WILL HOLD SEMI-ANNUAL CONVENTION.

MANY VISITORS COMING

Sessions Will Begin Tomorrow Morning and Continue for Two Days.

The Northwest Texas Medical Association will hold its semi-annual convention in Wichita Falls tomorrow and Wednesday and physicians are already arriving to attend the meeting. A large number of doctors are expected here to participate in the sessions and practically every community of any importance in Northwest Texas will be represented. Dr. Wade Walker of Wichita Falls, is president of the organization.

The sessions will be held at the Elks' hall and will begin tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. J. L. McKee will deliver the invocation, after which W. F. Weeks, a young attorney of this city, will extend a welcome to the visitors on behalf of Wichita Falls. Dr. J. M. Bell of Iowa Park, will respond for the visitors.

Following the opening exercises, the association will be divided into section, on practice, surgery, obstetrics and other subjects and each section will hear papers on its particular features.

Tomorrow evening at the First M. E. Church, there will be a public meeting in connection with the convention, and all citizens are invited to attend. The program of this meeting is as follows:

Invocation—Rev. R. E. Farley.
Vocal Solo—Miss Avis.
Lecture—Dr. Bacon Saunders of Fort Worth.

Vocal Solo—Mrs. J. T. Roberts.
The officers for the ensuing year are to be elected Wednesday.

Among the Wichita Falls physicians who have been assigned places on the program are Dr. Guest and Dr. MacKechney.

Tomorrow afternoon the visitors will be taken to Lake Wichita and given a motor boat ride on the lake, followed by a supper in the pavilion.

PICKED NINE IS BEATEN BY REGULARS IN PRETTY BASEBALL EXHIBITION

Regulars 3; Picked team 0.

In one of the prettiest games witnessed on the diamond in some time, the regular Wichita Falls team defeated a nine under the management of B. C. Williams yesterday afternoon. The latter team was made up of several local players who are not on the regular team, and one or two outsiders.

The game was played for the gate receipts, all of which went to the winning team. There were no hits or runs for the first five innings, but Gibson of the regulars outlasted Anson of the picked team and the former batted for a victory in the last three innings. Gibson is from Longview and appears to be one of the best pitchers the local field has seen. Very few errors were made yesterday and the game proved highly satisfying to a large crowd of spectators.

FIRST REVIVAL SERMON DELIVERED YESTERDAY; MANY IN ATTENDANCE

Evangelist L. E. Finney preached his first sermon at the tabernacle on Indiana Avenue yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, choosing for his subject: "Jesus Christ, the Son of God." This sermon was for the benefit of the Christians, and drew a fairly good crowd.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, he delivered another sermon, the crowd being somewhat smaller than that of the morning, but at night every seat in the tabernacle was filled, and many were forced to stand on the outside. The crowd in attendance at the night service was estimated at from 1500 to 1800 people. He preached from the text: "Be Sure Your Sin Will Find You Out."

This morning at 10 o'clock another service was held at the tabernacle, and, considering it was Monday, the crowd in attendance came up to expectations.

The meeting has started off well and the interest seems to increase with every service. For the week services will be conducted twice each day, in the morning and at night.

PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTER IS FEATURE TODAY AT THE BRIBERY INQUIRY

By Associated Press. Jackson, Miss., April 11.—A fight occurred in the house here today between Representative Burkett, once a candidate for vice president on the populist ticket, but now a democrat, and Director of Archives and History Rowland. The latter after pummeling Burkett, was hit on the head with a cane by Burkett and rendered unconscious.

The row is supposed to have started over the bribery investigation. Rowland is not believed to be seriously injured.

The bribery investigation was resumed in the senate shortly after 11 o'clock this morning.

Former Sheriff and Tax Collector Scott of Poplarville, testified that Bilbo asked him to change the records in his office, so that it would be shown that he was delinquent and thus make him ineligible for the senate. Scott told him that even if he were so disposed, the chancellor's office would show the delinquency. Scott said that then the chancellor's office record was destroyed. Scott considered Bilbo's reputation for business transactions "shady."

THE NOVICE HOLLACAUST.

Fifteen Men Were Killed By Premature Explosion.

Texas News Service Special. Coleman, Texas, April 11.—Further investigation today at Novice, twenty miles Northwest of here, show that nine men were killed outright and three more seriously injured in the explosion of 1800 pounds of dynamite at the Santa Fe railroad camp there Sunday afternoon. The victims were badly mangled and fragments of their bodies were picked up a hundred yards from the scene of the explosion. Physicians today say three of the men injured will recover, but their names are not yet learned. Among those killed was A. T. Warren, foreman of the Santa Fe, who was employing over one hundred men at the camp on the extension of the Texico cut off and fifteen were working in Rocky draw when the signal was given prematurely and a heavy charge exploded right where they were standing. The dead: A. T. Warren of West Va.; Mell Bussey, of Coleman; Jack Reagan of Ft. Worth; Ed Arlington of Fort Worth; R. C. Pryor, of Stewart, Okla.; O. H. Bialock, of Harrah, Okla.; Jose Flores, Mexican; A. Legas, Mexican.

By Associated Press. Washington, April 11.—The coalition between the republican "insurgents" and democrats against the provision in legislative bill appropriating twenty-five hundred dollars for the maintenance of the speakers automobile resulted in the rejection of that part of the conference report by the house today by a vote of one hundred and eleven to one hundred and thirty-four.

NEW STRUCTURES IN DOWNTOWN SECTION

WORK STARTED ON TWO-STORY BUILDING BY FREIBERG ON OHIO AVENUE.

WHITE SELLS INTERESTS PLANS FOR BAND HERE

Local Parties, Instead, Will Buy Up Stores on 8th Street—Other Buildings.

Work was started this morning on a two-story brick business building between 8th and 9th street on Ohio, adjoining the structure occupied by the Wichita Hardware Company. Messrs. G. E. and E. V. Friberg will erect this building at a cost of approximately fifteen thousand dollars. It will be fifty by one hundred and fifty feet in size and will be a handsome structure. Brown & Cranmer have the contract. N. Henderson will begin work this week on a building immediately adjoining the one above mentioned, which will occupy that side of the street all the way to the city hall. The Henderson building is to be used as a garage.

H. B. Hines and J. L. Jackson have purchased from M. L. White of Ennis the tract back of the Miller drug store for a consideration of ten thousand dollars. Mr. White was to have started work this week on two two-story buildings there, but the same structures will be erected by the gentlemen who bought the lot.

The Times Publishing Company will award the contract this week for its new building at the corner of 7th street and Scott avenue and work will probably be under way by the first of next month. This is to be a two-story structure and will be constructed with particular attention to the needs of a newspaper plant.

The Wichita Falls and Northwestern began work this morning on its shops across the river and a force is at work clearing the site for the improvements. Actual work will begin this month. The old Katy depot is being moved away from its site to make room for the union depot. Work is well under way on the Joline three-story building at the corner of 9th and Indiana avenue and the foundations are about completed.

SHRINERS AT NEW ORLEANS.

By Associated Press. New Orleans, April 11.—Scores of delegations of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, entered the city today to attend the annual meeting of the Imperial Council of that order. Beginning early in the morning and continuing throughout the day there was an influx of Shriners from all sections of the country. Today's program embraces a fraternal exchange of greetings from Temple to Temple and sight seeing tours. The Imperial sessions begin tomorrow.

WEEKLY MEETING OF DIRECTORS

EXTENSION OF THIRTY DAYS IS ASKED ON KENTNER BRICK PLANT OFFER.

PLANS FOR BAND HERE

Young Men Are at Work and Directors Agree to Buy Uniforms. Other Matters.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met this morning, the purpose of the meeting being to close the deal for the new brick factory, which I. H. Kentner of Chanute, Kansas, proposes to establish here. This deal was to have been closed by April 15, but owing to the fact that the question of cheaper gas, upon which the proposition hinges, will not be settled until the Minnick drill strikes gas, it was decided to ask for thirty days extension on the offer. It is stated that the gas question will have been settled one way or the other by the expiration of that time.

Propositions for an agricultural implement factory, a wholesale drug house and a clothing mill were received, but none were in shape for determinate action.

The sum of twenty-five dollars was appropriated to bring Howard Everts Weed, a leading landscape artist of Chicago, to this city for a free lecture some time soon. The ladies of the Civic League are interested in bringing Mr. Weed to this city, as he is considered an authority in his line.

