The grand jury in its report stated that the county jail is now in excellent condition and that the prisoners were cared for in as much comfort as was possible in the old structure. The report also stated that sanitary conditions in the jail had been much improved.

WESTERN SENATORS LOSE; HIDES FREE

FIGHT FOR DUTY ON THEM LOST THROUGH THE ACTION OF THE PRESIDENT.

REDUCTION ON PRODUCTS

Duty on Boots, Shoes, Harness and All Finished Leather Cut Down. Program Settled.

Texas News Service Special.
Washington, D. C., July 24.—This afternoon it looks as if the labors of the western delegation had gone for naught and that hides will go on the free list, as desired by President Taft.

This is the substance of a report from the White House. The president is said to have approved the compromise leather schedule, which embraces provisions for free hides, with a cut of 10 per cent on boots, shoes and upper leather, a cut of 5 per cent on sole leather and of 10 per cent on harness.

At recess practically every member of the conference committee admitted that this would be the program.

News Forecast of the Coming Week.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—The wind-up of the extra session of congress and the departure of its members for their homes or vacation retreats will give to the national capital the proverbial dullness that is said to characterize ditch water. Nearly all of the high officials of the government from the president and his cabinet officers down to the heads and sub-heads of the various departments will be away from town. The president plans to spend the week quietly with his family at Beverly. Wednesday he will take an automobile trip to Boston to attend an informal luncheon of Yale graduates.

Interest will be added to the extra session of the Alabama legislature, which is to meet Tuesday to discuss some needed State legislation, by the fact that it will take up for ratification the proposed amendment to the constitution and be the first to indorse or reject the proposition of an income tax.

Republicans of Virginia will meet in convention in Newport News Wednesday to name candidates for governor and other officers to be voted for at the next State election. Unusual confidence on the part of the republicans of the Old Dominion and the interest which President Taft is reported to take in the situation there will attract more than ordinary attention to the convention.

Delegates representing all parts of the country will assemble Thursday at Atlantic City to discuss the general subject of employers' liability. The feature of the convention will be the starting of some plan for uniformity of State laws bearing upon employers' liability and the prevention, if possible, of legislative enactment by any State, in the future, that might conflict with the laws of another State.

The foreign field promises to furnish an abundance of interesting and important news items during the week. The Miners' Confederation of Great Britain will determine definitely whether or not there is to be a general strike of the coal miners. The situation is regarded as extremely critical. If a general strike is declared a million men will quit work and the result would be an almost complete paralysis of British industry.

The evacuation of the island of Crete by the international troops is fixed for Tuesday. The condition of affairs in the island is very unsettled and it is freely predicted that serious disturbances may follow the withdrawal of the troops.

The meeting of President Fallieres in Russia, which is to take place in the Cherbourg roads at the end of the week, will be made the occasion of a great naval review in which the fleets of both nations will take part. From Cherbourg the emperor will cross over to Cowes for a brief visit to King Edward.

Other events abroad that will attract more or less attention will be the opening of the imperial defense conference in London, the world conference of the Young Men's Christian Association, to be held at Barmen Elberfeld, Germany, and the celebration of the 55th anniversary of the founding of the University of Leipzig.

HOW WICHITA FALLS IS RANKED AS POSTOFFICE

There are only nineteen postoffices in this State which outrank the Wichita Falls postoffice in importance, if postmasters' salaries are to be accepted as a basis. All of these cities have from five thousand population on up more than this city.

The Wichita Falls postmaster is paid $2600 a year. In the same class are such cities as Cleburne, Corpus Christi, Gainesville, Greenville, San Angelo and others, all much larger than this city in point of population. In the $2,700 class are Abilene, Corsicana, McKinney, Palestine and Temple; in the $2,800 class, Denison and Paris; in the $2,900 class, Tyler; in the $3,000 class, Sherman and Amarillo; in the $3,200 class, Beaumont; $3,300, Waco and El Paso; $3,400, Austin and Galveston; $3,600, Fort Worth and San Antonio; $3,700, Houston; $5,000, Dallas.

TAFT AND DIAZ ARE TO MEET AT SAN ANTONIO

WICHITA RELICS TO SEATTLE EXPOSITION

PREHISTORIC BONES AND TEETH FOUND IN THIS COUNTY TO BE EXHIBITED.

TWO ENORMOUS MOLARS

Antediluvian Teeth Found By Kit Cowan to be Included in the Wichita Exhibit.

A case of prehistoric teeth and bones discovered at various times in this county will be sent to the Seattle exposition from this city by Secretary Gohlke of the Chamber of Commerce. The exhibit will include the teeth discovered some time ago by Kit Cowan, a contractor of this city, and the big bones recently found in the gravel pit.

