PIERCE DECLARES READY FOR TRIAL

ALLEGED PERJURER APPEARS IN DISTRICT COURT AT AUSTIN THIS MORNING.

TECHNICALITY IS FOUND

General Impression Prevails That Oil Magnate Will Come Clear of All Charges.

Texas News Service Special. Austin, Tex., Nov. 29.—H. Clay Pierce, the St. Louis multi-millionaire, head of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, appeared in District Judge Calhoun's court at 12:20 this morning to stand trial on the charge of perjury in connection with the ousting of his company from Texas.

Pierce arrived in a private car via the Katy and took late breakfast on the cars. He was twenty minutes late appearing in court.

He was accompanied by his attorneys, H. B. Priest, of St. Louis; E. B. Perkins, of Dallas, and James H. Robertson, of Austin.

The court granted a recess until 11:30. It is reported that the charge against Pierce will be dismissed, but there is no confirmation. Because of a clerical error improper service was obtained on the jury and the lists are mixed.

Next week's jury was summoned instead of those for the present week. When the error was discovered, the proper jurors were summoned so both sets of jurors reported were demanded by the state.

Judge Priest was asked by a Texas News Service correspondent if they were in a private car. He replied, smiling, "watch and see."

All are confident of a dismissal or acquittal.

Several attorneys insist that the conviction of Pierce is impossible, inasmuch as the Waters-Pierce Company was organized on May 23, 1900, and Pierce signed the affidavit, which is the cause of the present suit on May 30, of that year, and it is up to the state to prove an illegal combination existed between the Waters-Pierce and the Standard Oil Companies in those days.

PLOT TO BLOW UP TWO POLICEMEN IS FOILED

Texas News Service Special.

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 29.—A plot to kill one of the three desk sergeants at police headquarters was foiled today, when acting Day Sergeant James Woods discovered a stick of dynamite with a cap attached at the back of the sergeant's desk.

Efforts by Police Commissioner Geo. Mulkey to learn who placed the bomb have failed.

The explosive was placed on the window sill, where a slight movement of the desk would have thrown it on the floor.

The charge of dynamite was sufficient to wreck the city hall.

The lives of Sergeants Charles Newby and Geo. Almoraz were endangered.

