WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1910

NUMBER 229

LOCAL REAL ESTATE STILL VERY ACTIVE

MANY DEALS OF SUBSTANTIAL SIZE HAVE BEEN CONSUM- MATED LATELY.

RESIDENCE LOTS CHANGE

Bulk of Recent Heavy Trading Has Been Outside of the Business Section.

The past few days have been marked by unusual activity in local realty circles and some interesting trades have been put through. The high prices still prevail on all desirable property and some of the figures paid seem out of proportion at first glance. It is noticed that several deals of substantial size have been put through on property in, or near the business section, and in addition there have been a number of trades on residence property.

Messrs. Kemp and Kell recently purchased from N. C. McIntyre the lot at the northwest corner of 9th and Scott streets for seven thousand dollars. This lot is now occupied by a residence. Mr. McIntyre also sold these same gentlemen a lot at the northeast corner of 10th and Ohio, for seven thousand dollars.

Messrs. J. U. Whaley and N. C. Ball of Gainesville recently purchased several very desirable pieces of residence property, being the Dan Hardy property on 8th street and the J. M. Morton property on Lamar street. The former sold recently for ninety-five hundred dollars and the latter for fifty-two hundred and fifty. A deed was filed today conveying the building next to the post-office on Ohio avenue to J. E. Lee of Abilene. This deal was consummated several days ago, the purchased price being $7750.

The activity in Floral Heights really continues unabated and it is estimated that one hundred thousand dollars worth of these lots have changed hands since the first of the year. It is not believed that any similar property in the state can show as good a record.

The recorded deeds filed with the county clerk since the first of the year total approximately half a million dollars in addition to which there have been any number of deals put through that have not been recorded. There is an activity in local real estate such as was never noted before, and it bears good evidence to the prosperity of the city.

YOUNG WOMAN'S CHANCES FOR RECOVERY BETTER

The young woman who attempted to end her life by taking carbolic acid in a local rooming house yesterday morning is still alive today, with her chances for recovery considerably improved. She suffered severely throughout the night and for a time it was feared she would not survive, but today her condition is much better. It is learned that the young woman is well connected, but that domestic estrangement prevented her calling on relatives in her financial distress.

AVIATOR DID NOT WANT TO PAY FOR HIS CANINE

Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 5.—The fact that Louis Paulhan, the celebrated aviator, broke the world's record for high altitude in a bi-plane, did not prevent his being roughly handled and threatened with arrest upon his arrival here this morning, when he refused to pay $1.75 express charges on his dog from Trinidad, Colo., to Fort Worth.

The aviator's wife, who is, to put it politely, a rather large woman, came to the rescue of her husband and frightening off the express messengers, grabbed the dog. Paulhan does not understand English and when asked to pay the charges, refused to do so. The men expostulated and a crowd soon gathered. Paulhan kept repeating, "No understand ze English."

The charges were paid, however, before Paulhan left for New Orleans.

DIRECTORS ACT ON SEVERAL MATTERS

WILL TRY TO SECURE GOOD MA- JORITY FOR PAVING BONDS AT COMING ELECTION.

TO ENTERTAIN DOCTORS

Northwest Texas Medical Association Will Meet Here—Other Matters Attended to.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce were in session this morning and acted upon several pending matters. The committees acting upon the propositions submitted for the establishing of a hay-press factory here and for the location of a patent printing concern reported that they could not recommend the acceptance of either offer, owing to the amount requested by the promoters being too large to justify its being subscribed.

The question of grading the various members of the Chamber of Commerce according to the amount subscribed monthly was referred to a committee. By this plan, those who can afford to contribute liberally but who are down for only the minimum dollar per month will be classified that way.

It was decided to put forth every effort to secure a heavy vote at the paving bond election and all present were urged to take this matter up.

A committee representing the Wichita County Medical association appeared before the directors and requested their assistance in entertaining the Northwest Texas Medical association, which meets here on April 12 and 13. They wished the Chamber of Commerce to provide a street car ride to the lake, a boat ride on the lake, and the use of the pavilion. This the directors unanimously agreed to do.

Farmer L. Clark was appointed to represent Wichita Falls at the meeting of the Oklahoma racing circuit at Clinton, Oklahoma. There were no other matters to receive attention and adjournment was taken. The directors present were: R. E. Huff, Wiley Blair, J. C. Tandy, Frank Kell, J. A. Kemp, G. D. Anderson, T. B. Noble, N. Henderson, W. Lee Moore, Myles O'Reilly.

CHARTER IS ATTACKED.

Fort Worth City Government May Be Unconstitutional.

Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 5.—The Exchange Trust Company of Boston, Mass., today requested Attorney General Lightfoot to ascertain whether the legislature's act granting a charter to the city of Fort Worth is constitutional.

This company is negotiating the purchase of $300,000 worth of bonds of the city of Fort Worth. Their legality depends on whether the suspension of the constitution rule requiring bills read on three different days was properly taken. The rule was suspended by a vote of 94 to 90, and the law requires a four-fifths vote, which would be 106. If only a few members were absent, Fort Worth is operating under an illegal charter.

WICHITA FALLS MAY ESCAPE HIGH INSURANCE RATES ON GROUNDS OF CONSTITUTIONALITY

That to enforce the new insurance rates in Wichita Falls, Amarillo and Fort Worth before they become effective in other cities of Texas would be a violation of the constitution, was submitted at Fort Worth yesterday by Judge William E. Hawkins, state insurance commissioner and chairman of the fire rating board.

Judge Hawkins said that he was inclined to believe that the enforcement of these rates in these three cities, while the entire rest of the state was paying the old schedule, constituted a discrimination that he did not think the courts could sustain.

The fire rating board completes its Fort Worth session today and will be in Wichita Falls Monday morning to remain two days or longer.

There has been only one protest filed from Amarillo and that was withdrawn yesterday and the board will not hold any session there. It is not known what action Amarillo plans to take to prevent being "soaked" by the new rates.

