Senate Bill 80—No. 1

School Incentive Aid Plan Originated In This County

By STAFF WRITER
(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles which will give both the pros and cons of the incentive school consolidation plan.)

By VIRGIL E. MOORE
What is Senate Bill 80? It's a bill offering school districts incentive aid payments for voluntary consolidation.

Those are big words, and the next question which comes into the mind of any individual is, "What incentives are involved?"

There's a real story back of Senate Bill 80. The bill passed the present state legislature and was signed into law by the governor during the last week of the regular session. The bill was sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Tom Creighton and in the House by Rep. Scott Bailey. The real man back of the bill was Dr. James C. Whittington of Eastland, however.

Dr. Whittington came up with the idea of forming one high school in Eastland County more than a year ago. He was instrumental in getting a study group formed by the Eastland, Ranger and Olden school districts. After the study group met for awhile it came up with a report stating that under present laws it would be financially unwise for the districts to consolidate. The reason why it would be unwise is the complicated state school laws.

Under the law before Senate Bill 80 passed, consolidation actually cost school districts state aid. For instance, if two districts consolidated the state would put up funds for just one high school principal, whereas the state put up funds for two as long as the districts were separated.

That's what was behind Senate Bill 80. Under the bill any districts can consolidate and not lose any funds for 10 years.

Eastland County now has nine school districts and nine high schools. Dr. Whittington and his backers point out that this is a most unusual situation. For in senior colleges.

BY BAILEY

Abilene Sewer Farm Attacked

Rep. Scott Bailey has urged Gov. Price Daniel to include legislation dealing with water pollution in his agenda to be placed before the next called session of the 57th Legislature.

In a letter to Gov. Daniel, Bailey stated, "Recent heavy rains in the Albany and Baird vicinity indicate the possibility of extreme pollution down stream from the Abilene sewer farm."

Bailey said, "Many residents who live in the western part of Callahan and Shackelford counties have contacted me in regard to the sanitation problem caused by this situation. In some cases water wells have become polluted in the vicinity of this sewer farm." The Eastland County House member pointed out that the House passed a bill dealing with water pollution, but the Senate failed to approve the bill. House Bill 130 would have set up a state agency to deal with pollution problems.

"I fear that the new Hubbard Creek Lake may be in danger of pollution also," Bailey continued. "In view of this urgent situation that confronts the people of Texas, I urge that this subject be placed before the next called session of the Legislature or at any later session that might be called."

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

ies and ironies—The Eskimos in Alaska are finding that their freedom is limited since Alaska became a State of the Union. Eskimos must hunt to eat. Before Alaska became a State, they did not have to abide by the game laws, but now they have a bag limit which makes it difficult for them to live. The Eskimos ask the question, "Why do citizens of the United States make these laws? "God makes things to eat." They advise us that they do not kill wildlife just to be killing, and that they do not waste ducks and geese.

Another irony and oddity—By a decision of the United States Supreme Court, overriding the United States Court of Claims, the taxpayers must divvy up about $10,000 for back pay to three American turncoat soldiers who went over to the enemy in Korea.

According to the Department of Justice these soldiers acted as informers in prison camps, giving the Chinese Communists the names of other prisoners who planned to escape. As a result, many loyal Americans were bayoneted, or put in solitary confinement, and otherwise abused.

The Supreme Court, however, in a unanimous decision ruled that the turncoats are entitled to their back pay.

It is a shame that, under existing law, men who betray their Country and their fellow soldiers must be paid for doing it. The remedy lies in the Congress enacting legislation to provide that turncoats shall forfeit all pay, and allowances.

EXTRAORDINARY FILM ON RANGER SCREEN THURSDAY JUNE 8

lot of soap and other trinkets for many years. Unlike the Eskimos, who kills for food, Godfrey recently saved a film where he killed a great spotted leopard in India. The picture showed what appeared to be a hundred or so natives, beating the brush to flush out wild animals. This man Godfrey was sitting in the shade in a chair on a platform built high in a tree, with a telescope, magnum-loaded, high-powered rifle. Out came the cat, and sure enough, he kills it with one perfect shot. It had considerably less chance than a bull in the ring in Mexico, which is sure of death, but at least has the chance of going an old horse and possibly ripping the thigh of the matador.