PATRICK STILL FIGHTS; AGAIN SEEKS RELEASE

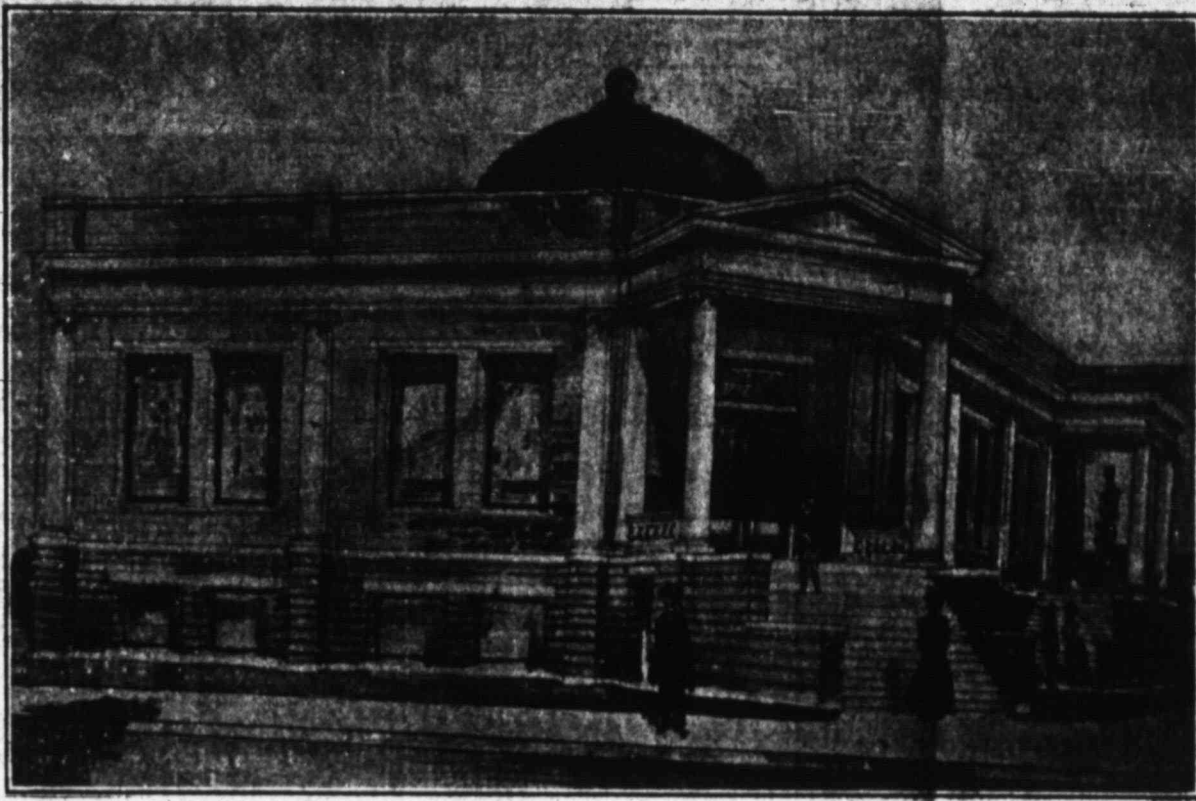

By Associated Press.

New York, Nov. 29.—Albert T. Patrick, whose sentence of death for the murder of William Rice was commuted to life imprisonment, appeared today before the appellate division of the supreme court of Brooklyn to argue that within the law he has already suffered death and has thus paid his debt to the state in full and should be freed.

The failure of the warden to electrocute in compliance with the first order of the court, argues Patrick, constitutes an act of non-feasance.

New Methodist Church Dedicated Yesterday Morning With Appropriate Ceremonies--Bishop Quayle Preaches

Wichita Falls' beautiful new house of worship was dedicated with appropriate exercises yesterday morning, in the presence of a large assembly.

An impressive program was carried out at the dedication, the music being a feature. The other congregations had dismissed their services in order that their members might attend the dedicatory exercises and the ceremonies were carried out before a large audience.

The dedicatory sermon was preached by Bishop William A. Quayle, who is at the head of the American Methodist church, and the eloquent discourse most fittingly commemorated the structure to the uses for which it was intended.

At the rate of six hundred dollars a minute for twenty-two minutes, funds were raised to the extent of over fourteen thousand dollars, this amount being confined almost altogether to the membership and immediate friends of the church. This was accomplished in spite of the fact that a heavy rain was falling.

There has been but eleven hundred dollars paid from sources outside of the church in the city on the Y. M. C. A. end of the building, which leaves about $6,900 to be provided for to assure this part of the structure, the church having entirely covered its end of the proposition.

EXCITEMENT AT POLLS.

Bands Playing and Women Praying in Prohibition Election.

By Associated Press. Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 29.—Band music was played around each of the four voting places of Birmingham to drown the prayers and singing and pleadings of the women and children gathered around the polls to influence votes for the constitutional amendment for prohibition. Deputy sheriffs and extra policemen are on duty at the polls and excitement is intense.

Both the amendments and anti-amendment people make claims, the latter saying a landslide is looked for against the amendment. When the women began singing and praying the bands struck up "Dixie" or some rag time music.

A permanent hospital commission was appointed, to consist of the following: Dr. C. N. Robinson of Dallas, president; Rev. R. E. Farley of Wichita Falls, secretary; Rev. J. P. Boeyer of Fort Worth, Rev. R. J. Summerville of Fort Worth, Rev. O. E. Olander of Georgetown, superintendent of the Austin District. Dr. Robinson was appointed field secretary.

GREAT WHITE WAY IS CONTEMPLATED

CITY CONSIDERING PLANS FOR A BRILLIANT LIGHTING SYSTEM DOWNTOWN.

CLUSTERS OF ELECTRICS

If Carried Out, Plans Will Make Wichita Falls Brilliantly Illuminated City.

Plans for a street lighting system that will make Wichita Falls one of the best illuminated cities in the Southwest are being formulated by the city authorities and if the scheme is carried out, the downtown district will be a "great white way" in very truth.

