Pryor called the Texas Industrial Congress to order this morning, following which addresses of welcome and responses were made. B. F. Yoakum of New York, then delivered a speech on Texas' future. He said the greatest difficulty with which Texas must contend is the prejudice against investors in Texas laws, and that such laws should be modified to encourage outside capital. Yoakum said that two factors in the development of the country are transportation and good roads. He compared laws to conditions in Texas. The congress will this afternoon adopt a constitution and by-laws.

Hayne, whose formation of a cotton pool will be investigated by the government authorities, today declared that he is not alarmed. Scales said the government probes was started by the "shorts" as a last resort to save themselves and he characterized it as a "baby act;" all four men are confident that their interests will not suffer. It will be recalled that Scales lost two million dollars in cotton not long ago, but has since made it back.

AUTO FIRE ENGING TO BE ACCEPTED AS SOON AS MONEY IS AVAILABLE

The question of the acceptance of the automobile fire engine now hinges upon the city's legal right to borrow the money offered it by the banks without issuing bonds for it. When the Chamber of Commerce recommended the purchase of the engine to the council, it was upon the agreement with three of the local banks to lend the city two-thirds of the needed funds, the city having the other third on hand. Alderman Hughes has raised the question as to whether the city can borrow the money in this matter. The aldermen are practically a unit in agreeing that the city needs the engine and all of them favor accepting it, being pleased with the showing it has made in the tests.

PAVING QUESTION UP TO COMMITTEE

DEPENDS ALMOST ENTIRELY UPON CITY'S ABILITY TO PRODUCE NEEDED MONEY.

OPPOSITION IN ACTION

It is Based, However, Upon Inability of Objectors to Raise Needed Money.

The Tenth street paving proposition now seems to hinge solely upon the ability of the city council to "see" the money for the city's part of the expense and the matter is in the hands of the finance committee for action. The question of material has also been referred and the street committee will determine whether or not petrolitic is suitable for the permanent work.

The petition on behalf of the pavers was presented by R. E. Huff, who made a brief but eloquent appeal to the council to encourage this effort and set a precedent for future improvements of this kind. He called attention to the fact that Tenth street was undoubtedly the most important residence thoroughfare and that if the property owners were willing to do the work they should be assisted. The proposition was in such form, he pointed out, as not to be financially burdensome on any property owners. T. R. T. Orth also spoke briefly in favor of the proposition and said he felt that the movement was one that would benefit the entire city.

J. T. Fleming spoke briefly in opposition to the movement, saying that he objected to it because of his financial inability to make the payments. He did not, he said, propose to lessen the comforts of his home merely to improve the street so that automobiles could parade up and down it. R. E. Huff replied briefly to Mr. Fleming, saying he did not think the latter understood the proposition and that when he did, he would get in line. Mr. Fleming said that as yet he was unable to see his way clear. Claude Montgomery also spoke in opposition to the movement, saying that while he would like to see the proposition put through, he was unable to afford it.

The matter was then referred as above stated and these committees will report at an early date.

The council elected Dr. Reed as mayor pro tem. last night. The bond of Collector Robertson was reduced from thirty thousand to twenty thousand dollars and several tax matters were acted upon. A petition was presented asking the council to establish a crossing over the Denver tracks at 5th street and also to see that the ordinance regarding the standing of trains on 7th street was enforced. These matters were referred.

MAKE PROPOSITION FOR NEW RAILROAD

DEFINITE OFFER IS SUBMITTED WALTERS PROMOTERS BY LOCAL COMMITTEE.

WANT CHARLIE CROSSING

Local Parties Feel That Success Depends On This Point—Trip Made in Auto.

The committee of citizens who went over to Walters yesterday to confer with the people of that town in regard to the building of a railroad, which is known at Walters as the Kansas City, Lawton and Gulf, returned to the city last night at 10:30.

Leaving Wichita Falls at about 11 o'clock the party reached the Charlie crossing on Red River at noon, and with the assistance of two mules and about two hours of rather violent exercise on the part of the whole party (all of whom were forced to strip to the waist) the three automobiles, the two from this city and the third machine from Charlie, were finally dragged through to the north bank of Red River, and soon were able to resume the journey to Walters, arriving there at 4 p. m.

