Judge Scurry delightfully entertained a number of his little girl friends with a matinee box party at the Wichita Theatre on Saturday afternoon. This merry little party was composed of Leda Bell Anderson, Elizabeth Patterson, Margaret Curtis, Annette Walsh, Louise Montgomery, Lillian McCune, Francis Thompson and Margaret Burnside.

The J. S. C.

The J. S. C. met at the home of Miss Dora Coons, Saturday evening from 3 to 5. After the minutes were read and passed on we started our sewing. Those enjoying the dainty refreshments were: Mary Leath Tevis, May Robertson, Charlotte Robertson, Hilda Robertson, Sadie Tevis, Louise Tevis, Mrs. Sandidge and Lucille Hayes.

An automobile party composed of Mrs. J. T. Montgomery, Misses Mary Anderson and Reaney of Connecticut, Messrs Ralph Darnell and Mark Walker visited Henrietta Tuesday afternoon. A very enjoyable evening was passed and at the close of several interesting games, the hostess served dainty refreshments. The members of the Wichita Falls Auxiliary of the Christian Women's Board of Missions went to Iowa Park this week in answer to an invitation from the Auxiliary at that place to hold a joint meeting with them from 2:30 to 6 p. m. Thursday. The ride up here in guggles and surries was through a typical west Texas wind and hats, hair and even heads were in constant danger of being lost. Arriving there we repaired the damages as far as possible and then gathered at the cosy home of the pastor, Rev. Gehres, where we were cordially welcomed by the pastor, Mrs. Gehres and other members of the Auxiliary there. A most interesting program was carried out and every member showing a real devotion to the work.

At the close of the program we were invited into the dining room where we found a table laden with good things and beautiful in its arrangement. It was a sight to warm the heart of an artist as well as that of a housekeeper. After being comfortably seated we fed to repletion from that beautiful table. It was a perfect feast and included delicious coffee that was a blessing to wind-blown nerves. And the toasts that followed spoke as plainly of fine thinking as the luncheon did of finesse cooking. Mrs. Herod, Mrs. Hamlin, Mrs. Lee Clark, Prof. Clark and Rev. Gehres spoke in a way that was an inspiration to every one of us. A special tribute is due the group of beautiful children who were present with their mothers. Many of these took part in the exercises in a way that speaks volumes for the future of Iowa Parks' citizenship.

We bade our friends goodby and started home about six o'clock where we arrived safely, our hearts aglow with the kindness shown us.

Floral Club.

A large attendance of the Floral Club was with Mrs. E. Saunders at 1712 10th street on last Tuesday.

In answer to roll call many beautiful quotations were given from the poems of Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Mrs. G. L. Moore led the program with one of her prettiest piano selections.

"The Back-yard Beautiful," by Mrs. Von der Lippe, was discussed by each member present and many flowery pictures were drawn that lent courage to all.

"The Exchanged Ideas on Work" was the next subject that proved to us all, that while we are just beginning and have had many difficulties to overcome on account of the newness of the field, that our efforts are being sanctioned by every beauty lover of Wichita Falls.

Then came our history subject by Mrs. J. G. Fain, describing the crusade led by "Peter, the Hermit," to the Holy Tomb of our Saviour and His eloquent sermon on the Mount of Olives.

A short drill was then indulged in, bringing many points to light regarding the duties of committees.

It was then in order to elect officers for the coming year, after which the club adjourned to meet next with Mrs. Ed Orr, at 1609-10th street.

The Floras' have had the pleasure of talking with several of our teachers this week who are so interested in leading the children in "the city beautiful" work. At the San Jacinto school a beautiful description of several flower beds, some round, some star shaped—was delightfully listened to. The grounds at the central building are being attended each day with diligent care, and many plans are being made for the arrangement on the new high school grounds for next year. We must affect the lives of our future citizens while they are in their plastic state, when the mind responds most readily to the incentives of the great truths placed before it—then is the most favorable time for character formation.

So let us work unflinchingly with this great purpose in view—the training of our future—for the wise and honest judgment in the making of our home town a model social center, where beauty and cleanliness prevail.