It is proposed to install clusters of five lights each along the side walks downtown, at convenient distances apart, averaging three or four to the block on each side. These clusters are to be on short iron posts and their light will be sufficient to illuminate to the center of the street. The plans for these lights are as yet indefinite, but it is settled that they will be installed if the work can be done at any reasonable cost.

The work of placing the new lights recently ordered is progressing very slowly on account of unavoidable delays in getting the iron posts constructed. This part of the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible, however, and it will probably not be long before the lights are in place.

The executive committee in charge of the hospital will consist of Rev. Robinson, Rev. Farley and Rev. Summerville.

The details of organization will be gotten under way at once and it is likely that still more definite steps will be taken at an early date.

The hunt for Sardin extended over the entire country.

LITTLE ROCK FRANCHISE.

Dallas Opposes; Houston Favors Admission to Texas League.

Texas News Service Special. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 29.—Joe Garner, manager and owner of the Dallas baseball team of the Texas League, today declared he will oppose the admission of Little Rock, displacing Galveston in the Texas League.

The Galveston franchise has been offered for sale and it is understood that the Arkansas capitol seeks a place in the Texas circuit.

Gardner contends that the distance to Little Rock would make that a losing proposition, financially.

FIRST STRAWBERRIES AT HOUSTON.

Texas News Service Special. Houston, Tex., Nov. 29.—The first strawberries of this season were marketed here this morning at the price of one dollar per quart. The shipment was received from Aldine, Harris county, where it is reported dry weather will shorten the crop of South Texas.

Doak Roberts, owner of the Houston franchise, is not here today, but it is understood that he would not oppose Little Rock as the eighth member, should Galveston dispose of her franchise.

PARLOUS WEATHER IN PANHANDLE DISTRICTS

Texas News Service Special. Childress, Tex., Nov. 29.—More than three and a half inches of rain have fallen in the lower Panhandle in the last thirty-six hours, and is still falling. The upper Panhandle is snow-bound.

Trainmen reaching Childress this morning say that the snow storm from Amarillo to Texline is the worst in many years.

The entire north plains country is covered with heavy snow drifts several feet high. The Red and Pease rivers are bank-full today as a result of the almost unprecedented precipitation. The creeks are overflowing an dlow lands are flooded.

Farmers declare there is enough moisture in the ground to last until spring.

An effort will be made at once to import hundreds of farm tenants to increase the acreage under cultivation.

REPUBLICANS GET READY TO FIGHT

EITHER ATWELL OR OGDEN WILL PROBABLY HEAD PARTY IN COMING CAMPAIGN.

GETTING DOWN TO WORK

Understood They Will Make Early Start in This Campaign and Put Up Hard Fight.

Texas News Service Special. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 29.—Silent heretofore in the Texas gubernatorial contest, which has aroused great interest among the democrats, the republicans in authority today announced that they will now take up the campaign.

Those most prominently mentioned for the gubernatorial candidacy are John N. Simpson, who was the nominee last year; C. W. Ogden, Cecil A. Lyon and W. H. Atwell. These four men practically control the republicans and they will oppose state-wide prohibition as they did in the last campaign.

It is expected that Simpson will decline because of his former candidacy and that Lyon prefers not to run, narrowing the contest down to Atwell and Ogden, although a "dark horse" may be nominated at the last moment.

ALABAMA DECIDES LIQUOR QUESTION

PROHIBITION CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT BEING VOTED ON IN THAT STATE TO-DAY.

IS ALREADY STATUTORY

Result of Today's Election May Make Anti-Saloon Legislation a Part of Organic Law.

By Associated Press.
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 29.—The voters of Alabama are deciding today whether they will make the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors a part of the organic law of the state. The question of whether the state constitution is to be thus amended was submitted at a special session of the state legislature called by Gov. Comer last August.
That session was one of the most bitter in this history of the commonwealth and the campaign which followed and which closed tonight, was not more peaceful.

The amendment which would forever bar liquor from the state is the crowning feature of the most drastic anti-liquor legislation ever introduced in any state. The present legislature, elected on a local option platform, took the bit in its teeth and went to extremes unheard of before, in all lines of prohibition law making.

