VOLUME 3 WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1910 NUMBER 231

FRANCHISE GIVEN TO NEW COMPANY

CITY COUNCIL PASSES ORDINANCE GRANTING IT THE DESIRED PERMISSION.

MAY PRECIPITATE FIGHT

is Rumored that Company Already Here May Meet Schedule On Factory Rates.

At its meeting last night the city council granted the gas franchise applied for by C. E. Minnick and associates and the way is now clear for him to install the system he contemplates, for furnishing manufacturing gas to local consumers.

The franchise was granted without opposition by the aldermen, and there was little discussion.

The rate to apply on the gas is to be based on the amount of gas used by all consumers combined and five, six or seven cents per thousand will be charged. The new company will sign up with the consumers upon the above basis, and will endeavor to have the system installed by the end of six months, although the franchise does not expire for fifteen months.

While the Chamber of Commerce had hoped to be able to offer three-cent gas to manufacturers coming here, it is felt that five-cent gas is enough inducement to bring many additional concerns here, especially if an arrangement can be made to offer free factory sites.

It has been intimated that the company already operating here will not remain passive in this matter, and there are indications that there will be a fight on between the rival concerns as soon as the new one is ready for business. Just whether the old company will put its rates down to the basis established by the new company is not known.

JONES PROPOSITION IS BEING REVIVED

PROPOSAL MAY CONFLICT WITH HIS RAILROAD PLANS

Extension of Northwestern to Lawton Would Have Some Effect On the Question.

C. C. Jones of Oklahoma City has recovered from the illness which for a time threatened to seriously interfere with his railroad plans, and is again preparing to actively take up the Wichita Falls-Oklahoma City proposition. He made an announcement to that effect in Oklahoma City recently. If the Wichita Falls and Northwestern constructs the proposed line from Devol, Oklahoma to Lawton, it will give Wichita Falls a much more direct line to Oklahoma City and if Mr. Jones proposition should fall through, Wichita Falls is still fairly well assured of better connections, at any rate.

The following regarding Mr. Jones plans is taken from an Oklahoma City paper:

That the construction of a railroad from Oklahoma City to Wichita Falls, Texas, will be begun within 12 months is the assurance of C. C. Jones, who has recently become interested in a line covering this territory.

The importance of such a line is especially felt at this time because of the proposition to locate another big packing plant here. Mr. Jones in speaking of the projected line said:

"I don't feel at liberty to speak in detail, but I can say that if present plans do not miscarry, and I don't believe they will, a railroad from Oklahoma City direct to Wichita Falls will be assured before the year is near out. I realize just now, more than ever, how important such a line would be with the acquisition of another big packing plant for Oklahoma City."

The building of this line from Wichita Falls to either Lawton, Okla., or direct to Oklahoma City will afford the greatest advantage to the livestock interests contiguous to Wichita Falls. With the proposed line a reality the Oklahoma City livestock market would be nearer than any other market by at least 92 miles. As it is, livestock at Wichita Falls or near there, must be hauled 140 miles to the nearest market. With the building of the proposed road several hours could be cut off the haul.

Mr. Gohlke was in San Angelo last week and conferred with the directors of the organization there, they submitting him a proposition for $2700 a year. Mr. Gohlke yesterday afternoon wired his acceptance of the offer.

During his term of office here, Mr. Gohlke brought the Chamber of Commerce up to a very high standard of efficiency and he was responsible for much of the good it accomplished. He won many friends during his residence here and while they regret to lose him, they are glad that he is going to a fruitful field. Since he resigned his work here, he has received several flattering offers for his services, but chose the San Angelo position as affording the greatest opportunities. San

OFFICE OF SHERIFF TO BE UNDIVIDED

MUST REMAIN WITH THAT OF TAX COLLECTOR UNTIL AFTER CENSUS IS ANNOUNCED.

RULING IS SUBMITTED

While County Has More Than 10,000 Population Change Cannot Be Made Until 1912.

The office of sheriff and tax collector will not be divided in the counties of Clay, Young and Wichita this year, according to a ruling from the Attorney General's department. In 1900 each of these counties had less than ten thousand population and the offices were, according to the constitution, combined. At present, while there is no doubt that each of these counties is well past the ten thousand mark, they are not officially so until the result of the 1910 census is announced.

District Attorney Martin writes as follows:

Mr. Editor:

In view of the fact that I have had many inquiries as to whether the offices of sheriff and tax collector would be divided this year in time for the election of the separate collector, I have been in correspondence with the Attorney General's department at Austin and have received the following opinion, which I ask you to publish for the information of those who may be interested:

Austin, Tex., Jan. 22nd, 1910.
Hon. P. A. Martin,
District Attorney,
Graham, Texas.

Dear sir:—Some time since we answered your letter of the 6th inst. in which we stated that we did not know when the census to be taken this year would be promulgated. We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. E. Dana Durand, Director of the Census, in which he says, in his opinion, the population as to the states and territories will be announced within five months after May 15th, 1910. He does not, however, say within what time the announcement as to the counties will be made. It is safe, however, to conclude from what he writes, that the announcement will not be made in time so that counties which had less than 10,000 inhabitants at the census taken in 1900, which may now show more than 10,000 in the returns of the census to be taken this year may elect separate collectors at the election to be held this year.

Yours, very truly,
E. E. CRAWFORD,
Assistant Attorney General.

A publication of the above letter will convey to your readers such information as I have on the subject at this time and may save the trouble and expense to some who believe that the laws will be divided. Some of the lawyers of the district disagree with the assistant attorney general on the subject, I know, and it is possible that the question will yet have to be decided in the courts.

