DANCING, CARD PLAYING AND SIMILAR DEVICES SCORED FROM PULPIT

The services at the tabernacle last night were preceded by a song service and several old-time tunes, such as "Old-Time Religion," and "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood," were sung by the choir, joined in very heartily by the large congregation, and after a solo by Mr. Hiett, Evangelist Finney announced his text from Matthew, 25th chapter and 29th verse, adding that he was going to preach upon the subject of hell, and he stuck closely to his subject from the beginning to the end, condemning sin of every nature, in both high and low places, "card players," "forty-twos" and "Sunday baseballites" coming in for a few extra raps. The evangelist is a very forceful speaker, and what he says is said in such a manner as to carry conviction with it.

On the subject of dancing, which he condemned severely, he said the dance was born in hell, and the time had arrived when the pulpit and the press should cease to keep silence.

The man who attends Sunday baseball was placed in the class with the fellow who sells whiskey through his back door on Sunday.

While there were many in the large audience, who, from appearances, were both delighted and pleased with the sharp raps Evangelist Finney dealt to popular vices, there were but few who were immune from the broadsides fired, and while there might have been some who escaped the full force, it is doubtful if any who were there and heard the sermon could truthfully say that a few of the scattering shots did not find lodgment on them.

At the conclusion of the very able discourse, another very touching solo was rendered by Mr. Hiett, and several accepted the invitation extended by the evangelist to quit their sinful ways and live better lives.

While there were a few vacant seats in the rear of the tabernacle, but the crowd was larger than on the previous night, and considering that there were other attractions in the city, there was abundance of evidence that interest in the meantime is rapidly on the increase.

Another service was held this morning at 10 o'clock and this afternoon at 3 o'clock. "Cottage prayer meetings" were conducted in many different parts of the city.

Evangelist Finney will preach again tonight at 8 o'clock and at the conclusion of the sermon a prayer-meeting will be held at the tabernacle.

"THIS IS MY 59th BIRTHDAY."

Daniel O. S. Lowell.

Daniel Ozra Smith Lowell, for many years prominent in New England educational circles, was born in Denmark, Maine, April 13, 1851, and received his education at Bowdoin College. After graduating from Bowdoin in 1874 he spent several years in the study of medicine, but instead of becoming a physician, he decided to adopt the profession of teaching. Until 1884 he was engaged as a teacher in various schools and academies in Maine. For the past twenty-five years he has been at the head of the Roxbury Latin School, one of Boston's oldest and best known institutions of learning. Dr. Lowell is well known as a contributor to the leading magazines on subjects of travel, literature and education. At its commencement exercises last year Bowdoin College conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters.

Festival of Music at Spartanburg.

Spartanburg, S. C., April 12.—Music lovers from several states have gathered here for the sixteenth annual South Atlantic Musical Festival to be held at Converse College during the three days beginning today. Mme. Sara Anderson, soprano; Mme. Jeanne Gerville-Reach, contralto; Mme. Florence Mulford, mezzo soprano; Reed Miller, tenor and several other noted soloists are here to take part, together with the New York Symphony Orchestra of fifty men, with Walter Damrosch as the conductor.

Colonel Patten Retires.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Col. William S. Patten, assistant quartermaster general, closed his active career in the army today, having been transferred to the retired list on his own application after more than thirty years of service. Colonel Patten is from New York and entered the army in 1875. He has frequently served as chief quartermaster of the department of the east, with headquarters in New York.

GAMES ON THE OPENING DAY.

- National League.
  - New York at Boston.
  - Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
  - Pittsburg at St. Louis.
  - Chicago at Cincinnati.
- American League.
  - St. Louis at Chicago.
  - Cleveland at Detroit.
  - Philadelphia at Washington.
  - Boston at New York.

New York, April 12.—The umpire's cry of "play ball!" will resound tomorrow throughout the major league circuits and the baseball season of 1910 will be started on the long six months pennant war. After many weeks of preparation and training in the south the sixteen clubs composing the National and American leagues are in the fettle and ready to begin the championship struggle. That the "fans" are likewise ready and eager for the initial game goes without the saying. The club owners, managers and others interested in the business end of the national game predict that the present season will be the most prosperous from a financial standpoint of view that the game has ever known. Their prediction is based largely on the steady increase in population of the United States and the amazing increase in the baseball population. If the forecasts are reliable, nearly 100,000,000 persons will pay their way into the ball parks of the big and little leagues this summer.