Several young men were present and asked the support of the Chamber of Commerce in getting up a band. After some discussion, it was agreed that the Chamber of Commerce should bear the expense of the uniforms and that it should assist in raising the necessary amount for expenses, which will amount to about $125 monthly. Some other minor matters of importance were given attention before adjournment.

EX CONVICT KILLED.

Returned to Woman Who Sent Him to Pen and Insulted Her.

Texas News Service Special. Muskogee, Okla., April 11.—Lum Campbell postmaster at Micholson, in this county, today shot and killed A. C. Head, an ex-convict. Head was convicted twelve years ago charged with assaulting Miss Sallie Harris and sent to the penitentiary. He returned to Micholson today, hunted up the girl, who is now Campbell's wife and used abusive language. Campbell then killed him following which he surrendered to the sheriff.

Texas News Service Special. Fort Worth, April 11.—The Southwestern University of Georgetown will assuredly remove to Fort Worth, according to advices received here today from Rev. ## CALL FOR REARGUMENT OF STANDARD CASE IN THE SUPREME COURT

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., April 11.—The Standard Oil and Tobacco cases were today reargued for argument by the supreme court.

The reargument of these cases comes as the direct result of the death of Justice Brewer. How the court stood on these cases is still unknown, but it is believed it was evenly divided and was loath to give the country a decision not supported by a majority of the full court, which would be five members.

By Associated Press. New York, April 11.—The order of the supreme court for a reargument of the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases was greeted on the stock exchange with an upturn of prices. Union Pacific rose five and quarter points, and Southern Pacific and steel were active on advancing figures.

FIRE IN DUBUQUE HOTEL.

Several Are Killed Today in Early Morning Panic.

By Associated Press. Dubuque, Iowa, April 11.—Fire broke out in the Julian hotel early today where two hundred guests were asleep in the wild panic which followed, Sam Levy of Chicago, was fatally hurt by jumping from a third story window and Charles Evans of Philadelphia, suffered internal injuries. Firemen rescued the other guests. The interior was ruined with a loss of fifty thousand.

By Associated Press. ## MET IN FOREST.

OFFER FOR PAVING OF TENTH STREET

PROPERTY OWNERS MAY AGREE TO PAY ENTIRE COST ON THAT THOROUGHFARE.

DISTANCE OF ONE MILE

City May Make Agreement to Refund One-Third When Finances Will Permit.

The paving of Tenth street, from Indiana avenue westward for about one mile, is now being contemplated by the property owners on that thoroughfare and it is probable that a contract for this work will be signed in the near future. A. B. Potter, representing the Petrolithic Company, proposes to pave this street for $1.15 per square yard, or about thirty thousand dollars for the entire distance.

It is planned for the property owners to bear the entire proportionate expense in front of their lots, with the understanding that when the city is financially able to do so, it shall refund each property owner one-third of his outlay. It is probable that the property owners will be able to secure the paving on a basis of one-third down and the balance in one and two years, although this matter has not been settled.

Several of the property owners on 10th street, including Frank Kell, J. A. Kemp, T. R. T. Orth, Wiley Blair, G. D. Anderson and several others have indicated their willingness to do their share and the outlook is favorable for securing practically an unbroken list. The city cannot make any formal agreement to pay the one-third, but the work can be done with that verbal understanding. It is not proposed to use any of the bonds for this purpose, as it has been the understanding all along that they were to go for paving the downtown district, only. The matter was brought up at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors this morning and is now in the hands of the paving committee. The "petrolithic" is about fifty per cent cheaper than bitulithic or brick, and if Tenth street could be paved for the proposed distance, it would eclipse in appearance any residence thoroughfare in the state.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS TO INCORPORATE—EMPLOY SECRETARY SHORTLY

The directors of the Young Men's Christian Association held a meeting yesterday afternoon and it was practically decided to incorporate the organization under the laws of the state, giving it the right to own property. When this is done the ownership of the quarters now occupied by the Association will revert to the First M. E. Church, from whom the Association will lease it at a nominal cost. This, it is believed, will eliminate some of the objections which have been raised to the present arrangements. The delegates to the Waco convention announce a very successful meeting there. They had been instructed to look out for a suitable man to take the secretaryship here and it is probable that a definite arrangement will be made this week as a very desirable man is being considered for the position.

MARLOW AND STONE TO AWARD CONTRACT FOR DRILLING WELL SOON

Marlow & Stone will award the contract this week for the drilling of an oil and gas well west of the city and the drill will go down two thousand feet. The organization of the stock company formed by Marlow & Stone is about completed and a charter will probably be taken out within the next few days. About four thousand acres covered by leases have been secured and it is considered that the outlook is very bright for a good well. The first well will be put down about two miles west of the city, between the city and Lake Wichita.

Help Those Who Can Not Help Themselves

By the death of their mother, Mrs. Sallie Sullens, which occurred at 10 o'clock last Saturday night, at 1911 Indiana avenue, Carl Claibourne and Martin Darl Lewis, have been left orphans, penniless and without relatives who will take sufficient interest in them to give them a home.

Mrs. Sullens came to the city from Oklahoma City about one month ago and opened up a small boarding house at the place mentioned above. At the time of her death, which was caused by pneumonia, she was doing all in her power to make an honest living for herself and her two boys, but was unable to do more than that.

The two boys seem to be very bright little fellows, but have been out of school for three years, because of the fact their mother was unable to buy books for them as her resources were severely taxed to provide food, clothing and a shelter for them.

For the present, Mr. D. W. Moody, a carpenter, and who was one of the boarders at the Sullens home, has agreed to take care of the boys, provide food and clothing, and start them to school, but as he, himself, is a poor man, he should have the financial assistance and the encouragement of all good people in Wichita Falls, and the Times has been asked to call upon them for free-will offerings and subscriptions.