KENTUCKY'S CREW SAVED BY ALAMO

WIRELESS OPERATOR STUCK TO HIS POST AND WAS ABLE TO SUMMON HELP.

FORDY SEVEN ARE SAVED

"Alamo" Heard Call for Aid and Ar- rived At Scene in Time To Ren- der Needed Aid.

By Associated Press.
New York, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Safe and sound on board the Mallory Liner "Alamo," the captain and the crew of forty-six men of the ill-fated steamer "Kentucky" are speeding today for Key West.

The Kentucky lies at the bottom of the sea off Cape Hatteras. She struggled for more than a day in the waves off Hatteras, her seams parting and the rushing waters gaining fast on the pumps. The rescue of the crew was effected a few hours before the Kentucky sank.

A peculiar feature of the incident is that T. A. McLarney, the wireless operator on the boat when it left New York, quit the ship when it stopped at Newport News because his parents at Monticello, New York, had a premonition that something would go wrong. He heeded their strange warning and was replaced by W. D. McGinnis.

McGinnis stuck gamely to his post while the ship's hold slowly filled with water, hammering out the call for help and receiving in reply a message of assurance from the Alamo, which was approaching from eighty miles distant with all possible speed. Hardly had the water stilled the dynamo and made further communication impossible when the rescuing ship came in sight over the horizon.

CARLOAD OF AIRSHIPS GOES THROUGH WICHITA

Two carloads of airships passed through Wichita Falls this morning over the south-bound Denver, being the equipment of Louis Paulhan, the celebrated French aeronaut, who is in this country. He was en route from Denver to New Orleans, where he is scheduled for an exhibition. The airship was wrecked by an accident at Denver Thursday, but the aeronaut was able to ship it for his New Orleans exhibit. It occupies two cars and Mr. Paulhan and his family occupied a private car.

"REVOLT AGAINST KING COTTON"

WICHITA FALLS PART IN FIGHT IS DISCUSSED IN VAN NORDEN'S MAGAZINE.

WRITTEN BY CARL CROW

Fort Worth Journalist Tells How Wichita Falls Helped Farmers in this Section.

In the February issue of Van Norden's Magazine appears an article entitled "The Revolt Against King Cotton." It is from the pen of Carl Crow, of the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and in it appears some very complimentary references to Wichita Falls. The following is an excerpt from the article:

"In some of the new sections of Texas, where the farmers are new to the soil and unhampered by local traditions, the work has succeeded with most noticeable effect. Wichita Falls is a new town in the center of a rich agricultural section, recently taken from the cattlemen. When it was settled up the farmers were recruited from East Texas, where cotton has long been the principal agricultural industry. Out of respect to custom and the teachings of their fathers, the farmers planted cotton. Then northern capitalists came to Wichita Falls to build it into a town, with trolley cars and daily papers. They had seen other cotton towns and did not like them. They wanted to live in a town where the business men would not be compelled to pray half the year for a favorable season and the other half for a favorable price, with the business barometer going up or down with the rise and fall in the condition of a single plant. At once they organized a revolt against King Cotton.

"An agricultural expert learned by experiment that with deep fall plowing, a good yield of corn could be expected, even in the dry season. With this and other agricultural messages, the business men of Wichita Falls met the farmers at a series of meetings held in the country school houses. The farmers were urged to plant experimental patches of corn, with seed furnished free by the commercial club, to be cultivated under the free supervision of the agricultural expert. A few accepted the offer and planted the corn, while the neighbors laughed at them. But the expert made good. The next year the experimenters gathered forty bushels to the acre.

"The campaign is only a few years old, but last season the work of the expert had come to be so popular that he had one hundred and twenty-seven experimental patches to look after while many of the farmers had graduated from the experimental patches and had big fields. Now the Wichita Falls section is thoroughly diversified and one can see cotton, wheat, corn and alfalfa growing in adjoining fields. It is sufficient that Wichita Falls is growing faster than any other town in Texas."

NEW GRAIN CENTER.

Railroads Understood To Favor Fort Worth.

Texas News Service Special.
St. Louis, Feb. 5.—It is learned at the railroad offices today that plans are being formulated to make Fort Worth a terminal grain station in which case this city will be the third largest grain center in the United States. The railroads expect to offer lower rates and enable the shippers to concentrate grain at Fort Worth where the routing will be done afterwards. Big grain exchanges will likely be built, and buyers from all over the country will go to Texas for grain.

ALDRICH TAKES HAND IN EXTRAVAGANCE GAME

By Associated Press.
Washington, Feb. 5.—In an effort to put an end to government extravagance and waste, Senator Aldrich today reported from the committee on public expenditures a bill providing for the appointment of a commission to make an investigation and suggest needed reforms.

The Wichita Tills and Brick Company has increased its Chamber of Commerce subscription from ten dollars to twenty-five dollars monthly.

In the Realm of Society

RAPID WORK.

I often wonder as I sit
And listen to their chatter,
How women ever manage it,
Amid the clang and clatter,
To ever know a word that passed,
For each one talks so hard and fast.

One woman says she heard a song
That simply is divine;
Another nods and comes along
Some new place to dine,
While two or three just talk away
As if it were their busy day.

They talk of fashions, clubs and plays,
Their children, and their husbands,
And brag about the little ways
They have of getting something new Each woman chatters at her will,
And by no chance is ever still.

It doesn't seem that one can know
A word another woman said,
Because such streams of language
Flow from each enthusiastic head.

To hear them makes one stand aghast,
How do they learn to talk so fast?
—By a Man.

Do good by stealth and blush to find
It fame.

SUNDAY THOUGHTS.

The greatest secret of eloquence is to be in earnest.
What we see depends not so much on what is before our eyes as on what is behind them.

No man is made only for himself and his own private affairs, but to serve, profit and benefit others.

Whatever real happiness there is to be found in the world is reserved for the good conscience.

The one secret of life is to do every moment's duty aright.

Let us learn from the past to profit by the present, and from the present to live better in the future.

The chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex us, and in prudently cultivating our undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas are let on long leases.

