IS AUTOMOBILE CENTER

Nearly One Hundred Machines Will Soon Be in Use in Wichita Falls.

The increasing importance of Wichita Falls as an automobile center is steadily becoming evident, as is shown by the large number of new machines purchased here. There are now about seventy-five automobiles in this city, and when the machines already ordered have arrived, this number will be increased to nearly a hundred. In addition to the large number of machines here, Wichita Falls is a distributing point for this and the adjacent counties and handles dozens of machines to neighboring communities.

Among the recent new arrivals in Wichita Falls are: 'E. M. F. 30,' by Job Barnett; 'Model 16, Buick,' by John Tandy; 'Model 17, Buick,' by J. J. Perkins; 'Maxwell 30,' by H. J. Bachman. In addition the Willis Automobile Company has delivered machines to the following Henrietta parties: A. H. Bevering, A. W. Raht, K. N. Hapgood, Irving Corlett, A. B. Edwards. All of these were 'Maxwell 30' machines. R. G. Walton, of Jolly, recently received a 'Model F.' Buick, through the same agency.

The following machines have been shipped from the factories to Wichita Falls:

G. D. Anderson, 'Maxwell 30'; Dr. J. W. DuVal, 'Maxwell 22'; Dr. L. P. Amason, 'Maxwell 22'; Dr. Everett Jones, 'Maxwell 23'; Lynn Boyd, 'Flanders 20'; Vic Stampfli, 'Flanders 20'; D. M. Perkins, 'Flanders 20.'

Between Chicago and Omaha.

Texas News Service Special.
Port Worth, Mar. 23.—The railroad offices here today learned that the Rock Island by a business coup secured all the contracts for the big meat packers for all their carrying between Chicago and Omaha, which is a highly profitable haul. The roads raised the rates between Chicago and Omaha but the Rock Island notified the packers that it would carry the products to the station opposite Omaha at the old rates and thereby won the business.

The district attorney intimated that confessions would be made early and late during court hours and perhaps the principal figures, as yet not entangled in the drag-net, will be gathered in through indictments, and possibly, arrests.

Nine more Councilmen confessed today and it was announced that no more confessions would be received, but that those caught in the drag net from now on would be prosecuted.

Harry Koch of Quannah, editor of the "Tribune-Chief" published in that city, was a business visitor to Wichita Falls today. Mr. Koch reports that there are evidences of some warm politics ahead in his section and states that interest is increasing. Cone Johnson, according to Mr. Koch, is in the van, with Poindexter and Colquitt vying for second choice and Davidson bringing up the rear. He reports that John Veale of Amarillo is receiving much encouragement in his neighborhood in the race against John Stephens for Congress.

Quannah is busier than ever, according to the editor, and with her railroad projects and other propositions is rapidly making a noise like a city. Mr. Koch returned to Quannah this afternoon.

'SEVEN SISTERS' TRACT IS AC-QUIRED BY CITIZENS AND SALE CLOSED.

BUSINESS MEN ACTIVE

Large Number of Them Joined in the Movement Which Assures the Park for City.

The deed conveying block 215 to R. E. Huff, Frank Kell and T. C. Thatcher, has been filed for record with the county clerk.

The plans for the park on the block were published in the Times several days ago.

These gentlemen, together with Wiley Blair, J. A. Kemp, C. C. Huff, N. Henderson, W. L. Moore, W. M. McGregor, J. T. Montgomery, T. J. Taylor, C. W. Bean, B. J. Bean, J. C. Tandy, G. D. Anderson and J. E. Marlow, have contributed the necessary funds to buy this block and will allow the city to purchase it for park purposes at cost, if the people wish it, after a special charter shall have been obtained, and authority given by the legislature to the city for such an investment.

For the present the houses will not be removed from the east half of the block, but the west half will probably be cleared off and some work done on it soon.

Wichita Falls is to be congratulated on having sixteen citizens of such public spirit, who are willing to spend their money with no hope of reward, except the ultimate beautifying of the city.

VARDAMAN UNDER FIRE.

Former Governor of Mississippi Has Much to Account For.

Jackson, Miss., March 23.—The alleged unbusinesslike methods of ex-Governor Vardaman in handling the executive contingent funds, Meridian cyclone relief fund, Spanish-American war fund and other trust funds placed in executive keeping during his administration was the subject of a lively and rather acrimonious debate in the house yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Adair of Sunflower, presented a lengthy resolution, setting forth the fact that the ex-governor had not made reports showing the disposition of these funds, as required by law and calling on him to immediately furnish the legislature with the desired information.

The reading of the resolution caused an immediate tightening of the political lines that were relaxed just one month ago today, when LeRoy Percy defeated Vardaman for the United States senate. Innumerable points of order were raised. Finally the house, by a unanimous vote, instructed the committee on contingent fund expense to make an investigation covering the past six years, and report its findings back to the house.

Thomas a year ago in the Amarillo court house, following a dispute over the possession of a prisoner.

BASEBALL PLAYERS OUT AT PRACTICE

FIRST WORKOUT OF SEASON WAS HELD YESTERDAY AFTER-NOON.

FIRST GAME NEXT WEEK

Players Will All Have Reported By End of Week and Team Organized.

The first baseball practice of the season was held yesterday afternoon at the park, where about fifteen players gathered for the first workout. The showing made was naturally rather crude, as several of the boys had not handled a ball since the 1909 season closed, but within a day or two, a better showing is expected, and the awkwardness which was in evidence yesterday is expected to disappear.

Hancock, Barnett, Tucker, Thornberry, Carson, Darnell and others were among the players yesterday. This number will be increased shortly by the arrival of "Stopper" Witherspoon, Tullie Speer, McDonald and the others who have signed up with Wichita Falls. The work of repairing the fence and grandstand is progressing rapidly and water is being piped to the grounds.

It is evident that the neighboring towns will give Wichita Falls harder games than they did during last year. During 1909, Henrietta was the only team that could even make it interesting for the locals, but it is promised this year that Quannah and the others will have strong nines. The latter city has pledged one thousand dollars a month for the support of the team, it is stated. With this amount at its disposal the management there ought to be able to get one of the fastest teams in North Texas.

Either Quannah or Henrietta will play the opening game here with Wichita Falls next week and in either case, a good contest is looked for. By that time all the players who have signed up with Wichita Falls will be here and will be in playing form.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

lision With Car.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., March 23.—In an automobile accident near Fort Myer early today, Mrs. Herbert Slocum, wife of Major Slocum of the Seventh Cavalry, who is attached to the department of the east at Governor's Island, New York, was killed, and Major General J. Franklin Bell, Chief Staff of the Army, was injured.

The automobile was hit by a trolley car while crossing the road. Mrs. Slocum lived only about fifteen minutes. General Bell received a scalp wound and other injuries, which, although painful, are not considered as serious.

