PLANS FOR DENVER TRACK EXTENSIONS

FACILITIES BETWEEN SEVENTH AND DEPOT TO BE MATERIALLY IMPROVED.

PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

Will Be Three Tracks to the Bridge Instead of Only One as at Present.

In addition to the buildings it is to erect in Wichita Falls, The Fort Worth and Denver has extensive plans under way for other improvements in the local yards. It was known, when the warehouses on the right-of-way between Seventh street and the bridge were ordered to move off that a better trackage system was to be provided, and the details of this have been learned.

Another passenger track will be constructed from the bridge to the new depot, making a total of three. At present with the Wichita Valley and Fort Worth and Denver trains coming about the same time at the middle of the day, the south bound through Denver is frequently compelled to wait five minutes until the north bound can clear and the other passenger track is occupied by the Valley. The new track will permit both the north and south bound Denver trains to be at the depot at the same time, in addition to the Wichita Valley.

There will be three tracks from Seventh street to the bridge, where, at present, there is only one and the handling of both freight and passenger trains will be greatly facilitated. To construct these tracks it will be necessary to widen the fill and the Denver will be put to considerable expense in the making of these improvements. The property owners along the right-of-way have already been moved off and work will probably be started at an early date.

There are twelve passenger trains daily that use the Denver tracks between the depot and bridge and the need of additional facilities has been pronounced.

DIES FROM INJURIES.

Insane Woman Succeeds in Killing Herself.

Greenville, Mar. 29.—Mrs. Harry Brown who late yesterday killed her two year old daughter with a butcher knife then tried to end her own life, died at seven o'clock this morning from her wounds and burns. The woman cut her throat and set her clothing afire, but the workmen nearby extinguished the flames. It is believed she went suddenly insane, as she had been released from the asylum only a few days ago, apparently recovered.

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS.

Not Known What Transpired Today at Pittsburg.

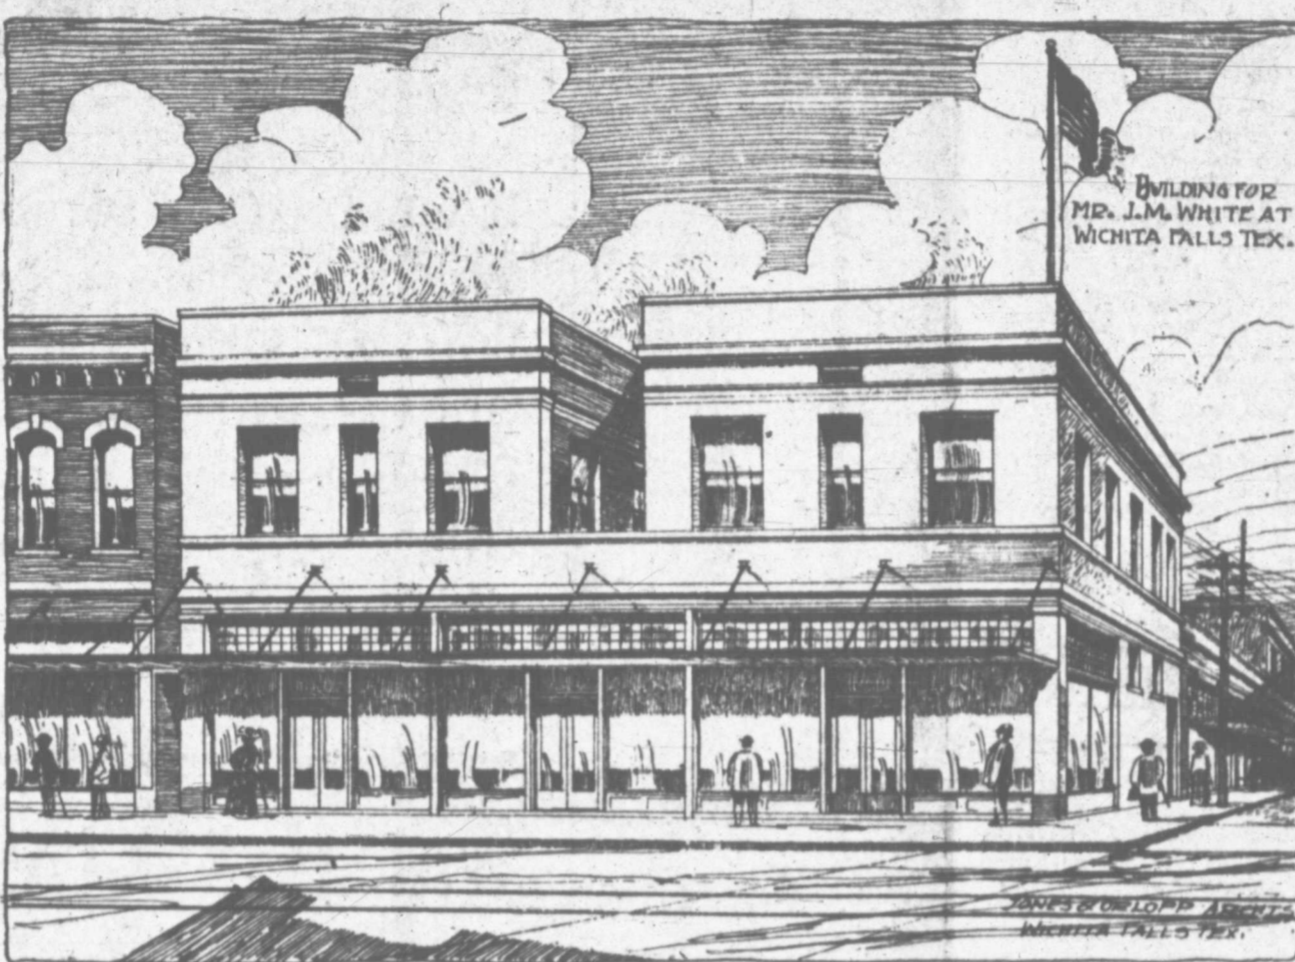

Pittsburg, Mar. 29.—When the grand jury resumed its sessions today in the councilmanic bribery cases more officials of the depositories were examined, but definite action alone will reveal what the scenes were behind the closed doors. The councilman implicated in the confession of former Councilman Klein, are preparing to make a strong fight, against this evidence it is understood.

FORT WORTH LEAGUERS HERE TOMORROW FOR SEASON'S FIRST GAME

The Wichita Falls baseball team will open its season at the park tomorrow with a game with the Texas League team of Fort Worth and the local fans are eagerly awaiting the contest. The Fort Worth aggregation will bring seventeen of its most likely players for a series of three games and some good baseball is looked for. The local squad is showing up better every day and the management expects to be able to make a very fast showing tomorrow. The grandstand has been repaired and enlarged to a capacity of about fifteen hundred people.

You will have the best when you get your garden and flower seed from King.

This Eighth Street Building is to Eventually be Enlarged to Four Story Structure—Work to Begin in Two Weeks

Above is a picture of the building to be erected by J. M. White, an Ennis gentleman who recognizes the value of Wichita Falls property. Work is to begin on the construction about April 15, while the excavation is already under way.

Mr. White will put up a two-story building at this time, as shown in the picture, but the foundations and walls are to be reinforced with a view to later putting on two additional stories. The building will occupy the site in the rear of the Miller drug store, which is owned by Mr. White and it attests the increasing importance of 8th street as a business thoroughfare. One year ago it was a row of small buildings and vacant lots.