The teeth found by Mr. Cowan are decided curiosities. There are two of them, weighing thirty-one pounds each and it would be hard to imagine an animal big enough to be proportioned to these molars.

The relics will be well packed in an exhibit case and sent to the Seattle exposition, where a placard will inform the curious not only where the bones were found, but that Wichita county is incidentally one of the best counties east of the Pacific ocean.

Considerable curiosity has been manifested by those viewing the bones as to what animals they belonged, but this question is yet unsettled in spite of the expert advice that has been given on the subject. It is now planned to send them to some authority who can throw some light on the subject. There is little doubt, however, that this section was once a favorite stamping-ground for the fauna in existence a few million years ago.

After being exhibited at Seattle, the relics will be sent to the Spokane County Fair, which is a leading event of the northwest.

FASHION.

Fair Eve devised a walking suit. Of jungle grass, soft and crimp; She thought it rather neat and cute. But Adam grunted "Rather Skimpy."

A cloak of palm leaves sought for miles. She made, and came to be admired; But Adam said, "The silly styles. You women wear just make me tired!"

She built herself a little hat. Of lilies (Eve was very clever), And asked Adam what he thought of that! And Adam blurted, "Well, I never!"

So next she placed upon her head. A feathered three-by-four creation. The little word that Adam said. Is barred from parlor conversation.

Yet Eve refused to be a dowd. And tried an autumn-tinted sash on. "I'll dress to please myself!" she vowed. "For what does Adam know of fashion?"

"What use to seek applause from him? He scoffs and says I cannot reason! Well, then, my law shall be my whip— And that shall change with every season!"

Since then, revolving cycles bring. The gayest fashions and the queerest. And Eve declares, "It's just the thing!"

While Adam murmurs, "Is it, dear-est?" —Arthur Gulteman in Woman's Home Companion.

Little Miss Maurine Smith returned home Thursday from Seymour.

Miss Minnie Troutman of Iowa Park is the guest of the Misses Haynes.

Miss Miller of Fort Worth, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Zook, for the past month, returned home Friday.

Mrs. J. W. Cummings and children of Bowie, who have been visiting Mrs. J. D. Avis, left for their home Friday.

Miss Frankie Doss, who has been the guest of Misses Katie Lou and Lillian Avis, returned to her home in Bowie Friday.

Children's Party.

Misses Myrtle and Mable Morris entertained a number of their little girl friends at their home, 1400 Austin avenue, Thursday evening from 6 to 8. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing all sorts of games. Dainty refreshments were served the following: Mary Lee, Louise and Sadie Tevis, Laura Hall, Louise Montgomery, Ethel Maude Jackson, Annie Lee, Ruby and Gretchen Avis, Wilma Fligo, Annetta Monroe, Marjorie and Ella Merle Mathis, Elizabeth Fry, Ruth Nolan, Emily Skeen, Blanche and Lela Mae Lawler, Ruth Crowell, Stella Bachman, Jewel Brown, Ruth Stayton, Georgia Maxwell, Eva Scott and Arnold Morris.

A number of young people were royally entertained at the home of P. C. Maricle Thursday evening, July 22, the entertainment being given in honor of Miss Mary Cockrell of Fort Worth. Throughout the evening until a reasonably late hour, games familiar to them all were played. A surprise in the form of a drawing contest was in store for the boys and girls when each was blind-folded and requested to draw a pig. After all had drawn, fine specimens of the hog race were exhibited on the table where all could see. A beautiful prize, which was given to the one who had the best drawing, fell to the lot of Miss Mary Orth. Music and refreshments were the remaining features of the entertainment, after which the young people heartily thanked the hostess for such an enjoyable evening and bade all good-night.

Those present were Blanche Hardy, Mary Orth, Norma Burnett, Annette Coffield, Mena Walter, Ruby Moore, Cora Lee Waggoner, Jesse Kerr, Earl Pain, Ervin Pain, Eustace Ingram, Alfred Carrigan and Mamie Bartlett.

With Miss Wyatt.

Miss Orveta Wyatt was hostess to a few friends Friday evening at her home, 701 Lamar avenue. After being delightfully welcomed, the guests were invited to play five hundred, which game they enjoyed for several hours. Refreshments of cream and cake were served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Little, Mr. and Mrs. Orlopp, Misses

Simpson, Stokes and Messrs. Roach, Smith, Stokes and Wadlington.

'Heart Club' Picnic.

Quite an enjoyable outing was had Tuesday by the 'Heart Club' at Lake Wichita. Fishing, boating and games were enjoyed by all. The party included Misses Ethel Frieze, Leta Morrow, Cathleen Coffield, Grace Nolan, Messrs. Ned Murray, Clarence Moore, Russell Jones, Gerald Poad, Harry Jourdan. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. C. W. Ziegler and Mrs. D. T. Ayers. A number of the club members were absent from the city.

