VOLUME 3

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 1910

NUMBER 277

BROKERS' OFFICES ARE RAIDED TODAY

TWENTY-NINE INDICTMENTS IS-SUED BY COURTS FOR ARREST OF GRAIN MEN.

FIVE ARE MILLIONAIRES

Officers in Larger Cities of Country
Raided Simultaneously By the Officers.

Washington, April 2.—Armed with bench warrants issued by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, special representatives of the Department of Justice this morning simultaneously
raided brokers' offices in New York,
Philadelphia, Jersey City, Baltimore,
Cincinnati and St. Louis.

The indictments in which twenty-
five persons are named, were issued yesterday, but service was withheld
until today so that the officers might make simultaneous raids. Five of those indicted are said to be millionaires. The indicted men are said to be interested in Boggs and Company,
Price and Company and the Standard
Stock and Grain Dealers Company.
These three concerns maintain more than two hundred and fifty offices,
from New England to Oklahoma. The affair has created a profound sensation in brokerage circles.

JUDGE BREWER BURIED.

Last Sad Rites Are Simple, But Impressive.

Leavenworth, Kas., April 2.—With simple services, the body of the late Justice Brewer was buried in Mount Munice cemetery here today. Hundreds viewed the body in the First Congregational Church, where it lay in state for four hours. Business was generally suspended and many houses

SIX YEAR OLD BOY SHOT BY YOUNGER SISTER; WILL LIKELY RECOVER

Jack Goodin, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Goodin, who was accidentally shot late yesterday afternoon by his four-year old sister is at the Wichita Sanitarium, and Dr. Burnside reports that his chance of recovery very hopeful, notwithstanding the serious nature of the wound.

The accident was caused by the children playing with a .38-calibre pistol
which they found on the premises.
The ball struck the little fellow over
the right eye, and landed on the inside
of his skull near the back of his head,
passing through the brain. The bullet,
with a number of pieces of the skull,
were removed by Dr. Wade Walker,
shortly after the boy was taken to the Sanitarium by Mr. J. B. Marlow, who happened to be near the Goodin home
in his auto when the accident occur-

The boy is conscious, and as stated
above, his chances of recovery are considered good.

After being dark for several weeks,
the opera house will be open again
next week, there being a stock company here for a series of performances.

FORT WORTH ATHLETICS TO BE HERE TOMORROW FOR GAME WITH LOCALS

The Athletics of Fort Worth will play the Wichita Falls team on the local diamond tomorrow afternoon.
This is the first Sunday game of the season. The Fort Worth team is one of the strongest semi-professional
teams in that city and is expected to finish some good sport for the locals.
The game will probably be called at 3:30 o'clock.

Carpeting Operator Is Killed In Lu- isiana.

Hickory, La., April 2.—Charles Win-
gler, a carpeting operator was assassinated at Bayles Mills south of here
yesterday. He was shot from ambush
and the officers have not yet discovered the assassin.

TRAMP NOT ARRESTED.

Dalhart Officers Cannot Find Woman's Assailant.

Texas News Service Special.
Dalhart, April 2.—The tramp who yesterday beat Mrs. Chris Stanley unconscious, then burned her house down
is still at large today. Descriptions differ and because of the indignation of the citizens the officers did not exert themselves to find the man, fearing
that the wrong man would be violently
dealt with. Today however, Mrs. Stanley was able to give a description of
her assailant and the authorities hope
to arrest him.

ASK REHEARING.

State Believes E. C. Gaines Reversal
Is In Error.

Austin, April 2.—The State of Texas
today filed a motion in the court of Criminal Appeals asking for a rehearing in the case of E. C. Gaines, of Hood county who is charged with killing his opponent, J. W. Reeves in the last legislative contest. Gaines was convicted and sentenced to three years
in the penitentiary in the lower court,
but the court of Criminal Appeals recently reversed the case. The motion today holds the reversal in error.

NEWSPAPER MEN MAY BE JAILED FOR FAILING TO TELL SOURCE OF NEWS

Jackson, Miss., April 2.—Wearied after three strenuous sessions yesterday
the members of the senate did not meet until nearly noon today to further consider the charges of Senator
Bilbo that he was given a bribe to vote for Senator Percy. The witnesses today were citizens of Poplarville, Bil-
bo's home town, who gave testimony
comparing his moral character and reputation in that community.

A resolution was adopted today directing the sergeant-at-arms to issue
subpoenas for the newspaper men to appear before the senate and give information as to the "leaks" by which they have been given accurate accounts of the secret decisions of the body. The newspaper men have agreed not to answer the questions and it is stated that some members demand that the newspaper reporters
be sent to jail if they refuse to testify.

OFFERED MONEY TO TESTIFY.

Bullinger Witness Says Collier's Weekly Intimidated as Much.

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Attorney
Brandels began his cross examination of H. K. Love in the Bullinger investigation today. Love told of meeting John Dudley former register of the land office at Junesu last February and Dudley told him he had been
"let out" and that Collier's Weekly
intimidated him that "it was worth
five to ten thousand dollars for him to go to Washington to testify," so Love
declared.

THE DAUGHERTY LETTER.

Neither Colquitt or Bailey Will Discuss It.

Quannah, Tex., April 2.—O. B. Colquitt, candidate for governor and supporter of the anti-prohibition cause,
today said he had not read Senator Bailey's letter to W. H. Daugherty,
which, it is claimed, indorses W. A.
Poindexter's candidacy. Colquitt declared that, as a friend of Bailey, he was opposed to dragging the latter in-
to the campaign.

FOUR HUNDRED IMMIGRANTS.

Many New Settlers For Texas From Germany.

Galveston, Tex., April 2.—The North
German Lloyd steamship Frankfurt arrived here this morning with thirty-
eight cabin passengers and four hundred and seventy immigrants. Two hundred of these immigrants are Hebrews and will be cared for by the Hebrew Immigration Society. They will reside in Texas.

LIBERAL RAINFALL IN THIS SECTION

TERRITORY SURROUNDING WICH-ITA COUNTY VISITED BY HEAVY SHOWERS.

CROPS MUCH BENEFITED

County Within Radius of One Hundred Miles Felt Rain Within Twenty-four Hours.

Extending from the lower Panhandle
on the northwest nearly to Fort Worth
on the southeast, extending as far north as Mangum on the Northwestern
and touching all points on the Southern and the Wichita Valley, about half an inch of rain, on the average has fallen in the last twenty-four hours, according to reports received by the Times this morning.

Locally, about three-eighths of an inch
of rain fell early this morning, with intermittent showers earlier in the night. This rain was steady and soaking and covered Wichita county like a blanket.

While it is hoped that the rain is not over, a great deal of good has been done the crops in this county. Wheat
was undoubtedly in need of moisture
and will be greatly benefited by the rains of last night. Had the crops
gone much longer without rain, the results would have been serious, but it came in time to do a great deal of
good and materially improved the crop
outlook for this section. The rain was unaccompanied by any wind and
was allowed to soak well into the ground.

Following is a summary of the rainfall for the country within a radius of 100 miles of Wichita Falls:

Childress, three-tenths of an inch;
Kirkland, about one-tenth; Acme, light
showers; Quanah, one heavy shower;
Chillicothe, light showers; Vernon,
showers, about one-sixteenth; Oklaun-
ton, about one-fourth inch; Harold,
about one-fourth inch heavy shower;
Electra, about one-fourth inch; Iowa
Park, good rain, probably half an inch;
Henrietta, steady showers, about one-
fourth inch; heavy showers ranging from half an inch to an inch and a half
from Henrietta to Fort Worth.

All points on the Denver south of Wichita Falls enjoyed splendid rains,
two inches being reported at Decatur
and an inch and a half at Bowie and Rhome. Fort Worth had over a two-inch rain.

Points on the Wichita Falls and Northwestern from Mangum south had heavy showers, ranging in volume up to three-quarters of an inch.

On the Southern, Archer City experienced a good shower, while Olney and Newcastle were still more favorably
visited.

Points on the Wichita Valley from Byers to Abilene and out to Spur were all visited by rain, which was about
half an inch at some points and lighter
at others.

WICHITAN ENDS LIFE BY CUTTING THROAT WITH RAZOR AT FORT WORTH

P. B. Jones, until recently an engineer on the Wichita Valley railway and a resident of this city, was found dead
in Fort Worth yesterday morning with his throat cut. There was no doubt that the wound was self-inflicted, and a note to his son Clyde Jones, stated
that ill health prompted him in his action. The deceased left this city on Friday of last week, having resigned
his position on the Valley, and went to Fort Worth with his wife to visit his boy, Clyde, who is attending school
there. He had been in poor health for some time. Mrs. Jones was in Synder, Oklahoma, having gone there to visit relatives.

The deceased was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers,
and an Elk, and a member of the A. O.
F. M. The local officers of the B. of
L. E. have been notified and will probably take charge of the body. Jones
is understood to be a native of Georgia. He had many friends in this city who will regret deeply to learn of his action.