Very respectfully,
P. A. MARTIN,
District Attorney, 30th District.

CITY COUNCIL DISPOSES OF SEVERAL QUESTIONS

The question of admitting Floral Heights to the city limits was not acted upon by the city council last night, being passed over to a later meeting. The council also postponed action on the question of extending the fire limits from the alley west of Indiana avenue to Lamar. Messdames Kemp, Carrigan and Adickes requested the council to take action with regard to the erection of a fence around Riverside Cemetery, and it was ordered that the fence be constructed. The Minnick gas franchise was granted, as stated in another column.

A Great Seaport 1000 Miles Inland. (Walter Williams, in "From Missouri to the Isle of Mull.")

The casual visitor to Montreal feels rather than observes its growing commercial importance. He sees the departmental stores—not the extra-syllabic which Canada couples to the already long word—and wanders through their aisles. He sees the shipping of the wharves and remembers that here in Montreal he is in a seaport, a thousand miles from the sea.

The crowning glory of the city of Montreal is the St. Lawrence River, harnessed now for the use of commerce. It is a noble river, broad and broadening to the sea. It drains one-third of the fresh water surface of the globe. Broad, the river was but shallow. Then Montreal deepened and dredged and dredged and deepened the river which girdles the city—and now? Well, now Montreal has moved the sea-coast to its doorstep and has become the world's greatest export station for wheat.

THE STORY OF MISS PAUL IS TOLD

New York, Feb. 7.—Miss Alice Paul, the young American girl, who, while studying economics and social conditions in England was arrested seven times and imprisoned three times because of her activity in the cause of woman suffrage, told the story of her arrests and experience in prison in an interview at the headquarters of the Equality League of Self-Supporting Women in this city today.

For a time she has had enough of England, where she has been for two and a half years. Instead, she is going back to the University of Pennsylvania to complete her studies of economics and sociology. She has only been out of prison two months and her face still shows signs of the severity of her confinement.

"It was torture to be forced to eat," she said. "Twice a day for the month that I spent in Holloway prison, in London, I was strapped and bound round with sheets until I could not move a muscle. Then another sheet was bound around my throat to keep my neck rigid and the torture commenced."

Fed Her With Tube.

"A long glass tube, bent at the end and as thick as my thumb, was forced through my nostrils and the liquid food poured in. The pain was intense, but I would not give in."

To prevent political meetings and banquets being interrupted by suffragettes, wooden barricades nine feet high are erected around the halls. As Miss Paul could not climb a barricade erected on November 9, she and her friend, Miss Brown, disguised themselves as charwomen and presented themselves for work in the morning.

"The pass word we gave," said Miss Paul, "was the one word 'Kitchen,' and we were instantly passed in, then we hunted around until we found a glass door leading to the balcony that overlooked the banquet hall. We stayed behind that door undisturbed until 9 o'clock at night, and as Pres-

Exposing the Postoffice.

From the Chicago Daily Socialist. The attempt to shut out the independent press of this country under the disguise of stopping the postal deficit has caused the postoffice to be subjected to a closer examination than it has had for years. As a result, the general public is learning a few things it did not know before about that institution.

A great many folks had forgotten that the little country weeklies and dailies, the private political property of Congress, are carried absolutely free within the counties where they are published, even where the expensive free rural delivery is used.

It is becoming generally known that the express companies, renting cars on the same trains as the postoffice department, are already cutting the supposedly profitable postal rates on magazines. This causes a variety of suggestions to arise in the mind of reasoning persons. Many wonder if the sudden desire to raise postal rates is not simply an effort to have the Government go into a "pool" with the express companies to raise rates. Others look a little further into the relations with the railroad companies and find out that the postoffice is paying several times as much to the railroads for the same service as is paid by the express companies. Then the finger of suspicion begins to travel in the direction of the branch of "railroad representatives" in Congress.

The discussion has revived the demand for a parcels post that would more than pay the deficit. It has attracted attention to the fact that the navy and the military departments, and all other departments, have much larger "deficits" than the postal. The sudden interest in the postal deficit is contrasted with the demand for a ship subsidy. Others contrast the supposedly too low rate of one cent a pound in the United States with the rate of one-half that amount charged in Canada, with much greater distances and more sparsely settled territory. The discussion in Congress has served to emphasize the fact that a large share of this "deficit" is caused by sending Government documents and worthless seeds through the mail as a means of buying bargain counter lots of votes.

Taking all these things into consideration, it seems quite safe to say that the public is getting such a liberal education on postal affairs that the proposed increase will never be introduced.

RIOT NEAR CHATTANOOGA.

White Laborers Attack Blacks and Kill Three.

By Associated Press. Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 8.—Captain Burke of the police department of Chattanooga, who left here early today with a squad of seven men for Hales Bar, to quell a riot between negro and white laborers, reported today that three negroes had been killed and that the trouble was then over.

A cup and saucer with each three-pound can of W. S. Coffee. Phone 361. KING'S 222-46

mier Asquith commenced to talk, I took off my shoe, smashed the glass in, the door and shouted, 'We want votes for women.'

'Instantly there was an uproar. Mr. Asquith stopped and the band began to play. The guests, many of whom were cabinet ministers and titled personages, jumped up and commenced to hunt for us. They seemed to think we were on the roof and to watch all those Englishmen in their dress clothes climbing on the roof when we were right near them was the funniest thing I saw during my stay in the country.'