After getting dinner a meeting of the business men of Walters was held, and the railroad proposition discussed. Frank C. Avery general manager of the construction company, was introduced by Mr. Tripp, who vouched for any statement that Mr. Avery might make.

Mr. Avery stated that the Central Western Construction Co., of which he is the general manager, was capitalized at $100,000, and its headquarters were at Oklahoma City; that Capt. Geo. Collins of Kansas City, was its president, and Tom Mahshall of Marshall, Mo., was secretary and treasurer, and that while the company was only capitalized for $100,000, it was easily worth $5,000,000. He said that his company had entered into a contract to complete within four months the road from Walters to Red River, and that he had started the work of grading yesterday morning one mile east of Walters; had fifteen teams on the work, and would have at least thirty more by the end of this week. As to the point at which the road would cross Red River he would not state, but did say that Randlett was very anxious for the road to pass through that town, and in the event the road went by Randlett, the crossing of Red River would be made near there. He also stated that the purpose of building the road was to get a more direct line into Oklahoma City.

Mr. Avery, after his talk, showed two or three telegrams which he had received yesterday from reliable concerns accepting orders for railroad building material, such as ties, rails, etc.

Mr. Tripp said that his town, Walters, had agreed to pay $75,000 cash for the road, and in addition to that had guaranteed ten miles of right-of-way. The contract the people of his town held with Mr. Avery and his associates was that the road must be completed and in operation within four months from date. He regarded the building of the road from Walters to Red River assured, and said that if Wichita Falls would build the road from Wichita Falls to Red River, he thought there would be no doubt but that the road would be constructed from Walters to Oklahoma City.

When asked by Mr. Bean on the part of the Wichita Falls delegation, at what point the road would cross Red River, no definite answer was given.

Mr. Marlow suggested that the best place to cross was at Charlie.

Mr. Tandy was then introduced by Mr. Tripp. He stated that himself, Mr. Bean and Mr. Marlow were directors of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, and that he was chairman of the Railroad Committee and as such had instructions to submit a definite proposition to Walters for the building of this road, which was to the effect that if the road would cross Red River at or near Charlie that the people of Wichita Falls would build the road from the middle of Red River into Wichita Falls. That if the road crossed Red River higher up than at Charlie, in his opinion the people of Wichita Falls would have nothing to do with the project. He said he was authorized to give the people of Walters ten days in which to consider such a proposition.

At the conclusion of Mr. Tandy's remarks, a committee of the business men of Walters held a conference, at which it was decided to extend the time for consideration of the Wichita Falls proposition to fifteen days instead of ten, and at the end of that time it will be known definitely whether Wichita Falls is to get this new road.

The Wichita Falls party left Walters at about 6 o'clock, reaching the north bank of Red River just at sundown, and as the river had fallen a few inches during the day, the matter of crossing to the south bank was made somewhat more agreeable.

From the south bank of the river good time was made, in fact, some members of the party are quite sure that they had their first experience in a flying machine.

Mr. Avery, the general manager of the company which propose both to construct and operate this proposed road, is rather a young looking fellow to undertake such a stupendous task, but the people of Walters seem to have all kinds of confidence in his ability as a railroad builder, and the company of which he is general manager has already established an office at Walters.

LOCAL CONTRACTORS TO BUILD WICHITA ACADEMY BUILDING—AWARD PLANS

The contract for the construction of the main building of "Wichita Academy" was awarded yesterday afternoon to Brown and Cramer of this city, whose bid of $19,000 was the lowest of the four submitted. The contract will be formally closed this week and actual construction work started. This contract covers only the main building and does not include the residences and dormitories which are to be erected.

Work was started last week on the excavation for the foundation for the building, a large force of men being put to work. It is believed that the building will be completed by the first of next September.

ADOPT THE PLANS FOR NEW JAIL—SAN ANTONIO CONCERN SUCCESSFUL

The county commissioners this morning adopted the plans of the Southern Structural Steel Company of San Antonio for the new jail and bids will be advertised for at an early date. These plans call for a three-story structure, to cost about twenty thousand dollars, the usual architect's commission being agreed upon. The architects submitted sets of plans, but after considering the merits of each, the commissioners decided in favor of the San Antonio concern. The new jail is to be large and spacious, with specially constructed cells and with particular attention to sanitary arrangements.