The Avis-Weeks nuptials which were solemnized at the First Presbyterian church at high noon on Thursday of this week was perhaps the most beautiful church wedding that has taken place in Wichita Falls for several years. The chancel railing and pulpit were effectively decorated, having a background of white, covered with palms, ferns and potted plants. The popularity of the bride, Miss Katie Lou Avis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Avis, was manifest by the large number of friends who filled the church to overflowing, the bride being a favorite in society as well as in musical circles. The pre-nuptial song, Bartlett's Love Song, was sweetly rendered by Mrs. Dr. Wade H. Walker, and as the first note of Mendelssohn's wedding march sounded, as played by Mrs. H. B. Patterson, who presided at the organ throughout the ceremony, the wedding party entered the church preceded by the maid of honor, Miss Cleo Allison of Vandalia, Ill. Miss Allison was striking in a most elaborate white lingerie dress fashioned entirely of valenciennes laces, fine tucks and embroidery, and carried an arm bouquet of sweet-peas. She was closely followed down the left aisle of the church by the bride, who was becomingly attired in a beautiful gray of the groom, carrying on her left arm and wore a diamond brooch, a gift of the groom, carrying on her left arm a beautiful bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids, Misses Lillian Avis, sister of the bride, and Miss Lena Matlock, approached the altar from the right aisle. They were beautifully gowned in white lingerie dresses, and picture hats and carried bouquets of sweet peas. The bride was met at the altar by the groom Mr. W. Fredrick Weeks, attended by his brother, Mr. Harry Weeks of Arlington, who acted as best man and Mr. F. Pinner Avis, brother of the bride, and Mr. William Francis of Fort Worth.

The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was pronounced by Dr. J. L. McKee, at the conclusion of which the recessional march was rendered as the wedding party retraced their way from the altar to the exit of the church, where automobiles stood in waiting to convey them to the station where the bride and groom took the southbound train for San Antonio for a brief bridal trip.

The groom is one of Wichita Falls' leading and promising young professional and business men.

On their return to this city Mr. and Mrs. Weeks will be at home to their friends in their beautiful home on West Tenth street.

A very pretty moonlight picnic was indulged in by a party of young people on Monday evening at Lake Wichita. Mrs. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey, and Mr. and Mrs. Moore chaperoned, and the well filled baskets, the beautiful evening and the congenial crowd made the picnic one of unusual pleasure.

