WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, TUESDAY JULY 27, 1909

NUMBER 64

OKLAHOMA TOWNS HAVE WITHDRAWN

SEVERAL DESERT DISTRICT ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCIAL CLUBS OF SECTION.

MANY STILL BELONGING

Several New State Towns Retain Membership—Extensive Plans Being Made.

The work of the Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma Association of Commercial Clubs is now well organized and under way and advertisements setting forth the advantages of this section are appearing in many of the leading papers. To those who write here for information, each club is supposed to supply literature and the immigrant can decide which of the many locations he desires.

The association's work is being impeded but slightly by the withdrawal of a number of the Oklahoma members. Secretary Arnold of the Lawton club became imbued with the idea that Southwest Oklahoma ought to have an organization of her own and about eight other towns in that part of Oklahoma joined him, withdrawing from the joint association. A large number of Oklahoma members, however, remained with the first organization and several more are expected to join when the Northwestern's extension is completed.

Clarendon and Memphis are now seeking membership in the organization and will probably be admitted, although the western boundary of Childress county has been set as the western limit. It is probable that this will be changed so as to admit both of these enterprising little cities.

During the fall, Secretary Gohlke will increase the advertising and will give the towns publicity in every likely part of the union.

Airdome Proprietor Acquires a New Amusement House.

Manager Morris of the Airdome announces that he has leased the building formerly occupied by the "Folly" theater and that he will open a first-class amusement house there as soon as he can get it started. Mr. Morris has made good with amusement seekers here with the Airdome and if he keeps the Folly up to his present standards there will be no lack of good amusements here.

WICHITA FALLS' NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

GOHLKE HAD DREAM.

It Was a Bad One, But It Was Only a Dream.

Secretary Gohlke of the Chamber of Commerce states that he had a dream last night that almost amounted to a nightmare. He dreamed that a Wichita Falls man had been appointed on the Normal locating committee, but that in spite of that fact this city's claim had been thrown out at the very start. A dream is not supposed to come true unless one has it for three successive nights and Mr. Gohlke will be very careful not to have this dream again. It was only a dream.

In the district court yesterday, John Barber was found guilty of robbery and given five years in the penitentiary. Barber conducted his own case, employing no attorney. He had been indicted on several counts, the sentence being a cumulative one.

By Associated Press. Barcelona, Spain, July 27.—Violence here today followed the declaration of the general strike called as a protest against the Moroccan war. Strikers today stoned the cars and tore up the rails. Mounted police made several charges and wounded several men, hundreds of others being arrested. The streets are now deserted and most of the shops are closed.

Many deserting reservists are fleeing across the border and the situation is serious. The strikers are said to have cut the wires to Madrid. A captain, three gendarmes and eight strikers were killed in the fight today, and a large number wounded.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET.

Several Matters to Receive Attention This Afternoon. A special session of the school board will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock to attend to some matters in connection with the new high school and also to give attention to the question of a depository for the school funds. The latter question has been the subject of some little discussion recently.

IN REPLY TO TIMES, MOTHER SAYS DEVIL INSPIRED SUNDAY BASEBALL EDITORIAL

Editor Times—I would like to reply to what my little article in Friday's paper has brought forth. First came the advice, from the devil, of course, to mothers about using the strap if they would keep their small boys at home. It is not the small boys we mothers are worrying over; it is the grown boys that are led away by evil associations. Then that ever-present personage boasts of last Sunday's crowd at the ball park—right here let us pause to give even the devil his dues, he kept mighty still about the ladies, if such were present.

We mothers do the best we can with our boys while they are small, but the best of boys are enticed into disreputable company after they are grown. We all know that the Wichita boys who are playing on Sunday had good raising and good mothers who do not approve of their breaking the fourth commandment. We were all glad to see Brother Bush's sermon in print—glad the devil at the Times office does not edit the paper all by his lone self.

How many boys or men can truthfully say that their mothers approve of their going to Wichita's ball park on Sunday? If it is not the game—never, never. It is the betting, profanity and fourth-rate association in and around the grandstand.

When my own heart sickened over the first disobedience of my grown son, I begged to go with him when he insisted on going to a Sunday game. He quickly informed me that it was no place for a lady to go.

Yes, I would have gone—gone just the same as I would have into a burning building after him when he was an infant. I have just been talking to a neighbor's 16-year-old boy who has been once; his mother is in the beautiful beyond and she acknowledges that all her training was against such things and that he forgot her when he went.

Now, when a boy objects to his mother going with him to any place on earth where women are represented something is wrong, radically wrong. If it is not wrong, let us hear from some one who knows enough to sign his name to his article to tell us why. Asking for space as far away from the Times' devil as possible, I remain, your well wisher, A MOTHER.

The trouble seems to be, Mother, not that the boys are too big to be strapped, but that their earlier training was not emphasized, as we said before, with a judicious use of some utensil of chastisement. The use of the strap was merely a suggestion; a bed slat is also excellent and splendid results can be obtained with a flat-back hair brush. We cannot recommend a barrel stave—it is apt to bounce back on you, and does not afford a convenient grip. We speak from experience.