It is a great deal better to live a holier life than to talk about it. Lighthouses don't ring bells and fire cannon to call attention to their shining.
They just shine, says the seer.

One of the most pleasant social meetings of the Senior Class was held cago the latter part of the week.

On last Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 Miss Icie White was at home to the members of the Floral Club in honor of Mrs. J. C. Bray. Mrs. Bray has been a faithful member since its organization and had won the hearts of the entire roll. We give her over to the California clime with covetous feelings and long for her return to her native land.

Miss White did the occasion justice in every particular. The parlors were daintily arranged and a nice program of music with an advertising contest, was heartily entered by all.

Around the punch bowl we frequently gathered, lingering an unlimited season with the refreshments of tea and sandwiches.

We came to order for a few little business points and with a few brief discussions, adjourned to meet again the following Friday.

The Floral Art program was carried out to the letter on last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. F. Jourdan.

Miss Icie White furnished the music for the afternoon that lent inspiration to all present. The botanical subject was outlined by Mrs. G. L. Moore. Mrs.
Dr. Roberson interested us with "The Flowers and Fruits of Canada," while Mrs. Boyd's theme was from the tropical regions of Mexico, describing the flowers and fruits of many varieties.

Mrs. Thatcher had data on "The State Flower" that was very interesting.

Character Sketch—"Caesar Cleopatra," by Mrs. Kerr was lengthy and full.

Story of the "Holy Grail," by Mrs.
Jourdan that brought to view many visions of the Knights of the Round Table.

Parliamentary drill was omitted
owing to the illness of our leader, Mrs.
Dr. Moore.

The afternoon was enjoyed by all.
We meet next with Mrs. Kerr.

"Flora,"

The encouragement that Flora is getting from Wichita Falls' enterprising people is beyond the expectations of the most sanguine. She is being buoyed on by all whose interests are centered in home, the ones who make things hum—the real movers, and when the time comes for the things that count—those who have ever moved among the phantoms of meaning that have lured this trend of progress, onward and upward. She feels more and more self-confident because the field in which she is to bloom is so new, so broad and so eager for development. She has only to plant the seed—the growth is a certainty, for she knows her neighbors are skillful and energetic, with the facilities at hand to insure success. She has secured the faithful co-operation of all the lady teachers in the central high school. With their aid in carrying out the little civic scheme, she can not fail to reach her lofty aim—that of beautifying in her own sphere and should each organization move out in similar directions the good that could be accomplished for our town would no doubt startle the skeptical. So she shall watch with eager, longing eyes for the good and beautiful that may come forward from all.

"We have progressed as clubs forever," says Mrs. M. K. Russell, of Dallas, president of the Garden Association, "but we have done comparatively little in Texas for civic beauty," too imprudent to be viewed carelessly.
—A MEMBER.

The largest and one of the most enjoyable parties of the season was given by Mrs. A. Zundelowitz at her home Thursday afternoon, honoring Mesdames Shumate, Scott, Hughes and Miss Kaufman.

The spacious rooms, adorned with handsome ferns, furnished a delightful place for ten tables, laid for "Five Hundred" and "Forty-Two."

The first prize, a pretty Japanese vase, was won by Mrs. DuVal. The consolation prize, an imported plate, went to Mrs. Smith, while Miss Kaufman received the honoree's favor.

After spending two hours playing the fascinating games, the hostess, in her ever inimitable way, served a delicious two-course luncheon.

Those present were: Mesdames Shu-mate, Scott, Hughes, Miller, C. C. Huff, R. E. Huff, T. Roberts, G. D. Anderson,
Kemp, Woodward, Howard, Blair, Tandy, Marcus, McCune, Allen, Burnside, McGregor, DuVal, Bacon, Jim Smith, Wylie Cobb, Baldwin, Richoit, Darnell, Montgomery, Shepherd, Stevens, Maddox, Reese Blair of Amarillo; Misses Kaufman, Sherrod, Kemp, Ingram, Dora and Cora Coons and Shepherd of Dallas.

Elks' Dance.

About thirty-five Elks, with their ladies attended the dance at the lodge hall last Thursday night and the occasion was a very enjoyable one for all concerned. A program of twenty dances was carried out so pleasantly that to many it seemed that the evening had hardly started before "Home

Sweet Home" was sounding. The next dance will be given about Feb.
22nd.

The Ladies of the Baptist Missionary Aid Societies will entertain at the home of Mrs. Wiley Robertson, 1411 Tenth street, Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. All ladies of the church are cordially invited.

The following program will be carried out:

- Song.
- Prayer.
- Report of work for last year; aim for the coming year.
- Solo—Mrs. Boone.
- Talk by Bro. Boone.
- Election of officers.
- Music by our young ladies.
- A social hour.

In Memorium.

Go to her reward, Mrs. E. F.
Crawford. "She has entered into that rest that remains for the people of God." A member of the Baptist church at Wichita Falls; also a member of the "Home Department" of the Sunday School, a faithful and consistent Christian, ever ready and willing to discharge the duties she owed to the cause of her Master.

She suffered much for one of her age and was very frail; so often was deprived the privilege of attending worship at the House of God. After many days and nights of intense suffering, death relieved her immortal spirit from its tabernacle of clay.

She has left behind those frailties,
She has reached the Heavenly shore,
Blessed though—pain nor sorrow
Shall disturb her peace no more.

She has gained those Heavenly Mansions
To dwell with the pure and blest,
And naught will ever enter in
To disturb her peaceful rest.

There with all that blood-washed through
She sees her Saviour face to face;
She has raised her voice in song to Him who saved her by His Grace.

The battle fought; the victory won
And she has entered into rest.
He who took her unto Him,
Doeth all things for the best.

Another one of our number is gone;
In the house there is a vacancy that cannot be filled. Her young and tender children, how they will miss her, when now deprived of her guiding care and counsel as only a mother can give.
"May He who tempers the wind to the Shorn Lamb" take them under His protecting care and shield them from the evils to come.

To her loved one we would say:
"Mourn not as those who have no hope. It is God's Will; He doeth all things well. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints; blessed the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them. Even so, Father, not our will, but thine be done."