It was learned that one of General Bell's ribs was broken and he was removed to his home where at last reports he was reasonably comfortable. Chaffeur Ward was unhurt. He together with the motorman and conductor of the trolley was arrested.

The first real March weather was in evidence this morning, when a stiff wind sprang up, making matters disagreeable for all who stirred out of doors.

CIVIC LEAGUE LADIES TO SERVE DINNER TO THE CLEANUP WORKERS

The ladies of the Civic League will serve dinner on next Tuesday, "Cleanup Day" to the workers and at a meeting of the League yesterday afternoon steps were taken looking to this end. A building will be secured for the feast and a home-cooked feast will be served to the workers by the ladies. At yesterday's meeting, Mrs. Kemp was appointed to see that an ample supply of cake is provided, while the pie question is to be solved by Mrs. Myers. Several other committees were appointed to look after the other details. Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, Mar. 23.—A proposition to remove the Texas Christian University from Waco to Fort Worth was considered this morning by the board of trustees of that institution according to advices received here. It is believed the trustees will favor the move following the burning of the university main building at a loss of $150,000 last night. Rev. W. C. McPherson, endowment secretary of the University left for Waco this morning. The proposition was offered a year ago but was not seriously considered since the buildings were already located at Waco.

MARKED ACTIVITY AT LAKE WICHITA

WORK IS BEING PUSHED ON RACE
TRACK AND OTHER IMPROVE-MENTS THERE.

LARGE FORCE KEPT BUSY

Extensive Preparations Being Made to Take Care of Crowds During Summer.

Lake Wichita is the scene of marked activity at present and extensive preparations are being made for the coming summer. A large force of men is employed there and within a few weeks their number will be materially augmented by the forces at work on the fair building and the summer hotel.

Steady progress is being made on the race track and the course is gradually taking form. A great deal of grading and filling is necessary to perfect the track, but when completed, it will be one of the best tracks in the state. Work on the two big barns is practically completed and a big string of horses will be installed at the earliest possible date, they being already in the city, awaiting its completion. Work has been begun on the grandstands for the race track and baseball park, and these will be ready in time.

Several new boats are being added to the lake fleet and a new gasoline launch was floated recently. Several other private boats will be added before long and motor boating promises to be one of the chief attractions during the summer. In spite of the fact that a large number of row boats were built during the winter, it is already evident that there will hardly be enough to supply the demand and it is probable that more will be constructed shortly.

Little has been done as yet on either the Interstate Fair building or the hotel, but work on both of these improvements will be started at an early date, it is stated.

The pavilion is now complete, with the exception of the lighting, which will be installed as soon as some missing poles show up and enable the construction to be made. When lighted up, the building will present a beautiful appearance at night and will probably be the scene of many festivities.

As soon as the street car company gets in the twelve new cars, which have been ordered, it is believed that the crowds to the lake can be handled as expeditiously as is necessary. More switches will be installed and better arrangements will be made for handling the traffic.

State Secretary James Breen is still in the city and will be present at tonight's meeting.

Spirit of the Texas Press.

It is stated that H. Clay Pierce is making efforts to get back into Texas again. For a "loan" of $2300 we are willing to tell him how it can be done.—Waxahachie Light.

It is reported that H. Clay Pierce will make another effort to operate an oil business in Texas. It's hard to stay shut off from a good thing.—Amarillo Panhandle.

A Fort Worth mail clerk has received the power of speech. We'll bet it was caused by Capt. B. B. Padlock letting loose a rebel yell when Governor Campbell failed to keep his appointment.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Henry Clay Pierce is coming to Texas to make another effort to organize an oil company to do business in Texas. It must be that Henry Clay only wants to change the name of the one he now has.—Yokum Herald.

It is said that the farmers of Caldwell county are buying more new machinery for planting and cultivating crops than at any previous time in the history of the county. Improved machinery is getting to be cheaper than labor.—Lockhart Post.

It is said that Southwest Texas will ship about four thousand cars of early garden truck this year despite the frosts and dry weather. Texas is a great state, and neither frost nor dry weather appears to put it out of business.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Taxpayers of San Antonio, who have been urged to patronize home industries, are looking askance at the order that has gone forth to a Chicago mail order house for uniforms for the police department. It would seem that the city itself should be the first to patronize home industry wherever possible.—Beaumont Enterprise.

Stump says he is too busy these days looking after the Port Arthur whale to pay any attention to newspaper dope—and from all we can learn he is perfectly justified in the excuse. It takes a stronger perfume than that sent forth from a can of printer's ink to offset the impression of the deep sea monster.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Bullard, in Smith county, will ship asparagus by the car load this season. This is a comparatively new crop in East Texas, but experts have pronounced it one of the best yet produced. The product is high priced and in big demand, and it grows abundantly in this soil and climate. There seems to be no limit to the possibilities of this country.—Palestine Herald.

Every chicken you can raise on your place this year will save you just that much on your meat bill, and all the vegetables you can raise will help to keep down the grocery bill. Get your living just as nearly at home as possible this year and you will have more money to your credit next fall in addition to enjoying much better health.—Weatherford Herald.

Cotton seed flour is giving Texas a tolerably fair bit of publicity of the right sort. Here's a sample: Bread made of cotton seed flour has been exhibited in Chicago recently and is said to look much like Boston brown bread. The flour was made in Texas and costs $30 a ton. The people down there appear enthusiastic over it and want it boomed as a substitute for wheat flour.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

After a big rain that has done the country thousands of dollars worth of good, you can hear the frogs in the ponds croaking and that is the way with the few knockers in McKinney when the business men and progressive citizens secure some enterprise that means much for the town. But then these knockers have about as much effect as the frogs.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

Down in Mexico some fellows thought a corner on the supply of corn would be a good thing. The government promptly shipped in many train loads of corn from the states, which it sold to the people at cost, the corner was busted, from which we would judge Senor Diaz would not be very popular in some circles if he were the Government of the United States instead of "Barbarous Mexico."—Bevillie Bee.

Taking the stump as a "private citizen" will head off the inquisitive man at the rear of the hall who might start something by an awkward question as to why the unfortunate insane languish in county jails and the young builders of Texas live in canvas igloos over Agricultural and Mechanical College way. T. M. Campbell, "private citizen," is not T. M. Campbell, "Governor"—and there you are.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The highest pinnacle of human success is the building of a home. The man who builds and brightens a home renders a service to his country, for the home is the foundation of all progress and upon its conditions depend the destinies of the nation. America is known as a nation of happy homes. Let us keep them happy by building them as well as we can and brightening the environments of home life in every way possible.—Beaumont Journal.