But, seriously, the Times must not be held responsible for Sunday baseball here and your indictment of that amusement feature does not seem in good order in its reference to this paper. There is no law to prohibit Sunday baseball here, and there certainly has been little to discourage it. Until such a law is enacted, the ball game, the bed slat and the strap must do their part.

If the officers, elected by the people, would do their duty, the Times sincerely believes that Sunday as well as week-day baseball games could be robbed of what "Mother" believes or says she believes is the attraction, which entices the boys to the baseball park. Suppose, "Mother," you just ease up a bit on the Times "devil" and go after the county officials. They can come nearer giving you relief than this paper, and the Times would really enjoy standing off at a distance and listen to the crack of your whip as you bring it down on the heels of the constituted authorities—from the county judge down to constable. They deserve it. Give it to 'em.

MARK BASSETT DIES.

FIRE DEPARTMENT NEWS OF INTEREST

CHIEF STAMPLI HAS PLAN FOR KEEPING DEPARTMENT SUPPLIED WITH SUITS.

FUND IS TO BE RAISED

Effort Will Be Made to Land the 1911 Firemen's Convention for Wichita Falls.

Chief Stampfli of the fire department hopes to secure the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce directors to his plan to make the firemen's labors less disagreeable. He wants to see the members of the department supplied with regular uniforms and other needed equipment and if the necessary funds can be raised the department will be satisfied in this respect. Mr. Stampfli will ask the Chamber of Commerce to give $25 quarterly, the city a like amount and will then try to raise an additional one hundred dollars among the business men. This amount, $150, coming in every three months, would enable the department to furnish uniforms and also keep the members' clothes clean after they have been through the mud and smoke at a fire. At present a fireman may have to answer a call in his best clothes, being almost certain to ruin them if the fire is a big one.

Wichita Falls is very much in line for the 1911 State Firemen's convention and if plans prosper, the fire fighters of the State will meet here year after next. Wichita Falls is conceded to be the most likely candidate for the convention and the local department will do all in its power to land the meeting. This would bring about a thousand firemen to this city.

The department is interested to learn that Stamford is also planning the purchase of an automobile fire engine for the protection of property there. If the neighboring city does purchase this modern equipment, local firemen will never rest until they have gone one better.

MEXICAN SITUATION NOW CRITICAL—AMERICANS HURT IN GUADALAJARA RIOT.

EXPECT MORE TROUBLE

Reyes Faction Develops Unexpected Strength and Diaz Orators are Roughly Handled.

By Associated Press. Guadalajara, Mex., July 27.—The first very serious anti-government outbreak that has yet occurred, came near resulting fatally here yesterday, several being wounded and one killed. Two Americans, whose names could not be learned, are hurt.

"Down with Diaz, we want Reyes," was the cry of the mob as they crowded around the Hotel Garcia, where the Diaz orators were staying. The police charged the crowd without result. When the speakers attempted to begin they were hissed and hooted, an occasional stone being thrown at them by way of emphasis. Order was finally restored.

About four hundred men took part in the riot and fully half of them are now in jail.

Texas News Service Special. El Paso, Tex., July 27.—There is much excitement in Ciudad Juarez today over the riots at Guadalajara yesterday. Reyes has a strong following at Juarez and a demonstration is expected tonight, though the officials are planning to forestall it. It is now declared openly that the movement is identifying itself with the revolutionary agitation.

COAL STRIKE FEARED.

Labor Troubles are Threatened in England.

London, Eng., July 27.—The industries of Great Britain are facing a serious situation and are looking forward with tremendous anxiety and misgivings to the decision which the morrow will bring. Is there to be a national strike of the coal miners, or not, that is the question of which the final decision is expected tomorrow, when the executive committee of the Miners' Confederation of Great Britain will meet to canvass the votes cast at the referendum.

About ten days ago, the Miners' Confederation, after a prolonged meeting, in which no decision could be reached, decided to submit the question as to whether or not a national strike should be declared in support of the Scottish miners, who are resisting a wage reduction of six pence per day to the vote of the million or more members of the confederation. The referendum was completed today and tomorrow, it is expected, the executive committee, having canvassed the vote, will announce the final decision.

It is rather a serious matter, for should the decision be in favor of a national strike, the complete stoppage of the work in the mines would entail practically the complete paralyzation of British industry. The crisis in the coal industry is due primarily to the passage last year of the so-called eight hour law. It was put into effect on the first day of the present month, except in the districts of Northumberland and Durham, in the neighborhood of the location of the present difficulty.

The questions at issue in South Wales are two. The colliery owners contend that the shortening of the hours of work will prevent many mines from being worked productively, unless the men consent to the two-shift system, under which two distinct batches of miners are engaged in the pit, each for eight hours, thus giving sixteen hours productive labor in all. To this the men are hostile, as they assert that, with the double shift, it is difficult to keep the mines clear of dangerous gases. The owners contend that the system is safer. A second demand to which the men take objection is that they should work sixty hours in the year over and above the eight hours per day, which is permitted by the law.

