitted dress of turquoise imported brocade silk satin with matching shoes and bag. To complete the ensemble she wore an off the face hat of multi-colored burl and leaves and a shoulder corsage of a purple cattlegia orchid.

The groom's mother wore a rose wool crepe sheath. Her accessories were black with a matching black feather hat. She wore short white gloves and a purple cattlegia orchid corsage.

The Oakhouse Country Club was the scene of the reception. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mackey, Mrs. Cecil Shaffer, the bride couple and her attendants.

The table was covered with an organdy ruffled cloth and was entered with a tapering arrangement of red roses, arranged in a silver footed bowl. The centerpiece was flanked on either side with tall five branched candelabras. A silver punch bowl and a silver coffee service completed the table decor. Potted palms served as the table background.

On the opposite end of the reception room was the table holding the wedding cake. The cake was three-tiered, and the last tier was suspended on columns and topped with a miniature replica of the bride and groom.

The registry table was covered with a white organdy cloth and centered with the white guest book. The focal point was composed of a white rice tree surrounded by white flowers.

Members of the house party were: Mmes. M. D. Adkins, W. W. Smith, Henry Vookies, Frank Scruggs, Rosemarie Resinger, Claude Teel, Jun Showe, C. R. Pope, Joe Mas, Fritz Schoeffler, and Rosemarie and Margaret Martin.

For a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains the bride wore a soft green wool fitted suit with brown alligator shoes and bag, bone colored 8-button length gloves, and a cocoa colored hat. She wore gold jewelry to complement the ensemble.

Guests attended from Ranger, Houston, Dallas, Corpus Christi, Galveston, San Antonio and Waco, Texas; Jackson, Mississippi; Baton Rouge, Shreveport Shongolun, and New Orleans, Louisiana.

Mrs. Shaffer is a graduate of Lafayette Sr. High School and Herman Hospital School of Nursing where she was a class officer and member of the "Debut". Her husband is a graduate of St. Edwards University in Austin and University of Texas Medical School. At present he is a M. D. on the Duke University Hospital staff.

The couple will make their home in Durham, North Carolina.

Better Keep This in Mind—

If you buy real estate without an abstract the chances are good that you will be required to furnish one when you go to sell or borrow money. It is customary for seller to furnish buyer with an abstract as he usually adds cost of same and other necessary expenses to the sale's price. So for many reasons all in your favor get an abstract and have it examined by your attorney when you buy real estate.

Christian Science

How sickness as well as sin can be overcome through spiritual understanding of God will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday. Teachings of Christ Jesus are featured in the Bible selections which include his admonition concerning the "corrupt tree (which) bringeth forth evil fruit" (Mat. 7:17). The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" This correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will follow (343:14): "Jesus strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood. By parable and argument he explains the impossibility of good producing evil; and he also scientifically demonstrates this great fact proving by what are wrongly called miracles, that sin, sickness, and death are beliefs—illusory errors—which he could and did destroy."
