CONFERENCE WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

VISITORS TO METHODIST MEETING BEGIN ARRIVING IN THE CITY TODAY.

TO EXAMINE CANDIDATES

Board Will Consider Applicants for Clergy Tomorrow—To Be Well Entertained.

The advance guards of the delegates to the Austin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which convenes in this city tomorrow, arrived this afternoon and tomorrow morning a train will bring a large number more.

Tomorrow's work will consist almost altogether of the examining of the aspirants for the ministry. This work is in charge of a board of examiners and it is expected that a large number of young men will be examined during the present conference. Tomorrow night there will be a lecture on India by Mrs. Turner, Neils of Fort Worth, who was formerly a missionary in that line.

The regular sessions of the conference will begin Thursday and continue until the work is completed. The dedication of the new church Sunday and various addresses by the leading ministers in attendance will be features of the session, a resume of the program of which was published in last Saturday's issue of the Times.

Tomorrow's trains will doubtless continue to swell the crowds of those in attendance and there will probably be over two hundred in attendance by the time the conference begins its sessions on Thursday. Extensive preparations have been made to take care of the visitors and they will be well looked after during their stay in this city.

LACY OF ABILENE WILL BE IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 23.—Colonel W. M. Lacy of Abilene, while here today en route to Mineral Wells, announced that if his health improves he will soon issue a formal announcement as a gubernatorial candidate for West Texas.

Col. Lacy declares that he is opposed to state-wide prohibition, but favors local option as a fundamental principle of democracy. He recently toured West Texas, and says that that section of the state is demanding recognition and will support him.

Lacy will recuperate at Mineral Wells.

NO TOP CROP.

J. C. Albritton Says It Will Be Insignificant This Year.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 23.—That the top crop of the Texas cotton crop will be insignificant this season, is the opinion given out today by J. C. Albritton, purchasing agent of the Texas Farmers' Union, after receiving reports from farmers in various parts of the state.

Mr. Albritton discredits the recent report that the top crop will be normal. He says many growers have turned their cattle into the cotton fields without gathering the top crop.

CHILD BADLY BURNED.

Dress Caught Fire While Standing in Front of Grate.

Paris, Tex., Nov. 23.—Marguerite Bolts, aged 12 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bolts, was seriously burned and narrowly escaped death this morning when her dress caught fire from a fireplace, in front of which she was standing. The flames enveloped her entire body, taking off her hair and eyebrows. Her mother rushed to her assistance, saving her life, but badly burning her hands in the attempt.

STRIKE IN NEW YORK.

Thirty Thousand Shirt Waist Workers Walk Out Today.

New York, Nov. 23.—The shirt waist makers in all the shops in this city went on strike today, and is expected before the difficulty is settled that forty thousand operators will be involved. The workers demand shorter hours and an advance of twenty-five to thirty per cent on piece work.

EL PASO CUSTOMS TO BE INVESTIGATED ALSO

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—R. R. Miller was today appointed Inspector of Customs for the El Paso district, succeeding C. F. Cerewinke, resigned. Treasury officials announce that the El Paso custom house will be inspected in accordance with the clean up recently inaugurated in New York. It is not known that charges of graft have been made against the El Paso employes, but with the change of inspectors affairs will be investigated.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Wm. Loeb, collector of the port of New York, announced today that within a week a dozen or more weighers would be dismissed and he then believes the house-cleaning of the New York customs house will be completed.

GOES TO JURY.

Louis Coffman Case Nearing Its End at McKinney.

McKinney, Tex., Nov. 23.—After a trial lasting more than a week, arguments in the case of former Constable Louis Coffman, charged with the murder of his wife, were concluded shortly before noon today in the district court. The jury now has the case. The court room is crowded during the arguments.

Afraid of Guaranty Law.

Enid, Okla., Nov. 23.—The Enid State Guaranty Bank of this city, has surrendered its state charter and today will open as the First National Bank of 7aid.

Immediately after the failure of the Columbia Bank and Trust Company of Oklahoma City, the State Guaranty Bank officials decided they would take no further chances on the guaranty law and applied for a national charter.

The delay in granting the application was the result of 50 other state guaranty banks applying for national charters, all of which had to be examined.

An application has been made for a national charter for a bank here to be known as the American National.

FOUND NO WRECK.

Quest of Revenue Cutter Not Productive of Results.

San Domingo, Nov. 23.—The revenue cutter dispatched yesterday to investigate the reported wreck between the islands of Catalina and Saona, returned today and reported that no wreck was found.

Suit has been filed in the district court by C. C. Young vs. Michael Silliman for debt and foreclosure.

PARTY SAFELY IN SAN JUAN HARBOR

STEAMER ARRIVING AT NEW YORK BRINGS REASSURING NEWS OF THE ASTORS.

BELIEVED TO BE SAFE

Indications Are That Fears For Welfare of Party Were All Entirely Groundless.