CANDIDATES TALK TO MANY VOTERS

DECLARE THEMSELVES ON CIVIC QUESTIONS AT MEETING OF CITIZENS.

NOBLE AND YOUNG TALK

Rival Candidates for Mayor Outline Platforms Upon Which They Stand.

The candidates for city offices were
given an opportunity to declare themselves at a well attended mass meeting at the court house last night, when the citizens were enlightened on the aspirants' attitude on the questions facing the city. The candidates for mayor, T. B. Noble and J. T. Young,
declared themselves at some length,
while three candidates for aldermen
also spoke. The other candidates seem to have contracted cold feet, as they were not in evidence. In spite of the inclement weather, the district
court room was well filled and much interest was manifested.

R. E. Huff called the meeting to order and briefly explained its purpose,
stating that it was simply to secure expressions from the candidates and
not with a view to boosting any particular one of them. Organization was affected by electing R. E. Huff chairman and the newspaper men secretaries.

Fred Householder, candidate for city
attorney, spoke first. He said he considered the duties of the office two-
fold, first as a prosecutor and second,
as an adviser. In both of these capacities, he said, he intended to serve
the city to the best of his ability.

Mayor T. B. Noble was the next
speaker. He first reviewed the progress of the city during his six years
as mayor, stating that during his administration about forty miles of cement sidewalks had been put down
by the citizens, with three hundred concrete crossings by the city, at a cost of ten thousand dollars. Thirty blocks of graveled streets had been put down, he said, by the city, at a cost of about three hundred dollars per block. He discussed the city's bonded indebtedness, stating that when he became mayor there was no
sinking fund, while there was one now
ample for the city's needs. He discussed the sewer system and explained
that it was necessary to collect
sewer rents to extend the system.

His platform, briefly outlined, favored still more sidewalks, sewer extensions, the municipal ownership of the water and light plant and the keeping of the city government free from politics. He said that the city was free from graft and that it was reputed the cleanest city government
in the state. He defended his union
labor record, saying that he had always employed union labor at the broom factory. He expressed himself
in favor of appointing the city marshal instead of electing him. He did not, he said, claim the full credit
for what had been accomplished during his term, but he did feel that a

EXPLAINS HIS POSITION REGARDING ELECTION OF MARSHAL BY ALDERMEN

To the Voters of Wichita Falls:
Inasmuch as some parties have sought to impress upon the minds of the voters that I am unwilling for the people to elect their officers, I want to say now, that I am in favor of the people ruling at all times. I am in favor of an election being called at an early date whereby the people can vote on the question of electing the city marshal.

If elected to the office of mayor, I
will carry out the will of the people so expressed in said election with reference to how the city marshal shall be selected.

T. B. NOBLE.

Lightning struck the residence of Mrs. Geo. White at 1708 Travis this morning, between five and six o'clock,
shocking and throwing from their bed
two of the children, but, aside from the severe shock, they sustained no other injuries. The paper on one of the walls of the room in which the children were sleeping was torn up considerably by the lightning.

NEGOTIATIONS UNDER WAY.

Coal Miners Hope to Settle Strike at Early Date.

By Associated Press.
Indianapolis, Ind., April 2.—Operators and miners in the bituminous coal fields of the United States began
with renewed activity today the negotiations looking toward the contract
that will bring a resumption of work in the mines. In no state do the miners agree to accept less than five cents a ton increase in wages. Negotiations
in Illinois, Central Pennsylvania and the Southwest will probably be prolonged but in other districts the miners expect their demands will be granted with little delay.

DALLAS OR FORT WORTH.

T. C. U. Will Be Moved to One or the Other of These.

By Associated Press.
Fort Worth, April 2.—Van Zandt Jarvis, a member of the board of trustees of Texas Christian University of Waco, who with other members visited Fort Worth and other cities declared that the race for the institution lies between Dallas and Fort Worth.
The trustees today visited McKinney
and Dallas and then returned to Waco
where they will canvass the situation.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS KEEP ON INCREASING; GAIN ABOUT 30 PER CT.

Yesterday marked the beginning of the new year for the postoffice department and additional employes and added salaries will depend upon the receipts of such offices for the year ending March 31. The local postoffice
showed a material gain for the year,
there being an increase of about thirty
per cent over the year preceding.

The receipts for March totaled $3094.95, as compared with $2356.22
for the same month last year, a gain
of thirty-six per cent which is considered quite a handsome gain. The receipts for March for the last ten years,
showing the steady and consistent increases, are here printed:

1901	$ 705.78
1902	946.17
1903	653.77
1904	733.08
1905	840.69
1906	1144.41
1907	1005.05
1908	1911.42
1909	2256.22
1910	3094.95

The monthly receipts for the year
ending yesterday, making a total of $30,812.45, are shown below. This compares very favorably with $23,
306.55 for the year ending March 31,
1909 and $18,026.13 for the previous year.

April 1909, $2454.85; May 1909, $2189.94; June 1909, $2126.03; July 1909, $3446.15; August 1909 $1992.73; September 1909, $2108.44; October 1909, $3325.25; November 1909, $3472- 99; December 1909, $2811.52; January 1910, $2994.65; February 1910, $2569- 55; March 1910, $3094.95.

TIGER NOT GUILTY.

Murder Trial at Abilene Comes to an End.

Abilene, Tex., April 2.—The jury in the case of C. T. Ticer, charged with the murder of his son-in-law, Jesse Johnson, at 11 o'clock this morning,
after being out about 12 hours, returned a verdict of acquittal. The case
began Thursday in the district court
and nearly a hundred witnesses were examined. Johnson was killed on December 26th of last year three miles north of Abilene.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED.

Looks Like New Liability Act Will be Passed.

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., April 2.—The senate amendments to the bill to amend the employers' liability law, were today agreed to by the house. The measure will at once be engrossed and sent to the president for his signature.

RAIN WAS GENERAL.

Seems to Have Visited Many Points in North Texas.

Texas News Service Special.
Gainesville, Tex., April 2.—An inch
of rain fell over Cooke County in the last twelve hours, assuring big crops.

Texas News Service Special.
Sherman, Tex., April 2.—A heavy rain is falling here and throughout Grayson County today. Creeks are full and the ground is soaked.

LEAGUE TEAM FOR WICHITA POSSIBLE

WALTER MORRIS OF FORT WORTH
SAYS THIS CITY IS BEING CONSIDERED.

SHREVEPORT GOING OUT

Unless She Does Better This Year
Her Franchise May Come to Wichita Falls.

In the opinion of Walter Morris,
manager of the Fort Worth team in the Texas League, Wichita Falls
stands an excellent chance to secure
a franchise in that league next year.
Mr. Morris has been here for several days with the Fort Worth team and is very favorably impressed with the conditions here. He said:

"Wichita Falls is very advantageously located for a league team and the question depends upon whether or not you can convince the team owners that the patronage would justify granting the franchise. When you get direct connection with Oklahoma City,
as I understand you are sure to do,
your location will be admirable and I believe that the people here would
turn out to see a league team play.
Unless Shreveport does better this year they are going to be dropped and it will be up to Wichita Falls. It's possible though, that we will drop both Galveston and Shreveport and make a six-club of it, though there is a good deal of opposition to that. You fellows up here want to keep your eyes
open and be ready to talk business
when the time comes. It would be a great advertisement for the town and
you can't afford to let the chance slip."

A movement was started to secure
the Shreveport franchise for this season, but it started too late. Wichita Falls will doubtless be ready to get in the game in earnest next year.

GASTON ALEXANDRE WAS WELL KNOWN IN WICHITA—OFTEN HERE

Gaston Alexandre, the Frenchman
whose alleged swindling operations at Bowie, Texas, have attracted considerable attention recently, is well known in Wichita Falls. He visited this city about three weeks ago, probably just before he left for parts unknown. Alexandre frequently came to Wichita Falls to attend theatrical performances here and he had a number of acquaintances in this city. He dressed in the height of fashion to the extent
of wearing a sharp-pointed mustache
and was very fastidious about his personal appearance. E. D. Hudspeth
was also well known here and visited
this city often.

Alexandre is now supposed to be in France and Hudspeth in Nicaragua
and officers are making every effort to encompass their capture. They are alleged to have gotten away with
about thirty thousand dollars altogether.

Eight Graft Indictments Found Pittsburg, April 2.—The graft in- vestigating grand jury returned eight in- dictments today. Seven were against former members, selected to the coun- cils from the North side.

ROOSEVELT CORDIALLY WELCOMED ON ARRIVAL AT NAPLES—WON'T TALK

Naples, April 2.—The steamer Prinz
Heinrich with the Roosevelt family aboard arrived here at eight thirty today. The water front was lined with thousands while outside the gates of the dock there was a surging mass
of excited persons, including many Americans waiting to welcome the distinguished American. Soon after his arrival the Roosevelt party was taken
in motor cars to the Excelsior hotel
where the former President was besieged by newspaper men. Promptly and firmly he reiterated his refusal to discuss any phase of American politics
or other affairs and said that any statement purporting to come from
him will be unauthorized.