Mr. White has the right kind of faith in Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls' Spring House Cleaning is Effected in Thorough and Systematic Way by Citizens—City Thoroughly Clean

If cleanliness is next to godliness, as has been said, Wichita Falls is nearer to Heaven this afternoon than any other spot on the globe. Almost to a man, the citizens responded to the call this morning and this afternoon the city is in a condition that makes the fabled "spotless town" look like a piking four-flusher. The work has been well done. Every man has done his part and in this, as in every other test, Wichita Falls has made good.

Great hills of trash, piled near the river and in the city's dumping ground attest the completeness of the work. If further evidence is required, it can be found by a trip over the streets and alleys and by looking into the back yards, throughout the city.

A shower fell during the night and it was feared that it would seriously hamper the work. So far from doing that, however, it merely laid the dust, and made the work less disagreeable than it would otherwise have been. Bright and early this morning the captains were at work organizing their forces, seeing that teams and tools were available and getting the operations of the day started.

Downtown, a Sunday quiet reigned. With the exception of the drug stores and meat markets, every place of business was closed and the streets were almost deserted. The saloons were closed up during the working hours and those who sought to find a place to while away time found precious little encouragement. The banks followed the general example and the members of their forces entered into the spirit of the day with a good will.

The clerks were out in force and did a good share of the work. The business men in general were excellent workers and practically every class of citizenship was represented among the laborers. Men whose hands blistered painfully under the pressure of the rakes worked alongside of those whose hands were long ago past the blistering point and the democracy of the occasion was a most happy feature.

General Burt Bean took his station at the city hall and managed affairs like a veteran, sending volunteers to places where they were most needed, looking after the supply of teams, lending a word of encouragement to the workers and seeing that things were attended to like clockwork.

First Lieut. Wiley Blair and Second Lieut. John Tandy were on hand in automobiles, which were used for getting workers to the scene of action and for running the numerous errands that were found necessary. Mr. Blair looked so much like a farmer that some of the strangers in the city seriously contemplated trying to sell him a gold brick, it is said. John Tandy was attired in a blue jumper and overalls that set off the curves of his form beautifully.

Jumpers and overalls were in evidence throughout the city and all the workers looked the part. The weather was mild and a more suitable day for the occasion could not have been picked out of the weather man's calendar. The rain had laid the dust, there was no wind and the sun shone just warm enough to make things agreeable and pleasant.

At noon the workers gathered at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where the ladies of the Civic League had prepared a dinner for their refreshment. Nearly three hundred workers took advantage of this opportunity to get a good dinner and they were all of the opinion that it was worth the work it had cost them. The Civic League ladies not only served good things, but they saw that there was enough to go around and the completeness of their efforts was attested by the large number of pies left over.

There was one whole pie for every worker present and some were unable to eat all of their's after the ham sandwiches, coffee and other eatables that preceded it.

General Bean states that while the workers were unable to take up all of the trash today, they will continue to do so during the week and all who have it piled up ready for carting are requested to notify the mayor's office at the city hall.

The general feeling is that the occasion has been a complete success. The city seems to be thoroughly clean and the unanimity with which the citizens entered into the work and the completeness with which they performed their duties were all that anyone could have desired.

During the dinner hour today music was dispensed by the Wichita Theatre orchestra, which generously donated its services to the occasion free of charge. This music proved to be very enjoyable feature of the dinner.

White badges with the words "Volunteer—Clean-up Day" adorned all the workers and labeled all who took an active part in the day's labor.

Notes of the Day.

Rev. R. E. Farley was among the workers on North Scott avenue and put in some licks in that section.

The Times force was not spared and the brains of the editorial department were pressed into service.

The bank employees did good work, almost without exception.

The wagons were not as plentiful as they might have been, but there was an improvement over last year.

Some people were unpatriotic to go fishing today. Here's hoping they did not get a bite and that they lost all their bait.

Cheer up! You wouldn't have minded those blisters at all if you had gotten them out rowing.

The speed limit was raised to fifty miles an hour for the benefit of the working automobiles today.

One young man said the only thing he regretted about the dinner was that the lady who made the lemon pie was already married.

ALLDS WITHDRAWS BUT CHARGES AGAINST HIM SUSTAINED BY SENATE

Special to The Times, Albany, N. Y., March 29.—Senator Allds filed his resignation with the secretary of state today. This, it is believed, as done to forestall action by the senate on the bribery charges made by Senator Conger. The senate later, however, voted to sustain the charge against Allds, forty to nine.

TWO CHILDREN BURNED.

Fire Which Destroys Pittsburg House Is Fatal. Pittsburg, Mar. 29.—Two children of Mrs. Rose, aged nine and four years were burned to death today in a fire which destroyed the Rose home today. A gas jet was left burning and ignited the woodwork.

RAIN IN PANHANDLE.

Wheat and Grain Crops Are Greatly Benefitted.

Texas News Service Special. Fort Worth, Tex., March 29.—The railroads entering here report that a rain has covered the Panhandle from Childress to Texline and extended across the plains as far as the Rio Grande River, including the San Antonio territory.

The Panhandle rain was especially opportune, as wheat, oats and corn were suffering for moisture. A heavy wind blowing at a hurricane rate, has caused much wire trouble in North Texas last night. A large number of telephones are out of commission in this city. The Denver road reports a blizzard in Colorado.

Shooting at Marathon.

Texas News Service Special. Marathon, Tex., March 29.—Edgar Reed was shot and killed in a store here last night, following which E. O. Pochausen was placed under arrest.

HEAVY SHOWER DURING NIGHT GIVES PROMISE OF MORE WET WEATHER

A heavy shower fell this morning in Wichita Falls and vicinity, serving to lay the dust and doing some good to crops in this section. Indications were for continued wet weather during the day, but the sky is clear this afternoon. Cooler and unsettled weather is the prediction for tomorrow.

Texas News Service Special. El Paso, Tex., March 29.—The wind storm of yesterday, which was the worst experienced in many years, was succeeded today by another just as severe. The dust is so thick that the sun is obscured.

Texas News Service Special. Tulsa, Okla., March 29.—Rain today broke a long drouth in this section, which had become a menace. Farmers and stockmen say it is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Texas News Service Special. Childress, Tex., March 29.—A heavy rain fell over the lower Panhandle and Childress County this morning soaking the ground. It was badly needed.

Texas News Service Special. McKinney, Tex., March 29.—A good rain is falling here today, following a long siege of dry weather. The crops needed moisture badly.

Texas News Service Special. Dallas, Tex., March 29.—Intermittent showers fell here today. Dallas and vicinity have experienced a long drouth and the rain is needed.

Texas News Service Special. San Antonio, Tex., March 29.—A steady rain commenced falling here today. It is the first rain for two months and will be of untold benefit.

Texas News Service Special. Fort Worth, Tex., March 29.—The drouth of two months was broken here this morning by a steady rain. It is general over Tarrant county.

Texas News Service Special. Sherman, Tex., March 29.—Rain is falling here and over Grayson county generally today.

STORM IN NORTHWEST.

Snow Storm and Blizzard is Raging Today.

Louisville, Mar. 29.—The weather bureau today reports a blizzard with heavy snow in the Rocky Mountain regions. Denver is experiencing the storm in all its severity. Wire communication is said to be seriously interrupted over a considerable area of that territory.

WILL EMBALM WHALE.

Dallas Undertaker is Given Unusual Task.

Texas News Service Special. Dallas, Tex., March 29.—P. J. Donovan, an undertaker of this city, is to perform the most unusual task of embalming the body of a whale. He left this morning for Port Arthur at the request of Dr. Florence of the quarantine service and will embalm the giant leviathan recently captured there.

RETURNS TO WASHINGTON.

President Attended Reunion of Yale Class of '78.