Mrs. Gore, wife of the senator from Oklahoma, who has done so much for her blind husband, being, in fact, the inspiration of all his work and keeping thoroughly in touch with public affairs, is not in favor of the ballot for women. She knows so much about public affairs that she knows women would not profit by coming in contact with them. Miss Dolly Curtis, sister of the half-breed Senator Curtis of Kansas, is also an anti-suffragette. She is her brother's political agent and confidential secretary, getting the material for all his speeches.

Fraulein Emy Eichmorn, the grand-niece of Jean Louis Agassiz, the Harvard naturalist, lives at Merna in the Tyrol with her mother, who is a writer, and has discovered some wonderful works of art in a village in a stable of the blue nuns, which were once a chapel, but the fact had been forgotten. The paintings were greatly dilapidated, but that does not decrease the historic and artistic interest of the find.

Mrs. Martha P. Falconer, speaking at the Summer School of Philanthropy in Philadelphia the other day, said that practical homes and not hymn singing was what poor girls of the city need. She told of a house of refuge she visited. It was a beautiful house in the country, with marble halls and stately stairways and beautiful grounds. After supper the girls all went upstairs to their rooms, and the beautiful grounds might as well have not existed as far as they were concerned, as they were not allowed to walk in them.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gerberding is president of the Woman's League of Justice in San Francisco, with 2,000 members, and she says women are to take an active interest in the political campaign in that State this fall. Judging from all that has been published about the politics of San Francisco, it is about time something was done, and women may hold the key to the situation.

Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, has been elected president of the National Conference of Charities and Correction for 1910. This is the first time in the thirty-six years of the organization that a woman has been elected to fill the highest office. Miss Addams' election was unanimous.

With the completion of the car line the scene of many of Wichita's social activities promises to be shifted to the Lake and there is little doubt that all sorts of gaieties will be held there. At first, boating will be the chief attraction, but later, when the pavilion is completed, dancing will be weekly social features, according to the present plans of the younger set.

The hot weather has somewhat dampened the ardor of the Tennis Club members and the courts are not so popular as they were in the spring, although there are still a number of faithful ones out playing late in the evening. With the return of cooler weather, plans for the tournament are to be completed and tennis will then hold full sway for awhile.

Rumor has it that a young man from Oklahoma City is soon to carry away one of Wichita's fairest young ladies.

As a rendezvous for couples from nearby towns, the popularity of this city and quite a few of the weddings that have taken place here lately have been of young people from the surrounding localities. The railroads centering here make it an ideal place for such an affair and it is not at all uncommon for wedding parties from Grandfield, Archer City, Iowa Park and other adjacent towns to make this city their meeting place.

NEW BASEBALL RECORD.

This Team Has Been Undeclared for Fifteen Seasons.

Spokane, Wash., July 24.—Libby, a mining and lumber town in the north slope of the Cabinet mountains in the Northwestern part of Montana, northeast of here, is the home of a team of non-professional base ball players, which has gone through fifteen seasons without a single defeat. Experts declare there is not another club in the history of the game that can make such a showing. The Libby team has played against the best clubs in northern Idaho and western Montana, also traveling organizations. So far this season it has defeated clubs from Troy, Bonanza Ferry, Rexford, Whitefish and several other towns in Idaho and Montana. This is not to be taken to mean that the club is invincible or that it has not played against superior teams, but to indicate that its team work is as near perfection as human ingenuity can make it. The club does not possess one of the original nine of 1894, though the organization has been kept up and played a regular schedule every season since that time.

Rear Admiral Moore Retires.

Washington, July 24.—Today, after a career of more than 43 years of faithful and efficient service as an officer of the United States navy, Rear Admiral Edwin K. Moore, for some time past in command of the Portsmouth navy yard, was placed on the retired list of the navy on account of having reached the age limit of 62 years. His retirement causes numerous changes and promotions all along the line of the service. The vacancy in the grade of rear admiral is filled by the promotion of Capt. Thomas S. Phelps, commandant of the Mare Island navy yard, and Commander William S. Hogg is advanced to the rank of Captain. Rear Admiral Moore is succeeded at the Portsmouth navy yard by Captain Frank A. Wilner, until recently in command of the cruiser Pennsylvania.

Shame on Burkburnett.

A baseball team composed of niggers traveling with the Allen Minstrel company played the local team Saturday afternoon. The locals tried their best to make the score stand "seven" to "eleven," but the darkies allowed the 12th man to cross the plate in the last half of the eighth. The white boys wouldn't take their half of the ninth. The boys claim they didn't play the negroes on account of love for the colored race, but because they couldn't stand for African ball tossers to pass this way without lowering their flag.—Burkburnett Star.