National League Changes.
Radical changes in team composition and managers this year have increased the uncertainties of the pennant race. In the National league the baseball fans find that Philadelphia is under an entirely new ownership, with Horace Fogel as president and Charlie Doolin as manager in place of William Murray. Pitchers Coveleskie and Corridon were released by Philadelphia to Cincinnati in exchange for Pitchers Ewing and Brennan. Corridon was later released by Cincinnati to St. Louis, together with Oakes and Huggins in exchange for Beebe and Storke. Storke died recently in Newton, Mass. Pittsburg remains practically unchanged from last year's club, which won the National league pennant and the world's championship. Catcher John Kling, who refused to play last season, has returned to the Chicago team. Other changes in the Chicago team were the release of Oel Howard and the acquisition of Beaumont, with Boston last season.

The Brooklyn club has William Dahlen, one of the league veterans, as its new manager. Fred Lake, former manager of the Boston Americans, is now at the helm of the Boston National league club. The most important change in the Boston team was the exchange of Becker to New York for Herzog and Collins. St. Louis, as before mentioned, has secured Huggins, Oakes and Corridon from Cincinnati and O'Hara from New York. Cincinnati has added Pitchers Beebe and Coveleskie to its team and New York has added Shaw from St. Louis, Becker from Boston and Willie Keeler, formerly with the New York American team.

Changes in American League.
Many changes will be noted in the American league. Willie Keeler and Norman Elberfeld will be missed from the New York club. The new men in the Giant's line-up are Lou Criger, last season with St. Louis, and Harry Wolter, who was secured from Boston. Hugh Duffy, Chicago's new manager, brought with him from Providence Blackburn to play shortstop, and at the same time released the veteran George Davis and Jake Atz.

In Boston Patrick Donovan succeeds Fred Lake as manager. Washington's new manager is James McAleer, former manager of the St. Louis Browns. Manager McAleer has braced his infield by the acquisition of Elberfeld of New York.

At St. Louis Jack O'Connor has succeeded McAleer as manager. St. Louis released Hobe Ferris and secured Abstein, with Pittsburg last season, to play first base. About the only change of consequence to be noted in the Cleveland club is the decision of Napoleon Lajoie to play first instead of second base. Philadelphia will make the race with the same team which did so well last year and the line-up of the champion Detroit club remains practically unchanged.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity
—Tonight and Thursday, unsettled weather. Cooler Thursday.

The pastors of the various churches in Houston have joined in the adoption of a resolution "deprecating the cheapness of human life" in that city. They attribute numerous killings to the practice of carrying concealed weapons, and call upon the officials for the enforcement of the law against this particular crime. The handy gun certainly gets in its work in nearly every section of the country, and should be abolished.

The Dallas News expresses hope that the editor of the Itasca News is to take a trip through Mexico on the train and suggests that probably the Mexican government hasn't abolished the "Sacred right of contract."

The Dallas News thinks that "emotionalism and Theodore Roosevelt" have combined against the boys of the country being encouraged with the hope of being "president some day."

