Austin, Tex., Aug. 10.—It now looks like the governor will call an extra session of the legislature this fall to attend to the penitentiary investigation matter as he main question, also to consider the income tax amendment to the constitution of the United States and to remedy the several defects which have been found to exist in the laws passed by the last legislature.

Governor Campbell is known to have the matter under careful consideration and there are persistent rumors that the session will be called.

Edward Hart of Fairfurlias and Walter Keating of Groesbeck are representing the shippers.

By Associated Press. Boston, Mass., Aug. 10.—In an interview in the Post today, Sergeant Todd, who was corporal of the guard on the night Lieutenant Sutton was shot, says he saw a man running in his shirt sleeves from a group of men. He heard an order to stop and then heard three or four revolver shots and saw the man who was running drop. When he ran over to him he saw it was Lieut.

tenant Sutton. He saw a hole in the man's forehead where there was a ragged entrance and a hole back of the left ear, where the bullet came out clean. Todd says he often wonders why he has never been placed on the stand.

By Associated Press. Annapolis, Md., Aug. 10.—When the court of inquiry investigating the death of Lieutenant Sutton opened today, there were fewer people present than on other recent days. It is understood Mrs. Parker, Lieutenant Sutton's sister, will be placed on the witness stand.

LOCATING COMMITTEE HEARS APPLICATIONS

Contestants for West Texas Normal Present Claims—Wichita Held Up as a Godless Sahara.

Special to the Times.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 10.—'Wicked Wichita' was the theme of a number of the addresses before the normal locating committee last evening and today and Wichita Falls was given more free advertising inside of a few hours than she could hope to get in a long time. Quite a few of the contestants showed that they regarded Wichita as a dangerous contestant by knocking her at every opportunity. Abilene started it and others said, 'Me, too.'

San Angelo, Ballinger and Wichita Falls are the only 'wet' towns out of the twenty-eight contestants and this fact has not been overlooked. Several speakers have pointed out how dreadful it would be for a man to have to send his boy or girl to a whiskey-ridden town, to say nothing of a town that allows Sunday baseball. It happens that Wichita has the last say and she may say a great deal.

Abilene, Amarillo, Ballinger, Big Springs and Cherokee were heard from yesterday afternoon and the others are being heard from this morning, with little chance of reaching Wichita Falls before this afternoon.

After a long parliamentary wrangle yesterday afternoon it was agreed that each contestant should have twenty minutes to present his claims, the talks to be made with only the committee-men and press representatives present. This was preceded by the filing of definite propositions, twenty-eight contestants making their sealed offers. Wichita Falls took little dish in the preliminary wrangle that preceded the agreement that was reached, the delegation saving its oratorical ammunition for a later hour.

Good nature characterized the sessions of the committee, Lieutenant Governor Davidson being in excellent humor and his ready wit served to offset the seriousness of the oratory that was fired into committee.

Abilene was the first to use the hammer on Wichita, her speakers informing the committee by innuendo that Wichita's water supply came from a mudhole that would dry up if it didn't rain frequently. The speaker from Cherokee, however, paid this city a nice compliment, which, considering that Cherokee is also a contestant, is much appreciated by the Wichita committee.

Facts and figures are before the committee galore and the committee-men are beginning to wish they had not come. It has been hard to hold some of the towns to twenty minutes each, but the call of time is promptly made and enforced and the flow of oratory stopped.

SECOND GAME OF FARMERSVILLE SERIES IS CAPTURED BY WICHITA

Wichita Falls, 5; Farmersville, 4. Timely hitting by the locals and untimely errors by the visitors caused the former to win the second game of the series yesterday afternoon in a spirited contest, making an even break in the series so far. Today's game will decide.

Wichita got a good start, lost it and then won out by a late rally in the eighth. Farmersville made but three errors, but each let in a score. The locals made one earned run, the first of the series, while the visitors have yet to get their first.

Collier and Morris were the opposing pitchers and their performances were very nearly equal, Collier being more effective in pinches. The Old Reliable pitched the game of his life and the victory is due in no small measure to him. Morris lasted well up to the eighth, when Wright replaced him, but too late.

Wichita scored two in the third after two were out. Collier walked and advanced on Guthrie's hit, both scoring on Weber's scorching drive to left. Farmersville took the lead in the sixth on two hits and three errors. Farree was safe on Bates' error, Morris and D. Naylor hit safe, scoring Farree. J. Naylor hit infield, Morris being put out at the plate, where he hurt his leg. Two infield errors let in two more scores before the side was retired. The lead was increased in the seventh, when Farree walked, Morris hit and Naylor walked, one being out. J. Naylor fanned, but Bates let Kelough's throw to catch Farree go through him and the latter scored.