Washington, Mar. 29.—President Taft returned to Washington today from New York where last night he attended the reunion of the Yale class of seventy-eight.

SPLENDID SHOWING BY AUTO ENGINE

TWO STREAMS THROWN OVER TOP OF FIVE STORY BUILDING TODAY.

PRESSURE IS HEALTHY

Four Men Were Necessary to Handle Each Stream—City Officials Pleased.

The automobile fire engine was put to a third test this morning and as a result, there is practically no doubt remaining that it will be accepted by the city, although no determinate action has been taken by the council as yet.

Two heavy streams of water were thrown well over the top of the Wyatt Hotel, a five-story building, in this morning's test. Some idea of the force of the streams may be obtained from the fact that it required four men to handle each one. The question has been raised, since the engine was received, whether it was adequate for fighting in a fire in a building as large as the Wyatt Hotel. Wichita Falls has already one five-story building and another assured, to say nothing of others that will be erected as the city grows.

The streams were sent well above the top of the building and demonstrated the possibilities of the machine very forcibly. The pressure in the mains was excellent and gave the firemen all they could handle.

The mayor and all of the aldermen are favorably impressed with the showing the machine has made, but are desirous of putting it every possible test before formally accepting it. The city has until April 22 to accept or reject the engine and will probably take nearly its full time before a final decision is made, as it is felt that every care should be exercised in an expenditure of this kind.

GROCERY BURGLARIZED.

Clerk Was Ordered to Open the Safe But Couldn't.

San Antonio, Mar. 29.—Two masked burglars entered the Alamo Heights grocery last night and while one covered the clerk, George Weichlein and his friend Floyd Reinhold with revolvers, the other robber rifled the cash drawer obtaining twelve dollars. The clerk was commanded to open the safe. He declared he didn't know the combination, so the men left.

McDOWELL IS ILL.

Katy Transportation Superintendent Not Expected to Live.

Dallas, Tex., March 29.—Advises received here today are to the effect that T. S. McDowell, superintendent of transportation for the M. K. & T., with headquarters at Denison, is critically ill in a St. Louis sanitarium and is not expected to recover. He has suffered ill health for some time.

OIL RIGS BURNED.

Prairie Fire Does $100,000 Damage at Tulsa.

Tulsa, Mar. 29.—The prairie fires last night destroyed property valued at one hundred thousand in the Glenn Pool oil field, twenty-five oil rigs and twenty tanks were consumed.

MISSISSIPPI EXCITED OVER BRIBERY CHARGE; DULANOY IS INDICTED

Jackson, Miss., Mar. 29.—The political situation here is tense over the charges of Senator Bilbo that he was paid a bribe of $245 by L. C. Dulanooy to support Senator Percy in the recent Senatorial contest. Dulanooy who was indicted last night by the grand jury was arrested today and gave bond for five thousand. He denounces as untrue all charges by Bilbo. The latter, in a statement today, declared Dulanooy gave him the money in three of four installments and he endeavored to have Rev. Cuipepper, president of Clark Memorial College, present. He also notified the caucus of Vardeman supporters of his plan. The Percy followers deny emphatically the charges of Bilbo.

Cleveland, O., Mar. 23.—Forty-three years old today and one of the greatest pitchers in the game is the remarkable record of "Cy" Young, who is with the Cleveland team in the South getting ready for the 1916 pennant race. For an even score of years young has been playing with the major leagues. Born in Gilmore, Ohio, March 23, 1867, he began playing professional ball in 1890 with the Canton team. One of his earliest exploits was the pitching of a no-hit game for Canton against McKeesport, in the course of which he struck out eighteen men. This feat attracted the attention of the Cleveland management and before he had finished his initial season at Canton he was brought to this city. He remained with Cleveland eight years and then went to St. Louis. After three seasons in the Mound City, he joined the Boston Americans in 1901. Last year he returned to the Cleveland club, with which he had made his debut as a major league player twenty years ago. Thanks to a powerful physique and temperate habits the veteran is still hale and hearty and looks to be good for many more successful campaigns on the diamond.

To Aid the Nina Victims.
Washington, D. C., March 23.—Official society is displaying much interest in the fancy dress ball to be given at the Washington Navy Yard tomorrow night in aid of the wives and families of the men of the United States Navy who are supposed to have gone down with the naval tug Nina. The affair has been arranged by the Navy Relief Society under the leadership of Mrs. George von L. Meyer, wife of the secretary of the navy.

PHARMACY A GIRL'S PROFESSION.

Chemist's Work is Particularly Suitable For Some Women.
In these days when the question: "What shall we do with our girls?" is becoming an acute problem in many families in England and France, it is interesting to learn that a Frenchwoman, Mme. Colette Yver, has to say on the advisability of girls becoming chemists.

This profession, she remarks, calls for a delicacy, a fastidiousness, a precision and lightness that are marvelously in keeping with the dispositions of certain women. Tranquillity reigns in a pharmacy, and the odors of the various medicines are not unpleasant to female nostrils.

Subtle pharmaceutical operations, the preparation of drugs the making up of prescriptions, accomplished in silence, behind a counter encumbered with phials, among the testing glasses, alembics and colored bottles—all that does not detract from the charms of a young woman, does not diminish her femininity. After she has passed the entrance examination of the school of pharmacy, if her parents are not in a position to support her, she may, if she be courageous and clever be able to obtain a subsidiary position as a chemist's assistant.

Mme. Colette Yver admits to do so requires both ambition and intelligence, but she knows what "les énergiques petites françaises" are capable of. A young woman who shows adaptability and works hard may obtain her diploma as a chemist at the age of 25 or 26. Then comes the question of setting up in business.

Girls cannot count upon a "good" marriage and a "dot" to help them out of the difficulty. Should, however, the lady pharmacist be unable to surmount the obstacles that lie in the path of the beginner, she may utilize her diploma by becoming manageress of a chemist's establishment, and, if she shows a talent for her profession, there is no lack of enviable positions to which she may aspire.

Sometimes in France both husband and wife follow the same profession. Many instances of this could be cited in the ranks of school teachers, and I know at least one case in which both monsieur and madame practice at the Paris bar. So, in chemistry, a married couple may usefully unite their talents and their labor for the greater prosperity of the household.—Boston Herald.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The first Jefferson dollar dinner to be given in Minnesota will be served April 13 in St. Paul.

The general election in Georgia this year will be held on Oct. 5, when a full list of state and county officials will be chosen.

The progressive republicans of New Hampshire have decided upon Robert P. Bass of Petersboro as their candidate for governor.

The democratic congressional committee has about decided to establish its headquarters in Chicago during the coming campaign.

The organization of a Minnesota branch of the National Republican League will be perfected at a convention to be held in Minneapolis next month.

Senator Aldrich will soon make a trip through some of the southern states delivering speeches on the subject of currency reform and the work of the monetary commission.

H. W. Barker of Sparta, a member of the state senate, has become a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Wisconsin. County option is the main plank in his platform.

It is now eighteen years since the democrats have elected a governor of New York, although during that period they have, on several occasions, narrowly missed it. They regard the prospects for success this year as unusually bright.

The Christian party is to hold a conference soon in Rock Island, Ill., for the purpose of discussing a united demand for a direct vote of the people, women included, on prohibition and all other leading issues of the day.

As a part of the program to commit political parties in Minnesota to county option, William J. Bryan has been invited by the anti-saloon league of that state to be the principal speaker at a big rally to be held in St. Paul in May.

It is reported that former Representative William P. Hepburn of the Eighth Iowa District will re-enter politics and try next fall for his old seat in the house. After a long service in that body he lost to his democratic opponent in November, 1908.