Arrests Followed.

When the two women were discovered they were arrested. The next morning they were arraigned, charged with breaking a window and were fined $35, or in default a month's imprisonment. Refusing to pay, they were taken to Holloway prison and as the result of their incarceration and their refusal to eat, Miss Paul was ill for three weeks after her release and Miss Brown is still in an invalid home.

On another occasion Miss Paul was arrested for obstructing the police at a political meeting in Trafalgar Square and had to serve 12 days in Holloway prison.

Miss Paul says she is just 25 years old. She does not talk about the time when women shall have votes. She considers they have them now. The only question to be settled is the matter of recording them.

"The last election is a victory for us," she added. "Asquith has been very backward for the simple reason that he had such a large majority to work with that he thought he could do as he pleased. Now the situation is changed and he has to depend on the labor and Irish parties to carry through his measures. It would be a very serious loss for him if a liberal was defeated at a by-election. As soon as parliament meets you will see the women of England will have votes."

Funny Suits in Yama Yama Scene Result of Accident

Man Who Staged "THREE TWINS" Gets Idea From a Toy

Very few people know how the famous "Yama, Yama," song received its name and how Mr. Solke conceived the idea for the funny suits that the girls wear in this musical number that has caused so much merriment throughout the entire country. The Yama Yama costumes came about in an incidental way.

Mr. Solke, who staged the "Three Twins" was passing a toy store and seeing in the window a doll with a funny costume thought it would be a great idea for a costume for a number in "Three Twins," he bought the doll for ten cents and took it in to the Whitney Theatre where rehearsals were in progress and showed it to Mr. Hochsma and told him he wanted him to write a song to go with the funny costume.

Mr. Solke is a German and speaks broken and in trying to tell Mr. Hochsma that he wanted a pajama song was misunderstood and was surprised the next day to receive the song reading "Yama, Yama."

This musical number has become so famous that in the east they have Yama hats, Yama neckties and even the cafes have named rinks after the famous song and Miss Grace Duffie Boylan and Edgar Keller have written and illustrated a book and called it "Yama Yama Land."

The "Yama, Yama" song and dance is one of the most popular numbers in "Three Twins" which will be seen at the Wichita Theatre Thursday, February 10th.

We Cannot Afford Bad Government

Nothing is so foolish as to tell Business that it ought to be good, says Charles Edward Russell in "Success Magazine." Evolution will take care of that. Either Business will come to be operated ahead to great results, or it will defeat itself and man will be compelled to find some other source of primal supplies.

For instance, the vice and graft alliance, although it enhances the days' receipts does not really pay in the long run. You can not in any city have a wide-open policy without very great waste. That is inevitable. If you sanction graft in one way you sanction it in all ways. Booming Red Light districts means a lax city administration with loot of the city treasury, dirty streets, bad pavements, reckless appropriations and a municipality down at the heels. Inevitably and always it means just this. In time all these conditions react upon Business. The game isn't worth the candle. Taxes and bond issues increase, dust from dirty streets injures goods and spreads disease, the bad transportation service keeps customers away, the stolen assessments multiply on your heads.

THE EARTH'S ENVELOPE.

Three Distinct Layers of Air—Cold and Gale of High Altitudes.

From the Chicago Tribune:
The new science of the air is the result of many hundred kites and sounding balloon flights made day by day and night by night in fair weather and foul, over land and sea, at all seasons of the year and from the equator to the arctic circle. Most people know that the warm air surrounding the earth is only a thin belt, but we do not most of us know that at ten miles above the earth it would not only be bitterly cold, but the sun would appear quite different.

The air is stratified in three more or less distinct layers. In the lowest we live. It extends about two miles and is a region of turmoil, whimsical winds, cyclones and anti-cyclones. At two miles the freezing point is reached, and then there is a second stratum extending upward for about another six miles. Here the air grows steadily colder and drier, the lowest temperature recorded being 167 degrees below the freezing point. Here the air moves in great planetary swirls produced by the spinning of the earth on its axis, so that the wind always blows in the same easterly direction.

The greater the height the more furious is the blast of this relentless gale. After this layer comes the third or isothermal stratum, discovered almost simultaneously by M. de Bort and Dr. Assmann. This is called the permanent inversion stratum because the temperature increases with the height reached. But the temperatures so far recorded in the second stratum are not high, being far below zero Fahrenheit, generally somewhere from 22 degrees to 140 degrees below it.

Here the air no longer swirls in a planetary circle. The wind may blow in a direction contrary to that in the second layer. And the air invariably is excessively dry. Where this wind stratum ends no one knows, but it must be at more than eighteen miles above the earth. For sounding balloons have reached this height and have not found the end of the permanent inversion layer of air. When the influence of the upper regions of air upon the lower is fully understood it may be possible to foretell the weather not merely for a day but for a week.

STOMACH MISERY.

Get Rid of That Sourness, Gas and Indigestion.

When your stomach is out of order or run down, your food doesn't digest. It ferments in your stomach and forms gas which causes sourness, heartburn, foul breath, pain at pit of stomach and many other miserable symptoms.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets will give joyful relief in five minutes; if taken regularly for two weeks they will turn your flabby, sour, tired out stomach into a sweet, energetic, perfect working one.

You can't be very strong and vigorous if your food only half digests. Your appetite will go and nausea, dizziness, biliousness, nervousness, sick headache and constipation will follow.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are small and easy to swallow and are guaranteed to banish indigestion and any or all of the above symptoms or money back.