Obeying the platform which the people endorsed at the general election of 1906, the two houses passed in 1907 a local option bill which held the county as the unit. The liquor men fought this act and followed with agitation for its repeal. But they did not know how well off they were, for this agitation resulted in another move by the radical prohibitionists, who forced a special session the same year, during which, after a bitter fight, both houses passed almost unanimously the state-wide prohibition bill. Again the liquor element fought, with the repeal of the act as its object. Again the prohibitionists retaliated, this time by the special session of 1909, which broke all records by not only submitting the question of the amendment to the constitution, but enacted the now famous Fuller bill which is conceded to be the most drastic sumptuary law ever drafted. The bill to be voted on today, provided for the submission to the voters of an amendment to the constitution for the purpose of forever prohibiting the manufacture, sale and keeping for sale of alcoholic and malt liquors and other intoxicating liquors and beverages, with the exception that alcohol may be sold for medical, scientific and mechanical purposes, and wine for sacramental purposes under such regulations as the legislature may have prescribed or may hereafter prescribe and to declare that nothing in the constitution of Alabama shall be construed to prevent the legislature under the police power from designating the places where such liquor may not be stored or kept.

The second provision would give to the legislature the power to prohibit citizens from keeping liquors in their homes, if at any time prohibition enthusiasm became strong enough to demand this drastic action. The latter part of the amendment is put forth frankly to meet the recent ruling of the supreme court that liquor is a commodity which can be possessed and stored where and in such quantities as its owner may see fit, so long as he does offer it for sale.

The fight during the campaign just closed has been marked by more bitterness than has attended any other political issue in years. Both United States Senators and five of the nine congressmen are opposing the amendment. Gov. Comer, Lieut. Gov. Gray and Speaker Carmichael are supporting it.

During the balloting tomorrow, the women will serve hot coffee and lunches to voters. All guesses as to the result are hazardous. About half of the 150,000 voters failed to pay their poll tax, not knowing that there would be an election this year, consequently these are debarred from voting. Just which side is affected is not known.
That the fight will be close, and that the result will not be known until the votes are all counted goes without saying.

AMUSEMENTS

Louis James Tonight.
Mr. Louis James appeared at the Beyers opera house in Fort Worth Saturday night, and yesterday's Fort Worth Record says:

'Louis James in 'Henry VIII.'
'One of the cleverest comedians who ever appeared on the American stage, Louis James has always best preferred heavy roles, and among these Cardinal Wolsey in Shakespeare's 'Henry VIII' has been one of his best beloved characters. With 'Henry VIII' he is now making his annual tour and in it appeared at the Byers last night. Mr. James is using the Edwin Booth version, which strips the play of all extraneous matter and yet perfectly retaining the fundamentals, gives the piece in five acts, which are played in two and a quarter hours.

'Henry VIII' is one of the plays attributed to Shakespeare over which there has long been dispute of authorship and many adulous persons do not believe that the humble player, playwright and manager in the days of good Queen Bess was the author of the piece, or at least that he was not the sole author. Be that as it may it stands as a marvel of character portrayal. Therein lies the secret of Shakespeare being eternally new and vital. Human nature has always been what human nature now is and humanity recognizes its prototype written for them by Shakespeare some centuries since, and, whether they wear the court costume of Henry VIII or that of the days of Italian renaissance, still is humanity delighted with a glimpse of its own nature stripped bare of pretense—with the very inside wheels made plain to the vision, that one may see not only the action, but the processes of mind and the purposes behind.

'Such is the character Mr. James portrays, true to the historical conception of the man and true to the best traditions of the sage character. Throughout, the James reading was a source of great delight. Louis James is one of the very few actors still left us who can read blank verse without conscious effort, and by reason of the wonderful depths and perfect modulations of his voice give his hearers all the beauty and melody blank verse contains.

