WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1910

NUMBER 227

WAPLES-PLATTER TO ESTABLISH HERE

STILL ANOTHER WHOLESALE GROCERY WILL OPEN FOR BUSINESS IN WICHITA.

HAS PURCHASED TRACT

Will Erect Building On Ohio Avenue and Be Ready for Business at Early Date.

The Waples-Platter Grocery Company of Fort Worth, recognizing the advantages of Wichita Falls as a distributing center, has decided to establish a branch house in this city, and arrangements have practically been completed. Mr. L. H. McKee, manager of the Waples-Platter Company, was in the city yesterday and purchased a site on Ohio avenue, near where the Wichita Falls and Northwestern tracks will run.

A building will be put up immediately and as soon as the company can get installed here, it will begin business. The addition of this concern to the wholesale interests of Wichita Falls means much for this city and the greatest of success is predicted for the new house. The Waples-Platter Company has its headquarters at Fort Worth, with branches at Dallas and Denison and is one of the strongest wholesale grocery concerns in the state. At its head is Paul Waples, one of the most influential citizens of Fort Worth and one of the most progressive business men in the entire state.

It will be remembered that in yesterday's Times, the advent of still another wholesale grocery was recorded, Oklahoma City parties having arranged to establish a house here. With the establishing of these two new houses and the strong old company already here, Wichita Falls will easily be the wholesale grocery center of Northwest Texas. Both of the new concerns are starting with the most excellent prospects and their faith in Wichita Falls is evidenced by the fact that both are planning to put up large buildings at the very start.

The Carroll-Brough-Gates Company will erect its building on Michigan avenue at the corner of Fifth and Michigan, where it has purchased a tract of 100 feet by 150 from N. Henderson, for $3500.

The site of the Waples-Platter building will be on Ohio avenue, near the corner of Tenth.

ANTI-FUTURE BILL.

Texas Congressman Promis To Support Measure.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Texas representatives Gregg, Henry, Smith and Gillespie are in conference today with the officers and members of the Farmers' Union relative to the anti-futures bill. The Texas Congressman promised the union to support the entire delegation in the effort to obtain legislation to prevent gambling in futures on all farm products. The house agricultural committee will consider the bill Wednesday.

VORTREES CALLED UPON.

He May Defend Ballinger Before the Investigation.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—John Vortrees of Nashville, leader of the Tennessee bar, a democrat and a personal friend of President Taft, has been asked to take charge of the case for the defense in the Ballinger-Pinchot congressional investigation. He is en route to Washington for consultation.

MRS. BROKAW GETS HER DIVORCE AND $15,000

New York, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Mary Brokaw was today granted a separation from her husband, W. Gould Brokaw, the millionaire and granted an alimony of fifteen thousand per year. This decision was handed down in the Supreme Court by Justice Putnam before whom the case was tried. The separation is granted on the ground of desertion.

PECULIAR CALAMITY.

Fort Worth and Denver Mail Clerk Becomes Deaf and Dumb.

Texas News Service Special. Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 3.—Frank J. Blocker, a railway mail clerk on the Denver road, was suddenly stricken deaf and dumb today and the physicians who have examined him are mystified and unable to account for the calamity. Blocker was walking to the Texas and Pacific station and while turning to address a friend discovered his plight. He rushed to the transfer office, wrote out what had happened and became hysterical.

MANLEY CASE UP.

He is Charged With Killing Dallas Man.

Texas News Service Special. Dallas, Tex., Feb. 3.—Sergeant Manley of the Texas National Guard, charged with the murder of Pete Rickenstein during Taft's visit here in November, was called in the district court today. Manley claims Rickenstein had attempted to cross the line when he was bayoneted. Members of the National Guard have contributed funds to assist in the defense. A motion for continuance by the defense is being argued.

WILEY BLAIR HEEDS TO THE CALL OF THE FARM

The prospects of competition in the wholesale grocery business have alarmed Wiley Blair to such an extent that he is thinking seriously of going back to the farm. In fact, he has already bought a farm and before very long will probably be working off his excess avoirdupois by making scars on the face of the earth. It is understood that he has already placed an order with an overall factory for a suit big enough to fit him, and is getting ready to farm in dead earnest. He requests his friends in advance to buy their fresh vegetables off his wagon when he comes around.

Mr. Blair intends to make a specialty of turnips and has already planted a number of turnip trees which will be ready to bear by the time he starts to farming.

BREAK IN STOCKS.

Liquidation and Organized Bear Movement Cause.

New York, Feb. 3.—There was a renewal of heavy liquidation in the stock market today and this was coupled with an attack on the market by organized bear party caused a violent break in prices. Union Pacific declined two and a quarter, Southern Pacific two and one-eighth, and Texas and a Pacific three and a quarter.