Jones and Orlopp of this city will be the supervising architects for the building proper, their plans being adopted for all except the steel work. The three-story building will have the jailer's rooms and the offices on the first floor, with cell's above. It will be of buff brick, finished all the way around and its dimensions will be about 49 by 55.

HE THREATENED TO SWIM.

Officer Ordered to Alaska Was in Trouble.

Washington.—The red tape which frequently binds up officials of the government was recently disclosed in the treasury department when a clerk in the revenue service came across some correspondence between Lieut. Richard Sturtevant and the chief of the service.

Lieutenant Sturtevant, who, by the way, is still in the service, was stationed at Mobile some years ago. One day he received a telegram ordering him to proceed forthwith to Sitka, Alaska. "Forthwith" in a government message means take the earliest possible train.

Lieutenant Sturtevant was willing to obey orders literally, but, being on a modest salary and the social duties of his station having eaten an enormous hole in his supply of ready cash, he wired the chief of the revenue service:

"Telegram ordering me to Sitka, Alaska, received. Please advance month's pay in order that I may comply therewith."

The next day Sturtevant received a telegram reading as follows: "Your telegram received. Proceed forthwith to Sitka, Alaska."

Sturtevant was puzzled over his limited finances and the apparent impatience of his superior officer, but he finally had a brilliant thought. He sent the following message to Washington:

"In compliance with orders to proceed forthwith to Sitka, Alaska, am leaving tonight on foot for San Francisco. Upon reaching San Francisco will proceed to swim to Sitka."

Sturtevant waited for results and got them. Early that evening as he sat at his hotel with no thought of hiking it across the country, a messenger handed him the following telegram: "Subtreasurer at Mobile has been instructed to advance you sixty days pay. Proceed to Sitka, Alaska."

Sturtevant did so, and in comfort.—Baltimore News.

As customary, special celebrations were held at Lexington and Concord and many thousands of persons availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the various places of historic interest which were opened to the public.

In addition to the historical and patriotic exercises, there were the usual field and track contests of athletic associations, including the Spring Marathon race from Ashland to Boston, which is held on Patriots' Day every year. ## Miss Marjorie Gould a Bride

New York, April 19.—The most brilliant wedding of the year took place this afternoon at St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church in Madison avenue when Miss Marjorie Gould, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Gould, was married to Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., in the presence of a distinguished company, which included eminent representatives of society in London, New York, Philadelphia and other cities. Following the ceremony at the church, for which several thousand invitations were issued, there was a reception at the Gould family residence in Fifth avenue.

St. Bartholomew's, which lends itself to a beautiful floral decoration, was profusely adorned with white azaleas, bride roses, and white lilies, with masses of delicate ferns and the choicest tropical greens massed about the pulpit platform and rising almost to the arched ceilings.

The ushers who seated the company, were, Messrs. William Rhineland, a cousin of the bridegroom; John Fell, a son of Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer by a former marriage; Craig Biddle, another cousin of the bridegroom; Kingdon and Jay Gould, brothers of the bride; Newell Griffith of London, Julian W. Noyes of New York, and Viscount Maidstone, who is soon to marry Miss Margaretta Drexel, a sister of the bridegroom.

The bride's attendants were Miss Drexel, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Vivian Gould, a sister of the bride; Miss Hope Hamilton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, and a cousin of the bride; Miss Dorothy Randolph, a daughter of Philip S. P. Randolph of Philadelphia; Miss Beatrice Clafin, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Clafin; Miss Elsie Nicoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Nicoll, and Miss Marjorie Curtis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Holbrook Curtis. Little Miss Edith Gould, a younger sister of the bride, and Miss Elin Mackay, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay, walked directly in advance of the bride and carried baskets of white blossoms.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a superbly built gown of cream satin, with bodice and sleeves heavily embroidered in silk and finished in a fall of point lace. The bridesmaids wore trained gowns of white silk in green foliage. Their bouquets of mull and hats of white tulle trimmed in green foliage. Their bouquets were of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

The bridegroom had as his best man his younger brother, Armstrong Drexel. The Rev. Leighton Parks, D. D., pastor of the church, officiated, using the Episcopal marriage service. The musical program, which was unusually elaborate, was under the direction of Arthur S. Hyde, organist of St. Bartholomew's.

