WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1909

NUMBER 138

ENTIRE SPANISH CABINET RESIGNS

PREMIER MAURA AND ASSOCI- ATES BOW TO POPULAR DE- MAND.

A. F. OF L. TAKES ACTION

American Federation of Labor Con- demns Ferrer's Execution in Strongest of Terms.

By Associated Press.
Madrid, Oct. 21.—The conditions which have prevailed in Spain since the trouble with the Moors began, and which have recently been accentuated by the execution of Ferrer, reached their crisis this afternoon, when the entire Spanish cabinet, headed by Premier Maura, resigned.

This was preceded by stormy scenes in the Chamber of Deputies. Yesterday, Senor Prendergast, the former premier, renewed his vigorous attack on Maura and the other ministers. One of the latter attempted to reply, saying the cabinet members were not cowards enough to resign, but his voice was drowned out in the confusion that followed.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—At its meeting here yesterday the American Federation of Labor took action upon the execution of Ferrer in Spain, denouncing it as murder. Among other strong expressions, the resolutions declare that "the cause of free speech free press and free education has found in Ferrer another martyr, the more regrettable in the age of civilization which boasts of having replaced the tortures and brutality of medievalism by toleration, freedom and enlightenment."

CASE IS POSTPONED

Trial of Calixto Guerra Will Not Come Up Until January.

By Associated Press.
Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 21.—The case of Calixto Guerra, the Mexican who is charged with murder, robbery and arson, in connection with the uprising at Las Vacas, has been postponed until next January, both sides agreeing. Mexico is seeking to obtain the extradition of Guerra.

Guillermo Adam, another revolutionist, charged with the same evidence as Guerra, is in jail here and will be given a preliminary hearing on October 25th at Del Rio. Adam was formerly tried before Federal Commissioner Bochmer for extradition, but was released twice and re-arrested twice.

Bay State Auto Contest.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 21.—There is every indication that the two days' reliability run of the Bay State Automobile association, which starts from this city today will be a success. It will be the first contest conducted under the new rules of the American Automobile Association, which calls for a rather severe system of penalization.

The first day's roster will call for a run of about 230 miles over good roads to New Bedford, Fall River, Providence, Worcester and return to Boston.

On the second day a run of 215 miles will take the cars from Boston to Lowell, Manchester, Portsmouth and return.

Dr. James Carlisle of Wofford College Dies at Advanced Age.

By Associated Press.
Spartanburg, South Carolina, Oct. 21.—Dr. James Carlisle, the venerable president emeritus of Wofford college, died here today, aged eighty-four years.

C. & S. RAILROAD PARTY IN THE CITY YESTERDAY

A party consisting of J. H. Bradbury, general auditor of the Colorado and Southern railway, at Denver, L. Emory Katzenbach, assistant secretary-treasurer of the same company at New York, and Mrs. Katzenbach arrived here yesterday after making a tour of the Wichita Valley lines, accompanied by W. Y. McCune, secretary and auditor of the latter lines, and were met here by vice-president Keeler and shown over the city and vicinity in an automobile.

COMPLETES INVESTIGATION.

Captain Rogers, of Rangers, Refuses to Divulge Findings.

By Associated Press.
Amarillo, Tex., Oct. 21.—Capt. J. H. Rogers, of the Texas Rangers, this morning completed his investigation of the cause of the recent conflict between the local officers and the Rangers stationed here. He said he would make a full report to Adjutant General Newton at Austin. Rogers refuses to divulge his findings while here. Considerable bitterness is still manifested toward the Rangers and the local officers upheld.

PENSACOLA AGAIN FLOODED.

Street Car Tracks Washed Out and Power Plant Wrecked.

By Associated Press.
Pensacola, Florida, Oct. 21.—A terrific downpour of rain struck the city early today, stopping street car traffic, putting the city water works out of commission and damaging other property to a considerable extent. The rainfall amounted to four inches in an hour.

PEANUT THRESHER HERE; FIRST IN WICHITA CO.

The first peanut thresher ever in this section of the country arrived this morning and is now at the farm of S. D. Hope in the eastern part of the county, where it will be put to work threshing his peanut crop. As soon as his crop is disposed of, Mr. Hope will attend to the threshing of other peanut crops and he has already contracted with several of them to handle their crops.

The peanut thresher works on the same principle as a wheat thresher and is similar to it in many ways, though smaller. The bringing of this modern machinery here shows the increasing importance of the peanut industry and it is believed that next year will see hundreds of additional acres planted.

CARNEGIE WILL HELP.

Millionaire Scot Enters Fight Against Tuberculosis.

By Associated Press.
Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 21.—Andrew Carnegie has offered State Health Commissioner Dixon four hundred and fifty acres of land on the crest of the Allegheny Mountains near Crescon as a gift in recognition of the state's great fight against tuberculosis.

CONTRACT IS ACCEPTED FOR NEW AUTO ENGINE

City Secretary Rye yesterday received a letter from the Robinson Fire Apparatus Company of St. Louis, which has the contract for the "bubble" engine ordered by the city, stating that they were making every effort to ship the machine on time. It is due to arrive here late in November. The letter states that owing to the heavy fall trade in automobile supplies, they will have some difficulty in getting the material, but that they will have the equipment here on schedule time. There was some doubt as to whether the company would accept the agent's contract, but it seems to have done so.

TROUBLE AT GREENVILLE.

Three Negroes Suspected of Assault, May Be Lynched.

By Associated Press.
Greenville, Tex., Oct. 21.—A mob numbering over a thousand, surrounded the county jail all this morning, following the arrest of three negroes, suspected of the assault on Mrs. Will Lloyd a few nights ago. At times the crowd shouted "lynch them!" and crowbars were brought for the purpose of breaking down the jail doors. The officers pacified the leaders with difficulty, urging them to await until Mrs. Lloyd was able to identify her assailant.