FLORAL HEIGHTS TO BE ADMITTED TO THE CITY

The question of admitting Floral Heights to the city limits came up at the regular meeting of the city council last night and was allowed to go over until Monday night. There are several formalities to be gone through with before this addition can be considered a part of the city, but there is little doubt that it will be admitted at an early date.

At last night's meeting the council also decided to advertise for bids for the construction of the addition to the city hall, which is to be erected as soon as the bonds are voted. The plans for this addition have been completed.

MAKES FINAL APPEAL.

General Luke Wright Speaks In Behalf of Coopers.

Nashville, Feb. 3.—The final appeal for the motion for a new trial was made before the Supreme Court today by General Luke Wright in behalf of Duncan and Robin Cooper, convicted of the murder of former Senator Carmack. He devoted a great deal of time to the claim of the defense that the trial court's charge was prejudiced and full of error. Wright paid a glowing tribute to Carmack's genius, and said he possessed the dangerous gift of sarcasm and invective without a sense of responsibility.

General Wright concluded his argument at 1 o'clock and the court then adjourned. No indication was given as to when the decision will be rendered. It is probable that, following the usual custom, the opinion will be handed down in about six or eight weeks.

MAKE PROPOSITION FOR LAWTON ROAD

OFFICIALS OF NORTHWESTERN WERE IN LAWTON YESTERDAY FOR THAT PURPOSE.

IS BEING CONSIDERED

Would Give Wichita Falls Almost Direct Connection With Oklahoma City.

A proposition to build to Lawton, Okla., from Devol, Okla., was submitted to the Chamber of Commerce of the former city last night by several officials of the Northwestern, including Frank Keil, R. A. Thompson and R. E. Huff, and the matter is now being considered by the business men of that city.

It is understood that the proposition call for a bonus from both Devol and Lawton, and that the business men of both towns are considering it very favorably.

The construction of this line would give Wichita Falls a direct connection with Oklahoma City, by the Frisco, as it would be possible to obtain by the construction of a new road and there is every reason to believe that the road will be built. While it was not known here that the proposition was to be submitted, there were intimations of "something doing" in railroad circles and developments are expected.

A preliminary survey of the Devol-Lawton line has already been made and the matter is now up to Lawton. The proposition is being considered by that city and an answer to the proposal may be expected at an early date.

Subsidy Bill Reported.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—The Humphrey ship subsidy bill was ordered favorably reported today by the house committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries by a vote of ten to seven.

BOARD WILL MEET HERE TOMORROW

FIRE RATING BOARD COMMISSION HOLD SESSION HERE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

IN FORT WORTH TODAY

Wichita Falls Property Owners Will Have Opportunity To Present Their Side.

The fire rating board of the state will meet in Wichita Falls tomorrow and Saturday and citizens of Wichita Falls who feel that they are having to pay exorbitant rates will be given an opportunity to appear before it and present their side of the matter. The board is meeting in Fort Worth today and will probably arrive here over the Denver in the morning.

No arrangements for the hearing before the board have been made as yet, but the session of the board will probably be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and will in all likelihood be open to the public. The members of the board are: Wm. E. Hawkins, state insurance commissioner; R. M. Hamby of Austin, and Harry L. Wright of Palestine.

The committee appointed to represent the Chamber of Commerce consists of R. E. Huff, G. D. Anderson and Charles Bean. This committee was to have gone to Austin to appear before the board there, but the place of the hearing was changed to this city.

In addition to the members of the committee presenting Wichita Falls' side of the question, it is probable that several of the property owners will submit their claims.

At the hearing in Fort Worth yesterday A. R. Phillips of Dallas, a leading insurance man of that city, defended the Fort Worth schedules of rates. He admitted that it was extortionate, but claimed that in the end it would be cheaper to the property owners. It is expected that a large number of insurance men from Dallas and Fort Worth will attend the hearing in this city and participate in the discussions.

Whether the fire rating board gives the desired relief or not, steps are already being taken by the city council and the water and light company to lower the deficiency rate and it is probable that from fifteen to thirty cents can be eliminated without any great expenditure by either. But it is felt that the real relief must come from the state board and Wichita Falls' side of the question will be put squarely up to them when they meet here tomorrow.

TARIFF MUDDLE CASE.

Germany Will Reach Agreement With This Country.

By Associated Press. Berlin, Feb. 3.—It is announced today that the tariff bill regulating the tariff relations between Germany and the United States has been passed by the Federal Council and will be introduced in the Reichstag this afternoon.

Steamers Collide.

Hamburg, Feb. 3.—The Swedish steamer Annie was in a collision last night with the German ship Susanna near Gluckstadt on Elbe. The Annie sank immediately and six of the crew drowned.