Youngest Bishop to be Consecrated.

Boston, Mass., July 24.—Arrangements have been completed for an elaborate ceremony in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross tomorrow morning at the consecration of Bishop-elect Anderson to the office of auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Boston. Archbishop O'Connell will conduct the ceremonies, which will be open to the public. The new bishop, who is said to be the youngest in this country, was appointed by the Pope through Mgr. Falconio, the Papal delegate at Washington, last April.

New Ten Room Residence.

"Spend Wichita Falls money in Wichita Falls."

"Money spent away from home helps to build another city instead of your own."

"Why not help build your home city with home money?"

Be good to the newspaper reporter. Treat him on all occasions. Give him a square deal by placing confidence in him, and fear no danger of a betrayal of such trust. You can depend upon him to treat you fairly when you are on the square with him. To discharge his duty as a reporter he is compelled at various and sundry times to call upon the high as well as the low; the rich as well as the poor; the judge, colonel, captain, financier and hobo. There are many instances where he dreads to call upon people just as much as such people would have it appear they dread to see him come, but if he is a finished reporter he is a persistent cuss and will follow his duty's call no matter where it may lead.

When the reporter's duty leads him into your presence don't give him a frigid reception, it makes no difference how rich and important you feel, or how bad you have the outside world fooled. He is always ready to assume the role of the most humble and pretend to believe you the most important and faultless piece of humanity on the globe, if you will but treat him with the courtesy due. The ordinary reporter is a pretty good human nature judge, and when you swell up and assume the unapproachable air, he can size you up about as low as you should be sized, and while he fails to speak out the things he thinks and knows, he, nevertheless, thinks and knows. There is no man who has a deeper appreciation of the value of time to busy man than the newspaper reporter, and he is the last on earth to intrude to the point of becoming a bore. When he calls upon you seeking information for a story he is following a pursuit that is legitimate, one made necessary through your patronage, and criticism of the newspaper he represents. When he scents a story and the trail leads to you, don't frown upon him as though he were an unwelcome canine.

If there is any reason why the story the reporter is after should not go into print, in a way becoming to a gentleman, tell him about it. If it is shown to him that it is best for the moral, religious, political or commercial interests of the city that it be not published, you will find him ready to drop the trail and take up another assignment. If it should happen to be a story that might in some way reflect upon you should it be given to the world it is all the more to your interest to treat the pencil pusher with at least a small amount of the consideration he deserves. Be friendly to him and he will assume enough innocence to fill out a Sunday School class, and gulp down your lies as freely as a Dutchman does away with the fluid product of a brewery. You will find him possessed of ability enough to fix the matter up for print in some way that will satisfy the news craving world, and at the same time in a way that will do no injustice to you.

In short, all the reporter asks is that you show him the same courtesy and consideration when he calls upon you that you show him when you call upon him for a favor.—Abilene Reporter.

If your brain won't work right and you miss the snap, vim and energy that was once yours, you should take Prickly Ash Bitters. It cleanses the system and invigorates both body and brain. MATER-WALKER DRUG CO., Quality Druggists, Special Agents.

Senator H. Bascom Thomas of Sulphur Springs, he of expulsion fame, seems to be worrying over the probability of the people "forcing" him to enter the scrap for governor. But if he should be, we do not think he need worry over any possible danger of his being elected.—Glen Rose Herald.

If you ask Kemper about your electric work, he won't bore you by knocking some one else. Phones 515 and 622. 62-1f

Strange how these fellows who voted the prohibition ticket at home like to make Lufkin and take a day off occasionally, in order to rest up. Now, what is the matter with Jacksonville or Nacogdoches as rest places? They are nice towns—but, oh, how unwell!—Lufkin Tribune.

There is talk that the governor may call the legislature together again to remedy some defective legislation. If this is his purpose, he might as well keep them in session. In our immense volume of law, there can always be found some defect in some law.—Gordon Courier.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity
—Tonight and Sunday, partly cloudy weather.

"Dear Sufferer and Toller in the Flesh, we want and must have the Daily Times on our exchange list," is the substance of an appeal from the McKinney Courier-Gazette. The Times has just received the first copy of the Courier-Gazette, and it is certainly a bright, new and well edited paper. It is with pleasure that we place it on our X-list.

In going to Ireland and spurning the vaudeville stage, Ella Gingles does honor to every drop of her Irish blood. It is a morbid sort of theater-goer who must depend upon escapade heroines for his amusement.

A writer in the Weatherford Herald charges that Cecil Lyon kept beer at his headquarters at the encampment. We do not believe, though, that he kept it very long.