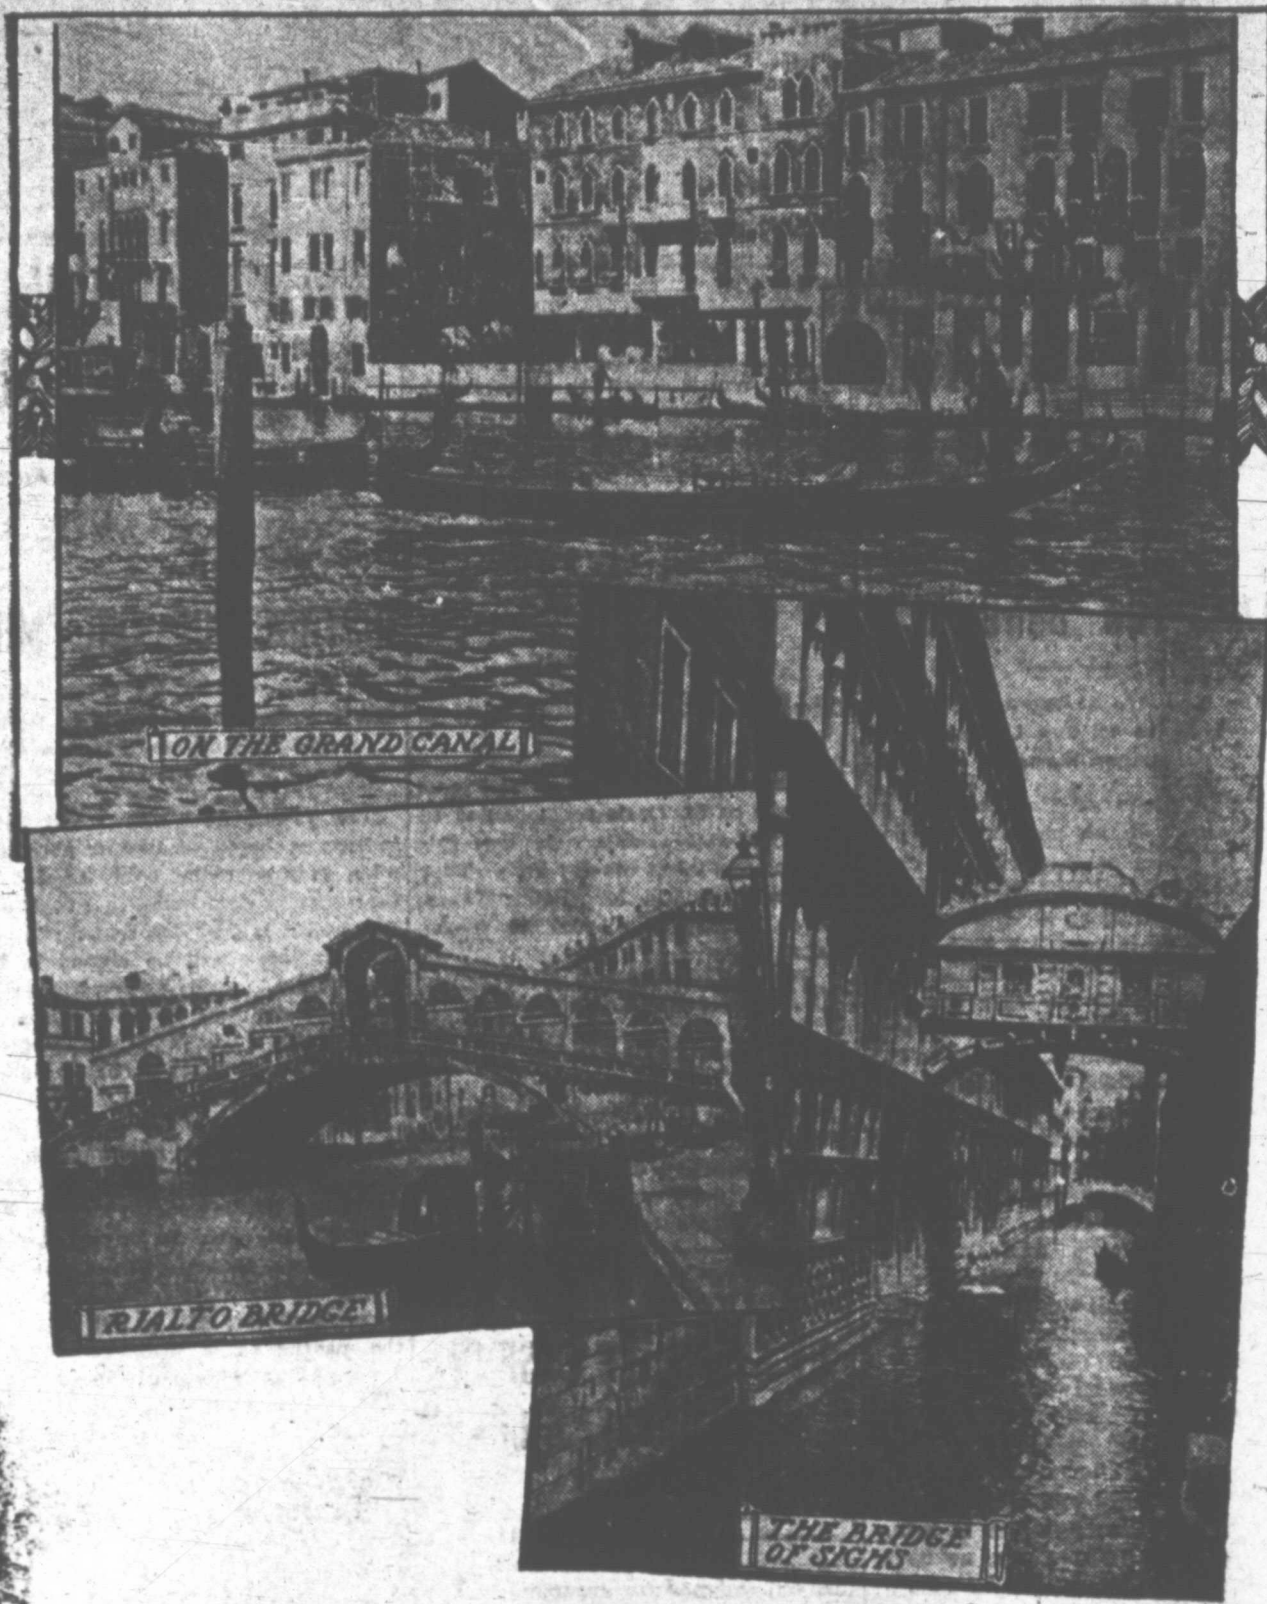

If this case appeals to your sympathy, then do what you can to help these two boys, who are unable to help themselves.

Before going to press the following subscriptions have been received:

North Texas Furniture Co	5.00
Times Publishing Co.	5.00

Scenes Around Dirty, Historic Venice Where Roosevelt Will Visit This Week

MURDOCK ON INSURGENTS.

He Tells What They Are Trying to Accomplish.

Victor Murdock, member of Congress for the Seventh Kansas District, contributes a timely and important article in the April number of the North American Review on "The Insurgent Movement in Congress." Mr. Murdock analyzes what its purposes are and what the results will be if it becomes operative. He says:

"Now those who are called insurgents desire (1) to make the Speaker ineligible to a place on the committee on rules; (2) to take away the power of the speaker, to refuse recognition when recognition is in order and there is no rival for the floor when a member asks it; (3) to have the house itself select its own standing committees. There is no effort by the insurgents, and there has been none, to do away with any of the procedure which makes for expedition in public business. The power of closing debate is not to be touched. The Reed rules against dilatory motions and for counting a quorum are to be left undisturbed. The means to overcome a filibuster and proceed to a final vote on all measures will stand in all its efficacy. It is proposed that the speaker shall surrender his monopoly in legislative initiation; that he shall give up control that cuts the cogwheel of representatives to fit the irregularities of his personal caprice; that he shall lose his power, be it personal, official, or both, which enables him to block and delay public business through the device of the pigeonhole, refusal of consideration and the postponement of mandatory bills. But, most of all, it is proposed to give back to the membership of the house the right of vital participation in legislation, the privilege of reflecting, not the wish of the presiding officer, but the wish of their constituencies."

Classical and Modern Beauty.

The statement by a Yale professor that the "best formed and best looking women of today" are "caricatures by comparison with the Grecian women of old," would be more to the point were it possible to determine to what extent the examples of classical sculpture we possess the artist's ideal and what actual resemblance their marble figures bore to the living women of the time—how near the ideal approached the type.

The woman of ancient Greece, as depicted by Aristophanes and the satirists, are being quite a different order intellectually from the Antigones and Iphigenias, and it is not improbable that Phidias and Praxiteles idealized their physical attributes as the classical dramatists idealized their mental.

But even the Greek ideal is compared with the modern American type, is the comparison so much to the disadvantage of the latter? If there is a loss of lines there has been an immeasurable gain in expression and in "soul." The Yale professor thinks that a young woman of today, even if she had hundreds of admirers, would have a little chance with the original Grecian model. There is better reason to believe that a Venus Milo in flesh in a New York drawing room would be voted massive and stupid.

But is it a mark of the Philistine to ask what he has to do with Greek standards of feminine beauty? What would they have thought in the Athens of Pericles of the suggestion by Egyptian critics that Greek women did not conform to the physical proportions of the women of Memphis or Thebes? Our own standards of physical beauty are now the tests by which such comparisons are to be determined. The main consideration is the superiority of the American type, whether or not it agrees with classical ideals.—New York World.

The Social Ideal.

In the April number of the North American Review Bishop Chauncey R. Brewster contributes an able article, "The Social Ideal and the Christian Church"—a complement to one published in the March number of the Review on "The Democratic Ideal and the Christian Church."

Bishop Brewster makes an appeal for co-operation of the social body to withstand castes and says, in part: "The menace to society and to the democratic ideal in the estrangement and antagonism of classes must be confronted by Christianity. Nothing else has the requisite inclusiveness and moral compulsion. Christianity is concerned with personality. But its revelation implies more than mere single individuality. Its great purpose is personality taken up into brotherhood and corporate fellowship. Because it is personal it is, moreover, social."

It means that, as John Wesley said, "ourselves and others can not be put asunder." Christians must not be content to accept any doctrine of an irreconcilable conflict of classes in its long, eventful history the Church has brought to bear upon the world influences of emancipation and uplift, for example, on behalf of the slave, woman the feudal serf. But it has for its mission not only to break yokes, but also to bring men together and hold them together in their freedom.

FARM AND STOCK NOTES

From the Farm and Ranch.
Broom corn and sorghum should not be planted close together if planted so they mature pollen at the same time. They are closely related botanically and mix.