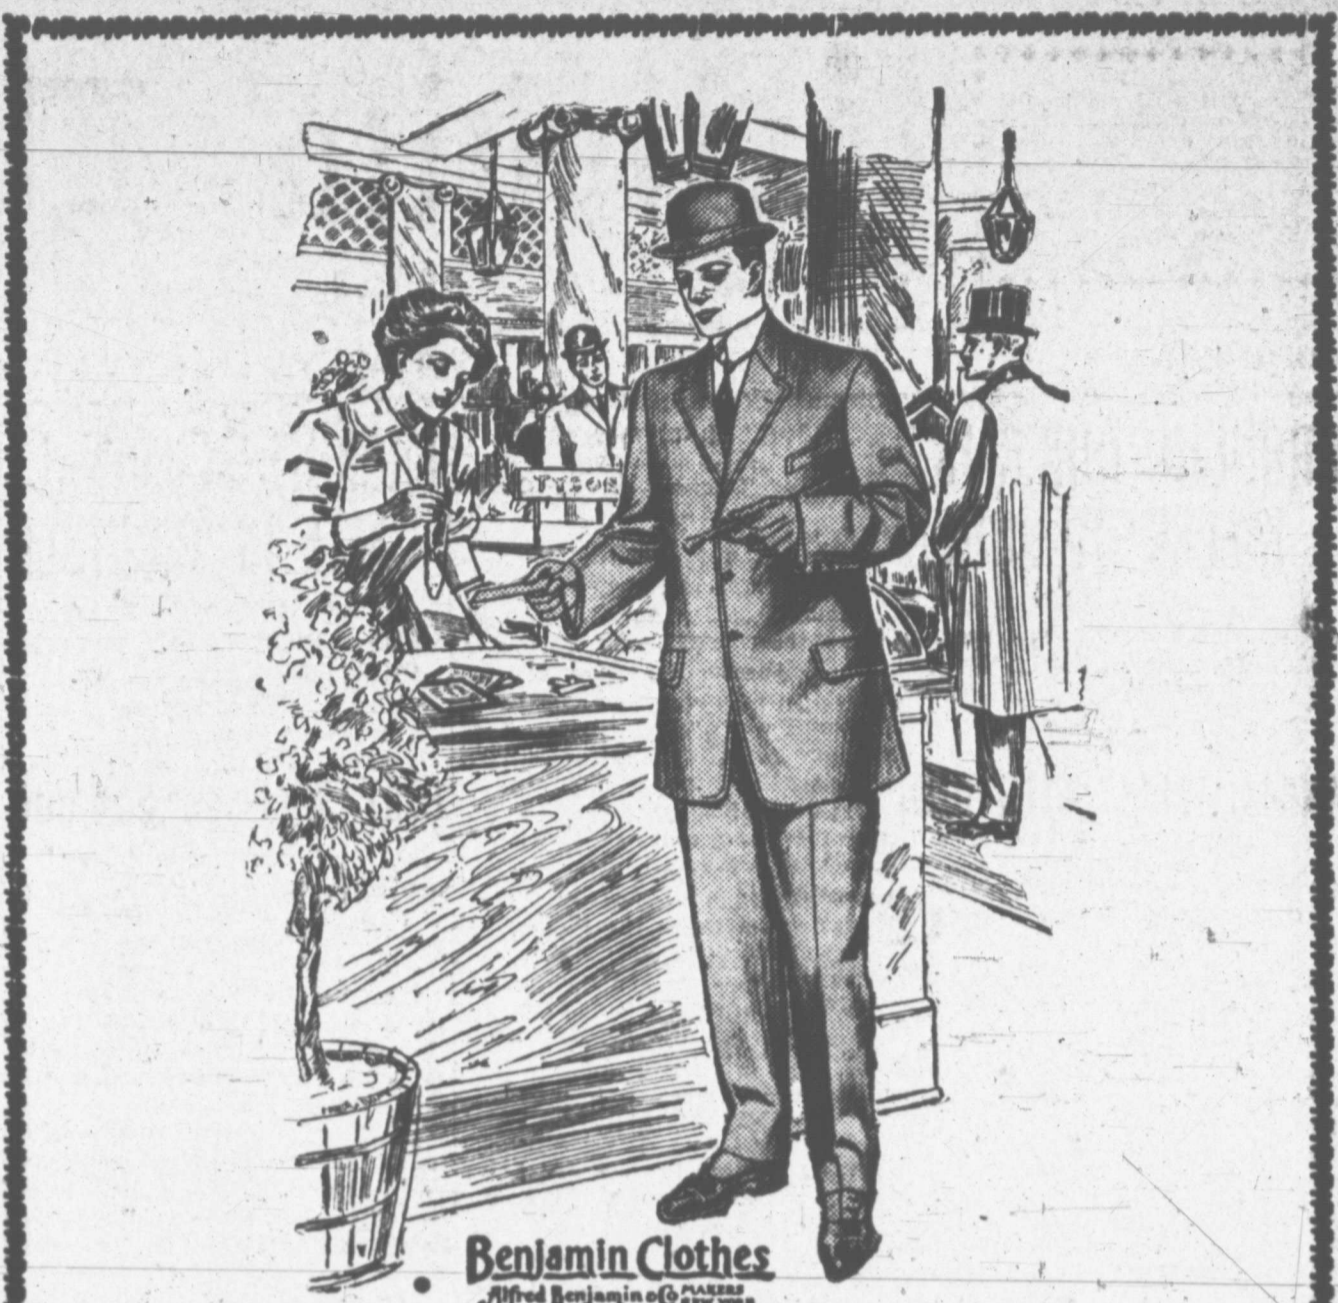

Those composing the party were: Misses Susie and Adelyn Gibson, Bonnie Skinner, Katie Lou and Lillian Avis, Sibyl and Jewel Kemp, Lottie Orth, Sadie, Willie Mae and Carrie Kell, Polly Sitton, Esther Gorsline, Vivian Mathis, Evelyn Coffield, Lena Matlock, Minnie Young, Miss Senterfitt, Margaret Lysaght, Cleo Allison, Mrs. Adams of Arlington, Messrs Harry Weeks of Arlington, Pylea, Blue, Newton and Claude Maer, Weeks, Fridy, Marion, Miller, Fain, Bonner, Boyd, McGlasson, Potter, Gould, Hendricks, Gibson, Avis, Donohoe.