The Great Hunter will probably have the head of the leopard mounted, and showing it to his friends, receive a great boost to his already well supplied egotism. Statistics show that wildlife is rapidly disappearing from the face of the earth. It should be a real concern for those who love and have a regard for it.

The Lord created wildlife for the use of man—his food, his clothing and as a beast of burden. To destroy it for sadistic pleasure or to satisfy egotism would seem next to sinful.

Summer Outdoor Vacation Season Safety Rules Listed by Red Cross

"Life preservers" for the millions of Americans who will take to the water and the woods this summer were recommended today by the American Red Cross as the outdoor vacation season begins officially with the Memorial Day holiday.

The most popular summer sports, swimming and boating, account for the majority of the 6,500 annual drownings, A. W. Cantwell, national director of Red Cross Safety Services, said.

To prevent them and other water-related accidents, he advocated these precautions:

1. Never swim alone. At beaches, stay near a lifeguard.
2. Stay out of the water when overheated, for an hour after eating, and during electrical storms.
3. Stay away from the area, immediately in front of the diving board.
4. Don't depend on a tube or inflated toy to hold you up.
5. Don't dive in shallow water or in unknown waters.
6. Watch your step. Walk, don't run, around pool area.
7. Stay out of deep water if you can't swim.
8. Beware of sunburn, even on a cloudy day.

9. Dry off after swimming. Cover up if it's chilly.
10. In ocean and river swimming watch for riptides and currents. Lifeguards will tell you how to recognize these conditions and how to save yourself if you are caught.
11. In long-distance swimming, always swim parallel to the shore and with a companion or a boat.
12. Stay away from piers and pilings.
13. Alcohol and swimming don't mix. Stay out of the water if you have been imbibing.
14. Fence your swimming pool for the protection of small children.
15. Separate deep and shallow water in your pool by a buoyed line.
16. Keep handy such rescue equipment as ring buoys and reaching poles, as well as a first aid kit.

Mr. Cantwell advised motor boat owners to:

1. Keep the passengers in your boat down to a safe number. Don't overload.
2. Don't overpower your boat. Your dealer can tell you what size motor is safe for your boat.
3. Equip your boat with safety items. A life jacket for each passenger and a stern light are musts. Recommended also are anchor, oars, boat hook, extra line, fire extinguisher, first aid kit and tool kit.

For the millions of Americans who will spend their summer holidays camping, hiking in the mountains, or just picnicking, Mr. Cantwell had this advice:

1. Camp, preferably, in an authorized area where the water supply is certified safe.
2. If you camp on private property, get permission from the owner first and make sure the water supply meets minimum health standards.
3. Pitch your camp so your waste will drain away from the water supply, not toward it.
4. Check with local health authorities or pharmacists what insect hazards there are in the neighborhood. The latter will recommend the right repellants.
5. Learn what poison plants there are in the locality in order to stay away from them—touching as well as eating.
6. Learn something about the wild life in the area—large animals that may be dangerous, small animals that carry rabies, and poisonous snakes.
7. The area around a campfire should be cleared completely for a radius of at least 10-feet. When you finish with the fire, douse it with water, then shovel dirt on top of it. Smokers should make certain cigarette, cigar, or pipe ash is completely extinguished.
8. Household cooking vessels won't work well on campfires. Special camping vessels—a kettle with legs and frying pan with removable handle—will cut down on burns, scalds, spilled and ruined food.
9. Keep axes and knives in leather sheaths when they are not in use. Use only implements with sharp edges.

10. Chop logs with a V-motion and keep feet off the object being chopped. Instead, brace with some other blocking material.

11. Many creams and lotions contain special ingredients to screen out the ultra-violet rays of the sun. Use these liberally even after the skin is well tanned, for even then excessive ultra-violet sun rays can cause skin cancer.

12. Take along a first aid kit and a Red Cross First Aid Textbook. The latter can be obtained at your local Red Cross chapter.