New York, Nov. 23.—The Insular Line Steamer "Lucenbach," which arrived here today from Porto Rican ports brought the good news that the Astor yacht "Nourmahal," with Col. John Jacob Astor and party on board, was safe in the harbor of San Juan on the evening of November 17th. At that time, the officers of the ship state, all on board were well and planning to leave for a visit to points along the Cuban coast before the departure north.

This news revives the hopes of the friends of the Astor family, who have had reason to fear that the entire party was lost in the West Indian storm of several weeks ago.

Nothing has been heard from the party since the hurricane and this served to make the friends of the family much more uneasy and later reports have not served to reassure them.

It is thought that the party is unaware of the fears that are being entertained in their behalf, and that for that reason no word has been received.

Government May Take Hand.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 23.—It was announced here today that the Federal courts are likely to assume jurisdiction over the investigation and trials of four white men arrested yesterday in connection with the recent safe blowings and robberies at Lorena and Riesel. Geo. Howard is in jail at Greenville, charged with counterfeiting, and Alex Taylor who is held at Waco, is charged with robbing the postoffice at Riesel. Roy Nix and Eddie Rivers are held in the county jail here and underwent the Bertillon examination this morning.

PROSPERITY SHOWN BY BANK FIGURES

NEARLY A MILLION AND A HALF IN DEPOSITS SHOWN BY RECENT STATEMENT.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

Statements Combined Compare Very Favorably With Those of Larger Cities.

|                |                |
|----------------|----------------|
| City National  | $851,249.52   |
| First National | 367,980.61     |
| First State    | 175,933.70     |
| Wichita State  | 44,468.59      |
| Total          | $1,439,632.42 |

If bank deposits are to be considered a prosperity barometer, the above combined statement of the Wichita Falls banks should set at rest any doubts that may exist as to financial conditions here. The total deposits, on November 16, when the above figures were compiled, will be seen to be Figuring that Wichita Falls' population is ten thousand, the above deposit statement shows an average individual deposit in the local banks of about one hundred and forty dollars. The showing is considered an excellent one and is believed to be in excess of any previous one of the kind in the history of the city. The Wichita State Bank, though only a month or so old, shows about forty-five thousand dollars in deposits which may be said to be going some for an infant.

It is a fact worth noting that although Abilene is a city of fifteen thousand population five hundred more than this city, her bank deposits for the same date, exceeded those of this city by a very insignificant amount.

Waco Bonds Approved.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 23.—The attorney general's department today approved four issues of Waco municipal bonds. As petitioned, the bond issues are: For public works, twenty-five thousand dollars; for street improvements, seventy-five thousand dollars; refunding, twelve thousand, five hundred dollars; funding, one hundred thousand dollars. Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Representative Dearmond, one of the oldest democratic members of congress, and his grandson, Waddle, aged six years, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the Dearmond home at Butler, Mo., early today. Other members of the family escaped, and it is believed none are hurt.

Neither the body of Congressman Dearmond or that of his grandson have been recovered and it is believed they were incinerated. Bones believed to be those of the congressman were found this morning by searchers.

Mrs. Dearmond, wife of the congressman, who escaped in her night clothes unhurt, fainted as soon as she reached the ground. When she revived she became hysterical. She was barely able to escape with her own life and had not a moment to spare to attempt to rescue the others.

FOOTBALL REFORM MOVEMENT.

Presidents of Four Colleges to Eliminate Brutal Features.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 23.—The Record Herald this morning says: "With the presidents of four of the leading Western colleges enlisted to eliminate brutal football, the move received fresh impetus yesterday. That the gridiron game of the present day is doomed for a sudden overhauling was the stand maintained by four prominent educators.

Statements urging the immediate revision of the mode of play were received from President Judson of the University of Chicago, President Cyrus Northrop of Minnesota, President Van Hise of Wisconsin and Chancellor Samuel Avery of the University of Nebraska. That the sport is fast becoming a menace to the life and limb of all participants is the opinion of the educators.

On local gridirons yesterday three victims were added to the list of injured. Capt. Blankborn of the Morgan Grove team was borne from the field, having fractured his collarbone during a fierce scrimmage.

James Sullivan of the Panther Athletic Club, fractured three ribs, while Bruce of the same eleven, dislocated his shoulder."

HOME OF CHAS. L. WARRINER.

DEFAULTING TREASURER OF BIG FOUR RAILWAY, HIS HOME AND WOMAN NAMED IN THE CASE.

A series of sensations followed the arrest of Charles L. Warriner of Cincinnati, a trusted official of the Big Four railroad, upon the charge of having embezzled large sums of the company's money. After Warriner had admitted that he was short in his accounts auditors went to work on the books and found that the discrepancies aggregated more than $640,000. Warriner then made a confession, in which he charged several persons with having blackmailed him systematically for years. Edward Cooke, a former employee of the company, was named in published reports of the case, as was also Mrs. Jeannette Stewart Ford. Officials of the company were open in their declarations that Warriner had been the victim of designing persons, although those whom he named in his confession denied ever receiving any money from him unlawfully.