Five cents a large box. Sold by Matter-Walker Drug Co.
For constipation there is no remedy so satisfying as Booth's Pills—25 cents

"Three Twins."

The "Three Twins" will be the offering at the Wichita Theatre next Thursday, February 10th, and it is said to be one of the smartest musical comedies that has been produced in many years. The book is by Chas. Dickson, lyrics by O. A. Hauerbach, while Karl Hochsma is responsible for the music.

The "Three Twins" is one of the largest musical comedies on the road, requiring two baggage cars and three coaches for the transportation of the company. One of the new novelties is an electrical aerial swing weighing over 4000 pounds and illuminated with over 2000 incandescent lamps. The company carries three machinists, something that has never been done before, for the handling of this one effect and during its long run in New York, the "Three Twins" was endorsed by the entire New York press, and Mr. Ashton Stevens of the New York Journal, said the "Three Twins" was a credit to Broadway.

There are a great many song hits, including the "Yama Yama Man," "Cuddle Up a Little Closer," "Boo Hoo Tee Hee," "Good-Night," "They Are All My Girls" and "The Girl Up There."

The company is headed by Victor Morley. Others in the cast are Bessie Clifford, W. H. Woodside, Florence Kolb, E. P. Bower, Harry Hanlon, Frank Smith, Harry Johnson, Albert Livingston, Minnie Allen, Helena Salingier, Ada Bateman, Lillian Sadler, Ada Gifford and a chorus of sixty people. The orchestra is under the direction of Ivan Rudisill.

ARE STILL IN CHASE OF THE TRAIN ROBBERS

Pittsburg, Kan., Feb. 7.—Efforts of the Sheriff's posse that searched yesterday for robbers who held up the passengers on the Missouri Pacific train, five miles east of here Saturday night, were fruitless, but the chase has not been given up and last night officers were at work in the mining camps to the north, from where, it is believed, the highwaymen came.

At least four men were implicated in the robbery, it has developed. Three men entered the chair car of the train and robbed the passengers. A fourth was near the Cornell, Mo., station, where the robbers alighted from the train with horses. Within a few minutes after the robbery, the highwaymen were riding at top speed into the hills west of Cornell.

Railway Tickets Not Taken.

There are scores of deserted mines in these hills, in which the robbers may be hiding. So numerous are these, and so well concealed that it is almost impossible to locate a man after he has once hidden in one of them.

The largest loser in the robbery was J. W. Underwood of Elkhart, Ind., who lost $85 in cash and his watch. Mr. Underwood offered his railroad ticket which was to carry him back home.

"You'd better keep this," said the bandit, returning the ticket. "I can't use it and you can."

A woman passenger says she recognized one of the robbers. The officers are working on this clue.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity.
—Tonight, unsettled weather, and colder. Wednesday, generally cloudy and colder.

The Dallas Times-Herald predicts that Cone Johnson will be the next to withdraw from the gubernatorial free-for-all. The T-H's reputation as a political prognosticator leads many to believe there is something in the report.

Oklahoma City has raised three hundred thousand dollars for another packing house. There are nearly eleven months of 1910 left for Wichita Falls to keep the packing house promise she made herself.

A chair of poetry is to be installed at the Missouri University. Diversified education, however, will hardly overcome the truth of the old bromide that poets, like newspaper men, are born, not made.

The difference between the prosperity of Wichita Falls and that of most progressive cities is that ours is built on a maximum of home effort and capital, with a minimum of outside assistance.

When a man is robbed of a roll of bills that he had stored in a trunk or some other receptacle, one is inclined to sympathize more with his ignorance than with his hard luck.

A St. Louis minister says the negro race is not descended from Ham. Of course, the Bible says it is, but what difference does that make when the iconoclast gets busy?

Lent begins tomorrow and those who observe it will probably not find it very hard to abstain from eating meat at the present price.

To the new gas company as to certain other new enterprises here, the Times can say, "Come on in, boys, the water's fine."

A few more weeks of this spring weather and the fame of Wichita Falls as a winter resort will be added to her other attractions.

A breakfast food trust is in process of organization. How did they come to overlook such an important article of food so long?

For some reason, the republican papers are not bragging on the "full dinner pail"—as vigorously as they used to do.

MODERN CHAIRS.

Evolution of Our Seats With Arms and High Backs.

Chairs with high backs and arms, after coming into general use with the renaissance, began to be ornamented with an amount of carving and gilding that has hardly since been equaled, which came naturally from the artistic tastes of the period. Their size, form and the amount of decoration lavished on them indicated the rank, fortune, authority or social position of their possessors. Bishops and abbots had seats corresponding with their dignity, while those below them sat on stools or benches. Only the king and queen and persons of high rank could be seated on chairs with arms and backs in the time of Catherine de Medicis, and her sons, courtiers and favorites sat about them on stools called tabourets.

This manner of expressing difference of rank prevailed under Louis XIV. and his successors down to the French revolution. To the chairs elaborately carved succeeded the armchair, so called in these times, which, with unimportant variations, is much the same as in the reign of Louis XIV. Specimens of the stools used by the favorites and ladies of honor of the king and queen may still be seen in the royal palaces of France. They were changed into the modern parlor chair by simply adding a back, which has hardly made them more comfortable. —Westminster Gazette.

A KINGLY PICTURE.

Distance lends enchantment to the imagination as well as to the actual vision. This is a fortunate circumstance, for the real truth about some of the heroes of history might to a person today bring disenchantment and even disgust. Charles XII. of Sweden may claim the world's admiration as a military genius, but from Mr. Mordill's description of the monarch, given in the "Story of Poland," that gentleman would be anything but an agreeable addition to society.