WE ARE LAYING FOR YOU

And the way we are doing it is keeping the best wire fencing in stock. Before deciding on the wire fencing most suitable to our particular trade, we investigated all the leading makes. Our object was to get the strongest fencing; fencing that would stretch up the easiest; would not sag when run over uneven ground; was animal proof and so constructed as to best withstand the ravages of time. The fencing that we found to most nearly combine all these desirable qualities was the Pittsburgh Perfect Welded Wire Fencing. So this is the fence we not only offer you, but advise you to take. It costs no more than other fencing of inferior quality.

A Simple Six Room Bungalow.

Design 861, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FLOOR PLAN.

In the bungalow line this design is a gem to study. This is what is called a six room bungalow. The rooms are all thrown together, the living room opening up with the reception hall and forming practically one large room twenty-nine feet wide. There is a little hall from the back of the bungalow which allows one to pass from the front to the rear of the house without entering or passing through any of the rooms. Into each of which there is a hall entrance. This is as near a perfect floor plan as can be got up for a bungalow of this size. There is a small basement under the kitchen, with a bedroom across the rear. The size is 30 by 38 feet over the main part. The first story is nine feet in the clear, finished with hardwood floors throughout and Washington fir for finish in each room. Cost to build, exclusive of plumbing and heating, $1,900.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 861 for $25. GLENN L. SAXTON.

A Seven Room Suburban Cottage.

Design 858, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

This cottage includes all the requirements that are desired in a seven room cottage. The first story contains a reception hall with open stairway and built-in seat. There is a grade entrance underneath the stair landing. Living room and dining room are connected by wide case openings with a built-in sideboard in rear of dining room. There is ample space in the kitchen entry for refrigerator. Three large chambers in second story; also a large bathroom. There is also a good sized attic. Size of this cottage is twenty-four feet six inches wide and thirty feet six inches deep over all. Hardwood floors throughout. Washington fir or birch finish in the first story and pine to paint in the second story. Full basement. First story nine feet; second story eight feet in the clear. Cost to build, exclusive of plumbing and heating, $2,900.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 858 for $15.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity.
◆—Tonight and Sunday, fair.
◆Warmer tonight.

Those Windy West fellows are still so sore about some things The News said about them in the past when it was water-bound at home that they refuse now to pleasantly accept a compliment from it. Recently The News commented on the enterprise and prosperity of Wichita Falls, and The Times comes back at us with this:

"The esteemed News can better afford to urge the people of Bonham to 'go and do likewise,' rather than trying to hold them there by referring to us at 'the high, dry and windy west,' and telling jokes at our expense, one of which is to the effect that we out here use a log chain attached to a post set deep in the ground as a weather vane and that when the wind blows this chain stretches out in one direction or the other to show strangers from which way it is coming. Ashley, you ought to tell your readers that it is not so."

The News never claimed credit for a story when the credit did not belong to it, and in this case that log chain weather vane does not belong to it. It never used it, and never heard it before. Of course, it is a good illustration of the way the wind blows out there, but The Times must not credit us with its authorship.

Furthermore, is The Times objects seriously to our references to its public enterprises and growth, we will refrain from further mention, much as we dislike to do so, for really, we want to use it to show what great things can be accomplished by Texas citizens laboring under disadvantages. If Wichita can do what she has done with so few advantages, what could Bonham do with her great advantages if she would only turn herself loose?—Bonham News.

While noting the many new enterprises which Wichita Falls is securing, it is, perhaps, a little selfish in the Times' not keeping track of the new enterprises which our neighboring towns are securing. It therefore, makes the announcement that Henrietta has secured a planing mill, due to efforts put forth by her enterprising Board of Trade.

If the education of the future citizenship of Wichita Falls isn't worth forty thousand dollars, it isn't worth anything at all. Make up your mind now to support that bond issue, but don't forget that there are some street paving bonds that will need your support in the meantime.

The Quannah Tribune-Chief has been complaining that the price of real estate in that town is too low. Somehow, we don't recall hearing any complaints of that kind locally.

Considering the high prices of meat at present, the ground hog was extremely lucky to get back to his hole yesterday without being kidnapped.

A SENATOR'S MISTAKE

A United States senator has made a most unfortunate mistake. Made it in the face of experience that he must be old enough to read about, or at least have heard about.

Senator Clark of Wyoming has named as alternate at West Point a negro, which means that if the white man or youth to whom he gave the first chance should fall in his examination the negro alternate will have the next chance.

As sure as the negro gets the chance and goes to West Point he is going to meet more trouble than he ever had an idea could be stirred up in this world.

Just exactly when, the Chronicle will not undertake to say, but something like twenty or thirty years ago a negro whose name is not now recalled, was sent as a cadet to West Point, and from the day he arrived until he left—and even after he got into the army—his path was hard and life was made a burden for him.

The social theorist who prates about an equality which does not and never did exist, regardless of the question of race or color, will rant and decant and argue and denounce just as soon as the white cadets begin to snub and ostracise Senator Clark's appointee, if he should ever get to West Point; and that they will do so is just as certain as that black is not white.

When that time comes—if it ever does—Senator Clark will doubtless wonder why people should be prejudiced, and why his colored appointee should not be received at West Point just if he was a member of the white race.

It is as surprising as it is unfortunate that a man whom a number of respectable people think has sense enough to find his way to Washington should not have sense enough to know that there is no question or sentiment or prejudice about the matter. The objection that the white cadets had to the first negro they will have to the next one and they will have to the last one, even if he does not get there until "the crack of doom."

The Chronicle does not entertain the slightest suggestion of prejudice against the negro; on the contrary, it feels an interest in him and wants to see him rise as high in the sphere of capacity and conduct as is within the compass of his powers. It wants to see him have a fair chance in the battle of life, and see him freed from every handicap that it is possible to rid him of; but it knows that he is not fit to command white men or be the associate of white officers.