TO THE INSURING PUBLIC.

A Few Pertinent Facts About Fire Insurance Which It Will Pay You To Know.

Since the year 1880 some 440 stock companies engaged in the business of fire and marine insurance in the United States have either reinsured, retired, or failed—an average of more than 15 retirements and failures a year.

In purchasing securities, clothing, or builders supplies, or provisions, most buyers are careful to select the best that can be had for the money. Why should not the same law of trade govern the purchase of fire insurance? The rates charged by the stock fire insurance companies are the same. Then why not select policies of companies which have large resources, whose business is carefully selected, and which have honorably met the enormous losses occasioned by the great conflagrations at Chicago, Baltimore and San Francisco, to say nothing of those resulting from the smaller catastrophes of the kind?

Any insurance policy is a good enough policy until the unexpected happens—until a fire comes, then it will be found that it paid to select the best.

Companies represented in our office have more than TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS in United States assets, they are the leaders, strong and old-established.

Don't forget that the very best insurance protection can be had for the same money as an inferior article.

What is a Gentleman. The historian, affirmed: "If a Scotchman could have either courage or honesty he might be something of a man." Yet providence owed the world some compensation for Carnegie. Cromwell called Irishmen "the brabblingest men I ever knew." Goethe said, "Der Engländer ist elegantlich ohne intelligens," and an Englishman has been known to say, "I have no prejudices, but I do hate a German."

A Frenchman is "a person, generally decorated who ignores geography." A German is like an oyster, all stomach and no heart, which explains why the Nation is so bellicose. In Austria, said Windischgratz, "men below the rank of a baron do not count."

A gentleman might perhaps be a Spaniard, for Lord Dundonald, when he captured a 500-ton Spanish man-of-war with his fifty-ton brig told his fallen foe, "he had fought his ship like a gentleman and a Spaniard."

Sydney Smith in 1827 apologized for passing a night at a banker's country place. Fielding spoke of a "brokers and other thieves of this kind." Jeremy Bentham said of lawyers that "their knowledge was confined to the corrupt part of human nature." Sancho Panza declared: "There are but two lineages in the world, as my grandmother used to say, the Haves and the Have-nots, and she stuck to the Haves." Isaac Walton may be the best judge: "I would rather prove myself a gentleman by being learned and humble, valiant and inoffensive, virtuous and communicable, than by any fond ostentation of riches, or wanting these virtues myself boast that those were in my ancestors."

Certainly the man was not a gentleman who took out a policy against fire for his wife when she merely wanted an annuity. She was justified in her divorce.—New York Sun.

ESTRADA MEN DOUBT.

Believe Zelaya's Battles Are Being Won by Cable.

The news that the Zelaya forces have recaptured Greytown, which is one of the most important Atlantic coast towns of Nicaragua, is doubted by the friends of the revolutionists here, they claiming that, as General Chamorra controlled the telegraph lines from Greytown, if he had been forced to evacuate the place, he would have cut the lines, and this would have made it impossible for Managua to get any news from this section.

Dr. Sequiera, the consul general of the provincial government here, last night said:

"General Chamorra had fifteen hundred men at Greytown, and had the river mined for a distance of five miles, and as the government forces could not have reached Greytown in any other way than in boats it stands to reason that this victory would have been impossible. This is well known to any one who is at all familiar with the section of the country."

"The news of the victory of the Zelaya forces comes from Managua, and as the only communication with the Greytown section is by wireless with Port Limon, Bocas, or Colon, it is impossible that news of a victory could have been received in the interior of the country."

Dr. Sequiera said that while he had received no official cable from his people, yet he had a cable stating that there had been no fighting near Greytown. He said also that he was informed that there had been no fighting at Colorado Junction, as reported, and that the revolutionists had not lost this battle. Dr. Sequiera said:

"I think this report of the recapture of Greytown is as false as the report of the battles at Bocas, San Carlos and Colorado Junction. I have cables from my government, which are supplemented by statement of passengers on the Marietta di Giorgio, which proved that these reports of victories by Zelaya's troops were not true."

Dr. Sequiera stated that the Red Cross Hospital at Bluefields had many more wounded of the government troops than revolutionists, and that this would go to show that the victories are not all on the side of the government.

The consul said that he had been informed that Lieutenant Bachl, of the Zelaya army, who was the head of the military school at Managua, had gone over to the revolutionists, and that he has given information as to the dissatisfaction among the troops of Zelaya.—New Orleans Picayune.

He Never Blamed the Booze.
 He took a bottle up to bed
 Drank whiskey hot each night;
 Drank cocktails in the morning,
 But never could get tight.
 He shivered in the morning,
 And always had the blues.
 Until he took a bowl or two—
 But never blamed the booze.