At 1:40 this afternoon the three negroes were taken from the jail to give Mrs. Lloyd a chance to identify her assailant.

The mob is growing in number and is becoming greatly excited. It went with the officers and prisoners to Mrs. Lloyd's home and if the assailant is identified, a lynching cannot be averted.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Tex., Oct. 21.—Governor Campbell today called out the state militia to protect the negroes at Greenville from the mob assembled there.

USE NATURAL GAS IN BURNING BRICK

WICHITA BRICK AND TILE COM- PANY STARTS NEW WRINKLE AT ITS PLANT.

IT PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Methods Practically the Same as Those Employed When Oil is Used for Fuel.

Burning bricks with gas is the latest wrinkle in the use of natural gas in Wichita Falls, and the new method is being tried today for the first time at the plant of the Wichita Brick and Tile company. This is the first plant in Texas to use gas for burning brick, though the plan has been successfully tried in the natural gas fields of Kansas for some time and has proved very successful there.

The methods employed in using gas do not differ materially from those employed in burning oil. A burner is fixed in the center of the kiln and the brick are treated in about the same manner as when oil is used.

The use of gas for burning brick is another illustration of the various uses to which it may be put, and it broadens the field of possibilities for Wichita Falls through her proximity to the natural gas fields. There are now two leading concerns using it here, the flouring mills and the brick plant, and it is understood that the water and light plant will soon follow their example.

New Railroads in the South.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 21.—Yesterday saw the completion and formal inauguration of the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railroad, which is regarded as one of the most important undertakings of its kind completed in this section of the country in some years.

The line is two hundred and forty miles long and extends from this city to Dante, Va., which is in the heart of a rich coal country. In addition to opening up a large section that is rich in timber, minerals and other resources, the road will afford a short route between the South Atlantic states and a large section of the middle west.

By Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 21.—Judge Lovett was elected president of the Union Pacific to succeed the late E. H. Harman.

HENRIETTA SCENE OF TRAGEDY TODAY

YOUNG BANK CLERK OF BOWIE, MEETS DEATH IN ROOMING HOUSE THERE.

YOUNG WOMAN ARRESTED

Death Due to Carbolic Acid Burns Which Caused Intense Suffer- ings.

Special to The Times.
Henrietta, Tex., Oct. 21.—One of the most deplorable tragedies that has ever occurred here, was enacted this morning when H. M. Stoekey, a young and popular bank clerk of Bowie, Texas, was found dead in a local rooming house, from the effects of carbolic acid burns.

Miss Marian Lyle, also an occupant of the rooming house, was arrested by the local authorities shortly after the news of the young man's death became known.

The young man's face and neck were badly burned from the acid and he suffered intensely before he died. He was burned some time during the night, death ensuing at an early hour this morning.

Stoekey comes of a good family and was well known at Bowie, where he held a responsible position in one of the banks. His remains were forwarded here today for burial.

Test 'Children in Flats' Law.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Students of the race suicide problem are awaiting with interest the decision in a case which came up for trial in the municipal court yesterday. The case, which is the first test of the new law which forbids landlords to refuse to rent flats to families with children, was brought by Rolla O. Longenecker against the agent and owner of the apartment house where he has been residing for several years. The plaintiff alleges that when his lease expired for this month, the agent refused to renew it because there were two children in the family, one having been born since Mr. Longenecker took possession of the apartment.

FARMERS WANT TEMPLE.

It is Preferred as Site for Experiment Station.

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 21.—It is understood here today that the Texas Farmers' Union will recommend the location of a state agricultural experiment station at Temple, instead of at Fort Worth. The members of the state locating committee recently met here with Lieutenant Governor Davidson and reported then they would select Fort Worth. The farmers, it is said, will prevail upon the committee to select Temple.

ROBBERS AT FORT WORTH.

Alleged Lewisville Oenders Brought There for Safe Keeping.

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 21.—Sid Cisco and H. Marshall, charged with robbing the bank at Lewisville in Denton County, of six thousand dollars recently, were brought here today and jailed for safe keeping. The Denton jail is undergoing some repairs and it was thought that they might escape.

PLANT IS ENDANGERED BY FIRE LAST EVENING

The Water and Light Company's plant at the foot of Burnett avenue was endangered last evening about 7:30 by a fire in a small wooden building near the main plant. The fire started from sparks from the power house and was very quickly extinguished before the fire department arrived. It was thought proper to shut down the engine for a few moments to minimize the danger and the lights going out all over town caused many to think that there was a serious blaze at the plant. A few dollars would cover the total damage.

FOUR HURT IN WRECK.

Men Injured at Del Rio Brought to San Antonio.

By Associated Press.
San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 21.—Four trainmen who were injured in a collision between a caboose and a string of cars being switched in the Southern Pacific yards at Del Rio last night at midnight were brought here this morning to the hospital. SEVENTY PER CENT INCREASE SHOWN

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT HAS GAIN- ED THAT MUCH THIS YEAR OVER TWO YEARS AGO.

DECREASE IN SPANKING

Less Corporal Punishment Adminis- tered This Year Than Same Month in 1908.

An increase of seventy-one per cent over the same month in 1907 and an increase of thirty-four per cent over the same month in 1908, is shown by the report of Superintendent Toland on school enrollment for the first scholastic month of the present session.

The high school enrollment for this year is 175, last year it was 153; the central grammar school enrollment is now 473, as compared with 352 last year. The Alamo school, 221, last year 170; the San Jacinto school, 200, last year 169. The Lakewood school, 73, no school last year. The Washington (negro) school 73, last year 61.