Wichita cut the lead down in the seventh. Bates hit a clean double to left and went to third on Huff's sacrifice. Lewis was sent in to bat for Stegall and laid down an infield hit, upon which Bates tried to score and got in a chase. He would have been easily put out, but Naylor accommodated him by dropping the ball.

In the eighth business picked up. Guthrie hit for two sacks, getting his third hit, and Weber scored him with another double, going to third on Moore's out. Carson went out. Bates hit a dinky little infield fly that was mishandled and he came in with the winning run. Great things were expected of Farmersville in the ninth, but a prevented steal, and outfield fly, and a infield grounder did the work. Fast fielding prevented Farmersville making another score in the second, when the bases were full and two were out. A scorching grounder to Weber looked good for a safe one, but he handled it in time to kill the man at first. Carson held things down nicely in center, pulling down several dangerous ones. Bates did not put up his best game on third. The score: Farmersville . . . 000 003 100—4 6 2 Wichita Falls . . . 002 000 12x—5 6 4 Batteries—Morris, Wright, D. Naylor and J. Naylor; Collier and Kelough. Umpire—Jacoby.

FARMERSVILLE TOMORROW.

Another Game Has Been Added to the Series.

A fourth game has been added to the Farmersville series and the boys will play here again tomorrow, being followed by the Minco team, champions of Oklahoma. The Farmersville boys have made quite a hit with the fans here and they seem to be a gentlemanly, sportsmanlike bunch of players.

The Minco line has no rivals for the championship of Oklahoma and it would be quite a feather in Wichita's cap if she could defeat them. This afternoon's game promises to be one of the best of the series. Peaceful Harry Hotchkiss will pitch.

Texas News Service Special. The county commissioners are in monthly session and spent this morning checking over the election returns and in approving accounts. The tax rate question will be taken up this afternoon and the rate for 1909 probably fixed. An increase in the rate is expected on account of the voting of the jail bonds, but no material advance is looked for.

FALL DOWN SHAFT RESULTS IN DEATH

FRANK PLOSEK MEETS WITH FATAL ACCIDENT AT THE WICHITA MILL.

WAS ENTANGLED IN BELT

Unable to Extricate Himself in Time and Was Hurlled to the Floor Below.

Frank Plosek, aged 35 years, was hurled to his death yesterday afternoon down the elevator shaft of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company. He lived for four hours, but never regained consciousness.

There were no eye-witnesses to the accident, but it is believed that while Plosek was putting the belt on the passenger elevator pulley, he became tangled up with it in some way and was unable to extricate himself. He was hurled to the floor, about twenty-five feet below. He was discovered there a short time afterward by Acting Foreman Perry Hunter, who at once summoned medical aid. It was found that there had been a very serious concussion of the brain, although the skull was not crushed. The accident occurred about 4:30, death taking place at 8:16 last night. Plosek never regained consciousness.

He was about 35 years of age and is survived by a wife and three children, the oldest about 6 years of age. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the residence about half a mile across the river, the services being conducted by the Catholic priest. The deceased was formerly an employe of the Fort Worth and Denver here and is said to have been a very efficient and trustworthy workman.

MRS. CONSUMER.
 How the New Tariff Bill Will Hit Her.
 Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—The country is to be flooded from this time on with elaborate columns of statistics to prove that the new tariff law is probably the finest thing that ever happened to the American people and that it contains all the downward revision that heart could wish. The bewildering array of figures produced today by Chairman Payne is only an index of what is still to come when the campaign orators get busy.

But suppose Mrs. Consumer with a husband and family to look after and with a small income to do it with, sits down with a pencil and paper. Suppose she gets down to brass tacks on this same tariff bill and makes a note of what her family gets out of it. What will she find?
 So far as the family table is concerned, she knows the tariff on most things makes little difference. With the United States exporting enormous quantities of flour and meats, she cannot reasonably expect any action by congress to help or hurt the meat and bread bill. But there is sugar. A family of five uses on the average about four hundred pounds of sugar a year. It costs two cents a pound more in the United States than it does abroad—except in countries that levy an internal revenue tax on it. That is $8 a year for the family, and the Payne law lets the tariff tax stand. Lemons go up materially, for the duty is increased 50 per cent. If Mrs. Consumer will inquire of her grocer, she may find the price has already advanced.