The objection to the negro at West Point is not narrow prejudice; it is as old as the ages; it is as broad as the realm of the Anglo-Saxon; it is as deep as the score of his being; it is the unconquerable, irresistible, saving racial instinct that a white man who knows whence he comes can no more repress than he can still his heart-beats.

Fanatics may howl, theorists may protest, negrophilists may rave, but Nature laughs at all their antics; and the mistaken action of a United States senator can no more stay or stem that tide of feeling which will rise and surge in the hearts of the white cadets at West Point when the senator's appointee gets there, nor no more break down the barrier between his negro protegee and the white-skinned, blue veined Anglo-Saxons with whom he will seek in vain to mingle, than a rat with a straw could stay the sweep of a Wyoming mountain torrent. The Wyoming senator has made a mistake, to put it most mildly; to put it straight and truly, he has played the fool.—Houston Chronicle.

The Henrietta Review states that Clay county paid 2447 poll taxes for 1905 of which 487 were from the four boxes of Henrietta.

Our neighbors are evidently not taking much interest in government affairs as Clay county could have done much better had she been inclined. Wichita county paid 2297 or only 159 less than her big sister on the east.

The two Wichita Falls boxes paid 1425 for 1905 an increase of 489 over 1908 and the total increase over 1905 for Wichita county complete was 747.

Wichita Falls has not asked Monsieur Paulhan to give an exhibition in this city. We feel that we have enough high flyers here to keep us from being forced to call on foreign talent.

It will do the insurance board no good to delay the Wichita Falls hearing. We are determined to show them no mercy and they might as well come along and have it over with.

Electra has come alive to the oil and gas possibilities of that vicinity and is beginning to make a noise like a city. There is room in Wichita county for Electra's kind.

There was an airship in Wichita Falls this morning at 2 a. m., for the space of fully ten or fifteen minutes. It was boxed up in a car and no exhibitions were given here.

It is beginning to look a little bit good for us common people when a congressional investigation gets to the point where an attorney has to be hired for the defense.

The Times disliked to go to press yesterday with that steamer sinking in the Atlantic, but when press time came we had to leave her there, until today.

Number one of volume one of the Sweetwater Signal has reached the exchange desk. A live paper, from a live town, judging from the first issue.

Judge Landis, before whom the Meat Case was Brought Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, before whom the case of the government against three great meat packing concerns was brought in Chicago, is the jurist who blazed out before the public in 1907 by imposing a fine of $24,240,000 on the Standard Oil Company. The big fine has since then been declared illegal by a higher court. Judge Landis has been Judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois since March 28, 1905. He is an Ohio man by birth and an Indian by training and is a brother of former Congressman Charles B. Landis and Frederick Landis of Indiana. Judge Landis was admitted to the bar in 1891 and practiced in Chicago from that time until his appointment to the federal bench, save for two years when he was private secretary to Secretary of State Gresham.

Home Development Company Will Exploit Her Advantages.

The Electra Development Company, a home company organized by citizens of Electra and Wichita county, all parties whom are well known to the majority of our readers composed of the following named gentlemen: R. H. Cook, T. M. Hoxie, S. Walker, F. D. Woodruff, G. C. Woodruff, W. J. Sheldon, P. G. Krohn, C. C. Huff and D. T. Cross. It is the object of the Electra Development Co. to interest capital in developing the wonderful resources of Electra and vicinity and they are now putting on an oil and gas sub-division in small tracts on the installment plan, the location being the closest possible land that could be purchased north of the Texas Company's holdings makes it one of the most desirable locations for oil and gas in the Electra field. The sub-division is a beautiful level tract of land and at present is one of the best farms in the Electra vicinity. The news job department is busily engaged getting out literature and stationery for the new company and after carefully scanning the copy we can predict nothing but a great future for the company and those who are fortunate enough to get in on the ground floor with a company of home people whose interests are confined to the future of their vicinity. The company will be endorsed by every bank in the county and that alone speaks more than we could convey in a full page write-up.—Electra News.

A Bernard Shaw Criticism.

Before fame came to him Bernard Shaw wrote dramatic criticisms for the London Saturday Review. The following sample is characteristic of the man:

"I am in a somewhat foolish position concerning a play at the Opera Comique, whither I was bidden this day week. For some reason I was not supplied with a program, so that I never learned the name of the play. At the end of the second act the play had advanced about as far as an ordinary dramatist would have brought it five minutes after the first rising of the curtain or, say, as far as Ibsen would have brought it ten years before that event. Taking advantage of the second interval to stroll out into the Strand for a little exercise, I unfortunately forgot all about my business and actually reached home before it occurred to me that I had not seen the end of the play. Under these circumstances it would ill become me to dogmatize on the merits of the work or its performance. I can only offer the management my apologies."—Everybody's.

An Obliging Father.

A man who grew rich had a son of whom he disapproved, and when the son was married against the father's wishes the father made him an allowance of $20 a week and said that was all he could have.

While later he was discussing the matter with a friend of his pioneer days. "Do you think $20 a week is enough for the boy?" he asked.

"Well," replied the friend judicially. "I don't know about that."

"It's a darn sight more than we had when we started in," argued the father.

"Perhaps it is," said the friend, "but you must remember that times have changed. We used to dig clams for our dinner."

"By George," said the father, "I guess I have been too severe with him; I'll be kinder in the future. I'll buy him a spade and show him where the clams are."—Exchange.

His Conciliatory Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Pickaway, although really fond of each other, had frequent quarrels owing no doubt to infirmities of temper on the part of both. Mr. Pickaway was telling his troubles to his elderly maiden aunt.

"I try to be as good a husband to Bertha as I know how to be," he said, "but we don't seem to get along. It takes so little to irritate her, and when she starts to scolding she never knows when to stop. She takes offense, too, at such little things."

"Then don't say those little things," Joshua, said his aunt. "When she is cross you must try to be conciliatory."

"I am conciliatory, Aunt Betty," he answered. "I often say to her, 'Bertha, I know the utter uselessness of trying to reason with you, but will you listen to me just a minute?' and she gets mad even at that."—Youth's Companion.