Here's Story Behind Good Movie Seen at County's Majestic Theatre

Recent mention in the motion picture trade magazines that certain new movies were to be given the Markley Plan treatment provides a reason to look into this program for film showmanship in just three years has become a device of sales stimulation that has caught the eye of the film producers in Hollywood, attracted attention of exhibitors in other countries and has made the movie-going public more cognizant of the entertainment available in their favorite theatre.

A moving factor in this renaissance of showmanship is the highly regarded Texas circuit of theatres—Interstate-Texas Consolidated—the parent organization having been originated in 1905 by Karl Hobbittzelle, still president of the company.

Interstate-Texas Consolidated is a member of the five national southern theatre circuits of the American Broadcasting - Paramount Theatres, operating under the supervision of Sidney M. Hobbittzelle, vice-president of A.B.T. These theatres range from Texas to Florida, and all the way to Pennsylvania. The circuits and their headquarters of operation are Interstate-Texas Consolidated, Dallas; Paramount-Gulf, New Orleans; Wilby Kinsey, Atlanta; Florida State, Jacksonville, Fla.; Paramount, Wilkes - Barr, Louisiana.

Markley devised the plan of putting the best ideas of advertising, publicity, exploitation from any of the five southern circuits of A.B.T. Twice a year, Markley gathers together the senior executives of each circuit, including advertising-publicity managers, to present original planned sales campaigns in behalf of two or three specially selected pictures. These are called "project pictures" and are selected for their "good entertainment quality." They are fine productions that normally will attract solid patronage. The objective of the project meeting is to increase the normally expected patronage. The pooling of ideas is to create more interest in more potential patrons, which is actually what has been accomplished ever since the Markley Plan started.

No Markley Plan Project Picture is a mediocre attraction. The past speaks well in behalf of itself—"The Fugitive Kind," with Marlon Brando; "The FBI Story," with James Stewart; "Houseboat," with Cary Grant; "Onionhead," with Andy Griffith; "The Rat Race," with Tony Curtis and Debbie Reynolds; "But Not For Me," with Clark Gable.

The most recent meeting of the "Markley Plan" was held May 8 to 5 at Clearwater, Fla., where exchange of ideas between the five southern circuits was on three upcoming motion pictures: Paramount's "The Ladies Man," starring Jerry Lewis, which opened Sunday at the Majestic theatre; Columbia's "Gidget Goes Hawaiian," scheduled soon at the Majestic, with Deborah Walley (the new Gidget replacing Sandra Dee, the original) and featuring James Darren; and the United Artists release, "The Last Time I Saw Archie," starring Robert Mitchum, Jack Webb, Martha Hyer and France Nuyen, which will be shown sometime in July. The three pictures will be opening at approximately the same times at the 81 Interstate-Texas Consolidated Theatres in 26 cities, including Eastland.

Attending the Florida meeting from Interstate-Texas Consolidated were President Hobbittzelle; John Adams, executive vice-president; Raymond Willie, vice-president and general manager of Interstate; W. E. Mitchell, vice-president and general manager of Texas Consolidated; Francis Bove, director of advertising-publicity for Interstate-Texas Consolidated; Conrad Brady, Pat Hudgins and Dan Busbee of the Dallas home office staff, and Art Katzen, publicist for Interstate theatres in Houston.

The culmination of the Markley Plan occurs in the grassroots when all the available manpower from the Dallas home office officials of the publicity-advertising department - pack their bags and hit the road to assist theatre managers in all the cities in utilizing the campaigns.

Much of the vitality of the Markley Plan is due to the competition between the southern circuits. Top producers and distributors of motion pictures from Hollywood and New York attend the meetings and are consistent in their praise for the southern showmen's ideas.

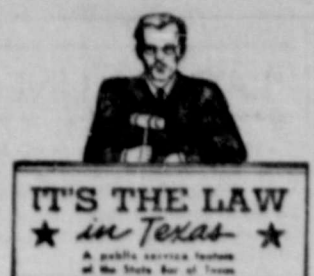

At the recent Florida meeting, Jerry Brewer, who produced "Gidget Goes Hawaiian," expressed amazement at the variety of suggestions to promote his picture.