There is an increase of tardiness during September rather out of proportion to the increase in enrollment. A total of 259 tardy pupils are recorded, as compared with only 143 last year. The Alamo school is the worst offender in this respect, there being ninety-six tardy pupils there last month and only nineteen for the same month last year. At the Central grammar school, there were 54, with 46 last year; at the San Jacinto school, 43, with forty last year; at the Lakewood school, 25; at the Washington school, 28, with only 10 last year; at the high school 16, with 25 last year.

Only seven pupils were the victims of corporal punishment last month, three at the Alamo school and four at the negro school. Last year during the same month there was one at the Alamo school and fourteen at the negro school.

FARMER ROBBED.

Wes Flatt Beaten Near McKinney Last Night.

By Associated Press.
McKinney, Tex., Oct. 21.—Officers returned here this morning after a futile search lasting all night, for the robber who beat up and robbed Wes Flatt, a farmer near Clear Lake last night. Flatt was going home from McKinney after selling his cotton, when attacked. The robber obtained nine dollars in silver, but overlooked a big roll of bills in another jacket. Flatt was struck on the head several times with an iron bar.

U. D. C. ELECTION.

Contest Ends Tomorrow—Two Candi- dates for Honor.

By Associated Press.
Houston, Tex., Oct. 21.—Interest is becoming pronounced in the election of officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will take place Friday. A lively contest is promised. Mrs. Falson of North Carolina, has developed much strength for the office of President-General and Mrs. Hickman of Tennessee, also appears to have a strong following.

Curfew Law to Be Enforced.

Cheap of Police Gwinn requests the Times to say that beginning tonight the curfew law will be strictly enforced, and all boys under 16 years of age found on the streets after 9 o'clock at night will be placed in the city jail where they will remain until their parents or guardians call for them. The fire bell on the city hall will be used to announce the time for all boys to go home.

BLOOD HOUNDS CHASING DIABOLICAL MURDERER

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, Oct. 21.—Blood-hounds are today trailing a man suspected of the murder of Alonzo Van Royen, wife and sister-in-law in West Kansas City, Kansas yesterday. He is followed by a posse, officers and farmers dogs, which followed the trail from the house in which the murdered woman lay to the ravine where Van Royen's body was found, and then turned into the road running toward Kansas City. Robbery was the motive of the crime.

KING AND QUEEN OF SPAIN—DR. FERRER, AGITATOR, WHO WAS SHOT.

The execution of Dr. Francisco Ferrer, the Barcelona revolutionist, by order of a Spanish court martial stirred the Socialists throughout Europe as nothing else has in years. Ferrer was long regarded as one of the most prominent men in the Liberal cause in southern Europe, and his death aroused his followers to the point of rioting in Paris, Rome, Trieste, Brussels and other centers. Stolid as the Spanish ministry is under such crises, its members are unable to conceal the alarm over the safety of King Alfonso, for he was warned in hundreds of letters that if he allowed Ferrer to be shot he should pay the penalty with his own life. Queen Victoria, who was in a state of terror during the Barcelona uprising, cannot dispel the fear that her husband will be made the victim of Ferrer's avengers.

AUSTRALIAN DINGOS.

Treacherous and Destructive Animals That Can Feign Death.

There are some who believe, though the evidence seems against them, that certain of the wild dogs, like the Australian dingo—"yellow dog dingo," always hungry, dusty in the sun—are reversioners to the wild state of a race once tame, just as the pariah dogs of various countries have traveled half the road toward becoming wild animals again.

As one sees the dingo here in the gardens it looks not merely like a domesticated dog, but like a dog of a distinctly engaging and amicable kind. The dingo's character belies its gentle looks. "Quarrelsome, sly and treacherous," an Australian naturalist has called it. So sly is it that, according to Mr. Beddard in "The Cambridge Natural History," it feigns death "with such persistence that an individual has been known to be partly stayed before moving" and so treacherous that in the days when dingos were more commonly kept as pets, by the colonists than, as a result of bitter experience, is the case today it was no unusual thing for the dog which had been brought up with every tenderness from puppyhood to turn suddenly on its master or mistress, or, what was more frequent, when left in temporary charge of an empty house to seize the opportunity to raid the sheepfold or the poultry run.

On such occasions it "ravens" even as the wolf, killing not to satisfy its hunger, but in the unrestrainable fury of a brute instinct, so that, given time enough, it will not leave one fowl or one sheep alive. That it does not need much time, moreover, is shown by the statement of Thomas Ward that "one dingo in the course of a few hours has been known to destroy several score of sheep." For its fighting ability the same authority declares it to be a match for most domestic dogs of double its size.

When wild it hunts in packs, which are said sometimes to include as many as a hundred individuals, though from six to a dozen is the common number, and the only Australian animal which it is uncertain if the pack can ever pull down is (in spite of Mr. Kipling) the "old man" kangaroo.—London Times.

WOMEN IN TROUSERS.

Some Whose Work Compels Them to Dispense With Draperies.

The idea of a woman in trousers seems to be the most horrible that the modern civilized mind can conjure up, but there are parts of the world where women wear these garments as a matter of course, and the heavens have not yet fallen. They even contrive to look charming in them, too, as in one of the cantons of Switzerland, where the bifurcated garment is worn on dress occasions as well as for work. Not even at the altar are the trousers discarded. The bride wears white ones, with a white bodice and white flowers in her hair, and many a bride in a court train is less shy and sweet. In spite of their trousers, which are necessitated by the work they do in the fields, these women do not ride astride, but use a sidesaddle just like the woman who is trammelled by skirts.