The present difficulty is not the first which has arisen under the new act. Just before it went into effect a general strike was threatened over the situation in Wales, where the same questions were at issue as are now endangering the industrial peace. The trouble in Wales, however, was settled by a compromise. The sixty-hour question was left open with the understanding that it was to be settled by a test case. With regard to the question of double shifts it was agreed that that method might be adopted, provided it can be done safely and the men do not object; but the owners agreed not to introduce the system without first having consulted their men.

The men employed in the coal mines of England, Scotland and Wales were working under an agreement which, under ordinary circumstances, would not have expired until March, 1910. But, when the new law was passed, the operators contended that it nullified the agreement, as it forced certain important alterations in working conditions. The result was that on June 1 of this year they formally notified the Miners' Confederation that they would terminate the agreement on the last day of June, the day before the new law becomes effective. This decision practically reopened the various questions of a more or less local nature, which would have remained dormant until the expiration of the general agreement in 1910, had it not been for the passage of the eight-hour law.

TAKES FIRST AUTO RIDE.

Man Century Old Takes Suggy-Wagon Spin.

St. Louis, July 27.—Archie McDondy of East St. Louis, who is 98 years old and expects to round out the century by drinking his daily toddy and eating all he wants, took his first ride in an automobile Monday afternoon. Tuesday he still felt as though he had passed through a grave danger safely, but, in spite of his fear of the "new-fangled thing," he enjoyed the ride.

The old man lives with a daughter, Mrs. Martha Hall, at 1215 Lincoln avenue. He has lived in East St. Louis for 20 years, but he knew the site of the city before the city existed. He used to cut cordwood out of the woods there in 1840.

"I'm a Democrat and I've always been one," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I started voting that ticket when Andrew Jackson ran for President and I've been voting that way ever since. Tom White, the postmaster at the stockyards, is a Republican, but he's a good friend of mine."

"He has an automobile and he wanted to take me to the polls last November to vote for Bryan, but I'd walked over and voted already. He said he would take me for a ride some day and I said maybe I'd go. I was not sure I could bring myself to risk one of those automobiles, though I'd seen several of them, and the people in them didn't seem to mind."

"When Mr. White rode up yesterday and asked me to go, I just concluded that I'd take him up and I went. I felt like I was riding on an air ship or a bird. I know they have paved streets now that they didn't use to have, but even that didn't explain the smoothness with which we traveled."

"I had to look over the side every once in a while to see if the wheels really were on the ground."

"I saw the first steamboat and locomotive and they were wonderful. I've ridden on trolley cars several times, but I don't like them. They're noisy and kind of scary and I don't see how electricity can make them go."

But the automobile is the most wonderful of them all. If the things are safe—and people tell me they are, though I can't see how they could be—I should think they could make airships or balloons or anything else they wanted to safe for traveling.

"I expect to live to be 100," he said, "but I don't think my time will be long after that. I have been able to get so old by simple living. I do go to bed early and get up early. My bedtime is 7:30 p. m. and I get up at 4:30 a. m. I have my meals regularly and eat whatever I want, but I don't think any body ought to eat fresh meat. Salt meat is better, with corn and beans and potatoes."

"I used to smoke, but I haven't for 25 years. It was pretty hard to quit, but I did it. I take a toddy every morning, and not a stinky one either. Sometimes when I'm not feeling well I have my daughter make me another one, but I never take more than three a day, although sometimes (and his eyes twinkled) I kind of pretend to feel worse than I really do to get another, toddy."

SECRETARIES INSTITUTE.

One to be Held in Fort Worth in August.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 27.—Commercial secretaries from all over the State will be here for the week beginning August 3, to attend the commercial secretaries institute that will be conducted by Prof. B. Batterson, associate editor of the Dry Goods Reporter. Mr. Batterson will hold daily round table conferences with the men on the various problems of city advancement, while W. C. Connor, General Freight Agent of the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad will deliver a paper on the effect of cities in their competition with each other.

Among the problems of the city that will be given prominence in the discussions are municipal growth, town publicity, protection and extension of securing new industries and commercial club activities. While Mr. Batterson will lead out in most of the discussions his talks will not be lectures and will form only the introductions to the body of the main discussions that will follow. Each secretary present will be expected to contribute something to the conference.

Along with the problems of general city promotion there will be had a consideration of questions of peculiar concern to particular cities. In view of the many commercial clubs that are being launched over the state this feature promises to be very valuable to the secretaries of these new organizations. After the institute is over Mr. Batterson will be at the service of any of the towns of the state that may need him for a few days in helping them over a particular problem or difficulty.

Prof. Batterson is one of the few men of the country who have made town promotion a science and have studied it in all its phases. He is a graduate of Northwestern University, where he did his major work in economics. He has later built up a large work in connection with the Dry Goods Reporter led him out in the field of city development where he has attained considerable success through his institutes. They have been held in Michigan. No institute of its kind has yet been held in Texas.