His joints were full of rheumatism;
 His appetite was slack.
 He had pains between the shoulders;
 Chills ran down his back.
 He suffered with insomnia
 At night he couldn't sooze.
 He said it was the climate—
 But he never blamed the booze.

His constitution was rundown,
 It was overworked, he said;
 His legs were swelled each morning,
 And often had swelled head.
 He tackled beer, wine, whiskey,
 And if they didn't fuse,
 He blamed it on dyspepsia—
 But he never blamed the booze.

He claimed he hardly slept at night,
 And always had bad dreams;
 He claimed he often lay awake
 Till early sun rise beams,
 He thought it was malaria—
 Alas, 'twas but a ruse,
 He blamed it most on everything—
 But he never blamed the booze.

His liver needed scraping,
 And his kidneys had the gout.
 He swallowed lots of bitters,
 Till at last he cleaned them out.
 His legs were swelled with dropsy,
 Till he had to cut his shoes;
 He blamed it on the doctor—
 But he never blamed the booze.

Then he had the tremens,
 And he tackled rats and snakes;
 First he had the fever,
 Then he had the snakes.
 At last he had a funeral,
 And to give him his just dues,
 The epitaph carved for him was—
 "He never blamed the booze."

Amarillo on last Saturday voted an additional $100,000 bonded debt on herself for the purpose of building more school houses. The vote was very light, there being only 153 cast, and only ten of them were against the issue, showing that Amarillo has but very few of the unprogressive kind of citizen.

The prospects of a fight with Nicaragua have caused heavy business at the recruiting stations, it is reported. Young America is always glad of a chance to get some real fighting.

We don't want to see a war, but if that little way-station republic down there looks like it even wanted to start something, we hope it will get all that U. S. marines can hand it.

If that telegraph company can give better wire service between Dallas and Wichita Falls, the Times, for one, will not care how many mergers there are.

Early History of Jim Jeffries.
Spokane, Wash., Nov. 23.—Jeffries will give Johnson a worse beating than he did that boy from whom he won his first fight down in Los Angeles in 1887, when he scored in three rounds and carried home a purse of $7.50. His next fight may take longer, but it will net him ten thousand times more money.

This is the opinion of John Webb, a business man of Spokane, until recently of Butte and before that a resident of Los Angeles, who claims to be the pugilistic father of the ex-boilermaker. 'Jeff demurred at first when we invited him to the boxing club for a try-out with some of the boys.' Webb continued, 'but he was finally prevailed upon for a 'go' and won easily. He put his opponent out in short order in the second fight, and it took more than 10 minutes to revive the loser. His work became the talk of the town and soon got to the boy's father, who, though poor, were proud and did not relish the idea of developing a fighter. 'One of his two sisters, now married to business men of Los Angeles, came to my store a short time after the second fight and drove me out of the back door with a broom, saying that her family resented our activities in trying to make a pugilist out of the boy. But when we became better acquainted there was many a hearty laugh over our first meeting.

'When Corbett and Fitzsimmons were matched, Jeff was taken on as a sparring partner by the former on my recommendation. In the first round Jeff knocked Corbett down and then jumped through the ropes saying he might kill the champion. However, he went back when it was explained that he was to let Corbett do the punching, saying: 'I can whip Corbett now and I'll be able to lick Fitz in two years.' The rest is history.

SHORT ITEMS OF INTEREST

A marriage license was issued today to J. F. Thomason of Clyde and Mrs. Hennie Bible of McKinney.

The football team is practicing nightly for its game Thursday and is getting into shape to win. The Vernon team is reported to be a strong one, but the local eleven expects to be able to handle them. The game may be played at the high school grounds, instead of at the baseball park, as originally planned.

Mr. S. M. Kennedy, formerly of Greenville, Texas, has located in the city for the purpose of engaging in the jewelry business. He will occupy the store room at 609 8th street, which is at present occupied by the Criterion Millinery Store, and expects to be ready for business soon after December 1st. Watch for his announcement.

A small boy, named Wilmuth, sustained a badly bruised arm south of town this morning, he falling from a wagon, the wheels of which passed over his arm. In spite of the fact that the wagon was loaded with about forty bushels of potatoes the arm was not broken and the boy is getting along nicely. Dr. Miller dressed the wound.

The Chamber of Commerce received a letter from a man at Dallas, representing himself as a gas and oil expert, who said that in 1903 he prospecting for oil and gas here for a syndicate and found them in paying quantities. O disagreement with his employees he said, had prevented his making these facts known to them, but he was willing to furnish the information to the Chamber of Commerce for a stipulated sum. There was no doubt, he said, that both oil and gas existed underground here in large quantities. The orthography and diction of the letter were not such as to inspire confidence in the writer and his offer has not been accepted.

CHEVY CHASE.

The Old Rodgers Mansion and the Famous Washington Club.