CITY'S POPULATION OVER TEN THOUSAND

According to the estimate of the directory company which is getting ready to publish the 1910 directory, Wichita Falls' population is now well past the ten thousand mark. The directory compilers have not yet completed their census, but have made sufficient progress for a preliminary estimate of the city's size, which they say is far above the ten thousand figure, with several hundred to spare.

The figures are, of course, not official, and it will take the United States census of this year to show to the world in general just how much Wichita Falls has really grown. There can be no doubt that the census will show fully ten thousand people here and there are not a few who believe that the eleven thousand mark will be reached when the census is taken. While it is not believed generally that this figure will be reached, there is no doubt that Wichita Falls has quadrupled her population since the last census was taken and has about doubled within the past three years. The announcement of both the directory and government censuses is awaited with considerable interest.

J. N. Prothro's beautiful cottage on Bluff street is nearing completion and adds materially to the appearance of that part of the city.

GROESBECK SCHOOL IS SCENE OF FIRE PANIC

Texas News Service Special. Groesbeck, Feb. 3.—The lives of three hundred students were endangered this morning when the public school house was destroyed by fire. All were attending classes when the flames broke out, at 10 o'clock. Despite the panic which followed, the students were marched out of the school and all escaped injury except one, Milton Batcheller, a boy who suffered a fracture in both arms when he jumped from a second story window. The loss will reach fourteen thousand dollars. The building was heated by a hot air furnace and it is believed a defect in the apparatus caused the blaze. Several residences near the school house were damaged by the flames, and were saved from total destruction only by hard work of the fire company and citizens.

NO VERDICT YET.

Jury is Unable to Agree in Tom Kent Case.

Texas News Service Special. Dallas, Tex., Feb. 3.—The jury in the case of Tom Kent, charged with the murder of Dick Beall, a brother of Congressman Beall, two years ago, failed to reach an agreement by noon today. It has been out since yesterday afternoon.

Service is Resumed.

Texas News Service Special. Denison, Tex., Feb. 3.—Train service was today resumed by the Missouri and Texas railroad between Dallas and Denton. For several days there was crippled service on account of the burning of the 170 foot bridge on Tuesday.

ANOTHER DISASTER OCCURS IN MINE

SIXTY-EIGHT MEXICAN MINERS KILLED NEAR LAREDO WHEN EXPLOSION TAKES PLACE.

DEATH LIST IS LARGE

Catastrophe Was Cause By Cigarette. Victims Had Small Chance for Lives.

By Associated Press. Laredo, Texas, Feb. 3.—Sixty-eight miners are believed dead in the Palau mine at Las Esperanzas, Mexico, as a result of an explosion there early yesterday. The explosion is believed to have started by a miner who was smoking a cigarette, in violation of the rules. The dead were all in the third shaft, the miners at work in the first and second shafts escaping uninjured.

After the explosion, the work of rescue was immediately instigated, but was found to be hopeless so far as the third shaft was concerned. Upon exploring that section, the dead bodies of the miners were found on every side. Their chance for life had been very small, but each had made a break for the opening before he fell.

As the bodies were brought to the surface by twos and threes, screaming women and children were congregated about the mouth of the shaft awaiting with hope the bringing out of their loved ones; a hope which was in almost every instance turned to despair as body after body was brought to the surface.

Many heartrending scenes were enacted as the bodies were brought up the shaft and stretched out in rows upon the ground to await identification.

Most of the killed were Mexicans, the Japanese miners being worked in the other parts of the mine.

As soon as the authorities learned of the explosion, State representatives were sent to the scene and immediately placed in entire charge of the work of rescue and investigation. A detailed report of the explosion and a deduction as to the probable cause—explosion of mine damp—was at once telegraphed to the Governor of the State of Coahuila at Saltillo; and an answer returned instructing the local authorities to take such action as they deemed necessary in the premises, and to thoroughly investigate the cause of the disaster.

The mining company's officials lost no time in making provision for the care of those who were injured. An order was telegraphed to Eagle Pass and Monterey for coffins for the interment of the dead, and money and food have been provided for the suffering families.

SAILS FOR GREECE.

British Men of War Leave Malta This Morning.

By Associated Press. Malta, Feb. 3.—The British battleship Duncan, the flagship of Admiral Callaghan, second in command of the British Mediterranean fleet, with the cruisers Lancaster, Minerva and Barham and four torpedo destroyers left here for Piraeus Port, at Athens, Greece today.

SASSY BURGLARS.

Ate Lunch in Saloon Under Nose of Police.

Texas News Service Special. San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 3.—Under an electric light with a police substation near by, burglars early this morning robbed the saloon of J. J. Flaherty of thirty dollars. The burglars fired up a stove, opened a case of wine and enjoyed a lunch.

