NAME WANTED FOR PAVILION AT LAKE

PRIZE IS OFFERED FOR MOST SUITABLE SUGGESTION FOR THE BIG BUILDING.

MAKE STEADY PROGRESS

Work On All Improvements Is Going Ahead Fast—Another Prize Is Offered.

The question of a name for the pavilion at Lake Wichita is puzzling those in charge and it has been decided to refer the question to the ladies of Wichita Falls for decision. Mr. Kell has offered a five-dollar gold piece as a prize for the most suitable name suggested by any lady before May 1. Each suggestion must be accompanied by the name and address of the lady making it and must be handed to Palmer Clark in person at the lake, by the lady herself. Mr. Clark will always be at the lake on Sunday afternoons and can be identified by the almost total absence of hair upon his dome, also by the ample sufficiency of his avirdupos and of his smile. Mr. Kell will appoint a committee to consider the suggestions and make the award.

It may not be known to Wichitans, but the pavilion at Lake Wichita is the largest in the country at a resort of this kind. It may be news to many Wichitans to learn that there is no similar structure, even at Coney Island in New York, White City in Chicago, Saratoga or any of the other noted resorts, that equals it in size. It is felt that a pavilion of this prominence deserves some distinctive name and it is up to the ladies of Wichita Falls to provide one.

A season ticket will be given to the party who makes the clearest guess of the attendance at the first ball game of the season at the lake. This guess will have to be filed, of course, before the first game is played, which will probably be some time in May. Mr. Kell is also responsible for this offer.

Steady progress is being made on all the improvements at the lake. The Interstate Fair building, the summer hotel, the race track and the ball park are all being pushed to completion as rapidly as possible and a large force of men is being steadily employed. The usual concert will be held tomorrow afternoon. The street car company is preparing to put in a loop at the pavilion, so that cars may be turned around more conveniently.

GOVERNOR TAKES ACTION.

He and Judge Calhoun Cross Each Other on Custody Case.

Texas News Service Special. Austin, Tex., April 9.—Governor Campbell today interested himself in behalf of a Mexican woman, Julia Delgado, from whom District Judge Calhoun yesterday ordered a white child taken. Texas News Service Special. Waco, Tex., April 9.—No legal steps were taken today to arrest R. B. Dickey, the former city secretary who was found short $14,000. The matter was referred to City Attorney Lud Williams, but so far no charge has been preferred, although the shortage is admitted. It is reported that Dickey is in Marlin.

YOUNG FARMER A HERO; STOPS RUNAWAY HORSE AND AVOIDS ACCIDENT

A horse belonging to R. E. Strange ran away at 3:15 this afternoon on Indiana avenue and a serious accident was narrowly averted. The horse was attached to a double rig, driven by Mrs. J. N. Prothro, and became frightened at a passing street car near the corner of 8th and Indiana. He ran north to 7th street and was turned the corner Clarence Burk seized the bridle and hung on. He was dragged about forty yards, the runaway being brought to a standstill in front of the Cream Bakery. Mrs. Prothro was unhurt, although badly unnerved by the experience.

Clarence Burk sustained a badly wrenched back, being thrown against a post when the horse was stopped. He is a farmer, residing north of the city. He was warmly praised for his action and had he been less active and determined, a very serious accident would almost certainly have taken place, as Seventh street was badly crowded at the time.

CHECK WAS PROTESTED.

Reformer Bilbo of Mississippi Could Not Pay Debts.

Jackson, Miss., April 9.—It was after 11 o'clock today when the senate resumed taking testimony in the bribery case. B. C. Bowen, a lawyer of Gulfport, told of a client of his putting a claim in Bilbo's hand. Bowen said Bilbo collected eighty dollars and charged one hundred dollars for it. The client turned the case over to Bowen and Bilbo sent a check for twenty-nine dollars to Bowen, but the check was protested and has not been paid.

GLIDDEN TOUR TO COME BY WAY OF THIS CITY; CONTROL IS UNCERTAIN

That Wichita Falls is almost certain to be on the route of the Glidden automobile tour, but that chances are against this city's being made a "control," is the substance of a letter received by the Chamber of Commerce this morning from the routing committee of the American Automobile Association. A "control" is a place at which all cars must stop and wait until the entire number of contestants has reached there. The objection raised against Wichita Falls as a "control" is that the distance from Fort Worth to this city is too great to make it convenient. There is, however, no other place that could take care of the motorists and this point will be urged upon the committee.

As yet nothing has been done by local automobilists toward the organization of a club and the Times takes this opportunity to urge upon them the necessity of doing so. The official "pathfinder" will be here some time this month and he should be met and escorted into and out of the city and some organization will be necessary to take care of the tour proper when it comes. It is felt that some action should be taken without delay.