Ladies Day at Elks Club.

A large number of young people enjoyed a very informal dance at the Elks Club Thursday afternoon, when the hospitality of the lodge was taken advantage of by the ladies. While Thursday has always been "Ladies Day" at the club rooms, it was only recently that any of them took advantage of the occasion. Music is provided every Thursday afternoon for those who wish to dance and the other attractions of the rooms are also open to the ladies. The first of these informal affairs was held Thursday and proved very successful. On every Thursday afternoon hereafter, beginning at 4:30, music will be provided and the ladies are more than welcome. "Ladies Day" begins at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and lasts until closing time and between those hours the rooms are open.

EDUCATE THE CHILDREN

Plan is To Instill Suffrage Idea While Young.

Washington, April 16.—Molding the young mind to the idea of suffrage by hanging on the walls of school rooms pictures of famous women, and by the introduction of text books which tell of the attainments of women as well as men, is part of the work of the committee on education. Its report was presented to the convention today by Pauline Steiner, its chairman. Six states, now maintain educational committees she declared, which have the objective of encouraging women to serve on boards of education; of the firm, W. F. Jourdan Furniture to secure the adoption of text books showing woman's influence on the affairs of nations, especially in history and civics; and to organize Mother's Clubs, Parent's Organizations and Patron's Leagues in connection with all school buildings. Teachers are also interested in the movement.

The idea of the committee on education is not only to secure the rights of suffrage for the women of the present day but to secure it by teaching suffrage principles to the youth from ground up.

movement for woman suffrage is not likely to gain permanency or stability," declared the secretary.

Co-operation in the work is slow, she declared, for the lack of good workers, because many states are engaged in organization campaigns to the exclusion of everything else and other reasons.

"The success of our work and of every lasting reform must, in the last instance, depend upon the development of the individual," said Secretary Steiner, in conclusion.

But of all the coffees sold, none compare with the CHASE & SANBORN Line in quality, flavor and uniformity. These coffees are the product of years' experience in growing, blending and roasting. Hamlin and were very much enjoyed by all present. Then followed the regular routine of monthly business of the society, after which the usual response to roll call was given in rhymes which aroused much interest and called forth frequent applause mingled with mirth.
Most delicious refreshments were served by the hostess in that most charming manner which ever renders her home a court of pleasure supreme. The delicacies served to awaken glad memories of former joyous hours, and all too soon the hour of adjournment came and the guests dispersed with memories of an event long to be cherished.
The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. L. Moore.

Ready to Begin Wolter Trial

New York, April 16.—The district attorney's office has completed all preparations for beginning the murder trial of Albert Wolter, which is on the docket for Monday, to be called before Judge Warren Foster in Part V. of the Court of General Sessions. The defendant, a Saxon boy of eighteen years, is charged with having brutally murdered Ruth Amos Wheeler, a handsome girl of fifteen years, and with having dismembered and partly burned her body. The crime, which was committed less than a month ago, was of an unusually brutal and fendish nature and created considerable of a sensation at the time.

Assistant District Attorney Frank Moss, who has been at work almost constantly since the discovery of the crime, collecting evidence against Wolter, is confident of being able to convict the accused of the crime with which he is charged. He has in his possession what he considers a strong chain of circumstantial evidence, sufficient, he believes, to prove the guilt of Wolter.