"He wears a black crape cravat, but the cape of the coat is always buttoned so closely that one cannot see it. His shirt and wristbands are always dirty. He wears no ruffles nor gloves, and his hands are commonly the same color as his wristbands, so you can hardly distinguish them. His hair is light brown, very short and never combed but with the fingers. "He begins dinner with a big piece of bread and butter, having stuck his napkin under his chin. Between every two bits of meat he eats bread which he butters with his thumb. He is never more than a quarter of an hour at his meals, eats like a horse and never speaks a word." A kingly picture, indeed, savoring of romance and knightly fashion!

An Independent Element.

Carbon is an elementary substance widely diffused throughout nature. It occurs uncombined in two distinct forms or allotropic conditions—viz, graphite or blacklead and the diamond, which is pure crystallized carbon. It is, however, more commonly found in combination with other elementary substances than in the free state. United with oxygen, it occurs as carbonic acid gas (CO₂) and exists in the atmosphere, in natural waters, in limestone, dolomite and ironstone. In combination with hydrogen it forms the extensive series of chemical compounds known as hydrocarbons. It is also an important constituent of wood, starch, sugar, gum, oil, bone and flesh. No other element is so characteristic of the plant and animal world as carbon. In 1788 Lavoisier showed it to be an independent element. He furthermore proved the diamond to be the purest form of carbon and by combustion converted it into carbonic acid gas.—New York American.

Not the Usual Romance.

Recently one of our most fastidious young men bought a pair of overalls and found in them the name of the sewing girl who made them. He very promptly wrote her a letter with all the effusiveness necessary in such a case and in due time received a reply, which, however, was void of the romance usual in such cases. Here it is: "I am a working girl, it is true, but I make a good living, and I do not care to support a husband, as I would do if I married some silly noodle who gets mashed on a girl he never saw. Permit me to say that I do not know how my card got in that pair of overalls and that when I do marry, if ever, it will be some fellow who can afford something better than a forty-seven cent pair of breeches."—Muscotah Recorder.

Improvement.

Bacon—How is your wife?
Egbert—Improving, thank you.
"Why, I didn't know she'd been ill!"
"She hasn't, but she bought a bonnet today for $4. She used to buy the sixteen-dollar kind, you know."—Yonkers Statesman.

Blunt.

"I should like to go to my mother-in-law's funeral this afternoon, sir," said the bookkeeper to the "old man."
"So should I," replied the proprietor as he turned to his desk again.—London Tit-Bits.

Nautical.

"Cap, how many knots an hour can you make with this vessel?"
"Can't make any just now; we're tied up."—Baltimore American.

What is not necessary is dear at a penny.—Danish Proverb.

The Exchange Table

Mossbacks may count when the census of a town is taken, but that is about all.—Wazahachie Light.

The idea of putting in meters to measure telephone talk is good; but it will be impossible to devise meters that will stand the strain.—Fluvanna Herald.

There are exceptions to every rule and this year the growers seem to have pulled down the good prices of cotton and left the speculators to fight over the ups and downs. And the growers are not worrying.—Palestine Herald.

Just to get a practical idea as to how Texas is growing and has grown, all you have to do is to recall the fact that there is probably more paper used in publishing newspapers now in this state in one day than there was used in a whole year, sixty years ago.—Livredo Times.

A man in San Antonio claims that he can talk by wireless telephone to people at any distance and offers to demonstrate it. He has talked through the steel and iron doors of fire and burglar-proof vaults. He says wireless telephone communication will be common.—Wilson County Journal.

Diversification keeps the farmer so busy he hasn't time to run in debt. Result: The horn of plenty is his grab-bag. On the other hand the one-crop farmer puts in most of his time buying on credit and waiting around for his crop to come in. Ever think about it?—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

It is a badly deluded man who thinks he can ever enjoy a small measure of prosperity so long as he attempts to raise cotton exclusively, granting that the staple brings him 15 cents a pound, and buy his corn at three-fourths of a dollar a bushel and gives up 20 cents for every sixteen-ounces of bacon that he peels the skin from.—Ablene Reporter.

Dirt will be broken at once for the Lone Star cotton mill. The man who promoted this great enterprise, W. B. Carnes, now sleeps in beautiful Pecan Grove cemetery, which is another reminder "in the midst of death we are in death," but for years to come people of McKinney will remember W. B. Carnes' splendid work for the town.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

If the land owned by that New Jersey man, who forbids flying across it, is as big as a Texas hog pasture, aviation will be impossible in that little dab of a state, but the aviators will find that Texas offers them 168,000,000 broad acres over which they can spread their wings. Gainesville will have some flying machines next May and guarantees them all the room they may want.—Gainesville Register.

The Southern man puts his money in land or mercantile enterprises, while the Eastern man puts his funds in factories and manufacturing plants. The latter sells the products of his factories to the people of the South and accumulates a fortune of money drawn from the South, while the former is waiting for his land to enhance in value. The South will never come into its own until factories are built to manufacture her raw material.—Wills Point Chronicle.

One of the best ideas animating the pure food laws is that purchasers have a right to know what they are buying. If they are buying butter or eggs that has been in cold storage for years they ought to have some way of knowing that fact. Perhaps the law cannot under take to say how long these things may be kept in cold storage, but it can and ought to prescribe that all cold storage stuff shall have some mark showing how old it is. That would be a measure of honesty and a measure of hygiene, whence such a law would get its warrant; but it would also clip the power of the packers to coerce both producer and consumer, which, while it gives no warrant for the enactment of such a law, would give all of us occasion to be gratified by its enactment.—Dallas News.

