

January Rainfall Is Well Above Average

Eastland County and Ranger has got off to a nice start (moisture wise) in 1961. The 4.77 inches of rain that fell in Ranger Friday and Saturday of last week made January 1961 the wettest January since records have been accumulated since 1911. Previous high was January, 1939 when 3.72 inches of rain fell.

Rain began falling again Wednesday afternoon and fell intermittently throughout the night. An early report Thursday morning showed an additional .52 of an inch fell during the eighteen hour period following noon Wednesday. This brought the months total to 5.29 inches, and still likely more to fall today.

That much rain in the first part of January and the above normal rain in December leave the moisture outlook for area farms and ranches in unusually good condition.

County Agent J. M. Cooper said the county normally expects only 1.3 inches of rain in January, and the 4-plus inch downpour left the land in good condition. He noted that small grain fields have been held back by cold weather. The good moisture situation, he added, will pay dividends as spring allows the beginning of field work.

County Commissioner J. B. Arthur reported that there was little damage to county roads in the area. His workmen began dragging rural roads early Tuesday. Ranger city employees were also on the job of smoothing out the rut.

Lake Leon is near the Spillway level, being at 74 feet and 3 3/4 inches and still catching some water from the Leon River and small creeks. Spill way level at the horn is 75 feet. Level prior to the recent water catch was 72 feet. The rain was generally heavy over the entire county and other lakes and stock ponds have much increased storage.

Texas & Pacific Railway Gets New Vice-President

Wilbur C. Foster, general superintendent transportation of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, has been elected vice president-operation by the T&P Board of Directors, effective February 1, 1961, succeeding L. C. Porter, who is retiring after a half-century of railroad service. It was announced today by T&P President J. T. Suggs.

Although a native of Shreveport, Louisiana, Foster was reared in Fort Worth. He attended elementary and high schools in this Texas city and also North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington.

Foster's career with the Texas and Pacific Railway Company began in 1912 when he entered service as a track worker, later working with pile driving gangs. During his service with the T&P, he has served as section foreman, district roadmaster, trainmaster, assistant superintendent and as division superintendent prior to his appointment as general superintendent transportation on January 1, 1957.

Porter, the retiring T&P vice president-operation, gained distinction during his 44 years of continuous service with Texas & Pacific as an outstanding railroad officer.

Born at Temple, Texas, he was reared at Knox City and Rosebud, and started his railroad career in 1910 with the old Gulf, Texas & Western, coming to the T&P in 1917 as a claim agent. Widely known throughout the southwest, Porter held positions in the claim and legal departments, being named general manager of the T&P Terminal Warehouse Company at Fort Worth in 1931. In 1938, he became assistant to the president of the Texas and Pacific and ten years later was elected vice president-operation.

Republicans Study Vote Rejection In This Area

Six hundred and fifteen Eastland County citizens failed to have their vote counted in the presidential election Nov. 8. The votes were disqualified mainly because the voters had failed to scratch out the Constitution and Prohibition Party candidates.

This figure, representing some nine percent of the total vote of the county, and other statistical information pertaining to voting in this area, were released today from Republican State Headquarters in Houston. The results of the study have been revealed in an effort to apprise Texans of the dangers of careless voting, and to point up the peculiarities in our state election laws which have contributed to an abnormally high vote disqualification.

The report states that there are two election laws which contradict one another. Art. 6.06 of the Election Code provides that the voter shall mark out the names of all candidates he does not wish to vote for, but that the failure to do so shall not invalidate the ballot if the intention of the voter is clear in the opinion of the election judge. Art. 8.21, however, provides that no ballot shall be counted if the candidates for more than one party are left unscratched.

Since, apparently, both laws cannot be applied, the individual Precinct Judge is left with the burden of deciding which law is just. This inconsistency in the law has contributed to the irregular pattern of vote disqualification between not only counties, but between precincts within counties, the Republican release stated.

For instance, within this county, returns from Precinct 3 showed one voter disqualified from a total of 179 votes cast, for a low rate of about one-half of one percent. Precinct 5 on the other hand had

B. B. Freeman Wins Honors State Pecan Show Results Announced

A variety known as Choclaw won grand championship honors for J. H. Womack of De Leon at the annual Texas State Pecan and Horticultural Show Jan. 6-7 at Texas A & M College. Womack also showed the pecans in the Eastland County show.