Attention, Voters.

Austin, Tex., July 24.—Statement from State Superintendent R. B. Cousins anent the pending constitutional amendments concerning the public free schools:

"There are several civic organizations that have taken up the adoption of these amendments, but it is found that the people generally have not given the amendments sufficient attention to insure their adoption. It is suggested that every man interested should not only go to the polls on Aug. 3, but that he should speak to his neighbor as well, asking him to vote for these amendments."

"The amendment to section 3 of Art. 7 of the Constitution, if adopted, will allow the formation of school districts along county lines, to take in part of two or more counties. This is desirable in many cases. There are now about forty independent school districts that were formed some time ago that are now embarrassed or destroyed by a recent decision of the supreme court in the Mertens case. These included a part of two or more counties. The adoption of this amendment will enable the people in these localities, and other similar to them, to form districts that will meet their needs. The adoption of these amendments will help those districts and will hurt no one. No possible danger or harm can result from an affirmative vote on this amendment. It should be adopted."

"Amendment to Art. 7 proposes to validate all bonds heretofore issued by those county line districts, about $3,500,000 in amount. These districts have borrowed money in good faith, and have constructed and equipped school houses with this money. Of course a majority of the people in each district desire to pay these just debts, but there are in almost every community a few people who for reasons satisfactory to themselves oppose the payment of this or any other indebtedness, public or private. These people can now go into the courts and prevent the enforcement of the collection of taxes to meet these obligations. This amendment attempts to legalize these debts and make them enforceable in the courts. The State school fund and other innocent purchasers hold these bonds, whose validity is endangered by recent court decisions based on constitutional grounds. As a matter of self-respect the people of Texas will adopt this amendment if they understand it."

"This is an appeal to all good citizens to go to the polls on August 3rd and vote for the amendment to Art. 7."

DOG ATE FACE POWDER.

Couldn't Get Anything Else to Live On.

Chicago, July 27.—How would you feel if all your folks went away to the exposition at Seattle and left you shut up in a bedroom with nothing to drink but a pitcher of water that happened to be on the washstand and a few small bottles of perfume, and nothing to eat but the corks out of bottles and a box of lady's face powder—how would you feel after two weeks of this sort of thing, especially if you were only a small pug dog with a bark so thin that none of the neighbors could hear you complain?

That's just what Schley asked Mrs. O. G. Stelle of Alton Tuesday, after he had drank another gallon of butter milk and devoured chops cooked to his order, with eggs and hot biscuits and things on the side. Schley thinks he has been mightily badly treated, and he demands a court of inquiry.

"You know, wanted to go to the exposition with my master, John Leverett, and Mrs. Leverett and Miss Leverett, but they said must stay at home after me, Mrs. Stelle, they told me. So when they went away two weeks ago Monday I felt sure of getting enough to eat and drink, anyhow, if I couldn't see the big Ex."

"I really don't know how I happened to get shut up in the bedroom. I suppose the folks must have been in a hurry to catch their train, and thought I was running around the yard and you would pick me up. Maybe I was taking a snooze on the couch. Anyhow, there I was left in that bedroom, with the door shut, and there I stayed for two weeks."

"I barked and barked, but the windows were shut tight, and nobody could hear me. My bark got thinner and thinner, and finally faded to a frazzle and died out altogether, as you know, for I couldn't bark a bit when I was found and rescued Monday afternoon."

How I did long for a bone to chew on! I ate up that face powder, but shucks! that's a lady's food. It didn't make any impression in my tummy. Those corks out of the perfume bottles weren't very much better. They were pretty light diet for a hungry dog."

"And I'm sure I'd have died ten days ago if that water had been poured out in the washbowl instead of being in the pitcher, for you know a without water. I couldn't drink it fast, 'way down in the pitched, so some of it was there till I had been shut up ten or twelve days, and I couldn't drink it till I grew thin enough to poke my head and shoulders far down in the pitcher. It was the pitcher's shape that saved my life. I'll be grateful to washstand pitchers as long as I live."

Mrs. Stelle, who was glad the dog was able to eat, told Schley it was all a dreadful mistake, and not mere neglect, that made him a prisoner for two weeks."

Extra Session in Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., July 27.—Pursuant to a call of Governor Comer the Alabama legislature met in extra session today. The main purpose of the session is to strengthen the prohibition laws. Recently the supreme court held that members of bona fide social clubs might keep liquor in lockers, and that no city or county might legislate against this right. Governor Comer believes that State laws can be enacted that will make even the possession of liquor illegal. Other matters with which the session will probably deal are child labor, municipal government by commission, impeachment of officers for failure to enforce laws, compulsory education, anti-gambling laws, pure food and drug laws, and a constitutional amendment providing for biennial sessions of the legislature.