Under the initiative and referendum law nearly a score of measures will be submitted for the consideration of the electors of Oregon at the general election next November. Limited woman suffrage and state-wide prohibition are among the proposals to be voted on.

The guests of honor and speakers at the annual dinner of the League of Republican State Clubs, to be given in Washington on April 9th, will be President Taft, Vice President Sherman, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Representatives W. B. McKinley of Illinois, J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, Duncan E. McKinlay of California and Frank O. Loudon of Illinois.

Caleb Powers, who for eight years was confined in Kentucky jails with a charge of complicity in the murder of William Goebel hanging over him, and who was pardoned about a year ago by Governor Augustus E. Wilson, is making the fight of his life to succeed Representative Don C. Edwards in the Eleventh Kentucky District. Friends of Powers express the opinion that he has an excellent chance of success.

The following is clipped from the Ardmore (Okla.) Ardmoreite of Sunday, the 27th, and explains itself: M. M. Moore, who was in police court a few days ago charged with vagrancy, was found last Friday evening by the police in an almost dying condition, as a result of an attempt at suicide. He had opened the arteries in the wrists and had attempted to open the jugular vein, but had failed, but was considerably cut around the throat. He was taken to the county jail and given attention.

He is a drug fiend and seems to be suffering from asthma or some affection of the throat, as it seems difficult for him to breathe. He had in his pockets when found a bill book and receipts from the Fraternal Order of Eagles at Poin Richmond, California, but the receipts were old and none were issued later than 1904. A note in his bill book, dated March 24th, 1910, read: "Please notify John Scriggins, Marietta, Okla.; Thos. J. Taylor, Marietta, Okla.; W. Maydole, Wichita Falls, Texas, and Mrs. Ida Moore, 2120 Clark Avenue, St. Louis, Mo." The note contained a postscript—"St. Louis papers please copy."

Moore was resting very well at the county jail yesterday, but appeared to be in a stupor and could not talk much. He has the appearance of being about 25 or 40 years of age and was neatly dressed.

FEELS LIKE RIP VAN WINKLE.

London Has Changed Vastly Since Hall Caine Lived There as Journalist.

London, March 29.—Hall Caine has just returned from St. Moritz, where he has been spending the winter, to support the candidature of his son, G. Ralph Hall Caine, for the London County Council in North Islington.

With references to the former unhealthy conditions in London, Hall Caine gives many interesting revelations of his early career as journalist. Within the lifetime of people still living, he declares, there was no real drainage in London. The best parts of it were honeycombed with cesspools, and in the worst parts, where poor men lived, there was an open midden connected with every house. When Caine first came to London, thirty-odd years ago, things were just emerging from this condition.

"Being a poor journalist," says the famous Maxman, "I had to make my home among the poor, and I lived in two rooms on the verge of Clare Market. This was the miserable district, where, in the old days, Dr. Johnson and Richard Savage used to shelter themselves and to swear poor, homeless wretches that, come what would, they would stand by their country. It was not much better in my time.

"From my windows at the back I looked into a closed court in which the houses were rookeries, or, perhaps, ratteries, for they swarmed as much with vermin as with human beings. Hardly a window had a whole pane of glass in it, scarcely a staircase had a handrail. The refuse of the densely crowded tenements was thrown out into the court for the dustman to gather up every day, and the place was always noisome and filthy. In this death trap people died in proportions twice as high as in London as a whole, and disease and dirt and drink and immorality and crime were rampant. One of my neighbors and friends, the 'Old Frenchman of the Strand,' as we called him, lay several days in his room before anybody knew he was dead.

You know what has happened—all that district has been torn down, and already I feel like Rip Van Winkle when I walk over the great open avenues that run on ground which, when it was covered with courts and alleys, I know as I know the palm of my hand.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and Vicinity.
—Tonight and Wednesday, unsettled weather. Showers to night or Wednesday. Colder; brisk to high southerly to west-erly winds.

The Times solicits and accepts advertising for its columns under a positive guarantee that it has a greater number of subscribers than any other publication in Wichita Falls. Its subscription books and press room records are open for inspection to those who have a right to such information, and who want evidence of the above statement.

THE TIMES PUBLISHING CO.,
ED HOWARD, Manager.

The editorial columns of the Texas press are as rich in humor as a comic supplement. According to each one, there are three scoundrels and one gentleman running for governor, and each selects the gentleman to suit the pleasure of the editor.—Clarendon Times.

After reading of Roosevelt's speech at Cairo yesterday, we are convinced that the Sphinx will continue to hold the silence records in Egypt for another million years.

The fact that Wichita Falls will be a spotless town tonight more than overbalances the loss of time, temper and dignity on the part of the workers.

Dr. Charles Elliott is said to be satisfied with the new football rules. The sporting world can now heave a long-drawn sigh of relief.

Even the weather man showed his sympathy with the clean-up movement by sending a little water to help things along.

"Everybody works but father," is the old saying, but they can't say that in Wichita Falls.

HUNTER IN PASTORAL DRAMA.

Citizen on Way to Church Rescues a Cow.

Early on the morning of the bright and peaceful Sabbath last past Owen N. Marron the well-known attorney, as is his custom, started forth at 7 o'clock to worship in the house of the Lord. Mr. Marron, as is always the case on the day of rest and gladness, was in a peaceful, contemplative frame of mind preparatory of attending the morning service; in fact, in quite the proper frame of mind to enter the portals of the sacred edifice.

Just as he was leaving his premises, however, Mr. Marron underwent a rude revision of feeling. Amusement not unmixed with a considerable stronger emotion, took the place of mental tranquility, as he observed the city dog catcher who has figured much in the public prints of late, owing to his somewhat pernicious activities, preparing to lead the ancestral cow from the back of the Marron lot by means of a substantial rope.

Overwhelmed with astonishment, Mr. Marron presently recovered sufficient-ly to do a Marathon stint to the back of his premises, where he demanded to know by what warrant of law, statutory or unwritten, the dog catcher was taking his, O. W. Marron's cow, bodily away from his domicile.

The cow looked appealingly toward her master in mute protest against the high-handed indignity. Was he a cow catcher, demanded Mr. Marron, as well as a dog catcher, and did he have authority to rudely separate his source of lacteal supply from the calm masti-cation of her contemplative cud on the morning of the Sabbath, of all days?

The response being somewhat unsat-isfactory, Mr. Marron is understood to have made a few more remarks somewhat crisp in nature to the would-be abductor of his. His remarks are said to have been so eloquent in fact that the cow herself almost shed tears at her own sad plight as pictured by her owner. Anyhow, the dog catcher hurriedly changed his mind about tak-ing the cow and beat it.

The cow, meanwhile in an excess of joy, at being restored to her happy home, executed a Highland fling in the barn-yard and jeered openly at the discomfited dog catcher as he retreat-ed.

"Did you go to church?" was asked Mr. Marron, sympathetically.
"Well—yes, I did go to church," said Mr. Marron, "but I was hardly in the proper humor to do so."
Mr. Hunter, it is understood, has de-clared to various persons that he in-tends to collect a fine from Mr. Mar-ron for the cow. Mr. Marron states that no fine has been collected as yet, and to the best of his knowledge and belief no fine will be collected.—Albu-querque Morning Journal.

SEEKING RECRUITS.