The Eastland County pecan grower's entry had 43.4 nuts to the pound, 60.3 per cent of which were kernel.

McCalley—E. D. Ware of Rising Star, 48.7 nuts per pound, 57.9 per cent kernel.

San Saba Improved—Doss Alexander of Rising Star, 58.8 nuts per pound, 60 per cent kernel.

Frank Hightower of Eastland, 40.7 nuts per pound, 49.1 per cent kernel.

Texas Prolific—Lee Liedtke of Cisco, 51.8 nuts per pound, 57.4 per cent kernel.

Comanche—B. B. Freeman of Ranger, 38.3 nuts per pound, 56.5 per cent kernel.

Show sponsors were the Texas Pecan Growers Association, A. and M. Horticulture Department and the American Society for Horticulture, Stephenville, and other R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager or Ralph Fisher, assistant manager of the Social Security office, Abilene, will conduct the school.

Items likely to be discussed include changes in the social security law, records needed for tax reporting, deductible farm income, depreciation of livestock and equipment and capital gains and losses. Other items probably will be casualty losses and theft, soil and water conservation expenses and others.

It will be held in the county courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse and will start promptly on time, said the agent, who stressed the fact that the school was free for those interested in attending.

Social Security Numbers Must Be Listed Warns IRS

"Be sure to write in the necessary social security numbers on your 1960 income tax form," cautions Arthur E. Fogle, Jr., Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Abilene.

There's a space on Uncle Sam's tax returns for the taxpayer's social security number and also for his wife's social security number. According to the IRS representative, omitting these vital numbers from a tax return is one of the most common mistakes taxpayers make.

"As a parent you may be able to claim your child as a dependent on that 1960 Federal tax return, even though the child earned $600 or more last year.

"If you have supplied more than half of his support, you may claim an exemption for him regardless of the amount he earned, providing he hadn't reached his 19th birthday by January 1, 1961," Fogle said.

"When the child is 19 or over, you still may claim an exemption for him if he was a full-time student during some part of five calendar months in 1960, and if you meet the support test. A full-time student is one who is enrolled for the number of hours which is considered to be full-time attendance."

Full particulars are contained in IRS Documents No. 5107, "Filing Your Tax Return," and No. 5013, "Personal Exemptions and Dependents."

Deadline for paying the last installment on an estimated Federal income tax return for 1960 is Monday, Jan. 16, according to Fogle.

Taxpayers who filed an estimate return and have a payment due Jan. 16 should have received a notice by mail.

"If you have previously filed an estimated return and even a securing in the final quarter of 1960 show that your income will be substantially more or less than your original estimate, you should file an amended declaration Jan. 16," he said.

His declaration, he added, should be marked "amended" and filed with the same IRS District Director who received the original declaration. (A blank amended declaration is printed on the back of the payment due notice which the taxpayer received by mail.)

Bell County won 158 points for third place, and Travis County, fourth place with 109.

Dr. Storey said 425 entries were exhibited in the show, a record number for the event. He said the association has arranged to display all the entries during the organization's annual convention July 11-12 at A & M College.

First place winners in variety classes from Eastland County were the following:

Barton—Womack, 42.2 nuts per pound, 56.3 per cent kernel.

Delmas—C. E. Smith of Rising Star, 42.2 nuts per pound, 50.2 per cent kernel.

LIONS CLUB TOLD Ranger Benefits From National Guard Unit

Sgt. Charles Arnett of the Ranger National Guard Unit brought a short but informative program on the National Guard to the Ranger Lions Club at their luncheon today.

Sgt. Arnett stressed the economic aspect of the national guard both on a national and local angle. He told the overall total strength of the Guard. At the present time there is approximately 400,000 members of the Army National Guard and 68,000 members in the Air National Guard.

Following World War II the United States government turned over to the National Guard many thousands of dollars worth of equipment that would otherwise have been scrapped. The National Guard took this equipment and rebuilt it up to top operating condition. Then in 1950 the Government was faced with an acute shortage of many kinds of equipment when the Korean conflict broke out. The National Guard turned back to the Government some $375 million worth of that same equipment which was shipped direct from Guard units to the Korean battlefield. In addition, more than $700 million worth of equipment and facilities were provided to the Air Force.