The bride of today was introduced to society about a year ago, when her parents gave an elaborate entertainment at the Plaza, where they were living pending the completion of their Fifth avenue home. Prior to the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Drexel, her hand had been sought by many suitors, among whom were not only those who were allied with leading American families, but also members of English nobility.

Mr. Drexel, the bridegroom, is of the distinguished Philadelphia family of that name, which is connected with the best traditions of the Quaker City.

It long has been a power in the world of finance and in its extensive banking interests is affiliated with J. Pierpont Morgan. It also has extensive financial connections in Paris and London.

The bridal couple were the recipients of many wedding presents of almost priceless value. The gift of Geo. J. Gould to his daughter was a handsome home recently completed in the most fashionable section of upper Fifth avenue. Many other magnificent gifts were received from Miss Helen Gould, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gould, Anthony J. Drexel, J. Pierpont Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Mrs. James Henry Smith, the Duchess de Talleyrand, formerly Miss Anna Gould, and Don Miguel Braganza and his bride, who was Miss Anita Stewart, a cousin of Mr. Drexel.

CONQUERING WASTE LAND.

European Countries Planting Vast Areas With Trees.

Europe is conquering the waste land problem by planting trees. Every year thousands of acres of land are being reclaimed in this way by the leading countries and put in a condition preparatory to a profitable timber harvest for the years to come.

Not only many previously forested areas which have been cut over have been planted up, but a number of the countries are also devoting their energies to establishing a forest cover on dunes and other waste lands, and in fact, on all land which is more valuable for producing timber than for other purposes.

France has been one of the foremost European countries in reforestation, especially in the mountains, where planting has been a powerful factor in controlling torrents and regulating stream flow. The State each year buys uncultivated lands, in the mountain regions and up to January, 1907, it had acquired 503,000 acres in this way. Communes, associations and private individuals, are also assisting in reforestation work by grants of money and by supplies of plants and seeds. Altogether 249,000 acres have been planted through this public assistance. Complete exemption from taxation for a long period of years is granted in the case of plantations made on the tops and slopes of mountains. A reduction of three-fourths for all land planted or sown, whatever its situation, is also made—New York Evening Post.

Sunday School Workers' Meet.

Meridian, Miss., April 19.—Several thousand delegates and members of Sunday Schools in various parts of the state attended the opening of the annual International State Sunday School Convention at the First Baptist Church here today. The convention, which will remain in session three days, was welcomed at the opening session by R. E. Wilbourn on behalf of the city, and by Hardy R. Stone on behalf of the various churches. In the afternoon a great parade of Sunday School workers and children was the principal feature of the program. Many distinguished Sunday School workers from Mississippi and other states are scheduled to deliver addresses before the convention.

In a speech delivered at Rotan last Saturday, Dr. G. C. Rankin of Dallas, declared that both Poindexter and Johnson are "permitting their ambitions to be governor to overshadow their conception of the importance of prohibition." He also indicated that if these gentlemen do not "come to a satisfactory arrangement within the next two or three weeks, the prohibitionists will take some action in the matter."

President Taft is quoted as saying in a speech at Washington recently, that "the first term is enough for me," and that "judging from the trouble and worry of getting through the first year of my term, the contemplation of more than one term is more than I can stand." His friends say that he will get over that feeling in due time.

The Brownwood Bulletin says that "everybody wants to live in a better place, to make his surroundings better, to increase his comforts and conveniences, to see the growth and activity along all lines." Well, then, everybody ought to move to Wichita Falls, because here we have all those things.

A fund of $100,000 has been raised in New York to "purify business through the diligent prosecution of commercial fraud." It is not stated who will watch that fund.

STEWART TALKS ON STATEWIDE PROHIB

SAYS NEITHER JOHNSON OR POINDEXTER CAN WIN GOVERNORSHIP IF BOTH REMAIN IN THE RACE.

ONE SHOULD WITHDRAW

In Which Event the Election of a Candidate Who Favors Statewide Prohibition Would Be Almost Certain.