The trousers of Switzerland are loose, baggy affairs, sometimes almost as cumbersome as skirts, but the peasant maids of the Austrian Tyrol wear short, close fitting small clothes, which cannot impede their movements in any way and which are not particularly becoming. The socks do not meet the trousers and the knee is left bare, like a Highlander's. The upper part of the costume has some feminine touches, and over the trousers is a short drape, which may be the remains of a skirt. These women work in the fields and stables and are compelled by their life to dispense with superfluous draperies.

French and Belgian fisherwomen wear trousers. They wade through the water, pushing their nets before them, and the heavy waves would soon sweep them off their feet if they wore skirts. Even without them they are obliged to go out in little parties for mutual protection.

In China, where they do most things differently from the rest of the world, the women wear trousers and the men do not disdain skirts. The women also smoke. In Turkey, before Paris fashions invaded the harem, trousers were worn by the women, while the cigarette is an indispensable part of their lives.—New York Tribune.

George IV's Hoardings.

One of the most inveterate hoarders on record was George IV. Not only was he averse to destroying books and papers, but he preserved everything that could possibly be kept. When he died all the suits of clothes he had worn for twenty years were discovered and sold by public auction. His executors also found, secreted in various desks, drawers and cupboards numerous purses and pocketbooks crammed full of money to the extent, it is said, of £20,000, together with more sentimental treasures in the form of locks of hair from the tresses of forgotten beauties of the court.—London Graphic.

Disappointment.

Head Walter—What's the matter with that dyspeptic looking old chap over there at the fourth table?

Assistant—He's got a grinch. He was getting all ready to make a kick about that cantaloupe, and he found it was a good one.—Chicago Tribune.

Two Painters.

Highbrow (boastfully)—I got 20 cents a word for my stuff. I'm a word painter. Lowbrow (scornfully)—That's nothing. I got $2 a word for mine. I'm a sign painter.—Exchange.

THE ALARMING INCREASE OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

"He died of Bright's Disease."

Hardly a week passes that this statement is not made in reference to some prominent citizen.

The increasing prevalence of this disease makes the present time seem most opportune for discussion in the hope that some who are unconsciously afflicted with this dreaded disease may receive timely warning.

A prominent citizen residing in a nearby town informs us that he suffered for nearly a year from Bright's Disease, but that he recently affected a complete cure.

"What seemed to be the first indications of the trouble," was asked.

"They seemed hardly worth noticing. My digestion bothered me at times, my stomach seemed out of order, and I had occasional backaches, but I thought it was due to too much work."

"Did you take anything?"
"I did not. Later, my strength failed me, I had severe pains in the back and noticed some irregularities of the urine. I couldn't sleep well at night. I then used some simple remedies, but without benefit."

"Did you realize that your trouble was Bright's Disease?"

"I never thought of such a thing. Finally, my condition became serious. My back ached all the time, I had shooting pains in my joints and a weak tired feeling at the knees, a little work played me out completely. I then began doctoring for kidney trouble but did not improve very much."

"Did you have any trouble with your heart?"

"Yes. I had spells of heart throbbing and a nervous faint feeling. I thought I had heart disease and treated awhile for that. Nothing seemed to help me. I had to give up trying to work."

"How did you affect a cure?"

"A friend of mine persuaded me to try Prickly Ash Bitters. I bought a bottle of my druggist. After taking it a week I began to feel some better, my urine became more natural and there was a gradual lessening of my misery. I kept on taking Prickly Ash Bitters for several weeks and I could feel my strength returning—slowly at first—but increasing daily. I am now entirely cured of my trouble and able to do a full day's work without the least fatigue. I consider Prickly Ash Bitters the grandest kidney medicine in the world."

Thousands of people attest in like manner to the wonderful benefit derived from Prickly Ash Bitters. It is a time tried and successful remedy for Bright's Disease or any disorder of the kidneys. Prickly Ash Bitters is in every sense a system tonic and regulator. It possesses important properties for curing ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels in addition to its great power in the kidneys. It is a valuable article to keep at home where a dose or two can be taken when ever needed. When used for any disorder in the kidneys, stomach, liver or bowels it is the right medicine in the right place.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity—
—Tonight and Friday, partly weather. Cooler tonight.

This from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram is a hint in the right direction:

"Times have changed. The value of poultry products for the present year could declare an annual dividend of 5 per cent on the entire capital stock of all the railroads in this country, or purchase the American cotton crop—and have enough small change left over to square up summer season expenses and make a start on the Christmas shopping. Poultry pays dividend. Diversity to the hustling hen and let Texas grow."

Byers is to have a new paper, the Herald, the first number of which is to be a special edition of 5,000 copies, to appear on October 29th. The Herald is backed by a stock company of $5,000 capital, and the leading business men of Byers are the shareholders. G. E. Cleaver is to be the manager. This gives Byers two newspapers, when the town isn't any too large to support one in a decent manner.

The Dallas News has dubbed Cecil Lyon, republican boss and government pie distributor for Texas, "the Duke of Damsite," and hereafter all Texas papers, in making mention of Mr. Lyon, should not fail to add that title to his name. It is one that fits well.

It is amusing to read of a four-pound sweet potato grown in South Texas when a seven pound sweet potato is at this moment occupying a place on the writer's desk. And the seven-pounder was grown in Wichita county.

To refute the superstition that Friday is a hard-luck day, a writer calls attention to the fact that both Washington and Shakespeare were born on that day. Yes, and where are they now? Both dead, so there.

President Taft has a big batch of vacancies to appoint pie-seekers to when he returns from his trip, which probably intensifies the present joy of being in Texas.

Of all the millions of people who would be surprised if Hearst should be elected mayor of New York, the worst surprised would be Willie Randolph himself.

A San Antonio man is under arrest for stealing a safe, but dispatches do not state whether or not he did it in a moment of weakness.