Ido Beats E'm All.

From the New York Telegraph.
If you have been in the habit of thinking in Esperanto or expressing yourself in Volapuk, quit it. Those languages, or whatever they may be called, are has-beens. Now, it is the proper thing to express one's self in Ido. And yet, from what little we have heard in this new language, which appears to have been made by the Danes, it does not sound good to us. Otto Jepserson of Copenhagen is here to give Ido a boost with Americans, and he began his missionary work last week for the new "universal language." If you are courting a girl, says the honest Dane, merely say to her "beloza;" it covers everything that you wish to say. Do you wish to tell her that she is beautiful, fascinating and full of witchery, murmur "beloza." Would you like to say to a young lady that she looks well and suits you clear down to the ground, don't utter a long speech, merely say, with a look of chastened affection, "Maggie, beloza." It is not a bad thing to know, this "beloza" word, and the fact that one can do all his courting up to the point of proposing with these three magic syllables ought to make the language popular with stutters and tongue-tied men. RUSSIA'S CREDIT.

Not Once Has that Nation Failed to Meet Obligations.

In no period of Russia's history has her credit suffered prolonged impairment, and not once has she failed to meet her obligations to the full satisfaction of her creditors. As a consequence of so honorable a record, and by reason of the untold resources of the empire in forests, minerals and agricultural produce, Russian securities command a ready market today at good prices in France, Holland, Belgium, Germany and England. Even the diplomatic defeat which the imperial government suffered in the recent Balkan settlement had no adverse effect upon the market estimate of the empire's credit. Such confidence would unquestionably be misplaced but for one fundamental consideration, namely that, despite the lingering economic backwardness of the Russian state and people, the resources of the nation as a whole—not alone in the gross output but in the taxpaying abilities of the people—are steadily increasing.

A thing that most of us do not realize is that the population of Russia is actually growing at a rate of 1½ per cent a year, not equalled in any important country on the globe. Another thing is that not even in France does so large a proportion of the population belong to the landowning class, providing a necessary condition for the agricultural prosperity of the coming generations. Since 1877 the amount of arable land held by the nobility has diminished by a third; yet the price of land has risen in every part of the empire. In 1888 the total of savings bank deposits was 60,000,000 rubles; at the beginning of 1908 it was 1,000,000,000. In fifteen years the consumption of tea, tobacco, brandy, petroleum and cottons has increased by from 20 to 30 per cent, and the per capita consumption of sugar has been exactly doubled. These are a few casual considerations which tend to relieve the blackness of the picture presented by Russia's financial condition today, because they indicate that, slowly, painfully, the great Russian people is coming to its own. With increased ability to pay taxes, and with ultimate control over the public purse, these same Russian people may yet be able to solve the vexing problem of the balance sheet with which the bureaucrats have so vainly wrestled.

People are awful bold liars to tell those they have been visiting what a good time they had.

OKLAHOMA HAS CHANCE TO SAVE 2-C FARE LAW.

Guthrie, Feb. 8.—Oklahoma has a fighting chance to save its 2c passenger fare law and the Corporation Commission's freight rate orders, against which Federal Judge Hook announced last Saturday he would grant temporary injunctions. Attorney General West, who went to St. Louis yesterday morning, telegraphed the department this afternoon that Judge Hook had agreed to consider a motion for rehearing on Wednesday morning, when Frank Haggerman of Kansas City, special counsel for the railroad companies and other attorneys for complainants will be present. It was represented to the Court by the Attorney General that additional evidence was at hand tending to support the state's contentions.

Assistant Attorney General Henshaw, assigned to the Corporation Commission, immediately filed copies of a motion in the local Federal Clerk's office, formally asking that the case be reopened for further testimony on behalf of the state.

HUGHES IN EARNEST.

New York Governor Will Not Be Candidate for Re-Election.

New York, Feb. 8.—Governor Hughes reiterates his determination not to accept a re-nomination, in a letter made public today:

"I have already publicly stated that I cannot, under any circumstances, accept a re-nomination," writes Gov. Hughes, "and I suppose that is understood by the people of the state. Certainly it should be and I do not see how I could have been more explicit than in my statement to the newspapers."

"Of course, those who have been so strong in my support should realize that there is not the slightest doubt about the matter, and I mean exactly what I have said."

SOLVE SUICIDE THEORY.

Girl Fires Seven Shots into Breast Before Expiring.

Oneonta, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Whether a girl could fire seven consecutive shots into her breast before expiring is the question which must be settled before the authorities can determine whether Bessie Wheeler committed suicide or was murdered. She was found dead in her home at Davenport, near here. The coroner's physician maintains that she could not have fired the shots herself. Dr. F. W. Gates, testifying as an expert, holds otherwise.

WE ARE LAYING FOR YOU

And the way we are doing it is keeping the best wire fencing in stock.

Before deciding on the wire fencing most suitable to our particular trade, we investigated all the leading makes. Our object was to get the strongest fencing; fencing that would stretch up the easiest; would not sag when run over uneven ground; was animal proof and so constructed as to best withstand the ravages of time.

The fencing that we found to most nearly combine all these desirable qualities was the Pittsburg Perfect Welded Wire Fencing. So this is the fence we not only offer you, but advise you to take. It costs no more than other fencing of inferior quality.