'Supporting Mr. James in the role of Queen Catherine is his wife, Aphie James. Mrs. James is the youngest woman who has ever undertaken the exacting role of Catherine. Her interpretation is nothing short of a revelation to those who have for several years known her as an interpreter of the lighter Shakespearean roles. There is a queenly dignity of bearing, there is a queenly quality in her defiance of Wolsey, and all through, conscious fully that she is the lawful wife of another, she bears herself with regalness which she can never forget as her proper deportment. In her pleading she is intensely feminine, however. She is merely the woman who loves and who is about to be put away; she is the helpless pawn in a game played by a king and a cardinal; she feels her helplessness at one moment and at another she defies and cries out that she will appeal to her friends at the court of Spain. But at last she is conquered—she is merely the wronged and suffering woman and the queen no longer. In the last act in which she dies, there is the tension of great repressed emotion and the suppressed voice which has come from long religious meditation and from the conscious approach of death for the unhappy Catherine according to best evidence, died of cancer.

Mrs. James' interpretation is wonderfully intelligent, always perfectly sustained and her voice is an unqualified delight. With apparently no effort whatever, her lowest tone reaches every recess of the house and her enunciation is flawless. Not a word in the difficult long speeches which are her portion as Catherine, does she lose or blur, and came to clear every word and its exact meaning is brought to the audience.

Mr. James production is adequate and his supporting company one of well trained players.

TO THE INSURING PUBLIC.

A Few Pertinent Facts About Fire Insurance Which It Will Pay You To Know.

Since the year 1880 some 440 stock companies engaged in the business of fire and marine insurance in the United States have either reinsured, retired, or failed—an average of more than 15 retirements and failures a year.

In purchasing securities, clothing, or builders supplies, or provisions, most buyers are careful to select the best that can be had for the money. Why should not the same law of trade govern the purchase of fire insurance? The rates charged by the stock fire insurance companies are the same. Then why not select policies of companies which have large resources, whose business is carefully selected, and which have honorably met the enormous losses occasioned by the great conflagrations at Chicago, Baltimore and San Francisco, to say nothing of those resulting from the smaller catastrophes of the kind?

Any insurance policy is a good enough policy until the unexpected happens—until a fire comes, then it will be found that it paid to select the best.

Companies represented in our office have more than TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS in United States assets, they are the leaders, strong and old-established.

Don't forget that the very best insurance protection can be had for the same money as an inferior article. 155-16 Anderson & Patterson

A GROWING AND WORTHY ENTERPRISE

Wichita Falls has no enterprise that is of more value to her than the Wichita Falls Foundry and Machine Company, nor has she any concern that was obtained by so little expense in the way of a bonus.

Less than two years ago the promoters of this enterprise submitted a proposition to our Chamber of Commerce to locate here, and only a small donation was asked, and the deal was made.

At first the amount of work turned out did not justify the employment of only three or four possible at times, a half dozen first class machinists and moulders, but every piece of work turned out was of the best, and by this means the concern has built up a business that many an older established concern would feel proud of.

On Saturday night of last week there was on the regular pay roll of this enterprising concern twenty-nine first class machinists and moulders, and at this date before another year passes, there will be double that number.

It not only does work for all the larger concerns, such as the railroads which run into this city, but for mills, elevators, gins and other enterprises where machinery is used in nearly all towns within a radius of 100 miles of Wichita Falls.

The Times is ready to confess now that it, as many others, no doubt, has not had the proper amount of appreciation for an enterprise of this kind, and has had to get into trouble before it could see the real value and convenience of it.

Nearly all printing presses are made by Northern and Eastern concerns, and the kind the Times has in its press room are manufactured in New London, Conn. When a piece breaks, there is nothing to do but send a telegraphic order to the factory for a new part, or else have one made, and it is not often in any city one is able to obtain the services of a first class machinist who will undertake such a job, from the mere fact that an exact duplicate must be made for the broken part or else there is nothing doing in that shop until results can be obtained from the telegraphic order sent to the factory a couple of thousand miles away.

Of course, we sent the order and the piece will arrive in due time, but in less than twenty-four hours after the break-down occurred, the Wichita Falls Foundry had a new part cast from brass, and the press working on time as good as ever.

Had it not been for Wichita Falls having secured this enterprise, in all probably the Times would have been forced to appear in an abbreviated size for several days, and its financial loss would have been considerable.

While the penitentiary committee did not recommend the abolition of the 'Bat' it bravely went on record against beating the convicts to death with it.