The election of Bill Davis of Fort Worth to the presidency of the Mayor's Association goes to support the old bromide that a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country.

It occurs to us that a leather belt judiciously applied would do more to prevent small boys attending Sunday ball games than a column article in a newspaper.

We are sure that if Senator Thomas insists upon being notified by the papers there are several of them who will print his speeches for twenty-five cents a line.

That Fort Worth burglar who stunned a telephone girl and then robbed her of two dollars is about to get into the Galveston class of thieves.

If butter is made from petroleum, what's the matter with using butter-milk to solve the cheaper fuel problem in Wichita Falls?

The question, "Who is the greatest living American" is again under discussion. The choice lies entirely between men like I.

We'll have to admit it. Those South Texas hurricanes have our North Texas cyclones skinned a country block.

It is to be hoped that Turkey's good roads movement will result less disastrously than Tarrant county's did.

Galveston probably feels like saying "We like the 'witching waves and balmy breezes, but O, you seawall!'"

The march of civilization goes on. The young Turks have organized a good roads movement.

As a remedy for the tariff mixup, we suggest that Taft sit down on Payne.

For cigars, fancy stationery, etc., go to Miller's drug store. 45-tfc

A Tiger in Wales.

Some years ago it was reported that a tiger had escaped from a traveling menagerie at Brecon, in Wales. Mangled sheep were said to mark its course across country to Llantridfan Wells, some farmers lost their dogs and on market days at Bullth, Brecon, Penybont and Llanmarrach the wild beast was the center of rumor. Country schools were closed because parents feared to let their children go along the roads, and bands of armed men sought to hunt the tiger down.

This state of terror lasted a week, though no person was found who had actually seen the tiger, but only people who "had heard that some one else," and so forth. Then the truth was hunted down and the origin of the whole affair discovered at the remote hamlet of Eberedw. One night the schoolmaster there, in dismissing the children, playfully had warned them not to loiter in going home lest a tiger should get them.

As Clear as Crystal.

An English firm whose shipment of goods was delayed in reaching Japan received the following communication from its newly appointed Japanese agent: "With regard to the matter of escaping the penalty for nondelivery of this—there is only one way to creep round same—by diplomat. We must make a stir or strike occurring in our factory. Of course big untrue. I place my presence on inclosed form of letter and believe this will avoid the trouble of penalty of same. As Mr. — is most religious and competent man, also heavily upright and godly, it fears me that useless to apply for his signature. Please therefore attach same at Yokohama office, making forgo. But no cause for fear of prison happenings, as this often happens by merchants of high integrity. But if this involves that your honor look mean and excessive awkward for business purpose. I think more better a little serpentine wisdom of polite manhood and thus found good business edifice." The firm knows as much now about the delay as it did before.

Not Complete.

"Sir," says the sleek looking agent, approaching the desk of the meek, meaching looking man and opening one of those folding thingamajigs showing styles of binding. "I believe I can interest you in this massive set of books containing the speeches of the world's great orators. Seventy volumes, $1 down and $1 a month until the price, $680, has been paid. This set of books gives you the most celebrated speeches of the greatest talkers the world has ever known, and"—

The Turtle's Cunning.

Although not credited with any high degree of intelligence, the turtle when about to deposit its eggs exhibits considerable cunning. It scoops out a hole, as if to prepare a repository for its eggs, but in order to delude the birds and other enemies the turtle throws the sand again into the hole, leaving the surface rough, and waddles off to another spot, where it repeats the process. Sometimes this is done three times, and eventually the eggs are laid in an excavation within a few yards of the sham nest, the surface being smoothed and flattened down. When hunting for the eggs the Queensland blacks probe the sand in the vicinity of one of the sham nests and are usually successful.—London Globe.

When the Dog Was Dressed.

"Oh, mamma," said little Jacky, running into the house, "our dog Tige is dressed awful funny!"

Cause For Tears.

"What's the matter, dear?" queried the mother of five-year-old Helen, who was crying as if her little heart would break. "What are you crying about?"

Overwhelmed.

"Your palchritude is peerless. You are an astounding aggregation of feminine faultlessness. Be mine!"

Might Have Been Much Worse.

"You admit that the audience howled and whistled through the whole three acts of your play, and you say it might have been worse. How could it?"

He who thinks he has little to learn learns little and teaches less.

Peanut Butter Sandwiches

The children, that is, the little ones, must have something in between meals, and as you probably do not care to give them jelly and jam sandwiches all the time, we suggest that you try some Peanut Butter for awhile.

You can give them all they want of that and it will not hurt them any, it will, in fact, make them strong and fat.

Peanut Butter can be used on so many different occasions and be so very pleasing and tasty that you ought to have it on hand all the time.