Oliver W. Stewart, a noted prohibition and temperance orator, who is in the employ and is making speeches throughout the state under the auspices of the statewide prohibition organization in the State of Texas, was in the city today and addressed a crowd of three or four hundred men on the corner of Ohio avenue and 7th street between 11 and 12 o'clock this morning.

He is an able and forceful speaker, and what he said was well received by the crowd who had gathered on the sidewalk and around the wagon in which he stood and talked.

At the conclusion of the address, he asked that a collection be taken up and two men volunteered to take up the collection which amounted to something over $12.

When asked as to his opinion of the outcome of the present gubernatorial contest, Mr. Stewart very promptly answered that he feared both Johnson and Poindexter would be defeated, and expressed the hope that one or the other would withdraw so that the state-widened could unite on the one who remained in the race.

"The way things now look, there is no hope of electing either, if both remain in the race. In my opinion either could win easily if the other were to withdraw and show his devotion to the principle of statewide prohibition by making a canvass of the state for the one who remained in the race."

From here, Mr. Stewart left for Bellevue, where he is booked for a speech this afternoon.

IMPRESSION OF WICHITA FALLS. Sign Painter who knew this City 21 Years Ago, Compares it With Wichita Falls Today.

The following is a copy of a letter written by Richard T. Maddox to his daughter, who is a stenographer in Chicago:

710 1/2 Ohio Street, Wichita Falls, April 19th, 1910.

My Dear Daughter—I am more than pleased at the general outlook for my future welfare in the city which so recently sprang up from a prairie dog village of 1839 when I first came here to a little metropolis of the present date. Last Sunday I explored part of it. I rode out on the best equipped street railway in Texas, through the beautiful suburbs and continued to the end of the line, and all of a sudden, after rounding a big curve, beheld a sight which reminded me of the long ago, when I lived in Chicago. The beautiful Lake Wichita which stretches to the horizon with its monster up-to-date pavilion and the many water craft including pleasure boats of every description. There are no makeshift doings in Wichita Falls. The whole city is beautifully laid out; the blocks are large, the streets and alleys are wide and well kept, the beautiful trees, foliage and flowers are all in full bloom, which makes the beholder think of a paradise on earth, and best but not least it surpasses everything in the way of a city, for up-to-date business blocks and residences.

There is much more I could say, but will close for the present.

Yours truly, RICHARD T. MADDOX.

IOWA PARK BUDGET.

Items of the Week From Up the Denver.

Special to The Times. Iowa Park, Tex., April 19.—The ladies of the Methodist church gave a box supper last Saturday night for the benefit of the new church which is to be erected. Quite a nice sum was realized.

Miss Johnnie Arnold, one of the teachers in the public school who has been staying with her mother at Wichita Falls since her recent illness, came back and took up her work again yesterday. All her pupils were glad to see her well again and delighted to have her back with them. Miss Harris has been filling her place during her absence.

Mr. Fairchild, superintendent of the schools of this county and Mr. Gulce, a teacher in the high school at Wichita Falls, were among the visitors in the Park Saturday.

Mr. Small and family are moving out to their new home, about a mile from town, this week.

The Baptist church has lately received and installed a fine piano with which the members are well pleased.

Mr. J. W. Dowlen made a business trip to Wichita Falls yesterday.

The National Drink

The United States is the greatest coffee drinking nation in the world. According to statistics, the consumption of coffee in this country for the year 1909, was one billion pounds, an average of one dollar's worth for each inhabitant.

But of all the coffees sold, none compare with the CHASE & SANBORN Line in quality, flavor and uniformity. These coffees are the product of years' experience in growing, blending and roasting. They have a "body" that satisfies. CHASE & SANBORN'S Coffees are the only coffees good enough for Americans.

We handle these coffees in several grades, at 26c, 25c, 33.1-3c per pound, and

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Pennsylvania democrats will hold their state convention in Allentown, June 15.

Felix T. McWhirter of Indianapolis, is the choice of the Indiana prohibitionists for United States Senator to succeed Senator Beveridge.

Desiring to watch developments in other states, Ohio republicans have decided not to hold their state convention until the latter part of July.

John L. Wilson, former United States Senator, has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for United States Senator, to succeed Samuel L. Piles of Washington.

Myron T. Herrick, former governor of Ohio, is suggested as a possible successor to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh if the latter retires from President Taft's cabinet.