IN SOCIETY'S REALM

HIS CHOICE.

He used to dance with Annabel, who waltzed with wifching grace; He called upon Elizabeth, who had a pretty face; And Aurelia he much admired—she'd written once a book— But, oh, he married Mary Ann, for she knew how to cook.

He brought bouquets to Beatrice and bonbons to Babette, The songs once sung to Sylvia, he thought he'd never forget; He oft made love to Lillian in cosy-por-her nook— But, oh, he married Mary Ann, for she knew how to cook.

The maids who dance and sing and play, and dress in stylish clothes, Who smile and flirt, and oft coquette, all have their share of beaux; But when in earnest for a bride the wails begin to look, 'Tis Marianne who wins the game, for she knows how to cook! —Elsie Duncan Yale, in the Household Journal.

Mrs. C. W. Bean is visiting in Mineral Wells.

Mrs. A. H. Carrigan visited in Archer City Tuesday.

Miss Mateer of Corpus Christi is the guest of the Misses Kell.

Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harrington.

Little Miss Maurine Smith was the charming hostess to a number of her little friends at an Easter egg hunt on Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. They enjoyed the pastime in hunting eggs and various games until the time for serving delicious ice cream cones, which all children hearts delight in. The afternoon was greatly enjoyed by each little guest and little Miss Maurine proved a fascinating hostess. Those present were: Sadie and Frankie Adolkes, Carol and Georgia Maxwell, Elizabeth Carrigan.

Ida Buzzell, Ella Herle and Marjorie Mathis, Clara Mae Wilson, Ruby and Gretchen Aris, Annette Walsh, Ruth Fitzpatrick, Lillian McCune, Rita Denton, Annie, Ruth and Darrell Kaha, Addie and Lawrence Marcus, Rhea Hines, Rita-Maudie Lee, Mary Francis Collier, Roberta Fairchild.

One of the most delightful parties of the week was the one given on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. M. M. Marcus at her pretty home 1409 Austin street. "42" and "500" was the diversion for the afternoon and quite a number of games were enthusiastically entered by the guests.

In a cut Mrs. Malone received the souvenir. The hostess in a very charming manner served delicious cream and cake.

Those enjoying Mrs. Marcus' hospitality were: Mesdames C. C. Huff, Maddox, Sheppard, Cobb, Woodhill, Fitzpatrick, Peaper, Gates, Harrington, Freear, Cullon, Sherrod, Bacon, Barwise, Cotter, E. Malone, C. Malone, Simpson, Campbell, Kahn, Tandy, Gilliam, Strange, Howard, Reedy, Smith, Lory, Moore, and Misses Lucille Sherrod, Jodie Haynes, Mina Barwise, Katie Lee and Lillian Aris, Susie and Adeline Gibson, Lee White, Annie Carrigan, Cora Coons.

Floral Club.

A large attendance to the Floral Club was greeted on last Tuesday by Mrs. Harry Orlopp as hostess.

Many good suggestions were given in response to roll call in regard to the petty annoyances that frequently retard the progress of home industries, such as: how to exterminate ants, how to protect glassware while canning fruits etc., how to restore withered vegetables to their natural crispness, with many other thoughts regarding health and happiness, as well as how to keep young with our husbands, by taking a few moments off occasionally, from the cares that infest the lives of busy women.

Mrs. G. L. Moore, opened the program with music, also discussed the botanical subject that was of interest to all.

Mrs. Thatcher's paper on the science of housekeeping was truly descriptive of just what it requires to make home what it should be, with its many responsibilities. She claims that the drudgery of it may be eliminated by a little artistic skill that may be fostered under the direction of a careful mother, or in an industrial institution for girls.

Mrs. R. Malone then taught us how to select and buy meats, instructing each housewife to do her own marketing rather than trust to ordering by 'phone, or the servant. She also gave a great many good recipes for cooking meats of different cuts.

The parliamentary drill was omitted on account of so much business pertaining to the civic work of the club. With many other reports, the teachers report of work on the central school campus was hailed with approval. The whole curbing parallel with the street car line is being beautified with borders of violets and 14 flower beds will grace the curb on that side of the school grounds, while many beds are already in evidence on the campus.

Floral feels so fond of her little fellow helpers that she treads on airs of ecstasy when she gets out and sees the once barren places, now in shapely readiness for the growth of the seeds. She wants to say to the children that a premium is being offered for the prettiest tepee of vines in the front yard, also for vines of different varieties.

An Old Time Quilting.

Mrs. P. W. Nolen had a quaint old time quilting at her home on Tenth street on last Thursday.

The guests and quilters were Mesdames Annie Bullock, J. W. Nolen, Hutton, Smith, Jourdan.

The quilt was made of scraps of various colors, cut in hexagon shape and fashioned into a thing of usefulness by the ingenious fingers of Mrs. Little, the granddaughter of Mrs. P. W. Nolen.

About ten o'clock the guests arrived, surveyed the tightly stretched, bright colored piece of workmanship before them and decided to quilt it by the piece. Work was going on rapidly and conversation had reached its height when the noon hour rang out and the doors of the dining room rolled back, and lo! a long white table with beautiful flowers in the center laden with the most delicious good things that we have ever been tempted with for many a day. There were salads, salmon, potato, and fruit. There were vegetables of every kind, but the baked chicken, oh my! and the excellent dressing kept us eating on and on. Then came cream and cake, a long time to listen to the conversation; then the work was resumed.

How we used to go to quiltings was discussed, the old time ways of doing things was compared with the new, the pioneer days of Texas with the many instances of today were listened to, with shades of sympathy.

'Tis gratifying to be placed among a company of sweet elderly ladies and hear their views in regard to the proper modes of indulgence for women.

en. They always speak out to decided on every question that it becomes a gospel to hear them.

May we have many more such good times, is the wish of one who helped enjoy the good time.

"THIS IS MY 52ND BIRTHDAY"

General Sir O'Moore Creagh, General Sir O'Moore Creagh, who succeeded Lord Kitchener last fall as commander-in-chief of the British forces in India, was born in County Clare, Ireland, April 2, 1840. Nearly the whole of his career since he completed his education at the Royal Military College at Sandhurst, has been passed in India. He was in the Indian army in 1879 and was transferred to the Merwara battalion in 1882. In 1895 he became assistant quarter-master-general of the Bombay command and three years later he was appointed political resident and general officer commanding Aden. He also served in China in 1901 and was decorated for valor in the Afghan war of 1879-80. Prior to his recent appointment as commander-in-chief he had served for several years as secretary of the military department of the India office.

Meeting of B'nai B'rith.

Washington, D. C., April 2.—The Constitutional Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, which is the most representative and influential fraternal and educational order of the Jewish people, is to meet in this city tomorrow for the first time in its history. The grand lodge meets every five years, the last meeting held being in New Orleans.

Nearly all of the delegates to the meeting have arrived in the capital. They come from every section of the United States and among them are many business and professional men, educators and philanthropists and others of wide prominence. The meeting will be attended also by fraternal representatives of the grand lodges of the order in Austria, Germany and Roumania.

The convention will be called to order at the Arlington Hotel tomorrow morning by President Adolph Kraus of Chicago. In the evening an address will be made by Lucius L. Solomon of San Francisco, a well known Jewish orator. The entertainment features of the four days' program will include a White House reception, a dinner at which President Taft and members of the diplomatic corps will be guests of honor and a trip to Mount Vernon by steamer.

Many matters of moment to the organization and to the country at large will be given consideration by the convention. These will include immigration, colonization, agricultural pursuits, the extirpation of the "white slave" traffic, the further maintenance of the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives at Denver, and manual training schools in the orient, Europe and the United States.

WITH THE FIGHTERS.

Terry McGovern is training his brother Phil for his coming bout.

Abe Attell and Owen Moran will clash before Tom O'Rourke's club in New York on April 8th.

Since his bout with Stanley Ketchell, Frank Klaus has had a bushel of offers from fight promoters.

The Company which is the same as upon the last visit is as follows: Lawrence Deming, Ben Roberts, Billy Brets, Harry Clark, Frank Sawyer, Johnnie Kahn, F. A. Murphy, Beulah Monroe, Carrie Lowe, Harriet Mayer, Jean Hunt, and Master John Murphy.

For the opening play the company has selected Walter Sanford's great 4-act English drama, "A Vagabond's Wife."

As a special Monday night one lady will be admitted free when accompanied by a person holding a down stairs ticket. Popular prices of 15, 25 and 35 cents will be maintained during the engagement.

LATEST NEWS.

Dandruff, Falling Hair and Itching Scalp Cured, or Money Back.