Stockings and Cotton Clothes Go Up.
 Figs, dates, and pineapples, too, are advanced, while the duty is retained unchanged on the spices of common use. The question of clothing is a serious one to most families and Mrs. Consumer will discover that in most respects her household will be in a bad way under the new bill. Shoes will be of little better quality, but stockings will be decidedly more expensive. Stockings retailing at twenty-five cents a pair will pay a duty of about seven cents a pair. By the time this is passed along to the purchaser, the cost will probably be thirty-five cents a pair, except that the manufacturers may decide to furnish a cheaper grade for twenty-five cents. Mrs. Consumer, of course, buys quite a bit of cotton cloth for dresses for herself and her daughters in a year. But the New England friends of Mr. Aldrich really needed the money and while some of the mill owners had thoughtlessly testified that they were making good profits under the Dingley law, the senate boasted the rates and the house accepted the increases.

On a piece of plain white, mercerized cotton cloth selling at wholesale at fifteen and one-half cents a yard, the duty is kindly, but firmly advanced 80 per cent. Seven cents is added to the price instead of something less than four cents under the Dingley law. The wholesale price would be twenty-two and one-half cents instead of nineteen. If Mrs. Consumer prices a pretty piece of checked cotton cloth, mercerized, selling at fifteen cents abroad, to which a duty of five cents is added under the Dingley law, she will find that eight cents is to be added under the downward revision of Mr. Aldrich. A cotton dress retailing at $10 will pay a tribute of $2.25 to the New England manufacturers.

Tribute to the Woolen Trust.
 It will be with great satisfaction that Mrs. Consumer will observe that the woolen people did not insist on a further advance in duties that now run from 60 to 140 per cent. But when she understands the situation, she will not be so complacent. The Dingley, which is to continue unchanged on wool, allows such excessive protection that a woolen trust has been rapidly expanding in the last few years. Now it claims a control of about two-thirds of the worsted cloth production of the country, and it has notified the makers of ready-made clothing of a sharp advance in prices for the coming year. The clothing people believe the price of men's clothing is likely to go up about 120 million dollars—and Mrs. Consumer's family must bear a share of the advance.

Mrs. Consumer doubtless has noticed too, that woolen fabrics are carrying more cotton 'shoddy' and that they have deteriorated steadily in the last decade. She will learn that the reason is that the duty on the wools from which they are made and which are used in the making of cheap clothes is so high that the manufacturers are forced to use cotton and shoddy.

American sheep supply only wool enough to provide each person a suit of clothing every three years. The sheep growers insist upon keeping out all foreign wool possible, so the manufacturers are forced to use cotton and shoddy. To guard them against foreign competition from honestly made woolsens they are given high duties. Mrs. Consumer will discover that her woolen dress goods are almost doubled in cost—but not in value—by the tariff, that flannel underwear costs nearly twice what it might, and that she pays nearly two prices for her carpets and rugs.
 Her husband's $15 winter suit pays

$5.64 tariff tax. He could get a better suit for $10 if it was not for the tariff. His $15 winter overcoat pays the same rate.

Will It Never Cease?
 Mrs. Consumer's daughters like pretty hair ribbons and jewelry. Velvet ribbons are to carry a higher duty than ever before, while laces and flounces and the furbelows of which women are so fond are to continue to be taxed about half their value in duty, while jewelry is advanced sharply. Of course, silks are regarded as a luxury and so are supposed to be justly subject to the increased tariff. But Mrs. Consumer will not be pleased to learn that her chances for getting a good silk dress are slimmer than ever on account of the recent labors of Senator Aldrich. Silk goods may be materially advanced on account of the new law. Every household uses large quantities of linen in one shape or another. Mrs. Consumer may be gratified to learn that it isn't proposed to tax her linens more in most cases, though certain woven fabrics are advanced from 5 to 45 per cent.

Her hats and her daughter's are allowed to escape unchanged, though a heavy duty prevents possible foreign competition. The family probably will have to pay more for its perfumed soaps, while perfumery in general may be somewhat more expensive, and the tariff makers did what they could to discourage the use of cosmetics by advancing the duty from 50 to 60 per cent. A tax of 60 per cent on china service remains unchanged. As this is on the wholesale price, it means that a $7 set costs nearly $2 more than it needs to.

Pity the Gas Mantle Combine.
 As Mrs. Consumer's family probably uses gas mantels, she will be interested to learn that the gas mantle trust did not quite get all it asked in its efforts to put its competitors out of business. It controls the raw material in this country from which mantles are made, and it desired an advance in the duty on thorium nitrate, which makes the mantle glow, from 20 to 60 per cent. It got 40, so it is doubtful whether it can obtain a monopoly and put prices up to fifty cents a mantle, as they used to be before competition set in.

