CHAIN OF BANKS IS IN STATE'S HANDS

SAN ANTONIO BANK AND TRUST
CO. AND BRANCHES DID NOT COMPLY WITH LAW.

NINE BANKS AFFECTED

It Had Branches in Austin and Numerous Other Smaller South Texas Cities.

Texas News Service Special.
San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 10.—The San Antonio Union Bank and Trust Company of this city and its branches at Laverina and other points, closed their doors this morning under orders from the attorney general's department.

The banks have been operating under an old charter issued twenty years ago to William Woods, convicted of embezzlement. They failed to renew their charter under the state banking laws.

This bank was incorporated under the old state banking law and has never complied with the recently-enacted law requiring it to take out a new charter. It was reported to the attorney general by the department of banking and he took action without delay.

Its branches are located at Austin, Benders, Manor, Boone, Kyle, Lockhart, Christine and Aransas Pass.

J. G. Burleson of Lockhart is president and J. G. Burney of Austin, the cashier.

The total liabilities are said to exceed the assets, which are listed at about the same amount, nearly seven hundred thousand dollars. The charter, however, is listed at fifty thousand dollars in assets.

At Austin today, District Judge Calhoun appointed Tom M. Davis, vice-president of the Central Bank and Trust Company of this city, as receiver for the defunct chain of banks.

cident to any inmate of the home.

BROKEN FLANGE CAUSES DERAILMENT OF CARS

Three freight cars were ditched at 10:30 Saturday night on the Denver tracks at the intersection of 5th street and traffic was tied up for some little time as a result.

The cars were loaded with coal and were being switched through the yards
when a broken flange on one of them caused it to jump the track, pulling the others with it and all three rolled down the embankment on the north side of the track.

The engine did not leave the track.
The cars are almost a total loss and the coal was scattered for some distance around.

The wrecking crew was put to work yesterday morning and by afternoon
the track was cleared and the damage practically repaired.

SECRETARYSHIP IS TO BE SUPPLIED

NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS TO ACT ON THIS QUESTION AT FIRST MEETING.

APPLICANTS ARE MANY

As Yet, However, No Selection Has
Been Made—Several Names
Being Considered.

The new board of Chamber of Commerce directors to be elected tonight will hold its first meeting tomorrow morning and the election of a permanent secretary will probably be the first step taken by the board. While several of those who take an active part in the affairs of the organization have written to several desirable parties in this connection, no selection has been made, even tentatively, and it is not known who the selection will be.

It is probable, however, that some secretary who is already engaged in active work in some Texas or Oklahoma city, will be selected and several applicants have been considered in this connection.

The Times is able to state, upon what it considers reliable authority, that no local man will be offered the position, in spite of the rumors which have been current to that effect. It is felt, however, that the secretary is the most imperative personage connected with the organization, and every care will be exercised in the selection of a man to take charge of the local position.

The secretaryship pays $2100 a year,
which is, with one or two exceptions,
the highest salaried commercial position of this kind in the state. The local office also employs two assistants.

are expected to be present at the meeting as it is an important one.

cerns the industrial and commercial welfare of this city will be discussed coming twelve months will largely depend upon the way in which the mem-new fields of opportunities have been opened recently and that with organized effort they can be developed and the prosperity of the city enhanced to a great extent.

The meeting will be opened with an address by President R. E. Huff of the Chamber of Commerce, followed by the report of Secretary Mytinger and that of Treasurer Robertson.

cratic caucus to select a senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator McLaurin, will take the seventh ballot tonight. Indications point to a deadlock.

With recognition becoming universal of the essential elements in the clash between the conservative and the radical forces, public interest is intense.
Rumors are being circulated of dissatisfaction in the ranks of Yardman and that some supporters will go over to the opposition and a striking change will be shown on the seventh ballot.

DENVER SOUTHBOND IS WRECKED AT AMARILLO

Texas News Service Special.
Amarillo, Tex., Jan. 10.—Four men were injured when the Fort Worth and Denver fast passenger train, No. 8, was wrecked four miles south of here last night.

The engine and tank leaped the track into the ditch carrying four cars with it.

That there was not a great loss of life surprised the railroad officials, as the train was running thirty miles an hour at the time, and there was no warning.

The injured:
R. C. Whitehurst, of Amarillo.
W. J. Hamilton of Amarillo.
J. Fancer, of Snyder, Okla.

All were taken to Amarillo, where they were given medical attention.