ARREST MISSISSIPPIANS OF PROMINENCE—PAPER FLYING IS CHARGED

By Associated Press. Jackson, April 9.—Warrants were issued from the Sheriff's office today for the arrest of "Private" John Allen, of Tupelo, Representative Doherty, of Tunica county; Senator Engle of Natchez; Hon. Samuel Hamm, of Clarksdale, and Hon. T. G. James of Sharkey, the two last named being prominent delta planters, on the charge of poker playing. Four other well known citizens, two of whom are serving in the legislature, were indicted on the same charge but their names were not revealed. Several of the parties made confessions to the grand jury, John Allen leading the way.

The penalty as prescribed by the Mississippi code of eighteen eighty for playing poker is a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, and in the event of non-payment the judge can impose imprisonment for not more than twenty days.

By Associated Press. Natchez, Miss., April 9.—Senator Engle who was indicted at Jackson today for poker playing says he is not liable to prosecution or indictment and that the district attorney and grand jury at Jackson are aware of this. Engle says the indictment was caused by partisan politics.

FORMER LAKE SITES MAY BE FILLED UP

PROPOSITION IS TO BE MADE BY SAND COMPANY BEING FORMED HERE.

BY GALVESTON METHOD

Sand to Be Pumped Up from River Bed and Distributed by Gravity Pipes.

A proposition to fill up the sites of Crescent Lake and the other former lakes in this vicinity with sand from the Wichita River is to be made to the owners of the ground formerly covered by these lakes by the sand and gravel company which is planning to establish a plant in this city. This concern intends to use the same methods employed in "raising" the city of Galveston. They will pump sand and gravel from the bed of the river and distribute it through gravity pipes. They can deliver about sixty cubic feet per hour in this manner.

There is a sand bar in the river just north of the railroad bridge which would furnish the material for the filling. This would be pumped up with a specially manufactured pump to a height sufficient to give it the required flow to the place to be filled. A great deal of water necessarily comes with the sand, but it dries quickly and the sand is left.

Both of the lakes which used to exist in this city have been drained leaving ugly and unsanitary holes. If filled up, they would make very desirable property and the sand company believe that the owners will take kindly to the proposition. While it will be rather expensive, it is believed that the augmented value of the land would make it worth while to make the improvement. As soon as the company is equipped to do the work, the matter will be taken up.

This plan was tried at Galveston and worked very successfully there, the sand filling proving satisfactory. The sand filling can be used as a subsoil, being covered with other dirt as the owner may prefer.

JOLLY POSTOFFICE SAFE IS OPENED

YEGGMEN AT WORK THERE LAST NIGHT AND GOT AWAY WITH SMALL AMOUNT.

STOLE PRIVATE PAPERS

Overlooked Bulk of Money in the Safe. Officers Are At Work on the Case.

Yeggmen last night entered the store and postoffice managed by J. W. Coen at Jolly, eight miles east of this city on the Katy and Denver in Clay county. They got away with less than one hundred dollars in money and a number of valuable papers.

The authorities at Henrietta were at once notified when the robbery was discovered this morning and Sheriff George went to work without delay. He is in the city this afternoon in an endeavor to locate the perpetrators of the robbery. The private papers were the property of David Rogers, formerly storekeeper and postmaster at Jolly and were of considerable value to him.

The robbers overlooked the greater part of the money in the safe, leaving it behind. They apparently worked hurriedly. Dynamite was used to open the safe, but if any of the citizens heard the noise of the explosion they attributed it to something else. The Wichita county officers have been notified of the occurrence and are assisting in every way possible.

This is the first bank robbery in this section in some time, although a Denton county bank suffered in this manner several weeks ago. From the manner in which the Jolly work was done, it is believed that the crime was perpetrated by experienced yeggmen.

EQUALIZATION BOARD WILL START SHORTLY ON 1910 VALUATIONS

The city's board of equalization for this year, to fix the valuations for 1910, has been appointed by Mayor Noble, and will consist of the following:

C. W. Bean, M. J. Gardner, J. L. Jackson. Alternates, Lynn Boyd, R. M. Moore, J. J. Lory.

The meetings of this board will probably begin at an early date and the work will be completed by the first of July. It is estimated that the city's valuations for 1910 will reach the five million mark and they will possibly go considerably above that figure. Last years' valuations were about three million, six hundred thousand, and as actual building improvements in this city during 1909 were over a million dollars, there is little doubt that the five million mark can be reached almost without allowing for any real estate gains. Practically all of the members of the board are conversant with the real estate situation in this city and are in a position to judge values.

S. E. Trevathan and family have moved into their handsome new home at 1602 Tenth street.

The personnel of the Board of Equalization was announced, as follows: C. W. Bean, M. J. Gardner, J. L. Jackson; alternates, Lynn Boyd, R. M. Moore, J. J. Lory.

Perfect harmony prevailed at the meeting and the administration seemed to start off well. It was thought at first that it would be better not to swear in the officers yesterday, it being Friday, but it was decided to brave this superstition and they were sworn in last night. If anything goes wrong with the new aldermen, it can be duly charged up to the unluckiness of Friday.