Possibly Mr. Consumer is planning to build a woodshed in his back yard. The lumber for it ought to be of a somewhat better quality as a result of the bill, and perhaps the price may be shaved just a trifle—though this isn't expected. But shingles may cost a trifle more, or the quality may not be quite so good, for the duty on them is to be nearly doubled. Also Mr. Consumer may find his next razor costing a little more and few cents added to the cost of his next watch.

Alas! We Can't Eat Iron Ore!
 If Mr. and Mrs. Consumer could serve iron ore and scrap iron for breakfast, and if they used various kinds of steel products in their sitting room they might find consolation in the bill. For it is doubtless a better law for manufacturers than the present act. Eventually some of the savings made by the manufacturers, may filter along and help out the consumer's family. But for the present it is pretty hard to see how Mr. and Mrs. Consumer are going to find what they began to hope for in the campaign—a reduction in the cost of living.

THE TONGUE.

It Appears That This Organ Can Be Eloquent Even When Silent.

From the observations made by a physiognomist it appears that the tongue when quite still can be as eloquent in giving its owner away as when it is wagging sixteen to the dozen. This is a hard fact for a silent man to swallow—in silence. His only remedy is to keep well so as to obviate the necessary injunction of the doctor to put his tongue out, for by this thrust out sign the doctor shall know him.

The tongue of the talker when obtruded inclines to the right side of the mouth, we are asked to believe, whereas the seldom used tongue gravitates to the left side. Orators, preachers and barristers are endowed with right sided tongues. Verbally parsimonious persons have left sided tongues.

Furthermore, "the tongue that shoots out straight without turning or wavering indicates a solid, reliable man of affairs." Tongues that turn up indicate impractical natures. A downward, drooping tongue belongs to a person born to poverty and a ready eye for the hopeless side of things.

The cruel tongue fattens and broadens when extended. The delicate speaking organ with curled up edges is the property of an imaginative and artistic being. When the tongue issues forth as if gripped in a dental vise it signifies a love of life more than ordinary.

Finally we are warned that the individual who thrusts forth his tongue to its extreme verge is a person to whom no secret should ever be confided, for he is an irresponsible chatterer.—London Chronicle.

HE WANTED A PARROT.

The Use to Which the Old Man Would Put the Green Bird.

We are all striving for two things—success and happiness. To get these many of us are struggling for a third—fortune. In striving to attain our desires many of us need a green parrot. In a little town in Iowa, in the midst of a great stretch of timber and meadow, a man built a castle. Something over $25,000 he spent in building a home. It was finished within with the finest polished woods. The foundation was of brownstone, the windows of French plate, and every detail was carried out in the best manner. He had grown to be an old man. He had always lived in a modest cottage of six rooms. This mansion had fifteen. On one side there was a magnificent stone arch over the paved drive that led up to the house. He had just completed showing a friend over the place and reached this point when the visitor exclaimed:

"Well, John, you ought to be happy. This is a magnificent home. Here is everything one could wish for."

"Was," replied the old man, who was a cattle buyer, "a fellow always wants something else."

"What on earth could you want?" was the query.

"A green parrot to hang up thar in the drive."

"Why a green parrot?"

"So every morning afore I drive out he would say, 'John, you're a darn fool.'"—Cleveland Press.

Couldn't Turn It.

The eye of little Willie's teacher was sad and sorry, for, notwithstanding that he was her favorite pupil, he stood before her convicted of the heinous charge of a theft of candy from a fellow pupil. It was a first offense, however, and she did not desire to inflict corporal punishment. A moral lecture, she thought, would fit the case.

"Bear in mind, Willie," she concluded, "that these temptations can be resisted if determination is used. Always turn a deaf ear to temptation."

Little Willie's lip trembled.

"But, teacher," he answered, "I ain't got a deaf ear."

Making Hubby Appreciative.

A doctor tells of a note he received from a woman saying that her husband, who was about to make him a professional call, found constant fault with the dinner she prepared for him. She appealed to the physician for aid. The doctor examined his patient, who had a slight attack of indigestion, and told him to cut out luncheons, to eat nothing but a slice of toast and a cup of tea. The scheme worked excellently. Of course hubby returns home in the evening, eats everything in sight and votes his wife's cooking even better than mother used to make.—Boston Record.

Thrifty.

A Scotsman and his wife were traveling from Leth to London by boat. When off the Yorkshire coast a great storm arose, and the vessel had several narrow escapes from foundering.

"Oh, Sandy," moaned his wife, "I'm na afeard o' deeth, but I dinna care to dee at sea."