Doubtless few of the many thousands of persons who have read of Chevy Chase have any idea of the interesting history attached to the clubhouse and surroundings. Part of the old colonial structure as it stands today was erected in 1747 and from that time until a few years ago remained in the Rodgers family. In the war of 1812, when the British were advancing on Washington, the army and navy records were taken from the White House and secreted in the cellar of the Rodgers mansion, where they were kept for several days.

The Rodgers family has been famous in the American navy, no fewer than seven having served as admirals. The estate consisted of something like 200 acres, and as the beautifying of the property was always a hobby of its owners it is not surprising that unusual taste should have been shown in laying it out. It is a fact that there are 105 varieties of trees and bushes to be found within a stone's throw of the clubhouse. Not far from the present fourth green there was once a sunken garden, but this is scarcely more than a memory now.

The Chevy Chase club took possession in 1888 and at first rented the property from the Rodgers estate, but later the club purchased 200 acres. Several horse shows have been conducted on the property, and some years back the regular old fashioned county fairs were popular there. The membership consists of persons prominent in Washington socially. It is only half an hour's ride from the treasury to the door of the clubhouse.—Exchange.

Not Vindictive.

"There are germs lying in wait for you, no matter where you turn," said the scientist.

"I know it," replied the matter of fact person. "I dislike germs as much as anybody can, but I'm not going to quit eating, drinking and breathing just to spite 'em."—Washington Star.

A Gold Mine to All

The following is an analysis of water taken from a well on my farm two miles southwest of town, on the road to Lake Wichita; was made by G. S. Fraps, Ph. D., State Chemist, at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, on Oct. 13th, 1909.

This sample of water has the following composition, expressed in grains, per U. S. Gallon:

|                         |        |
| Carbonate of Lime.....  | 7.58   |

A Pretty Suburban Cottage.

Picturesque Roof Combination With an Ornamental Piazza—Estimated Cost About $4,200.

Designed by Albert E. Davis, the Bronx, New York.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

This pretty suburban cottage presents a broad and homelike exterior with Grecian lattice railing and colonial spindles ornamenting the piazza and a picturesque roof combination of hips and projecting gables with verge boards. Its dimensions are 22 by 41 feet. The exterior is weatherboarded, with fluted colonial pilasters at the angles and recessed panels under the windows and half timber stucco work in the gables. The foundations are of stone, and the roof is of slate. The side chimney is exposed and faced with mottled brick in two shades laid in white mortar. Cellar floor is cemented. The vestibule, hall and dining room are finished in oak, with oak paneling under the stairs. Parlor and sitting room in cherry and the bathroom in ash. All the other rooms are finished in whitewood. The vestibule is tiled. The front windows have venetian blinds, the others outside blinds. There are electric bells and burglar alarms. Total cost, including plumbing and heating, $4,200. ALBERT E. DAVIS, Architect.

A CHANGE OF HEADS.

The Trick a Dusky Ruler Wanted a Magician to Perform.

Thurston, the magician, had many interesting experiences during his professional tour of the globe several years ago. He went to all sorts of outlandish places and appeared before rulers of many strange lands and communities. On one occasion his manager had arranged that Thurston should give an exhibition before the ruler of a province called Pagopago, in the Fiji islands. In the crowd that saw the exhibition were many of the black and yellow slaves of the chieftain. All the spectators were amazed at the many strange manifestations of the black art that Thurston offered, but no trick appealed so strongly to the assembled retinue and to the chieftain as that in which a white duck was made to appear with a black head and a black duck, after a moment's manipulation, with the head of the white duck. The trick had to be repeated, and then the chieftain engaged in a long whispered conversation with the interpreter.

"What is desired?" queried the obliging trick player.

The interpreter coughed apologetically and then responded: "Respected sir, our honored sire wishes you to take two of his slaves and put a yellow head on a black man and the black head on the body of a yellow slave. Our honored sire thinks it would be very funny."

"Tell his royal highness," Thurston replied, "that I could give a yellow man a black eye, but I would not like to attempt to make his entire head black."—Philadelphia Record.

MONEY IN JUNK.

The Stuff is Always in Demand, and the Profits Are Large.

Up and down the dirty back alleys drives the junkman, singing his mournful, nasal cry, loading his rickety wagon with broken scraps and pieces of old iron, an object of pity or of ridicule to most of the uninformed public. Let him be admired or envied, rather, for if not he himself, at least his employer, is probably making more money than nine out of ten professional men.

Few things are more depressing and unsightly than a little pile of junk as high as a two story building. One may see such piles in every city, and so far as the casual observer can determine none of the stuff is ever moved. The piles increase apparently from month to month and grow rustier and rustier but the men in the business keep on buying.

How are they able to keep so much money tied up? Where do they get the large amount of capital which seems to be necessary?

They borrow from the banks, like any other business man, on the security of their stock in trade.

"No better security," the president of almost any bank will declare. "It can neither burn nor blow away. It can't be damaged by water or smoke. Where is there a collateral like that? It is absolutely safe. The foundries and the nut and bolt works and the stove factories can't get along without it. It pays the largest profits of any business to which we lend money, and these profits fluctuate very little. Junk is always in demand. The men in that business are excellent customers."—Technical World Magazine.