'The Servant in the House' theatrical troupe was aboard and the actors were severely shaken up and a few slightly injured.

The smoker and chair car were badly damaged.

It is believed that a defective engine wheel was the cause of the accident.

A track was built around the wreck and this morning train service was resumed.

Conservation Congress.

Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, Jan. 10.—It is announced here today that Gifford Pinchot, who was recently removed by Taft as chief forester at Washington, will

COMES FROM HOUSTON TO ATTEND BEDSIDE

Rev. A. J. Bush, formerly pastor of the Christian church of this city, is now en route to Wichita Falls to attend the bedside of Mrs. G. L. Talley, who lies at the point of death at her home on 11th street.

Mrs. Talley has for many years been a devout member of the Christian church, and yesterday, when she felt that her earthly hours were numbered, she made a request that she be permitted to talk to Dr. Bush before the final summons came.

Friends at once wired the former pastor, who was in Houston at the time, and he is coming to Wichita Falls as rapidly as possible to see Mrs. Talley before she dies.

He will probably arrive on tonight's train.

Mrs. Talley is very ill and very little hope for her recovery is held out.

DORCHESTER HURT.

Stepped into a Manhole Full of Boiling Water.

Texas News Service Special.
Sherman, Tex., Jan. 10.—Chester B.
Dorchester, cashier of the Merchants and Planters' National Bank of this city and formerly receiver of the Wa-manhole filled with boiling water in the basement of the Binkley Hotel.

GLASS DOME GIVEN BY RAILROAD MEN

PRESENTED TO FIRST METHODIST CHURCH BY THEM ON YES-TERDAY AFTERNOON.

HANDSOME WORK OF ART

Presentation Was Accompanied by Appropriate Exercises—Many Railroad Men Present.

The special service for railroad men at the First M. E. Church yesterday afternoon was a successful affair in every way and practically every railroad man making this city his headquarters was present, together with their wives.
Most of them marched to the church
from their meeting halls and the edifice was so completely filled that it was necessary to throw open the doors of the lecture hall to make room.

After the opening prayer and songs,
the glass dome which was the gift of the railroad men of the church was presented to it on behalf of the railroad men by Trainmaster Jack Miller, who made a splendid address, pointing out the benefits of the church to the railroad men. A scripture reading and another hymn followed, after which Rev. Farley preached from the text,
'To Him that Overcometh, Will I Give to Eat of the Tree of Life if the Bread of Life' —Revelations 2:7. This sermon was one of particular interest to the railroad men and was heard by them very attentively.

The window which was presented, is of stained glass and surmounts the dome over the main chapel of the structure. It is the gift of the local railroad men and the money for it, amounting to several hundred dollars, was subscribed by them alone. It is a very handsome piece of work and is as beautiful a gift as could have been selected.

DEPARTMENT RUN ON BUSINESS METHODS

REPORT OF ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL FOR FISCAL YEAR IS SUBMITTED.

RE SUBMITS STATISTICS

Fewer Postoffices During Year On Account of Extension of Rural Free Delivery.

By Associated Press.
Washington, Jan. 9.—As a business institution, the Postoffice Department, next to the United States Treasury, is the greatest in the Government. According to figures submitted by Charles P. Grandfield, First Assistant Postmaster General, for the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1909, made public today in his annual report the gross revenue of the postal service reached the enormous total of $263,652,283, an increase of $12,093,720, or 4.61 per cent over the preceding year. There were 7,202 presidential postoffices on July 1, 1909. Of this number 398 were first class, an increase of 14; 1,707 were second class, an increase of 112; and 5,097 were third class an increase of 239. The total increase in the number of presidential offices was 356. There were 1,444 postoffices established during the year and 2,084 were discontinued, leaving a total of 60,144 postoffices in operation on June 30, 1909. During the year 1,636 postmasters were appointed at presidential offices. At fourth class offices 3,161 postmasters were appointed.

Concerning the routine of his bureau, Dr. Grandfield says:
"The annual rate of expenditure for the salaries of presidential postmasters on July 1, 1909, was as follows: First class, $1,408,600; second class, $4,012,400; third class, $7,344,800; making a total of $14,765,800.

At the close of the fiscal year there were 1,978 assistant postmasters at first and second class offices, an increase of 116. The number of clerks at first and second class offices increased from 23,220 to 29,930, and the carrier force at city delivery offices from 26,352 to 27,620, being a net increase of 1,716 clerks and 1,268 carriers.