Although sorghum makes heavy draughts upon the plant food of the soil, it is a splendid forage plant and the syrup deserves more consideration on our tables.

Plans should be made to turn the oat stubble as soon as the crop is harvested and plant the land in summer cover crop. Cowpeas are very valuable for this purpose.

Did you plant a seed plant from which to select your seed corn next year? If you did not, do it now. It is better to risk late planting than to neglect this important matter.

Experiments by practical farmers as well as experiment stations of the south, have clearly demonstrated the value of acid phosphate on most of our soils in hastening early maturity of cotton.

Louisiana sugar cane thrives in most sections of the humid and semi-humid regions of the southwest, and should command more attention. For home use cane syrup is not to be compared with sorghum. Try it this year.

It has been found that nitrogen, when applied to cotton early and in moderate quantities, hastens maturity. Applied late or in large quantities it prolongs growth of the plants and may prove a disadvantage in weevil regions.

Do not neglect to keep accurate farm accounts. Look to the future and correct the mistakes of the past. Without a record of the seasons and the cost of this year's crops, you cannot improve your management next year.

Cowpeas should not be planted until the soil becomes warm and the weather is favorable for rapid growth. They require a warm soil and are retarded by cool nights and damp, disagreeable days. You will not gain by planting cowpeas early.

Cow beans stand earlier planting than cowpeas, and for this reason they should be more extensively planted in the southwest. They may be planted from April 1 to May 15, while it is seldom advisable to plant cowpeas in the latitude of North Texas until May 15.

The deer is found almost indispensable where dairy cows are kept. Recently it has been found that it cannot well be dispensed with for fattening cattle. Used with corn, silage makes a very cheap feed for steers where they are to be finished for market. Why not build a silo and get profits in dairying and feeding?

Early cultivation of corn will greatly accelerate growth. By stirring the soil early air and sunlight enter, warm the soil, start the action of soil bacteria in making plant food available and thereby hasten the development and maturity of the plants. Weeds are very easily destroyed when the soil is cultivated as they germinate, or soon after. Much moisture will also be saved if a mulch is made early.

Practical feeders, as well as several experiment stations, have shown that rice hulls must be fed with great caution. In large quantities it has been found that they are injurious to animals. Hulls contain silica, are sharp and hard to digest and often irritate the mucous membrane and intestines of animals. It is very doubtful whether or not it is ever advisable to feed rice hulls. They can be used to advantage as mulch for orchards and the ashes make good fertilizer.

The Newspaper Reporter.
The most accurate reporter is the instrument attached to a bicycle or automobile or other machine to report the speed or distance of travel. These are mechanical and truthful reporters unless the gearing or mechanism becomes damaged.

The reporter for the newspaper is the most complicated of all recorders. He is attached by his employer to the pulse of humanity and his duty is to report all its throbs, its quickenings and relaxations. The reporter must know all the motives of men. He must have broad insight and foresight. He must distinguish between facts and fiction and separate the true from the false. He is not a judge. It is the driver who closes the throttle when the recorder shows too much speed—the recorder has nothing to do with the driver other than to report.

So it is with the reporter. His duty is to report accurately to his employer the activities of the great human machine or of that particular part of it which work about him. He cannot say that these facts are right or wrong or should be other than they are.

The thing he reports is called news. His duty is to know news when he sees it. He should report the news as it is with accuracy. To be accurate he must be fair and truthful. His duty goes no further. He cannot make or unmake news and he who would make the reporter do so is violating the commonest standards of morals. He becomes the instigator of a libel or an attempt to defraud.

The reporter must always be on guard lest he become the tool of such instigators and thus lend himself to defraud or inaccuracy.—University Missourian.

Laymen's Meeting in Butte.
Butte, Mont., April 11.—Church workers from many cities and towns of Montana are assembling in Butte for the convention of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. The gathering will begin its proceedings tomorrow and will continue in session until Friday. Present indications point to a large and representative attendance. Among those announced to address the convention are Bishop Brewer, J. Campbell White of New York, Bishop J. F. Robinson of India, Rev. J. M. Stedd of Persia, Rev. J. J. Deering of Japan, and Rev. W. R. Hotchkiss of Africa.

Negroes Oppose "Jim Crow" Law.
Guthrie, Okla., April 11.—Representative negroes of Oklahoma assembled in mass convention here today to discuss plans for prosecuting the "Jim Crow" case, which is to come before the United States circuit court of appeals at St. Louis early next month. The case was brought to test the constitutionality of the law requiring separate railroad coaches and accommodations for whites and blacks. The convention is held under the auspices of the Constitutional League, a semi-political organization of the negroes of Oklahoma.

Gigantic Lockout Impending.

Berlin, April 11.—Unless something should intervene at the last moment, this week will bring an almost complete suspension of building operations throughout Germany, as the immediate result of the general lockout threatened by the organized employers in the building trades, unless the labor unions should accept their ultimatum. The organization of the employers comprises about 22,000 members throughout the country and the lockout will involve directly about 400,000 building workmen and indirectly more than one million of other workers, in some way allied with or dependent upon the building trades. Numerous efforts to bring about a compromise have been made by the government and prominent officials, but failed in every case.

FAIR TO CORPORATIONS.

The following sensible reference to corporations is from the Texas Farm and Ranch:

Those who would harry corporations and drive them out of business, do themselves and the country injury. Corporations are necessary to the conduct of business in this century and are not more than limited partnerships. A policy of liberality for those who prefer to co-operate in business will be better. The most that should be asked is that business shall be done in fair and just ways, and this should be demanded of individuals, firms and corporations alike. We should not permit a corporation, the creature of the law, to become greater than the law, and in the same way we must hold individuals and partnerships to observance of law.

Every corporation which is inclined to deal fairly with the public is entitled to a square deal from the public.

It is announced that the deficit in the state treasury of Arkansas is so serious that a special session of the legislature may be necessary to provide means of meeting the expenses of the state government. The general revenue fund, out of which the general expense of the state government is paid, appears to be short, there being plenty of money in the treasury to the credit of the other funds, but these cannot be used, except by special act of the legislature.

They are certainly getting to be mighty particular in Mississippi. Not only are they objecting to a state senator being bought, but recently indictments were found against a number of politicians of that state for playing poker. Private John Allen being among them. The idea of depriving a Mississippian of the proud privilege of playing poker!

When informed that friends of Gov. Donaghey would enter him for the senate from Arkansas against Senator Jeff Davis, the latter smiled and said to a reporter: "I have heard so. That's easy."

Corporation and Individual Methods.

Tracing back the widely extended and often unreasonable hostility to corporations, we generally find a feeling that corporation methods means a secrecy to be distrusted. Apart from the excellent argument for publicity which is thus furnished there is an indicated defect in corporation management worth some thought.

The individual customer seeking personal touch with the corporation discovers that personal touch is difficult. Does he wish to see the president, first vice president, second vice president, secretary, treasurer, general manager, general superintendent—whom does he wish to see? The customer hardly knows, and the question at the general: "What do you want to see him about?" is resented.

That manufacturing plant which a year before was a partnership has had its distinctly personal atmosphere in its two private partners. When it becomes incorporated its atmosphere changes. As its plants enlarge it is walled in, with a keeper at the gate. Its general officers are moved to a skyscraper building, and it develops the "corporation manner."

In the matter of correspondence, the old, personal touch of the private concern is gone. Where Jones and Smith knew their customers by name, the corporation's correspondence department may know none of them. Correspondents, dictating to stenographers, cut letters to the monotonous, impersonal limit. That old, valued, former customer has been hurt at the change in correspondence. Once the letters he received had the intangible air of personal acquaintance. His own correspondence with the firm partook of it. The corporation leaves a wall in front of its correspondence, as it has built a literal wall against the customer who may call in person. "Oh," cries the old customer, "since they've incorporated they have something to conceal."

No corporation is so large that it escapes some measure of dependence upon popular favor. "Good will" is a growth of years of tact and honest dealing. Even a good business man reasons none too closely. Snub him and he may even risk his interests in retaliation against a real or fancied slight.

Wealth and even a measure of monopoly in any line naturally encourage tendencies to indifference. But it is no less a bad business policy. Relatively it is as bad in the corporation as it is in the grocery on the corner.—Wall Street Journal.

History of the Postage Stamp.