Laughing Disclosures.

Concerning the laughter of the Frenchman, it should be noted that our neighbors have worked out a system of character reading by the vowel in which one laughs. Laugh in A (our English "Ha, ha"), and, according to Larousse, you reveal yourself as frank, inconstant and fond of noise and movement. Laughter in E ("Heh, heh") would be the English rendering for phlegmatic and melancholy. Children and simple persons laugh in a French "Ho, ho"), showing themselves devoted, but timid and irresolute, and it is observed that blonds laugh "He, he!" "Ho, ho, ho!" is not the laugh of an ogre, but of one who is generous in spirit and bold in action, though of a woman who laughs like that one should beware. But both men and women who laugh in U should be shunned like the plague, since they have given fair warnings that they are misers, hypocrites or misanthropes. London Chronicle.

Owing to ill health, I will sell at public auction, township 31, range 22, block nine in Gee Haw survey, One crush raspberry cow, aged six years. She is a good milker and not afraid of the cars, or anything else. She is a cow of undaunted courage, and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form, she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her home by the means of trace chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one fourth short horn and three fourths Hyena; purchaser need not be identified. I will also throw in a Lefever double-barrel shot gun purchased at the Wilson Hardware Company, which goes with her.

In May she generally goes away for a week or two and returns with a long wabby-legged calf. Her name is Rose and I would prefer to sell her to a non-resident.

We will also exchange anything in the Wilson Hardware line consisting of the Celebrated Velle Buggies and carriages for mules and horses. A big reduction for cash.

'The Cat and the Fiddle.'
Manager Bean announces that for Thanksgiving, matinee and night, he has secured the famous Chas. A. Sellon and the Elmore Sisters in 'The Cat and the Fiddle.' This attraction was booked for a week in Salt Lake City, Utah, and broke all records for the season. The Salt Lake Evening Telegram says:

'The biggest crowd the Colonial Theatre has had for any performance this year went away from the house last night whistling 'My Maid in the Moon,' one of the song hits of 'The Cat and the Fiddle.' It was a happy big crowd and all were under the spell of the catchy tunes and the spirit of frivolity that permeated the show.

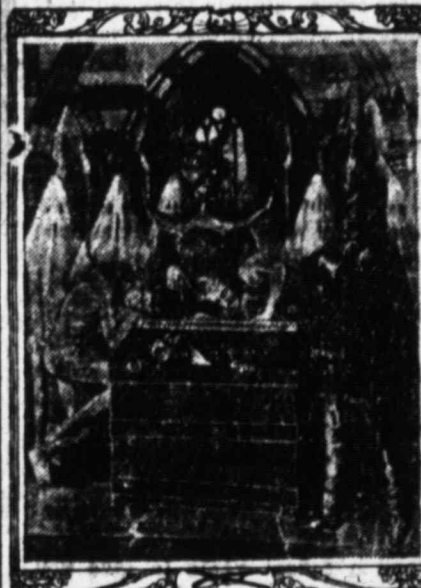

'It is seldom, indeed, that a show is better the second time it comes to town than it was the first trip, but such is the case with this little musical comedy. When 'The Cat and the Fiddle' played at the Salt Lake theatre it pleased, but many improvements have been made since then and as presented last night at the Colonial it proved immensely popular.

'Not a vacant seat was visible down stairs, and the box office reported the sale for the balcony and gallery the same. Even the boxes were entirely occupied.

One good thing about the show is that it requires no effort for the audience to enjoy it. All one has to do is to get comfortably seated and he will soon be entertained. It is just a jolly, silly, singing comedy, with stage tricks that puzzle and astonish every minute—scenery that is beautiful and dazzling at times, good music and a capable cast.

Charles Sellon is featured in the show as 'Happy,' the tramp. He is a pleasing comedian, never coarse, but ever mirthful. He can sing and he can make one laugh.

'The two Elmore sisters, taking the parts of twins, are dainty, winsome little creatures who quickly win the hearts of the audience. They are just 'cute'—that describes them. In their takeoff in grand opera they scored a big hit last night. It was splendidly done and not overdone, as is often the case in attempts to poke fun at the grander music. These little girls are exceedingly clever and their future is sure to be bright.

A FUNNY SCENE IN 'THE CAT AND THE FIDDLE'

'The chorus can sing as few choruses do. And that is a fact easily appreciated in these days of poor stage voices.

'It would take the worst sort of an old grouch to pick flaws in 'The Cat and the Fiddle,' and as the writer thoroughly enjoyed himself all through the show, he is not going to dig up any faults with it.

'The Shriners have contracted for the house tomorrow night, but will sell tickets to the public. These good fellows made no mistake in selecting 'The Cat and the Fiddle' for their night of entertainment. They are the boys who know how to enjoy themselves and this clever musical comedy will hit the right spot.