On the local level the economic aspect for a community with a Guard Unit was brought out when the Sergeant stated what the payroll for the Ranger Unit amounted to in 1960. He stated that $27,375.00 was paid in wages. Breaking this figure down, it averaged about $389.58 per year per person in the Ranger Unit.

In the Korean conflict alone, 183,000 National Guardsmen were called to active duty during the emergency. These were men trained for combat far cheaper than a regular soldier is trained. The average cost of training a regular soldier per year is $5,700. The Ranger Guard Unit received 63 days of training for $23,575, where a group of regular soldiers of the same number would have cost the government $137,532.00.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

"Why doesn't a book tell the reader something about the man that the author thought enough of to dedicate the book to?" my friend, Dick Hardy of Dallas, once inquired. He had a point too—although in the case of "You Can Always Tell a Texan," the man to whom the book was dedicated is widely known for his achievements and civic services.

C. T. McLaughlin was born in Pennsylvania, came to Texas shortly after World War I service in an aerial squadron in the U. S. Army Signal Corps; was a drilling contractor in Wichita Falls from 1923 to 1948.

In 1936, he acquired the Diamond M Ranch to raise fine cattle and horses but oil wells sprouted and spouted when the famous Canyon Reef strike was made. He has holdings in banking and insurance as well as oil. He is interested in public affairs, having served on the State Democratic Committee for five years and as chairman of the State Democratic finance committee in 1956, as well as being chairman of the State Department of Public Safety.

"Mr. Mc", as his many friends affectionately call him, is a philanthropist and is especially interested in helping young people acquire an education. The handsome Snyder Country Club was built under his presidency. He has been repeatedly honored as an outstanding citizen of Snyder and West Texas.

He is a genial and generous host and unless you have attended an annual meeting of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce you have missed one of the phenomena of Texas life. Imagine 2,000 persons present for a dinner and then such a star-studded program as can be provided by a five-tongued Governor Clement of Tennessee; the Irish melody of Phil Regan; the Texas music of Slim Willett ("Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes") and his Abilene orchestra. Well, that's just typical of the wonderful array that the quiet-spoken, modest "Mr. Mc" makes possible for his beloved home city.

A reminiscence about my Uncle Albert:

His favorite piece of chicken was the neck, which happened to be a favor to with me, too. One Sunday, he bit through the bony structure and discovered the windpipe. The sigh disturbed him. "I've eaten hundreds of necks," he said, "and I never saw anything like that before." Despite Aunt Rachel's assuring him that a windpipe was standard equipment with all chickens, Uncle Albert never ate another neck—so when I was a guest I always got it, thereafter!

Mexican Theme Is Carried Out At Lone Cedar Luncheon Friday

Eastland members of the Lone Cedar Luncheon Club were hostesses to the monthly luncheon Friday at 1 p.m. in the Club dining room.

Members of the hostess committee were Meses, Clyde Grissom, W. E. Chaney, Frank Sparks and Art Johnson.

The committee chose a Mexican theme to set the tempo in both decor and food. Curtains were drawn to enhance the glow of candlelight throughout the spacious dining room.

Mrs. Art Johnson greeted guests at the door. Mrs. Chaney and Mrs. Sparks were at the registration table which featured a wall background of multi-colored Tamas and miniature Mexican hats.

Luminaria centered the table. Mrs. Grissom led guests then to the buffet which offered the traditional food of tamales, tacos, frijoles, Spanish rice, tostades and a choice of salad with jalapenos, dessert and coffee.

In the entrance to the tables a huge sombrero covered the top of one table, holding eight African Violets in lush bloom with a burning taper thrust into each plant. The arrangement of 12 quartet tables seated the members and again the motif continued in the hand painted covers. Luminaria in the center of each table held a glowing red taper to lend more atmosphere.

Tallies for bridge were also miniature hand painted sombreros. Mrs. F. E. Harrell of Cisco won high score prize which was two luncheon tickets enveloped with a miniature black fan and yellow rose. Mrs. Bill Frost of Eastland was presented a Mexican dish with tamales for the door prize.

Memories of Mexico

The trip made to Monterrey, Mexico, by the Rangers, cheerleaders, coaches, sponsors, a field trip and many other fans will not soon be forgotten. Always, however, certain memories are more vivid than others, and students quizzed reveal some of the things that stand out most in their minds about Monterrey.

Bob Spradlin: The little shoe shine boys and how they act.

Beth Key: The crowded streets and the traffic the day we arrived.