"The retention of fourth class postmasters during satisfactory service has become the established practice of the department, and the policy of recommending the reappointment of presidential postmasters, who have proved efficient, has been followed consistently, with highly beneficial results.

"It is recommended that the law be amended so as to provide for the advancement of an office of the fourth class to the presidential class whenever the compensation of the postmaster amounts to $1,000 and the gross annual receipts to $1,900 for four successive quarters. The offices that would be affected by such a change in the statute are mainly those located at summer and winter resorts where a large business, equivalent to that of a presidential office, is transacted during one or two quarters.

"In a number of cases at rapidly growing offices the salary of the assistant postmaster is actually less than that allowed the principal clerks due to the operation of the law governing the promotion of clerks and carriers and the fact that the appropriation for assistant postmasters for the current fiscal year does not provide an adequate number of positions in certain grades. There should be a maximum and minimum salary for assistant postmasters fixed by law and sufficient latitude allowed in the appropriation act to prevent this anomalous condition.

"In some sections of the country especially in the mining regions of the West, it has been difficult to make appointments to the clerical and carrier forces at the initial salary prescribed by law. Wages in all lines of employment are high in these communities, and the entrance salary of $600, fixed by act of March 2, 1907, is not sufficient to induce competent men to enter the postal service, even with the assurance of annual promotion. To meet such emergencies it has been necessary in some instances to grant postmasters an allowance for the employment of clerks and carriers at the rate of 30 cents an hour, and in others to make allowances from the appropriations for unusual conditions. It is realized that it was not intended that these appropriations should be used in that manner, but the department has been compelled to grant such allowances in order to keep the postoffice manned with competent employees."

Dr. Grandfield makes a strong argument in favor of 30 days' annual leave for clerks and carriers in first class and second class offices.

"At the close of the fiscal year there were 7,202 postoffices of the presidential class. Of this number, 3,217, or 44.6 per cent were housed in leased quarters, for which the annual rate of rental was $3,726,805. On June 30, 1909, there were 434 offices located in federal buildings, an increase of 15 during the year. It is expected, however, that this number will be largely augmented during the current year. On the date last mentioned there were 3,512 numbered stations, 711 delivery stations, and 241 branch postoffices."

Some minor recommendations heretofore made by the First Assistant are renewed and an elaborate statistical statement of the bureau is presented.

BORNEO VIEW OF CREATION

First appearance of Man According To Legend of a Wild Tribe

Many and various are the Dyak accounts of the creation, and none of them coincide. They are unable to describe or say who is the Deity (Petara), but they say in one of their accounts of the first appearance of mankind that the Petara gave birth to a boy who was without his members and cast him into a pit, when he became Pulang Gans, the god of the earth.

The second child born to Petara was a girl, and she had no nose, so was set adrift on a river, becoming Rajah Jawa, the god of fishes.

The third child was without any human form and was placed on a bough of a tree, where it became an orchard.

The fourth child was a girl, who was named Siti Permani, and she was cut to pieces, the bits becoming padi, pumpkins and other plants.

The fifth child born was a boy, and he was called Pilanggang, as he had a white strip around his waist, and he became Ina Anda and lives in the heavens.

The sixth child became animals and birds, while the seventh was a girl, and Ina Rajah Pipit called her Dayany Petri.

All the brothers and sisters lived on charcoal, but she alone refused to eat it, crying night and day, and she was finally taken to the house of Ipi Rajah Pipit, where she obtained rice to eat and seeds for planting padi, a single padi seed being about the size of a large mango fruit. She married a man called Sakumbang Maron Bunsu Chagaga Umbang, and she and her husband farmed the land, finding the work not at all laborious.

The padi was only planted once, and it lived for many years, bearing fruit continually; the baskets for the padi could walk to the farm, and on their arrival there the padi jumped into them of its own accord and the filled baskets walked home again, and when it was being dried it jumped up and down and husked itself. One day Dayany Petri took a winnowing basket and began to reap the padi herself, and this rash action of hers at once caused the padi to stop reaping itself, and, what was more, caused it to give only one crop before it died, as it does today.

The Dyaks have three other accounts of the Creation, one being that mankind was produced from a certain tree called Kunupang, the sap of which is like blood; and the other that friable earth was the origin of life, and yet another, that the birds Iri and Ara were the creators.—Rev. W. Howell in Sarawate Gazette.

NEBULA HYPOTHESIS.

One of the Most Interesting Propositions of Science.