'As the audience filed out of the theatre last night the orchestra played the bewitching air of 'My Maid in the Moon' and soon hundreds were whistling it as they walked.'

A company of some forty singers, dancers, comedians and a large and carefully trained beauty chorus smartly gowned are promised. The plot is founded on the famous old nursery rhyme of 'Hi Diddle Diddle, the Cat and the Fiddle.' It deals with sprites, fairies, elf's mortals, immortals, etc., and a large field for fun making, ballet evolutions, chorus number and music is entered into, and, it is claimed, full advantage taken of.

It is a long time since 'Fantasma,' 'The Black Crook,' 'Mother Goose,' 'The Babes in the Woods,' and for that reason 'The Cat and the Fiddle' is interesting.

Some of the prominent scenes include, 'On Deck of the Fairy Ship Diana,' 'The Golden Fire Shower,' 'The Airship,' 'Under the Sea,' 'The Giants Haunted Castle,' and others, too numerous to mention.

GO SOUTH, YOUNG MAN

Secretary Wilson Amends Horace Greeley's Famous Utterance
Washington, Nov. 20.—'Go South, young man,' ought to be substituted by the Department of Agriculture for Horace Greeley's 'Go West, young man,' where Secretary Wilson not afraid the changed admonition might be construed as smacking too strongly of an attempt upon the part of a branch of the Government leading itself to a claim of sectional advantages.

While the Secretary would not give an official O K to the substitution, he decanted enthusiastically today on the agricultural possibility of the South, and subscribed heartily to the sentiment that the Southern States are teeming with opportunities worth going after. Secretary Wilson is confident that the Southern farmer can double and treble his cotton acreage by pursuing scientific methods.

His first advice is for the Southern farmer to eradicate the cattle tick, through the success of which he will be able to raise more cattle. To accomplish this end he advises the cotton farmer to keep their cotton seed meal, and feed it to their cattle. It is cheap feed and cattle thrive upon it.

The South, he says, is remarkably well adapted to cattle raising, which can be made a profitable industry by utilizing the meal from the cotton seed for feed.

'There is no such thing as worn-out lands in the South,' continued Secretary Wilson. 'There are lands in the South now considered worn out that are worth as much as lands in the West valued at $150 an acre. The so-called worn-out farmers can be made immensely profitable if the owners will only recognize and practice scientific methods in their cultivation.'

A Big Slump In Natural Gas.
Owing to the Natural Gas that my competitors have been using in the way of printer's ink the last few days, all the people who are depending on this commodity for household use have had to almost do without fuel.

If they continue to give the public the same amount right along, we will have to get a pipe line run from the new fields at Electra.

There are no strange things in their statements with regard to the value of an insurance policy, as everybody knows that the value of a policy is what it is worth after you have a fire.

The State of Texas recognized the fact that the public had been swindled in times gone by and made a very stringent law with regard to insurance companies of all kinds, and make each company, before they can do business in the state, put up so much money, and then put up a certain amount of premium in reserve so that the public will be protected and won't have to depend on the good graces of such people as my competitors in putting them 'next' by advertising in their behalf and paying for the advertisement.

When a fellow wants to give you some free advice like that, you can put it down that there is a string on it.

As to my companies, will say that I can give to you a policy that has no superior with regard to STRENGTH, PROMPT, JUST and CERTAIN settlements, and also in companies that are but few years older than they; some that have not only stood the test of the last fifty years in America, but have stood the test of the old countries for nearly TWO HUNDRED YEARS.

I do not, for a minute, insinuate that I am the only pebble on the beach; all the agents in Wichita Falls have first-class companies, but I do want to say that I certainly appreciate your business, and promise you as much for your money as any one else can give.

I appreciate your business—let me convince you. W. W. JACKSON, 164-6tc Next door to Postoffice.

Benjamin Clothes

After all, it's really the tailor who makes a suit a success or a failure. The most fascinating style would be a maze if there were not careful needle work underneath.

The most phenomenal designer on earth could not make a garment a success without the co-operation of the tailor. It is he who, by the diligent plying of his needle, gives shape and style and ensures service.

The world's most excellent tailors are congregated in New York on account of its being the greatest clothes manufacturing center in the world. They have more work and are better paid there.

Could there be a better explanation of why 'Benjamin Clothes,' Made in New York, are the most stylish and the most perfectly made of any on earth. Won't you make it your particular business to see these wonderful 'Benjamin Clothes.'

Crop Report for November.

The crop reporting board of the bureau of statistics of the United States Department of Agriculture estimates, from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the bureau, as follows, all figures for 1909 being preliminary:

CORN—The preliminary estimate of the average yield per acre of corn is 25.4 bushels, against 26.2 bushels as finally estimated in 1908, 25.9 in 1907, and 25.8 bushels the average past ten years. The indicated total production is 2,767,316,000 bushels, against 2,668,651,000, as finally estimated in 1908.