Paul Free: The money exchange and the buildings at Monterrey Tech. The fact that more Mexicans speak English than Americans speak Spanish.

Rita Sipes: Juan, the little shoe shine boy that followed us around.

Russ Ward: Monterrey Tech and all the wild driving.

Jerry House: The beautiful scenery and all the big mountains. The slums.

Warren Sheelar: Money exchange, crowded streets, and slums.

Nancy Kelley: The little shoe shine boys and all the shops in the city.

Jerry Key: Money exchange and how the Mexicans act.

James Potts: The horse and buggy ride and the plaza.

Kenneth Hart and Carrell Richardson: The curio shops.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Women residents in Texas nursing homes and convalescent care institutions outnumber men residents two to one, State Health Department records show.

Almost 12,000 elderly Texans presently reside in care homes which have passed State Department of Health scrutiny and are licensed under provisions of the home licensure law administered by the health agency.

Despite the fact that Texas was one of the most recent states to spell out regulations aimed at protecting the health, safety and welfare of nursing home patients, the standards now enforced in this state equal or exceed those of other states, department officials believe.

That this is true is borne out when the beneficial aspects and the results obtained under Texas' standards are compared with the situation in other states, says J. W. Hornburg, director of the Texas licensure program.

The Texas law has been in effect since June 1953.

Hornburg said 321 nursing homes with a capacity of 9,512 beds, and 241 convalescent care homes with a capacity of 4,833 beds are currently licensed—after having proved the humaneness of their operations.

Average age of home residents is 80 years. Almost 60 percent of them are recipients of old age assistant checks.

Nursing homes are distinguished from convalescent care homes in that they are required to have supervisory nursing personnel on their staffs. This requirement does not pertain to convalescent care homes, although they must have a physician's statement concerning the physical condition of each patient.

Nursing home beds for any given area are calculated on the basis of a widely accepted formula of three beds per 1,000 population. Applying it to the Texas situation shows that approximately 30 percent of the Texas need has so far been met.

The Texas law covers all establishments which furnish "food and shelter to four or more persons unrelated to the proprietor, and in addition provide minor treatment or services which meet some basic need beyond the provision of food, shelter and laundry."

FIRING SQUAD CHA-CHA—A gathering of followers of Fidel Castro chant "to the wall" in Havana, demanding death for terrorists who set off bombs in the city.

Tractor Talk

IMPROPER DIPSTICK MAY BE CAUSE FOR OIL FOULED PLUGS

In cases of continued oil fouling of the spark plugs and/or high oil consumption, better check the dipstick to see whether it's the right type for the engine.

Service engineers at Champion Spark Plug Company advise that they have received several reports of cases where the dipstick was too short—as a result, oil was added to the crankcase in excess requirements.

Champion engineers advise that this condition may also show up as excessive oil blowing out of the crankcase breather.

POINT SPACING AFFECTS TIMING

When installing distributor breaker contact points in a tractor, keep in mind that proper point spacing is important. Points spaced too far apart decrease dwell angle and advance spark timing. Points spaced too closely together increase dwell angle and retard timing.

An engine always should be retimed after new points have been installed.

CLOGGED AIR CLEANER MAY CAUSE FOULED SPARK PLUGS

If you're encountering spark plug misfiring on tractor engines with relatively new plugs, it may be due to improper air cleaner maintenance, according to Champion Spark Plug Company.

Pointing to a recent University of Illinois survey indicating that most farmers don't follow recommended procedures on air cleaner servicing, Champion service engineers advise that a dirt-clogged filter easily can result in a rich fuel

REGULAR AIR CLEANER SERVICE IS EXTREMELY IMPORTANT TO TRACTOR OPERATION

Dirt collecting in the filter element can reduce horsepower, waste gas and result in excessive engine wear. In the Illinois test, for example, intake valves from tractors receiving poor air cleaner service showed three times the wear as those in tractors receiving proper service. Cleaner neglect also accelerates wear of rings, pistons, sleeves and bearings.

Champion engineers advise servicing the oil cup daily, cleaning the center pipe monthly and removing and cleaning the entire filter at least once a year.

Wool Growers Plan Annual National Meeting

Heavy guns of American agriculture will be trained upon the 96th annual convention of the National Wool Growers Association in Denver for a long, hard look at the unhappy sheep industry.