HE WANTED TO SAY—

A careful perusal of the following, which is said to be the exact words of a member of the Oklahoma legislature during the discussion of the action of the republican caucus and of Governor Haskell's message relative thereto, will furnish some food for thought to those who wonder at the class of legislation dished out occasionally. The Hon. C. G. Jones concluded his remarks as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, it is very likely, it is more than probable, that this will be the last time that I ever address a legislative body in the great state of Oklahoma. For twenty years I have been with you, I have tried in my way—I have made mistakes. I do not pretend, I am not here to apologize for any of my public actions—not one of them; my private life is an open book. I have been here since 1899—I have been in the legislature repeatedly—and I am not here to apologize to the citizens of this state for any one vote, for any one word, except perhaps in the heat of passion; I want to say to you now that this will be my last term—the last term I will ever serve as a member of the legislature of this state. I want to say to you now, gentlemen, and I take you all to be such, we may have had our differences—we do have political differences—I give every man the same privilege I take myself—that is, to look through his political eyes as he sees it, but I do say to you, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this house, that there are things higher than our political prejudices or political affiliations—and I want to say to you that the thing I value higher than anything else is my individuality and manhood; whatever I am, I may differ with you politically on some things, as I do do, but I want to say to you that I have never been a man to accuse any man of being dishonest; but as I said, and have said repeatedly, it is awful easy to criticize—it is awful easy to fall—it is awful easy to object—why, my friend, Mr. Speaker, you know it takes but little bit of brain to object—to sit around and grumble about the officers of our state. I am one to believe that every officer from the constable to the governor is honest until I find out different. And, Mr. Speaker, I want to say now, while I have your attention, and in conclusion, that this morning we put up the best fight we could—the best fight we had—you never left us anything to do but what we done—we realized the steam roller was all fired up and there was about sixty-five horse power behind it. We did the best we could; it wasn't our intention to hurt anybody—to shoot anybody or run any roller; because we realized we couldn't do it, but we wanted to put up the best fight we could and leave it to you whether we did or not. Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to say with regard to the governor's message; if we had tried, if a republican caucus convened in this state or in any other state and would have done the things that the message said we done, then we need criticizing as citizens for doing it, but I want to say to you, and I am going to say to the governor of this state, and I shall do it just as I am doing now with you, with all kindness of feeling, I am going to say to him that his informant absolutely gave him the wrong information—and I say to you that I hope and trust that there is no member on the majority side of this house that questions my veracity when I make that statement. Mr. Speaker, allow me to say that the message sent here, leaving out what the caucus done, the governor calls your attention to what in my judgment would be a good law, and so far as I am concerned, I say to you now that if you gentlemen will introduce a bill along that line that you will have my name recorded on that desk there as voting aye. So, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen, in conclusion, allow me to say with all kindness of feeling, because I have nothing but that for every one of you, I am not begging you to do anything, I am not asking you to do anything—do as you please—account for your actions to the people and to the citizens of this state and I shall be satisfied."

The Vernon Call very correctly puts it this way: "A woman will cling to a man until his character is as black as the ace of spades, but the minute a soiled spot no larger than a grain of sand touches the fair name of woman, man forsakes her and leaves her up on the cold charity of the world." A higher grade of morals for men would improve society. And a more careful consideration of the good name of the women would save many a heartache.

DRUNKARDS AND LAWS.

Say Small Fines and Brief Imprisonments Do No Good.

So urgent is the need of reforming, or, rather, of abandoning for something different and better the present methods of dealing with inebriates as misdemeanants, punishable by small fines and brief imprisonments, that perhaps B. B. Burritt, of the State Charities Aid Association, would have done well to treat more seriously than he did in his Sunday evening address of the farm colony plan upon which the legislature will soon have to pass. His division of all drunkards into three classes, personified by John Jones, Jim Jones and Bill Jones, the one drinking himself into belligerency, the second into insensibility and the third into moral imbecility, was not scientific, since these are stages rather than types of drunkenness. The division had too much of a tendency to perpetuate the notion, already too long held and still too widely accepted, that there is something funny or amusing in inebriety—which there surely is not, as Mr. Burritt, like everybody else who has given intelligent attention to the subject, knows only too well.

All, however, that Mr. Burritt said about the absurdity, the stupidity and the uselessness of imposing upon habitual drunkards the penalties provided by our existing laws was true. These penalties are of no deterrent effect whatever. Almost invariably the punishment they inflict all falls upon the offender's family, and their tendency is to make his condition worse, not to improve it. What sequestration in a farm colony will do for the victims of alcoholism—which is itself a symptom rather than a disease—depends upon the wisdom with which the underlying nervous and neuroses are treated by the medical staff. Of necessity, however, the farm colony will be better than the ordinary workhouse, and wherever tested it has given better results.

The habitual drunkard needs more than the "healthful work and plenty of fresh air," of which Mr. Burritt spoke as if they were all the farm colony could or should supply; most of all he needs a doctor, who may or may not be able to effect a cure. Not a few cases are certainly beyond help.—New York Times.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Pitcher Frank Pfeffer is doing nice work for the Chicago Cubs.

Jesse Tannehill, the old Boston pitcher, has signed with the Minneapolis club.

Manager Ryan of the Jersey City club has bought Warren Gill from the Chicago Americans.

Malachi Kittredge has been engaged to manage the Elgin team in the Northern Association.

"Wing" Anderson, a Texas recruit, is showing some classy work with the Cincinnati Reds.