The first link in the evidence to be submitted by the prosecution will be the admission of Wolter that he wrote a postal card to the Merchants' and Bankers' Business College, where Miss Wheeler had studied stenography, asking that a stenographer be sent to his home at No. 224 East Seventy-fifth street. The card, which was handed to Miss Wheeler, and which she probably had in her possession when she entered Wolter's apartment, has not been found, but the card was seen by several witnesses who particularly noted upon it the impression of a rubber stamp, identical with that of a stamp found in Wolter's possession. The fact that Wolter afterward denied having written to the college for a stenographer, is expected to count against him, when it is shown by the testimony of several witnesses that such a card actually existed and when Wolter's note book is produced in evidence, by which it is expected to show not only that Wolter had been in the habit of answering advertisements of stenographers applying for work, but that he had written to the Merchants' and Bankers' Business College and had seen and spoken to Miss Wheeler. In proof of the latter contention it will be pointed out that Miss Wheeler was known in the college and among her girl friends merely as Ruth Wheeler, as she never used her middle name, Amos. The fact that Wolter had entered Miss Wheeler's name in his notebook at "Ruth Amos Wheeler," will be pointed out by the prosecution as a proof that Wolter must have spoken with Miss Wheeler.

Next, it is proposed to show that Wolter's card was handed to Miss Wheeler and that she was seen to enter the Seventy-fifth street house soon after 9 a. m. March 22. The janitor of the building will testify that Miss Wheeler asked him for Wolter's flat and that she went up stairs after he had given her the proper directions. Nobody ever saw Miss Wheeler leave the house. It is expected to show that a man answering Wolter's description was seen placing two bundles upon the fire escape of Wolter's flat about 10 p. m. March 23. In one of the bundles was afterward found a charred human body, which was positively identified as that of Ruth Wheeler. The other bundle contained, among other things, a night shirt which Wolter acknowledged as his property. Another strong link is expected to prove the fact that the umbrella which Ruth Wheeler carried on the morning when she went to Wolter's flat, was found in the possession of Mattie Miller, with whom Wolter lived in the flat on Seventy-fifth street and with whom he moved to another flat in West One Hundred and Fifth street after the police had visited his rooms on Seventy-fifth street.

Mr. Moss will prove by the testimony of a sales girl that Wolter on the afternoon of March 23, between two and three o'clock, purchased a can of black paint and a brush in a certain store and that he afterwards painted the marble around the fireplace of his flat, presumably to cover the grease which had dripped on the marble when Miss Wheeler's body was burned. He will also establish the fact that human bones, part of a shirtwaist, such as had been worn by Miss Wheeler, her hatpins and puffs were found in the stove and fireplace of Wolter's flat. Expert testimony will be introduced to prove that the grease under the paint of Wolter's fireplace was human fat.

It is expected that the defense will make a general denial of Wolter's guilt; will cast doubt upon the identification of the body as that of Ruth Wheeler; will maintain that an identification of the body and of the hatpins, chain and shirtwaist was impossible under the circumstances. If everything else should fail, it is believed, the defense will rely upon a plea of insanity to save Wolter.

THE SOCIALIST VIEW.

Every Socialist is in Favor of Female Suffrage.

Washington, April 15.—How a socialist views the woman suffrage movement was expressed to the convention by Mrs. Meta L. Stern. She declared that anyone could be a suffragist without being a socialist, but declared it impossible to be a socialist without becoming a suffragist. Socialism she declared an untried theory but suffrage she said had been successfully tried in many places. In part Mrs. Stern said:

"Mothers need a voice in educational matters. The arguments advanced against woman suffrage are never directed against that which is, but only that which is to be. At present the Anti Suffragists favor higher education for women and other things that are achievements of the woman's movement, and that were as bitterly condemned when they were untried as woman suffrage is today. Every proposed reform was greeted with the outcry: you will destroy the home and the family.

"Yet none of the prophesied disasters ever occurred. Socialism, like woman suffrage, has been accused of seeking to destroy the home and family. Yet it only seeks to bring about a more perfect civilization in which all members of human society may enjoy a true home and family life."

Washington, April 15.—Alice Paul, speaking on Woman Suffrage in Great Britain, presented an exhaustive review of the situation in England. She said in part:

"The essence of the campaign Suffragettes is opposition to government. The country seems to be in a state of anarchy."

"When the women found that they could not approach the government in the usual way at the House of Commons they tried to voice their grievances at the public meeting of the Cabinet exactly as the suffragists there to that of the abolitionists in the United States. She said in part:

"The essence of the campaign Suffragettes is opposition to government. The country seems to be in a state of anarchy."