Editor W. A. Johnson of Memphis is seriously urged to make the race for state senator. Mr. Johnson is a man of the people, without frills or foolishness, is recognized as the leading man of his community and of the newspaper fraternity of Texas as well. He would make as good a senator as we could wish for, and now 'Diamond Dick' Bowman of Amarillo has become private secretary of the governor there is no other candidate in the field, hence we move to make the nomination unanimous. What say our newspaper brethren?—Quannah Tribune

The Times believes that every citizen of Wichita Falls will rejoice with it in the reassignment of Rev. R. E. Farley to the pastorate of the Methodist church in this city. Brother Farley is one of those tireless workers who help not only the church but the entire community in which they reside and Wichita Falls needs men like him. During his residence in this city, he has built a beautiful new church, is making plans for a deaconess hospital, and if we can only keep him here he is going to get us a school one of these days. Brother Farley has the Wichita Falls spirit and we are glad he is here to stay.

The Times has received a copy of the souvenir edition of the 'Post' published at Havana, Cuba. The paper is printed in English, is handsomely illustrated and sets forth the beauties of the Pearl of the Antilles to good advantage.

Now that the football season is over, we hope the kicking paragraphs will turn their attention to the man who always leaves the office door open.

If the striking shirtwaist makers of New York made peek-a-boo shirtwaists, then the strike isn't such a bad thing after all.

We will rent the front of our store December 1st, and will occupy one-half of the building, which is entirely too small for the stock we have on hand at present. Beginning at once, we will offer to the public our entire stock of millinery and ladies dress suits at actual cost until December 1st.

EVIDENCE MOSTLY IN IN THE CROWELL TRIAL

County Attorney T. B. Greenwood, who has been attending the trial of M. J. Crowell, charged with the murder of his wife, which occurred about one year ago at the Crowell home five or six miles east of this city in Clay county, the particulars of which the readers of the Times are familiar, returned home Saturday night and says the state seems to have developed some new and damaging testimony, and is making out a stronger case against the defendant than on the former trial, when Crowell was found guilty of murder in the second degree and given a long term in the penitentiary.

An appeal was taken from the decision of the lower court and the case reversed on a technical error.

All the children of the defendant are testifying against him in this as on the former trial. It is thought the court will finish the taking of testimony by night, and that argument of the case by the attorneys for the state and defense will begin tomorrow morning.

The attorneys for the defendant are L. H. Mathis of this city; R. E. Taylor, and Messrs. Allen and Parish of Henrietta.

The state is represented by Judge Stine, District Attorney P. A. Martin, and County Attorney Moss.

HAS WONDERFUL MEMORY
Young Chicago Girl is Almost A Freak In That Respect

There lives in Chicago a remarkable young woman, blessed with a beautiful and wonderful gift, of whom the whole world will hear in a brief period of time. She is Miss Ellen Von Volkenburg. After witnessing a single performance of a play she can repeat word for word every utterance of every role and interpret with accuracy every inflection, every gesture, every tone of voice and every detail of stage business.

I called upon Miss Von Volkenburg at her home and found her a thoroughly charming young woman, most gracious of manner, most unassuming and apparently wholly unable to account for her unusual talent which is as mystifying to her as it is to those who have witnessed her demonstrations. She has large brown eyes, a clear olive skin, wonderfully beautiful teeth and a lithe, strong, healthy body. While there is always much animation in her face there is also at times a look of seriousness that makes one feel that there is something about her that is not given to many. She is exquisitely sympathetic and there is ever present an apparent note of extreme sensitiveness.

"When I was a very tiny girl I used to play show," she said. "It was always that. I lived in Fort Wayne, and, of course, the best plays did not come there. But my mother used to take me to the theaters and after seeing a play I could not rest until I had 'played show.' When we lived in hotels, as we have most of my life, the women guests found much amusement in my performances and it was a part of my daily routine to give parts of plays to a little circle of women.