Texans Being Urged to Join Revolu-tionist Army.
Texas News Service Special.
Houston, Tex., March 29.—Captain Dan P. Connally, a native Texan and a Spanish-American war veteran, arriv-ing today from Nicaragua, and to-night will go to San Antonio, where he says he will meet representatives of the Nicaraguan insurgent army.
Connally denies that he is recruiting men for another revolution, but gave out secretly that any man from Texas capable of handling gun, or men in the field, will receive a welcome at the insurgent headquarters in New Or-leans.
Connally refused to divulge the pur-pose of his conference in San Antonio. It is known that he called on a number of veterans of the Spanish-American war and tried to interest them in the Nicaraguan revolution. He says he doesn't anticipate a general war among Central American republics, as Mexico would prevent it, but declaring that the strife will continue until the revolu-tionists win.

No More Greasy Doughnuts.
A lady in Greenville, S. C., recently wrote a friend as follows:
"For years, after preparing doughnuts with the utmost care, I was disappointed to see them come out greasy and unwholesome looking. However, with my first use of Cottolene for frying them, I was de-lighted, as they were brown, crisp and delicious."
For making doughnuts, pastry, light bread and flaky biscuits I prefer Cottolene to any other shortening on the market. We even carry a pair of it on our annual camping trips through the moun-tains.
Cottolene is a vegetable oil cooking fat, made by The N. K. Fairbank Com-pany, Chicago, and is much purer and more wholesome than lard. It is car-ried by all good grocers.

CAUSES MUCH REGRET.

Sudden Death of Justice Brewer Shocks Washington.
By Associated Press.
Washington, Mar. 29.—The death of Justice Brewer, of the supreme court at his home last night has caused pro-found regret here, and throughout the country. Many calls were made at the Brewer residence today, by sympathiz-ing friends of the family. In addition, messages of condolence arrived in large numbers. Justice Brewer died of apoplexy, and was found in the bath room of his home by Mrs. Brewer. President Taft upon his arrival today from New York was much dis-tressed by the details of the death of his friend.

BARBARITIES PRACTICED.

Madrid is Guilty of Unspeakable Cru-elities.
By Associated Press.
New Orleans, Mar. 29.—According to Carlos Chamorro, brother of the leading insurgent General who arriv-ed here yesterday, unspeakable bar-barities are being perpetrated in Gran-da under the direction of the Madrid government. On instance he stated was that of a wealthy plantation own-er named Caronal, was dragged from his home, whipped to the point of lacer-ation, and finally killed because he refused a contribution to support the Madrid faction.

"The Corinth."

A new private hotel is to be opened soon. The new building owned by Mr. Thatcher, between Indiana and Scott on 9th street has been leased to Mr. G. A. Forte and sister, Miss Emily Forte. The house is complete and modern in every respect, and is to be furnished to compare with any first class hotel in the state. Special atten-tion is to be given to the dining room; prompt, courteous attention given each guest.
The location of "The Corinth" will make it an ideal "busy man's" hotel. The long experience and high recom-mendations of the proprietors foretell a successful business. 273-1t

ODD ELECTION SIGNS.

The Signs Are In Washington, the Elections Elsewhere.

"Of course we don't have any elections of our own," said a man from Washington, "but we have election intimations, if I may call them that, which can't be duplicated anywhere else in the country."

"You see, when we Washingtonians want to vote we're got to do it somewhere else, and as most of us have a lingering fondness for the franchise we are pretty likely to hang on to a residence somewhere outside the District."

"We especially like to do it because it makes us feel as if we had some sort of weapon to flourish before the observing eyes of the politicians who may have something to say about our hold on our jobs, and when the time comes to go home to vote we visit; swell with importance."

"Naturally a national election is the one that catches us all at once, and it is then that the intimations I spoke of do most abound. The papers are full of advertisements of loans for election expenses. Department clerks can be accommodated with sums covering their railway fare, new clothes for the trip and a substantial margin over and above necessary items. The interest is a bit high, but a clerk who is pining to go back home to spurge a bit is willing to mortgage his resources for the pleasure."

"These offers of loans fill columns of the daily papers. Alongside of them are other advertisements, all turning on the one theme, the election. 'Buy yourself a new suit to go home and vote in!' The grammar is a bit off but the prices are asserted to be all right."

"In the shop windows there are dozens of election placards: 'Just the hat to wear when you go home to vote,' 'Specials in suit cases for the election,' 'Take a souvenir hatpin to your best girl when you go home to vote,' 'Swell suit for the election, only $1 a week,' and in a shoe store window, 'Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching—home to vote; wear —'s shoes and you won't get sore feet!'"

"The railways offer special rates to voters, and so it goes. You won't find anything like it in any other town."—New York Sun.

THE LOST UMBRELLA.

A Torrent of Thanks Did Not Accompany Its Recovery.

It was on a train coming through southern Wisconsin. On board was one of those impromptu comedy crowds that hadn't any idea it was funny. One woman suddenly descended on her husband with the thrilling inquiry: "Where's that umbrella of mine?" "I dunno," growled the husband. "Well, you had it last."

"Didn't neither."

"You did, too, and you're got to git busy findin' it. I bet it's up forrard there where we was a-settin' before we come back hyer."

More growls from the husband, who was sleepy.

"You got t' help me hunt it, anyway."

She took him and went forward, peering under the seats. All up and down the aisle they went, searching vainly. The more uncomfortable the stopping made her the madder and worse excited the woman got and the worse her husband growled.

Finally she began poking under the seats to see if she could touch the umbrella in some recess beyond her vision.

A girl with a blue feather in her hat who had been timidly watching the performance and showing a blushing tendency to interrupt could contain herself no longer.

"What's that you're poking under the seats with? Isn't that the lost umbrella?" she asked.

The woman straightened up, gave one look at the tightly grasped instrument and snapped out, "Yes, it is!"

She said it just as if it had all been the fault of the girl with the blue feather in her hat.—Chicago News.

A GREAT ORATOR.

Where the "Holler" Was More Impressive Than the Words.

The appeal that a fine flow of oratory will make to men and women was amusingly exemplified one night at a meeting in West Philadelphia, says a Philadelphia paper. A noted speaker was appealing to a gathering to give funds toward the work of cleaning the slums, making life healthy and happy for the poor and other utopian schemes of men and women whose hearts throb with longing to help their kind.

For half an hour he drew pictures of the conditions; then with expressive gestures and his voice throbbing with enthusiasm he poured out a flow of rhetoric.

"Our duty, our flag, our country," dotted the speech with italics. The audience shouted and cheered, and the women wept, while a storm of applause swept the room when the speech was over.

"That's going some, eh?" said one man to another in the cloakroom later.

"Fine sentiments, real feeling—great, great!"

"I'm so deaf," spoke up another, with disappointment in his voice, "that I couldn't hear. What did he say?"

"Say—say!" stammered the others, looking into each other's faces. "Why—he—he—er—hanged if I know!"

And to this day they don't know. It was only the "holler" that got them, not the words.

This is, however, what makes the orator.

A Strange Method of Salutation.

Of all the strange modes of salutation the most extraordinary is the "dance of ceremony" current in the west African kingdom of Dahomey. Whenever any Dahoman chief or official of rank comes to pay you a visit he always opens the interview by dancing around you with various queer contortions (extremely suggestive of his having just upset a kettle of boiling water over his knees), which you are bound to imitate as closely as possible. It is even reported that one of the native ministers of the terrible King Gezu quied his rapid rise at the Dahoman court wholly to his superior skill in cutting these strange capers and that he thus literally as well as figuratively jumped to preferment.

Tommy's Mistake.

Father—Come, young man. Get your jacket off and come with me. Tommy—You're not going to lick me, are you, dad? Father—Certainly. Didn't I tell you this morning that I should settle with you for your bad behavior? Tommy—Yes, but I thought it was only a joke, like when you told the grocer you was going to settle with him.—London Tit-Bits.

Discontent.