Western and midwestern states, there is no limit to the list of world-renowned experts who have been called upon from most states of the union to explore serious problems that have hit the wool industry with crippling force.

Executive secretary Edwin E. Hirsch said the four-day convention, scheduled for Jan. 22 through 25 at Denver's Brown Palace Hotel, will headline such leading authorities as: Dr. Herrell De Graff, professor of food economics at Cornell University; President Dan Clyde of the American Sheep Producers Council; Walter F. Edinger, chairman of the Wool Advisory Committee; A. Z. Baker, president of American Stock Yards Assn., Washington, D. C.; Dr. Morris Taylor, Utah Extension Service; H. J. Deereaux, Rapid City, S. D.; A. D. Ewell, Columbus, Wis.; W. B. A. McKerrrow, Wisconsin; Dr. G. T. Kane, Texas A & M College; Dr. A. L. Pope, University of Wisconsin; William C. Purdy, director of meat marketing for Federal Food Stores, Chicago; and dozens of others.

Members of the national association President Harold Jansendal of Denver are urging all wool and lamb producers to attend the Denver convention which he said will give an "intensely determined" look towards actually finding feasible and economic solutions to the grave situation sheep producers have encountered this past year.

Even the reactions of the 96th convention are expected to express the militant attitude of the producers, Jansendal was quoted as declaring, and the panel discussions will explore all fields of momentous concern to wool growers.

Panelists met under easy Tuesday, Jan. 24 with "Lamb Quality" and "M-headers" set for the noon. The nub'n of the wool-growers difficulties, however will be uncovered Wednesday, Jan. 25, when the delegates hear the marketing experts discuss "What Can We Do To Make the Sheep Business Profitable?"

Squeezed in between the busy general sessions will be executive committee sessions, resolutions and election of officers.

Sixteen states, representing 70 per cent of the nation's lamb and wool production, will have delegates attending. They are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

By Oscar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — With a new year, a new Administration and the opening of a new Congress, comes this first newsletter. It is hoped readers will find an interest each week in this column, which will attempt to report on matters in Washington.

Frankly there are as many unsolved and unresolved issues facing the new Congress as has ever been faced by any in the history of our country. Not only the issues which may be identified as normal, but also those which have not been met and resolved by the outgoing Administration.

Fairly early in this session of the Congress will be proposals to increase the rate and coverage of the Minimum Wage Law. In line for consideration in the near future will be legislation for more Federal Aid for school construction, which may include money for teachers' salaries. Following close behind will be a revised version of Medical Aid for the Aged supported by Social Security taxes and economic assistance for the so-called Depressed Areas, and a new measure for more Government Housing which will include loans and insurance.

All this and more is on the "must" list of the new Administration. Some things are on the "must" list, not because of choice, but because of world conditions. This is the matter of dealing with the Cuban situation, the improads of Communism in Latin America, the instability in Africa and Southeast Asia, and other areas where rapid changes are now occurring.

Then, probably above all immediately about who manages and how he manages the company. Remotely a bond buyer by withholding or lending money may influence a company's ability to expand. The bondholder gets only his interest payments, which come before the stockholder's "dividends," since he takes less of a risk than the stockholder.

Thus if the corporation quits or goes bankrupt, it must pay the bondholders off before the stockholders get anything.

Where does the "preferred stock" come in? As a rule, preferred stockholders collect a fixed dividend — after the bondholders are paid but before the "common" stockholders get anything. There are many kinds of preferred stock arrangements. But in return for their first chance at the profits, the preferred stockholders often give up any voting rights or ability to control the company directly.

(This newfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

portance, is to reconstitute our position in the world. Of one thing we can be fairly certain; a most intense effort will be made early in the Administration to guarantee the strongest military establishment of any nation on earth. The proposition that we must deal with strength is a strong sentiment in this Administration. At the same time, sight will not be lost of the tremendous importance of trying to keep the peace and to work towards some plan of world disarmament. With nuclear weapons being made possible by other countries such as France, and even little Israel, it can be assumed that Communist Red China will soon have the capacity of exploding an atomic bomb.

Our world is now small. As much as we may wish to live in our land and not interfere or be interfered with, it seems impossible. It is the cold war struggle between free nations and that of Communist tyranny.

Again, it is hoped you will find an interest in this column each week and that it may provoke your comments. Your opinions and your counsel will be gratefully received and respected.