At another meeting, William Periberg, noted producer of the Periberg-Seaton team, made this comment:

"For the better part of a day we sat in a large room in a state of serene shock. The Southerners had thrown out most of the ad campaign devised by New York agencies in favor of their own home-grown efforts. They were superior, uniformly, to those concocted on Madison Avenue. They were original and full-blown, with a certain striking freshness that could not help but attract new customers. The Dixie fellows had grown tired of antiquated slogans and situation art that dated back to the silent days.

Their exploitation stunts, for the most part, were not only novel but sure-fire.

These were not the drawing, cracker-barrel philosophers. They were showmen instead of offenders; creators, not corn dispensers."

FOLLOW SIMPLE RULES IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.
2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.
- (3) Protect the Scene from further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned.

Periberg's analysis is attested to by the fact that the five southern circuits draw more patrons per capita than cities in other parts of the country.

If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlights beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an officer, Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information. Write it down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess—be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver—and he must do the same.

6. Be careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so.

Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See your doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Promptly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Public Safety. This is required by law if there is any injury, death, or total damages exceed $25.00.

An official accident report form may be procured from the Police, Sheriff's Dept., Highway Patrol, or State Dept. of Public Safety.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Look At it This Way-

If the Seller says he has a good title and furnishing an abstract is not necessary, he is wrong, of course. But if he were not, then the Buyer is entitled to a reduction in the sales price for a sum equal to the cost of an abstract. The abstract is considered as much a part of the assets of sale as the land and improvements. And every buyer of real estate is entitled to an abstract or its equivalent in cash.

Why are religious titles given to men? Did you ever read in the Bible of "Reverend" Simon Peter? Have you read of "Father" Paul in the Scriptures? Why is a man so bold in this matter? The apostles and prophets of Christ never used such titles. Are the preachers of our day greater than they? Jesus said, "The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord." (Mt. 10:24). Have the servants become the "Master"? The word "reverend" is used but once in the Bible. "Holy and reverend is his name." (Ps. 111:9). What man is due from his fellows reverence, deference, honor, and awe? The word "reverend" is descriptive only of God and His name. All men are sinners and must recognize this fact and then give reverence to God. Man is due NO REVERENCE in spiritual matters. But what of the practice of calling and being called "Reverend"? Have the so-called Reverends been elevated to equals with God? Why are they so honored? The gospel is God's power unto salvation unto all that believe (Rom. 1:16). Why elevate the man? Isn't it true that many believe the preacher has some special spiritual endowment, and that what he says is really the only authority they know? The modern preacher has become the Bible of many people, even to the point of worship. And why not? If he is "Reverend", then he is due to be worshipped. After all, this makes him equal to God. (Ps. 111:9). If any reverence is given it must be given to things holy. Do you reverence the inspired Word of God, the Bible? Or do you reverence a sinful man, such as we all are (Rom. 3:23; 1 John 1:7). Giving a man a title won't change the fact that he is just another man. All that understand and reverence the Word of God will not answer to such titles. Only God's Word can save you now (James 1:21).

Nancy Beck and Clinton Ray Humphreys Say Wedding Vows

A double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Nancy Bonita Beck and Clinton Ray Humphreys was read Friday evening at 7:30 in the Eastland First Baptist Church amid a nuptial setting of candelabra, palms, greenery and gladioli. Rev. Ray Heckendorn, pastor of the Eastland First Christian Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edward Beck of 305 S. Hillcrest, Eastland. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Humphreys of 1310 S. Seaman are the parents of the bridegroom. The bodice molded to the waist and featured a portrait neckline banded with pearls and lace to form the scalloped edge. Bracelet length sleeves were complimented by imported wrist length gloves. The skirt, paneled in front was enhanced with an overlaid band of lace extending the full front of the gown from neckline to hemline. Fullness extending from either side swept to the wind-swept back flowing to a circular court train. The finger tip multi-tiered veil of silk illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a lace hankiechief belonging to her grandmother and imported from France in 1918. Her only jewelry was a single drop pearl. She carried a Bible arrangement of white roses complimented by a shower of pearls.

MRS. CLINTON RAY HUMPHREYS

Eastland and Martin Day of Eastland.

Janie Dale Beck, cousin of the bride, and Jeannie Wright, niece of the groom, were candle-lighters.