A monument has been unveiled in Rome, (Ga.) to the women of the Southern Confederacy. Whatever one's attitude may be on the issues which precipitated the strife of the stormy sixties, the tribute is a worthy one, though tardily bestowed. The Southern woman was the warrior at home who fought the grim legions of hunger, privation and peril, and she has rightly taken place in history with the mothers of Sparta. A shaft from earth to the stars would fall to do fitting honor to her.—San Angelo Standard.

The Austin Statesman remarks that every fool will want to go fishing now, and laments further that there are not wisemen enough to prevent the fools from going fishing. The Statesman is published at the seat of State government where the Legislature is accustomed to sit and discuss wise questions, and possibly the editor has imbibed some of this wisdom. But just why he should refer to the fishermen as fools or even foolish is more than we can grasp, for we had it figured out quite another way.—Palestine Herald.

The Kansas City lady went motoring Friday, went motoring Saturday, went to dinner with the same motor car owner, went out just where she does not tell, after dinner, got home about midnight and was interrupted in a heart-to-heart talk with the motor car owner early Sunday morning by the cutting performances of her husband. She says that she will get a divorce from her husband, which, in view of all the facts, seems to be a remarkable exhibition of long-suffering patience.—Fort Worth Record.

The happiest man in the land today is the successful farmer. He sits under his own vine and fig tree, undisturbed by the maddening noise of the great city. Banks fail, railroads go into the hands of receivers, booming towns collapse, all business stagnates. But the wise farmer can snap his finger at these. He is the monarch of all he surveys on his broad acres. And the honesty of his boys and the purity of his girls is guarded against temptations, and in them he is giving the country its best, manhood and womanhood. The farmer is to be envied, and, if he is not contented with his lot, he is lacking in wisdom.—Nixon News.

CHAMPION IN TROUBLE.

Jack Johnson's Case Comes Up for Assault.

New York, March 23.—The case against Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist, who was indicted several months ago for assault in the second degree, was called for trial today in the court of general sessions. The case grows out of an assault alleged to have been made by the pugilist upon Norman H. Pinder, a diminutive negro, who claims that Johnson gave him a thrashing because he refused to treat to a bottle of wine. As a fine is likely to be the only penalty in the event of conviction, there appears to be little possibility that the result of the affair will interfere with Johnson's arrangement for his coming fight with Jeffries for the championship. Later the pugilist will be obliged to return to New York to defend himself in a suit for damages which has already been started by his alleged victim.

Form Poindexter Club. Gainesville, Tex., March 23.—The town of Hood, ten miles west of here, reports a Poindexter club organized there on Saturday night. The town has a little over 100 votes and as many voters are members of the club. Senator R. E. Cofer of this city, addressed the meeting and deflected the organization.

The committee which has been at work raising the $75,000 bonus for the railroad to be constructed from here to Decatur to connect with the Fort Worth and Denver and on to Bridgeport to connect with the Rock Island, reported yesterday that the required bonus had been raised. The road will be built with Gainesville capital. Col. M. P. Kelley, president of the Commercial Club, has called a public meeting at the city hall tomorrow night to hear the report of the committee and the club will give a smoker to the citizens of the town.

It is stated that actual work will begin within sixty days.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

This is Anniversary of Roosevelt's Departure for Africa.

New York, March 23.—It is just one year ago today since former President Roosevelt departed from this city on his memorable hunting expedition to Africa. Upon his arrival home next June he will have been gone about fifteen months and travelled a distance almost equal to the circuit of the world and the estimated cost of his trip is $25,000, which amount is considered exceedingly small, in view of the important results attained. As the fruits of his eight months spent in the African jungles, Colonel Roosevelt has forwarded over five hundred rare and important specimens to the Smithsonian Institution and other scientific bodies in America.

"THIS IS MY 50th BIRTHDAY."

Samuel G. Dixon.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, well known as a physician and scientist was born in Philadelphia, March 23, 1851. After studying law and being admitted to the bar he took a course in medicine and was graduated from the medical college of the University of Pennsylvania in 1886. He then pursued his medical studies in London and Munich and at the same time made an exhaustive investigation of the systems of disposing of sewerage and the filtration of water in the chief cities of Europe. On his return to Philadelphia in 1896 he became a member of the medical faculty of the University of Pennsylvania. This position he resigned two years later to accept a professorship at the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, of which institution he was made president in 1896. In 1905 he was appointed Commissioner of Health of Pennsylvania. In 1889 Dr. Dixon attracted the attention of the medical world by his announcement of a discovery producing immunity to tuberculosis in the lower animals.

GEORGIA WORKERS.

Sunday School Work Discussed at Madison Meeting. Madison, Ga., March 23.—Following the formal welcome meeting last evening, the annual convention of the Georgia State Sunday School Association began its regular program of business this morning with an attendance the largest in the history of the association's annual gatherings. The home and the school, elementary work and the Sunday School as a spiritual force were among the chief topics discussed during the day. The convention will conclude its business tomorrow.

The Times is authorized to announce J. A. Richolt as a candidate to succeed himself for one of the long terms as alderman. Mr. Richolt has served the city faithfully and efficiently for two years in that capacity, and has been prevailed upon by many good citizens to offer his services for another two years, which he has finally consented to do. It is needless for the Times to say anything as to his qualifications for the position, further than he is one of our many wide-awake, progressive citizens, and has worked, in and out of season, for the best interests of the city.

Great Railroad Strikes of History

Washington, March 23.—Should the threatened railroad strike in the west become a reality, it would probably develop into the greatest railroad strike in America. According to the estimates of the railroad officials, nearly fifty roads with an aggregate mileage of 150,000 miles would become involved. More than 150,000 men would be thrown out of employment and the cost to the country would probably exceed $100,000,000.

A review of the great railroad strikes of history is not without interest at this time. The first great railroad strike in the United States began at Martinsburg, W. Va., on July 16, 1877, when the locomotive firemen went out on the Baltimore and Ohio road. Within a week the strike had spread to the Pennsylvania, Erie, Lake Shore, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis, Vandalia, Ohio and Mississippi, C. C. C., and other minor lines. Numerous lives were lost in Martinsburg, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Philadelphia and other cities. The cost of the strike to the Pennsylvania Railroad alone was not less than $5,000,000.

The year 1886 saw the famous Gould strike on the Southwestern Railroad system. In this strike the terrific conditions of 1877 were recreated on a larger scale. The strike, which was directed by the Knights of Labor, lasted nearly two months. It resulted in a defeat for the men, who lost nearly $15,000,000 in wages. The famous Reading strike, as it is called, began on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad on December 20th, 1887, when 6,000 employees of the company were called away from their work by the Knights of Labor. More than 30,000 men became involved. The strikers failed to gain the issue for which they fought, namely, the recognition of the Knights of Labor. The cost of the struggle was estimated at $5,000,000.