"Kid" Gleason will be missed in Philadelphia this season. He has been in the National League twenty-two years.

Secretary Knowles of the Giants, is in good health again and will be in Boston for the first game of the season.

The San Francisco team made seven runs on ten hits in five innings off "Young Cy" Young of the White Sox in a recent game.

Manager McGraw is happy now that Beals Becker is a member of the Giants. The little manager has been anxious to secure the Boston player for over a year.

That Mississippi senator who said he took money to catch the bribe-giver may be telling the truth, but he has certainly placed himself in an uncomfortable light before the public, in his own state and elsewhere.

SENATOR GORE ON THE BLIND.

Sightless Himself, He Talks of Their Training.

Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, was guest at a reception given by Miss Winifred Holt at the New York Association for the Blind, 118 East Fifty-ninth street yesterday afternoon, says the New York Sun. Although Senator Gore has been totally blind since he was 11 years old, he doesn't make a practice of visiting institutions and much of the work was new to him. He is averse to institutional work, and said that one of his reasons for accepting the invitation was because this association is making an effort to do away with the segregation of blind children and is trying to have them educated in the public schools. Senator Gore is an example of the unsighted child taught in the public schools.

In looking at Senator Gore it is difficult to detect his blindness. His blue eyes are rather full and are almost normal in appearance. While the senator bears the distinction of being the youngest member of the Senate, his dark brown hair is well sprinkled with gray. His face is smooth shaven and rather boyish.

In discussing institutions for the blind, Senator Gore said: "It is cruel to isolate unsighted children and rob them of their individuality and self-reliance. In these institutions they are regarded as objects of sympathy, and when they go out in the world for the stern struggle of existence they do not find that sympathy upon which they have been taught to depend. They should learn to mingle with the men and women with whom they must come in contact. Sympathy for the afflicted often amounts to cruelty."

At the age of eight Senator Gore lost the sight of one eye, and at 11 he was totally blind. His father proposed that he be educated in an institution for the blind, but the child rebelled and was allowed to remain in the public schools.

Senator Gore was delighted to learn that three of the public schools of New York had admitted blind children. About 75 of these children are now being taught with seeing children. It is estimated that there are 2,300 blind persons in New York and that 15 per cent of these are of school age.

For the first time Senator Gore "saw" a switchboard and typewriter for the blind. He was so interested in the typewriter that he insisted upon being taught to manipulate the keyboard. Miss Holt then dictated the following letter to her blind secretary, Miss Grace Keator:

Dear Senator Gore: Hearty welcome to the lighthouse from all us seeing blind-people who are striving to find "light through work," when you get back to Washington will you tell the blind seeing people what they are missing by not profiting by the latest abilities of the blind, whom they forget to such a large extent.

I'm glad that we are all sound in the lighthouse on the question of free trade and a fair show all round.

Senator Gore showed much interest in the games and confessed that his knowledge was confined to seven up and dominoes. He took such a liking to a game of checkers that Miss Holt presented it to him. Then he insisted on buying some baskets and although Miss Holt protested he would pay for it.

"The young girl who made it will be so pleased to know you bought it," said Miss Holt as she took the money. Senator Gore examined many objects in the museum, which embraces the history of the blind back to the time of Ramesses I. In a bas-relief is depicted blind musicians who were employed in the court during the reign of that monarch. This is the earliest known record of the blind as wage-earners.

Founder's Day in Virginia.
Charlottesville, Va., April 13.—The annual celebration of Founder's Day, in observance of the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson, was brilliantly observed at the University of Virginia today. President Alderman presided over the exercises held in Cabell Hall and Senator Elishu Root of New York, was one of the chief speakers.

American Association Opens.
Columbus, O., April 13.—With bright prospects of a successful year the American Association starts its season today with Kansas City playing at Minneapolis, Milwaukee at St. Paul, Indianapolis at Toledo and Louisville at Columbus. The big-league minor league has scheduled a season of 160 games, with September 25th as the closing date.

Valuable notes and papers were stolen from me on the night of April 8th, 1910. All parties are hereby notified not to trade for any papers payable to me without my genuine signature. DAVID ROGERS, Jolly, Texas. —285-64p

S. C. V. Meeting Called.

To Sons of Confederate Veterans:
Comrades:—Our commandant comrade, A. A. Hughes, has called meeting after meeting on a da few of us would come together, but not enough to transact business.