SENSATIONAL SLANDER SUIT WITHDRAWN TODAY

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 3.—A legal clash developed in the sensational Swope poisoning case today when Frank Walsh attorney for S. D. B. Hyde, dismissed the slander suit brought recently against John Payton, executor of the Swope estate for one hundred thousand dollars for alleged slander.

Walsh's move was made, it is stated, to prevent the opposing attorneys from obtaining the deposition of Hyde. The restraining order was granted and served upon Walsh.

New Chief Forester and Men He Will Make War Against

HENRY S. GRAVES

In declaring at the farewell banquet given him at New Haven that he perceived ahead of him "many windfalls, many drifts to be cut through, some washouts also, and very probably a few rotten trees to cut down," Henry S. Graves, the newly appointed chief forester, announced his sympathy with the policy pursued by his predecessor, Clifford Pinchot, who was removed by President Taft. For several years Mr. Graves was closely associated with Mr. Pinchot in the forestry service. In pursuing the policy of conservation of the nation's resources it is not the intention of Mr. Graves to war upon those who make legitimate use of the country's forests, but upon the men who destroy trees wantonly without taking any measures to replace them. Three of the men who are thus depleting the country's resources are shown in the picture. Mr. Graves assumed his office February 1st.

Moses the Author Of a Health Code

From the New York Times:
Careful investigation into the infancy of the practice of medicine and surgery by Dr. Herman Pomerans of this city has led him to the conclusion that Moses 'stands alone in medical history as the first iconoclastic physician worthy of the name.' The writer says in the New York Medical Journal, that Moses 'recognized and propounded, as we of the twentieth century do today, the value of prophylaxis—the great basic principle of medical science. He may in all verity be called the father of prophylaxis.'

'Cognizant of their inutility and of the absurdities of Egyptian curative measures, he gave to the world a health code which, intrinsically to our modern conception, appears well nigh perfect. Among many enactments, the most important related to the prevention of disease, and with this aim in view commanded notification, inspection, isolation and disinfection of the suspected persons of their effects.'

Writers of medical history invariably contend, with but little reason, that ancient Jewish medicine was almost wholly founded on Egyptian theories and practices. That the contention is erroneous is easily proved by a perusal of the Bible and the Talmud. The former does not mention any drugs, while the latter refers to only a few. The Egyptians were acquainted with hundreds of herbs and their products. It is therefore obvious that medicine among the Hebrews was very little influenced by the teachings of the Egyptian priests, who as is known, kept their remedial measures to themselves. Among the Jews any person could practice medicine and impart his knowledge to whomsoever he wished. Scripture does not mention instances of priests acting as physicians. The prophets, however, occasionally practiced medicine.'

Here is some of the medical lore of the Talmud:

'The pathology of the Talmud has it that diseases are caused by constitutional defects and by evil influences acting on the body from without.'

'The remedial measures advised and medical statements generally in the Talmud are often ludicrous in the extreme. Thus, if a man has eaten onions in the evening and is found dead the next morning there is no need to make inquiry of the cause of death! Good signs in an invalid are sneezing, perspiration, sleep, and dreaming. The most painful of all deaths is that of quinsy.'

'Wise Rabbi Samuel said: 'We know remedies for all diseases except three: That induced by unripe dates "on" an empty stomach; that caused by wearing a damp linen girdle around one's loins; and that occasioned by falling asleep after meals without having first walked a distance of at least four cubits. For asthma, take fennel, mint and wormwood. God created nothing without a reason. He created the snail and the leech as remedies for contusions; the fly for the sting of bees; the gnat for the bite of a serpent, and the lizard for the sting of the scorpion! In jaundice, feed the patient with ass's flesh. Whoever is bitten by a mad dog may be fed with the left lobe of the dog's liver. For the bite of a serpent, a hen may be cut up and applied to the wound.'

'For continued "fevers," the weight in sea salt of a brand new soues (coin) suspended on a papyrus fibre around the patient's neck so that it rests in the hollow in front. For tertian fever, take seven small grapes from seven different vines and seven grains of caraway seed and tie them to the hollow in front of the neck. Babylonian broth made up of moldy bread, sour milk and salt, retards the heart action and emaciates the body. A certain cure for nasues is a mixture of cabbage, beet root, water distilled from dry moss and honey. Garlic destroys cancer! Asphasia is cured by bread baked upon coals, soft-boiled eggs with salt, and the continued use of olive oil.'

'Olives strengthen the memory. Cinnamon, hyrrh and galbanum are disinfectants. He who eats turnips and beef and sleeps out in the open air during the nights of the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month of summer (full moon) will most likely bring on an ague fever, (GHTin.)'

Frederick Remington's Art Was His Life.