"Dinna think o' deeth yet," answered Sandy; "but when ye do, ye'd better be drowned at sea than anywhere else."

"An' why, Sandy?" asked his wife.

"Why?" exclaimed Sandy. "Because ye wouldna cost sas muckle to bury."

Good Advice.

"Young man," said the boss, "come hither and listen." He approached. "When you've made a mistake forget it and go on to the next job. Don't pester around all day adding a lot of finishing touches."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

There never was a day that did not bring its own opportunity for doing good that never could have been done before and never can be again.—W. H. Burleigh.

G. A. R. Enjoys Itself at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 10.—Today ushered in the forty-third national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, with its several affiliated bodies, and from all indications the gathering will go on record as one of the largest and most successful held in recent years. Up to noon today the veterans and other visitors continued to pour into the city and it is conservatively estimated that at least 40,000 strangers are here.

The arrangements for the week were completed this morning. Tonight the formal opening of the encampment is to take place in the great Tabernacle, where 10,000 persons will assemble to listen the welcoming addresses by Gov. Spry, Mayor Pratt and others and to responses by Commander-in-Chief Novius and other officers and prominent members of the Grand Army. Vocal and instrumental music, with performances on the great organ by Prof. John J. McClellan, are to be features of the program.

In connection with the meetings of the Grand Army, there will be held during the week the annual meetings of the National Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., National Daughters of Veterans, National Ladies Aid Society, National Army Nurses' Association, National Association of Naval Veterans, and the National Association of Ex-Prisoners of War.

The meetings and reunions of these various organizations will continue until Saturday. The feature of the week will be the parade of veterans tomorrow, when it is expected that from twenty to thirty thousand men will be in line. Buildings along the line of march are extensively and handsomely decorated for the occasion.

The camp fires are to be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights in the tabernacle, where addresses will be given by men of national prominence. Thursday morning will be devoted to business sessions of all the organizations. The last two days of the week have been selected as days for special trips. On each of these days there will be special excursions to the mining camps, to Tintic, Bingham, Park City, the great salt beds, Ogden, Provo, Green River, Saltair on the Great Salt Lake, and other points of scenic interest.

A country-wide movement to organize the 1,500,000 railroad employees of the United States into political clubs has been inaugurated in Cleveland, Ohio. According to the originators of the plan organizations will be formed in every important railway center in the country for the purpose of electing men to the various State legislatures and to congress who will further legislation looking to the betterment of the railroad men and work to repeal any that is adverse to their interests. Although the plans for extension are still in a preliminary stage, it is said that some of the leading railroad companies are behind the movement.

WEATHER FORECAST.
For Wichita Falls and Vicinity
—Tonight and Wednesday, partly cloudy weather.

Perhaps the Times deserves an occasional roast from our pulpit orators, but what a waste of ammunition, considering that the shot was fired above the heads of such an abundance of larger game within close range.—Wichita Falls Times.

Now why should you try to slip an innuendo into the congregation? It is the newspaper person's place to be criticised, and it is his duty to fatten on it. If you are not popular with some of your critics, let it go at that. Do not, we beseech you, play for even by insinuating that there are some closer to the critics who are more vulnerable to criticism than yourself. Take your punishment.—Dallas News.

State Press is right. The success of a paper depends largely on the number of people who are constantly and everlastingly "cussing," or to use a milder term, "roasting" it. There is no better evidence of this than the News itself, which has certainly fattened on its "roasts." In the opinion of many close observers, the old Dal.-Gal. would much rather print and give prominent position to a column roast of itself than a half page of complimentary articles throwing a few bouquets in its direction. Now, 'fess up, State Press, hasn't the Times stated the case correctly?

Reports from Fort Worth indicate that Wichita Falls stands a better chance of landing the West Texas Normal than any of the other towns. There are twenty-seven committees representing as many different towns, and twenty-six of them are fighting against Wichita Falls. Our committee, having nothing but the pale, blue sky for a limit, should be equal to any emergency that may arise and any promise or pledge made by that committee will be carried out, it matters not what the obligation incurred might be.

A letter from Fort Worth advises us that we are well qualified to talk Texas and duly authorized to develop the State, also that we have been enrolled as a member of the Texas Prosperity Club. We shall exercise our prerogative at every opportunity.

The Northern creameries are trying to decide what to do with their surplus buttermilk, but until the dry weather causes Honey Grove to fly the distress signal, they can feed it to the hogs.

The annual report of the agricultural commissioner is just out, only seven months late. Better late than never, and besides they had a lot of speeches to make, you know.

Admitting in advance that it isn't any of our business, we would like to know why something hasn't been done toward using those paving bonds.