"I used one bottle of Parisian Sage, and it did all you claim it would do. My hair is fluffy and clean from dandruff since I used the Sage, and I am going to keep it constantly on my dressing table for toilet use."—Mrs. M. Griffin, 326 W. 9th St., Davenport, Ia.

"Parisian Sage is certainly a wonderful hair restorer. My husband and I both have used it, and find it to be just as advertised."—Mrs. D. Choring, 220 Wason St., Toledo, O., Oct. 23, 1909.

Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere, and by Week's Drug Co., for 50 cents a large bottle, and is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back. It makes hair grow soft, lustrous and luxuriant, and is not sticky or greasy. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle.

ELABORATE CELEBRATION.

In Honor of Hundredth Anniversary of Liberal Leader.

Boston, Mass., April 2.—New England Unitarians have arranged for an elaborate celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of James Freeman Clarke, one of the leaders among those of the liberal faith. In the Church of the Disciples, which he founded in 1841, there are to be commemorative services tomorrow morning. The exercises will include addresses by Rev. Robert Collyer, D. D., of New York, and the Rev. Samuel A. Elliott, D. D., president of the American Unitarian Association. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe will read a poem written for the occasion. On Monday another public service will be held in the Arlington Street Church.

The memory of James Freeman Clarke is cherished by all Unitarians. Born at Haver, N. H., April 4, 1810, he received his education at Harvard University and the Cambridge Divinity School. After his graduation, he accepted a pulpit in Louisville and remained there until 1840, when he returned to Boston to become pastor of the Church of the Disciples. Dr. Clarke held the secretaryship of the American Unitarian Association from 1853 to 1862, and was for many years one of the overseers of Harvard, as well as lecturer at the university. He enjoyed the warm friendship of Emerson, Channing, Whittier and other notables of his day.

BIDS WANTED.

The Times Will Erect Office Building on Seventh Street.

The attention of contractors is called to the fact that bids are asked for by the Times Publishing Company for the erection of a two-story office building on the corner of Seventh and Scott, with a single story building on the lot adjoining. Plans and specifications are on file at the office of Architect Von der Lippe, room 9, Moore-Bateman building. Bids will be received up to 10:30 o'clock a. m., April 7th, 1910.

Pinchot Sails to See Roosevelt and Ballinger Row Becomes a Whirlpool.

Gifford Pinchot is on his way to Europe to meet Colonel Roosevelt. Cablegrams state that Roosevelt refuses to say whether he asked Pinchot to see him, but it is acknowledged that the department chief will lay all the facts of the Ballinger dispute before the former president. It is freely predicted that the famous dispute in President Taft's cabinet has only started. "Roosevelt will take hold like the rushing of Niagara's water, and we are going to have a fine example of a whirlpool of words in a mighty short time," is the way a senator is credited with stinging up the situation.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity
Tonight and Sunday, unsettled weather. Showers tonight or Sunday.

The Times solicits and accepts advertising for its columns under a positive guarantee that it has a greater number of subscribers than any other publication in Wichita Falls. Its subscription books and press room records are open for inspection to those who have a right to such information, and who want evidence of the above statement.

THE TIMES PUBLISHING CO.
259-1b ED HOWARD, Manager.

The Denton Record and Chronicle calls attention to the fact that with Texasians dry, there is not a wet town on the transcontinental division of the Texas & Pacific, outside of Fort Worth, which reminds the Sherman Democrat that on a straight line from Texasians to the New Mexico line the only wet counties are Cooke and Wichita.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram calls attention to the fact that the Mississippian state senator who cashed in for $554 in the lead of the Pittsburg alderman who got only $51. Well a state senator ought to be worth more than an alderman.

There seems to be some doubt about whether or not Menelik of Abyssinia is dead. The Times has said he was dead and has also printed the "for solitary use" story of his life, but we stand ready to take it all back.

Wichita Falls can not only produce candidates who have to be asked to make speeches, but she can show a few who will not speak even when they are asked to do so.

UNJUST CRITICISM.

If those who are now rather severe in their criticism of the supply of water being furnished Wichita Falls by the waterworks company, will take the pains and the time to investigate, as the Times has, they will find a wonderful improvement has been made in the water supply during the past year, and that the water now being supplied the city, which has just recently been analyzed by a Galveston chemist, is pronounced by that authority to be free from germs of every nature and pure.

The waterworks company has expended over $150,000 in the waterworks plant, together with every cent of its income, and those who own it have never realized one cent from their investment. In the humble opinion of the Times, the only thing for which the company can now justly be criticised is that the ditch conveying the water from Lake Wichita is not properly fenced in order to prevent stock from getting into it.

Some of the critics contend that the water from the lake to the reservoirs or settling basins should be conveyed in pipes instead of in an open ditch, a distance of about seven miles. But in this they disagree with experts on such matters, who argue that it is better to convey it through the open ditch in order that the sun may strike it and free it of as much impurity as possible before it enters the settling basins where it goes through another process of purification before it is pumped into the mains and supplied to the patrons of the company. On this point the company has acted on the advice of those who profess to have made a study of such matters, rather than on their own judgment, or the advice of those who are not in a position to know.

The method of process of purifying the water supply and freeing it from all impurities before supplying it to customers is the identical process now used in St. Louis, which gets its water supply from the Mississippi River, and which is pronounced by experts to be as pure as water can be made.

The same people who own and control the water company in this city, also own and control the street railway, Lake Wichita and the large amount of improvements made and now being made at the lake, representing an investment of over a half million dollars for the three enterprises, and these enterprises have done more and will continue to do more to advertise Wichita Falls to the outside world and advance her interests than all others put together.

There is no town today in the State of Texas, not excepting the larger cities, that can boast of as magnificent a water supply as Wichita Falls, and the men who ventured to make the investment to make this water supply possible have done all within their power to make it as pure as possible. In this they believe they have succeeded.

The president of the company, who is termed a rich man in this city, is not trying to force upon the people an unwholesome water supply, or, if he is, then it must be said that he has but little thought or regard for the health of his own family, from the fact that his home has no other water supply than that which is furnished by the waterworks company.

Let us be just and give credit where credit is due. There are occasions when public service corporations need to be criticised and the Times has not spared them in the past; neither will it do so in the future, when, in its judgment, such public service corporations are not rendering good service.

In consideration of the fact that thousands of dollars have been expended in an effort to cure an evil that did exist, and believing that such evil has been largely remedied, or at least a great improvement made, it thinks that a little praise now and then for an honest effort made to furnish the people of Wichita Falls with a better and more wholesome supply of water will come nearer accomplishing that which is necessary and most desired than unjust, unfair and harsh criticisms indulged in by those who probably have not given the matter as much study and thought as they should.

The next census ought to show a population of more than ten thousand for the city of Wichita Falls, and it will only take a few more Arkansas families the size of some recently located here to insure that number and more.

We will have to hand the belt to Bowie. Wichita Falls has never been able to produce a swindling stunt of more than a few hundred dollars and those Bowie fellows got away with $20,000.

There is only one thing that would be more welcome just now than a one-inch rain, and that is a two-inch rain.

To which one of our candidates for mayor are we indebted for the splendid rains of last night and today?

As forecasted "exclusively" in the Times, it has rained.

THE CITY ELECTION.

As the time has expired in which candidates can place their names upon the ticket, we can see from where the people will choose, unless additional names are written on the tickets and voted for.

There will be two candidates for mayor, one for city attorney, one for assessor and collector, four candidates for the two two-year terms for aldermen, and three candidates for two short terms—one year.

We present the ticket below, arranged alphabetically as to names, which arrangement may be revised in the event the candidates draw for place:

- Independent Ticket.
For Mayor—
T. B. NOBLE.
J. T. YOUNG.
For City Attorney—
FRED W. HOUSEHOLDER.
For Assessor and Collector—
HARRY F. ROBERTSON.
For Aldermen (Full Term)—
(Vote for two).
J. D. AVIS.
A. A. HUGHES.
J. A. RICHOLT.
J. W. STONE.
E. H. UNDERWOOD.
For Aldermen (Short Term)—
(Vote for two).
T. P. HICKMAN.
J. L. JACKSON.
J. F. REED.

As will be noticed, Messrs. Householder and Robertson have no opposition.

Messrs. Avis, Jackson and Reed have served on the council before and J. A. Richolt is now a councilman.

Messrs. Hickman, Hughes, Stone and Underwood are aspirants for the first time.