There are artists who are 'formed' by the experience of life quite as much as by the discipline of the schools, artists from whose subtlest touch the savor of 'subject' is inseparable. Such a type was Frederick Remington. It is impossible to reflect upon his art without thinking of the merely human elements that have gone to its making, the close contacts with men and with the soil in a part of our country where indeed the atmosphere of the studio is simply unthinkable. He takes one away from the studio and its convenient properties, if ever a man did, and saturates one in a kind of 'local color' which has its sources far beneath the surface of things seen. One of the books he has written in the intervals of making pictures is called "Men With the Bark On." It is a happy phrase, pointing to a reality which is surely not peculiar to the west, but which just as surely preserves there a compelling raciness little known in the east, if known at all. This is not the place in which to embark upon a long analysis of American social conditions with special reference to western traits, but I must pause for a moment on the particular value of those traits in American painting.

In the search for the picturesque the artist is scarcely to be blamed if he makes much of costumes. There are sketching grounds in Holland, in France and in the south, whose popularity is legitimately enough to be referred to the dress of the people. But the step from these places to a room at home, well stocked with clothes and accessories brought from abroad, is fatally easy, as it is the step from contemplation of one of Whistler's masterly "Arrangements" to the hopelessly factitious portrayal of a lay figure, some draperies and a meaningless background. That both of these infertile transactions have been not infrequent in American art has been due to the fact that in the paucity of national life we have seemed to be starved. The social graces, or, rather, their trappings, went out with the Colonial period, when we were still taking our cue in artistic matters from the eighteenth century English schools.—From "Frederick Remington; a Painter of American Life," by Royal Cortissoz, in the February Scribner.

"Hookworm" and Immigration to the South

From the Manufacturers' Record.

A sure sign that Italy is again preparing to expedite the movement of its surplus population in the South is the posting of a rumor that the Italian government is opposing immigration of its population to this country. For twenty years there has been a long-thought-out plan of colonizing Italians in the South, and it has been pressed quite vigorously within the past six or seven years under the auspices of officials of the Italian government. Whenever natural opposition to such a colonizing scheme under the auspices of a foreign power has threatened to take a definite form the time-worn rumor of opposition on the part of the Italian government has been given publicity in this country. The latest rumor of this kind, emerging from New Orleans, is that the Italian ambassador has been recalled from Washington on account of his activity in endeavoring to place Italians in the South. His activity is indisputable. But it is hard to believe, in knowledge of the past, that his activity in this particular was against the wishes of his government or had anything at all to do with his recall. On the contrary, it may be reasonably expected that there will be a renewal of attempts to colonize the South by wholesale, not with the desirable class of Italians of whom there are thousands in this country already, but with the element among Sicilians and the inhabitants of the pulchre of Southern Italian cities that the Italian government desires to be well shunt of. In this connection it is interesting to note the statement by a New Orleans physician, Dr. Joseph A. Dana, as follows: "The very fact that Rockefeller gave a million dollars to help stamp out the hookworm has added much to the talk of the disease. An Italian physician recently told me that reports of the prevalence of his disease had the effect of scaring Europeans away from the South."

Supplementary to this is the following credited to the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph: "The climatic conditions in the South make active physical labor unsuitable for certain races and it would be inadvisable to encourage the Danes and Swedes and North qualities to go there. But the case is quite different with the Italians, Germans, despite their many excellent Greeks and other Southern races, to whom the climatic and general conditions are eminently suitable."

The Telegraph is probably a victim of ignorance about climatic conditions in the South, but an ignorance unjustified in an intelligent American, in view of the widespread knowledge of Southern conditions and of the signal success of such stocks as the Germans in their fifty-odd years' history in Texas. It is hard to believe that any Italians are being scared away from the South by the hookworm, but it is conceivable that the exaggerated impression of Southern drawbacks created by the Rockefeller hookworm agitation will prevent the movement to the South of desirable immigrants from other parts of the country or from Europe if the South continues to be dazzled by a million dollars and to encourage the agitation. As the Manufacturers' Record said when the fully ripe hookworm scheme came to the surface two months ago:

"Seducing the South into supporting schemes to keep the negroes massed there is an effective means, when supplemented by sensational publications in the North and West, of checking the natural instinct of thrifty men in other parts of the country, whether native-born or coming from portions of Europe where Caucasian elements dominate, to move to the portion of the country where nature offers the greatest returns for human enterprise and industry. But as a means of checking desirable immigration and, consequently, easing down the South to becoming a party to the scheme to dump upon the South the undesirables of great cities in the North and their ever-increasing hordes of newcomers, it can not touch the effect of the false impressions about the South and its people, created by the $1,000,000 aimed for the 'eradication of hookworms.'"

SOCIALIST PLATFORM.