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock Rev. R. R. Hamlin will preach at the First Christian church and all are cordially invited to attend. Rev. Hamlin has been called to take the pastorate of this church which is left vacant by the resignation of our Brother Bush, and will be in Wichita Falls only a short time to consider whether or not he will accept the call to this work.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity
—Tonight and Wednesday, unsettled weather.

A man just thumped by on crutches. Another was wheeled by in an invalid chair. A woman passed by on the other side of the street, a victim of the "great white plague." A deformed hunchback child went by the gate yesterday afternoon, swinging a basket and humming a popular air, and an old man, tottering and feeble, followed close behind the child. I saw on the street corner yesterday a beggar, in whose sightless eyes no light had ever shone and in another block sat the shriveled, shrunken wreck of a woman, blear-eyed, haggard and deformed, and a little boy whose spine is injured, forever precluding him from sharing in the sports and pleasures of the children, stopped to drop a coin in the out-stretched, pleading palm. All around us are the maimed, the halt, the blind, the palsied, the aged and the decrepit, and hundreds of thousands of the sound and well, possessed of all of our faculties, wanting for nothing, yet complaining, fussing and striving to get the best of our neighbors and friends in all kinds of trades, that we may accumulate money and property. Shame on us. Instead of complaining, we ought to consider it a reason for constant praise and thanksgiving that we are well, possessed of all of our faculties and members, and be happy to be able to make the way of the less fortunate a little easier as they stumble along the roads that lead to the great beyond.—Cleburne Enterprise.

Citizens of a Vermont town are protesting against the quartering of negro soldiers there. What possible objection can a town have to a few hundred angelic law-abiding negro soldiers, whose only offense consist of being continually drunk and shooting a white man every day or two?

In Virginia a woman shot her husband because he persisted in playing the gramophone; she has been arrested. We hope the neighbors will recognize their duty in the matter and see that the medal is presented with all due ceremony.

The Farmobile, or automobile plow, has been invented, but Wichita farmers do not need them when a pair of mules can pull a plow for a week at a time without ever hitting a snag.

Mass meetings are being held in England to protest against the visit of the Czar to that country. Striking evidence of the cordial relations existing.

A San Antonio man has given out a long letter in defense of prohibition. "And the devil came also, and went up to the altar with them that worshipped."

Senator Platt of New York says he feels good. He means physically, however, not morally.

LOCATING WEST TEXAS NORMAL

It is announced that the committee for the location of the West Texas Normal will meet in Fort Worth on August 9 to hear applications and consider proposals from towns and cities that desire the institution. Thereafter the board will visit such places as are regarded as eligible.

The location of this new educational institution will be an important event for the fortunate town, and the rivals may be expected to exert themselves to the utmost. It means 300 to 500 students a year, with an expenditure of $250 to $350 each, and that is no small item in local commerce. Also it means a valuable advertisement for accessibility, healthfulness and social surroundings, for the board will necessarily weigh these points in reaching a conclusion.

Because the institution will be worth so much to the town that wins it, the law properly provides that the committee "shall consider the bonus or donations offered, whether in houses, money, land or other valuable considerations." There is no impropriety in the State receiving a reasonable contribution in recognition of the large and permanent benefit which the location and maintenance of its institution will incidentally confer.

But the donation by no means should become the determining factor. A State institution should not be knocked down to the highest bidder. The law seeks to prevent an auction by providing "that the committee shall not sacrifice the permanent advantage of any location to the donation offered by any other place." Therein the location is the chief concern. Included in that comprehensive phrase are the geographical relation to the other normals and to the section of the State to be served, present and future distribution of population, railway accessibility, health, social and educational surroundings and the precise site in or adjacent to the town.

Locating boards in Texas have not always properly appraised "permanent advantage." At least subsequent experience has developed disadvantages which a more careful scrutiny and study of the situation might have discovered. It is impossible to correct such mistakes after they are once made. Therefore, the committee to locate the West Texas Normal should take ample time and should study very carefully the surroundings of each applicant.

It would be wise after due consideration, for the committee to nominate an approximate and reasonable bonus of money or land which would qualify a candidate and then decline to be influenced by any amount in excess of that sum. My this method every town that is in any wise worthy of the institution would be sure of having its real advantages properly considered and none would be embarrassed by having to raise an amount really beyond its means or beyond a fair contribution.

The committee should bear in mind that the majority of students attending a normal are unable to meet heavy expenses. Many of them are self-supporting young men and women, to whom the difference of only a few dollars in necessary expenses means much. Economical boarding conveniences and nearness of the boarding houses to the institution are items of great importance. So with other living expenses, not to mention the railway fares and connections.

It is important for the committee to consider also lights, water and other necessities which fall within the general classification of public utilities. At the time of location concessions of low rates may be secured which may become impossible later. And these are all points which the competing towns should be prepared to present for consideration.

But the main point is that the donation should not be permitted to outweigh permanent advantages. The State is too rich to need heavy toll from the people of any town, and the welfare, comfort and convenience of the student body for all the years to come should be the supreme consideration.