Other railroad strikes of the next five years were those of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on the Burlington system, in 1888, the New York Central strike of 1890 and the strikes on the Little Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan Railroad and the Lehigh Valley Railroad, both of which occurred in 1893. It was in the Ann Arbor strike that Judge (now president) Taft gave his famous decision, ordering Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to promulgate an order that the by-laws of the Brotherhood, requiring members to refuse to handle cars of a boycotted non-union line was not in force. The Taft decision on this occasion marked an era in the history of labor agitation.

The year 1894 brought the greatest railroad strike the country has ever known. The strike was begun by the employees of the Pullman car works on June 24th. A few weeks later the American Railway Union ordered a sympathetic strike by the railroad employees throughout the west. The struggle caused much rioting in Chicago, in California and other places. President Cleveland ordered out the United States troops to suppress the disorder. In the end, the strikers were disastrously defeated. Three months after the strike was inaugurated the Pullman employees returned to work at their old wages. President Debs and other officials of the American Railway Union were imprisoned for contempt of court in failing to obey an injunction restraining them from interference with the running of mail trains. The total cost of the struggle was estimated at $100,000,000.

CONTEST BEGINS.

Washington dispatches indicate that the insurgent republican members of congress who joined the democrats in taking away from Speaker Cannon his power have repeated, or are being whipped into line by the regulars. The committee of ten provided by Norris' resolution will not have any but regular republicans and democrats on it, thus ignoring completely the insurgent republicans. It would have been far better for them to have supported Burleson's resolution declaring the Speakership vacant and then united on one of their own number, or even Champ Clark or some other good democrat to succeed "Uncle Joe" Cannon. By not doing this, they in a manner, have said they were sorry for the part they played in supporting the Norris resolution, but the regulars do not propose to accept their apology, and will now proceed to "rub it in" on the insurgents by ignoring the bunch completely. The democrats stood together nobly in that fight, and after it started did not want to stop the job and it only about half completed. Had the insurgent republicans stood with them all the way through it is more than likely that they would now be masters of the situation. Cowardice deserves to be rebuked, and they are now getting only what is their due.

While denying that he will ever resign, Uncle Joe has admitted that there is a possibility of his dying sometime. Add that's something.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF US.

A number of leading business men and capitalists of St. Louis recently made a tour of Texas in order to make a personal study of the business conditions in that state and the opening for investments. The Manufacturer's Record has received letters from several of them giving their views as to the outlook in Texas. L. D. Dozier, capitalist, writes: "While I had heard most flattering reports from this section of the country, I can now say that I was greatly astonished, as well as delighted, to note the wonderful development in business to be found there. Business seems to be generally good, and improvements of the most substantial nature are to be seen on every hand, and a great deal of building in course of construction."

"In most of the places visited they have the advantage of splendid street car systems and a substantial civic pride and wonderful cooperation seems to prevail everywhere. Splendid structures have been erected for hotel purposes and many others are contemplated. In no other part of the country that I know of is there such a wide spread of improvement in progress, and the next decade will show, I feel certain, an equally great improvement and development as has been shown in the last."

J. B. Moberly, assistant secretary of the Mercantile Trust Co., of St. Louis, writing of his impressions of Texas, says: "From observations gathered in the short visit in Texas it would seem that there is plenty of excuse for the feeling of pride that dominates the entire state."

"Her growth in the last few years has been wonderful, and her potentialities for further development are limitless. The fertility of her soil, the enterprise and progressiveness of the people, her abundant resources and salubrious climate, all win for Texas a commercial standing and a population that will make the older and more congested states, outranking her, look to their laurels."

"The present and future cry of Texas is undoubtedly not of population. That is coming in unbidden. Every train that enters the great state carries its full quota of new citizens."

"Her aim and need are manufacturing plants and industrial enterprises, which will put her on an independent footing. At the present times her products are shipped to the north and east and then imported back as finished commodities. Time however will cure this handicap, and the near future will see Texas entering the ranks as a competitor and making herself keenly felt in the country's markets.—Manufacturer's Record.

In spite of the fact that we have taken off our winter ones and donned the summer kind, we can't help feeling that we would like for the weather man to be as outspoken as possible about the prospects.

The rush of the Pittsburg councilmen to get into the immunity bath following the graft exposure is, to say the least, a very sickening commentary on the system of the present day.

Without writing any poetry about it and in as unobtrusive a manner as possible, we call attention to the opening of the baseball season as final evidence that spring has 'come'.

Gifford Pinchot will meet Roosevelt in London. We can't figure out whether it is Pinchot that wants consolation from Roosevelt or Roosevelt wanting consolation from Pinchot.

In capturing a ninety-foot whale, Port Arthur has set a very difficult standard for the fish story tellers of this spring to live up to.

THE STATE PRESS.

The owners of the mammoth whale recently caught and on exhibition at Port Arthur have made "a mint o' money" out of the venture—an average of $1500 per day, and when the interest subsides the monster will be cut up and put on sale in the butcher shops of the state and will probably bring as much more.—Texarkana Courier.

The world is certainly moving. Damascus, which has existed since history began, and is the most Asiatic of cities, has now an electric street car system. Jerusalem has just installed a town clock, and a syndicate of Americans, British and French is about to establish a telephone system in Constantinople.—Yokum Times.

When the average man wants something said about local conditions for one reason or another, he doesn't feel disposed to say it himself, he usually endeavors to get the newspaper to say it for him—without, of course, giving him credit for the item. We presume this is because the newspaper is an inanimate substance and cussing can't hurt it, and the editor is usually a hardened sinner and abuse slides off his feelings like water on a duck's back. Verily, the country would be out of luck without newspapers and editors.—Garland News.

The wise man never uttered a more enduring truth than when about twenty-nine hundred years ago he said: "Wealth maketh many friends, but the poor is separated from his neighbor." Sad enough would it be if only the world fawned upon and courted friendship with the rich, but even the churches make much more of their

If so, they ought to be punished more severely than they are being. GAYNOR RESPECTS FAR EAST. Mayor of New York Speaks at American Peace Dinner. New York, March 23.—The false attitude of superiority on the part of America and Europe in regard to the nations of the East, has led to a misunderstanding, which may or may not be dissipated without war; and at the least this cannot be removed until the West comes to have a true conception of the eastern nations," said Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York, in a speech tonight at the dinner of the American Peace and Arbitration league at the Astor Hotel.

In a statement of business conditions to a Times reporter, by Mr. R. G. Scheurer, proprietor of the Wichita Hardware Company, Mr. Scheurer says the steady and substantial increase in his lines of business plainly show a marked difference in the class of goods and workmanship that is now being called for over that of a year ago, which is convincing that Wichita Falls is very rapidly taking on "metropolitan airs" This is very pleasing, indeed. ### UNEXPECTED WEALTH.