WHAT IT ACTUALLY MEANS.

That the Sun, Planets and All Matter Were Once a Vast Mass of Incandescent Gas All Jumbled Together in an Enormous Chaotic Cloud.

Everybody has heard the phrase, the nebula hypothesis, but what is it? In a few words this is the meaning of "nebula hypothesis": That the sun, the planets and all that is in them were at one time in the inconceivably remote past a vast mass of chaotic, incandescent gas all jumbled together in an enormous nebula, or cloud.

To begin with, the first conception that science has dared to make, however, takes us one step further back. Without mentioning the origin of matter itself science conceives that in the beginning all matter was uniformly distributed throughout space—that there were no stars, no planets, no satellites, but that all space was filled with the matter we now have divided up into very fine particles some distance apart. The consistency of such material was perforce very thin indeed, much more rarefied than the highest vacuum we can obtain now by air pumps. From this state to the nebulous state the theory has a missing link, one that can only be satisfied by supposing divine command, for it assumes, in the words of Professor Todd, that "gradually centers of attraction formed and these centers pulled in toward themselves other particles. As a result of the inward falling of matter toward these centers, the collision of its particles and their friction upon each other the material masses grew hotter and hotter. Nebulae seeming to fill the entire heavens were formed—luminous fire mist, like the filmy objects still seen in the sky, though vaster and exceedingly numerous." This process is supposed to have gone on for countless ages, faster in some regions than in others. Many million nebulae were formed and set in rotation around their own axes. This happily can be explained by science. Whenever particles are attracted toward a center and are kept from falling directly to this center a whirlpool is formed, rotating in one direction. An example of this, though humble and not exactly analogous, is the rotation of water in a basin when the stopper is pulled out of the bottom. Gravity attracts the water immediately above the hole, which starts flowing out, thus leaving a space to be filled. The rest of the water rushes in from all sides to do this, and the whirlpool is the result.

Now each of these whirling nebulae became exceedingly hot, and each formed what is known as a star or sun, our sun being one. The earth and other planets had not then come into separate existence, of course, as it is supposed that they were thrown off later from the sun.

Our sun in its nebulous form and rotating swiftly on its axis gradually flattened at its poles on account of centrifugal motion. This phenomenon is entirely familiar to those who have seen a ball of clay on a potter's wheel gradually flatten. The motion was so swift and the mass so nebulous that the sun to be took the shape of a disk. As time went on the outer part became cool and somewhat rigid, while the inner part continued its cooling and contracting. Thus the inner part drew away from the outer, leaving a ring of matter whirling around on the outside. This breaking off of the ring is supposed to be hastened by the inability of the outside to keep up the swift motion of the central mass, both on account of the slight cohesion and of the centrifugal force. But this particular part of the argument has nothing to stand on if the first law of motion is true.

In the successive stages of the sun's contraction this process was repeated over and over again, until several rings were whirling around the central orb. They would necessarily be in the same plane. Now, these rings, not being uniform in mass, or thickness, would each gradually accumulate toward the densest portion until they, too, would form a ball which would subsequently flatten, and if the substance continued nebulous and the ball as large enough they would also jugh rings.

Of course the rings the sun discarded have become the planets, which, as required by the theory, are all very nearly in the same plane. The rings that the planets formed have become moons or satellites. So we are driven to conclude that our sun at one time filled all the space from his present position to the farthest planet in the solar system.

From this theory there is another thing that we have to believe, and that is that every star in the heavens has gone through this same process and has a family of planets sailing around it, just as our sun has. It would be impossible to see these planets, of course, for it is impossible to see a star, even with the greatest telescope, except as a mere point of light.

As regards the proving of this nebula hypothesis, of course it cannot be done. But everything points to its accuracy. Many nebulae are seen even now among the stars that seem to be going through the delayed process of world forming. Around one of the planets of our own solar system, Saturn, are three rings, which are probably destined in time to become moons, in the opinion of some scholars.—A. T. Hodges in New York Tribune.

THEY DO NOT CARE.

Indifference of American People in Public Health Matter Phenomenal.

The present unfortunate condition of the United States as practically a non-registration country, causing it to be classed with the interior of Africa and other uncivilized regions of the globe from which no vital statistics are obtainable, can not indefinitely continue.