For the ceremony Mrs. Beck, mother of the bride, was attired in a blue ribonnet sheath dress with white accessories and an orchid. Mrs. Humphreys, mother of the groom, wore a sheath dress of dusty rose lace with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Joyce C. Jarrett registered guests while Mrs. James T. Wright and Mrs. Tobe Lasater, sister and aunt of the groom, presided at the serving table. Members of the houseparty were Misses E. J. Turner, Hood King, J. D. Earley, Curtis Koen, A. R. Mayers, Clinton McCain, Eldress Gattis, W. E. Lewis, T. E. Stamey, Iral Inzer, Bill Walters, D. F. Williamson, A. R. Sommerford, Ben Mathews, Lee Graham and Waverly Massengale.

For her going-away trip the bride chose an imported beige silk suit with matching silk pumps and purse in hand. She wore the roses from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home Monday, June 5, at Route two, Eastland where they will reside until they return to school in the fall.

Mrs. Humphreys is a 1953 graduate of Eastland High School and will be a junior at Sul Ross State College, Alpine. She attended Ranger Junior College the past school year and was elected Sophomore Class favorite, a member of Phi Theta Kappa, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He was a member of the 1960 Ranger Rangers and was selected on the All Conference Football team. He is now employed by Fiesta Bowl in Eastland.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Laura Rogers, grandmother of the bridegroom, of Kilgore, David Rogers, cousin of the groom also of Kilgore, Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Lasater of Kilgore, aunt and uncle of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Jaye C. Jarrett and Tammie of Austin, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Leta Baker of Odessa.

stated, they explain that Abilene would have 45 high schools if that city had the same number of schools per capita that Eastland County does. At present there are just two high schools in Abilene, one of them being newly opened.

Whittington's plan calls for having one high school in the county, but he is quick to point out that all nine of the school districts—Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Olden, Carbon, Gorman, Desdemona, Seranton, and Rising Star—would retain their elementary and junior high schools. He says the one high school should not be located in any of the towns involved, but in some central location.

While there has been no organized resistance to the Whittington movement, the argument most often heard is this: "If you take away our schools you will ruin our community."

Whittington says the communities would not be hurt, but helped. He says this area cannot attract industry without first offering a school system equal to those in larger cities.

Mrs. Thomas is Honored With Luncheon in Roberson Home

Mrs. L. E. Thomas of Washington, D. C., sister of Mrs. Sam Aills, was honored with a luncheon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. T. Roberson, Rt. 2, Breckenridge Rd. Mrs. Roscoe Hopper was co-hostess.

The home was decorated with spring flowers with colors suited to each room. An arrangement of pink gladiolus against a complimenting background of reddish ti leaves in a wash bowl mounted on an antique gold stand graced the piano.

White gardenias were placed on the long coffee table, with matching white porcelain accessories.

In the family room, the main table was covered with a linen cloth in early American design and centered for the occasion with a pale green cornucopia filled with bright red gladiolus, Alaskan daisies in a white milk glass container was noted on the chow table.

Guests were served a delicious luncheon consisting of chicken caeciators, 24 hour fruit salad, tossed green salad with Italian dressing, carrot curis, and hot buttered bread seasoned Parmesan cheese. Strawberry barvarian glaze were served with a strawberry square for dessert.

Following the luncheon, five tables of bridge provided entertainment. Lovely gifts were presented to the honoree, Mrs. Thomas, and high score winner in bridge, Mrs. Crawford. Bingo was won by Mrs. Brazda.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. John Cox, Breckenridge, Mrs. Frank Sparks, Eastland, and Mrs. Reba Vetch, Fort Worth. Others attending were: Meses. W. P. Watkins, F. P. Braisher Jr., A. W. Brazda, E. E. Crawford, P. M. Kuykendall, J. P. Morris, Morris Newsham, James Radloff, P. T. Smith, Charles Milliken, Saunders Greag, E. L. McMillen, Theodore Nieknick Jr., Sam Aills, Audrey Yonker, Joe Collius and Mrs. Hopper.

Dessert From The Freezer

The time to make use of your home freezer more than ever is when the weather turns hot. Summertime is also a good time to cut down on elaborate preparation for entertaining guests. For instance, a simple dessert luncheon before the afternoon of cards or chatter (or both) is a delightful and well accepted idea.