Nobody will object to "Katy" having a stepfather, provided he takes as good care of her as her real parents did.

The letter of the Archer county gentlemen, suggesting that we secure a new proof reader, has been received and placed on file. It is no. 3036.

For a city which prides itself on its high standard of morals, Abilene is making a good record. Two killings in less than a week is "going some."

A Model Lumber Yard.

A Times reporter visited and was shown through the new Cameron & Co's. lumber yard this morning. This enterprising concern, which is one of the oldest and most reliable in Wichita Falls, has just about got settled down in its new quarters on Indiana avenue, between 4th and 5th streets. It owns a full half block of land 350x150 feet, the greater portion of which is covered by a large and commodious building. Modern in every respect, in which is stored and protected from the weather the large stock of lumber and building materials. In the center of the large main building is the office of the manager, Mr. C. G. Taxis, which fronts on Indiana avenue. On each side of the office are two wide drive-ways, running the entire length of the building, 150 feet deep to the alley, and on each side of the drive-ways are stored in separate departments the company's stock of lumber, sash, doors, and building materials of every description. Aside from the main building the company has a separate building in which to store lime and cement, and also a stable for the company's teams, used for the delivery of lumber and transferring same from the cars to the yard.

It is one of the best, if not the most modern and down-to-now lumber yards in Texas. In fact the company is one of the strongest in the state, and has a long string of yards located at different points in Texas, but it seems to regard Wichita Falls as the best and most promising town in which it is doing business, judging from the fact that it has expended more money in the construction of its buildings here than at any other point. The management, through the Times, wishes to extend a cordial invitation to the public to visit the company's new quarters and inspect them.

SHY LONDONERS.

A Trait That Brands Them as Unsocial and Abrupt.
What a complicated thing is the character of the Londoner! Out of pure shyness he becomes disagreeably abrupt; out of pure fear of intrusion he becomes unsocial. A number of unacquainted men in the same tramway car will never think of entering into conversation as they would anywhere else in the world. Silently they leave the car as they entered it. And yet it does not seem natural to me that they should not prefer to converse. But they are afraid to intrude; besides, they have not been "introduced."

"Proper" introduction is one of the characteristics of the Londoner. In Germany when a man enters a private room containing people he does not know or if he sits down at a table outside a restaurant—in fact, whenever he comes into touch with a stranger—he will make his bow and announce his name. He will introduce himself. Then both will chat like old acquaintances. But it is not one that neither of them caught the mumbled name of the other, nor did they care. To both of them their meeting has been an episode to be forgotten the very next second. And it not infrequently happens that a man will turn to some friend, asking: "Did you see me talk to that man? Who is he? He mentioned his name, but I did not quite catch it."

Now, in England to walk into a room where there is a private gathering and to go around from one to another introducing yourself would, as I see, be called bad manners. The Englishman wants to be introduced by a third person, and it seems that the third person will introduce the other two only if he thinks they would actually like to know each other. Then, however, the name is not only mumbled or mentioned, but grasped with. The two men at once impress that name upon their minds, associate the person with the name and forget neither the one nor the other. An introduction in London does not seem an episode to me to be over and done with the next second, but always the beginning of an actual friendship. And where friendship is left aside.—London Mail.

Chance to Buy a Town.

Salina, Kas., Oct. 20.—A rare opportunity for any person desiring to own a town was afforded today, when the village of Shipton, nine miles from here, on the Union Pacific railroad, was put up for sale at auction. The village is a lively, hustling little place with a railroad depot, a grain elevator, half a dozen stores, postoffice, churches, dwellings and all the other accompaniments of an up-to-date community. As the advertisement reads, the owner has good reasons for wanting to sell. The entire village is located on the big wheat ranch of W. C. Irwin, who has made so much money he is going to retire. As an inducement to prospective purchasers, Mr. Irwin offers to throw in his farm machinery and a few acres of his wheat farm to anyone who will buy the village.

Football Notes.

Fordham has two great players in McCarthy and McCaffey, the ends. Van Voorhis of Pennsylvania State, looks to be one of the star kickers of the season. Capt. Alleridge has been making the best showing in the Michigan squad this season. Princeton and Dartmouth will meet again this fall, but at Princeton, instead of at New York. Carlisle has almost an entire new team this season and will, no doubt, feel the loss of the former Indian stars.

Remember "Graustark" the best play of the season appears here on October 25th. We have this, the most popular book ever written for sale for $1.00 per copy. Don't fail to read it. 131-tf THE PALACE DRUG STORE.

FLORAL HEIGHTS

Wake Up and Buy Some Lots In Floral Heights

Can't you see that delay means a loss to you. Don't you know that lots in Floral heights will soon be higher? Why not? They are certainly the cheapest and best located lots in and about Wichita Falls. They have the highest elevation, the purest atmosphere, the most picturesque view. They have the city water, graded streets, five cent car fare and, in fact, will soon have every modern convenience out to the bend of the car line. Wide concrete sidewalks are now being put down and several nice residences are under construction.

This is the only way the town can grow and the only way we will have street car service for several years. The Floral Heights addition is not a real estate man's proposition, but is an addition backed by over fifty of the leading citizens of Wichita County, who have the interest of Wichita Falls at heart and who are determined to make Floral Heights the swellest residence section of the city. Floral Heights is spending more money to boost Wichita Falls than all the concerns in the city put together, with the exception of the Chamber of Commerce.

Any agent in the city will be glad to give you prices and assist you in selecting your lots. Make your purchase today before the good lots are all sold. Cars leave the corner of 8th St. and Indiana Avenue every ten minutes for Floral Heights. Lots are sold on terms of one-third cash, balance in one and two years, 8 per cent interest.