"We are never completely happy," said the ready-made philosopher. "Of course not," said the practical person. "A boy wishes he were a man so that he could have all the mince pie he wants, and a man wishes he were a boy so that he could digest it."—Washington Star.

No Argument.

Patronizer of the Cheap Restaurant—Look here, waiter, this coffee is cold. Polite and Intelligent Waiter—Quite right, sir. This is a quick lunch cafe, and if the coffee was hot you couldn't drink it in a hurry.—London Scrap.

The Preference.

"My dear," said the farseeing parent, "that young man may be a trifle tedious, but he is a coming man." "Perhaps he is," sighed the weary maiden, "but I'd rather he had more go in him."—Baltimore American.

Giving Pa Away.

Ma—So pa took advantage of my absence and searched the bureau where I keep my diary? Ostend—Yes, ma, and pa said that was what he called a "bureau of information."—Chicago News.

Cheap Corn vs. Good Corn

Now, it's true that all canned corn has some value, but the best is worth a great deal more than the cheapest and this is why The Cheapest Corn is usually dark colored and inclined to be watery. The kernels are tough and rather tasteless and there is more or less silk, pieces of cob and husk mixed in with it. We have this if you want it at 8 1-3c a can. The best corn, such as our PET Brand, is light colored, rich sweet, creamy and good. It will keep longer after being opened and will be thoroughly enjoyed by all the family. It's only 12 1/2 cents per can, or a dozen cans for

The Remarkable Work of Doctor J.
Lafayette Berry in Beaumont Has Been Crowned With Unprecedented Success.

About three months ago Dr. J. Lafayette Berry opened offices in this city for the purpose of curing many of the so-called incurable diseases. He invited all those suffering from cancers, tumors, gall stones, female diseases, appendicitis, nervous disorders, sciatic rheumatism and other chronic troubles he had given up all hope, to come and be healed. He extended the helping hand to all in distress. Thousands have visited his and hundreds are well today as a result of his new methods of treatment. He came to show a new and better way to treat and cure diseases. He publicly demonstrated his bloodless surgery methods. Thousands witnessed his marvelous work. Before vast audiences he removed tumors without knife, blood or pain; in a few moments he unstopped the deaf ear; rheumatic pains vanished in a moment and stiffened joints worked freely after a few moments of treatment. Hundreds who have been advised to go upon the operating table and submit to the knife, visited him,
and are well today, without the knife.
Hundreds of people from far-distant cities and sister states came and were cured; friends wrote to their suffering relatives and friends to come—and as a result nearly every incoming train has brought some one seeking relief.
The doctor's fame has spread throughout the south and it has brought lawyers, ministers, merchants, bankers, teachers, city, county, state and federal officials to him to be treated, and as a result they are singing the doctor's praises in their restoration to health.

Thousands throughout the south have seen or experienced the wonderful work of bloodless surgery. Dr.
Berry has performed and, like the children of Israel after passing through the Red Sea, are singing the song of deliverance.

The doctor's stay in Beaumont will be but a few weeks more. When he departs he will leave behind thousands of friends.

The above is taken from the Beaumont Enterprise.

Dr. Berry is now in Wichita Falls, and has offices at the Brown Palace Hotel.

LOUISE IS SOME HEN.

She Lays Eggs That Sell For $16.00
Each.

The tenth annual exhibition of the Fanciers' Association, in Tomlinson Hall, is a howling success. This is not a figure of speech, and it might be added that it is a crowing success, as well. If Edmund Rostand, author of the famous baryard play, "Le Chan-tecler," which has all Paris talking at the present time, could only drop in at the show for a few minutes, no doubt he would obtain some valuable pointers. Those roosters, and there are hundreds of them, certainly do crow some, and at times the barking of the dogs is almost deafening. The prizes have all been awarded and the winners are shown to the best advantage and are being admired by many visitors.

The aristocrat of the dog family occupies an unpretentious apartment in the west corridor of the balcony. Catherine Bud is her name, and she is owned by the Illini Kennels of Springfield, Ill. It is said her owners value her at $5,000. A close second for dog honors is Champion Earl, pug. Although Earl is as homely as a mud fence, the bluest of blue dog blood flows through his veins, and he is worth about $2,000.
He is owned by the Eberhart Kennels of Cincinnati, and is a native of Europe. He was not permitted to enter any of the classes, and is in the show for exhibition purposes only. To Marston Marvelous, a Scotch collie, belongs the distinction of being the best dog in the show, regardless of breed or sex. He is owned by a Chicago man.

Don't fail to call on Louise when you visit the show. Louise certainly is some chicken, as her owner values her at $5,000 and sells her eggs at $10 each. Louise does not mingle with the common herd, but occupies apartments in one of the boxes on the lower floor. In the cage with her are two handsome silver cups, won at other shows. One might think Louise too aristocratic to scratch for her living, but she does it just like the common member of the chicken family.—Indianapolis News.

Story of Lady Hamilton.
The story of Amy Lyon, the daughter of the humble Cheshire villager, who by her wondrous beauty rose to a pich of European renown, is an astonishing instance of beauty's power.
The future Lady Hamilton was christened Amy, but after trying the various changes of Amyly, Emly and Emily finally adopted Emma and,
wishing also a change of surname, christened herself Hart when at sixteen she came to London as lady's maid. After an extraordinary career of vicissitudes she came under the protection of the Hon. Charles Greyville, who introduced her to Romney, who was inspired by her loveliness to paint from her some of his finest pictures.
She also sat to Reynolds, Hoppner and Lawrence and to numerous artists in Italy when at twenty-eight she had become the wife of the ambassador at Naples, Sir William Hamilton.
There she met Nelson, and thereafter her history is intertwined with his own.
She was obliged at fifty to flee from her creditors to Calais, where she died in 1813.—London Strand Magazine.

Waco and Arkansas.
Every town has a right to pronounce its name in its own way, but Texans never seemed to get together on the pronunciation of the name "Waco."
Years ago Texas was represented by two senators, one of whom called the town "Way-ko," whereas the other insisted it was "Wack-ko." The reading clerks had a merry time. If the word were read one way the opposing senator would make a complaint, and vice versa.

It recalls the time when Arkansas was represented in the senate by Garland and Walker. One insisted that the state should be called "Arkansas," just as it is spelled. The other always insisted upon "Arkansaw." John J.
Ingalls, who was presiding officer of the senate in those days, had the matter down to such a nicety that he would recognize the one as "the senator from 'Arkansas'" and the other as "the senator from 'Arkansaw,'" being very careful to give each senator his favorite pronunciation.—Washington Cor. St. Louis Star.

Opened His Eyes.
The dapper little traveling man glanced at the menu and then looked at the pretty waitress. "Nice day, little one," he began.

"Yes, it is," she answered, "and so was yesterday, and my name is Ella, and I know I'm a little peach and have pretty blue eyes, and I've been here quite awhile and like the place, and I don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working in a hotel. If I did I'd quit my job. And my wages are satisfactory, and I don't know if there is a show or a dance in town tonight, and if there is I shall not go with you, and I'm from the country, and I'm a respectable girl, and my brother is cook in this hotel, and he weighs 200 pounds, and last week he wiped up this dining room floor with a fresh fifty dollar a month traveling man who tried to flirt with me. Now, what'll you have?"

The dapper little traveling man said he was not very hungry and a cup of coffee and some hot cakes would do.—
Exchange.