"My interests have always been in theatrical events and theatrical people, though I must confess that I know very few of them and almost nothing about the actual real life behind the footlights. But the drama attracts me strongly. If I go to the theater in a condition of mental repose, I absorb every word, every detail, every voice sound. Sometimes I have selected particularly important plays which I wished to catch entire. I have gone to them in a state of nervous excitement, thinking I must try to remember. I found I could not. The subconscious mind, which takes this all in for me must be tranquil. It must be at peace. Then, afterward, it all comes to me. I can't explain it. It is just there, stowed away somewhere, complete and perfect. I saw 'Zaza' when I was 14 and repeated it when I was 20.

"In Ann Arbor some time ago," said she, "I was visited by an actor named Emmet Kirk. He rather doubted my claims, I believe, and wanted proof. He brought with him a manuscript of a one-act play which he had just completed. The manuscript had never been out of his own hands, and he knew that I had no possible means of access to it. It was a weird story about an absinthe fiend who dreams that he commits murder. I must confess that I did not care for the subject of the story. He took the manuscript of the play and read it through with all the dramatic gestures and regular stage manner of speech. In one part the absinthe fiend opens a safe, takes out a bag of gold and then lifts a chair and crashes it to the floor. When he had finished I started with the opening speech. He tells me I followed the text word for word, and I moved about just as he had done. When I came to the safe incident I went through the same business, but when it came to lifting the make-believe chair I couldn't do it.

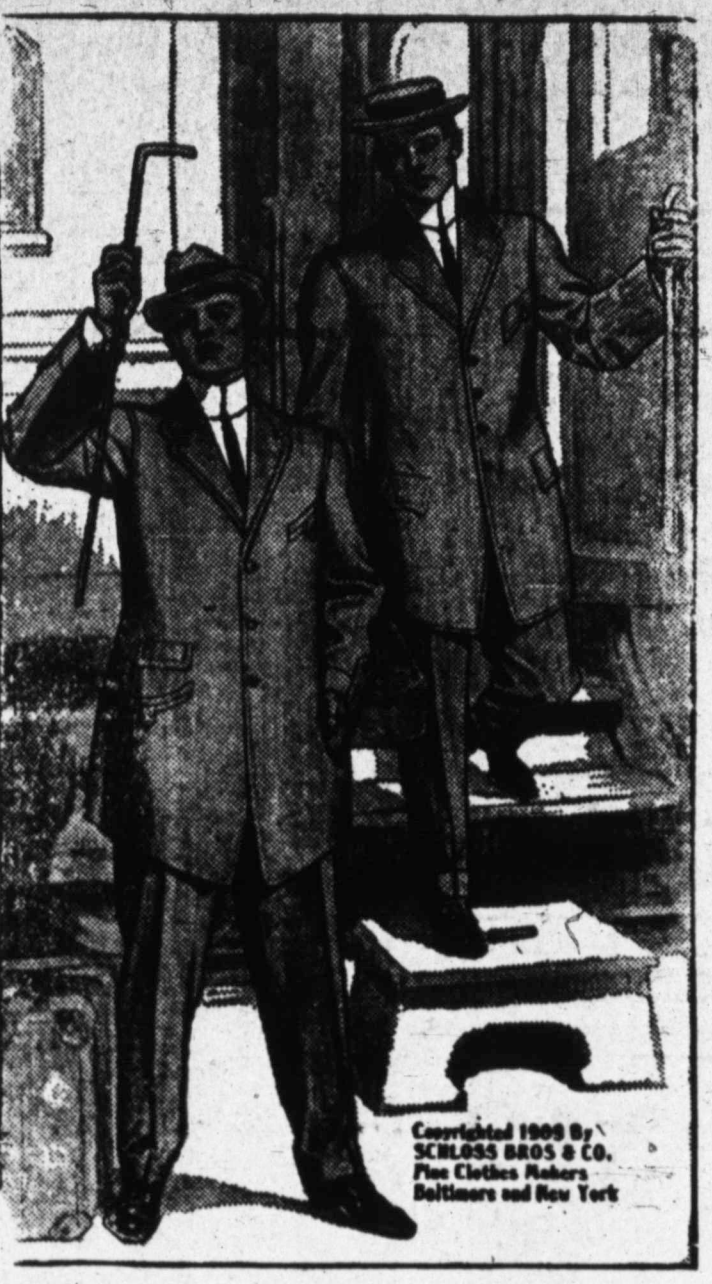

"I still have the money in my hand," I said to him. "It is heavy. I must put it somewhere before I pick up the chair." He was a bit astonished, and so was I. It was something he had not thought of when he wrote in the play business."