Chickasha Woman Receives Good News From Tennessee.
 Chickasha, Okla., March 23.—Unexpected news of wealth came to Mrs. Z. L. McFarland yesterday when she received a letter from a mining company that her place in Tennessee was desired by them for coal and iron mining purposes. Mrs. McFarland came into possession of the property twenty-two years ago by the death of her mother. She thought the land almost valueless, but continued to hold it, as it had been in the family for several generations. The tract comprises 300 acres and she was informed that adjoining land was selling for $300 per acre. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland have run the Midway Hotel here for several years, and sold the place a short time ago and were preparing to leave for the west.

The Best Sweet Corn That Grows

It grows in the eastern states, the most of it in Maine. It is sweeter, creamier and more tender and delicious than any other corn known. Just why this is we cannot say, unless it is the peculiar soil, climate and care it receives—at any rate, it is true, and our PET Brand is packed from this rich eastern corn. It costs 12 1/2 cents per can and is really worth at least twice as much as any 10 cent corn you can buy. Let us send you a trial can of this, for we are sure you will all ways want it after one trial. Ask for special price in dozen lots.

Origin of Tory.
Sir Walter Scott's explanation of the origin of "tory" as "give me" is not quite the same as that of other in-quirers. According to a high authority, the word is Irish for a "pursuer" and was at first given to moss troopers, who for their own villainous purposes pretended to be on the side of the crown and the constitution and the rights of property and in that disguise haunted the bogs of Ireland, robbing the inhabitants in the name of the king. About 1680 those who "contended for the extreme prerogatives of the crown" had this contemptuous term applied to them by their opponents, and thus we arrive at the meaning of today. Macaulay points out as a curious circumstance that "whig" and "tory" originally applied as a term of insult should so soon have been assumed with pride. An odder circumstance is that two great English parties should have taken their titles the one from the bogs of Ireland and the other from the lowlands of Scotland.—London Times.

Gilbert Islands Tipple.
Neither tea nor coffee is drunk in the Gilbert Islands, but liquor named kara-fee, or toddy. It is the juice of the coconut tree, from which it is drawn daily at sunrise and sunset. To obtain it the natives climb up the tall trees and, while extracting it keep up a constant yelling to let those below know that they are at work. The sap when fresh is a harmless and delicious beverage, but after it has been kept a day or two fermentation sets in and it becomes intoxicating. Karafee does not, however, fly to the head, but a man who drinks it to excess loses the control of his legs. However, when this befalls a native he has sense enough to remain indoors and shows his face to no one, for if his chief should ever hear of it he would be tried and sentenced to hard labor and a heavy fine.
In former days a native found intoxicated was tied to a tree and received a hundred lashes, the blood fairly streaming down his back. Besides this, all his lands were confiscated to the king forever.

Didn't Call Him Names.
Mickey's mother visited a young schoolteacher on the east side the other day, says the New York Sun. As nearly as she could make out from the mother's splutterings the teacher had been calling Mickey "names that no lady would use and no decent mother would stand for." The teacher thought hard, but could recollect no time when she had given way to an impulse to call Mickey dreadful names.
"Sure but you did," insisted the mother. "I don't know what you meant by it, but scurvy elephant is no nice name to call a boy. That's what he said you called him—a scurvy elephant."
"Scurvy elephant! No," said the teacher in a relieved voice; "I didn't call Mike a scurvy elephant. I called him a disturbing element, and I reiterate my statement."
Mickey's mother went home partially satisfied, but not quite sure that the teacher hadn't been calling her names too.

To the Highest Bidder.
Even tobacco buyers have their troubles. One of them, who represents a New York house, met a Connecticut man who had sold his crop. The buyer was amazed at the price the man said he had received.
"You have been cheated," said he.
"You are entitled to more money than that."
"Well," replied the farmer, "nothing has been paid to bind the bargain."
"Then I'll give you 5 cents more a pound and a bonus of $100 for the crop."
"Agreed," exclaimed the farmer, and he received a check for the full amount.
"Oh, by the way," observed the buyer, "who was my rival in this transaction?"
He was informed.
"I might have known it," said he sadly. "That man is my partner."—

The Code of Hammurabi.
The so-called "code of Hammurabi" was brought to light during the excavations on the site of Babylon and is looked upon as being one of the very oldest if not the oldest of all known records. It is believed to be at least 1,000 years older than the Mosaic law.
King Hammurabi reigned over Babylon about the year 2300 B. C., and the laws he inscribed on the clay tablets for the most part so doubt long ante-date that time. The Mosaic law is supposed to have been given to Israel about 1200 B. C., and it would appear, therefore, that the Hammurabi code has the much greater antiquity.—New York American.

Witness My Hand.
In the early days only a few scholars knew how to write. It was then customary to sign a document by smearing the hand with ink and impressing it upon the paper, accompanied by the words, "Witness my hand." Afterward the seal was introduced as a substitute for the hand mark and was used with the words above quoted, the two forming the signature. This is the origin of the expression as used in modern documents.

The Nearest He Ever Came to It.
"Colonel," she asked, "have you ever been up in a balloon?"
"No," he answered, "but I got to talking art to a Boston lady once, and she had me away up in the air inside of two minutes."—Exchange.

HE KNEW THE MEANING.

San Francisco School Boy Explains
"Judiciousness."
Robert Mantell's company, which is now on the coast, had occasion to lay off for a week during Lent, and Marie Booth Russell, its leading woman, put in one whole afternoon in visiting the schools in San Francisco. She is very fond of children, and is interested in different methods of training the young idea. The City of the Golden Gate she found well equipped in educational facilities, but one incident remains uppermost in her recollection of the events of the day of school visiting.

In the fifth grade of this school the teacher was asking a few questions to show Miss Russell how quick her pupils were. The class was as cosmopolitan as could be found in any American city, and some of the answers were very amusing. One answer pleased Miss Russell particularly, and she told the little girl that she made an extremely judicious answer. The child looked perfectly blank for a moment, and then became embarrassed, thinking she had said something wrong.
The teacher came to the rescue.
"Don't you know, Jennie" said she,
"what the word 'judicious' means?"
Jennie did not know, and the question was put to the class. No one showed any disposition to even hazard a guess until a small boy with kinky hair and a slightly aquiline nose raised his hand.
"I know what it is," said little Joseph, "it's gets en griebe, eingemache herring, gefeulte fish, kretuten und fleisch and all dem other jew dishes."

MEET AT QUEBEC.

Christian Scientists Want Recognition
in Canada.
Quebec, March 23.—The Quebec legislature, now in session, is again to take up for consideration and action the question as to whether or not the Christian Scientists will be officially recognized by the province and incorporated as a church. At the last session of the legislature councillors summarily rejected the bill to incorporate
"The First Church of Christ, Science," of Montreal, after the bill had been passed unanimously by the lower house. Another attempt is to be made to pass the bill at the present session and it is said that influential members of the legislature are preparing to make a vigorous fight for it, on the ground that to reject it would not be in accordance with religious liberty.