To use your freezer for such an occasion, prepare a dessert such as Fruit Pastry Squares on a cooling rack. Freeze unwrapped, then wrap with transparent saran in amounts suitable to your use. When "party" day comes, you can be cool and unharmed and will be assured of a pleasant relaxed time with your guests.

Fruit Pastry Squares

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1 package (8 ounce) cream cheese, room temperature
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tbsps. grated lemon rind
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 4 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1 1/2 cups thick apricot or prune filling or very thick orange marmalade
- Confectioner's sugar

Cream together the butter, cream cheese, sugar, lemon rind and salt. Add flour, a small amount at a time; mix well. Shape into a roll. Cut into thirds. Wrap each piece in saran; chill. Roll one portion of dough at a time on a lightly floured board, rolling dough into an oblong 6 1/2 inches wide and 12 1/2 inches long. Cut into eight 3-inch squares. Place 1 scant tablespoonful of filling in center of each square. Fold the 4 corners to center over filling and press crust together gently. Arrange 1 inch apart on baking sheet. Bake in slow oven (325°) until done, about 30 minutes. Remove from pan at once; cool on wire rack. Sprinkle tops with confectioner's sugar. Freeze. Wrap in saran, individually or in the amount desired for one meal. Store in freezer. Yield: 24 squares.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

In my younger days, I entered upon the editorship of a paper. A few years before that, a man resented something that was published so he entered the office and gave the editor a whipping, which was not too difficult as the visitor was huge. He was also reputed to be right handy with a gun.

A few months after I took the job, he walked in—the first time he had been there since his victory over my predecessor. He looked as though he thought he would be unwelcome. I knew why he was there because I had heard that his father had died during the night. Before the visitor could say anything, I said, "Let me express my sympathy."

Tears came in his eyes and he said, "Will you put something in the paper about my dad?"

"Of course—have a seat and tell me about his life."

After the paper came out, with a full column on the front page, we were friends from then on. He said, "I don't know how to thank you. If anybody ever gives you any trouble, just let me know."

I assured him he would be informed right away if such a situation should develop. Fortunately, it never did.

In fact there had been only one man that I felt worried about—and he was him.

It is an ironic thing that, although Bob Burns was one of the most popular entertainers of his day, he was never the subject of an article in a national magazine—nor has his life been the subject of a book—nor were his comical stories about his kinkoiks ever published in a volume. (Or at least an examination of reference books failed to disclose that any of these recognitions have been bestowed.)

Burns had an audience of millions over radio in the 1930's; he was the star of several motion picture comedies and his daily humor feature appeared in a large number of newspapers. People would chucklingly relate his latest story about a "cousin" or an "aunt."

After Will Rogers' death, Burns came the nearest to being his successor. (Of course, no one could actually take Will's place.)

Bob was the star for one night in Fort Worth in 1939, the last season that the original Casa Mañana was presented.

The huge cafe-theatre was packed when Burns came out and, in his Arkansas drawl and dialect, told a dozen hilarious stories—and even tooted one tune on his bazooka, which consisted of a funnalo and a length of pipe. For this appearance, Bob was paid—according to the report at the time—$1,000, and that was a lot of money in 1939.

America laughs at its comedians—and forgets them.