Oriole Peanut Butter is one of the best makes we have seen yet and it is only 12 1-2c for a small sized jar.

Is New Jersey a Free State?

Washington, N. J., July 24.—An election is to be held in this town Monday and the State of New Jersey threatens dire results if the election does not go as the State desires. The election is to determine whether the town shall spend $60,000 for the construction of a sewage disposal plant or not. The State says that if the town doesn't adopt the proposition it will at once bring suit against the town for polluting the Shabbacong creek. Individuals who are guilty will also be sued, according to a letter recently received by Mayor Smith from the State board.

Why the State should issue a threat in advance of the election is the question that puzzles the townspeople. They say if the State board wants to sue let it sue in the event of the improvement being turned down, but it is overstepping all bounds when it tries to influence the vote of the citizens in advance. It is the greatest case of coercion on a large scale, declare the prominent men of the town, that ever was the accompaniment of an election.

CAPTURED IN LAKE.

Soldier Who Killed Girl Led Pursuers A Hard Chase. Fort Leavenworth, Kan., July 24.—Pursued by 800 of his comrades, Private Charles O'Neil was captured in a lake last night five hours after he had shot to death Miss Minnie Sharben at an officer's home.

The man had previously threatened the life of Miss Sharben, who was a maid in the home of Captain Chas. N. Murphy, and had been arrested on order of Lieut. Hand, officer of the day, and had been taken to Capt. Murphy's house so that Miss Sharben could identify him. The young woman was called to the door to look at O'Neil. As she stepped into sight, O'Neil, with a lightning-like movement, drew a revolver and fired under Lieut. Hand's arm. Four bullets sped toward the young woman before the officer could wrest the weapon away.

One pierced her heart and another her brain, causing instant death. The other two went wild. O'Neil was hurled to the ground and disarmed.

Following the shooting O'Neil was placed in the guardhouse, from which, through some mistake, he was turned out with the other offenders to work about the post. Watching his opportunity he made a dash for liberty, escaping to the thick woods along Sheridan Drive.

A general alarm was at once sounded and two battalions, 800 men, were rushed out to search for him. The men formed in a long line and every foot of the country was searched. The soldiers were under orders to kill O'Neil if he showed signs of resistance.

Private William F. Oosthuyser, Troop F, Fifteenth Cavalry, saw the fugitive standing near the shores of Merritt Lake, on the reserve, obviously waiting to board an approaching trolley car. O'Neil ran, but was forced to jump into the lake by the cavalrymen. In the water to his chin, he tried in vain to drown himself and begged Oosthuyser to shoot him.

He was induced to leave the lake and under a heavy guard from Troop U, Ninth Cavalry, was escorted to the guardhouse of a revolver, to the guardhouse in his cell last night he begged pitiously for a knife, vowing that he will not live for trial. The captor has been promoted to a corporal. He is a veteran of the British-Boer war and interpreter for Gen. Dewett.

Miss Sharben came here four months ago. Her home was in Essex Junction, Vermont.

Miss Mary Campbell took dinner with Mrs. Cook last Sunday. Misses Ruth and Sallie Eskridge of Lake Creek are guests of Kathryn Clark for the week.

The interest in the meeting was so great that rather than have it stop thirteen teams were put into the minister's cotton field, so that he could be free to carry on the work. Services are held at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Many conversions are reported.

Color Line in Vermont.

Washington, July 24.—The War Department is disturbed over the antagonism shown by the people of Burlington and Winooski, Vt., to the negro troops which the department has ordered quartered at Fort Ethan Allen. There is already a detachment of negro soldiers at that post and the people of the two Vermont towns near the fort have drawn the color line on them in public places as surely as it was ever drawn in other parts of the country. In Burlington there is an agitation on foot for separate seats for whites and blacks on the trolley line. On learning that the department has ordered 1200 men of the Tenth cavalry Fort Ethan Allen, the Vermonters rose a negro regiment, to be quartered at to further protest, with the result that Vermont Congressmen have been interviewing Secretary of War Dickenson in the hope that the order may be changed.

One of the Vermont Representatives in Congress has sent to the War Department the following editorial comment from an old and conservative Burlington newspaper, as reflecting the sentiment of the people on the subject:

The decision of the War Department to quarter the Tenth Cavalry, all the troopers in which are negroes, in northern Vermont, makes a precedent in the disposition of black soldiers. It is the first time negro troops have been quartered in New England—the first time in fact that soldiers of color have been sent to any post east of the Mississippi.

If the Government officials, after their trouble with Brownsville and other posts, thought the extreme North would make no objection to the presence of so large a body of negroes, they were in error. A southern town could hardly be more up in arms than this city and Winooski are today.