Bowman News, Items.
Bowman, Tex., March 23.—Rev. C.
F. Mayer was taken by surprise by the young people of his congregation on the night of March 21st, his birthday. The evening was spent in a very pleasant manner by all. Coco and cake was served in the line of refreshments. An estimation of ninety to one hundred people were present and Mr. Mayer appreciated the surprise.
He, with his life's companion, wishes to extend hearty thanks, and would say—come again.
There will be preaching in the church at Bowman every night during this week and services will be as usual on next Sunday.
Rev. C. Bunse is visiting with folks at Bowman this week and will preach every evening.

A New Enterprise.
Mr. H. G. Meyers, manager of the Leeds Woolen Mills, Chicago, one of the largest clothing concerns in the United States, is in the city and has leased a part of the Ward building, opposite the postoffice, for the purpose of opening a branch store for his company, which will be the ninety-first branch so far established.

The novel feature connected with this concern is that it has nothing in the way of men's suits for more nor less than $15, though their ads say they have more than two hundred patterns and styles to select from.
The Leeds Woolen Mills employ 250 people in their factory in Chicago, all union labor.

A Fine Jack.
Will H. Ingram, one of Wichita county's young farmers, has purchased a fine mammoth black Jack weighing near 1000 pounds, and nearly 15 1/2 hands high. Mr. Ingram paid in the neighborhood of $800 for this jack.

A Good Salad

Is always appreciated. It is not only an appetizer, but a substantial and attractive dish. It gives variety to the ordinary meal and meets the demands of the full-course dinner; it solves
the problem of "something for supper."
Try salmon in your next salad. This is one of the most nutritious and de-

CEYLON MENUS

The Way Native Writers With the English Language.

A writer in the Epicure tells of several menus with which he was confronted when traveling in Ceylon. The menu, he says, is an indispensable adjunct to a respectable luncheon or dinner table in Ceylon. As a rule, the head servant writes it out and from his elementary knowledge of English or "the English" springs a host of quaint blunders. At the same time his fertile oriental brain is ever apt to add footnotes, which are perhaps his happiest achievement.

At one lunch there figured among the dishes "roast beef," but it caused the hostess some consternation when she discovered the additional legend in very small letters, "roast beef, smelling a little," the parenthetical note being meant to intimate that the dish was accompanied by a sauce of savory odors.

On another occasion there appeared the following acknowledgment of desecration: "Steak and kidney pie; no kidney."

It was altogether delightful, continues the writer, to find at one dinner our old friend Welsh rabbit appearing as "Welsh rubbish." The same genius translated haricot mutton into "harrygod mutton." Our own boy, he adds, on the occasion of a hastily improvised dinner, was unable to accomplish a dessert. Consequently he put the word "plates" at the end of the menu.

A COSTLY TRIFLE

It Brought Bankruptcy to an English Iron King.

It was a common penny postage stamp that brought Hobart, the great British "iron king," to his ruin. At the time of the Whitworth period, when there was a big crisis in the iron trade, he had agents in all parts of the world who kept him posted. Sometimes they telegraphed news to him in cipher, but those in England were nearly always instructed to write. At that period his principal agent, who was also his chief partner, was in Sheffield and wrote him from there warning him to sell out all iron interests for the time on account of the Whitworth crisis.

Hobart had frequent fits of irritability, and he had been receiving a lot of unstamped letters of no importance on which he had to pay double postage. One morning in anger he gave orders that such letters were to be returned to the postman. The very first unstamped letter received after this was from his partner. It was rejected as soon as it arrived.

Consequently, knowing nothing of the existence of the letter or the all important private news it contained, Hobart pledged himself next day for more iron deals than even his mighty credit was good for. The great drop in prices came two days later, and Hobart, once a millionaire, was involved in a hopeless bankruptcy from which he never recovered.—London Telegraph.

Pillsbury's Wonderful Memory.
Harry N. Pillsbury, the chess player, offered one day in South Bethlehem, Pa., to memorize thirty words, no matter how hard they might be, the selections to be read to him only once.

Professor Merriman of Lehigh university and Dr. Threlkeld-Edwards of Bethlehem picked out most of the following words: Antiphlogistine, perosteum, takadiastase, plasmon, ambrosia, Threlkeld, streptococcus, staphylococcus, micrococcus, plasmodium, Mississippi, Frelbeld, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, athletics, no war, Eichenberg, American, Russia, philosopher, Pict-Potgieters-Rost, Salmagundi, Oom-sillecootal, Bangmamvato, Schlochter's Nek, Manzinyama, theosophy, catechism, Madjesoomeloops.

Mr. Pillsbury immediately repeated these words in the order given and in the reverse order.

A Cockney.
Minsben, a dictionary maker of London, in 1617 issued a work which gave the following amusing account of the origin of the word "cockney": "A cockney, or cockny, applied only to one born within the sound of the Bow bells—that is, within the city of London—which term came first out of the following tale:

"A citizen's son, riding with his father out of London into the country and being a novice and merely ignorant of how corns and catel do increase, asked when he heard a horse neigh what the horse said. His father answered, 'The horse dothe neigh.' Riding further, he heard a cock crow and said, 'Dothe the cock neigh too?' And therefore cockney, or cockneigh, by inversion thus: Incoctus—i. e., raw or unripe in country-mens affairs."

Italian Brigandage in 1846.
One summer evening in the crowded theater an impatient house demanded the drawing of the curtain preliminary to the first act. When at last it was upraised Il Passatore and his armed band occupied the stage, with muskets aimed at the affrighted audience. The chief stated that he should levy a tax per head, which he then and there collected. The gang made off with their booty unmolested.—Lady Presturch's "Essays."

Depressed.
"I am afraid Bilgins has met with reverses."

"What makes you think so?"
"He goes about with a gloomy look, saying there is no such a thing as disinterested friendship. That is almost a sure sign that a man has been trying to borrow money."—Exchange.

There are more than 600 proverbs in the English language which relate to dogs.

VERY FINE BIRDS.

His Wife's Comment on the Result of His Hunting Trip.

The braggadocio of the common variety of husbands generally sooner or later falls before the keen insight that most women have of human nature in general and bragging husbands in particular. A witty southern woman was married to such a man, who, though invariably unsuccessful as a hunter, was continually boasting of his killings.

As he was returning home one evening after an all day hunting trip it occurred to him that the usual accompaniment of an empty game bag was not in accordance with his oft boasted skill as a hunter and that his wife would again have the joke on him, so he went to the market and purchased two brace of partridges.