Happily for the board, there will be no difficulty in finding advantageous locations. The vexation will arise from having to choose one from among so many worthy and attractive applicants.—Fort Worth Record.

A Philadelphia man wanted to commit suicide, but kept putting it off until he died just in time to keep from hanging himself. Hard luck!

We have suggested this before and so many thought the idea an excellent one that we repeat it.

Instead of using meats for all the sandwiches that you make for your next picnic lunch try a few, say half of them, with jam. We venture that the jam sandwiches will be eaten first, at least the youngsters will want them first, last and all the time.

Gifts for the Cruiser Salem.

Salem, Mass., July 27.—As a feature of the old-home week celebration here there were presented this afternoon to the scout cruiser Salem a handsome silver service and a bronze seal of the city, both of which were paid for by popular subscription. The ceremony of presentation took place on the city common and was witnessed by thousands of spectators. Mayor Hurley made the presentation speech and Captain Key of the Salem accepted the gifts in behalf of the United States navy.

The silver service is of colonial design and consists of seventeen pieces. On the punch bowl is etched a reproduction of the custom house erected in Salem in 1817, and on the salver there is a reproduction of the frigate Essex, built by merchants of Salem at an expense of $95,000 and presented to the United States government.

Texas Farmers' Congress.

College Station, Tex., July 27.—The great annual gathering of Texas farmers, fruit growers, nut growers, nurserymen, horticulturalists, swine breeders, etc., opened here today and the town is crowded with delegates and visitors from all parts of the State. The various conventions are held in the extensive building of the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas, which is large enough to accommodate even the record crowd assembled this year. Most of the conventions will last through the week and for each an interesting and elaborate program has been arranged.

Among the speakers who have consented to address the various gatherings are some of the best known authorities on their respective subjects.

Horse Show at Long Branch.

Long Branch, N. J., July 27.—Long Branch, Elberton and the neighboring resorts displayed a lively interest in the opening of the sixteenth annual horse show this afternoon under the auspices of the Monmouth County Horse Show Association. For the next four days the Hollywood grounds will be the scene of a brilliant gathering from the social sets of New York, Philadelphia and other cities. Alfred Vanderbilt, Paul J. Sorg, Frank Gould and other owners of famous stables are among the exhibitors. Nearly $7,000 will be distributed by the association as prizes.

Friberg Items.

Friberg, Tex., July 27.—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Musgrave went to Seattle to attend the exposition and visit friends in other parts of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. William Willis, who have been visiting Mrs. Willis' sister, Mrs. W. E. Carey, and her father, Mr. Conover, went to Trinidad, Colorado, today for a month's visit.

Grandma Dunn has gone to Portland, Oregon, to visit her son.

Vaudeville.

And an exciting race at the Auditorium tonight. The patrons of the airdoms had a special treat last night. The dog race took the house by storm. Don't miss it tonight. 64-1t

AMUSEMENTS

BLACK PATTI.
Among the attractions that will visit Wichita Falls during the coming season is the "Black Patti Troubadours." It is to be remembered that Black Patti and her company made an enviable impression on Wichita theatergoers when they were here before.
This season they will present a new two-act comedy, the name of which has not been announced.

There is a keen interest manifested by the local amusement lovers in the forthcoming engagement of Joseph M.
Weber's much-heralded comedy drama, "The Climax," by Edward Locke, which is announced as one of the important attractions of the season in this city. "The Climax" is said to be the real thing of the year in a theatrical way, and comes highly endorsed by the critics of New York and other cities, wherever the play has been seen this season. The play has achieved a most brilliant triumph at Weber's theater, New York, where it is attracting large and delighted crowds. Never before in the history of New York theatricals has a play received such flattering comments from the dramatic critics of the metropolis as "The Climax," for without one dissenting voice they proclaimed it the play of the year. It is a drama which makes a particularly strong appeal to lovers of music, for the manner in which the music is blended into the play is perfectly delightful. Only four characters figure in the cast, and three of that number are professional musicians. The story is that of a young girl, fresh from the country, who has a splendid voice and operatic aspirations. She has a distant relative in New York with whom she goes to live and become his pupil.
The relative has a son, who is a composer and a pianist. He falls desperately in love with the girl. A young doctor from the girl's home, who is also in love with her tries to persuade her to abandon her musical career to marry him, but she refuses to give up her prospective stage career. She has a slight operation performed upon her throat, and the young doctor uses the power of mental suggestion so strongly that the girl imagines she has lost her voice; but she regains it again and everything ends happily. An excellent presenting cast will be seen in the different roles.

Notice to Water Consumers.
Those of our patrons who are in the habit of wasting water by allowing their hydrants to overflow and run water into the streets and gutters where it does no one good, but is a useless expense to the company, are hereby warned to cease their careles-ness, and unless they do the company will be forced to place water meters where such waste of water is occur-ing.

DIXIE DAY AT SEATTLE.