IN SOCIETY'S REALM

THE CONVERSATION.

The parlor light was low and dim.
 Yet not too dim and not too low;
 He talked to her, she talked to him—
 Yet what they said they did not know.
 They talked about the latest play,
 They chatted about the newest book,
 But somehow each seemed to say,
 A different thing with smile and look.
 They talked about the flood in France,
 And of the row at England's polls,
 Of an amusing circumstance,
 Of chocolate, of breakfast rolls,
 Of making change on trolley cars,
 Of pictures in a magazine,
 Of what they put in good cigars—
 Of how to crank a big machine.

They laughed at some unconscious joke,
 They judged her latest photograph,
 They talked about the city's smoke,
 And of her uncle's epitaph.
 They gravely spoke of politics,
 Of how fair woman's lack of guile
 Would do away with graft and tricks—
 But more they said with looks and smiles.

At last he said that he must go;
 It took some time to say "good night"—
 The parlor lamp burned dim and low,
 But both their hearts were glad and light.

In conversation aptly led
 The evening had been nicely spent—
 Though neither knew what either said,
 Each knew just what the other meant.
 —W. D. Nesbit in Chicago Post.

"SPARE ME MY DREAMS."

Relentless Time, that gives both harsh and kind,
 Brave let me be
 To take thy various gifts with equal mind,
 And proud humility.
 But, even by day, while the full sunlight streams,
 Give me my dreams!

Whatever, Time, thou takest from my heart,
 What from my life,
 From what dear thing thou yet mayst make me part—
 Pinne not too deep the knife;
 As dies the day, and the long twilight gleams,
 Spare me my dreams!
 —Richard Watson Gilder.

Disguise our bondage as we will,
 'Tis woman, woman rules us still.
 —Moore.

Floral Club.
 April the fifth found the busy Floras' with minds alert, at the home of Mrs. Gibhart, on 12th street.

As the members gathered, the hum of conversation blossomed into a general exchange of ideas as to what to do to produce the prettiest and best roses, earliest chrysanthemums, and, in general, the most and best of everything for the fair. For one to have been eavesdropping, he would have decided that, if enthusiasm will produce flowers, Wichita Falls will have her full quota ere long.

When the roll was called, floral notes were given in response and were equal to a volume of interest to all flower lovers. Mrs. E. E. Saunders then sent our souls thrilled with one of her vocal selections, soaring upward.

Mrs. Alice Roberson had a lengthy paper on "Chrysanthemums; their summer needs," that was instructive for us. We cherish her our "Burbank" of magic, never forgetting to combine some literary feature with the programs of the beautiful in nature. A review of Julius Caesar was the theme on this occasion, ably handled by Mrs. W. E. Harris. Anthony's oration was quoted from setting forth the many noble traits of Caesar, and condemning the Roman conspirators.

The next subject the life of Schubert, was supplied by a song of the flowers, by Mrs. Harris and an exercise by little Wilma Fligo. Little Wilma is one of Flora's adoptions, and her baby fingers have been of inestimable value to us on more occasions than one.

The report of the work on the central high school grounds yesterday was very glowing; quite a number of flower beds under course of construction. The interest our teachers have lent to the work has carried its progress beyond our greatest dreams, and when Wichita Falls shall fly a flag of flowers over her 50,000 population, the tiny hands that are working under the patient care of our faculty of teachers shall have a monument erected that shall blossom in their memory forever.

Mrs. Sanders will entertain us next Tuesday at 1712 Tenth street.

Shower for Miss Katie Lou Avis.
 Mrs. Wade Walker entertained the Young Ladies' Club this afternoon with a handkerchief shower for Miss Katie Lou Avis.

Games of cards and "42" were played, after which light refreshments were served.

The hostess then invited the guests into the library, which was beautifully decorated with hearts and wedding bells. Here punch was served, all drinking to the happiness of the bride-to-be. During the social chat, Mrs. W. Y. McCune, dressed as an old negro "mammy," waddled into the room with her basket of clothes, and after stretching her line proceeded to hang out her washing, which proved to be the daintiest and most beautiful handkerchiefs, these in turn being presented to the bride.

Mrs. Walker then presented her with an illustrated cook book of her own work, which consisted of choice recipes from club girls.

Another feature of the evening was a Kodak picture taken of the guests, which caused much merriment. Those present were:

Misses Sibyl and Jewel Kemp, Mary Anderson, Kenney of New Haven, Conn.; Esther Gorsline, Vivian Mathis, Susie and Adlyn Gibson, Mary Ruth Ingram, Katie Lou and Lillian Avis, Allison of Illinois; Lutie Orth, Lucille Brooks, Polly Sifton, Minnie Young, Irene Raney, Fan Earl Robertson; Robbie Curry, Marshman, Lucille Wilson, Sadie, Willie Mae and Carrie Kell, Lysaght of Fort Worth, Mateer of San Antonio; Mesdames C. G. Woods, C. A. Souther of Dallas, M. M. Walker, W. Y. McCune, W. B. Shepperd, Alice Burnside.