Three Propositions Outlined at Dallas for Coming Election.

Dallas, Feb. 2.—It is probable that in the next general city election, to be held in April next, the Socialists party will bring three propositions before the voters of the city of Dallas in the shape of referendum ordinances. One of these, it is said, will be a law giving women suffrage in school board elections.

Another will be an ordinance requiring the city of Dallas to own and operate a municipal electric light plant.

The third will be an ordinance permitting the use of public buildings for any sort of public meetings.

WILL BUILD ROAD.

Withdrawal of Morgan Jones Not to Affect Abilene Central.

Abilene, Tex., Feb. 2.—At a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Abilene Central Railway Company held last night in the Twenty-Five Thousand Club Rooms, it was unanimously resolved to proceed with the building of the road irrespective of the action of Morgan Jones in refusing to comply with his contract to build the road.

The pending suits against Jones will not affect the construction of the road, the principal stockholders were represented or present tonight and the sentiment was unanimous to push the construction of the road, the parties pledging themselves to use their entire efforts toward the construction. The directors were given full power to proceed with the construction, all their past actions were ratified by the meeting and the citizens pledged themselves to back the directors in all their efforts toward the construction of the road.

Our prescription department has the approval of your physician and should be patronized whenever you have prescriptions to be compounded.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity.
Tonight, fair and colder; freezing. Friday, fair and warmer.

Misguided city folks have been heard to say that the trouble with life in a small town is that "there is nothing to do." The chief trouble with many small towns is that there is too much to do. Every one is minding every one else's business. The sages of Merriam, Kansas, a little place ten miles southwest of Kansas City, have perceived in this state of affairs an opportunity to boost their town into national prominence. Two years ago on Christmas Day, they drifted into what was then Jim Campbell's general store and postoffice, and adopted a resolution. They pledged themselves "to spend one-half their time in tending to their own business and the other half in letting other people's business alone." Alas! that we could not have discerned between the lines of a notes of Kansas determination. Then we might have said, "Watch Merriam! We saw her first!" We may yet find comfort in a retrospective summary. The Kansas City "Star" is authority for the statement that the "Dove of Peace" itself has in these two years made a nest on the roof of the Merriam postoffice, and quotes Jim Campbell as saying that "the resolution has brought more good luck to Merriam than anything else ever did, except the electric line." And throughout the town every one has "abided by" the resolution and is so satisfied with the results that it is to continue in force for an indefinite time. Joe Becker, justice of the peace, has resigned on account of slack trade. It got so that he had nothing to look forward to but an occasional marriage. Gossip is dead. In Merriam one may talk over a party line telephone with as much security as he could send a message over a leased wire. The post-center of social life—but how changed in what philosophers call ethos. Women no longer gather to censure other women's housekeeping or taste in hats. Men no longer spend the day calling their neighbors stingy. "And whether folks get a letter or not," declares Dave White, the assistant postmaster, "no one ever gets huffy." Surely, the Dove of Peace has made no mistake. Until some other town—yes, or city!—can boast of higher virtues than these, the Dove is right to make his home in Merriam.—Collier's.

There are some who are inclined to the belief that a "boom" in real estate is now on in Wichita Falls, and that property values are entirely too high and out of reach. This same kind of talk was indulged in about this time last year and even the year before that, and some of those who owned choice property disposed of it at nice profits and secretly indulged in a laugh to themselves about how they had "skinned" the other fellow. But some of the same fellows who sold at that time have just recently repurchased the identical same stuff at all the way from a 25 to a 100 per cent advance over the price at which they disposed of it. It will continue to be that way, and while the census of 1910 will give Wichita Falls only about 10,000 population, there is every reason to believe from present indications that this figure will have to be multiplied by 2 before another two years passes. Wichita Falls has every thing at her door to make a city, and this work is being accomplished just as fast as ever men with money and brains at their back can lay out plans and put them into execution. Wichita county is also keeping pace with Wichita Falls, and the country is adding to population and wealth just about as fast as the county seat—Wichita Falls. During the past year, the county as a whole, has made a gain of about 50 per cent, according to the number of poll tax receipts paid. This, it is believed is a better showing than any county in the whole state of Texas can make in that particular respect.

A Nashville friend inquires: "When Texas exchanged 100,000 acres of Texas land for 100,000 gallons of Ohio whiskey, which got the best of the bargain?" It is not our purpose to start a discussion, but we inform our Tennessee friend that before the deal Texas had the land; now it has both the land and the Jigger. Figger it out for yourself.—Houston Post.

We are willing for the insurance companies to demonstrate to us that eggs are cheaper at forty cents a dozen than they are at thirty, if that is the substance of their arguments. We are always ready to learn.