The only satisfaction the Vermonters have been able to obtain from the War Department that the negro soldiers have to be taken care of somewhere and that the New England posts will have to share with the West and the South the harboring of this element of the army.

THIS IS MY 50TH BIRTHDAY.

Juan Vincente Gomez.

Juan Vincente Gomez, president of Venezuela, was born July 24, 1889. In his youth he devoted himself chiefly to agricultural pursuits, first in Venezuela and subsequently in Columbia, whither he was driven through political troubles. By untiring energy and intelligence he founded a great coffee plantation and accumulated a large fortune. Coming under the influence of Cipriano Castro, late dictator of Venezuela, and believing in his professions of patriotism, Gen. Gomez placed a large portion of his fortune at the former's disposal and was therefore one of the principal factors in the movement which brought Castro to the presidency. With the policy and greed of Castro brought Venezuela to the verge of ruin and plunged the country into serious conflict with foreign powers. Gomez turned against his former chief and with the flight of Castro to Europe the leaders of the revolutionary movement selected Gomez to succeed to the presidency.

Paris dressmakers are making foulard dresses with amazingly full skirts, some of them measuring ten yards around the hem, and they are actually gathered into the waist. But these gowns have not yet made their debut in New York, although a pronounced fullness is gradually becoming noticeable. A popular way of making the skirt of foulard dresses is with a deep plaited flounce, which rises to just below the hips and there joins the plain fitted upper portion of the skirt.

This upper part of the skirt may be cut all in one, with the rest of the dress, with long, uninterrupted line from neck to hip, or it may be broken by some arrangement of belt or girder, or trimming, simulating either at the waistline. But if the skirt flounce be killed the plaits must be pressed absolutely flat, although a gathered flounce is sometimes used. The deep skirt flounce is the entirely new and striking part of the design.

Little one-piece dresses of foulard, trimmed only with big, satin-covered buttons, and having turn-down collar and deep cuffs of lace or lingerie effect are worn much by young girls. They make delightfully cool and light little dresses to run about in and have the advantage over liness that they do not crush or soil so easily.

Every woman who intends to spend the hot months at some fashionable resort or at the country home of some friend, will need negligee attire to be worn in the privacy of her own room and one or more somewhat elaborate negligee gowns for wear in the evening, when she is enjoying the refreshing breezes on the piazza, surrounded by her feminine friends. In some of the better class shops one may pick up some charming negligees and boudoir gowns which are copied from French models, yet are not marked with prohibitive prices for the average pocket-book.

Some of the boudoir gowns displayed are difficult to distinguish from dinner gowns, so closely have the Greek drapery and tulle effects of the present mode been followed. There are lace tunics, falling full length over crepe de chine and satin slips, and there are gorgeous-satin mounted over lace-like underrobes.

FADS AND FASHIONS.

Convention's Decrees for This Summer Weather.

New York, July 24.—One of the most striking novelties of the week are charming-lingerie dresses made of two-toned mousseline de sole, one over the other, forming a delightful combination of colors. Sometimes the upper material is painted in water color, with flowers that tone in with the color scheme of the gown. These are quite the last cry. One of the most beautiful of these creations displayed at one of the most exclusive establishments was gray over white, while the bodice was heavily embroidered with silver. Such a gown is eminently satisfactory to wear during summer evenings when one sits or strolls upon the piazza of some fashionable summer hotel. Scarfs, too, are made to wear with these gowns and these are in chiffon in the two colors and bordered with the same trimming as that used upon the gown. They are really quite warm and are ample protection for any ordinary summer breeze.

French women continue to favor the tailor made of severe linen, but they make up for the severity of line by using the most costly materials and garnitures. Many of the new gowns and coats are so covered with ornaments that they look heavy, without really being so. In fact, everything is made as light as possible, even to the jet, which formerly used to add so much weight to a dress or coat.

Every day almost brings some interesting novelties. One of them is the stole used with wool or linen gowns, which goes around the skirt like a band, the skirt invariably falling in plaits below it. These stoles are covered with embroidery, and may be of the tone of the gown or in contrasting tone.

Another innovation is the half-length redingote of tucked mousseline de sole. Such a coat was seen the other day, made of black and worn over a black and white checked gown. The coat fastened at the side with a row of mother-of-pearl buttons running from the neck to the hem. At the waist it was held in by a black silk sash tied on the left side.

The princess tunic or cuirass has developed into many far-fetched phases since it first took the fashion world by storm last spring. They may be seen in the most wonderful variations and practically no limit is placed upon the ingenuity of the designers. Some of the designs are extremely odd, but their picturesqueness redeems them from being too extreme. Picturesqueness seems to be the principal aim of the designers and in many cases they succeed uncommonly well.