All ladies who are interested in the cemetery, are urgently requested to meet with the cemetery association, whether you be members or not, Tuesday, April 12th, at the 10th street Methodist church, at 3:30 p. m.

THE LATEST FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, April 9.—With the approach of the summer season renewed interest is taken by women in negligee costumes suitable for warm weather. The shops show just now, a large variety of the most charming negligees of every material. It is a matter of wise economy to select some material for the negligee that will bear washing. Of these materials the most effective as well as the most satisfactory for laundering, are the Japanese weaves, showing the white raised stripes, on a colored ground, the plain chinas in white or pale shades of yellow, violet, green, blue or pink, and the natural colored pongees, any of which look well when trimmed with bows of broad ribbon. The latter may be taken off when the garment goes to the laundry.

Seamless shoulders distinguish a great many of the new negligees and at once commend to the woman who makes such robes for herself, as they do not require the perfect shaping of the garment between the throat and the elbow. Some of the most artistically draped negligees consist of single or double widths of material crossing the shoulders and joined from the center of the back to the front, the V at the nape of the neck being filled in with a triangle of embroidery or lace and the sides below the arms supplemented with sharply jointed gores running from the hem to the inner seam of the cut-in-one sleeves.

The cape collar effect, which is seen on many of the belted negligees, is another clever scheme for lightening the labor of fitting about the shoulders. In these gowns the straight widths forming the back and fronts are laid in narrow plaits between the throat and arm eyes, and the wide collar of fichu shape is so draped that the shoulders, bust and sleeve tops are completely concealed, as well as elaborately trimmed, for it is the mission of the cape to furnish the chief ornamentation of the gown. It may be made of fancy net or all-over lace veiling satin, of Persian patterned soft silk, of embroidered crepe de chine or of lingerie materials, depending entirely upon the fabric of which the negligee is composed.

Especially in the gowns of soft fabrics, like cashmere de soie, fine English mohair and silk veiling are seen the long sleeves falling straight from the shoulder, caught together below the elbow and drawn toward the sides in deep folds in the manner peculiar to sacerdotal garments, while the angel sleeves, lying flatly about the arms and forming deep points at the sides, are quite as often seen in sheer as in soft materials. Wing sleeves are prettiest in lingerie and lace or in thin silk and lace, for, although they are now fluffy in effect, their extreme width at the bottom and their fringed row of sharp little points make them appear cumbersome when developed in any non-transparent fabric. It is reported from Paris that the coming lingerie frock will be a girdled affair and not by any means a princess. The girdle is naturally a part of the very simple model, and it was inevitable that it should return sooner or later on the cotton frock, which lent itself none too well to the severity and dignity of the fitted princess. When the long front panel is now used the garment is girdled at the sides; when last season's cuirass is retained its upper line is dropped to the region of the waist; leaving it a hip yoke. Many of the new summer bodices fasten in surplice line; others, again, show a trimming in bolero shape.

Sleeves are three-quarters in length, of even stop at the elbow; but this last sleeve has not gained the popularity of the slightly longer, which covers the elbow. Skirts retain their narrow, straight look, although in actual width their sheer materials they measure more than those of last year. The old time bottom trimming is more than ever in evidence on all new dresses, and when ornamental bands are lacking—the eighteen-inch hem or facing is substituted.

Among the exclusive models shown in the fashionable shops and atteliers there are fewer Russian blouses than had been expected and it actually seems that this much over-worked style has been relegated to the cheaper models. Still, there are some charming models of that style and the Russian influence still continues in the numerous belted coats which bear but a slight resemblance to the real Russian blouse. Paquin has turned out a particularly good looking belted coat model in white broad-cloth, with wide collar and cuffs of gray silk and a patent leather belt. Another designer brought out a stunning rough gray model with collar of cerise embroidered in white and gray and a belt of cerise leather.

Paris has come to the rescue and aid of those women who have wanted a change of headgear. The new hat is a large flat shaped unrelieved by any perceptible crown. Whatever crown there is appears beneath the brim, thereby enabling a sure position on the curls under it. Its unbroken surface has obtained for this latest creation the name of "the plateau." When developed in black panne it is most becoming to women who have soft features and who can carry well a long, sweeping line at the forehead.

The lavish use of lace is one of the features of the present millinery season and delightful effects are obtained with the fine laces. The fine black laces of the Chantilly type are particularly in evidence upon the very modish hats and every fashionable milliner is showing wide-brimmed hats with high draped crowns of black lace over mousseline and straw brims or with draped crown of lace and straw brim covered with lace. Crowns have soared higher and higher and, although there are many turbans and small hats, indications point to very large hats again for midsummer. The wide brims show considerable diversity, but almost all roll in one way or another. The shape with wide brim rolling up close to the high crown at the left front and side is popular and many of the best models of this type are trimmed with a wreath of handsome large roses running up over the uprolled brim and on diagonally across the hat crown to the brim on the other side. Shapes rolling up almost exactly in front are smart but trying to most faces and must be considered carefully. Some of these models with bunches and high aigrettes of flowers set on brim and crown a little to the left of the front and with high crowns swathed in tulle, mousseline or silk are exceedingly good looking.