Now comrades, do you feel interested enough in the perpetuation of your father's record as a Confederate soldier to come and meet with us tomorrow night? There are several matters of importance to attend to—the election of delegates to the reunion at Mobile on April 25, 26 and 27.

The question of the election of a sponsor for the camp to attend the reunion will be taken up and discussed. I have a proposition by which some son or a veteran can get free railroad transportation there and return.

Will you remember the date, Thursday, April 14, 1910, at 8 o'clock p. m., and come to the Chamber of Commerce?

Yours,
EDGAR SCURRY.

The Times is authorized to announce J. J. Manley as a candidate for Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 1, Wichita County, subject to the action of the democratic primary to be held on July 23rd. Mr. Manley is a carpenter by trade, and since his residence in this city has been closely allied with the laboring class of people. He is well qualified to fill the office which he seeks, having served in that capacity in his native state (Georgia), before coming to Texas. He has been a citizen of Wichita Falls for the past seven years, during which time he has done his full share in advancing the interests of the city. The Times takes pleasure in presenting the claims of Mr. Manley for this responsible office to the voters for their careful consideration.

There May Be Others.

The campaign has uncovered at least one political orphan. Explaining to the Advocate scribe he said: "I am an anti-Bailey statewider, opposed to statutory prohibition. I can't vote for Johnson, for while he is an anti-Bailey statewider, he is also a statutory prohibitionist. I can't vote for Poindexter because, while a statewider only, he is a pro-Bailey. Davidson is against Bailey, but he is also against statewider. I am against Colquitt because he is against everything I am for, and I can't vote for Cunyus because he is for everything I am against except statewider. I am a patriot with a poll tax receipt in a hell of a fix."—Paris Advocate.

WOMEN WANT SALLOT.

Many Suffragettes Arriving in Washington for Convention. Washington, D. C., April 13.—Several hundred women, all more or less prominent in the woman's suffrage movement of the present time, have arrived here already and several hundred more are expected to arrive tonight or tomorrow morning to attend the forty-third annual convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, which will hold its opening session at the Arlington Hotel tomorrow night. The convention will continue until next Tuesday inclusive, and promises to be the most notable gathering of its kind ever held in America.

President Taft has promised to deliver an address on the opening night of the convention and this will be the event of historical interest, as it will be the first time that a president of the United States has appeared as a speaker before a woman's suffrage convention. Another interesting feature of the program of the convention will be the presentation to congress of a petition praying for universal suffrage and bearing the signatures of more than one million women, representing every state of the Union. The petition will be conveyed to the capitol on a large and very handsome truck. At the close of the convention the judiciary committee of the house of representatives and the woman's suffrage committee of the United States Senate will grant hearings to the delegates in favor of a bill providing for a sixteenth amendment to the constitution, enfranchising women.

Mrs. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association, will make her annual report on the opening night, when she will review the progress made by the suffragists during the past year, and will touch upon the plans for future propaganda. Full reports will be presented from the states in which women already have the right to vote and also from the states in which suffrage legislation is now pending. During the week of the convention Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, the treasurer of the association, will conduct a state presidents' class and Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch will conduct an open-air meeting, at which Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald of Boston, Mrs. Helen La Reine Baker and the Misses Mengley of Seattle, Miss Ray Costello of England and Miss Inez Millholland of New York will deliver addresses.

The list of speakers is unusually long and includes, among other noted suffrage advocates: Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, Prof. Frances Squire Potter, Miss Alice Pane, a noted suffrage speaker; Mrs. Kate Trimble Wolsey, of Kentucky; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance, Dorothy Dix, Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, representing the Political Equality Association of New York, and Mrs. Minona Fitz-Jones, founder of the No-Vote, No-Tax Association, who has prepared a platform, or "declaration of independence," which will be submitted to the convention for adoption.

Hammerstein Goes 'Abroad.
New York, April 13.—Oscar Hammerstein was among the passengers on the steamer Mauretania which sailed from this port today. The indefatigable impresario is on his way to Europe to complete his arrangements for the next opera season. He has already obtained the sole rights for Masenet's new opera "Don Quixote," for the opera "Chiquita" and the latest opera by Richard Strauss, "Ochs von Lerchenau," which is of a slight and melodious character, entirely different from the somber and gruesome "Salome" and "Elektra." He expects to engage a number of singers, among them Muratore, the first tenor of the Paris Opera and Mme. Litvinne, the dramatic soprano. His travels will extend to Cairo, Algiers, St. Petersburg, Moscow, Vienna, Budapest, Berlin and all through Italy.