They Like Fat Girls in Tunis.

A Tunisian girl has no chance of marriage unless she tips the scale at 200 pounds, and to that end she commences to fatten when she is fifteen years old. She takes aperitifs and eats a great deal of sweet stuff and leads a sedentary life to hasten the process. Up to fifteen she is very handsome, but at twenty what an immense, unwieldy mass of fat she becomes! She waddles, or rather, undulates, along the street. Her costume is very picturesque, especially if she be of the richer class. She is clothed in fine silks of resplendent hues of a bright red, yellow or green and wears a sort of conical shaped headpiece, from which depends a loose white drapery, Turkish trousers and dainty slippers, the heels of which barely reach the middle of the feet, complete the costume.

Red Cherries, Peaches and Strawberries Preserved by Heinz

It's almost impossible for any housekeeper to put up all the different kinds of fruits she would like to have during the winter.

There's bound to be an occasion now and then when she will want some kind of fruit or preserves that she did not put up.

That's right where we can step in and help, for, by having in stock a complete line of all of the best fruits that grow, we can supply all of your canned and preserved fruit wants instantly.

Heinz knows how to do it right, and his preserved strawberries, red cherries and peaches, for instance, are the height of perfection.

The Canton No. 12 Planter

The only Cotton Planter made where the hitch retains the same relative position whether plowing deep or shallow, a rotating all-steel work, which is accomplished by the small lever on the end of the tongue. The only planter made which throws the feed mechanism automatically out of gear without separating the gear wheels, avoiding all liability of breaking the teeth in the gears. These and other excellent features, protected by patents, can be found only on the F. & O. Canton Planter.

The bottom always remains at the same angle whether set deep or shallow. This angle can be instantly changed by the lever on the tongue. Has detachable hopper with the plates and agitator moving in opposite directions, preventing the seed from bunching. The finest Cotton and Corn Planter made.

Panhandle Implement Company

Can be easily changed from a Cotton to a Corn Planter, or it can be converted into a first-class Middle Breaker. Strong, simple, easy running.

Meat Boycott is Spreading Everywhere; Federal Prosecutor and Leading Packer

EDWIN W. SIMS

MICHAEL CUDAHY

Few propositions of recent years have met with such widespread acceptance among the people as the boycott on the eating of meat as a protest against the high prices. The movement originated in the middle west and has spread with remarkable speed to other sections of the country. While the people are concerned principally with the reduction of their food bills, men in official positions, both state and national, are seeking the cause of the high prices. Prominent packers, against whom the federal government has begun proceedings under the anti-trust law, declare that the reason for the high prices is to be found in the scarcity of meat animals, while the consumers point to the high dividends declared by the packing companies. Michael Cudahy, one of the heads of the Cudahy, Packing company, which is one of the biggest of the meat handling concerns, declared recently that the cause of high food prices is to be found in the discrepancy between "consuming power and producing power." The government prosecution of the packers centers in Chicago and is in charge of Edwin W. Sims, United States district attorney for the northern district of Illinois.

Tim Murphy Tonight

Tim Murphy.

Tim Murphy's career has been a varied and versatile one, but it is generally agreed that in the list of successful personations to his credit, no character assigned him has better suited his adaptabilities than that of "David Stratton" in Charles Jeffrey's comedy, "Cupid and the Dollar." This is stated in the full remembrance of his extraordinary enactment in "The Carpet Bagger" which inspired the unstinted praise of the critics everywhere. In "Cupid and the Dollar," Mr. Murphy has selected a play that is sufficiently strong to stand on its own merits, but which in the hands of a gifted actor is a dramatic gem. The artistic Mr. Murphy has given this play the same caste and production advantages that have characterized his long list of achievements. Dorothy Sherrod is his leading support. Mr. Murphy and company will appear at the Wichita Theatre tonight.

What is a Playwright?

What are the qualifications which make a successful playwright? Are there any that can be determined as absolutely necessary? It is a matter of writing, yet literary men rarely write good plays, and literary plays rarely succeed. They are the actor's tools of trade, yet actors rarely write comment on their practical values and men on their practical values and newspaper critics affect to determine their popular and ethical value, yet successful plays written by managers or dramatic critics are so few that they only point the exception to the general rule that neither one nor the other is qualified to write plays.

Curious are the experiences of actors and managers in the search for selection of plays. One of the most curious is that of Tim Murphy who after reading over 300 manuscripts last winter gave up hope of finding a good play and decided to delve into his own experience and knowledge of the stage and human nature for a play which he would write himself. Soon along came a play of Charles Jeffrey. It proved to be a superior comedy in every line, character and situation. And he has in his possession a fine play by one of our most celebrated writers to prove his proposition. It is "Cupid and the Dollar," and it will be presented at the Wichita Theatre tonight.

Tim Murphy, in "CUPID AND THE DOLLAR."

Mr. Murphy is under the management of Louis F. Werba.

William MacCauley in "The Little Homestead."

The company which comes to the Wichita Theatre on Monday, February 7th, presenting the beautiful emotional rural drama of New England life, "The Little Homestead," is headed by William MacCauley, that handsome clever young actor whose acting has always delighted the theatre-goers of this city. His support has been selected with care as to the fitness of the individuality of the characters to be sustained. The result is manifested by the praise of the public and the press. In such capable hands, the beautiful story loses none of its refreshing simplicity, nor lacks nothing of sympathy or force in its appeal to human interest. It is by the well-known author, W. B. Patton. All special scenery is used in this production and an entire new third act is introduced.

Dancing is the Best Method of Developing a Pretty Foot and Instep, Says Miss Bessie Clifford, the Yama Yama Girl

Bessie Clifford, the Yama Yama Girl of "Three Twins" company which comes to the Wichita Theatre next Thursday, February 10th, says a pretty girl without a pretty foot is like a ship without an anchor.

"An attractive foot is not necessarily a small one," she declares. "Few young women know how to get their shoes to fit properly. The most important thing is to see that the sole extends out further than the ball of the foot, so that the bottom of the foot will have ample room. This gives comfort, and enables one to wear a high heel and nothing lends more tone than a high heel. This necessitates a high instep, which is very easily developed."