Who invented a postage stamp? A writer in Chambers' Journal points out that the inventor of the "adhesive postage stamp" was undoubtedly Rowland Hill. In 1837 he proposed the use of "a bit of paper just large enough to bear the stamp, and covered at the back with a glutinous wash, which the bringer might, by the application of a little moisture, attach to the back of the letter." No evidence that will bear the slightest scrutiny, we are told, has been produced to support the various prior claims to the invention of the adhesive postage stamp; and even should such a claim ever be established, it could not in the slightest degree lessen Rowland Hill's reputation.

It was in January, 1840, that uniform penny postage came into being; but it was not until May of that year that the postage stamps themselves were ready. There were four varieties in all; adhesive stamps of the value of 1 penny black and 2d blue, and envelopes of the same value. The stamps showed a profile of the youthful queen, after a medal by Wyon, and in their severe elegance of design and superb engraver's work form miniature works of art that in their kind have never since been surpassed or even equaled. The envelopes bore an elaborate allegorical design by William Mulready, R. R., in which Britannia was seen dispatching winged messengers to all quarters of the globe.

At the end of ten years after the introduction of Rowland Hill's stamp only thirteen foreign countries had adopted the invention, and it is curious to think that the example of Great Britain should first have been followed, in 1843, not by other great European powers, but by Brazil and two Swiss cantons. But during the '50s the accessions came thick and fast, till by January, 1860, there were eighty-five countries that had issued postage stamps. These colored labels soon began to attract the notice of the curious, and early in the '50s a few individuals here and there were forming stamp collections. But it was not until 1861 that the hobby attracted public attention, developing in the following year into a veritable craze.—Westminster Gazette.

From every section of the state comes reports of good rains recently and prospects for good crops are excellent.

A Very Sad Case.

Mrs. Sallie Sullens, a widow, died last Saturday night at 10 o'clock at her home, 1611 Indiana avenue, aged about forty years, and was buried yesterday afternoon at Riverside Cemetery, Rev. H. A. Able preaching the funeral service at the grave. Pneumonia was the cause of her death, and she leaves surviving her two small boys, the oldest about 14 and the younger one 9 years of age. They have no relatives who care enough for them to give them a home, and the family were in destitute circumstances at the time of the mother's death. Mrs. Sullens, since her residence in this city, has kept a few boarders, and by this means has supported herself and two children, but was not able to save anything.

Here is a case for those charitably inclined to show their kindness by assisting in every way possible to find good homes for these two orphan children.

Discards Characteristic Attire.

New York.—Senator Bailey's recent visit to New York revealed the fact that he has discarded his wide brimmed hat, white lawn tie and the broad front white shirt, which for so many years he affected. When Mr. Bailey first went to Washington in 1891, he soon became a conspicuous figure because his attire never varied.

He now wears a black derby, sack coat and fancy necktie and looks more the part of a prosperous merchant or banker than he does the Southern politician or statesman. He even wears a silk hat occasionally, although for ten years after he entered Congress he boasted of the fact that he had never owned a dress suit or a high hat.

By Associated Press.
Kansas City, April 11.—Dr. Hyde appeared in the criminal court today to answer the charge of murdering the late Col. Thomas Swope, the millionaire philanthropist and father of the physician's wife. Then Norah takes up the money when she clears the table, and we save it up to buy kitchen utensils."—New York Press.

Let Us Introduce You to Ripe Olives

It's too bad that ripe olives are not as well known as the pickled green olives for the ripe olive is just a little better, more pleasing even, than her green brother and he is mighty popular.

The ripe fruit is so delicate in flavor, so rich and tender and so full of the wholesome oil in such a delightful and palatable form that it is just as resistable to those who have tried it.

Now that's pretty nearly as strong as we can make it in words, but the fruit itself will more than make good in that description.

Temple of Siam.

Once a year all the Buddhist temples in Siam are visited by the king or his deputies, bearing the phra kathin (yellow robes), in conformity with an ancient custom by which the priests were made to seek their apparel for the ensuing year. During the lifetime of Buddha monks and priests were sent out to beg for old castoff garments, which were afterward dyed yellow and patched together to form the required robes. This ancient mendicant custom gradually gave place to the present one of making the garments from a new cloth of a bright canary yellow, provided by joint contributions of king, princes, nobles and commoners. When the king goes in the royal throne barge to present the robes in person he does so with great pomp and ceremony. The priestly garments, folded in bundles, are carried to the door of the temple to await the appearance of his majesty and his suit. The king on arriving takes a priestly robe and places it on a decorated altar. The chief priest then lays his hands on the garment and chants an acknowledgment.—Wide World Magazine.

Won by His Wit.

A story is told of an English clergyman who owed his appointment to a rich living to a lucky pun. He was tutor to the son of a nobleman and had not long taken orders when he attended the funeral of the rector of the parish in which the nobleman's seat was situated. The father of his pupil was patron of the living and was also present at the funeral of the deceased rector. There was a young clergyman present also whose grief was so demonstrative that the noble patron was much affected by the sight and asked if the young man was a son of the deceased gentleman.

"Oh, dear, no, my lord—no relation at all," said the tutor.

"No relation!" exclaimed the nobleman in a surprised tone.

"None, my lord. He is the curate, and I think he is not weeping for the dead, but for the living."

His lordship, who was something of a wit and a cynic himself, was so delighted with the bonnet that he conferred the living upon the ready punser.

Through a Big Telescope.

The first look through a great telescope is disappointing, but the novice soon sees that the flat appearance which the heavens present to the naked eye is replaced by a curious concavity; the moon and stars seem to be hung in space rather than spread out on a flat surface. For a moment one feels at the telescope like a child watching the swift moving balls kept in the air by a juggler and expecting to see one of those great, bright bodies fall. Then comes the thought, What keeps them there, apparently suspended in space with absolutely nothing to hold them firm? The explanation of the learned astronomer causes the brain of the layman to whirl, and he sees himself, perhaps for the first time, as a child gathering pebbles on the great shores of the sea of knowledge or as "an infant in the night, an infant crying for the light, and with no language but a cry."—National Magazine.

The New Men.

Of the late Atherton Blight, one of the founders of fashionable Newport, a Philadelphian said:

"Mr. Blight was amused by the antics of the militant suffragettes. At a luncheon at the Bellevue he once sat next to a lady with suffragette notions. Plovers' eggs, hard boiled, formed one course, and the lady called Mr. Blight's attention to the high cost of plovers' eggs that year.

"Even though," she said, 'they have to be shipped from England, I don't see why their price should have nearly doubled, do you?'

"Well—er—not exactly," murmured Mr. Blight, 'though they do say the hen plovers have taken to acting very oddly of late—strutting around, and growing topknots and spurs, and even trying to learn to crow.'—Exchange.

Court Dress of Laureates.

Tennyson's court dress when he received the laureateship did not cost him much, for it was the same court dress worn by Wordsworth, who in turn had it from the old poet Rogers, and it is still in the Wordsworth family. It is a wonder how Tennyson and Wordsworth got into it, for Rogers was a little fellow. Tennyson had no passion for courts, and so he went in second hand to save cost.—New York Press.

A Careless Man.

Father—Why have you quarreled with Harry? Daughter—Because he proposed to me last night. Father—Well, there was no harm in that, was there? Daughter—But I had accepted him the night before.—Illustrated Bits.

Perseverance.

Perseverance is more prevailing than violence, and many things which cannot be overcome when they are together yield themselves up when taken little by little.

Strict Obedience.

Salesman—Shirt, sir. Will you have a negligee or a stiff bosom? Customer—Negligee, I guess. The doctor said I must avoid starchy things.—Boston Transcript.

AFTER THE COLLISION.

Effects Upon the Nerves of Wrecks Upon the Rails.

A wreck sometimes upsets even the most iron nerve. Once the wreck master on his arrival noticed a bare-headed man in overalls, covered with coal dust and blood, sitting beside his engine with tears running down his face. He recognized him as the engineer, who had been hauled out a few minutes before from under the mass of twisted, battered steel that had once been a locomotive. Singularly enough, beyond a few cuts and bruises he was unharmed. He was crying because he could not find his cap that he had bought new that day and begged the wreck master to help him hunt for it.

A passenger conductor of a train that was derailed and had plunged down an embankment crawled out of the confusion and rendered cool and efficient help during the half hour before the wreck train arrived. A little later the wreck master chanced to look around and saw the conductor standing beside him holding a matchbox to his ear and shaking it. Presently he put it back in his pocket, but took it out again in a moment and repeated his action.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the wreck master.