New Hampshire G. A. R.
Concord, N. H., April 13.—Concord has donned patriotic attire in honor of the Grand Army encampment of New Hampshire, which opened a two days' session here today. There is a large attendance of comrades from all parts of the state and the presence of Commander-in-Chief Van Sant of Minnesota, has added to the interest.

Catarrhal Asthma and Hay Fever.
Tens of thousands of sufferers from hay fever and catarrhal asthma find great comfort and quick relief by breathing Hyomei.

Of course where asthma is not caused by a catarrhal condition, but by nervous contraction of the bronchial tubes, Hyomei is not recommended. But in a case of asthma where there is a discharge of mucous, breathing Hyomei gives most wonderful relief by soothing the irritated and highly inflamed membrane.

Mr. W. A. White, R. F. D. No. 1, Evansport, writes: "I have been bothered with asthma for over five years but could not get any relief until I tried Hyomei. I have spent lots of money on remedies for asthma and if I could not get another bottle I would not be without Hyomei for $50. I recommend it."

A complete Hyomei outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 with instructions for use in hay fever and asthma. Extra bottles of Hyomei cost 50 cents at druggists everywhere and at Week's Drug Co.

Democrats at St. Paul.
St. Paul, Minn., April 13.—Democrats, great and small, from many parts of Minnesota are gathered in the capital to worship tonight at the shrine of democracy's patron saint, Thomas Jefferson; the occasion being the Jefferson dollar dinner in the St. Paul auditorium. The scheduled speakers include John Hind and Congressman Hammond, both of whom are regarded as potential candidates for the governorship; Judge C. W. Stanton, Mayor Lawler of St. Paul, Mayor Haynes of Minneapolis and Mayor Cullom of Duluth.

Washington Bench Show.
Washington, D. C., April 13.—The first annual bench show of the Washington Kennel Club was opened today with nearly 1,000 entries, representing sixty breeds of dogs from famous kennels throughout the country. The exhibition is one of the most complete ever given in the east, with the possible exception of several field classes, such as pointers and beagles. The setter, spaniel, bull terrier and hound classes are all well represented.

Western Association Opens Season.
Tulsa, Okla., April 13.—In utter disregard of the 13 hoodoo the Western Association starts the season of 1916 today, with all signs pointing to the most successful year in the history of the organization. Several changes have been made in the circuit of last season, Tulsa taking the place of Springfield and Joplin returning to the association with the Pittsburg franchise. The schedule calls for a season of 126 games.

A Fine Jack.
Geo. Virtell of Boonville, Mo., has sold and delivered to F. M. McKinley, one of the finest jacks ever brought to this country, and the jack was delivered to the purchaser yesterday, the consideration being $1500, which is said to be the highest price ever paid for a jack by any stock-raiser in this county. This jack was foaled in 1903 and his pedigree is as follows:
Name: Good Boy; foaled 1903; standard measure; sire, Gomez; dam, Lady Wellington; S. B. No. 129; sire got by Hiawatha out of Walter Scott, No. 132; Grand sire got by Alarm (Jordan's); dam, got by Lord Wellington out of Miss Crutcher, No. 130; Grand dam got by Modock; name of importer, W. B. Gibson, Blackstone, Mo.
This jack will stand the season at the farm of F. M. McKinley, 1 1/2 miles north of town on the Burk Burnett road. For further particulars call on the owner. 281-1f

"Man wants but little here below,"
Thus saith an ancient song;
There's one thing sad about it, though,
He gets that little wrong.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

And if he gets that little right
He's such a pesky kind
That having nothing more in sight
Destroys his peace of mind.
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"Man wants but little here below,"
As he makes his little march,
He tries to grab the sugar, though,
When the trust hand out the starch.
—St. Louis Times.

"Man wants but little here below,"
A little for a while;
For little shake downs here and there
In time make quite a pile.
—Philadelphia Telegraph.

"Man wants but little here below,"
But wants it o'er and o'er;
And every time it's given him
He wants a little more.