There aren't many towns that could get two new wholesale groceries in one week without becoming frustrated, but Wichita Falls accepts them calmly, but part of the general order of things.

Zelaya is said to be planning for another revolution. A man who hankers after that form of recreation as much as he does, ought to have his craving satisfied.

The Canton No. 12 Planter

The only Cotton Planter made where the hitch retains the same relative position whether plowing deep or shallow, avoiding all seek weight, which is accomplished by the small lever on the end of the tongue. The only planter made which throws the lead mechanism automatically out of gear without separating the gear wheels, avoiding all liability of breaking the teeth in the gears. These and other excellent features, protected by patents, can be found only on the F. & O. Canton Planter.

The bottom always remains at the same angle whether set deep or shallow. This angle can be instantly changed by the lever on the tongue. Has detachable hopper with the plates and agitator moving in opposite directions, preventing the seed from bunching. The finest Cotton and Corn Planter made.

Death of L. L. Colburn. Died, in this city, February 1st, 1910, Mr. L. L. Colburn, aged 66.

Mr. Colburn came to Wichita Falls about two year ago from Mount Pleasant, Tenn., and during his stay here had made many warm friends, but only we who have known him best can value most a life and character such as Mr. Colburn has lived among us, for truly none knew him but to love him; none named him but to praise.

He leaves a wife and five children. Mr. J. R. Colburn of this city, his oldest son, in company with his mother, left this morning for Mount Pleasant, Tenn., where the remains will be laid to rest.

Postoffice Clerks Hold Meeting

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

By HARRIET RUSSELL.

A housekeeper who found it difficult to keep tabs on her dish towels, finally hit upon a scheme which has worked beautifully so far.

First she bought some material and from it fashioned a bag very similar to a soiled handkerchief bag. This she hung on the back of the pantry door, to be used solely for soiled dish towels.

Each morning she gives the girl a supply for the day's work, and on Monday morning the soiled ones are brought to her at the time she gets together the laundry work. She has the same number a week, allowing the girl a certain number each day.

By keeping the towels separated from the household linen she finds it much easier to prevent a loss of any of them.

The majority of women use regular toweling for their dish towels, but I know one who makes them of white cheesecloth. She contends that cheese cloth absorbs the water more readily than linen. And the cheapness of the cloth might appeal to many.

Is your house the sort where everyone goes on a hunt for a pencil whenever a package, which must be signed for, arrives? I've been in number of houses where the delivery of a parcel meant the beginning of a wild and often fruitless search for a pencil. Why not get a pencil and fasten it on a string or small chain and put in some out of sight corner of the hall? Its a very convenient way to manage.

The Cook bonnet, the Peary coat and the Eskimo motorcap are on the counters. Women are often apt to say that this trick of naming garments after a popular hero or place is new; it is really as old as fashion. The Garibaldi waist is famous. When the Paris opera house burned down over a century ago the color of smart materials was called "burnt opera house."

By the way, some of the old names for materials were interesting and remarkable. When Marie Antoinette installed a sentimental shepherdess fashion the satin in favor was "stifled sigh." An apple green with white stripes was called "the lively shepherdess." Long narrow shoes, which which were studded with jewels, are in fashion again this winter, and called "come and see."

The ribbons that were in vogue all over Europe were called "a sigh of hope" and the "sigh of Venus."

The four trimmings that were used from Rome to St. Petersburg were sold under the names of "the sweet smile," "agitation," "regrets" and "preference."

LOVE RETALIATES

Kansas City Banker Gets Sharp Call on Texas State Bank Stock

Anstin, Feb. 3.—One of the last official acts of retiring Comisioner of Insurance and Banking Love was to take a fall out of a Kansas City National Banker, who has been declining to handle paper for which Texas State Bank stock was offered as collateral. This banker explained his action in this particular by saying that he does not consider Texas state bank stock as a good basis for loans because of the Texas law which appropriates the assets of a good bank with which to make good for the misdeeds of a bad one. As this banker's institution is the reserve agent of a number of Texas state banks and is soliciting more business of that character, Mr. Love wrote him that the Texas department of banking would have to consider the proposition of refusing in the future to approve his bank as a reserve agent for Texas banks, his position on the subject of Texas state bank stock indicating very clearly that his Texas correspondents need expect no accommodations from him, should they need them.

Mr. Love also reminded him that instead of the assets of Texas state banks being subject to confiscation for the benefit of the guaranty fund of 3 per cent of their deposits is the limit of the assessment they are required to meet for the protection of that fund.

Bankrupt Sale.

I will sell as trustee, at 11 o'clock a. m. February 14th, at Wichita Falls, Texas, the Wilson Hardware Company stock of hardware, vehicles, implements and repairs, estimated at $25,000.00. This stock of goods will be sold for cash to the highest bidder.