"My watch has stopped. I can't get it to going, and I don't know what time it is," answered the conductor, still listening to his matchbox.

The wreck master took the conductor by the shoulders and shook him roughly. Then he "came to."—Thaddeus S. Dayton in Harper's Weekly.

MADE SURE OF IT.

The Gift Was Delayed, but the Groom Got the Bird.

A wealthy patron of the turf in New York told an amusing story of a favorite groom and a turkey.

"I had once promised this groom," he said, "a Christmas turkey, but somehow in the rush and flurry of December I forgot it. It was some days after Christmas when I remembered how I had overlooked my faithful old friend.

"Meeting him in the paddock one morning and intending to make good my forgetfulness, I said to the groom by way of a joke:

"Well, Jenkins, how did you like that turkey I sent you?"

"It was a very fine bird, sir," said the groom. "I came very near losing it, though."

"How so?" said I, astonished.

"Well, sir," said Jenkins, "Christmas morning came, and your turkey hadn't reached me, so I rushed right off to the express company and asked the manager what he meant by not sending the bird up. The manager apologized, sir, very politely, and he took me into a back room, where there were ten or fifteen turkeys hanging, and he said the labels had been lost off them and I'd just better take my choice. So I chose the largest, sir, knowing your generosity, and it was fine. It ate grand. Thank you very much indeed, sir."—Washington Star.

Commas.

The French do not, as a rule, employ inverted-commas to indicate a dialogue, but they employ the dash to indicate a change of speakers, which is just as bad. Certainly many punctuation marks are sadly misused or overused. Dickens flung unnecessary commas all over his pages—whole battalions of them. Walter Pater also employed them with extraordinary prodigality, frequently before the word "and" where the conjunction rendered them superfluous. Pater was also overfond of the mark of exclamation, so that when he drops a "Yes" into his measured style it must needs appear as "Yes!" But, though the Bible does without inverted commas, there is real art in its punctuation. How admirably it marks the cadence and helps the drama in that great story of the prodigal son!—London Chronicle.

Culpeper's Remedies.

Old time physicians prescribed even more unsavory remedies than rancid butter, which was Emperor Menellik's cure for malarial fever. In "Culpeper's Herbal," published originally in 1686 and reprinted as recently as 1820, are such prescriptions as "oil wherein frogs have been sodden till all the flesh is off from their bones," "horse leeches burned into powder" and "black soap and beaten ginger." Some of Culpeper's remedies are of a more practical nature. "It redhot gold be quenched in wine," he says, "and the wine drunk it cheers the vitals and cures the plague. Outwardly used it takes away spots and leprosis."

Making It Pleasant For Her.

Mrs. Goodsole (removing her wraps)—I've owed you a call for a long time, you know. I hate to be in debt, and I just felt that I couldn't rest easy until I had discharged my obligations by coming to see you. Mrs. Sliptung—Why, my dear Mrs. Goodsole, you shouldn't have felt that way at all.—Chicago Tribune.

Paid Him Back.

The Mean Thing—You're so conceited, Connie, that I believe when you get into heaven the first question you'll ask will be, "Are my wings on straight?" Connie—Yes, dear, and I shall be sorry that you won't be there to tell me.—Illustrated Bita.

New They Don't Speak.

Belle—How silly men act when they propose! Why, my husband acted like a perfect fool. Nellie—That's what everybody thought when your engagement was announced.—Cleveland Leader.

SCRIPTURE.

Matthew 10: 27-33.

What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in the light; and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops.

And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul, but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

Whoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

ROOSEVELT IN 1912.

Watterson Declares He is Most Startling Figure Since Napoleon. Courier-Journal.

The time has come for the people of the United States to consider Theodore Roosevelt as they have never considered him before; to take him more seriously than they have ever taken him; to realize that he is altogether the most startling figure who has appeared in the world since Napoleon Bonaparte, a circumstance not without significance and portent.

He must be a poor American whose heart does not glow with pride at the unwonted honors bestowed upon this representative of his country, and swell with exultant admiration at the splendid way he is carrying himself. The incident in Cairo was wholly characteristic. The incident in Rome was thrust upon him. In both he showed the Theodore Roosevelt whose brilliant many-sidedness has captivated the universe.

Third, after Washington and Lincoln, said the mayor of Rome: Washington, the "Creator;" Lincoln, the "Consolidator;" Roosevelt, the "Purifier" of the Republic. "We look again to see him at the head of the great republic," said the mayor of Rome. That is the keynote, and it will continue to be the keynote—wherever he goes. Thus he will come back to us the republican nominee for president of the United States. Let no one fancy this an unmeaning or an idle compliment. Taken in connection with what appears to be the hopeless breakdown of the Taft administration, it constitutes an event of the first consequence.

With the Waterloo which seems certain to overtake the republicans in the fall elections, the cry for Roosevelt in 1912 as the only man who can save the party will come from every side, and it may prove irresistible. Hence, the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for president in 1912 may be regarded from this time onward as so probable that the people should begin seriously to consider it. If we are to restore Roosevelt to power, let there be no mistake about terms of the new commission which is to be issued to him.

Snead Murder Trial Postponed. New York, April 11.—The trial of Miss Virginia O. Wardlaw, Mrs. Caroline B. Martin and Mrs. Mary M. Snead, the three sisters who are under indictment in connection with the death of Mrs. Cecy W. M. Stead, whose body was found in a bathtub in a house in East Orange last November, was originally on the docket for today, but at the request of the prosecution the trial has been put over until the May term of court. The postponement is due to the illness of one of the important witnesses. Emil Snead, counsel has been engaged to defend the accused sisters and the coming trial promises to be one of the most notable in the criminal annals of New Jersey.

Southern College Women. Nashville, Tenn., April 11.—Governor Patterson welcomed the members of the Southern Association of College Women at the opening of its annual convention in this city today. The association, which has for its aim purely educational work, embraces in its membership fifteen of the leading southern colleges for women. The officers in charge of the convention are President, Mrs. Emma Garrett Boyd of Atlanta; First Vice President, Miss Caroline Carpenter of Nashville; Second Vice President, Miss Annie May Dimmick of Montgomery; Third Vice President, Miss Deal Martin of Atlanta; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Eula Deaton of San Antonio.

"Bally" League Begins Its Session. ## TAKING OF CENSUS TO START FRIDAY

DECENNIAL GATHERING OF INFORMATION REGARDING POPULATION WILL BEGIN.

WILL COST $5,500,000

Enumerators Will Obtain Sociological and Genealogical Details From All.

With the break of day on next Friday, the 15th instant, a host of 70,000 interrogators, men and women, white and colored, will be turned loose in pursuit of the people of the United States. On that day Uncle Sam will begin the numbering of his children in preparation for the thirteenth census. He estimates that he has a family of 90,000,000 men, women and children, and he already has employed and will then put to work a body of enumerators considerably greater than the standing army.

The law provides that the enumeration shall begin on the 15th, but it is not so peremptory about the commencing time as about the closing time, and already intimations have been received that in some instances the work may be postponed until Saturday. This is due to the fact that the 15th falls on Friday, and among some who are superstitious as to the day of the week.

The enumeration will cover all of the forty-five states and two territories of the Union proper and also Hawaii and Porto Rico. Alaska, the Philippine Islands and Guam will not be included, as special arrangements are made for numbering the people of those dependencies.

Under the statutes governing the work, the entire enumeration must be completed within a month, and in the cities the work is limited to fifteen days. It is expected that some of the returns from the cities will be received as early as the first of the week in June, but the exact population of the entire country will not be determined before sometime in September. The census officials will, however, know within a few thousand of the number long before the close of the summer months. They will be able to reach a substantially accurate conclusion by their pay rolls, but this will be more or less speculative, and the figures will not be given out.

Director E. Dana Durand is counting upon a roll of not fewer than 90,000,000 names. This estimate is based upon calculations of his experts, and makes allowance for an increase according to the tendencies shown in the last three previous censuses. Between 1870 and 1880 the increase in the population was 30 per cent; between 1880 and 1890, 25 per cent; between 1890 and 1900, 21 per cent. If the decrease should continue at the same ratio there would be a falling off this year of the rate of gain to 17 per cent. The immigration figures for the past decade have been greater, however, than for any of the previous ten-year periods. Making allowance for this augmentation from outside it is calculated that the increase for the past ten years will be about 18 per cent, and as, in round numbers, the figure for 1900 was 76,000,000, it is now calculated that there may prove to have been an addition of about 14,000,000 souls.