"The instep is nothing more than muscles controlling the forward part of the foot. Any muscles can be developed. You will notice that every chorus girl possesses a high instep. She develops it by constant dancing. I have seen many recruits when first beginning in the chorus who would be perfectly flat-footed and in less than two months would have a high instep and a beautiful foot.

Ugly feet are an unnecessary evil. I do not know of anything more distasteful than to see a young lady very handsomely gowned, exhibit a homely foot and you know this is very often done. And another thing you know, a great many girls spoil their feet by wearing slippers without heels for house wear. This is a bad habit. A house slipper should always have a heel. I do not mean a high heel but it should be higher than the front part of the shoe so as to keep the heel higher than the ball of the foot so as not to lengthen the tendons.

Outlines a System. A pretty foot can be easily developed. You take the average chorus girl. She has a high instep and a very short foot. This is because she has been properly trained and has danced her foot into smallness and the admired shape which calls for a high arch and instep and she has held herself upon her toes until she has drawn her heels higher in the back, arched her instep and shortened the tendons of the heel. She simply has done what a great many girls pay to have done by the machinery of a beauty doctor. However, the beauty doctor's system generally leaves the foot stiff and causes the girl to step short when she walks. It is not necessary that a girl should be a dancer to possess a foot with a high arch and instep. For instance, if a girl should practise walking around the room on her toes in the morning or at night before she retires for at least fifteen minutes she would notice a difference in a very short time as the tendons quickly shorten causing the instep to rise. A girl should always wear a shoe with a high arch and short vamp with a very small toe-piece. This gives ease and comfort to the foot and makes it appear much smaller than it really is. One can dress the foot to give it an appearance of smallness. The method is simple, but yet it seems only to be known by people of the stage, for instance, you take a girl that requires a shoe we will say size 3 and she will get the same size made with a very short vamp and high curve to the heel. The shoe will look to be size 1 1/2. A great many women will think that a shoe with a small vamp will be uncomfortable but that is where they are mistaken. A small vamp shoe is the most comfortable shoe one can wear.

MEETING OF UNION MEN ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A meeting of the union men of this city will be held next Sunday afternoon at the Odd Fellows' Hall, when C. F. Goodridge, chairman of the joint labor legislative board of Texas, will be here and will have some matters of interest to bring up before the union men of this city. He is a member of the Order of Railway Conductors and will meet the members of that organization on Sunday night. The purpose of the meeting is to lay some matters of general interest to union men before the members of the local union and it is expected that all of them will be present. These meetings are being held in all the divisions of the state, by order of the legislative committee of the Order of Railway Conductors.

CONFIRMS RUMORS

W. F. & N. W. Planning Extensions in Oklahoma and Texas. J. A. Kemp, president of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern, the Wichita Falls & Southern and the Wichita Falls Railway companies, was in Fort Worth Thursday and confirmed the report that the Wichita Falls & Northwestern was planning to build into Lawton, Okla., providing satisfactory arrangements are made with the Lawton Chamber of Commerce.

The line to Lawton will probably leave the Wichita Falls & Northwestern at Devoil just after crossing the Red river. If satisfactory arrangements are made with Lawton Mr. Kemp says that the road will be built at once. It is not planned at present to extend beyond Lawton.

Mr. Kemp also confirmed the report that the Wichita Falls & Northwestern had purchased the Altus, Roswell & Pacific from Ed Kennedy and other owners. Grading has been done on a part of this line between Altus and Hollis, Okla. The Wichita Falls & Northwestern has already purchased steel to the track to Hollis, and will build to that place immediately. From Hollis, the road will probably be extended to Wellington in the Texas Panhandle. Later it may be extended to Roswell.

The Wichita Falls & Northwestern is also building an extension from Mangum to Elk City, Okla. It has been announced that the Wichita Falls & Southern will be extended this year from New Castle, Texas, either to a connection with the Texas & Pacific or to Fort Worth. No further announcement concerning that extension was authorized by Mr. Kemp.—Fort Worth Record.

I make this announcement in view of the fact that many of my friends and customers have inquired of me as to my going in with some other electrical firm—anyway; I am not, and phone 622 and you have the right number.—227-40 W. L. KEMPER.

Your Electric Light Bill

Now, just a moment—it is not my intention to be disagreeable, but I believe that I can cause it to be much more satisfactory. How would you like to have twice as much light or the same amount of light, twice the number of hours, or twice the number of lights the same hours, at less than the present cost? Isn't that fair enough? Make a suggestion.

Some Comets That We Haven't Met

From the Goose Creek Vindicator. Country journalism is the packhorse of progress, sway-backed from bearing the public's burdens and hobbled out on the bleak hills of ingratitude for sustenance.

The home paper is expected to brag on the town, boost the climate, exalt the moral atmosphere, praise the preachers, magnify the educational facilities, swear by the soil and predict a building boom every week, and then when a citizen reluctantly subscribes he sighs like a time-worn sawmill boiler exhaust and springs the oldest of chestnuts about helping the editor along or that the children sometimes read the paper.

Everything from So-and-So's patent milk cooler to Skiaflint's new barn, rides a free toboggan down the columns of the country press. We have perhaps given thirty acres of space for every three dollars taken in for paid matter, and still we can hardly meet a man who can't suggest something of public interest that ought to be pushed.

Last week it was a dam across the creek to run a flouring mill in opposition to Minneapolis and build up an immense wooden bucket factory.

Now, it's Halley's comet! About forty men have asked us why we don't rustle the astronomical data and give the comet a good write up.

Halley's comet is not our comet, and its visitations are none of our business, but the public prints are the public's servants, and there is no choice in the matter. Hence we have been taking some pains to post ourselves on the character and habits of this comet and others and what we have not been able to find out would fill every issue of the Vindicator for sixty years.