The compulsory requirements of the burial or removal permit, based upon a certificate of death, which must be filed with the local registrar before any disposition is made of the body of a deceased is the key to the whole situation as regards the registration of deaths. Any state or city in which this provision is enforced will have accurate registration of deaths, and, without it, registration will be defective. This is not a matter of conjecture; the rules for death registration are founded upon actual methods employed in the registration states, and have been further tested by the successful operation of laws based upon them.

With the registration of births a thorough enforcement of this law does result in complete registration. Unless prosecution follows repeated cases of neglect and the penalty of the law is enforced, it is useless to expect material benefit from any method of obtaining birth reports. Physicians who refuse or neglect to register births are some times very influential in the community, and registrars are often slow to prosecute them.

In Pennsylvania, numerous cases have been prosecuted under the new registration law, and the effect has been very satisfactory. If our state board of health will use similar tactics, no doubt they will get better results.

Worthy of a Trial.

In deciding that hereafter "physical efficiency" shall count in determining the rating of public school pupils for graduation from grade to grade, Superintendent Maxwell has recognized the close relation between body and mind, and the experiment he has started will be watched with interest by all observers of educational movement.

In the "attainment blanks," it seems, under the heading of "Physical Training and Hygiene," marks are to be given for effort and success in following instruction on these topics, for the maintenance of correct posture and the vigor that skill in the performance of gymnastic exercises. These are all "subjects" in which high rank is as desirable as in arithmetic or geography, and the boy or girl who "stands well" in them is much better fitted for life than are those whose mental progress has been accompanied by bodily deterioration.

For failures in these new branches, however, parents rather than children may be responsible, and there is no very obvious way of giving them the "bad marks" they deserve. Presumably Superintendent Maxwell has had this difficulty under consideration, and even if he has not solved it his innovation is highly promising.—New York Times.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity—
—Tonight, fair and warmer. Tues—day, Partly cloudy weather.

No city has any greater asset than the public spirit of its citizens. Where that element is deficient a community may perhaps survive for a time, but it is as the city that was built upon the sands. Substantial prosperity as the outgrowth of the solid support of solid men and no favors that Nature may confer upon a city will ever benefit it more than the business men whose hearts beat for its welfare. They are its greatest natural resource.

There are many times in the commercial progress of every city when every citizen must align himself with the builders or the backsliders. There is no compromise, no middle ground. Occasions like that to be held tonight constitute one test—and if you, Mr. Citizen, are not there you will classify yourself. Or if you are there and do not do your part, the classification will be none the less distinct.

Come out to the meeting. Get in line. Do your part and when another year shall have rolled away, your share in the benefits that have accrued will be just what you start to make it tonight. Wichita Falls is making good every day. It is an account of you, or is it in spite of you?

The mission of a business organization, such as our Chamber of Commerce, is to bring the business men together and get them to work in harmony for the upbuilding of the city. When local questions come up for settlement, upon which the citizens are nearly equally divided, it is not, in the opinion of the Times the duty of this organization to use its influence one way or the other, and when it does, as has been charged, there is cause for complaint.

Let us make tonight's meeting the most enthusiastic ever held, and if mistakes or blunders have been made in the past, forget them. All that is necessary in such a case is to guard against the commission of the same errors in the future.

Henrietta is to have a daily paper, the Searchlight, the first copy of which is to make its appearance at five o'clock this afternoon. The paper is owned and published by the Searchlight Publishing Company, E. P. Haney, president and editor; Sam Roberts, assistant editor and manager. The Times extends to its neighbor its best wishes for success. After the first copy of the Searchlight has been received it will be in a better position to judge of the start it has made.

If some men's hopes of celestial residence in the hereafter depended upon what they do for their own town, the devil would rub his hands gleefully every time some new movement was started.

With both Pinchot and Glavis out of the way, all that is needed now is to throttle Collier's Weekly to make Ballinger secure.

What will the peek-a-boo shirtwaist joke-writer do next summer if the strike among the shirt-waist makers continues?

A megalomaniac, it is learned, is one who has an exaggerated idea of his importance. Pinchot has lots of company.

Dr. Cook has been discovered in upwards of fifty cities since his disappearance. Too many cooks spoil the story.

PREDECESSORS OF DR. COOK

Explorer's Feat Dwarfed by Man Who Forged Formosan Language

Those who gave credence to the claim of Dr. Cook to have reached the North Pole need not be disconcerted by the verdict that his claim is unfounded, or the gleeful self-satisfaction of the people who denounced him from the first. It would require a nature school in duplicity and inured to deception to suspect as an imposter every one who comes along. Salverto, a French philosopher, declared that "man is credulous because he is naturally sincere," and Shakespeare, who knew human nature so well, assures us that "suspicion always haunts the guilty mind." It is no disgrace to have believed the plausible doctor from the City of Churches, and it would be a most uncomfortable world if we had to act upon the theory that all men are liars, guilty until proved innocent.