There is no politics of moment in the important states of New York, Ohio and Indiana in 1911. There will thus be a breathing spell of nearly a year before the national conventions of 1912.

After almost continuous service since 1877 Thomas F. Grady, the veteran legislator and leader of the minority in the New York senate, will retire at the end of his present term on account of failing health.

According to the announcement of John G. Capers, the republican national committeeman from South Carolina, the republicans of his state will put up candidates this year in all of the seven congressional districts.

Whether the gubernatorial candidate this fall shall be James H. Vahey, who made a splendid race last year, or Eugene N. Foss, who was recently elected to congress, is the dilemma that is puzzling the Massachusetts democrats.

Reports from the First congressional district of Minnesota indicate that Representative James A. Tawney, the only Minnesota congressman who did not turn insurgent when the tariff bill was pending, is to have a hard fight for re-election this fall.

For the first time in his long service in the House, Representative Dallsell of the Thirtieth Pennsylvania district is obliged to make a fight for re-nomination this year. His opponent is Dr. R. J. Black, mayor of McKeesport, who has already begun an active campaign.

Organized labor in Chicago is opposing the renomination of Congressman James T. McDermott of the Fourth Illinois district, notwithstanding the fact that Representative McDermott is a union man. John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, has announced his candidacy for Mr. McDermott's seat.

The political surprise of the year in Kentucky has been furnished by the announcement that former Governor James B. McCreary will probably consent to become a candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. Mr. McCreary is one of the veterans in public life in the Blue Grass State. He was speaker of the lower branch of the legislature just after the war and governor from 1875 to 1879. He was elected to congress six successive terms, and in 1903 was chosen United States Senator.

Gathering of the Smith Clan.

Spokane, Wash., April 19.—Today was indeed a red letter day in the history of the Smith Clan of the Northwest. The city was full of Smiths and fully three thousand men and women of that name were gathered at the state armory to attend the wedding of John Smith and Mary Smith, both of this city. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Robert A. Smith, pastor of the Bethel Presbyterian church, and best man, ushers and bridesmaids all answered to the name of Smith. There were Smiths from Spokane and all parts of the state of Washington; Smiths from Idaho; more Smiths from Utah, northern California, Oregon, Montana, Colorado, the Dakotas and the provinces of British Columbia and Alberta. The Spokane Smiths of whom there are about two thousand, had originated the idea of making the wedding day of John and Mary Smith the occasion for a great gathering of the Smith Clan of the Northwest and funds were liberally contributed to entertain the visiting Smiths with genuine western hospitality. "Philadelphia Tom" Smith, 73 years of age, and a descendant of Delaware Indian stock, was appointed master of ceremonies and led the bridal procession.

Tom Flinty in Dallas News.

To those who play the game of politics it may seem a work of supererogation to explain the rules which govern Democratic nominations in Texas and the rules which control the amendment of the State Constitution. The excuse for such explanation is that this correspondent in traveling over the state has encountered a surprisingly large number of people, many of them ordinarily well informed upon these subjects, and the large number of inquiries received by The News concerning the same.

Much of the political discussion of late has served to confuse people. Candidates as a rule seem to take it for granted that the people understand the matters to which reference has been made and that they remember the details of same.

The writer has observed that Judge Poindexter and Mr. Johnson do not take all these things for granted, but take the trouble to explain many of the details of law and constitution and the modus operandi of legislation. For example, Judge Poindexter very clearly explains that the Constitution is the supreme law of the State, adopted by the people themselves, and that the courts will not permit any law made by the Legislature to stand if it is contrary to or at variance with the provisions of the Constitution.

But, if any candidate has given a complete explanation of the modus operandi of nomination and the amendment of the Constitution the same has escaped the attention of this correspondent. Many people seem to think that the convention still controls nominations in whole or in part, and that a majority of convention votes is necessary to nominate, and there appears to be confusion as to the number of legislative votes necessary to submit a constitutional amendment or to enact a law as well as the number of votes necessary to adopt a constitutional amendment. To assist in bringing about a correct understanding concerning these matters, the following is submitted:

When Majority Ruled.