Naturally Miss Von Volkenburg meets many people—particularly men of scientific turn of mind or with an interest in matters psychological—who like to inquire concerning her almost uncanny ability to reproduce the entire text of a play, and who feel an inclination to seek the source of her wonderful powers of imitative interpretation. This produces a strange nervous sensitiveness that makes her most unhappy.

"I have such a horror of being regarded as some strange freak," she said as a mist appeared in her eyes. "It isn't that I fear investigation, for I do not. I have given proof of my ability over and over again. But to have scientific men look me over as if I were not a normal being seems hideous. I would give up my work before I would be looked upon in that light. It is such an unpleasant thought."

Benjamin Clothes

After all, it's really the tailor who makes a suit a success or a failure. The most fascinating style would be a fizzle if there were not careful needle work underneath.

The most phenomenal designer on earth could not make a garment a success without the co-operation of the tailor. It is he who, by the diligent plying of his needle, gives shape and style and ensures service.

The world's most excellent tailors are congregated in New York on account of its being the greatest clothes manufacturing center in the world. They have more work and are better paid there.

Could there be a better explanation of why "Benjamin Clothes," Made in New York, are the most stylish and the most perfectly made of any on earth. Won't you make it your particular business to see these wonderful "Benjamin Clothes."

Owing to ill health, I will sell at public auction, township 31, range 22, block nine in Gee Haw survey, One crush raspberry cow, aged six years. She is a good milker and not afraid of the cars, or anything else. She is a cow of undaunted courage, and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form, she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her home by the means of trace chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right.

She is one fourth short horn and three fourths Hyena; purchaser need not be identified. I will also throw in a Lefever double-barrel shot gun purchased at the Wilson Hardware Company, which goes with her.

In May she generally goes away for a week or two and returns with a long wabbiye-legged calf. Her name is Rose and I would prefer to sell her to a non-resident.

We will also exchange anything in the Wilson Hardware line consisting of the Celebrated Velle Buggies and carriages for mules and horses. A big reduction for cash.

THREE WEEKS' IN HAREM.

A New York Society Woman Goes Through Novel Experience.

New York, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Amy Crocker Gouraud, the multi-millionaire and one of the most interesting women in New York, who recently returned from Europe, is installing the last of elaborate and costly decorations and furnishings, most of which were gathered in Oriental countries, at a cost of $1,000,000, in her new home, 46 West Fifty-sixth street.

"This takes me back to India," said Mrs. Gouraud, as she reclined on a velvety divan. "I had many interesting experiences there, and spent three weeks in a harem near Bombay. I did it as a dare, and for the purpose of seeing what actually goes on behind the walls of a harem."

"A number of American and English women were the guests of a maharajah, and he asked if I would accept his hospitality. The other women dared me, and the following morning, when the largest elephant I had ever seen stopped in front of our hotel, I was taken to his place in the country."

"Harem simply means a man's household. In a harem are the mother, sisters, and perhaps the grandmother of the maharajah. There were 300 women in the harem, and I was the first English-speaking woman who had ever been in there. I was very much surprised with what I saw. I had supposed that they would be all young and beautiful, but it was not so."

"There were but five or six pretty women in the harem. There was but one, a French girl, 16 years old, whom the maharajah seemed to care for. Most of the other were fat, but took life easy."

"But how did you leave the harem?" "I just left. There was no trouble about that. I was tired of the place in three days, but I had told my friends that I would remain there three weeks and I did. Several of the husbands of the women thought that I was being held in the harem and tried to rescue me but that was unnecessary."

"WHEN HIS WIFE'S AWAY."

Robert Dalton's Comedy Proves Fairly Pleasing Here.

"When His Wife's Away" with Robert Dalton in the leading role, was presented to a fair audience at the Wichita Theatre Saturday night. The play was not a bad one, considering the price, and Dalton's comedy proved very pleasing. The production is rather amateurish in its action and its plot is somewhat patent. Mr. Dalton was very clever in his work and his supporting caste was one of passing merit.