Popular Plan For a Cottage.

Design 826, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

This plan for a story and a half cottage has proved popular. The exterior has a very homelike appearance, and the interior is as cozy as it could be made. There is a large living room across the entire front of the house. At one end is an open fireplace faced with large dull green tile, having a heavy molded shelf with large brackets. Above are two side lights. The dining room is a little beauty. It has a beamed ceiling, built in sideboard and paneled wainscoting with burlap panels. There is no undrivable pantry, but the kitchen is well fitted up with cupboards, molding table and four bins. Kitchen finished in ivory white enamel, and the cupboard doors are of birch stained brown. Size 20 by 28 over the main part. The trim in first story is birch stained a soft brown. In the second story the casings are of pine enameled pure white, and the doors are of birch stained to represent mahogany. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $3,500.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 826 for $25.

House With a Double Piazza.

Design 927, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

Although this house is of the square type, it has a distinction quite its own, mainly on account of the large piazza, built on two sides of the house. There is a splendid interior arrangement, comprising eight rooms, a bath, a smelt-iron or sewing room, as well as a large pantry and entry. There is a side entrance into the dining room. The first story is finished in red oak or birch and the second story in pine to paint. There are birch floors throughout. Size twenty-six feet wide by thirty-four feet deep. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $4,000.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 927 for $25.

Baltimore Club the Scene of Nerve-Racking Event.

From the Baltimore American:
According to members of the Baltimore club, a nerve-racking race between three diamond terrapins was witnessed at the Baltimore club during the past week. Turtles which were the pride of the culinary departments of the Baltimore club and the Maryland club were "raced" on the carpet of one of the lounging rooms of the club house, and "King Leopold," the Baltimore Country Club entry, distanced "Otello," who was brought from the Maryland club, and "Fib," of the home club.
Mr. Charles A. Conrad is given the credit for engineering the race, and it is said that the racers were taken by him from their respective homes, in a box carefully guarded, to the Baltimore club in an automobile. These who saw the race say that the finish was one which equaled anything ever seen on any race track. As the turtle Otello took the lead, and at first it appeared that King Leopold and Fib were not in the running. Fib proved to be an "also ran," and was counted out of the race early, but King Leopold plodded on, some distance in the rear of the flying Otello.
With his race apparent won, Otello was backed by all who could find takers, and his backers were ready to count their winnings when the unexpected happened. Stopping only a few inches from the finish line, Otello hesi-tated and drew himself into his shell.
His backers showed their consternation, but cries of encouragement and threats failed to move the obdurate terrapin, and King Leopold crossed the line an easy winner.
Many prominent club men witnessed the contest and were convinced that horse racing was "beat a little" when compared to the heart-breaking finish that a Maryland terrapin can put up.
A member of the club stated that the racing terrapin was a pastime which had been carried on in the Baltimore club for many years. The amusement was inaugurated some years ago, and it was customary to use six of the terrapin in a contest.

Stones in Paris Overwhelmed by Flood;
"Trust Buster" Ellis and Walker Weston

One of the most serious features of the great flood in Paris is the flooding of underground Paris, consisting of over 700 miles of sewers, besides the famous catacombs and two subterranean rivers. The sewers of Paris have been famous in literature for a long time. The picture shows a party of men in a boat inspecting the sewers. The catacombs inundated by the overflow of the Seine, contain the bones removed from the cemeteries of the demolished churches and the burying grounds in 1786. They were originally the quarries from which materials were obtained for constructing the edifices of the city. When the Champs Elysee quarter, one of the finest in Paris, was threatened by the flood, thousands of men were put to work to erect a wall to keep the waters out. The projected walk of Edward Payson Weston, the veteran pedestrian, from Los Angeles to New York in 100 days, starting from the former city Feb. 1, is attracting the attention of men and women throughout the country. Wade H. Ellis, ordered by President Taft to Chicago to assist in the best trust investigation, is one of the government's best known "trust busters." He was formerly attorney general of Ohio and is now assistant to Attorney General Wickersham.

FEW GET TO BE ENGINEERS.

Out of 100 Firemen Seventeen Get the Promotion.

(Thaddeus S. Dayton, in Harper's Weekly.)

"Among every 100 men who become firemen, only seventeen are ever made engineers," says Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, one of the most powerful labor organizations in the world. "Out of every 100 engineers only six every get passenger runs. The next time you see a white-haired man in the cab of a big passenger locomotive, don't wonder at all at his white hair, but make up your mind that he has the goods or he would not be there. It is a case of the selection and the survival of the fittest. It takes nerve to run the fastest trains these days, for you sit at your throttle, tearing across the country at the rate of more than a mile a minute, and if from any one of a dozen people, down to the man who spiked the rails has made a mistake, you ride to certain death."