Prior to 1905 candidates for State offices were nominated by State conventions. In so far as law was concerned, delegates were free to vote as they pleased. The strength of two or more candidates might be merged, or a dark horse might be nominated. Prior to 1894 a two-thirds majority of convention votes was necessary to nominate; thereafter only a majority.

Under the primary election law of 1905 a dual system was inaugurated. The candidates were voted upon direct in the primaries, but the direct vote was transmuted into a convention vote, a majority of which was necessary to a nomination. Each county was entitled to one convention vote for each 300 votes or major fraction thereof cast in such county for the Democratic nominee for Governor in the next preceding general election. These convention votes were pro-rated among the several candidates for an office upon the basis of the votes cast for such candidates in the primary election in each county.

In the primary election of 1906, Gov. Campbell received the highest number of popular votes; Brooks, Colquitt and Bell followed in the order named. But when the convention vote was figured out, the order was as follows: Campbell, Colquitt, Bell and Brooks.

The law provided that the ballot in the convention should be cast in accordance with the primary instructions, but upon each recurring ballot the lowest candidate was to be dropped, whereupon the delegates from the respective counties could cast the emancipated vote of such candidate as they pleased. This process was to be continued until a candidate should receive a majority.

In the convention of 1906 Brooks was dropped at the end of the first ballot. Pending the call of the second roll, Colquitt, and then Bell withdrew and Campbell was declared the nominee.

That convention demanded that the Legislature should amend the election law so as to enable a majority of the people to nominate candidates by direct vote without the intervention of conventions.

Plurality Rule Established.

The Thirtieth Legislature in 1907 amended the election law so as to provide for nominations by direct vote and without the intervention of conventions, but it did not provide for majority nominations. Instead it declared that the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in the primary election should be the nominee. County lines cut no figure. There is no such thing as "carrying a county." The convention has nothing whatever to do with nominations.

The idea which has been expressed several times of late that the prohibitionists might combine upon one candidate in the convention is utterly erroneous. Combinations in order to be effective must be made before the primary election. All opportunity for a second trial is cut off.

The sole office of the convention is to provide the party machinery and to adopt a platform. Because of the variance in the rules, and the fact that a majority vote prevails in the making of a platform, it is possible that a platform may be adopted which is at variance with the views of the candidate for Governor even upon the paramount issue.

Votes on Constitutional Amendments.
The Constitution provides that the Legislature may, by a two-thirds vote of each house, at a biennial session, submit to the people a proposition to amend the Constitution, and if a majority of the voters shall vote for the same, the amendment will become a part of the Constitution.

The Senate consists of thirty-one members, the number being fixed by the Constitution. The House of Representatives at this time consists of 133 members. A proposition to amend the Constitution can not be submitted to the people unless it shall receive the vote of twenty-one Senators and eighty-nine Representatives.

If the amendment be submitted, then a majority vote of the people is sufficient to adopt it. The courts have held that a majority of those voting upon the proposition is sufficient regardless of the number of votes polled. It is notorious that constitutional amendments generally are adopted by a comparatively small number of voters.

Votes to Enact Laws.

A two-thirds vote of the Legislature is not necessary in order to enact statutory prohibition or any other law. A majority of each House is sufficient, although two-thirds, three-fourths or four-fifths of the votes often are necessary in order to expedite the passage of a measure, and a two-thirds vote is necessary to give a law immediate effect.

A bill can be passed by eleven votes in the Senate and forty-five in the House if only a quorum of each of these bodies be present, but if all the members be present, sixteen votes in the Senate and sixty-seven in the House would be necessary.

However, if the Governor should veto a bill, twenty-one votes in the Senate and eighty-nine in the House, would be necessary to pass it over his veto. In such event, and in such event only, is it necessary to have as many votes to pass a bill as are necessary to submit a constitutional amendment.

"THIS IS MY 61st BIRTHDAY."

John C. Fremont.

Captain John C. Fremont, U. S. N., present commandant of the Charlestown Navy Yard, was born in San Francisco, April 19, 1849, the son of General John Fremont, the "pathfinder," and first republican candidate for president of the United States. He graduated from the Annapolis academy in 1872 and later devoted himself especially to the study of torpedoes, electrical science and ordnance. In the war with Spain he participated in the naval campaign about Cuba, carrying dispatches to General Garcia, the Cuban commander.