A commission form of government, in most cases means that the municipality which adopts it is afraid to be governed by a majority of its own people, and, therefore, the Times is opposed to it; for the reason that when the right to suffrage is denied good government is endangered, if not wholly destroyed. A man who cannot secure a majority of the votes in his state, county, city or precinct, has no right to set himself up as a leader or ruler of the people, and, under a commission form of government, the fellows who are appointed to fill the offices are the ones who generally head a clique or bunch of men, classing themselves as the brains and business men of the community. Again, a commission form of government is undemocratic from any standpoint you view it. One of the main planks in the national democratic platform is that which advocates the election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people, and if it is democratic to elect the high officers and officials in that manner, we should wait awhile yet, before choosing a different plan for the election of the minor or municipal officers. The case of Galveston is often cited as an example of the commission form of government, but when it is remembered that Galveston, at the time of the adoption of that form of government was just emerging from the effects of the great tidal wave which destroyed a portion of the island and drowned one fourth of her population, leaving that city a bankrupt—a subject of charity for the whole world, there might have been some excuse for that kind of a government. But when the people are reasonably prosperous and dependent upon their own resources for sustenance and support, there is no excuse for denying to them local self-government which is easiest and quickest obtained, through right of the ballot.

large part of the credit was due him. Mr. Noble was frequently interrupted by applause and was roundly cheered when he concluded.

At the conclusion of Mr. Noble's first remarks some ginger was injected into the proceedings when A. Zundelwitz wanted to know why something had not been done to obtain better water. Mr. Noble stated that under the city's contract with the water company, the latter could not be forced to clear the water, although he considered that the water was better than it was a year ago. The mayor and Mr. Zundelwitz indulged in some repartee on this question which the audience enjoyed very much.

J. T. Young was the next speaker. He said he did not make any pretensions as an orator and contented himself with reading his platform. It included a demand for better water, a lower sewer rate, sewerage extension, the making of needed improvements that would lower the fire insurance rate, the enforcement of all laws, including those regulating saloons. Mr. Young favored the special charter and the election of the city marshal by the people. Mr. Young's remarks were brief, but left no doubt as to his attitude on every question and he was well received.

T. P. Hickman, candidate for alderman, said that Mr. Noble had started his speech and that Mr. Young had finished it, and there was, therefore, little left for him to say. He did not favor a lower sewer rate, saying that the present rate was not exorbitant and would permit of needed extensions. J. L. Jackson and E. Underwood spoke briefly, and Harry Robertson also made a brief address.

Mr. Noble then took the floor again to declare himself more clearly on the question of electing a city marshal, saying that while he considered the voters fully competent to elect one, he felt that better results could be obtained by having the office appointed.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Catcher Ben Egan has been released to the Baltimore club by Connie Mack.

Elmer Stricklett has signed with the San Jose club of the California state league.

Paddy Livinstone is booked to be Connie Mack's first choice behind the bat, according to Philadelphia gossip. "Ginger" Beaumont, now with the Cubs, is showing the stuff this spring that made him famous in Pittsburg.

Instead of taking the trip to the coast with the White Sox, Pat Dougherty is getting into condition at Hot Springs.

It is said that Cincinnati and Boston will not train on the same field next year. Too many red sox spoil the wash.

Fred Clarke's superstition against world's championship uniforms has put the kibosh on the "hoorah" advertising of the Pirates.

Indianapolis fans consumed 15 tons of peanuts last season and Charlie Carr claims the "goober pennant" of the American Association.

Dr. Scanlon of the Brooklyn, says that the present season will be his last in fast company. He intends to practice medicine in Dodgestown.

In Otis Johnson, the Portland, Ore., recruit with the Highlanders, George Stallings believes he has a boy that can hit 365, 365 days in the year.

If Rochester wins the Eastern League pennant again this season, Buffalo will look about as happy and cheerful as a surgeon's kit.

Bill Donovan, who tried to jump a fence in an automobile at San Antonio recently, has recovered from his injuries and is working out with the Tigers.

The Texas and Oklahoma colored baseball league will have teams in San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and Gainesville in Texas, and Oklahoma City, Okla.

"Kid" Elberfeld and "Wid" Conroy are both working a third, writes a Washington scribe. Why not allow Washington to play two men at each position on the field and cut down the odds.

Columbia, S. C.—"Dark Alley" Pete, alias Geo. Lewis of Marcus Hook, Pa., gave himself up to the Columbia state officials recently. He admits having the goods and it looks like a stretch of at least six months' pitting for "Dark Alley" in the Sally League.

NEWS FORECAST FOR THE COMING WEEK.

Washington, D. C., April 2.—It is being said again that the Supreme Court, when it reconvenes Monday after the Easter recess, will hand down its decision in the case of the American Tobacco Company, which involves the legality of trade agreements as distinct from the issue of monopoly which is the material item in the Standard Oil case, which is also before the highest tribunal.

Monday has also been assigned by the Supreme Court as the day for hearing arguments in the Missouri rate cases. These cases are the most important in the history of the Interstate Commerce Commission, involving as they do the power conferred upon the commission by the Hepburn law to fix rates where railroads are found to be overcharging.

During the week President Taft will deliver addresses at the dedication of the new million-dollar home for the International Bureau of American Republics, at the dedication of the Carnegie Library at Howard University and at the annual dinner of the League of Republic State Clubs, to be given Saturday night at the Arlington Hotel.

Early in the week town and city elections will be held in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and a number of other states. Special interest attaches to the results of the elections in Illinois, Michigan and other states, where local option is the chief issue.

The big event of the week in political circles, however, will be the republican state convention in Indiana, to nominate candidates for the state offices to be filled at the fall election and to adopt a platform. Senator Beveridge, one of the insurgents who voted against the tariff bill, will preside. Senator Beveridge is a candidate for re-election and the situation is identical with that in half a dozen other states of the west, where the state platforms cannot indorse the tariff bill without repudiating many of their own senators and representatives.

Events of interest in naval circles will include the placing in commission of the formidable battleships North Dakota and Delaware and the launching of the torpedo boat destroyer Perkins. The last-named event is fixed to take place Saturday at the yards of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company at Quincy, Mass.

Other matters that will figure in the news of the week will include the Earl Grey musical and dramatic competitions at Toronto, the annual conference on education in the south at Little Rock, the Texas conservation congress at Fort Worth, the meeting of the American Academy of political and social science in Philadelphia, and the sale of the Yerkes art collection in New York.

The cable news will tell of the reception of ex-President Roosevelt in Rome and the travels of his party in northern Italy. In Copenhagen former Minister of the Interior Berg is to be placed on trial on charges connected with the notorious Alberti frauds, which a year or more ago resulted in the fall of the Danish cabinet. Saturday is the date set for the inauguration of the Empress Augusta memorial on the Mount of Olives by Prince Eitel Frederick, second son of the German Emperor.

Taft Going To New England.
Washington, D. C., April 2.—President Taft leaves the capital this evening for New England on the second visit he has paid that section of the country within two weeks. The objective point of the present trip is Worcester, where he is to deliver an address tomorrow before a big convention of railroad men assembled from many parts of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The president will go first to the town of Millbury, a short distance from Worcester, where he is to spend tomorrow forenoon at the home of his aunt, Miss Della C. Torrey. From Millbury he will proceed to Worcester by automobile. A military escort will be furnished through the streets of Worcester to the convention hall. In addition to the president the speakers of the day will include Governor Draper of Massachusetts, the presidents of several of the New England railroad systems and the heads of nearly all of the international and national organizations of railroad employees.

Boys and the Street Problem

By Mrs. Toland.

It is a self evident fact that in the youth of today, lies the hope of the Nation. This naturally includes boys and girls, but it is of the boys I have been requested to speak, particularly of the boys who frequent the streets and its influence upon them.

I think it is first necessary to appeal to the mothers and discuss their relation to the boys.

The principal care and training of the children devolves upon the mother. In her home life, and influence upon her children, she is building a monument to herself. Our real monuments will not be found in cemeteries, but in the actual work of our own hands and brains during life.

Every mother is a builder and she should realize that the plastic human material placed under her care, is a bundle of delicate nerves, tied up with mere breaths and heart-beats, enveloping a beautiful soul. Her responsibility in shaping this raw material, is the greatest in life. Even in the world of matter, the law of development is exacting. The highest development of the raw material requires sacrifice, and subjection to definite process. Two conditions, at least, are essential—we must properly value the material and have it under our supervision, or control.

In the value of the human material in our hands, I would that all mothers felt as the noble Cornelia, mother of the Gracchi. When she was asked by a lady to show her her jewels, she put her arms around her two little sons, and said "These are my precious jewels." But in many cases we find the reverse. A mother will carefully lock her diamonds from a servant, with whom she is willing to leave her little sons.

The first ten years of a boy's life is, or could be, almost exclusively under his-mother's influence. It is her privilege to get such a strong hold on his love, and confidence during this time, that nothing could take them from her. A mother who leaves the care of her boys to others, or allows them to drift from her, during the plastic period of their lives, is not a wise builder, for upon the foundation must depend the strength of the structure. The mishaps and crimes of the world are chargeable very largely to the developed product.

I know that it requires sacrifice to have the care of children constantly on one, and many mothers are almost compelled to let their boys drift from them because of too many household duties. When one is very busy, it is so much less trouble to have the children out of the way. Some mothers think a systematically kept house is of more importance than the knowledge of her little disorderly boy's whereabouts. Not long since, I heard a little fellow say when asked if he did not think he ought to go home, as his mother did know where he was, "No, she don't care, she says I'm always in the way."