Lord Southey's Guillotine.
The most eccentric action of an eccentric man was Lord Southey's cool arrangement for suicide by means of a guillotine. He had a magnificent one erected in the drawing room of his house in the Rue du Luxembourg at Paris. The machine was of ebony inlaid with gold and silver, the framework carved with artistic skill; the knife, sharp as a razor, was of polished and ornamented steel. Preparing for death, his lordship had his hair cut close, and, clothed in a robe of white silk, he knelt upon the platform under the knife before a mirror and pressed the spring which should release the knife. But the spring failed to work, and the would be suicide decided to give the guillotine to a museum instead of making a second attempt to end his life. It is said that he made an annual pilgrimage to see the guillotining until the end of his life.

How the Chinese Preserve Grapes.
To preserve grapes the Chinese cut a circular piece out of a ripe pumpkin or gourd, making an aperture large enough to admit the hand. The interior is cleaned out, the grapes placed inside and the cover replaced and pressed in firmly. The pumpkins are then put in a cool place, and the grapes retain their freshness for a long time. Careful selection of the pumpkin is requisite, the common field pumpkin, however, being well adapted for the purpose.

Quite Willing to Migrate.
A traveler passing through a fever infected locality said to an Irish resident:

"Pat, I'm surprised that you stay in a place where people die so thick and fast."

"Faith," rejoined Pat, "if you'll be ather tellin' me av a place where peuple never die O'll move there tomorry an' end me days."

His Relay Stunt.
"Dad, I was simply great in relay events," boasted the boy from college.

"Good enough, son! We'll make use of them talents. Your ma will soon be ready to relay the carpets."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Three Fingered" Brown, Cubs' Star Pitcher, Said to be Highest Salaried Twirler in Baseball.

If he can win thirty-five games this season, Mordecai Brown, the Chicago Nationals' three fingered pitching wonder, will be the highest salaried twirler in the business. Charles Murphy, president of the Chicago club, says his compensation will exceed that of Christy Mathewson of the New York Nationals. The probabilities are that Brown will get between $6,000 and $7,000 as his salary and a bonus of around $2,500 if he wins thirty-five games. In addition to this, Murphy has offered bonuses to Ed Reubach and Orvie Overall if they can win thirty games. If all three can do this other Cub twirlers need only win one game a month to catch the flag.

MILLIONS AND TITLE.

Miss Daly Weds Count Sigray This Afternoon.

New York, March 29.—Another alliance of American millions and a foreign title was consummated this afternoon in the ceremony which made Miss Harriet Daly, daughter of "Copper King" Marcus Daly of New York and Montana, the bride of Count Anton Sigray, a Hungarian nobleman. Monsignor Lavelle of St. Patrick's Cathedral officiated at the ceremony, which took place at the Daly residence on Fifth Avenue in the presence of a small but notable company of society people.

Miss Daly had no attendants and her mother gave her in marriage. Count Sigray had as his best man the Marquis George Pallavicini, a subaltern of the 9th Regiment of Austrian Hussars and a chamberlain of Emperor Francis Joseph.

The bride of today first met her future husband when the count visited America two years ago with his friend and distant cousin, Count Szechenyi. On that occasion Count Anton paid much attention to Miss Daly, but it was not until they met again last summer in Scotland at the wedding of Prince Miguel de Braganza and Miss Anita Stewart that any real courtship began. Miss Daly attended the Braganza wedding with her sister, Mrs. James Watson Gerard.

The bride is twenty-four year old and made her social debut several years ago. She is the youngest of the three daughters of the late Marcus Daly and Mrs. Daly. Since her debut she has appeared with success in the various tableaux arranged for charity, and has been much admired for her charm of manner. During the past few years she has divided her time between London, New York and Newport.

Count Sigray, who is about thirty years old, is a magnate of Hungary and a hereditary member of the upper house. His family is one of the oldest and wealthiest in Hungary and holds many important positions. The count himself is said to be a large land owner, his estates being situated at Sabatka, in upper Hungary. Both of his parents are dead, his father having died some years ago. He has two older sisters, one being the Marquise San Massimo, who married an Italian and lives in Rome, and the other the Marquess Scholl, who lives in Hungary.

Count Sigray is no stranger in New York, having come here first five years ago in company with Count Michael Karolyi, one of his countrymen, and they were both much entertained in society. Count Sigray was also here at the wedding of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt and Count Szechenyi, two years ago, when he was one of the ushers. During his first visit to America he went to California to play polo, he being one of the best exponents of that

Something for Lunches

The woman who prepares lunches every day has troubles and difficulties of her own. It is anything but easy to keep on hand suitable lunch foods, especially in warm weather. Many things that are palatable hot, are flat and tasteless cold, so there is little chance for variety.

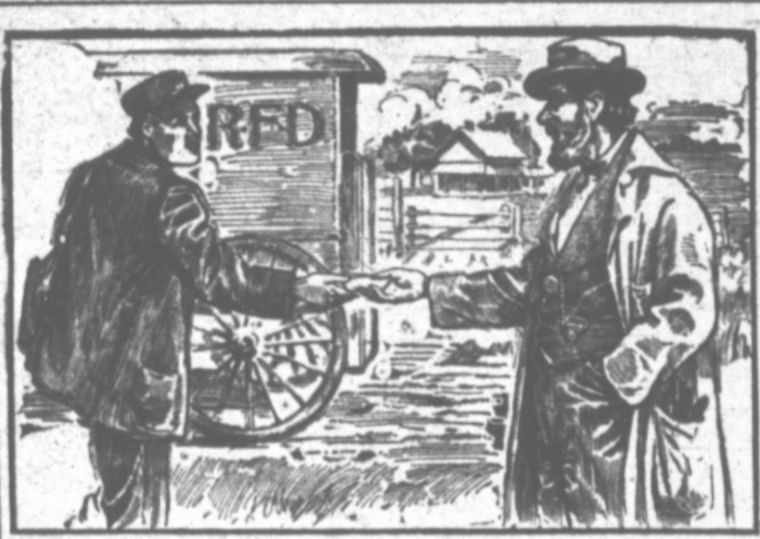

It is just here that Heinz's Mince Meat helps. Mince pie is fine for lunches, because it doesn't "run"—then it is so good.

"Heinz-Made" Mince Meat is just what the home-made article would be if the housekeeper had the Heinz materials and facilities for making it. The person who eats the lunch will enjoy a change from canned fruit pies, jams or preserves. Incidentally, a mince pie might taste good on the home table.

We have Heinz's Mince Meat in two style packages.

Good Farm Buildings

If you can't spare the time to come in yourself, send us the bill of the lumber you're going to need for that new building, by mail. We will make you an estimate of cost and return it to you at once. No matter how large the bill, or how small, we will quote our best prices and give you our best service.

And don't lose sight of the fact, that before getting any cheaper, both lumber and labor are mighty likely to cost much more than they do now.

One thing more: Our stock is one of the best manufactured and is most thoroughly seasoned.

Count the Times a Horse Rolls.

To see a horse when out at pasture rolling on the ground and endeavoring to turn over on his back is a common sight, but how many people have noticed that in doing this he observes an invariable rule? The rule is that he always rolls over either at the first or third attempt—never at the second—and more than three attempts are never made. In other words, if the horse succeeds in rolling over at the first try, well and good—that satisfies him. But if the first attempt is a failure the second one always is. Then he either rolls quite over at the third or gives it up. He never makes a fourth. If horses are rolling on sloping ground they usually roll uphill. This is more easy of explanation than the strange custom regulating the number of attempts. As to this no adequate reason has ever been offered. Will those ingenious people who tell us why a dog turns around before lying down and why ducks walk behind each other in a string instead of abreast explain why a horse never makes four attempts to roll over and never succeeds at the second—Exchange.

Diseases of Fear.