As he entered the house he threw them on the table with great éclat and exclaimed, "Well, you dear old doubt'er, you see that I am handier with the gun than you give me credit for being, after all; now don't you?"

Mildly picked up the birds and examined them very carefully. As she looked up after the examination he said:

"Fine birds, my dear—very fine birds, are they not?"

"Robert," responded the wife, turning up her nose, "you were only just in time in shooting those birds today. Tomorrow if you had been everlastingly too late."—St. Louis Republic.

EATING AN APPLE.

What You Take Into Your System With the Fruit.

"Do you know what you're eating?" said the doctor to the girl.

"An apple, of course."

"You are eating," said the doctor, "albumen, sugar, gum, malic acid, gallic acid, fiber, water and phosphorus."

"I hope those things are good. They sound alarming."

"Nothing could be better. You ate, I observed, rather too much meat at dinner. The malic acid of apples neutralizes the excess of chalky matter caused by too much meat and thereby helps to keep you young. Apples are good for your complexion. Their acids drive out the poisonous matters which cause skin eruptions. They are good for your brain, which those same noxious matters if retained render sluggish. Moreover, the acids of the apple diminish the acidity of the stomach that comes with some forms of indigestion. The phosphorus, of which apples contain a larger percentage than any other fruit or vegetable, renews the essential nervous matter of the brain and spinal column. Oh, the ancients were not wrong when they esteemed the apple the food of the gods—the magic renewer of youth to which the gods resorted when they felt themselves growing old and feeble. I think I'll have an apple," concluded the doctor.—New York Tribune.

Strange Lapse of Memory.

Cases of forgetfulness on matters of interest are on record. While Dr. Priestly was preparing his work entitled "Harmony of the Gospels" he had taken great pains to inform himself on a subject which had been under discussion relative to the Jewish Passover. He wrote out the result of his researches and laid the paper away. His attention and time being taken with something else, some little time elapsed before the subject occurred to his mind again. Then the same time and pains were given to the subject that had been given to it before, and the results were again put on paper and laid aside. So completely had he forgotten that he had copied the same paragraphs and reflections before that it was only when he had found the papers on which he had transcribed them that it was recalled to his recollection. This same author had frequently read his own published writings and did not recognize them.

A Question For the King.

Divinity doth not always hedge a king. There have been many rulers who could take as well as give in the joking line. The most striking instance of this kind is seen in the case of Charles II., that good natured Stuart, who once asked his chaplain, Dr. Stillingfleet:

"How is it that you always read your sermons before me when, as I understand, you can preach eloquently enough elsewhere without book or notes?"

The good doctor answered that he was so overwhelmed by his majesty's presence that he could not trust himself otherwise, continuing, "And now, sire, may I please you to tell me why you read your speeches when you have no such excuse?"—St. Louis Republic.

Her Own Coin.

There was quite a scene the other night at a certain bridge party. A loser paid a lady with her own I. O. U.'s. The lady said it was most ungentlemanly. She said she wouldn't have minded being paid back in her own coin, but she disliked paper money.—Exchange.

The Harder Part.

"It is hard to teach an old dog new tricks," quoted the wise guy.

"Yes, it's hard to find the new tricks," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

Well Bred.

Gentleman—That looks a well bred dog. Owner—I should think he was well bred. Why, he won't have a bit of dinner till he's got his collar on!—Punch.

There are about 26,000 worms in an acre of cultivable land.

Mike Donling says that he has signed a theatrical contract for a term of years and will not play with the Giants or any other baseball team.

The Quakers have all the other big leaguers blocked as a musical organization. Led by Charlie Doolin singing "I Wonder Who's Missing Her Now," the Phillies spread melody all over the Southern pines.

"Cy" Hardgrove, who is having a trial with the Indianapolis team, pitched fourteen double-headers last season for a Monmouth Ill. club. "Cy" won twelve of the bargain-snaps and was presented with an angel-food cake by a fair lady fan.

THE GUARD WAS ANGRY.

But the Pretty Girl Didn't Need His Protection.

Passengers on a subway car bound from Brooklyn to New York on Sunday afternoon had an experience that first caused frowns and then a laugh.

The car was crowded, but all the women had seats. On the platform was a middle aged man, apparently respectable. On a side seat was a girl in old rose, with cheeks to match.

The man on the platform caught her eye for a moment and threw a frantic kiss. The girl first smiled, then blushed furiously.

He threw another, and she turned away a crimsoned face.

"That will about do for you," said the big, rawboned guard. "Go home to your wife."

This didn't seem to worry the apparently respectable man, and, catching a glimpse from the girl's eyes, he threw another kiss. She turned her face to study carefully a pretty hat across the car.

At the Manhattan end of the bridge the girl rose to leave the car. The man who was trying to flirt with her also faced the sliding door. By that time all eyes were on the pair, the guard was mad all through, and a couple of passengers edged dangerously close.

The girl in old rose took the arm of the apparently respectable man and said in a silvery voice that all could hear:

"Oh, papa, how could you?"

Then everybody laughed at a joking father and a lovely daughter.—New York Press.

CONQUERED HER RIVAL.

Pretty and Pathetic Story of Jenny Lind and Grist.

Jenny Lind and Grist were both rivals for popular favor in London. Both were invited to sing the same night at a court concert before the queen. Jenny Lind, being the younger, sang first and was so disturbed by the fierce, scornful look of Grist that she was at the point of failure when suddenly an inspiration came to her.

The accompanist was striking the final chords. She asked him to rise and took the vacant seat. Her fingers wandered over the keys in a loving prelude, and then she sang a little prayer which she had loved as a child. She hadn't sung it for years. As she sang she was no longer in the presence of royalty, but singing to loving friends in her fatherland.

Softly at first, the plaintive notes floated on the air, swelling louder and richer every moment. The singer seemed to throw her whole soul into that weird, thrilling, plaintive "prayer." Gradually the song died away and ended in a sob. There was a silence—the silence of admiring wonder.

The audience sat spellbound. Jenny Lind lifted her sweet eyes to look into the scornful face that had so disconcerted her. There was no fierce expression now. Instead a teardrop glistened on the long, black lashes, and after a moment, with the impulsiveness of a child of the tropics, Grist crossed to Jenny Lind's side, placed her arm about her and kissed her, uttering regardless of the audience.

Revised the Bill.

A young solicitor got a verdict for a client of considerable riches, but little beauty. Shortly afterward, in due course of business, he sent her a somewhat formidable account. On the following day his client called on him and asked him if he had been serious in his proposal.

"Proposal? But I have not proposed," replied the solicitor, somewhat agast.

"What?" replied the fair client calmly. "You have asked for my fortune! I should have supposed that you would at least have had the politeness to take me along with it."

The next day she received a revised account as follows:

"Miss B., debtor to Mr. C. for legal business performed."