Nor, on the other hand, need those who now loudly proclaim Cook as the greatest faker that ever lived, plume themselves upon ever having anticipated the verdict of history. It is hardly likely that the doctor will be able to rehabilitate himself, but even so, he cannot hope to occupy the most exalted niche in the gallery of imposters. His fraud, if such it was must be regarded as a very cheap and paltry deception alongside of the exploits accredited to George Psalmanazar and other really clever prevaricators. Psalmanazar, after wandering over Europe in many picturesque disguises, passed himself off as a Japanese convert from Formosa and fooled the bishop of London as well as the savants of Oxford. He invented not only a fabulous geography of Formosa, but an entire language, grammar and all, which he declared to be Formosan. Compared with this imposter, or even with the Ireland who forced a Shakespearean play and the Macpherson who wrote the Ossianic poems, Dr. Cook appears as a very amateur of Munchausens, and his inventive genius decidedly deficient.

There is still one chance, however, to inscribe his name on the roll of fame. It shall be proved that he consciously deceived the world and got away with $100,000 of its money, he must be acclaimed as the greatest hold-up man of all times, and his lightning foray excels the dashing exploits of Jesse James—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

TRAGEDY AT BALLINGER.

Farmer Goes Insane and Kills Wife, Children and Himself.

Ballinger, Tex., Jan. 10.—F. B. Kimbler yesterday morning killed his wife, his six-year-old son, three-year-old daughter, and then ended his own life. He used a hatchet in taking the lives of the others, then slashed his own throat with a pocket knife. He struck his niece, Miss Dora Smith, several times with the hatchet, and she may also die.

Kimble attempted suicide several days ago by poison and seems to have been suffering from despondency for some time. He was a well-known and well-liked farmer and has always had a good reputation.

When he arose yesterday morning, Kimbler went out and got the hatchet and returning to the room where his wife was starting the fire, said to her: "Wife, we have all got to go," striking her over the head with the hatchet and splitting her skull. He then went over to the bed and killed the sleeping children in the same manner; then went to the room of his niece and attempted to kill her, but failed. Clay George, his nephew, was aroused by the noise and he and the young lady made their escape. Returning to his room, Kimbler ended his own life with a pocket knife.

A Sight Worth Paying For.

The cab, drawn by a weary-looking horse, came to a standstill opposite a public house. As the driver was preparing to descend a small boy ran up with, "Old yer 'orse, guv'nor?" "Old my 'orse? Look 'ere, my lad, Ah'll give yer a bob if it runs away."—Manchester Guardian.

His Contribution.

"Have you ever done anything for the good of the community?" asked the solid citizen. "Yes," replied the weary wayfarer; "I've just done thirty days."—Philadelphia Record.

The Very Latest.

"Nice car."
"Yes."
"Is it the latest thing in cars?"
"I guess so. It has never got me anywhere on time yet."—Houston Post.

The business session will follow. The nominating committee, consisting of Messrs. Wiley Blair, A. H. Carrigan and J. A. Richolt, will make its report and the election of officers and directors will then follow.

Wiley Blair will then speak on the work of the Chamber of Commerce for 1910 and other speeches may follow. Immediately after adjournment, the crowd will repair to the St. James Hotel, where seats at the banquet table have been provided for one hundred and twenty-five members and guests. The following array of edibles will be served:

R. E. Huff will preside as toastmaster following the feast and the first response will be by Hon. L. H. Mathis who will tell about "Our Neighbors." "Builders of West Texas" will be responded to by Homer D. Wade of Stamford. Following will come talks by the visitors from the neighboring towns, including Dr. J. M. Bell of Iowa Park, L. B. Gill of Henrietta, Bob Cook of Electra, R. A. Furlow of Burkburnett, Prof. Vance of Petrolia and Safford Wilson of Archer City. Other talks of an impromptu nature will follow.

The Fort Worth couple that was divorced after being married forty-eight years evidently believed that it was better late than never.

The announcement that Dr. Cook was planning another arctic trip was not, so far as we can learn, received with cheers at Copenhagen.

VICTIMS OF NEGLECT.