The name itself, we find, comes from a word that looks much alike in several languages and means long-haired—hence the comet's train is called its tail. This looks good and not so scientifically complicated as to completely stump the non-professional, as we had feared would be the case. The comet's tail points away from the sun. Better and better for illustrative comparisons than our readers could grasp. Let the nucleus of the outfit represent a celestial race horse running into the solar system, with its glittering tail streaming out behind, and the analogy would be fine and tickle the stockman; but a little further on in the scientific observations we were pursuing, it was stated that the tail generally stands away from the sun, but not always. Sometimes it points almost directly toward our illuminary, which would be equivalent to backing into the solar system and therefore highly ridiculous; so we had to discard the whole fabric of the racing steed similitude and start new.

Finding out further along still that the astronomers were not quite sure whether comets shine by their own or by reflected light, we fell upon another theory about the trains or tails. Possibly some luminous bodies are luminous on one side or only part of one side and therefore cast a widening stream of light through space, making the straight train or tail millions of miles out of the celestial depths. But just here we ran across a picture of Donati's comet whose tail curved like true nucleus may be opaque or luminescent as we know, have never been thrown in curves, there was nothing more doing for the nucleus with a mountain of radium on one side to project its fires across the universe.

Groping helplessly from book to book for reliable and definite information we dug up an old atlas with a sprinkle of astronomy in it and found that a comet which was fashionable as far back as 1774 not only had its tail curled, but had six tails all in that fix. This looked discouraging enough, but was not the worst; for sometimes the tail is entirely separated from the main works and wags itself, so to speak. Occasionally the nucleus appears without the tail, the tail without the nucleus, or both.

Following this remarkable assertion, the authorities conclude that comets, nuclei, tails and all, are composed of either white-hot matter or gaseous matter made visible by the light of our sun or other suns, or vast troops of meteors attracted by and trailing around and after the main body of the comet proper, of electrical manifestations developed by contact with a medium permeating all space and which is not so far fully understood—or otherwise.

We incline to the last named hypothesis.

Having dealt with the comet's make-up from various viewpoints, the men who ought to know conclude that the true nucleus may be opaque or luminescent or liquid or solid, for the chances are nobody has ever seen one at all. Halley established the elliptical parabolism of cometary orbits, demonstrating their periodicity of return to the focal in which our sun is situated. He made the theory stick, too, on the particular comet that takes his name. Yet in 1770 Lexell and Burckhardt carefully calculated the periodicity of a well-behaved comet at exactly five years and a half, but it didn't come back at all, and it is still out on the celestial range. It was supposed to have been hogged by Jupiter, in whose vicinity it was last seen. Taken, all in all, what we have picked up from the books leaves the unpleasant impression that the more people find out about comets, the less they know and this applies to astronomers as well as to the common herd. But, of course, scientific men are able to find out more than they don't know than an ordinary citizen giving them a great advantage.

Commencing now with all the vast accumulation of negative facts regarding comets, we believe a bright young man, complete master of every branch of mathematics and fully supplied with observatory facilities, starting in on leaving college and giving his entire life and energies to the work, might at the age of 65 to 70 years, graduate with high honors in practically complete ignorance of the subject in hand.

To make a bad matter worse and unsatisfactory deductions more nebulous and flimsy, just as we are concluding this summary of our exhaustive researches, the yellow press—always ravenous for sensations—comes out with the statement that the cometary visitant now appearing in the evening sky between Venus and Sol, is not the expected comet, after all, but a new one, first seen in Africa—that it's Roosevelt's and not Halley's.

Therefore, we give it up. There is no telling what will happen next.

Turning dejectedly from the professionals in science and the sensationals in journalism to our next door neighbor, Burdock Tolliver, he states that when a comet reaches its perihelion or extreme position in looping the loop along in the 'ideas of April,' switches its tail and shoots a swarm of meteors down toward the earth, when we may look out for the peach crop and need not be surprised at an epidemic of the whooping cough, and, maybe, a good deal of pellagra and hookworm. Also if one happens to be dog bitten along about this period, prompt attention should be given the wound, especially if the dog bites out a piece and carries it off with him; which views looks reasonable, if not scientific. "So we will close—" as the dog would say.

PLEASING MUSICAL COMEDY.

"The Flower of the Ranch" Entertains Large Audiences.

"The Flower of the Ranch" was presented to a large audience at the Wichita Theatre last night and it was received as a mighty pleasing production. Good music, and lots of it, an abundance of clever comedy and an interesting plot, were combined for one of the best musical plays of the current season.

Jess Harris, as "Skivers," was easily the hit of the evening, and he takes first rank as a comedian. His singing and dancing were of a very laugh-getting variety and he made good from the start. Miss Watters, as the "Flower," was excellent in that part and carried it out to perfection. John Frank, as "Farnum," and Earl Hicks, as "Spaulding," were also clever actors and good singers. Among the many tuneful songs were: "Just Say You Care," "Wishes" and the "Pajama and the Nightie," with many others, all very enjoyable.

Money Begets Money.

Money begets money. A few days ago, J. A. Kemp and Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, with Wiley Blair, bought enough of the stock of the Coleman and Lysaght interests in the Coleman-Lysaght-Blair Co., one of the largest if not the largest wholesale grocery enterprises in the southwest, to control that corporation. Man and occasion meet. When, in 1883, Joe Kemp went into business in Wichita Falls, no one thought that he would wear the badge of the greatest and most consistent optimist that Texas has yet produced, but he does. When Frank Kell left that town years ago, after having gone down in a business way, no one thought that he would ever come back and develop the greatest flour mill and grain business in the entire southwest. Nor did anyone think for a moment that Kemp and Kell would show railroad men how to build railroads through unsettled country and make them pay from the jump. But this is what they did, and they two are more responsible for what Wichita Falls is than all others combined. Two such men in Quanah would make this city of railroads and twenty thousand people in three years. We are getting there fast, but we can get there faster. A man who can handle a quarter of a million and can get that sum, can double it in Quanah in three years and not strain himself doing it. Man and occasion meet. The occasion is here, and the man will be here, too, but we may have to go on the outside to get him.—Quanah Observer.