It was certainly a relief to wake up this morning and find that our bank deposits were now guaranteed.

Governor Frank W. Benson of Oregon is not especially fond of his office as chief executive and will not be a candidate for renomination. He desires to return to the office of secretary of state, which he filled prior to his elevation to the gubernatorial chair to succeed Governor Chamberlain, who was elected to the United States senate.

James R. Garfield, son of the late President Garfield, may be nominated by the republicans of Ohio to make the race against Governor Harmon, whom the democrats will probably nominate for a second term.

THE SAWMILL'S BOOKS.

They Needed Not an Auditor, but a Mathematical Carpenter.

Biffins froze me with a stare. "I remember," he went on, calmly ignoring my interruption, "one time when I was hired to keep books for a saw-mill way up north. 'Twas six days by log wagon from ever' place except in the infernal regions, the same bein' a quarter of a mile away, straight down. The durned simpleton they sent down to Nigger Wool settlement after me had so much business with a roulette dealer that he forgot to tell me to get some office supplies, so when we got to camp I found that the principal equipment of my palatial 6 by 8 business apartment consisted of three lumber crayons, slightly shop worn, and a last year's almanac. I got some smooth pine boards and kept my books on them with chalk."

"How did it work?" I asked, interested in spite of myself.
"Like a charm," grinned Biffins, "until the foreman of gang I got on a drunk one night an' slept in the office an' used up fourteen pages of the general ledger fer kindlin' wood the next mornin'." The company sent up an auditor to check over my books, but he went back plumb disgusted. Told 'em they didn't need an auditor—what they wanted was a carpenter who was handy at figgers. An' that reminds me"—
—Bookkeeper.

FLOATING STORES.

Merchandise Steamers of the Muskoka Lake Country in Ontario.

Among the interesting features of life in the Muskoka lake country, in Ontario, are the floating stores. A good sized steam vessel fitted out with every imaginable item of merchandise that might be required makes a tour of an assigned chain of lakes once each week. On a certain hour of a certain day the boat is expected at the different resorts and summer homes, and enough merchandise must be bought at each to tide over until the next trip of the floating store.

Upon stepping on board the store boats, says a writer in Popular Mechanics, the purchaser approaches a counter with scales and cash drawer, as in any other kind of store. Behind the counter are shelves, on which are displayed such articles as may tempt the eye. Behind these shelves is the entrance to the storeroom and hold, in which more merchandise is stored. Each article has its place, and the storekeeper can find it in a moment.

Sometimes isolated farms on the lakes are not worth stopping at every trip, so a flag is flown when stores are desired. The store vessel drops anchor when the signal flag is flown, and some member of the family rows out and makes the purchases.

Engraved Gems of the Ancients.

Engraved gems are among the most interesting objects of art inherited by us from the ancients. Though many of the cameos and intaglios were engraved on precious stones over 2,000 years ago, they are still as clear and fine as if they were cut yesterday. The designs engraved on these stones indicate that the old Greeks and Romans regarded them as charms against accident or misfortune. This superstition generally took the form of a fondness for representation of certain animals. Sailors affected the dolphin because it was believed to be the mariner's friend. Women, so far as fishes were concerned, preferred the representation of the prolific aringa of the Adriatic, which was a symbol of fruitfulness because of the great number of its eggs. The ant was worn as an emblem of industry. By the frog was indicated the idea of resurrection, because that interesting batrachian renews its youth each spring by shedding its old skin.

Pertaining to Fish.

Blessings on thee, little man! Go a-fishing when you can. Never mind the teacher's rule not to run away from school. Take your bait and alder pole and then hunt the deepest hole where the wary troutlets hide by the canyon streamlet's side. You'll get licked at home, of course, and you'll suffer great remorse, but when daddy sees your string he'll gasp and say, "By jing!" And his rod and reel he'll snatch and start out to make a catch when your jacket he doth tan. Blessings on you, little man!—Los Angeles Express.

Clothes and the Man.

Man is in some sort a slave to his clothes, and there are many men who dislike wearing the same clothes on two consecutive days, more particularly the necktie. For the first two or three things you look at when you meet a man are his eyes and his necktie. And there is a sort of underlying consciousness as you face the morning world that your tie must be straight and clean and new. But to this end you must buy the cheap tie and throw it away with your sins before going to bed.—London Chronicle.

A Curiosity.

"What in the world have you got that bill framed up there for?" we asked.
"Oh, that," sighed the billionaire, "is the only dollar I ever earned!"
We understood.—Puck.

All Had Been Used.