If You Ignore the Warnings Sent up by Ailing Kidneys You are on the Straight Road to Bright's Disease.

When anything is wrong in the kidneys the symptoms are manifest from the top of your head to the sole of your feet.

The following are some of them: Headache, dizzy spells, sluggish brain, drowsiness, dark rings and floating specks before the eyes, sallow skin, bad breath, heartburn, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, disorder in the urine, backache, weak pulse, constipated irregular bowels, aching at the knees, nervousness in the feet.

Prickly Ash Bitters is the right medicine for such symptoms; pre-eminently a kidney tonic, system cleanser and regulator. It contains all the necessary properties of a successful kidney medicine in addition to its admirable influence in strengthening and regulating the stomach, liver and bowels.

Prickly Ash Bitters begins right by cleansing the bladder and bowels—thereby driving out the impurities which started all the trouble. After this has been accomplished the healing and restorative element in the medicine will continue the good work, building up anew the weakened kidneys, stimulating the liver to greater activity, purifying the blood, and extending its restorative influence to every part of the body. As a result the appetite and digestion improve, the eyes are brighter, the strength returns, the hollow cheeks fill out, the complexion loses that sallow muddied cast, giving place to a clear skin and the ruddy glow of health.

Much depends on the promptness with which the treatment is commenced. Prickly Ash Bitters has cured many advanced cases that would not yield to other remedies, but it must be remembered that there is a stage in kidney disease beyond which no power on earth can save the patient. Take Warning! If you suspect anything wrong with your kidneys, begin treatment at once. It is your best hope of a cure.

L. G. Zachery, Lodi, Tex., says: "I never tried anything like Prickly Ash Bitters before in my life. It does its work almost in a night. I am now telling all my friends about your great remedy and all who try it speak of the splendid results. It has done me so much good that I will never again be without it in my house."

It's a good deal cheaper to build good, weatherproof sheds than it is to buy new machinery. The elements will injure an expensive machine in one season more than the wear it gets from legitimate use.

Of course you know that as well as we do. If you have a costly machine that's standing out in the field or the barn yard, get it under cover. We are this week selling good common boards at prices that will make it very much to your advantage to settle the shed question at once.

Let us name you a price on what material you need.

"THE PECULIAR COMEDIAN"

W. B. PATTON

In His Latest, Best and Most Successful Comedy

"THE BLOCKHEAD"

The play deals with nature itself, depicting scenes as they really exist in everyday life, and contains a beautiful and wonderfully interesting story. Eastern critics look upon Mr. Patton as one of the most sterling comedians, and his quaint and peculiar methods have won for him the unstinted praise of the entire eastern press. He is surrounded this season with an exceptionally clever supporting company.

W. B. PATTON

"The Blockhead" is an exceptionally clever play. Its three acts are filled with comedy and pathos. As a vehicle for the display of his peculiar talents it could not be excelled. Quaint and original in his methods, realistic and exceedingly magnetic as "Prof. Theodore Block-som Hoddington," he hold the interest of the audience from start to finish.

INCORPORATION BEING PLANNED AT PETROLIA

The time is not far distant when Petrolia will be enjoying the advantage of incorporation. The petition has already been sent up before the commissioner's court for their consideration as to the time of the election, and it is a matter of time now as the proposition will be submitted to the people as soon as possible and there is no doubt that every citizen of Petrolia will favor it, and cast their vote accordingly.

This will no doubt be a good thing for everybody, as then, the city will be put in a sanitary condition, and kept that way, which will be a good thing for every individual and also help the looks of the city.

The year 1908 Petrolia received 938 bales of cotton for market, and during the last year, something over 2331 bales, making an increase of over 1393 bales or 150 percent.

With the good season now in the ground—results are looked for this year. This is the only section that can boast of having any increase whatever.

Why isn't Petrolia the place to invest? Best farming country in Texas, largest and strongest oil and gas field in the southwest, highest market prices paid for produce, and a very fat pay roll each month. Come and see us.—The Roundup.

SHOULD DEVELOP FASTER.

Yoakum Gives Out Interview On What Texas Needs.

Before leaving for the north Wednesday night Colonel B. F. Yoakum, head of the Frisco system and who is associated with Edwin Hawley in the ownership of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, in an authorized interview said:

"I am not talking any part in the gubernatorial race in Texas. If I was I would support the man who would make the race on the upbuilding of the state regardless of other campaign issues. Any candidate standing for making Texas what it should be would be strongly supported.