The most generally becoming of the large hats is of course the one with brim rolling to the crown on the left side, and there are scores of variations upon this theme among the loveliest of the new models.

There is every indication that parasols will be an unusually important toilet accessory during the coming summer season. Sunshades of every style, color and material are displayed at the age of 85 years, New York has in the fashionable shops and among them are novel shapes, like the Japanese with sixteen ribs and the pagoda shapes, with slightly upturned ends. Persian effects are most of all prominent in the parasols designed to accompany visiting costumes, and usually are seen with a border of plain colored taffeta. Parasols having covers showing ruffles, flounces or draped effects in chiffon are conspicuously absent this year. Occasionally is seen a taffeta or satin spread edged with a very narrow chiffon quilting, but the general tendency does not seem to favor fluffiness.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity
—Tonight and Sunday, unsettled weather. Showers tonight or Sunday.

The Brownwood Banner-Bulletin sizes up the gubernatorial campaign as follows:

"The governor's race appears to be resolving itself into a matter of each candidate seeing how hard he can rap the others. The hardest rappers appear to be getting the most cheers. The people, apparently, are not half so much interested in securing the best governor as in finding which man Joe Bailey wants elected or wants beaten, and in ascertaining the personal views of the candidates as to state-wide prohibition. All things else have been lost sight of."

When asked by the senate what business she is engaged in, Mrs. Nell, who is charged with participation in the bribery scandal in Mississippi, stated that she "is engaged in bookkeeping, handling real estate and selling Mississippi senators."

Bryan's Commoner points out that nearly all of the ninety-one persons indicted in Pittsburg on the charge of grafting are republicans.

While we are inclined to boost only our own city and county, we can't help but admire the public spirit and civic pride of the citizens of our sister city, Wichita Falls, Texas. Tuesday was "clean-up day" there and all business houses closed and the citizens, white and colored, turned out and cleaned all the streets and alleys of waste and rubbish. The Chamber of Commerce aided by the ladies, served free dinner to the workers, who wore white badges with the words: "Volunteer, Clean-up Day."—Devol (Okla.) Dispatch.

It is announced that four hundred thousand employes of railroads and other corporations have received voluntary advances in wages since January 30th. That sounds like harmony between employer and employe, and where there is harmony there is likely to be success. One of the reasons for these advances is the increased cost of living.

The proposition to require witnesses in the Mississippi bribery investigation to name another besides Bilbo who had accepted a bribe to vote for Percy, was voted down by the senate, which is investigating the charge. They are probably pursuing the plan that, "If they don't hang together they are liable to hang separately."

A citizen of Dallas, writing to a citizen of Wichita Falls about moving to this city, says: "I certainly want to clear out of here, as the water is bad and the climate is worse and both will be more so as the summer comes on." The water is fine here and the climate excellent. Come along.

President Taft has reconsidered and will make a speech in Indiana. With Senator Beveridge fighting the administration on the tariff question and the republican state convention endorsing the senator, it would seem that Indiana is in a bad fix from the stand point of friends of the administration.

We are only human, and there are times when forbearance ceases to be a virtue. We draw the line at the following, from the Amarillo Panhandle: Those Nevada bank robbers who made away with a heavy swag recently while naked, may be said to have inaugurated a nude departure in crackmanship.

The only inscription on the monument over the grave of Grover Cleveland, is the following: "Grover Cleveland, born Caldwell, N. J., March 18, 1837, died Princeton, N. J., June 24, 1908." The stone was erected at the direction of Mrs. Cleveland.

In the recent municipal election held at Amarillo, with three in the race for mayor, the total vote was 1235. J. H. Patton, formerly of this city, succeeded Lon D. Marrs as mayor of Amarillo.

Colorado Republican Editors.
Pueblo, Colo., April 9.—The men who work with pen and brain the year around to keep the republican party in Colorado in good fighting shape, rounded here today for a conference on the policy to be pursued by the party in the coming campaign. The visitors, all of whom are members of the republican newspaper association, were entertained at luncheon at the Maine hotel by Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the republican state committee.

Stray Topics From Little Old New York.