It is conceded that the environment of city life under favorable conditions is antagonistic to high moral development. It is so busy, so full of petty material cares of the present. The rude jostle and din of the city's social whirl, allows no time for splendid dreaming. The dreams of childhood are more potent than we think, in shaping human destiny.

One has said "What entered into thee, that was, is, and shall be." A mother should give her little son lofty ideals, teach him to think, to dream, to aspire to the noblest things of life. "Not failure, but low aim, is crime." Lowell says "The thing we long for, that we are. For one transcendent moment."

The Effect of Street Life on the Boy. Now the boy who frequents the streets, cannot be much under his mothers' influence. He soon acquires the habit of going, a restlessness, all home pleasures are too tame for him. There is a fascination in street life, too potent to be denied. He sees, and comes in contact with any and every class of women and men. He hears vile language, scents the fumes of the grog-shop, takes the first lessons in gambling, playing marbles for keeps, learns to smoke cigarettes, and the chances are, begins dishonesty. He passes the open fruit stands, sees numbers of things he wants, takes a few little things and so the lesson is learned.

He sees the low faces of life, until they become a part of him. For truly "Vice is a monster of so vile a mean, That to be hated, needs but to be seen, But seen too oft, familiar with his face We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

The educated, city-bred criminal is the greatest menace to society, and to the law. He is an adept. Often covers his moral legacy with a suavity of manner, that to the unwary, is irresistible. Sometimes even wears the mantle of a Christian. A veritable Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Would his one to destruction, and then laugh at their weakness. His dishonesty is on such an immense scale that the term "defaulter," and not "thief" is applied to him.

Not a mother would willingly view this "finished product" as her son—yet our sons may be developed into just this, if we neglect the foundation of their character.

A Remedy.

With no suggestion of a remedy, for keeping in touch with our boys, and keeping them out of the street, would leave us just here, in a similar condition to that of Pandora before she let the little winged messengers of "hope" out of her fated box. We are in a city or will be, and our boys must have employment, and amusement. With our modern conveniences the city boy has no longer the "chores" of the home for employment. With the gas, there is no more kindling to chop, no more wood or coal to get in, no worry about water, turn a faucet, and there it is, press a button and your lights are on. No patient horse waiting to be cared for, electric cars and automobile have taken his place. No more errands to run, the telephone does a part of this and free delivery the rest. Only the city hen is left, and she, too, has the "street habit," her days are numbered. The care of flowers is about all the employment the boy now has, and this must be divided with mother and sister.

If possible, a workshop in the back yard, should be provided for the city boy. As much attention should be paid to beautifying the back yard, as the front yard. An attractive back yard should be provided for the city moral value to the home. It might be made the family playground. It should have an outdoor gymnasium for the boys.

We need, and must have public playgrounds for the children. The desire for social intercourse is innate and should be gratified. Recreation is as necessary as labor. None could endure an unbroken round of toil, either mental or physical.

The little boys of our city, are now using some of the vacant lots for playgrounds, but in the course of a few years, there will be no vacant lots, for several miles out. I think it the duty of the Mothers' and Teachers' Club, to begin to take steps toward securing public playgrounds for the children. Even now, it would cost quite a little to secure such grounds, but in a few more years the cost will double, yes triple, and as we are so prone to sacrifice almost every thing to the good of finance, they will not likely be secured after such increase in value. Our city is doing something toward parks, we are glad to say, but these will not be exclusively to the children. We must have playgrounds, and have them presided over by matrons specially trained for the work. There can be but little hope for the children of a city, either in point of health, or morals, where there are no parks or playgrounds.

Now if we would help save our boys, we must substitute playgrounds for the streets, and in the home, try to properly appreciate our responsibility. Let us realize that our little sons are the future law makers of the country. The influence upon them in the home, is the only privilege we have in shaping the destiny of the nation. They are our hope, our protection. Let us handle them carefully, lest we injure the sensitive structure. Skill and gentleness can only make the soul within vibrate in unison with the divine purpose in universal development. The solution of this problem requires lofty enthusiasm, optimism, and heroism.

Fads and Fashions

New York, April 2.—Now, that Easter, with its customary display of new finery is a thing of the past, the thoughts of fashionable women once more revert to evening toilets which, during the Lenten season, were somewhat neglected. To a woman of original ideas and artistic taste, the planning of an evening toilet must give exquisite pleasure this season, as fashion never before allowed such unrestrained liberty in the selection of style, material, color and ornamentation as the present time. It might be said that everything is permissible so long as its general effect is artistic and picturesque.

The famous designers in Paris, London and New York are turning out a large variety of the most beautiful evening costumes and there is scarcely a period in the world's history which is not used in some way as a model or suggestion. There seems to be a particular tendency to imitate Grecian types, the clinging lines of which are ever beautiful and especially becoming to women of good shapes. These costumes permit the use of almost an endless variety of exquisite fabrics of so flexible a weave that they naturally fall into graceful folds. Many of these materials come in bordered patterns and many in robe form, either with bands of two widths for skirt and bodice or with a length of the border design in all-over of which to make the sleeves in case they are not out in one with the shoulders.

Of course, a great many of the transparent and semi-transparent materials used for evening toilets have borderings in classic design, the better to accord with the Greek style of drapery. But, in this respect, fashion allows considerable latitude and, instead of adhering strictly to conventional patterns most fascinating borders are used, showing odd combinations of oblongs and ovals in metal effects with naturally colored flowers and birds.

With some of these new borderings appear exceptionally long fringes of heavy silk matching or contrasting with the tone of the draperies, and a scheme of decoration which is especially good with a robe of bordered chiffon or marquisette is to use a heavy fringe of gold, silver or imitation pearl beads, as this treatment affords precisely the amount of weight necessary for drapings, which might otherwise float about in a frivolous manner, not at all in accordance with the ancient Greeks' ideals of what was dignified in feminine draperies.

For several months there have been vague, disquieting rumors afloat concerning a revival of the renaissance modes, and, while these rumors are not likely to materialize, there is far too much talk about 1830 stiff materials, full skirts and fichu-draped bodices to please those women who are so perfectly contented with the soft, clinging fabrics and the graceful draperies now in vogue that they would be quite willing to continue to wear them for an indefinite period. At present, however, the note of the 1830 style is noticeable only in some of the costumes into the making of which brocade entered to some extent.

Too much cannot be said of the beauty of these brocades. Not only are they of wondrous coloring, charming design and fascinating texture, but they are magnificent in general effect. Of course, the point of cost must be taken into consideration. Brocades of good quality are expensive, but they require very little trimming, in fact, depend for their effect almost entirely upon the beauty and richness of texture, color and design.

The overskirt has, undoubtedly, arrived, but it differs radically from the tunic, which, in the minds of many people, has come to mean any sort of double-skirt effect produced by trimming, whereas, the term "overskirt" implies the overdress which is separate from the skirt of the gown of matching or contrasting material. Lace is greatly in demand for overskirt purposes. Unless the lace is of irreproachable quality, it would better be of any color, save black or white, because in that case, all its imperfections become painfully apparent, whereas, if the lace is dyed to match the heavier material, even the coarsest sort of mesh will pass muster and be effective.

The tunics designed for evening toilets at present are quite odd and original. Usually they are developed in chiffon, bordered or branded broadly with satin of a shade bearing no resemblance to that of the skirt over which they are worn. Sometimes a tunic in a very delicate tone of rose, blue or green chiffon will be used over a white satin slip broadly trimmed with heavy black lace or veiled with a transparency in a decidedly deeper tone than the tunic and embroidered with crystal or pearl beads or palleted with silver or gold. Another charming fad of the hour is to wear a crepe meteor tunic of rather brilliant hue over a buffon skirt veiled with black or white Chantilly. Both combination schemes are popular with matrons, while for young girls white transparencies veiling evening frocks of delicate hue are most in favor. A casual inspection of the displays in the fashionable shops shows that the neckwear just now is strongly influenced by the fad for low and collarless effects. The profusion of Dutch collars and Chantelier trill is bewildering. The collars are largely of the heavier sort, fashioned of linen and more or less handsomely hand-embroidered. Open work designs are first favorites for the embroiderer, but exquisitely fine embroidery of either kind appears upon the more sheer collars, though often in combination with the open work.

The platted full collars which some merchants advertise as Chantelier trills, come in all grades of fineness and in varying materials. One may buy a trill entirely of fine lace, of chiffon and lace, of linen and lace, of batiste and lace, or one may have a hand-embroidered trill with or without a dainty colored border. Plain narrow hems of color, scalloped and buttonholed edges of color, with or without supplementary design of colored embroidery, narrow castellated borders of colored linen or batiste, these and dozens of others are to be seen among the colored border. Plain narrow hems of designs are used, too, for side trills intended to adorn the lingerie blouse, and often these blouse trills are double or even triple, the under having a plain colored border with a line of delicate colored embroidery and a Valenciennes edging.