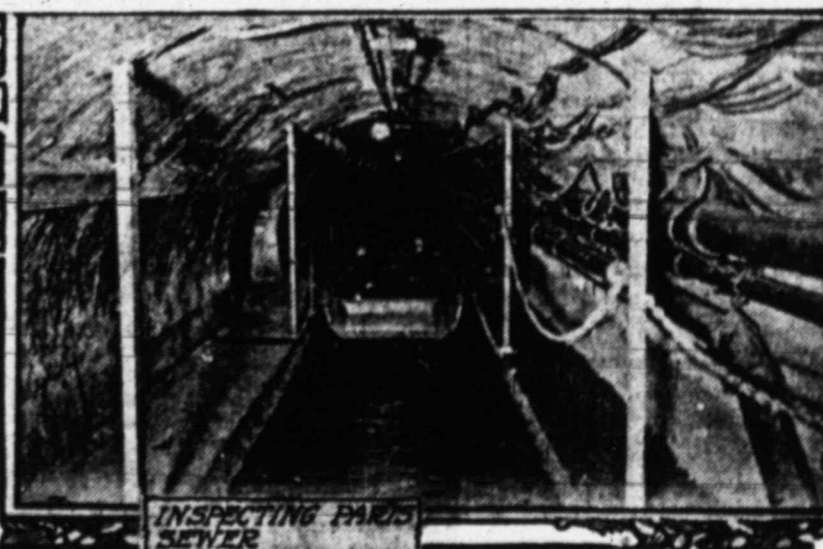

The day when an engineer could drive his train ahead at full speed, at his own discretion, and make up as much lost time as the recklessness of his daring permitted, has passed with the romantic age of railroading. No longer does he gamble thus with death to win back minutes. A cool-headed human machine sits in an office miles away and tells him exactly how many feet he may go. Mute signals stretch out their arms to him by day or grow red-eyed at night along the track and halt him if he rides too fast or if there is danger ahead. At intervals of from a thousand feet to five miles there is a tower with a man in it who notes the minute and second of his passing and telegraphs it forward and back over the line. Nowadays the engineer is rarely out of touch with possible orders for more than a few minutes at a time. In place of the daring and the old speed madness that used to characterize the making up of time the man who lasts the longest now in the cab is the one who possesses the calculating skill developed by long experience. He accomplishes much more simply by taking advantage of every trifle in winning back his time second by second.

CHAMBER IN THE CATACOMBS

SOLDIERS IN PARIS FIGHTING FLOOD; WOMEN WHO FIGURE IN THE NEWS.

The flood which has devastated Paris is not the first that has wrought great damage in the French capital. Owing to its low lying site, through which the Seine winds, Paris has frequently been visited by floods. The picture shows soldiers at work during a recent inundation erecting barriers to check the spread of the waters. The Gare St. Lazaire and the other stations of the railroads entering Paris were put in especial peril. The extent of the flood can be appreciated when it is known that the St. Lazaire station, situated nearly a mile from the Seine, was undermined by the waters.

Mrs. Benjamin R. Tillman, Sr., wife of the South Carolina senator, holds that she has a right to keep her two little granddaughters in spite of the legal fight made by her daughter-in-law to retain them. The children were deeded to Senator Tillman by his son, Benjamin R. Tillman, Jr., after a long series of quarrels between himself and his wife.

Miss Dorothy Hesler of Chicago is "the woman in the case" of the court martial at the Charlestown navy yard of Paymaster George E. Auld and Assistant Surgeon A. H. Robnett of the navy, who are charged with affronting Dr. Edward S. Cowles of Boston, at a navy yard dance. It is said that a remark made about Miss Hesler's photograph led to the trouble. Miss Hesler is said to be the fiancee of Dr. Robnett.

The Swine or the Flower?

Ah! me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty, wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred.

Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;

Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of lard!"

I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first One glistening mass of roses pure and white,

With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed;

And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight, The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene,

Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLINE!"

SHORT ITEMS OF INTEREST

In making mention of the death of the child of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams in yesterday's paper, an error was made in giving the location of Mr. and Mrs. Williams' residence. It should have read 2000 Barwise street, instead of Mississippi street, and Rev. W. T. Morrow conducted the funeral, instead of Rev. T. R. Bowles, as was stated in yesterday's paper.

Otto Stehlik and William Jorhrendt have formed a partnership in the real estate business for the purpose of handling city and farm property and have their office in the First National Bank Annex, on 7th street. They are reliable and trustworthy and business placed with them will receive prompt and careful attention.

J. Wellner, Presiding Elder of the Texas Conference of the Evangelical Association is going to preach at 7:30 p. m. in Rev. Schaefer's residence, 605 Scott avenue. This denomination has established a mission in this city and will have regular services from now on. The place for regular services will be published later.

The announcement in yesterday's Times that the new firm of Kell and Perkins had succeeded to the real estate business of Bridwell and Jackson, was in error. The new firm takes over only the insurance business of Bridwell and Jackson and the latter continues the real estate business without change.

Tomorrow is Ash Wednesday, marking the beginning of Lent. Special services commemorative of the occasion will be held at the Church of the Good Shepherd tomorrow morning. Rev. F. A. Joseph returned to the city last night and will officiate.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors will give a supper to the members at the Knights of Pythias hall tonight.

FLOOD DAMAGE SUITS.

Paris Public Utility Concerns Responsible for Much Inundation.

Paris, Feb. 7.—An exceedingly important question has been raised relative to the pecuniary responsibility of the public utility companies for universal flood damages. In the case of the Orleans & Western railroad, experts agree that the tunnels constructed below the level of the Seine, which were converted into raging torrents during the flood, were the direct cause of the inundation in numerous streets or cellars of houses which otherwise would have escaped.

M. Berthelmy, professor of municipal law at The Sorbonne, and several other eminent lawyers, say that individuals who have thus suffered, undoubtedly are entitled to indemnification. The fact that the companies received municipal or government concessions, they claim, in no wise relieves them of the risk involved in the execution of their concessions. It is probable, therefore that thousands of claimants will enter suit against the companies. The Western railroad is now the property of the state. Such suits will be decided by the council of state and the principle involved is likely to attract wide interest beyond the borders of France.