New York, April 9.—By the death of Dr. Thomas Rainey, who succumbed to an attack of pneumonia the other day at the age of 85 years, New York has lost an interesting character. Dr. Rainey was known as "The Father of the Bridge," because he had spent twenty-five years of his life and his entire fortune of about $600,000, in an endeavor to promote the building of a bridge across the East River, between Manhattan and Long Island City. The bridge was to cost $6,000,000, and was to be built on almost the same site as that on which the $17,000,000 Queensboro Bridge now stands. Dr. Rainey, who had had a varied and interesting career and had amassed a considerable fortune by building and operating ferries in Brazil, did not succeed in interesting capital in his bridge project and finally gave up his efforts, broken in health and almost beggared. Many years later the bridge was actually built, and, although he really had nothing to do with the final realization of his dream, Dr. Rainey always had a fatherly interest in the structure. On the occasion of the formal opening of the Queensboro bridge Dr. Rainey was presented with a gold medal bearing the inscription, "The Father of the Bridge." A bronze tablet is to be placed on the bridge, recording Dr. Rainey's efforts in behalf of the construction of the bridge.

The fiendish crime, of which Ruth Wheeler, a young and innocent girl was the victim has caused considerable stir in legislative circles. It has been proposed to enact a law which makes it a crime to send young women to offices to apply for positions. Prominent business men who, although shocked by the atrocity of the crime, did not allow themselves to be carried to hysterical extremes, are not in favor of such a law. They point to the fact that the fault is not in directing girls to places where there may be a chance for them to find employment, but in the reckless system which permits young girls to go to strange places unattended and unprotected. So long as young girls are permitted to go, without restraint or caution, to all sorts of strange and unsafe places and to associate with strange men, such crimes as the murder of Ruth Wheeler are likely to occur notwithstanding the most stringent laws.

While the Easter parade on Fifth avenue was at its height, the festive press agent "got busy." With the cunning of a true Oriental he had figured out that the presence of an enormous crowd on that great artery of traffic offered unequalled opportunities for free advertising. Acting upon this theory he packed the eleven men and women of the troupe of Hindu dancers and jugglers which he represents into automobiles and took them to the Plaza, at the entrance to Central Park. There the Hindus alighted and forming a circle in front of the Plaza Hotel, went through some kind of supposed religious ceremony, in which a big snake played the star part. The Hindus, it is true, are not in the habit of celebrating Easter, but "mandus vuit decipi" and the improvised ceremony was bound to attract attention to the show at a certain music hall.

Although it is almost too early for properly seasoned fish stories, Montclair, N. J. started the ball rolling by sending out as fine a yarn as was ever hatched in the brain of the most accomplished "nature fakir." According to the story a man named Horton and two friends, all from Montclair, went fishing at Gloss Pond, Verona. While Horton was holding his rod, he turned to speak to one of his companions, when something pulled his line so strong that it almost jerked the rod out of his hand. He started to pull in and found it took all his strength to do so. He finally landed his catch—now comes the yarn—consisting of a pike weighing five and a quarter pounds, which had six big bullfrogs (not bulldogs) hanging on it. The frogs, which were of enormous size, the combined weight of their hind legs being two and three-quarter pounds, had evidently attacked the pike and had bitten themselves with such bulldog ferocity into the body of the fish that they could not or would not let go, even when the fish was caught and pulled out of the water. Just wait till Teddy comes home.

An unusually pathetic case was the suicide, the other day of a little girl who, since the death of their widowed mother had taken care of her younger brothers and sisters like a "little mother." The child had been extremely fond of her mother and since the death of the latter had been downcast and constantly brooding over the loss of her beloved parent. The burden of grief became too great at last and the other morning, after having prepared breakfast for her little brothers and sisters, the "little mother" tenderly kissed them and leaped out of the window. She died shortly after that on the way to the hospital.

Accountant Goes to Sing Sing. Sidney Smith, an expert accountant with a good income, was sent to Sing Sing the other day to serve a sentence of five years for uttering bogus checks. The case is of unusual interest owing to the perplexing contradictions in the man's character. For more than twenty years Smith has been an active worker in church and charity organizations and he gave of his own with such liberality that he actually impoverished himself. To restore the financial balance he used to swindle wealthy persons with forged checks. The offence for which he was sent to Sing Sing was the third for which he has been tried.

Let Us Introduce You to Ripe Olives

It's too bad that ripe olives are not as well known as the pickled green olives for the ripe sister is just a little better, more pleasing even, than her green brother and he is mighty popular.

The ripe fruit is so delicate in flavor, so rich and tender and so full of the wholesome oil in such a delightful and palatable form that it is just irresistible to those who have tried it.

Now that's pretty nearly as strong as we can make it in words, but the fruit itself will more than make good in that description.

Our supply is put up by Bishop and that's a guarantee of the quality.

TRAVIS' TESTIMONY STARTLING FACTS

A Newspaper Man of National Reputation, Gives Statement of How Dr. LaFayette Saved His Life—Monster Cancer Was Eating Him Up; the Champion of Bloodless Surgery Killed it and Colonel Travis is Well.
 Colonel J. L. S. Travis of Austin, on the editorial Staff of the Statesman, is widely known as editor, author, historian and politician. The life of this eminent man was threatened by a loathsome cancer. Early in August he applied to Dr. LaFayette Berry for relief; in less than one month, the cancer was killed, the wound healed and the sufferer given life. The colonel in his gratitude, made his statement of what had been done for him before an audience of 5000 people one night at the LaFayette entertainment; and in order to satisfy all inquiry wrote the following letter to the "Tribune" of Austin, which we copy for the good of those interested:

 Austin, Tex., Sept. 9, 1908.
 To the Tribune.
 In reply to many letters and inquiries I am daily receiving, I wish to say—I had been treated by several physicians in whom I had the greatest confidence, for an eruption under the right eye—either a cancer or of cancerous nature. After three years of constant treatment by some of the best physicians in Texas, this sore constantly increased in size and virulence.
 About four weeks ago I went under the treatment of Dr. LaFayette Berry.