If you have friends and acquaintances who would like to know more about Wichita Falls, call at our office, 617 8th Street, for nice literature to mail them.

SAFER PROTECTION FOR CHILD LABOR

SAFEGUARDS TROWN AROUND
YOUNG WORKERS HAVE BEEN MATERIALLY BENEFICIAL.

HEALTH NOT IMPAIRED

Mill Owners Have Come To Take Interest In Employee Welfare, Say Winslow.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20.—That the health of child laborers and, in fact, all employees of the cotton mills of the South has been infinitely improved through the safeguard thrown around them by the mill owners was maintained by A. S. Winslow, superintendent of cotton mills in Clinton, S. C., in an address before the Southern Textile Association here today. In view of the widespread interest taken in the labor problem in Southern factories, and especially cotton mills, the address was of more than local importance.

Mr. Winslow's position was that the health and morals of the employees were greatly bettered through their employment in the mills. He contended that the first thought of the mill owners was the safeguarding of the health and well being of their workers. This, Mr. Winslow frankly acknowledged, was not prompted solely by philanthropy. He acknowledged the good health of the employees was of the greatest importance to the owner of a mill.

"Good health among the operatives is an asset of value to the manufacturer," he said. "It means more and better work. The knowledge of this fact explains the increasing oversight of the operative, both in and out of the mill. His physical, moral and spiritual health are being considered so carefully today that the old-time prejudice against employment in the mill is fading from the public mind. The cotton mill as a place for employment has passed the stage of experiment and has outlived the spirit of prejudice so manifest in other days."

In support of his defense of the cotton mill as a place of employment for juveniles, Mr. Winslow quoted from a letter written by Dr. C. W. Stiles, of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, and addressed to him last June. In this letter Dr. Stiles defends the employment of children in the mills, holding such employment infinitely better than existence in the insanitary dwellings of the people in the sand lands and the Appalachian regions of the South.

Dr. Winslow quoted Dr. Stiles as saying that he would much rather place his ten-year-old daughter in the spinning room of a cotton mill than send her to the insanitary surroundings to be found on the average tenant farm in those sections.

Mr. Winslow proceeded to quote the testimony of a physician who is engaged in making a careful study of sanitary conditions in the South. This physician, he declared, stated that Dr. Stiles had not gone far enough and that he should not have confirmed his strictures to the tenant farms. The homes of many of the planters, Mr. Winslow said the physician declared, were not above severe criticism from a sanitary point of view.

"The fact is, and we have a right to be proud of it," continued Mr. Winslow, "that the cotton mills of the South are better suited to the operatives than many places where the world has been taught to look for health. The mills may not be perfect, for human as well as local limitations will not permit us to attain into perfection, but we may boldly proclaim that the mills are safe places of occupation from a health point of view, and that the mills officials are interested in and intent upon the maintenance of sound health among the operatives. And we are not only justified in claiming this, but we may safely challenge the world to disprove our statements."

Mr. Winslow credited the great advance in the health conditions of Southern workers to the fact that new factories now are constructed and old ones remodeled with the physical welfare of the workers in view. This fact, together with the personal interest taken by owners in their employees' health, he said, has worked wonders among operatives.

Britton, and am in a better position to serve you in the abstract business than ever before. Benjamin Clothes
Alfred Benjamin & Co. 215 1/2 St.

You'd be surprised if we'd tell you the number of men in this city who come to us, quite worried because of the fear that they can not obtain a suit of exceptional attractiveness, and one not having that flippant "air" which characterizes so many makes of clothes. We quiet their fears in a moment and do it very easily, too. In our long experience we have found that freakishness is not style, nor are the clamorous patterns. Acting upon our real knowledge of a gentleman's needs we are always prepared to exhibit rare styles and fascinating patterns; BUT NOT boisterous clothes. The Seabright Sack, made by Alfred Benjamin & Co., in New York, is a remarkable style, which is so "up-to-the-minute" that it fairly sparkles. The fabrics are soft and rich; the tailoring is of the kind which only expert workers can give. It is a clean, good, "Made in New York" style which men of taste desire.

THE ATLANTIC LINERS

Signs, Signals and Flags Used by the Various Companies.

COLORS OF THE BIG FUNNELS

In Some Cases They Are Very Much Alike, but the Night Lights Used by the Vessels of the Different Lines Are Quite Distinctive.

It is said that but comparatively few of the many thousands of persons that each year patronize the various lines of steamships crossing the Atlantic are familiar with the various distinguishing signs and signals employed by the vessels of the respective companies. Yet it is a very easy thing to tell at a glance to what line any given ship belongs—the American line, for instance.

About all that one must remember in the case of the vessels of our own line is that the funnels are black, each with its white band. When you see an Atlantic liner at night with a blue light forward, a red light amidships and a blue light aft you know at once that she is of the American line.

All Cunarders show a red funnel with black rings and a black top, while the night signals consist of a blue light and two roman-candles, each throwing out six blue balls.

There are but two of the leading transatlantic lines the ships of which carry cream colored funnels—the North German Lloyd and the Holland-America lines. The first employs a perfectly plain funnel without any other color than cream, and the latter shows a cream funnel with a white band and green borders. Signals displayed at night by these lines are, in the case of the North German Lloyd, two blue red lights, one forward and one aft, and, in the case of the Holland-America line, a green light forward and aft, with a white light under the bridge.

Two lines use buff funnels, the White Star and the Hamburg-American, the difference between the two being that, while the former shows a black top, the latter is plain buff throughout. White Star night signals are two green lights flashed simultaneously.