Much interest is felt as to the showing regarding the purely native increase. The enumerators between 1870 and 1900 show a startling tendency towards "race suicide," and it is Mr. Durand's fond hope that the reports of his 70,000 subordinates may be able to check this apparent decline. Many of the figures that he is, he does not, however, permit his optimism to shade his facts, and until the actual returns show something better, he will hold to his ninety-million estimate.

There will be some innovations in the next census, and they are expected to improve the reports. For instance, the country farmer is to be afforded an opportunity to consider in advance the statements he shall make as to the conditions prevailing with reference to his holdings, and the same advantage is to be given heads of families in cities as to the enumeration of their households. In both cases sheets are to be passed around before the official calls of the enumerators in the hope that both ruralist and urbanite will be more complete in their returns than otherwise they might be. There also is afforded an unusual care in the supervision of the work of the enumerators. In the cities supervisors will camp on the heels of the men with the pencils during the first day of their work and in the country districts the sheets themselves will be especially scrutinized.

The inquiry will comprise three principal branches: Population, Agriculture, and Mining and Manufacturing. The questions will cover the acreage, the value and the product of farms, including an especial enumeration of animals, as it will the capital invested, the value of products, and the number of employees of mining and manufacturing plants.

The enumerators will want to know a good deal about you for the Population volumes. They not only will insist upon knowing your sex, but will expect you to reveal your age, and will ask you to tell whether you are white, black, mulatto, Chinese, Japanese or Indian; whether you are married or single, and if married how often; whether you are American or foreign born, and if the latter, that you give not only your nationality, but your race and mother-tongue. Then, you, and, in any event, you are to tell how many children have been born to you; and, in any event, you are to tell all about your education, your parentage and your employment. All this information is to be for the general average and for the ear only of one of the enumerators. He is sworn not to reveal any of the awful truths. The mere getting of the information will cost the government the pretty sum of $5,500,000. Of this amount $4,500,000 will be paid to enumerators, and the remaining million to supervisors. With a few exceptions the enumerators will be paid on the basis of the work done. In the country the enumeration will be from 20 to 30 cents for each farm reported, while the pay for names will range from 2 to 4 cents. The districts will average 1500 names, 1,000 in the country and 1500 in the cities. In the southern states there will be two enumerators in each district, one white, and the other black. All told there will be about 1500 negro enumerators, but some of them will be employed in the northern states. In the south the negroes will be visited by enumerators of their own race, as will also the whites by their own people. There also will be about 500 women enumerators. In point of numbers New York will lead the list with 6,500 enumerators, while Nevada will close the procession with 86.

The results of the labors of this army of people will be published in twelve or fifteen large volumes, which will come out from time to time for two or three years after the completion of the work in the field. All the tabulations as well as the general preparation of the matter for the printer will be done in Washington under Mr. Durand's supervision.

Alleged Grafter on Trial.

Chicago, April 11.—James P. Connery, vice president of the Miami Coal Company and secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Fire Appliance Company, was placed on trial before Judge Baldwin today on a charge of obtaining money from the city by false pretenses. Connery is charged with contracting with the city to sell it Youghiogheny coal, which was paid for at the rate of $3.50 per ton. The prosecution contends that the Miami Coal Company furnished a cheap grade of screenings instead.

STATE POLITICS.

Davidson will knock the ashes out of his pipe and speak a speech at Waco, April 21. Then we shall hear no more of Davidson.—Tyler Courier-Times.

It has not surprised any one that Senator Bailey has declared in favor of Judge Poindexter for governor.
That he is a Bailey candidate was known long before his formal announcement.—Weatherford Herald.

Davidson will begin his campaign on San Jacinto Day. He will have to burn all the bridges behind him and fight like a patriot if he wins, for there are giants from East Texas in this race for the governorship.—Sherman Democrat.

Since Colquitt has opened his campaign for governor he is making the boys from the forks of the creek sit up and take notice. The other candidates are training their heaviest guns on him like they thought he was the big game.—Silverton Enterprise.

It is the pious idea of the Advocate that the man who tries to get an office on the plea that he was and is a special friend of Senator Bailey and as well the man who tries to get it on the ground that he was and is unqualifiedly opposed to Senator Bailey, should be left at the post without a vote.—Paris Advocate.

The prohibitionists ought to hand
Mr. Colquitt a "lemon" in the shape of "rock-ribbed" members of the legislature solemnly pledged or well-known to be in favor of prohibition—that is, in the case Mr. Colquitt is to be elected. The governor is not "it" unless he is backed by a legislature in sympathy with him.—McKinney Examiner.

That much heralded "bomb" that Judge Poindexter was to explode at Gainesville sounded more like the "fizzle" of a firecracker. Everybody, we supposed, knew that Senator Bailey thought that Judge Poindexter would make "a good governor;" he has said so long before. The march to Colquitt continues.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

A goodly number of Davidson supporters in Cooke County have come to the conclusion that the Colquitt automobile is making such wonderful speed that it is useless to try to keep in the procession with and old-time chaise, hence they are climbing into the Colquitt chariot in great crowds and with picnician enthusiasm.—Gainesville Register.

It is an oldtime way Senator Bailey has—to say something or spring a letter at the psychological moment.
He did it at Dallas in 1906, when he said: "The Campbell's are coming."
The Poindexter letter at Gainesville last Friday was the latest instance and it will do the work. Watch the Baileyites rally to the Cleburne judge.
They won't need a second one.—Waco Tribune.

The governor's race appears to be resolving itself into a matter of each candidate seeing how hard he can rap the others. The hardest rappers appear to be getting the most cheers.
The people, apparently, are not half so much interested in securing the best governor as in finding which man Joe Bailey wants elected or wants beaten and in ascertaining the personal views of the candidates as to state-wide prohibition. All things else have been lost sight of.—Brownwood Bulletin.

As we see it, Senator Bailey's indorsement of Poindexter was no more than he might have said about any friend capable of filling the governor's chair. Even though it can be construed as an absolute, unequivocal indorsement of the judge, it is calculated to injure, more than help him, because a great many people of Texas will resent senatorial interference in the governor's race. It smacks too much of political dictation. Not only this, Colquitt and his friends will resent the act and will injure Senator Bailey as well as Poindexter.—Ballinger Ledger.

"The Gladiator."
To all lovers of history the most interesting and fascinating after that of our own country, is that of Rome; that Rome which sat on her seven hills and from her throne of beauty ruled the world." Among the most thrilling passages of the old Roman stories of the heroic gladiators who fought and struggled for supremacy in the arena, the great Coliseum, "Nero, the Gladiator" (soon to be presented here by Mr. Sanford Dodge) gives us a wonderfully vivid chapter of the ancient Roman history, showing as it does, as if by a flash of lightning, the conditions of life, the struggles, the hopes and fears of those builders of the world's civilization, as well as the sufferings of the early Christian martyrs.
All of this is set forth in a most thrilling and intensely dramatic form in Mr.
Sanford Dodge's magnificent production of "Nero, the Gladiator," at the Wichita Theatre, Wednesday night.
Don't miss it.

Liquor Issue in Bryan's Town.
Lincoln, Neb., April 11.—Before tomorrow morning the people of Lincoln, the largest city in Nebraska under prohibition, will know whether their city is to continue "dry" or return to the "wet" column. Today's election on the saloon question follows the fiercest municipal campaign ever conducted in Nebraska. For weeks the contest has been bitterly waged on both sides. Nightly rallies have been held at which prohibition and anti-prohibition speakers of national reputation have been heard.

Lincoln has been without saloons for the past year and the prohibition law has been rigidly enforced. It is argued that if prohibition is turned down at today's election and the saloons installed again, prohibition will be considered a failure and there will be little or no chance for the anti-saloon state campaign to be successful. On the other hand, if prohibition in Lincoln is continued, especially by an increased vote, the state voters will look upon the test as a success and the state will probably go "dry"
at the next election.