On the seventh day after the first application of his remedy for cancer he removed from my cheek a cancer as large as a half dollar in circumference. The wound healed rapidly and I believe is now entirely cured. The sight of the eye which had become impaired, is also restored.
 While I take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful skill and ability of the doctor, I also deem it a duty I owe to other sufferers from this dreadful malady to give the facts as wide publicity as possible. I unhesitatingly repeat the statement I made from the platform that if the cancer remedy was the only discovery made by Dr. Berry that would make him the greatest benefactor to the human race and entitle him to the gratitude of millions of sufferers from the most hopeless and soul crushing—leprosy alone excepted—which has ever afflicted mankind.
 Respectfully,
 J. L. S. TRAVIS.

The cure of cancers is but a part of the wonderful successes which have made Dr. LaFayette famous. Tumors, gall stones, appendicitis, female complaints, chronic liver and stomach and other painful and distressing diseases are successfully treated as well. The doctor has offices at the Menger Hotel. Go see him.
 The above is taken from the San Antonio Gazette. Dr. Berry is now in this city and can be consulted at the Brown Palace Hotel on week days.

Sanford Dodge Coming.
The engagement of Mr. Sanford Dodge at the Wichita Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday nights, will probably be the last opportunity this season that the theatre goers of this city will have an opportunity of witnessing a strictly high-class attraction.

The productions of Mr. Dodge have been acclaimed by the press all over the country as being equal to anything ever seen on the stage. He is an actor of unquestioned ability, and has surrounded himself with a company entirely capable of the roles which these high class productions call for.

On Wednesday night Mr. Dodge presents the Gladiator, of which an advance notice says:

Sanford Dodge brings himself forward—a true artist—by his clever stage management of one detail in the play if in no other. That is the scene in the Pagan Temple in the third act.

When Mr. Dodge first received the manuscript of the play the words were all there complete, but there was no directions as to "business" or "properties" of the ancient Roman marriage celebration.

The ritual of the ceremonial is no poetic invention as given by Mr. Dodge, but an inspiration of the theme—an inspiration backed with knowledge. Just as Mr. Dodge went to Italy to study the architecture of the old Roman days, so he delved into the depths of Roman literature before attempting to realize that scene. For months he searched and he was almost in despair when "Excelsior!"—he came across the volume that he most needed and desired.

He found tucked away in a secure corner of the archives of the Vatican in Rome—a little piece of parchment—almost undecipherable. For days he bent over it, for, even though a Latin scholar, there was a great deal in it that was obsolete and worn. All things turned out for the best, however, and at last he was the conqueror, and he left Rome with a very fair knowledge of the Pagan ceremony which he had almost despaired of learning.

That ceremony, with its mockery of God as we know him, with its ignorant superstitions, will be seen at the Wichita Theatre on next Wednesday evening.

On Thursday night Mr. Dodge presents "Othello" of which the El Paso Times says:

Shakespeare's great tragedy "Othello," as produced last evening by Sanford Dodge and his company, was a most pleasing presentation, and from the time the curtain arose until it fell on the last act the audience or those who understood and are lovers of the works of the immortal bard of Avon, sat spell-bound, enthralled as it were by the splendid interpretation of the different characters in this play.

Mr. Dodge as the Moor, ardent as a lover, courageous as a warrior was prone to be affected by the perfidious treachery of Iago and his pealous passions were so aroused that reason was banished from this man brave and strong in all else worldly, and plead as she would, Desdemona could not convince him that he was mistaken, when he accused her of disloyalty to him and affection for Cassio. In every instance Mr. Dodge lived up to his reputation as a keen student and portrayer of tragedy.

It took a master mind to conceive and put into life such a being as Iago and the part as portrayed by George C. Sommes was exceedingly clever and showed that he had given the character much careful study. Deceitful, cunning, cruel and wicked man that he was, he was possessed of such smooth manners and agreeable disposition that all called him "Honest Iago."

Adele Nickerson was a beautiful Desdemona and shared honors equally with Mr. Dodge.

Tyler Kent as Emilia, wife of Iago, rose to dramatic heights in her defense of her mistress and was roundly applauded. "Cassio, played by Lewis Lytton, was pleasing and the remaining members of the company were good in their respective parts.

Prices for this attraction will be 25 cents to $1.00; and seats can be had Monday morning at Bean & Huey's office, 617 8th street.