Quite a number of lines carry black funnels—the American with a white band, as mentioned above; the Anchor, which is entirely black; the Bristol, with a variegated and fancy touch, the black smokestack being relieved by a white band in the center and a blue star in the middle of the white band. In the regular service of the Hamburg-American line, as distinguished from the express service, we find that the color is plain black, while the Red Star is black with a white band and a black top.

The Scandinavian-American and the Wilson lines have red and black funnels, black in the first case with a red top and red funnel with a black top in the second.

The red funnel of the French line has a black top similar to the funnels of other lines, but with different proportions of color. On this line the night signals are a blue light forward, a white light amidships and a red light aft, forming the French tricolor.

At night the Anchor line of vessels shows a white light, then a red. The Bristol displays a green light only. The Hamburg-American ships for both services, regular and express, show two red-white-blue lights in quick succession at the stern. The Red Star displays three red lights, one forward, one aft and one amidships, all flashed together. The Scandinavian line employs one white-red, followed by one red-white light, and the Wilson puts out two red lights about sixty feet apart.

It will be observed from the foregoing that the night signals of all the different lines vary, while the funnels in some cases are very similar. This, however, does not lead to confusion, for in determining the line to which a vessel belongs one must also take into consideration the flag or pennant she flies. Every line, of course, carries a different "house flag," as it is called.

The flag of the Cunard line is red with a golden lion in the center, while that of the White Star vessels is of the same color, but swallowtail in shape and containing a white star. The house flag of the Red Star line is exactly the same as that of the White Star company with the colors reversed—flag white, star red.

The flag of the Hamburg-American line is an elaborate affair—white and blue diagonally quartered with a black anchor and a yellow shield in the center. The North German Lloyd flag is a handsome one, showing a design of a key and an anchor crossed in the center of a laurel wreath in blue on a white field.

The Atlantic Transport line flies a pretty flag of red, white and blue horizontal bars, with stars.—Edwin Torrance in Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

AMUSEMENTS

The attraction at the Wichita Theatre Friday night, Oct. 19th, will be Samuel E. Rork's spectacular production of the musical extravaganza, "The Land of Nod," which is said to combine the most brilliant features of English pantomime with the more down-to-date allurements of American musical comedy. It is a fairy story set to music. The heroine, a little girl known as "Bonnie," falls asleep in the garden of her home and dreams that she has been transported to Nod, where she meets with many surprising and amusing adventures, and where she makes the acquaintance of Nod's ruler, the "King of Hearts," his queen and their son, "The Jack of Hearts." Other important personages in the stage story are "April Fool," "The Weather Man," "The Sandman," "The Welsh Rarebit," "The Chorus Girl," "The Man in the Moon," "Rory Bory Alice" and many others. Among the elaborate scenes shown are "The Castle of Cards," "Peppermint River," "The Candy Ridge," mushroom trees, revolving rose and the big dragon.

The cast to be seen here is practically the same that successfully presented the piece on Broadway. It includes Knok Wilson, who has always been the featured comedian of the organization; Nell McNeil and Anna McNabb, who were featured with Charles B. Dillingham's production of "The Red Mill" last season. Other well-known people in the cast are: Marion Mosby, Louise Tozier, Dorothy Ellis, William Morgan, Claude Lightner, Nelson Riley Robert La Londe and Louis Lytle.

In extravaganza, the scenery and the costuming have much to do with the production's success or failure, and in "The Land of Nod," a brilliant scenic equipment is promised, together with new and picturesque costumes. There is an unusually large chorus and ballet, which is said to include some stunning young women. Judging from all accounts at hand, the "Land of Nod" will prove to be one of the very best musical attractions to be seen here this season.

Not in some time has there been such a rush for seats as there was yesterday when the advance sale for the musical extravaganza opened.

The fact that we get the original Number One company, with Knox Wilson, Nell McNeil and Anna McNabb in their original parts, assures us of a performance of unusual merit.

Since the opening date of "The Land of Nod" this season, we have received nothing but praise for it from the press, and, naturally, will expect to see and hear something extraordinary.

Don't forget, the curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 and no one will be admitted during the prologue as the house will be in darkness.

Two Ways of Looking At It.

After buying that bill of lumber you are going to need, and using it, you may be either glad or mad. It depends on whether you buy good, dry lumber from us, or carelessly accept lumber that's only half seasoned, from somebody who's not so particular about the quality of their stock as we are. There are no two ways about it: You can buy any kind of lumber or building material to better advantage right here than you can anywhere else in this part of the country. Let us make you an estimate on what you want.

ALEXANDER'S SNAKE.

A Story of Magic and Credulity in the Olden Days.

No snake that ever lived won greater fame for the time than Alexander's. Lucian tells the story. Apollonius, a master of the magic arts, had many disciples, among whom was a practicing physician who lived in Abonotichus, a small town on the shore of the Black sea. There Alexander was born of humble parentage and imbibed from the old doctor all that he had learned from Apollonius of medicine and magic. He was a lad of striking appearance, tall, handsome, with a fine head of hair, lustrous brown eyes and a voice sweet and limpid. "God grant," wrote Lucian, who knew him, "that I may never meet with such another. His coming was wonderful, his dexterity matchless. His eagerness for knowledge, his capacity for learning and power of memory were equally extraordinary."

Such was the well favored young peasant who sallied forth from his native town in search of fame and fortune. Soon he fell in with one Coconnas, a shrewd tipster for the races and somewhat of a juggler. The two rogues joined forces and meandered about telling fortunes. Arriving at Pella, they found a great number of huge, harmless snakes which lived in the houses, played and slept with the children and destroyed poisonous rats. Alexander promptly purchased one of the largest, a veritable monster, so tame that it would coil about his body and remain in any desired position. Then he made a human face for it out of linen, painted it ingeniously and shaped it so that the mouth would open and shut by an arrangement of horsehair, letting the forked tongue shoot in and out at the will of the master. Having no further use for Coconnas, he either administered poison to him or let him die from some infection and returned with his snake to his native town. There he declared himself a prophet and announced that the god Aesculapius was about to appear. The people were credulous, excitable and eager for a new divinity.