There seems to be no end to the variety in such trills, and when fine they are charming blouse accessories, but it is with them as with all popular models. They are copied in cheap, coarse materials and worn by every type of woman. However, the fine trill speaks for itself, and, fortunately, it need not mean great expense if one is willing to make it at home and bestow a little time and hand needle work upon it.

Stocks with frills and jabots attached are numerous, for not all women will subscribe to the collarless neck fad, and there is a surprising number of trim little tailored stocks in white and color and in all white, prettier things of this sort than have been shown for several seasons.

The renewed vogue of belt and girdle is one of the striking features of the new season's modes and the novelties in this line show a great variety of styles. Patent leather seems to be unusually popular, however.

Teachers' and Parents' Clubs.

There was a joint meeting of the Teachers' and Parents' clubs of the different schools Friday afternoon at the M. E. Church, South, that proved both interesting and inspiring.

Each club was well represented by enthusiastic working members. The meeting was called to order for the purpose of arranging for "Mothers' Day," the second Sunday in May, a day when every son and daughter shall wear a white flower, the emblem of motherhood, and pause to remember "Mother."

In a letter from Governor Campbell

to Mrs Perkins of Dallas, state president of the Parents' and Teachers' Clubs, he promises to make a proclamation that the day be set for "Mothers' Day" to be observed throughout the state.

The ministers of the city have agreed to co-operate with the mothers on this day, and there will be a union service, the place to be announced later.

Mrs. Toland read an interesting paper on the "Small Boy on the Streets" which is the first of a series, each of which will appear in the Times.

The Carnegie Library question was discussed and the mothers' will devote their time and energy to secure it, knowing the crying need of such an institution.

All the mothers and teachers of the city are requested to meet at the same place, April 17th, to complete the arrangements for "Mothers' Day."

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

New York, April 2.—Even the ancient civilization of the Chinese, the most conservative nation on earth, is not proof against the corruptive influence of bad example. For countless centuries the Chinese have maintained their high literary standards and even in their playhouses far away from the flowery kingdom, among the foreign devils across the sea, have they religiously worshipped at the shrines of the classic Muse. But the corruptive influence of degenerate taste made itself felt at last and the classic drama has been banished from the Chinese theatre in Doyers street, to make room for vaudeville and moving pictures. What a downfall!

The vagaries of the diseased human mind are unaccountable, indeed. An old man, whose mind is evidently quite seriously deranged, strayed from his home in Philadelphia the other day and in some way landed in New York. The fact would indicate that the man had occasional lucid intervals. But, when he came to New York, he became bewildered, not being used to city life. He fondly imagined that he was still in the pastoral domain of Philadelphia, but could not find his way. A policeman who saw the man, wandering around in an aimless fashion, kindly escorted him to the nearest station, where the old man, who had considerable money in his pockets, was greatly surprised when he was informed that he was no longer in Philadelphia, but in a real city.

Considering the fact that Brooklyn for many years has formed a part of Greater New York and is separated from the pushing and pulsating Manhattan only by the sluggish East River, it is surprising that, notwithstanding the numerous bridges and tunnels connecting the former "City of Churches" with its lively sister, Brooklyn has not outgrown its backwoods stage. Even strangers, visiting the city for the first time, never fail to notice the contrast between the metropolitan life and bustle of Manhattan and the almost bucolic slowness of Brooklyn. How far behind the time Brooklyn is may be inferred from the fact that only the other day a Brooklynite sent $5.00 with his best wishes to the sufferers from the Johnstown flood, of which he had just heard for the first time.

The residents of Staten Island are in a bad fix. The water supply of Staten Island is altogether inadequate as most of the wells of the borough of Richmond have become defiled and unsanitary. But, although Richmond Borough is a part of New York, the city is too poor to supply municipal water to the residents of Staten Island. The Staten Islanders made an effort to obtain water from Jersey City, but were unsuccessful, as the water supply of that city is barely sufficient for the wants of its citizens. The scarcity of water has already driven a number of dairies from Richmond Borough and it is feared that after a while Staten Island will be inhabitable only to prohibitionists and anarchists.

Arthur Zimmermah, who pretended to be a German count, but proved himself decidedly of no account, was convicted of perjury the other day and sent to Sing Sing for a term of years. The prisoner is believed to hold the record for bigamous marriages. Beginning with 1872, he entered twenty-four bigamous marriages, eleven of them in a single year. In court the man stated he was really not to blame. His matrimonial alliances were merely experiments in his search for a "soul mate." "I thought," he said, "each one was the affinity my heart hungered for, but I was mistaken. As I am so extremely sensitive that I cannot live with a woman whom I do not love, I left my partner when my love grew cold and sought another." He admitted that he had not yet succeeded in finding his "soul mate," but that he had not abandoned all hope.

Former Congressman James R. Howe, who served a term as Register of the old city of Brooklyn, and after deducting a respectable salary from his fees, devoted the remainder to erecting the equestrian statue of Washington that stands on the Brooklyn Plaza of the Williamsburg Bridge, now wants to supply the city with cheesecloth at cost price. Mr. Howe, who at present is running a co-operative store, in connection with some of his old employees, has made a written offer to the city and will probably get the contract.

A jury in Morris County, N. J., decided the other day that it is not profanity if a man tells a woman who has made absurd accusations against him, that she is "talking like a fool." The defendant in the case, Surrogate David Young of Morris County, did not deny having used the expression quoted, but pleaded justification, thus rubbing it in, so to speak. The jurors evidently considered the woman's personal attack upon the Surrogate's official integrity sufficient provocation and justified the defendant of the charge of profanity.

Heretofore about ninety-five per cent of the horses in the service of the New York fire department were named Jim, Jack or Pete. This will be changed in the future and the "boys" will have to exercise a little more originality in finding names for their horses. A rule has been promulgated which prohibits the use of any name for more than a single horse in the department. As there are hundreds of horses in the service of the fire department, it will not be an easy matter to find suitable names for the animals and avoid duplication. The trouble arose from the fact that owing to the sameness of the names of the horses, it was almost impossible to keep the accounts for shoeing and doctoring of the horses straight.

Another "meanest man" has been found in the person of an alleged milliter, who robbed the money bank of the child of a man who had sheltered and comforted him. The very irreverent gentleman was evidently an exceedingly smooth customer, for after his conviction, on the way to prison, he managed to elude the officers who were guarding him and succeeded in making good his escape.

ELECTION ORDER.
 WHEREAS, the Trustees of the Wichita Falls Independent School District as incorporated by a special act of the 31st Legislature of the State of Texas, approved March 7th, 1909, acting under and by virtue of the authority conferred by said act deem it advisable to submit to the qualified voters in said district the proposition as to whether or not the bonds of said District hereinafter described shall be issued for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, and whether or not a tax shall be levied to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to liquidate said bonds at maturity, as hereinafter set out:

Therefore it is hereby ordered by the said Board of Trustees of the Wichita Falls Independent School District, that an election be held on Tuesday, April 5th, 1910, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted:

Shall the Board of Trustees of the Wichita Falls Independent School District be authorized to issue the bonds of said District in the sum of Forty Thousand ($40,000.00) Dollars payable in forty years after date with option of redeeming same at any time after ten years from date, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable annually and to levy a tax of 8 cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of all taxable property in said District to provide for the payment of the interest on said bonds semi-annually and create a sinking fund sufficient to redeem them at maturity, for the purpose of the erection and equipment of public free school buildings in said District?

Said election shall be held at the New City Hall at the corner of Ohio avenue and Ninth street in the City of Wichita Falls, in Wichita County, Texas, and the following named persons are hereby appointed to hold said election: J. S. Fore, presiding Judge; P. C. Maricle, Assistant Judge; F. H. Denison and D. M. Perkins, Clerks of said election.

Said election shall be held as provided in said special act of the Thirty-First Legislature above referred to and only qualified voters, who are property tax payers of said Wichita Falls Independent School District shall be allowed to vote.

All voters desiring to support the proposition to issue the bonds as hereinafter fully set out and described shall have print or written on their ballots the words "For the issuance of Bonds" and those opposed to said proposition to issue bonds shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "Against the issuance of bonds." The manner of holding said election and making returns thereof shall be governed by the provisions of said special act of the legislature above referred to, and by the laws of the State of Texas when not otherwise provided for in said special act.

A copy of this order signed by the President of said Wichita Falls Independent School District shall serve as a proper notice of said election, and the President of said Board of Trustees of said District is hereby directed to cause said notice to be posted at three public places in said Wichita Falls Independent School District for at least 20 days prior to the date of holding said election, and also by publishing a copy thereof in some newspaper in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, once in each week for three successive weeks, prior to said election.

A true copy from the minutes of the Wichita Falls Independent School District, passed March 11th, 1910.

