Farm Census Shows County Farm Flight

A study of the 1959 census of agriculture which was released this week by the U. S. Department of Commerce shows there are 354 fewer farms in Eastland County than in 1954, but at the same time it indicates there are more acres now in farms than five years ago.

Last week Mike Collins, who works for the Eastland National Bank and is publicity chairman for the Eastland County Democrats, composed a poem that he thought was real good.

The American people are great organizers. When someone needs help, someone organizes a fund-raising campaign to help them.

There are other reasonable requirements, too. An agency should be legally incorporated; and your gift should be acceptable for income tax deduction.

Rangers Thrill Homecoming Crowd and Take Conf. Lead

The Ranger College Rangers thrilled a large homecoming crowd Saturday night as they came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat the Navarro Junior College Bulldogs 9 to 7 and take the lead in the Texas Conference football race.

The game which pitted two powerful defensive units against one another went scoreless for three quarters until early in the fourth quarter Navarro took the lead only to have the Rangers come back with a touchdown and a field goal late in the final minutes of play to get the hard-fought win.

The windy weather we had over the weekend didn't seem to keep the fish from biting, though. If anyone had the nerve to get out in the weather we were having, G. A. Church brought in a six pound bass that he caught at the Power Plant lake at Olden. He also reported that he caught 19 channel catfish that weighed from one to four pounds earlier in the week.

It is obvious that it is an unselfish expenditure of our time and money to conduct many different fund raising drives.

The Ranger Fire Department answered the call, but the house was almost completely destroyed before the fire department arrived on the scene.

Several of the Ranger football fans were rather upset after the football game at Ballinger last week. It seems that the fans at Ballinger weren't very nice. A couple of Ranger fans went to the concession stand and got some coffee and walked down by the fence and was hollering for the Bulldogs and a policeman came up and told them to shut up. That wasn't so bad, but what made them mad was that the Ballinger fans got right in among some of the Ranger fans and was running down the Ranger hallplayers.

The Ranger Fire Department answered the call, but the house was almost completely destroyed before the fire department arrived on the scene.

A Ranger ballplayer tackled a Ballinger ball carrier on the sidelines near the Ballinger cheerleaders and one of the girls took a pin out of her corset and tried to stick the Ranger player with it. Sportsmen Can Assist Wardens Fishing without a license continues to top the list of game and fish violations in the State. Wardens filed against 178 persons in September for failing to have the required fishing licenses, according to J. B. Phillips, assistant director of law enforcement, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

This is a slight drop from the 198 arrests made the same month in 1959, but a big increase when compared to the 29 persons found fishing without licenses in Sept. 1956.

Game wardens apprehended 123 persons last month for game law violations. Twenty-five of these were hunting in closed season, 17 were hunting from automobiles, 12 failed to plug the r guns for three shells and 10 were hunting at night.

"It is evident that some people are determined to hunt and fish without respect for laws which have been established to preserve our game and fish," said Phillips. "They don't realize that by their very acts of illegal hunting and fishing, they are hurting themselves as well as those who do respect our game laws."

According to Phillips, the good sportsmen (those who realize the need for game and fish laws) have always been a great help to wardens, by reporting violators and suspicious activities. "They are wise in doing this. These individuals, along with the landowners, should be congratulated for this great service. Once again, as the hunting season arrives, violators can expect an ever-growing pressure as wardens and all good sportsmen join together to promote game law enforcement in Texas."

WEEKEND VISITORS

Wood is a versatile material. Civilized man is dependent on wood every day of his life from the cradle to the coffin. There are about 200 tree species in Texas. However, only 35 of these are of economic importance. Each of these different woods has its own distinctive structure and physical properties. These lead to each wood the quality of usefulness for specific purposes.

The general characteristics and properties of wood we can easily recognize are color, lustre, odor, taste, hardness and weight.

Everyone has his own favorite color and grain of furniture wood, whether it be the light-colored maple, or the dark-colored walnut.

The possession or lack of odor and taste in wood is important for such products as wooden cigar boxes, cedar chests, beer kegs, and other food containers.

The hardness of a wood also helps determine its use. For example a soft wood, such as cypress or cedar, would not be satisfactory for mallet heads or floors. Similarly, the weight of wood is often an important property such as its use for crates where freight charges are involved.