If you are afflicted with an unreasonable fear of anything do not waste time being ashamed of yourself; hurry at once to a doctor, advises a writer in Success Magazine. A writer in the Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette has compiled a list of fear diseases from which it appears that everything, from screaming at mice to being afraid to go home in the dark, is a well recognized mental ailment. The tramp is in reality a sufferer from ergophobia, or fear of work, often complicated with aquaphobia and apophobia, which make him shun the bathtub. Siderophobia and astrophobia cause timid ladies to go into the closet when it thunders and lightens. Any number of people have cat and dog phobias. Phantophobia is what you would have if you were afraid of your shadow, while an all around unqualified coward might be called a phantophobia. The list is long and includes every human weakness except the actress' horror of publicity.

A Useful Pest.

Despite the fact that the spider, next to the mouse, is most violently stimulating to feminine sensitiveness, it is an insect of a very good character. It feeds exclusively upon other freshly killed insects, and they are the kinds denounced by sanitary authorities, the housefly being its favorite quarry. His service in reducing the numbers of this pest is considerable, because the spider is always busy, and he is present in countless numbers, says Leslie's Weekly. The reason why he is not more frequently seen is that he is retiring in his habits and shuns human society quite as much as that shuns him. He seldom bites anything but food, and even when in self defense he does assert himself the result is no worse than a mosquito bite or a bee sting. The touching story of "The Spider and the Fly" was evidently intended to invite sympathy for the fly.

Buttered Side Up.

One of the stories which Levi Hutchins, the old time clockmaker of Concord, N. H., delighted to tell related to the youth of Daniel Webster. "One day," said the old man, "while I was taking breakfast at the tavern kept by Daniel's father, Daniel and his brother Ezekiel, who were little boys with dirty faces and snarly hair, came to the table and asked me for bread and butter. I complied with their request, little thinking that they would become very distinguished men. Daniel dropped his piece of bread on the sandy floor, and the buttered side, of course, was down. He looked at it a moment, then picked it up and showed it to me, saying: "What a pity! Please give me a piece of bread buttered on both sides; then if I let it fall one of the buttered sides will be up."

Comets of the Past Century.

During the nineteenth century 235 new comets were discovered as against sixty-two in the eighteenth century. The nineteenth century also beheld a greater number of large and brilliant comets than did its predecessor. The finest of these were the comets of 1811, 1843, 1858, 1881 and 1882. In the year 1800 only one periodical comet was known, Halley's. Now many are known, of which at least seventeen have been seen at more than one return to perihelion.

Alabama's Capitals.

When Alabama was a territory its capital was at St. Stephens, in Washington county. The convention that framed the constitution under which it was admitted into the Union was held in Huntsville, where the first legislature met in October, 1819, and the first governor was inaugurated. Cahaba became the seat of government in 1820. In 1825 the capital was removed to Tuscaloosa, and in 1846 it was again removed, this time to Montgomery.

Didn't Want to See Much.

"What are you wearing that monocle for?" asked the theatrical manager. "You paid to see the show?" "Yes," replied the young man, "but I can see all I want of this show with the monocle."—Yonkers Statesman.

Treasury Department.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, February 26, 1916.

Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that the City National Bank of Wichita Falls in the town of Wichita Falls, in the County of Wichita and State of Texas, has complied with all the provisions of the "Act of Congress to enable National Banking Associations to extend their corporate existence and for other purposes," approved July 12th, 1882.

Now, Therefore, I, Lawrence Murray, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that the City National Bank of Wichita Falls, in the town of Wichita Falls, in the County of Wichita and State of Texas, is authorized to have succession for the period specified in its amended articles of association, namely until close of business on February 26, 1930.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office this the 26th day of February, 1916.

(Seal) LAWRENCE MURRAY,
Comptroller of the Currency.

Add Millions to Capital Stock.

New York, March 29.—At a special meeting today, preceding the regular annual meeting, the stockholders of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company sanctioned the proposal of the directors to increase the capital stock of the company from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000. The increase, it is stated, is to be used in the acquisition of new properties and to extend the business of the company in new fields.

The corporation represents control of the Bell Telephone Companies all over the country, and it recently acquired the Western Union Telegraph Company, which in turn has just taken over the control of the American District Telegraph Company. The company which is now to be capitalized at $500,000,000 originally had a capital of $350,000 when it began business in 1877.

Confere on Provincial Rights.

Ottawa, Ont., March 29.—For the purpose of discussing the important question of the relative jurisdiction of the Dominion and the Province in respect to company incorporation and other matters, an important conference was held in the capital today between representatives of the Dominion and Provincial Governments. A large and representative attendance gave evidence of the importance attached to the subject under consideration. In recent years Provincial rights has been a constantly recurring source of difficulty. No understanding on the matter has ever been reached, but at the present conference the whole question is to be exhaustively discussed, and an endeavor made to reach a conclusion deferring lines of jurisdiction which the private interests will agree not to invade.

San Francisco Charter Revision.

San Francisco, Cal., March 29.—At a conference to be held tomorrow by representatives of the various civic associations, it is expected that the first definite steps will be taken looking to the revision of the present municipal charter. The most important changes advocated by the civic associations are amendments to secure direct nominations, non-partisan municipal elections and majority rule, an amendment to prevent franchise grabbing, and amendments to simplify and make effective the present charter provisions in regard to the initiative, referendum and recall.

Replevins Vaughn Viscera.

Columbia, Mo., March 29.—A hearing was had in court here today to determine who has the legal right to the viscera of Prof. J. T. Vaughn, who died some time ago with symptoms pointing to strychnine poisoning. The viscera, which has been in the possession of Dr. Paul Schweitzer of the state university, to whom it was turned over for examination, was replevied by attorneys for Mrs. Alma P. Vaughn and Dr. J. R. Hull, who are now awaiting trial on the charge of having murdered Prof. Vaughn.

Oklahoma D. A. R.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 29.—There was a gratifying attendance of delegates at the opening here today of the first Oklahoma state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The conference, which will remain in session three days, has as its special guests of honor Mrs. William Stanley of Kansas, vice president general of the society, and Mrs. George E. Guernsey, state regent of Oklahoma.

STOMACH MISERY FOR OVER SIX YEARS

Read what Mr. Hoffman, landlord of the Webster-Hotel, writes: "I suffered misery and intense pains from stomach trouble for over six years, and al doctoring that I did or medicines I used wear of no avail until about two years ago, when I used a treatment of Mi-o-na. The first few days' treatment helped me greatly and upon using it a while I was made entirely free from any stomach trouble or complaint whatever. Since the cure by Mi-o-na I have regained my weight, I eat and sleep well, am never nervous and my entire general health is much better."—Max M. Hoffman, Webster, N. Y., Aug. 2, 1909.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets relieve distress in five minutes. They act like magic. They are guaranteed to cure sour stomach, gas eruptions, heartburn, dizziness, biliousness and nervousness, or money back. For sale by druggists everywhere and by The Weeks Drug Co., for 50 cents a large box.

Elihu Thomson.

Professor Elihu Thomson, who was recently awarded the first Edison medal, which is intended to rank in science with the Nobel prizes, was born in Manchester, England, March 29, 1853. He came to America early in life with his parents and was educated in Philadelphia. From 1870 to 1880 he was professor of chemistry and mechanics in the Philadelphia high school, after which he went with the Thomson-Houston and General Electric companies, which operate under his inventions more than 500 patents having been obtained. He is the inventor of electric welding, which bears his name, and many other important inventions in electric lighting, power, etc. Professor Thomson was awarded the Grand Prix in Paris in 1889 and 1900 for electric inventions and was decorated by the French Government—Chevalier and Officer of the Legion of honor for electrical research and inventions. He has received many notable honors and decorations from all over the world.