Paris dressmakers are making foulard dresses with amazingly full skirts, some of them measuring ten yards around the hem, and they are actually gathered into the waist. But these gowns have not yet made their debut in New York, although a pronounced fullness is gradually becoming noticeable. A popular way of making the skirt of foulard dresses is with a deep plaited flounce, which rises to just below the hips and there joins the plain fitted upper portion of the skirt.

This upper part of the skirt may be cut all in one, with the rest of the dress, with long, uninterrupted line from neck to hip, or it may be broken by some arrangement of belt or girder, or trimming, simulating either at the waistline. But if the skirt flounce be killed the plaits must be pressed absolutely flat, although a gathered flounce is sometimes used. The deep skirt flounce is the entirely new and striking part of the design.

Little one-piece dresses of foulard, trimmed only with big, satin-covered buttons, and having turn-down collar and deep cuffs of lace or lingerie effect are worn much by young girls. They make delightfully cool and light little dresses to run about in and have the advantage over liness that they do not crush or soil so easily.

Every woman who intends to spend the hot months at some fashionable resort or at the country home of some friend, will need negligee attire to be worn in the privacy of her own room and one or more somewhat elaborate negligee gowns for wear in the evening, when she is enjoying the refreshing breezes on the piazza, surrounded by her feminine friends. In some of the better class shops one may pick up some charming negligees and boudoir gowns which are copied from French models, yet are not marked with prohibitive prices for the average pocket-book.

Some of the boudoir gowns displayed are difficult to distinguish from dinner gowns, so closely have the Greek drapery and tulle effects of the present mode been followed. There are lace tunics, falling full length over crepe de chine and satin slips, and there are gorgeous-satin mounted over lace-like underrobes.

For Women and the Home.

Never chop suet in a hot place. Meat should be pierced while it is cooking.

Jelly cake will roll easier if the edges are pared off carefully.

Linen and muslin will not turn yellow if packed away without being starched.

Indoor exercises is beneficial to the health, but outdoor exercises is a great deal better.

A teaspoonful of lemon juice in the water will whiten rice and keep its kernels apart in boiling.

Never wash the face immediately before going to bed, as it renders the skin more liable to tan and sunburn.

Vacationists roaming through the country should make it a rule never to drink stagnant water. It is extremely dangerous.

Oil of Citronella, rubbed on the skin of the face and hands will keep mosquitoes and other bloodthirsty insects away until it is evaporated.

When going to the country or the seashore do not neglect to pack a tube of liquid courtplaster and a jar of carbolic vasoline with your things.

Never add vinegar to any starchy vegetable foods, like potatoes, sweet potatoes, macaroni, rice, chestnuts or the cereals. The acid will make them tough.

A few drops of tincture of benzoin in a bowl of water is an admirable tonic for the skin and the face. The benzoin whitens the skin and prevents it from wrinkling.

If the cups in which custard is to be cooked are buttered before the mixture is put in, it will be a great deal easier to clean them, after the cooking is done.

Sweet olive oil, applied once or twice a day will greatly improve and invigorate sallow and dead looking complexions and will help to eradicate the blackheads and other defects of the skin.

Worms in the soil around the roots of window plants may be disposed of by wetting the earth thoroughly with lime water, using about half a cup of lime to three quarts of barely tepid water.

Celery should be eaten frequently by persons who suffer from rheumatism or gout. It may be eaten fresh or cut in small pieces and boiled until tender in a little water as possible, with a little seasoning.

Japanese ware should be washed with a sponge dampened in warm water and dried immediately with a soft cloth. Obstinate spots can quickly be removed by rubbing them with a woolen cloth dipped in a little sweet oil.

Many people never blue their colored clothes in laundrying, but no matter what the color of the materials may be, it will surely come out brighter and fresher looking if a little blueing is added to the rinsing water or the starch.

When the summer girl's complexion has been exposed to the sun and she is burned, she should not wash her face in cold water, but in water as hot as she can bear it and in it should be dissolved a small quantity of ordinary baking soda or borax.

Notice to Water Consumers.

Those of our patrons who are in the habit of wasting water by allowing their hydrants to overflow and run water into the streets and gutters where it does no one good, but is a useless expense to the company, are hereby warned to cease their carelessness, and unless they do the company will be forced to place water meters where such waste of water is occurring. until you have used one. It is as great an improvement on a coal stove as the latter is on the old fashioned fire place. At the touch of a match it gives an intense heat just when you want it. Instantly controllable. No smoke, no smell, no coal to bring up, no ashes to carry out, no uneven temperature, no fallen cakes or pies, no delayed meal. Not necessary to change your nice dress; everything clean and tidy. We sometimes take in your old stove as part payment.