TRAINED HIPPO—Miss Oklahoma and Miss Flo McIntosh, of the Al G. Kelly-Miller Bros. Circus. Zoo and animal authorities all over the world agree that Miss Oklahoma's unique exhibition of intelligence is the most unusual of all animal presentations. Undoubtedly, this hippo is the very first to be presented in a circus arena without leash harness, or other means of restraint. Trained by Captain John Narsfki. The Kelly-Miller Circus is scheduled for a matinee and night performance in Eastland on Wednesday, Nov. 2nd at the Cisco Road grounds. Miss Oklahoma's appearance is but one of the one-thousand-and-one thrilling innovations carried with this greatest of all wild animal shows.

College TV Poll
Reveals Westerns
On Decline

By Mike Herrington
In a recent TV poll taken among Ranger College students and faculty it was discovered that the popularity of westerns is declining. However, television watching itself seems to be left out of the schedule of most college students. Theodore Yap, Nancy Kelley, and many others who denied the use of their names said that they did not have time for TV.
Topping this year's survey is "Adventures in Paradise," a non-Western, with its setting in the South Seas. The reason given for its appeal are mainly that it is different from the popular western. Its theme song also has wide appeal.
Three shows tied for second place. They were "Wagon Train," "Maverick," and "Peter Gunn". The only two westerns receiving a majority vote were selected on the basis of plot and cast. "Peter Gunn" has much the same appeal. Suspense and mystery is a popular trend with the selection of "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" and "Twilight Zone." Sandra Cooper and Leon Walker chose "Alfred Hitchcock Presents," and Rita Underwood and Ryu Richardson chose "Twilight Zone." All liked the suspense and the unexpected.

New programs on this season also received a vote of appeal. They were "Surfside 6" and "Thriller," the favorites of Patsy Vinson and Jerry K'lgore.
David B. Allsup, Mary Beth Cameron, Jimmy Burnett, and Mike Herrington chose "Adventures in Paradise." Norma Gayle Enfinger, Brenda Roberts, and Rita Sipes chose "Wagon Train" because they like westerns and Robert Horton. Walter Blackwell, Jimmy Brighouse and Pat Blakely chose "Maverick" because they like the way James Garner and Jack Kelly portray the Maverick brothers, Bret and Bart. "Peter Gunn" was the choice of Sandy Taylor, Bitch Scott, and Vic Criswell who like the theme song Gunn's action, and his girl friend Edie.
Other western favorites include "Bonanza" (Mary Kay Rush said that she never got to see it because of a traffic jam), "Perry Mason" (Jerry Robinson), "The Rebel" (Gier Clark), and "Gunsmoke" (Sally Mendez).
Mrs. R. L. Hamrick likes "The Gary Moore Show" for its variety, humor, and satire. Mrs. J. P. Morris likes "The Jack Paar Show" because of the many interesting guests.
Linda Drennan prefers "The Perry Como Show" because she likes Como's singing. Mrs. Rull Kitchens likes "The Du Pont Show with June Allyson" because of Miss Allyson's fascinating voice and dramatic ability.
Clarence Meyers prefers "Dobie Gillis" because of the similarity of their lives. Russ Ward likes "Flightropes," and Leroy Yarbrough likes "The Three Stooges." Many others gave their favorites but declined the use of their names.

New Treatment
To Shrink Proof
Wool Is Reported

U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists have discovered a new treatment that shrinkproofs wool fabrics and makes them safely washable in machines.
Their discovery is essentially a way to cover wool fibers with an ultrathin coating of a polyamide that is chemically similar to one type of nylon. Treated fabrics retain wool's natural soft texture, yet they wash without shrinking and dry without wrinkling.
The new treatment can be combined with USDA's recently announced ethanalamine method for putting permanent pleats and creases in wool fabrics. It differs, however, from the shrinkproofing treatment previously reported, in which modified epoxy resins are used.