It is generally conceded that the saloon question will be the chief issue of the approaching state campaign.
The Democrats are more or less split over the issue. Governor Shallenberger is with the anti-saloon people, and Mayor James Dahlman of Omaha, who is to be Governor Shallenberger's opponent in the primaries, is for license and a liberal state administration.

Mayor Dahlman, on hearing that William J. Bryan opposed his views on the sale of liquor, promptly announced his opposition to Bryan. The friends of the governor believe that Dahlman's opposition to Bryan will insure the rural counties to Gov. Shallenberger in the primaries. Mr. Bryan does not favor statewide prohibition, but has declared for county option.
He dislikes the saloons because, aside from his strict temperance practices, which are well known, he believes that the brewery and saloon element supported Taft in Ohio, Indiana, New York and Nebraska at the last election, and, on the other hand, supported the Democratic candidates for governor in these states.

The local campaign has not been a party contest, as neither Republicans nor Democrats have, officially, indorsed either side. The canvass was conducted strictly along the lines of "whisky or no whisky," with no disturbing side issues and has been clearest between prohibitionists and the liberal element, and each side concedes that as Lincoln goes today,
so will Nebraska go next fall.

The Mule in Art.

There has never been an art exhibition without the presence of a number of chronic kickers; but the case of the mule which painted a picture for a Paris exhibition is probably unique. It seems that a picture of an Italian sunset, signed with an artist's name, was painted by a brush tied to the tail of a donkey.

It is not probable that the picture differed essentially from some of the remarkable effects of modern impressionists, who resort to any expedient to gain the end desired. A ceiling was decorated by the means of a sponge soaked in certain oils and thrown against the ceiling. The famous case of Whistler vs. Ruskin will be recalled. Whistler had painted "The Falling Rocket," a matter of indeterminate stars against nocturnal blackness. Ruskin was caustic. He declared that Whistler had the impudence to charge 200 guineas for "flinging a pot of paint in the public's face." The jury was out one hour and awarded the artists one farthing by way of damages.

It is hard to tell what some of the bizarre studies of the impressionists are intended to represent. One reaches the conclusion that globs of pink and green are meant for a seashore at low tide, and is concerted to find that an apple orchard is intended. Even some of the older masters are likely to be misconstrued. Mark Twain declared that Turner's "Slave Ship" put him in mind of a fellow cat dying in a platter of stewed tomatoes.

The mule who painted the Adriatic sunset might get a job as a magazine illustrator and do tallpieves.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

DR. J. LAFAYETTE BERRY MAKES GOOD

For Three Years in Texas With Unprecedented Success—Chronic Diseases His Special Work.

A workman is "known by his chip." "A tree by the fruit it bears." Dr. Berry has treated hundreds of people from all parts of the United States and many of these people are well known and staunch citizens—lawyers, bankers, merchants, ministers, teachers, doctors, mechanics and laboring people. What has been the result? Almost universal success. If any one has a doubt about the marvelous cures Dr. Berry has made, let him write or phone to Hon. James B. Baker, the mayor of Waco; Hon. Emmett Fletcher, mayor of Beaumont; Hon. Mayor Lusk of Brenham; Colonel J. L. S. Travis; ex-Alderman Moore of Austin; J. C. Rems; Mr. Lamb; President Lamb-Funchers Printing Co.; W. T. Reeliman, secretary of all the Masonic orders in Beaumont; R. R. Bowie, exalted ruler of Elks and insurance agent; or any other business man, banker, lawyer, minister or merchant in Beaumont, many of whom have been treated by Dr. Berry, and all know of the many marvelous cures made by the doctor in their homes, and among their acquaintances. Truth cannot be crushed down, no matter how jealous some people become. No matter if certain people try to shake you down and injure you by false statements or by jobbery in the courts where they have political pulls. The time has not yet come in the state of Texas that wrongs cannot be righted in the higher courts, and a man practiced in his constitutional rights.

For three years the medical trust has attempted to annoy Dr. Berry, but he still continues to carry the banner of bloodless surgery and save the people from the knife wielded by some men who cannot cut a beefsteak without wounding his own fingers. Some who conspired against the doctor are now defending themselves from a dangerous suit which Dr. Berry has brought against them for conspiracy, in the sum of $45,800. Other suits will be instituted against parties who have tried to injure the doctor in his business. The doctor's attorneys are Mathis, Buchanan and Stone of Brenham, Duff & Duff of Beaumont, Judge J. B. Brockman of Houston, Sallaway & Askill of San Antonio, Hon. Waller Baker of Waco, and Judge J. H. Robertson of Austin, former partner of the late Gov. Hogg. All eminent jurists. Judge J. B. Brockman tendered his services to Dr. Berry without any charge on account of the marvelous cures made by the doctor in Houston and knowing the medical trust have been trying to annoy the doctor on account of his stand taken against the knife.

We venture the prediction that Dr. Rankin will get in the Poindeexter band wagon when it comes his time to move.—Moore County Pioneer.

For Sleeplessness.

Chicago Tribune.

Before going to bed the body should be brought into that state which gives the surest chance of dropping speedily asleep. There must be the right kind of breathing, deep, slow and full rhythmic breaths.

The spine should be laterally straight, the muscles relaxed.

Clothing that has been worn during the day should not be worn to sleep in and the lighter the weight of the night clothing the better.

Do not go to bed in a room where the gas has been burning for hours without opening the window as wide as possible and arranging it so that there is a circulation of fresh air all night.

The temperature of the bed should be agreeable.

The position of the bed is also important.

It is easier to get an unimpeded breath when the head is on a level with the backbone, and it is much more healthful to sleep without a pillow. With the head low the strain on the muscles is relaxed.

High pillows push the shoulders forward and prevent the chest from being properly expanded. The more nearly horizontal the body is the less effort is the heart obliged to make to send the blood to the points farthest from it, and during sleep is the only resting time for this hard worked organ, as then it beats more slowly.

Most physicians recommend sleeping on the right side, and there are those who emphatically assert that the correct position is to lie on the left side, with the arms thrown behind if one wishes perfect rest, a fine figure and good health.

The springs and mattress should be firm enough to support parts of the body when it is in a horizontal position.

When the bed is too soft or the springs sag the middle part of the body sinks into the yielding bed and is at an angle, where it should be straight, so as to give perfect freedom to the internal organs. A soft bed is enervating. It embraces the body and makes the tissues flabby, which, together with the covering, interferes with circulation and prevents the body throwing off its impurities.

If one wishes to sleep the perfect sleep, wishes to develop energy, he must learn to sleep on a hard bed with light covering. If one wishes to preserve a good figure and enjoy a healthful sleep, it is necessary to fight shy of all luxurious beds.

The bed should be placed in a room so that there is as much air circulation as possible without necessitating a draft. It should be high from the floor and pushed away from the wall on all sides.

The bedding should be thoroughly dry and wet clothing should never be hung in a sleeping room.

Open your window night and day, rain or shine, and remember that fresh air is one of the best remedies for restlessness that can possibly be secured. The victims of sleeplessness should be careful what they eat and drink for the evening meal. Neither should they go to bed immediately after studying hard, as the brain is in the state of excitement that will prevent sleep.

The mind should be relaxed by physical exercise or light conversation. Forget everything that has troubled you during the day.

No matter how unpleasant the day has been, think of pleasant thoughts. Persevere until you have formed the habit of going to bed in a happy frame of mind. Many people find that some light fruit taken directly before going to bed induces comfortable and sound sleep. Limes and lemons are stomach sedatives. Apples are especially recommended, either baked or raw.

Trusts and Saloons.

Mr. Bryan says the trust question is now involved in the liquor question. No longer is there individual ownership of saloons. They are owned by wholesalers and manufacturers. He says:

"Instead of the saloon of former days, owned by a resident and amenable to some extent to the sentiment of the community, we have the branch saloon, owned and operated by a producer of liquor. This system adds the evils of the trust system to the evils of the saloon itself. Whenever a community attempts to deal with one of its own citizens it finds itself in a struggle with great corporations which operate over a large area, and have a pecuniary interest in cultivating the appetite for drink; instead of settling the question by consulting its own voters it must engage in a war with a foreign power."

That's just it and that explains why many states, like Tennessee, abolish the manufacture along with the saloon. It was not that the manufacture in itself was so pernicious, but that the manufacturers owned the retail establishments and furnished the fund with which regulation of the retail sale was fought.—Knoxville, (Tenn.), Sentinel.