When the great day arrived Alexander pretended to discover in a puddle of water a goose egg which he had placed there after removing the contents, substituting a small embryo snake just born and carefully sealing the shell with wax. When the multitude had gathered he broke the shell and produced the tiny creature, which in a few moments grew to be the monster from Pella by the simple process of substitution. Thereafter the big snake, believed to be Aesculapius, led a busy life. He gave seances, told fortunes in writing and even spoke freely, with the aid of the prophet's ventriloquial powers. Alexander grew rich and powerful, kept a small army of retainers and spies, wielded no little influence over the government even at Rome and died at a ripe old age in the fullness of his renown. What became of the snake nobody knows. Probably at the last the prophet dispatched the faithful creature to prevent the discovery of his deception after his death.—George Harvey in North American Review.

The Kind Cat.

A neighbor of old Mrs. Harrington killed a fine pig one day. He cut it up and hung the pieces in his woodshed. Mrs. Harrington's cat climbed into the shed that night, stole a large pork chop and carried it home to her mistress. The minister happened to call on the old lady the next day. She was just frying the chop. She told the minister how miraculously it had been brought to her by the cat. "And, oh, sir," she said piously, "it was almost beautiful to see the way the sweet animal brought me the pork chop. It quite recalled to my mind what we read in Holy Writ about Elijah and the ravens."—Exchange.

The Courtship Gate.

We have been shown a design for an upholstered front gate which seems destined to become very popular. The footboard is cushioned, and there is a warm soapstone on each side, the inside step being adjustable, so that a short girl can bring her lips to the line of any given mustache without trouble. If the gate is occupied at 10:30 p. m., an iron hand extends from one gate post, takes the young man by the left ear, turns him around, and he is at once started toward home by a steel foot. The girl can, if she likes, set this part at a later hour than 10:30.—Jones County (Ga.) News.

Gibraltar's Searchlight Battery. For ships to pass around Gibraltar, England's and the world's greatest fortress, without being observed even at night is a practical impossibility, owing to the great battery of searchlights arranged along the bottom of the rock. A ship running either in or out runs into one of the fixed beams of light and is revealed. A moving beam of light then follows her until the lookout officers are satisfied as to her intentions.—Popular Mechanics.

Clothes. "Clothes don't make the man," quoted a sage. "They made me," said a retired tailor. "And where should I be if it wasn't for suits?" chimed in a lawyer's clerk.

Something From Nothing. "It is impossible to take something from nothing," quoted the wise guy. "Well, you come pretty close to it when you take the conceit out of some people," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

A wise man thinks before he speaks, but a fool speaks and then thinks of what he has been saying.

SOBRIETY INCREASING.

No Longer Fashionable to Get Drunk, So Society Takes Arms Against the Saloon.

WHEN I AM FULL Send Me Home. Street Address

No longer is it necessary for the convivial soul to carry such a card around with him on his New Year's calls, says Eugene Wood in Munsey's Magazine for November.

In discussing the growth of the prohibition sentiment, he says:

"Passing a law forbidding the sale of liquor is the formal expression of the profound conviction of the people that getting drunk is a low-down piece of business. As such, it is officially put in the same class with chicken-thieving. That part of the community which has self-respect, which wants to make this a better world to live in—the greater part of the community just now—says authoritatively to the antisocial element that still sticks in the mud in spite of civilizing influences:

"If you must get drunk, get drunk, and joy go with you. But hereafter you'll have to do it on the sly, like any other deviltry."

"The hub of this whole movement, it seems to me, is not that it prevents the old soaks from getting enough liquor to enable them to come home and beat their wives and turn sick children out into the storm. It is not even that it tends to remove temptation from before the boys—and yet I wouldn't minimize that gracious act by a hair's weight. That is a mighty significant thing. It shows that we are coming to see more clearly every year that it doesn't so much matter about this present generation. We're made or marred already. But the coming generation matters a whole lot. About all we grown folks are good for is to provide that there shall be a fine stand of young folks coming on. There's messy and many a father who would fight like a wildcat to keep the town from going 'dry' if it was only himself that he was looking out for, but who will march up to the polls like a little man, and vote as 'dry' as ashes for his boy's sake. The old man likes his nip now and again, but it isn't good for boys—certainly not for his boy."

SUFFERING ENDED.

Mater-Walker Sells the Remedy that Cured Stomach Trouble of 14 Years. And best of all Mr. Mater guarantees it to cure you or money back. Read this:

"I have been a great sufferer for 14 years, everything I ate gave me heartburns. I have never been able to get anything that would give me any relief until a friend of mine insisted on my taking M-I-O-na. I took a 50 cent box and I believe I am entirely well." F. M. Bryant, Newman, Ga., June 5th.

M-I-O-na is not a nostrum; it is the prescription of a celebrated physician who is a specialist in stomach diseases. One clever woman calls M-I-O-na the sunshine prescription because it changed her from a miserable, nervous dyspeptic into a bright, healthy, happy woman in a few weeks.

These little M-I-O-na tablets are surely wonder workers. They absolutely cure indigestion whether acute or chronic.

They stop belching, gas in stomach, and heaviness in a few minutes. Distress after eating vanishes as if by magic when one or two little M-I-O-na tablets are swallowed.

Only 50 cents a box at leading druggists everywhere, and in Wichita Falls by Mater-Walker Drug Co. Test sample free from Booth's M-I-O-na, Buffalo, N. Y.