August 10th set apart for Southern Observance.
Seattle, July 27.—August 10th has been finally decided upon for Dixie Day at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition and the committee having the matter in charge is making strenuous efforts to have one of the most elaborate programs of the season fully arranged for that date.

Prominent speakers from all over the Southland have signified their determination to come and have graciously accepted the invitations extended them. Hon. Henry Watterson of the Courier-Journal is one among the most noted of the sons of the Sunny South who will delight the visitors with eloquent oratory on that day, and in addition to the orations, banquets and excursions with which the program fairly bristles, a chorus of 500 voices will be on hand to sing the old plantation songs and jubilee melodies so dear to the heart of every patriotic scion of the stock of Chivalry.

The date selected is particularly auspicious for the reason that August being one of the hottest and most unbearable months in the South, is as delightful as springtime in the Pacific Northwest, and just the season when the exposition will be in its zenith of glory from a scenic point of view. No section of the country will receive a heartier welcome nor be accorded a more generous reception than the sister states south of the imaginary line drawn by Messrs. Mason and Dixon.

Can't See the Point.

No, but we'll bet the chap up the stump can feel it.
And while maybe you cannot see the point of our argument when we say that you're likely to get stuck unless you buy lumber just as carefully as you would seed wheat, you're mighty likely to feel the effects of careless buying, when the stuff you get begins to warp and shrink.
We can sell you thoroughly dry, well-seasoned lumber and stuff elsewhere.

BLOUNT AND CO.

Politics and Politicians.

Gen. Harvey Hannab, member of the Tennessee railroad commission and former adjutant-general of that State, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. He is an ardent advocate of the strict enforcement of the prohibition law.

Congressman Frederick Lundia of the Seventh district of Illinois, who is being pushed forward for the Republican nomination for mayor of Chicago, went to the western metropolis as a Scandinavian immigrant and began his career as a newsboy.

Mrs. Mary Cooper of Mitchell County, Kansas, is probably the only woman in the country holding the office of probate judge. She was appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the death of her husband and made such a good official that she was re-elected.

Both the democrats and republicans of New York still appear to be up in the air in regard to mayoralty candidates. On the Democratic side Judge Dowling, Gerard and Gaynor and John A. Bensei are prominently mentioned. In connection with the republican nomination the names most frequently mentioned are William S. Bennett, John E. Hodges, Frederick W. Whitridge and Otto T. Bannard.

E. R. Williams, the Hopkins county blacksmith who was a candidate for governor of Texas last year, is to be a candidate again in the coming primary. To get the nomination he will have to run better than ten or twelve other candidates who have already entered the race. The field promises to be the largest that has ever contested for the office of chief executive in the lone Star State.

W. A. Blount, a prominent lawyer of Pensacola, has announced that he will be a candidate for United States Senator from Florida to succeed Senator Tallaferro, whose term will expire March 3, 1911.

Etiquette at Covent Garden.

Etiquette at Covent Garden is almost as strict as that which prevails in the servants' hall of a great mansion, says London M. A. P. No prima donna must be addressed by an inferior, and the presentation of bouquets is a delicate matter, regulated with due regard for the feelings of the ladies. The clique still prevails; but, as only the less eminent singers employ these "aids to success," nobody is ever deceived. The management knows nothing of these men, who are hired by the singers to go into the gallery and applaud their employers vociferously. The custom is very common on the continent, where it also takes the more objectionable form of hiring men to hiss rivals off the stage. Happily that sort of thing would not be tolerated in England, and so the clique is confined to the minor members of the company, who bring over with them an insatiable desire for applause and are so determined to get it that they leave nothing to chance. The claqueurs receive a fee of 2 shillings, in addition to the payment for their seats.

Couldn't Pass Him. Dr. Caleb Munn back in 1803 or 1804 was making a professional call one night at a road house, his horse and buggy standing outside, when a young fellow staggered out and mounted the horse and started off at a wild gallop, not noticing the wagon attached to the horse. After a time the young man realized that a wagon was following close in his rear, so he held in the steed and shouted:

"Go on past if you want to—if you're in such a hurry!"

Of course the rattling ceased, and nobody responded, and nothing was visible in the darkness, so he lashed the horse into a gallop, saying, "They'll never overtake us." The wagon clattered on behind up hill and down dale. When Dr. Munn overhauled him, having followed on a feet horse, the young fellow said:

"I was bound that man in the wagon should not pass, because he wouldn't when I offered to let him. I don't hear him now, and I guess he drove off the bridge."—Newark News.

Meal Monday. The students in the Scotch universities annually enjoy their "Meal Monday," but few of the undergraduates remember how the holiday was instituted. In faroff days, when learning was really nourished on "a little oatmeal," the students before leaving home for the universities provided themselves with a quantity of meal sufficient to make "halesome parritch" half through the session. By the end of January their "meal kists" had run low, and "a day off" was given in which the student was expected to journey halfway home, meeting at this point his parent or brother, who brought with him a second load of the simple diet. The holiday was fixed on a Monday so as to allow the undergraduate the benefit of the preceding Saturday. In times past the journeys would often extend to fifty or sixty miles. The modern student goes home for "Meal Monday," but he travels with a week end ticket and has no thought of the painful journeys of his ancestors.—Dundee Advertiser.