Alderman Young's Platform

Fellow Citizens and Voters:

This meeting has been called that the candidates for the different city offices may express their views upon public questions. This is right and proper. Voters should know how every man asking for their votes stand on every public question. I am not a public speaker; therefore, have prepared a statement, setting forth my views on all the questions I think the citizens of Wichita Falls are at this particular time vitally interested in. I believe "a public office is a public trust," not a "private snap," and that a public officer should be the people's servant, not their master. As mayor, I would favor the hearty co-operation of the mayor and the city council with the citizens and the Chamber of Commerce, in the encouragement and establishment of every legitimate enterprise that could be induced to come to our city, and that they should encourage the investment of outside capital in the city, and should use every proper and legal means toward the encouragement of such legitimate enterprises and investments.

As mayor, I would see that every dollar of the taxes collected from the citizens was expended for the citizens' benefit. The people pay the taxes, and the people have a right, and should know, how the taxes are expended. Therefore, I would favor an annual report, to be published in the newspapers of the city, showing the receipts and disbursements of all the money collected by the city from the people.

I believe that additional sewer facilities should be made just as fast as the growth of the city demands it, and the finances will permit, and I would advocate a lower rate of taxes on the individual citizen for the use of sewers.

I am in favor of street lighting and would recommend the putting in of such lights just as fast as the city's finances would permit.

I believe the streets of the city should be either graded and gravelled or paved, and I believe that this should be done just as fast as possible, the city's financial condition considered. I further believe that in doing this work, it should be done in a manner that would make it a permanent improvement, and I believe that once grading and graveling or paving is begun upon a street, the work should be consecutive; that is to say, there should be no breaks in this work—that it should not be done in a manner to favor one citizen over another, but that in the grading, grading or paving of streets, each and every citizen should be treated alike.

I favor a special charter for the city; I believe that charter should contain a clause, making all city offices elective.

I believe in a "government by the people, of the people and for the people," and that the voters of Wichita Falls are just as capable of electing the minor officers for the city as are the mayor and city council.

There is nothing, in my opinion, that adds more to the health, comfort and happiness of a people than public parks and shade trees along the streets of the city. This is especially true as to the poor of the city, who are unable to go off to summer resorts during the hot months of summer. Therefore, I would aid, in every way in my power, in the making of public parks and the planting of trees in the city.

The voters of the city have voted paying bonds, and if you will elect me mayor, I will see that every dollar of these bonds go for the purpose you voted them, and that the money is wisely and economically expended.

The citizens of Wichita Falls are entitled to a pure and wholesome supply of water, and if elected mayor, I will use my best endeavors to have such water furnished to the city by the Water Company.

In my opinion, the cement sidewalks have done more than any other one thing to change Wichita Falls from a village to a city, and I shall use every means within my power to have the good work go on.

Our present rate of fire insurance is exorbitant, and under proper regulations by the city council and at a comparatively small cost to the city, this rate could be greatly reduced, and, if elected, I shall undertake to have these regulations made so as to obtain the reduction, which would be from sixty-four cents, the present rate, to above thirty-four cents, and which would place the rate at about where it was before the state rating board established the present rates.

I understand it is being charged against me that I would not enforce the laws when violated by the saloon men of the city, because of the fact that I am an anti-prohibitionist. (It is true that I am an anti-prohibitionist, but it is further true that I am an anti-prohibitionist ALL the time). Now, I want to say to you, fellow citizens, that I am for law and order, and so far as within my power lies, would see that every law on the statute books, that comes within the city's jurisdiction, was enforced, in both letter and spirit of that law. If a saloon man, or any other citizen, during my term of office (if I should be so fortunate as to be elected) should violate any ordinance, I will see that he is prosecuted to the full extent of the law. A criminal is a criminal; it matters not what his business may be, whether he is an anti or a prohibitionist, and I believe that every criminal should be punished for his crime.

Fellow citizens: If I am elected mayor of your city, I stand for "peace and good will toward all men," and after this election is over, regardless of results, regardless of who may be your mayor, let us have peace among ourselves, and get together and pull together for a larger and better and more beautiful city. Let every man in Wichita Falls raise his voice first, last and all the time, under all circumstances and at all places, in speaking a good word for the upbuilding of Wichita Falls and Wichita County.

Thanking you gentlemen for your attention and soliciting your votes at next Tuesday's election, I bid you, one and all, good night.

FORT WORTH MAKES SERIES THREE STRAIGHT FROM THE LOCAL TEAM

Fort Worth 3 Wichita Falls 1.

The Panthers took the third game of the Wichita Falls series yesterday, though it was not nearly as easy a task as on Thursday. Both teams were in better form and the game was much more pleasing. Infield errors contributed to Wichita's defeat and inability to hit the ball at needed moments also kept her score down.

Jimmie Hancock pitched the first six innings of the game, allowing three hits. Barnett, who replaced him for the last three innings, let his opponents down without a hit. Burk pitched the entire game for Fort Worth and did effective work, especially in pinches. The local infield seemed a little off its feed and made several bad errors.

Wichita's only score came in the sixth inning when Burk walked a man with the bases full, forcing Speer in. In the seventh Wichita Falls had a splendid chance for two scores, but nobody could hit the ball. Wichita Falls outhit Fort Worth, securing four hits to the visitors three.

In spite of the fact that the home team lost all three games of this series, local fans are not disappointed or discouraged at the outlook and it is recognized that there is some splendid material in the present lineup. The present infield is practically sure of the team, without a change and the outfield can be developed. Of the pitchers, Barnett, Hancock and Wilson seem to be making good, while Tullie Speer seems safe as a catcher.

The score:

Senator Nixon 60 Years Old

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Senator George S. Nixon of Nevada received the congratulations of his colleagues today on the occasion of his fiftieth birthday anniversary. Senator Nixon was born in Delaware in 1860 and began life as a telegraph operator in Nevada. Now he is reputed to be the richest member of the senate with the exception of his neighbor, Guggenheim of Colorado. Senator Nixon's term will expire next March. He expects to be re-elected.

MONSTER CROWDS

EVERY NIGHT AT EIGHT O'CLOCK VAST AUDIENCES ASSEMBLE ON LOT NEAR POSTOFFICE TO WITNESS BLOODLESS SURGERY DEMONSTRATIONS.

A Fine Entertainment is Given Each Night—The Great Irish Singer Will Arrive Today and Please the People With His Wonderful Voice.

Mr. John Morrison is due to arrive today and each evening will charm the people with his singing. Mr. Rozey Meersmith, one of the greatest piano players in America, will join the company next week. These gentlemen have been associated with Dr. Berry for a long time. With these additions the aggregation will be the strongest ever assembled in the south.

The bloodless surgery demonstrations are causing the people to become interested in the modern methods of treating diseases. The great syarthingil has been installed at the doctor's offices at the Brown Palace Hotel. With the syarthingil the doctor is enabled to successfully cure appendicitis without the knife. Many people in Texas have been saved from the knife by the syarthingil in the last few years. With this treatment, women who suffer from different forms of female troubles can be cured without knife, blood or pain. In the last three years hundreds of women have been cured quickly by this treatment who have been told that nothing but the knife would do any good.

Bloodless surgery, the syarthingil and other up-to-date methods employed by Dr. Berry, has, to a great extent, revolutionized the treatment of chronic diseases in the south. Cancers, tumors, gall stones, appendicitis, female diseases, nervous disorders, sciatic rheumatism and other chronic troubles seem to vanish under these new methods of treatment.

Charges Against Yale Athlete.

Chicago, April 2.—The case of Chas. A. Carver, the well known Yale athlete who is charged with wife abandonment, was called for trial in Judge Gemmill's court today. Mrs. Carver alleges that she found her husband in New York in company with Mrs. Margaret Barry, a playwright.

Honor to Francis H. Pierpont.

Washington, D. C., April 2.—In the senate today, as a fitting close to a week of more than ordinary activity, business was laid aside while prominent speakers on both sides of the aisle paid eloquent tribute to the memory of Francis H. Pierpont, "the father of West Virginia." The occasion had to do with the formal acceptance by the senate of the marble effigy of Pierpont contributed by the state of West Virginia to Statuary Hall. The statue was placed in the hall more than ten years ago but for one cause and another its formal acceptance by congress was delayed until this time.

Francis H. Pierpont, whom West Virginia unhesitatingly chose as one of her two favorite sons whose memories were to be perpetuated in Statuary Hall, was governor of Virginia during the stormy days of the rebellion. He was responsible for the convention of the western counties that decided that that part of the state should not secede from the Union. Soon after the secession of the older part of the state the newly-elected Governor Pierpont received authority from President Lincoln to raise troops, and the government sent down eight regiments into the newly created state. Next year congress recognized West Virginia, which was admitted into the Union in 1863. By holding the western portion of Virginia in line for the Union Governor Pierpont played an important part in the war.