Revival Meeting Begins Sunday.

Evangelist L. E. Finney.

The Baptist meeting, which has been announced for some time, will begin Sunday morning. Mr. Hugh L. Hiett, leader of the singing, met the choir last night and had a good practice. Evangelist L. E. Finney arrived today and will meet those who will assist in personal work tonight at the church. The morning service on Sunday will be held in the church, corner of Austin and Tenth streets. There will be an afternoon service at three o'clock at the tabernacle, on Indiana and Ninth streets. The Sunday night service will also be at the tabernacle. The pastor and members of the Baptist church earnestly desire the co-operation of all the Christian people of the city in this meeting. The members of the different choirs of the city are most cordially invited and earnestly requested to assist in the music at all these services.

There will be special services for those attending the public schools and all other children of the city, Tuesday and Friday afternoons. A junior choir was organized by Mr. Hiett this afternoon at the church. The singing by the children will be a special feature of the meeting.

JOSEPH P. BOONE, Pastor.

Singer Hugh L. Hiett.

Another New Destroyer.

Quincy, Mass., April 9.—The torpedo boat destroyer Perkins, built for the United States government by the Fore River Shipbuilding Company, was successfully launched here today. A large number of guests were present from Washington, Boston and other points. The destroyer was christened by Mrs. Larz Anderson, daughter of Captain George H. Perkins, in whose honor the vessel was named.

The Perkins will be of 742 tons displacement, 289 feet long and 26 feet, 1 1/2 inches in breadth. She will be equipped with 12,000 horsepower turbine engines. Her armament will consist of five 3-inch .50-caliber, semi-automatic guns and mounts, two .30-caliber automatic guns and two torpedo tubes.

Captain Perkins, for whom the vessel was named, was born in New Hampshire in 1836 and graduated from the naval academy in 1856. He served with gallantry in the civil war and was particularly prominent in the naval operation about New Orleans.

New Orleans Ready For Shriners.

New Orleans, La., April 9.—The thirty-sixth annual convocation of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, the third ever held in Dixieland, will begin in this city Monday. For four days the Crescent City will be given over to the delegates, who, with their families and friends, are expected to number nearly 75,000. The city is transformed with color and decoration. A mammoth electric arch blazing forth the welcome slogan, "Glad-U-Kum" spans one of the principal street intersections.

Among the brilliant features of entertainment which Jerusalem Temple of New Orleans has provided its brothers will be a typical Mardi Gras carnival and parade next Thursday. The Imperial Council ball in the historic French opera house will follow the parade. Each day there will be public receptions, sight-seeing trips to places of interest about the city and numerous other entertainment features.

Empress Augusta Memorial.
Jerusalem, April 9.—Emperor William's Mecca for German Lutherans, the church and hospice to be known as the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria Foundation was consecrated today in the presence of a most brilliant assemblage, conspicuous among whom were his Majesty's second son, Prince Eitel Frederick, and his Highness' wife. The picturesque company of onlookers, the simple and stately services combined to form a most impressive spectacle.

The church, which stands on the Mount of Olives, will be devoted to services of the Lutheran creed, while the hospice will be used as a convalescent home for the sick and suffering Germans in Palestine and adjacent parts. The management of the foundation is to be in the care of the Knights of St. John, the famous knights' hospitaliers, who have carried on their benevolent work of tending the sick and wounded since the sixth century.

Thief's Peculiar Humor.

Thieves are not particularly uncommon, but not many display so peculiar a kind of humor as the one who recently has visited a number of residences in Red Bank, N. J. One night last week he entered a residence while the owner and his family were asleep. The burglar gathered some silverware and a few overcoats together and was about to make a search for jewelry and other desirable things, when he was disturbed by some noise. He considered it advisable not to linger much longer, but before he departed through the window he wrote on the table cloth of the dining room table, "Will be back again." In another corner of the table cloth he wrote, "Excuse me, but it's only a joke."

BOY IS STABBED.
Fifteen Year Old Youth Is Injured By Another.

Solomon Blank, the fifteen-year-old son of A. B. Blank, who conducts a second-hand store in a room in the old city hall building, on the corner of Indiana avenue and 7th street, was stabbed by another boy of about the same age yesterday afternoon between five and six o'clock, the blade of the knife entering the left side of the Jew boy, making a very ugly but not necessarily dangerous wound.

It seems the Jew boy was left in charge of the store, and after he was cut or stabbed, he continued on duty, refusing to close the door and go to a physician. Last night his father reports that he suffered considerably from the knife wound in his side, and is today confined to his bed.

The wounded boy says that the boy who stabbed him had very little if any provocation for his act; that the boy, who had a rope, was attempting to lasso a bunch of shoes suspended from a rack at the door, and that he simply pushed or shoved him away, when he drew a pocketknife and stabbed him, and would have stabbed him again had he not taken hold and prevented.

Up to noon today no arrests had been made, and probably will not be.