"There is an improved condition throughout the state. The progress that is taking place in all sections of Texas, but up to this time the estimate of this degree of development of the state is reached only by comparison with what has taken place in Texas within the last few years, but it has not developed as some other states.

"Texas is not developing as rapidly as the northwestern states. The people of Texas would be amazed at the slow pace at which we are moving forward, if they could see some sections of the northwestern states where hundreds of millions of dollars are being invested to develop the country's resources. What we now want above all things is a man to stand at the head of the state government, encouraging the growth of the state under business methods, properly protecting every interest fairly, without prejudice or partiality to any.

"If it could be made known outside of Texas that there would be no unnecessary agitation or disturbance of conditions for the next two years, there would be more substantial development and increase in the wealth of the state within that period than we have ever had before. Once stated, under proper conditions, there is nothing on earth that could stop the enormous growth and development of Texas, which is only waiting an opportunity.

"A candidate if elected governor upon an issue calling for the development of Texas, is committed during his administration to the upbuilding and development of the state's resources, and will so shape his policy that the state will receive the benefit of a live and progressive administration. If, however, he is elected on any other issue, he can pay little attention or in fact retard the development of Texas and still fulfill all platform or party obligations. There is the permanent development of the state; the other a temporary campaign issue."—Austin Statesman.

For District Judge.

Under the head of announcements in this paper will be found the name of R. F. Arnold of Graham, who comes before the voters of the 30th Judicial District as a candidate for the office of district judge. Judge Arnold has resided at Graham and practiced his profession, the law, for the past thirty years, and as to his qualifications to fill the office to which he now aspires, he refers the voters to his neighbors and the lawyers of the district. He announces subject to the action of the Democratic primaries to be held in July of this year. The Times respectfully submits his claims to the qualified voters of the district, and believes that in the event they act favorably on them, the district will have a very worthy successor to Judge Carrigan, who has declined to be a candidate for re-election, and will retire at the end of the present term.

Amusements for the Week

W. B. Patton, the peculiar comedian will appear at the Wichita Theatre next Thursday, January 13th in his new play, "The Blockhead" the story of which briefly told, is as follows: Jack Steele, gambler, and man of the world, has seen and fallen in love with the beautiful daughter of a wealthy retired merchant. Knowing he would never be received at her home, under his proper name, and learning that her father is expecting a Latin professor, he resolves to impersonate the latter and as the eccentric Prof. Theodore Blockson Heddington, he appears at the summer home of the merchant. His odd speeches, awkward movements and peculiar dress, furnish much amusement and he is unmercifully gaped by the girl he loves, but in spite of that he soon manages to interest her. He also finds plenty to do in the household of the merchant; the latter's young and pretty wife is drifting away from him, and is almost persuaded to elope with a clever scoundrel, who Jack recognizes as a man with a bad record in Colorado. He saves the wife from dishonor in an original way; he also brings together an elderly pair of lovers, and ends by playing poker, with the merchant and winning plenty of his money. When it is discovered he is Jack Steele, the gambler, and not the professor, he is promptly ordered out of the house, but by a magnificent game of bluff, he subdues the merchant and wins the girl of his choice. The play is full of bright comedy, and there is not a dull moment during its presentation. It also has a serious side and some beautiful and touching scenes. The characters are all well drawn, the bluff old merchant, who wants to be considered an old salt, and is proud of his poker playing, Isiah Hicks, a typical Long Island farmer, Edward Melville, the man from Colorado, Solomon Wettstein, the Hebrew protege of the merchant, Evangeline Black, the three times widow looking for another husband; Rush Buck, the tough chauffeur; Klity Barnes, the merchant's daughter; and Ruth, his wife and Patton as Jack Steele and Prof. Heddington never fail to amuse and interest an audience. Seats go on sale Tuesday morning 9 a. m.

2031 THE PALACE DRUG STORE.

A Few Words That Mean Many Dollars To You

You can easily understand that in a business like ours its quite impossible to tell beforehand exactly how many suits and overcoats we shall sell. If we could do it we would buy more than enough. A clothing Store without any clothes in it, sold out clean would be a funny store.

We always have a surplus, must have, and we always try to dispose of this unsold surplus by quoting special low prices on it; it's bad policy in such a business as this to carry winter goods over till next fall—we don't do it.

We're selling what we have left of fine, high class clothes at prices that are very seriously less than real value. Among them are all sizes, many splendid patterns, correct models. They're now at special low prices.