About 3 per cent (79779,000 bushels) of the corn crop of 1909 is estimated to have been in farmers hands on November 1, against 2.7 per cent (71,124,000 bushels) of the 1907 crop in farmers hands on November 1, 1908, and 4.1 per cent, the average of similar estimates for the past ten years.

ARAB FASHIONS.

Clothes the Natives Wear and the Tailors Who Make Them.

Conservative in all matters, the Arab is especially averse to change in the matter of clothes. Not only do the fashions of the Arabs never change, writes Graham Petrie in "Tunis, Kairouan and Carthage," but they are very restricted. Although every Arab wears a gandoura more or less richly embroidered, it is always worked in one of three accepted patterns, from which no deviation nor any combination is permitted.

The only matter in which persons taste is allowed to show itself is in the choice of color. In this respect entire freedom is permitted and taken full advantage of, although it is curious to note that the more delicate shades of pink, yellow and mauve are general; worn by elderly men, while rich red and brown are in favor with their juniors.

The souk-el-trouk is the souk of the tailors in Tunis, and here in numerous little shops the sartorial needs of the Arab population are fashioned and temptingly displayed. I call them shops for want of a better word, but they are as unlike the European shop as anything one can imagine. They are really recesses separated from each other by coupled columns painted with stripes of red and green, which support a continuous cornice, richly carved and colored. There are no windows or doors, and the shop is raised some four feet above the ground. To this elevation the tailor nimbly vaults, for there are no steps to assist him. Sitting crosslegged in orthodox fashion, he there cuts out, pieces together and embellishes the gay silk waistcoats, gandouras and other garments beloved of the Arab.

MAINE SPOOKS.

A Ghost House, a Phantom Light and a Mystic Woodchuck.

Bowdoinham boasts a veritable ghost house where it is said the chairs refuse to stay quietly in their places, but in the middle of the night walk out and draw together in groups just as if guided by visible hands. Then there is a spirit cane that goes walking all by itself just at midnight, tapping its way along from room to room and finally taking up its abode in the chamber where a member of the family sleeps. That this statement is true is affirmed by those who have seen the phenomena and who are not at all afraid of ghosts.

At another house in the village is a phantom light that shines each night no matter whether it be moonlight or darkness just above the closet door in the upper chamber. For years this light has disturbed the people who at different times have occupied the room, and some have been much afraid of the flickering gleam. From time to time different explanations have been offered, but none has proved satisfactory. The light continues to shine, and no one can account for the mystery.

Down at Lazy O camp is a spook woodchuck which every evening, just at the sunset hour, comes out of an old family tomb, halfway between the camp and the home farm. There on the tomb he sits quietly, watching the sunset lights on the waters of Merry-meeting. Just as the sun sinks below the horizon he disappears. The tomb swallows him up, and he is seen no more until the sunset hour comes round again.—Kennebec Journal.

Arab Buttermaking.

Among the Arabs an interesting department of woman's duty is dairy work. This, like all other operations, is carried out on an old fashioned and patriarchal plan. To make butter, for instance, a small sheepskin is filled with milk and tied to a ring in the wall. The woman then sits flat on the floor and rocks it to and fro till little balls of butter begin to form within. These grow larger and larger and accumulate and are finally brought out as one big lump. The remaining milk is then boiled on the fire with bits of meat. The male members of the family now come together. A large dish of cooked rice is placed before them and the boiled milk poured over it. Then, making balls of the mixture with his hands, each member quickly swallows his share and rises to wash his hands. This done, the girls and mother sit down and eat what the men are pleased to leave.

Hats and Old Age.

In opening the services one Sunday recently the pastor of one of the fashionable churches said: "For three Sundays I have asked the women in this church to remove their hats during service. My appeal has been unheeded, and now I see wherein I was wrong. I was inconsiderate of the comforts of the aged and infirm, so I have made a new rule. Hereafter all women of forty years of age or over will be permitted to wear their hats during the service."

Within twenty seconds every woman in the church was bareheaded.—Ladies' Home Journal.

His Last Place.

"But," said the merchant to the applicant, "you don't furnish any reference from your last place."

"You needn't worry about that," replied the man with the close cropped head and strange pallor: "I wouldn't be here now if it hadn't been for my good behavior in my last place."—Catholic Standard and Times.

She Can Eat Pie Now.
A lady recently visited a friend in Keene, N. H., whose husband was very delicate, and yet she noticed that he could eat all the pie he wanted. She began to wonder how it was that he could do it, when she had to give up this delicacy because of disagreeable after effects. She writes as follows:
"I found it was because the pies were made with Cottolene; and as I am a great lover of pie, I began using Cottolene, and have never had a bit of hard in the house since that time. I now enjoy my pie, as it does not give heart-burn as formerly."
Cottolene makes crisp, flaky, "digestible" pie-crust, that tastes good, and does good—lard does you harm.