Then in place of "I. s. d." was "Total amount, Miss B."—London Telegraph.

What She Imagined.

"Don't imagine," he said after she had refused him, "that I am going away to blow my brains out or drink myself to death."

"No," she replied. "I have no idea that you will do anything of that kind. You are going away to do some wonderful thing which will bring you wealth and fame and make me regret all the rest of my life that I didn't believe you when you intimated that you were one of the 'greatest little men that had ever come over the asphalt.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

"Certainly," answered his wife. "It has to be. Any hat that wasn't curious in shape would look queer."—Washington Star.

EXCHANGE INTERVIEWS.

The Cleburne Enterprise says: The Houston Post has declared for O. B. Colquitt for governor, which is as a news item equivalent to saying that the Dutch have taken Holland.—Alice Echo.

If O. B. Colquitt were a delegate to the next biennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the election of Dr. Rankin to the house of bishops would at least not be by acclamation.—Houston Chronicle.

The intangible tax law enforced by Attorney General Davidson raised the intangible tax value in Gonzales County $1,563,742 in 1909. This ought to be enough to prove to our taxpayers that he is the man for governor.—Walder News.

It had as well be understood that at the proper time the vast army of business men in Texas are going to be heard from in the gubernatorial contest and will turn their influence to the man whom they can best trust their interests. It will mean a mighty force in favor of some one.—Lockhart Post.

To Poindexter, Davidson and Johnson: Gentlemen; you can not retire as gracefully as possible under the circumstances. The Ennis correspondent of the Fort Worth Record says that the Hon. Sebe Newman has returned from Austin and reports the election of Colquitt a foregone conclusion. Thus the situation is cleared and Tom Finty's troubles are over.—Waxahachie Light.

From all appearances, Oscar Branch Colquitt, anti-pro, anti-submission candidate for gubernatorial honors for the radical wet wing of the democratic party, is losing strength about as fast as it was reported he gained at first, as will be demonstrated more forcefully later. R. V. Davidson is climbing. In the end he'll be at the top—although the combination may strain every point to win out for the Railroad Commissioner. Watch the moves on the checker board.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

The reports have it that Governor T. M. Campbell will stump the state for Robert Vance Davidson for governor. All bosh; nothing to it. Governor Campbell will take the stump for no one but Thomas Mitchell Campbell, even then he dislikes to express himself and tell where he stands. Of all the absolutely personally selfish politicians in the great State of Texas, Governor Thomas Mitchell Campbell, in our opinion, "caps the climax." When Campbell goes on the stump for Davidson, we will go on the stump for Campbell, and that will never be.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

Delegates Pleased. All the delegates who attended the Epworth League Conference at Wichita Falls Friday and Saturday, report a fine time and say that Wichita Falls spared no trouble or expense to entertain them. Aside from the program several interesting features were introduced.—Henrietta Searchlight.

MONSTER CROWD

GREETED THE BLOODLESS SURGERY CHAMPION AND HIS ABLE ASSISTANTS.

Short Lectures On Bloodless Surgery and Many Specialties Enjoyed by the Vast Audience.

Long before eight o'clock last night the crowds began to arrive at the electric-lighted stand near the postoffice to witness the opening of the Bloodless Surgery champion in this city. By eight o'clock two thousand people had assembled; scores of carriages, automobiles, and wagons skirted the vast throng and remained till the close.

Dr. J. LaFayette Berry made a short address on Bloodless Surgery which was followed by another short address by Dr. McRae.

People suffering from tumors were invited to come upon the platform on some other evening and have their tumors removed without knife, blood or pain.

During the course of the evening, several high classed entertainers pleased the vast audience with comedy songs, sketches, dances and funny acts. Quite a number of the audience bought examination cards that they might consult the doctor about their chronic ailments.

The doctor has offices at the Brown Palace hotel where he can be consulted in private from 10 to 12 and 2 to 4 on week days. The doctor is a graduate from several of the best colleges in the country—has had a vast experience and for years has fought the promiscuous use of the knife. He has carried the banner of Bloodless Surgery for years and it waves triumphantly throughout the land. He has saved thousands from the knife and many of the best known and most respected people of Texas have been cured by him after hope from the old methods had been abandoned. Sufferers from cancer, tumors, gallstones, appendicitis chronic female diseases, nervous disorders and other chronic ailments now have a chance to consult him while he is in Wichita Falls, and save themselves from a trip to Houston where he maintains his headquarters. He can be seen at the Brown Palace hotel in this city week days from 10 to 12 and 2 to 4.

AMERICAN TRAINING IS NEEDED.

European Stars Now Come to the United States.

Though European training for American opera singers is often considered essential, and American training for Americans is not so uncommon as it was five years ago, American training for a European singer is so unusual as to be startling. Oscar Saenger has an enviable reputation for vocal training and has a formidable list of opera stars to his credit, Riccardo Martin, Marri Rappold, Allan Hinckley, Henri Scott, and now the best tenor voice he has ever trained, Orville Harrold. Harrold's success is assured, as was shown in his two appearances as Canio in "Pagliacci" at the Manhattan.

Another pupil of whom Mr. Saenger is justly proud is Rudolph Burger, formerly leading baritone at the Royal Opera House, Berlin, and now its leading tenor. It was to change his voice from a baritone to a tenor that an American teacher was chosen. Burger made his debut last fall as a tenor at the Royal Opera House, singing "Lohengrin." Last Saturday night he created the title role of Meyerbeer's "The Prophet," the opera which was staged by the Kaiser himself. Mr. Saenger received the following cable from his former pupil, Mr. Burger:

"Berlin, February 26. Royal Opera House." Oscar Saenger, New York City—"The Prophet" big success; called into the Kaiser's box."

The actual change in his voice was made by Mr. Saenger in less than seven months, at his New York studio, the singer being granted a special leave of absence during that time by the Kaiser, with the understanding that he was not to sing professionally in America.—Ex.

Catarrhal Asthma and Hay Fever.

Tens of thousands of sufferers from hay fever and catarrhal asthma find great comfort and quick relief by breathing Hyomei.

Of course where asthma is not caused by a catarrhal condition, but by nervous contraction of the bronchial tubes, Hyomei is not recommended.

But in a case of asthma where there is a discharge of mucous, breathing Hyomei gives most wonderful relief by soothing the irritated and highly inflamed membrane.

Mr. W. A. White, R. F. D. No. 1, Evansport, writes: "I have been bothered with asthma for over five years but could not get any relief until I tried Hyomei. I have spent lots of money on remedies for asthma and if I could not get another bottle I would not be without Hyomei for $50. I recommend it."

A complete Hyomei outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 with instructions for use in hay fever and asthma. Extra bottles of Hyomei cost 50 cents at druggists everywhere and at Week's Drug Co.