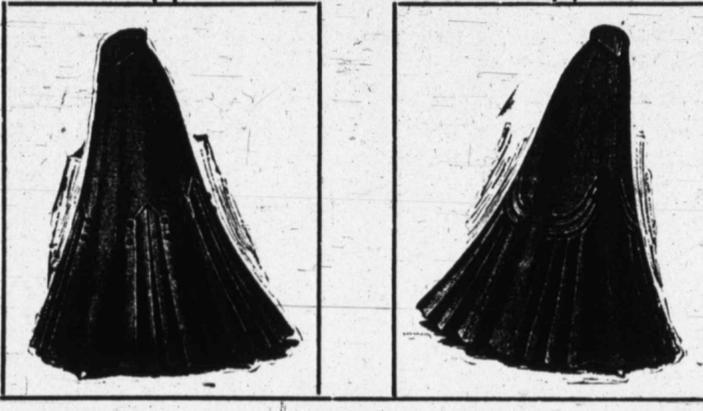

"So Plunksville's exposition is off?"
"Yep."
"And why?"
"We couldn't think up no new name for a midway."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Most people live poor to die rich. It is much wiser to live rich and to die poor.—Housaye.

Thick Rich Soups To Your Order

Perhaps you are one of the few people who still have a little suspicion about canned soups. It is a good idea to be very careful what you eat, in fact, you can't be too careful, but you know from long experience that canned fruits and vegetables are not only perfectly safe, but the best brands are of much better quality than most of the fresh material you can get and what is more the cost is really less for canned goods. This is also true of Heinz's canned soups. You will find it quite difficult to duplicate the wholesomeness and excellent flavor of these soups, of which we have Heinz's Tomato Soup at 12 1/2c, and Campbell's assorted soups at 12 1/2c. They come in about 14 ounce cans and if too thick can be thinned by adding a little water. Better get a half dozen assorted cans.

THE STEIN OF TEA.

'O, waiter, go and bring a stein,
A foaming, frothy stein,
A cooling, dewy stein,
Go bring a stein of tea.'
The waiter's smile was soothing and benign,
But nary a word said he. (But he smiled.)

The 'scursionist sat waiting in the sand,
The surf-kissed golden sand,
The dry and dusty sand,
That lay beside the sea.
The 'scursionist was very thirsty and He waited for the tea. (And he got it.)

O, is it tea or booze or foaming beer,
A drink of Texas beer,
Of soothing, gurgling beer,
Within that clinking stein?
He took a drink and thought it tasted queer,
But the waiter smiled benign. (He could afford to.)

He threw that stein into the rolling sea,
The sparkling, surging sea,
The dancing, dazzling sea,
The waiter smiled benign.
But beer by any other name is naught
but tea,

When you call for a Sunday stein.
(Even in Galveston, Texas.)

'This is My 75th Birthday.'

Horace White, noted as an editor and as an authority on finance, was born in Colebrook, N. H., August 16, 1834. In his youth he removed with his family to Wisconsin and his education was received at Beloit college.
He began journalism in Chicago in 1854. When the Kansas war broke out two years later he was appointed assistant secretary to the National Kansas committee, whose headquarters were in Chicago. In 1858 he accompanied Abraham Lincoln in his political campaign against Stephen A. Douglas for the office of United States senator, and the notable features of this campaign were given to the public chiefly through Mr. White's letters to the Chicago press. After a term as a Washington correspondent during the civil war period he became part owner and chief editor of the Chicago Tribune with which paper he remained until 1874, when he removed to New York.
In the latter city he became associated with Henry Villard in Western railroad enterprises and in 1881, when Mr. Villard assumed ownership of the New York Evening Post, Mr. White was made chief editor. He remained in that position until 1903, when he retired from active business. Recently Mr. White headed the New York commission appointed by Governor Hughes to investigate the Wall street exchanges.

To Act on Railroad Merger.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Stockholders in the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway company and of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company held special meetings today, the former in this city and the latter in Baltimore, to vote on the acceptance or rejection of the plan of J. P. Morgan for the reorganization of the C. H. and D. and its merger with the Baltimore and Ohio road. Already the terms of the merger have been agreed upon by the directors of the two roads and only the approval of the stockholders remains to consummate the deal. Some talk of opposition on the part of C. H. and D. stockholders has been heard, but it is not believed likely that the opposition will be strong enough to defeat the proposed reorganization and merger.

Texas Postmasters in Session.