The new approach to wash-and-wear wool is a development of the Western Regional Research Division of USDA's Agricultural Research Service in Albany, Calif., the same laboratory that developed the resin and ethanalamine treatments. Chemists responsible for the polyamide treatment are W. L. Wasley, R. E. Whitfield, L. A. Miller and W. Fong.
Using interfacial polymerization, a reaction well known to chemical researchers, these chemists immerse wool in a diluted solution of a diamine and then immediately draw it through a dilute solution of diacid chloride. Under suitable conditions, a very thin and extremely durable polymer film is formed on the surface of the wool fibers. The researchers say the film is so thin that it increases fabric weight as little as one percent or less.
Commercial equipment should be suitable for the application. Following treatment, the fabric is simply rinsed in water and dried. No heat curing is necessary.

In laboratory tests, the new treatment has proved successful for shrinkproofing wool suitings, knitted wear, blankets and other wool goods. Treated garments endure repeated machine washing, dry cleaning, and wear stress with superior retention of dimensions, colors, softness and resilience. The treatment may find application also as a coating for materials such as other natural fibers and paper.

THE VOICE OF TEXAS STRONG

Texas' dominant position in the Democratic Party has been a major factor in the amazing growth and prosperity of our State during the past 50 years.

Count our blessings that have come because TEXANS were in the RIGHT party at the RIGHT time.

Count the jobs . . . educational opportunities . . . military installations . . . defense projects . . . water and soil projects . . . rural electricity and telephone systems. Count our ultimate potentials for development.

Now the Democratic Party has selected a TEXAN for one of the two top offices our Nation has to offer. As Vice President, Lyndon B. Johnson will be in a position to render the greatest service any Texan has ever been able to give his State, his Party, his Nation.

Our Nation needs the dynamic leadership of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. And Texas needs to be counted in the Democratic column November 8 to keep its voice STRONG in the party that has honored its sons and nurtured its growth. Texas has no such stake in any other party or any other candidate.

Texas' future — and America's — lies in your response November 8.

those voting must approve quotas if they are to continue in effect. Only one allotment-price support program will be available to upland cotton growers for 1961. If marketing quotas are approved in the referendum, price support will be available to upland growers who comply with their farm allotments at a level within the range of 70 to 90 percent of parity. The exact level of support will be announced at a later date. If quotas are not approved, allotments will remain in effect and price support at 50 percent of parity will be available to upland growers who comply with the allotment program.

The USDA announcement noted that farm acreage allotments will be mailed to operators of cotton farms prior to the Dec. 13 referendum.

Short Course Announced

A special exhibit of plant disease control equipment is scheduled as part of the Plant Disease Short Course to be held Nov. 21-22 in Texas A&M's Memorial Student Center at College Station. The Plant Disease Control Short Course was first held in 1959 with 133 in attendance. It is primarily designed for the needs of agricultural chemical company representatives. Groups such as pest control operators, nurserymen, lawn and shrub service personnel, county agents, regulatory personnel, and others will be in attendance.

A special feature will include sessions on diseases of vegetables by leading authorities. Diseases of tomatoes, Irish potatoes, cantaloupe, watermelon, cabbage, sweet potatoes, southern peas, onions, carrots, lettuce and others will be discussed.

Another feature will include a discussion of cotton diseases by Dr. L. S. Bird, one of the nation's top research workers on cotton diseases. Other sessions will include plant parasitic nematodes, diseases of citrus, pecans, peaches and plums, rose and lawn diseases, diseases of small grains and peanut diseases. The Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology, headed by Dr. David W. Rosberg, coordinates the sponsorship of the Short Course. Local county agents or the Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology, Texas A&M College, College Station, Texas, can supply additional information regarding the school.

State Acreage Allotments for '61 Cotton Set

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced state acreage allotments for the 1961 crops of upland and extra long staple cottons.

The upland allotment for Texas was set at 7,849,196 acres which includes 10,686 acres as the State's share of the national reserve. The Agricultural Act of 1958 authorizes a national acreage reserve of 310,000 acres for apportionment among the states on the basis of the estimated needs for additional acreage to establish minimum farm allotments as provided by legislation.

The extra long staple acreage allotment for Texas was set at 21,393 acres out of the national allotment of 63,746 acres.

The State allotment will be apportioned among the counties to establish county allotments and these will be further broken down among the individual farms of the counties in accordance with the provisions of the law and regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton will vote in a national referendum on Dec. 13 to determine whether marketing quotas will be operative for the 1961 crops—upland and extra long staple. At least two-thirds of