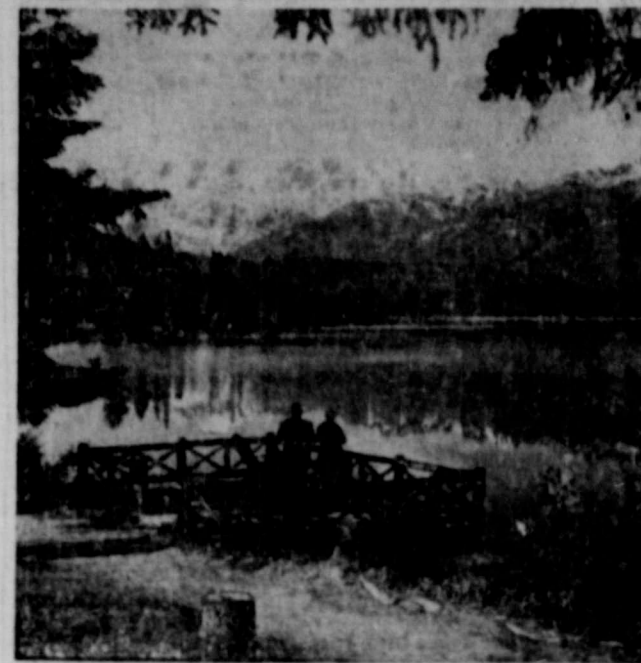

And that is pathos.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

If you suffer from "ten o'clock hunger," better revise your breakfast habits, State Health Department nutritionists advise. More and more people are falling into the habit of skimping breakfasting. Surveys show that two out of every nine children leave for school without breakfast, and four out of ten workers leave for work with nothing to eat.

"Ten o'clock hunger" is the expression nutritionists use to describe the body condition which comes with an inadequate breakfast. Victims usually feel weak and giddy in the morning. They may be hungry, yet have no taste for lunch. Or, if they are able to eat a big lunch, they will become unbearably sleepy by early afternoon.

Studies with volunteers of all ages have proved conclusively that poor breakfast habits are directly responsible for fatigue, dullness, irritability, and a general feeling of cussedness. Volunteers fed a good breakfast were more productive and alert, easier to get along with than their hungry counterparts.

Ten o'clock hunger therapy, nutritionists say, calls for the "patient" to eat a solid breakfast. What it should consist of is dependent on physical activity, age, sex, weight and other factors about which a physician can readily advise.

average man can vary, depending on how active he is, from 2400 to 4500 calories, according to findings of the National Research Council.

Here are some suggestions to meet minimum breakfast requirements for the average adult of relatively sedentary habits: Fruit or fruit juice for vitamin C, required for normal wound healing and to prevent scurvy, cereal for vitamin A which is essential in resisting infections, and vitamin B, insufficient quantities of which are responsible for the irritability and fatigue occasioned by ten o'clock hunger; bread or grain derivative such as rolls or pancakes for its mineral content; an egg or meat for protein; and a beverage.

It is a false idea that skipping breakfast is a good way to reduce. If anything, this highly injurious practice adds pounds. It works like this:

Skip breakfast and by noon you have lost your appetite or else are afraid to eat for fear of being groggy all afternoon. Then, when you eat the food your body has been demanding all day, now you go to bed and your supper is converted into fat rather PETRY REAPPOINTED—Herbert C. Petry, Jr. of Carrizo Springs, first man ever to receive two consecutive six-year appointments to the Texas Highway Commission, studies future plans for Texas highways after his reappointment by the Governor was confirmed by the Texas Senate. During the six years Petry has served on the Commission (since 1955) the Texas Highway System has undergone the greatest period of growth and development in its history.

When Moving Notify All Correspondents

The local Postmaster said today that those who change their mailing address must do more than notify their local post office if they expect to receive delivery of letters, magazines, and newspapers without delay or interruption. They should also give prompt notification to correspondents and publishers involved.

"Our experience has been," says the postmaster, "that people who move seldom overlook notifying the post office of their new address. This is not the case, however, when it comes to notifying correspondents and publishers. Failure to advise correspondents results in delayed delivery of important air mail and first-class letters. Failure to advise publishers of magazines and newspapers to which one subscribes causes delayed delivery, eventual non-delivery, and unnecessary forwarding charges."

Second-class matter, which includes most newspapers and magazines, is forwarded for a period of three months without charge from one local address to another. According to the postmaster the Postal Service has tried to make it as easy as possible for patrons to advise correspondents and publishers of address changes by having carriers leave with each new family an their route forms created especially for the purpose. Prompt notification on these forms contributes materially to better service and eliminates considerable unnecessary handling in the post office.

warding postage. Air and first-class mail is forwarded without additional charge, but magazines and newspapers are forwarded under the second-class transient rate of 2¢ for the first 2 ounces and 1¢ for each additional ounce or fraction of an ounce. Second-class matter which does not have a new address is consigned to waste after three months or is returned to the publisher if return postage is guaranteed. Additional information about change of address is immediately available by calling the U. S. Post office.