Waco, Tex., Aug. 10.—The city of Waco is playing host for three days to the largest gathering of postmasters ever assembled in the southwest. The occasion is a joint annual convention of the Texas Postmasters' Association and the Texas Postmasters' League, the latter consisting of postmasters of the fourth class offices. The program provides for addresses by C. P. Grand-field, first assistant postmaster general, and other representatives of the department at Washington, together with discussions on a wide range of subjects relating to the improvement of the postal service and the duties of the postmaster.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

It is impossible for the Times to get display ads in the paper when they are not in the office by 9 a. m. Patrons

Dixie Day at Seattle Fair.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 10.—As a compliment to the Southerners who had treated the accredited representatives of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition visiting the Jamestown Exposition with such delightful hospitality, today was set aside as 'Dixie Day.'
Southerners from all parts of the Pacific Northwest gathered in the exposition grounds today and greatly swelled the crowd of visitors. There was no particular pomp or ceremony connected with Dixie Day, but it was, nevertheless, voted a genuine success. In the afternoon several prominent Southerners delivered brief addresses and in the evening there will be a reception and ball in the Washington State building. On that occasion every Northerner attending will be the particular guest of a Southerner and a delightful time is anticipated. Thousands of handsome souvenirs have been distributed in honor of the day and the Washington State building was profusely decorated with blooming cotton plants and a large variety of Southern flowers.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business, or a lost pocket-book—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

The TIMES WANT ADS. BRING RESULTS

Georgia Masons in Atlanta.
Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 10.—Masons from nearly all parts of the State are assembled here today for the annual convention of the Masons of the Fifth District. The local masonic lodges and the citizens in general have made every effort to make the convention, which will hold its first session at the Auditorium this evening and will end its session tomorrow evening, the most enjoyable ever held in this State.

The delegates began to arrive yesterday and this morning and afternoon were devoted principally to the welcoming of the arriving Masons by the local reception committees. The opening session this evening will not be devoted to the transaction of business.

Worshipful Master J. E. McClelland will preside. Mayor Robert F. Maddox will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the city and Right Worshipful Master Jeffries will extend welcome on behalf of the Masons of Georgia. The response will be made by Worshipful Master McClelland. The grand masters of Alabama, Tennessee, the Carolinas, and Florida will deliver short addresses.

Tomorrow there will be two business sessions and in the evening the Master Mason's degree will be conferred.

1821—Missouri admitted to the Union.
1822—Donald M. Fairfax, the United States naval officer who seized Messrs. Mason and Sildell, the Confederate envoys, on the steamer Trent, born in Virginia. Died Jan. 10, 1894.

1846—Smithsonian Institution at Washington founded.
1861—Federalists defeated in the battle of Wilson's Creek, Mo.

Ecuador's Centenary as a Nation.
Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 10.—Today is the one hundredth anniversary of Ecuador's national independence and the whole country is celebrating the day with universal enthusiasm. This city, having been chosen as the place for the international exposition arranged in honor of the celebration, is the center of the festivities with which the nation—the first of the Latin-American republics to reach its centennial—observed the beginning of the second century of its independence.

The exposition was opened today with appropriate ceremonies and the representatives of the United States and nearly all the European and South American countries were in attendance at the exercises. The United States and Colombia are the only governments which have separate buildings at the exposition, but most of the European nations have large and interesting exhibits.

May Lower Cotton Rates.
Austin, Tex., Aug. 10.—Of vital importance to those interested in the cotton industry and especially to the compress men, is the hearing fixed to take place before the State railroad commission today on the question of a reduction in the cotton rates in this State and the establishment of a basis which would abolish the differential applying against Texas ports. One of the plans proposed calls for a reduction of 6 cents for maximum distance, and applying straight mileage throughout the State regardless of the origin or destination of the shipment. The compress owners are particularly interested because they will probably have to share the reduction in rates with the railroads.

Oklahoma Farmers' Institute Meets.
Stillwater, Ok., Aug. 10.—The Oklahoma State Board of Agriculture and the Farmers' State Institute opened their annual meeting here today and will remain in session for three days. The program prepared by Charles F. Barrett, the secretary of the board of agriculture, is unusually interesting. The proceedings today were confined to routine matters and the election of members of the board for the purpose of filling vacancies. Tomorrow Superintendent of County Institutes J. C. Elliott, will submit his report and various matters of interest to farmers will be discussed.

You can't appreciate the saving in time, temper, and money effected by a

until you have used one. It is as great an improvement on a coal stove as the latter is on the old fashioned fire place. At the touch of a match it gives an intense heat just when you want it. Instantly controllable. No smoke, no smell, no coal to bring up, no ashes to carry out, no uneven temperature, no fallen cakes or pies, no delayed meal. Not necessary to change your nice dress; everything clean and tidy. We sometimes take in your old stove as part payment.