I will also sell lot 6, in block 129, in Wichita Falls, with ware house on same, and on same terms.

And on the 15th of February I will sell the stock of hardware, vehicles and repairs of the same firm at Byers, Texas, and the lease on building. This sale to be at Byers on same terms.

Bidder to whom stock is sold will have to put up 25 per cent of bid to await approval of referee.

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS

Amusements

"The Flower of the Ranch."
Only a few genuine and new musical comedies have reached Wichita Falls this season, and the biggest one of these is "The Flower of the Ranch," by Joseph E. Howard, the prolific ever-light composer, which comes to the Wichita Theatre tomorrow night.

"The Flower of the Ranch" might best be termed a musical melo drama, for during the operation of the piece there are a number of stirring climaxes, intermingled with which are nearly twenty of the cleverest musical numbers, and among them are some real novelties. One of these, and the biggest spot on the map of mirth and melody unfolded in this story, is the "Pajama and the Nightie" duet. This is bold, broad conceit which stops just about two ticks by the stop watch, this side of the shocking point where polite society would call it "outré." The breezy summery rainfall of the nifty terpsichores is not exactly diaphanous or gauzy, for it has little more protection against wintry blasts than the bracelets and beads of Salome fame.

Another number-novelty, sufficient in itself to hold up the average musical offering is "The Days of '49," in which a real stage coach, drawn by "broiler" ponies is introduced. From a musical standpoint, it is fat with songs and chorus and together with its melo-dramatic setting and genuine comedy situations, it is just a little the more intricate and delightful combination of this ever squeezed into two hours of footlight folly. The production is scenically correct in every detail and the electrical intermissions are pleasing, to say the least.

The acting company includes Jesse Harris, John E. Frank, J. H. Clayton, John Sampson, Chas. T. Mast, Harry Nelson, Alva D. Stimms, Mark Reede, Miss Nellie Watters and Miss Adelaide O'Brien.

Tim Murphy and His Native Plays.
There is poetic justice in Tim Murphy's success with American plays. Like Sol Smith Russell, John T. Raymond and John Owen, he has been patriotic in his art. He has always acted American characters in American plays by American authors.

It will be remembered that this comedian leaped to fame as the "Hot Maverick Brander," the politician and cattle raiser in "A Texas Steer." Then he presented that lovable old optimist of Washington Square in "Old Innocence." This was followed by a notable characterization of the governor of Mississippi, in Ople Reed's southern reconstruction comedy, "The Carpetbagger." Again, and for the first time since his first play, he moved into Washington for his charming and endearing impersonation of "Joel Gay," in Paul Wilstach's "A Man From Missouri."

Consistent to his precedent, "Two Men and a Girl," and "When a Man Marries," were both American comedies and American to the core—also were the authors, Frederick Paulding and A. C. Bishop.

Mr. Murphy's present and great success, "Cupid and the Dollar," which will be presented at the Wichita Theatre Saturday night, February 5th, is by Charles Jeffrey. The coming of Tim Murphy will reveal this versatile comedian in a role in which he has achieved eminent success, happily shared with the author, for the play has everywhere been received with exceptional favor. Seats on sale tomorrow.

"The Little Homestead."
The amusement-loving people who enjoy a good rural drama of the pronounced type, but still with plenty of good comedy, sensation and heart interest, should witness "The Little Homestead," which comes to the Wichita Theatre on Monday, February 7th. The story is from the pen of W. B. Patton, who has written a number of well known successes and in "The Little Homestead" has written a play that will live in the hearts of the people. It is told in four acts, of an erring wife, who leaves a happy home to be degraded and carried down to destitution by a false lover, but virtue triumphs in the end. A very difficult part is that of "Roy Carroll," the husband, which is played by Mr. William MacCauley, who is an exceptionally clever actor and is spoken of very highly by the press in the cities where "The Little Homestead" has been presented. All special scenery will be used in this production.

Egan's cold storage-warehouse proposition. This measure provides for the inspection of all food stuffs in storage once in every sixty days. At the end of that time the goods must either be sold or destroyed.

FORTY-ONE MILES A SECOND.
Rate at Which Comet is Traveling From the Earth.
Cambridge Mass., Feb. 2.—Forty-one miles a second is the speed at which comet A-1910 is traveling from the earth, according to the Harvard college observatory. A telegram from the Lick observatory also states that Albrecht photographed the spectrum of the comet and found the sodium displaced, thus indicating the motion of the luminary.

Your Electric Light Bill
Now, just a moment—it is not my intention to be disagreeable, but I believe that I can cause it to be much more satisfactory. How would you like to have twice as much light or the same amount of light, twice the number of hours, or twice the number of lights the same hours, at less than the present cost? Isn't that fair enough? Make a suggestion.