The Biggest Cracker. The "kasabi" torta (we get our word "tart" from torta) of Hispanic-America is the biggest regularly made cracker on earth. It is made from the kasabi root and lightly fired in cakes about the size of a small parasol.

A cracker for a hat—such indeed is sometimes the use made by the Latin peons of the kasabi torta when needing a temporary sunshade (sombbrero). The torta is always made bowl shaped so it can be balanced on the head without any particular effort—and provided no wind interferes. Rain, however, quickly soaks and collapses this singular edible headgear.—Baker's Weekly.

In Regular Order. A miner took his boots for repairs, but was not in a hurry to pay for them. After a few weeks had elapsed the shoemaker called and asked for the money.

The miner's wife answered the door, and on being told by the shoemaker that he had called for the money for the boots she shouted into the house and told her good man what was required.

"What!" exclaimed the miner. "He wants paying for repairing the boots! Tell him it's not his turn. Why, the man that made them hasn't got paid yet!"—London Scraps.

Fancy and Fact. I like to sit and dream in spring of jays and robins on the wing, of bees that hum and vines that cling, but when I commence my wife hunts up a lot of chores and makes me paint the kitchen doors and beat the rugs and wax the floors and calcimine the fence.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Detachable. One of the prettiest actresses in Paris was giving a tea one afternoon when her hairdresser was announced.

"My hairdresser, eh?" she said. "Well, show him into the boudoir and tell him to begin at once. I'll be with him in an hour."

His Reason. Daughter—Pa, why do you hang around the parlor while Mr. Sikes is calling on me? Father—I'm afraid you'll say something to him that'll make him a burden on me for the rest of my life.—Town and Country.

Cooking Up a Reason. Nan—I like a play with a stirring plot. Fan—That's the kind that thickens, isn't it?—Chicago Tribune.

ASHBY JAMES' MEMORY HONORED BY LOCAL BAR

A large number of the friends and associates of the late Ashby James met at the court house yesterday afternoon to do honor to his memory and some very appropriate, yet simple exercises were carried out by the members of the bar.

The committee which had been appointed to draw up suitable resolutions reported as follows:

'A. S. James was a member of the Wichita Falls bar from 1888 to 1894, at which time he moved to Austin.

'During his residence here he established for himself a fine reputation as a lawyer and was distinguished for his scholarly attainments, devotion to the interest of his clients, courteous and honorable in his deportment toward his brethren and public spirited as a citizen.

'We deplore his death, yet rejoice to know that as a Christian he was fully prepared for the last great summons.

'We tender our sympathy to his bereaved family and ask that this report be spread upon the minutes of the court and that the clerk be directed to send a copy to his family.

'ROBERT E. HUFF,
 'A. A. HUGHES,
 'L. H. MATHIS,
 Committee.

These resolutions were adopted without dissent. Addresses were made by Judge A. H. Carrigan, Judge George Miller, L. H. Mathis and J. T. Montgomery. These remarks were brief, but appropriate. Judge Carrigan and Mr. Montgomery spoke of Mr. James' ability as a lawyer, of his regard for the precepts of his profession and of his legal attainment. Judge Miller and Mr. Mathis spoke of him as a citizen, paying high tribute to him and telling of his many virtues.

The meeting was attended by a number of the older citizens who knew and admired Mr. James and who were glad of the opportunity to honor his memory.

There is a sentiment of sympathy and fellow sorrow in the human breast that goes out to our fellow man when grief or sorrow overwhelms them, when a friend or loved one is called away to return no more, and this is a natural sentiment, and it gives all the more credit to the humanity of man, in this money-loving, money-making age, to hear only expressions of sorrow and regret for the loss of a friend and sympathy for those who were more nearly related to the deceased one.

We were led into the above line of thought after reading a letter from Colonel John G. James to a friend in this city regarding the death of his brother, Ashby S. James, of Austin, who died in Austin July 3, 1909.

All of the older residents of this county remember him as one of the most active citizens of our struggling little town. He never failed with his means or influence to forward every right measure.

But what he is mostly and best remembered for is his kindly, genial nature, a kind word for the sorrowing, a hopeful word and a smile for the discouraged, substantial aid to the distressed, his open-handed generosity and sunny disposition will not be forgotten by the older residents of this city, all of whom knew and loved him.

And his friends will be glad to learn that for a long time prior to his death he was leading a devout Christian life and was untiring in his Christian work among his associates, in church and Sunday school. A good man and true friend is gone, and we know that his family and immediate relatives are not all who are distressed by his untimely death.

Instantly controllable. No smoke, no smell, no coal to bring up, no ashes to carry out, no uneven temperature, no fallen cakes or pies, no delayed meal. Not necessary to change your nice dress; everything clean and tidy. We sometimes take in your old stove as part payment.
