NUMBER 297

ASSOCIATION WILL CONTINUE PLANS

ORGANIZATION TO BE ALONG SAME LINES AS HERETOFORE WITH MORE MEMBERS.

OUTLINING NEW PLANS

Man Will Be Placed in Field to Work Up Large Membership for the Clubs.

The Northwest Texas and South-west Oklahoma Association of Commercial Clubs will continue the present organization, along practically the same plan of action and upon the same basis as heretofore. This decision was reached at the meeting of the Association in this city this afternoon. It was felt, when the Association convened, that the lack of money and enthusiasm would make it advisable to discontinue the organization, but this was decided against and the Association will continue.

In order to get in on a substantial basis again, these clubs now owing back dues will be readmitted without the payment of the arrears, and the money now in the treasury will be expended in the placing of a man in the field to secure new members, stimulate the old ones and get the Association on a substantial working basis.

The meeting of the Association was preceded by a session of the executive committee, which decided that it was not worth while to keep the organization going under present conditions and that it was advisable either to reorganize or to discontinue. There was a strong sentiment against disbanding and it was felt that the benefits accruing from the organization were sufficient to make it valuable to every member. The Association will be continued on the same dues-paying plan as heretofore.

An executive committee consisting of J. F. Croft of Matador, Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, Porter Whaley of Quanah, W. E. Prescott of Paducah and Dr. J. M. Bell of Iowa Park was appointed to work out a plan for getting matters in shape and this committee is now preparing its recommendations to present to the Association. This afternoon will be spent by the visitors in enjoying the pleasures of Lake Wichita.

J. T. Denton of Henrietta, whose magazine plan of reorganization was explained in the Times, was present at the meeting today and he submitted a proposition along these lines. Up to 3:30 this afternoon no definite action had been taken upon it. Mr. Denton denied the published statement that he was trying to get the headquarters away from Wichita Falls and said he recognized that this city is the logical place. There was considerable sentiment in favor of employing a man to give his full time to the work, but this plan was finally abandoned. The question of enlarging the bounds was brought up and discussed, while some seemed to think it was already too large. For the present, the Association will cover the same territory as heretofore.

Those in attendance at the meeting included: M. E. Kerrigan of Quanah, president; James T. Denton of Henrietta, J. J. Callaway of Wellington, T. A. Matlock of Petrolia, Ben. J. Rogers of Quanah, Dr. J. M. Bell of Iowa Park; W. T. Huff of Devo, J. F. Devo of Devo, Rex D. Jones of Devo, Porter Whaley of Quanah, W. E. Prescott of Paducah, J. F. Croft of Matador, J. W. Mastin of Childress, and a number of Wichitans, including Frank Kell, J. A. Kemp, R. E. Huff, J. T. Montgomery, W. F. Jourdan, W. A. Barrickman and others.

Mrs. Taft's Secretary Weds.
Washington, D. C., April 26.—Miss Alice Blech, who was formerly social secretary to Mrs. Taft, was married today to Lieutenant Richard Wainwright, U. S. N. The ceremony took place at St. John's Church in the presence of a large gathering of naval officers and others prominent in the official and social life of the capital.

W. C. Huey, aged 79 years, died Sunday night at his home three miles north of the city. The deceased was a native of Alabama, coming to this state some time ago from Oklahoma. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. R. R. Hamlin. Interment was in Riverside cemetery. One brother, George Huey, survives him.

NEW MAIL LOCK BOXES ARE BEING INSTALLED BY LOCAL POSTOFFICE

Ninety new mail lock boxes are being installed in the local postoffice today and when they have been placed in position there will be sufficient to supply the temporary needs in this line. The new boxes will be made room for by making the south row of boxes longer and placing the general delivery windows at right angles to it. Many of the new boxes are already spoken for.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Two Men Were Stranded in Chocolate Bayou.

Texas News Service Special.
Galveston, April 26.—Max Artway and Charles Metzler of this city narrowly escaped death in Chocolate Bayou yesterday by drowning, suffocation in mud, and starvation. The boat grounded and they worked 24 hours without food trying to float the vessel. The men abandoned the boat and for six hours crawled half dead through deep mud on their hands and knees to the shore. Metzler several times begged Artway to leave him to die. Artway reached here today but Metzler remained at Chocolate Bayou recuperating. The men were expected to return Sunday night and the authorities had instituted a search for them.

Houston Murder Trial Not to Come Up Until July.

Texas News Service Special.
Houston, April 26.—Judge Robinson on convening the criminal court today continued the case of Earl McFarlane, charged with the murder of Assistant Chief of Police Murphy until the July term. He did not rule on the motion by defense for a change of venue, saying that an over-ruling of the motion would give the defendant opportunity to renew the application at the June term, incurring a needless expense.

TWO ADDITIONS TO INDUSTRIES HERE

FURNITURE FACTORY AND COMMERCIAL COLLEGE CINCHED BY DIRECTORS.

IS $40,000 ENTERPRISE

Commercial College is Also Considered Valuable Acquisition By the Directors.

As a result of this morning's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Wichita Falls is assured of two substantial additions to the industries here—a furniture factory and jobbing house and a commercial college. The proposition for the former was submitted by the promoter, I. L. Brin, and was not only accepted by the directors, but five thousand dollars of the amount of stock to be subscribed was forthcoming at once.

The commercial college proposition was that outlined in the Times of yesterday, a guarantee of fifty pupils being necessary to make the school sure. The matter was quickly settled by the required guarantee being made.

Mr. Brin explained his proposition to the directors at some length. Briefly, he proposes to organize a stock company with forty thousand dollars capital, to manufacture mattresses, retail and job staple furniture and retail the same. He intends to bring rough, unfinished furniture here from the factories and finish it for use. The manufacture of mattresses is also contemplated. Mr. Brin and W. A. Freese of this city, who is associated with him, will also take stock in the concern to the amount of $20,000 and the remainder will be subscribed by the citizens. Five thousand dollars of the $19,800 to be raised was subscribed by the directors and the remainder will probably be forthcoming at an early date.

The new concern will employ about twenty-five men to begin with and expects to increase this number to sixty within a few months. Mr. Brin, who is the chief promoter, is a furniture salesman of many years' experience and he has impressed the directors as being the sort of man it would be worth while to have in Wichita Falls. The commercial college will make an initial investment here of about two thousand dollars and is considered a valuable acquisition.

BURGLARY AND FIRE.

Fort Worth Drug Store Sustains Heavy Loss.

Texas News Service Special.
Fort Worth, April 26.—It became known today that burglars set fire to Parker's drug store here Sunday causing a loss of fifteen thousand dollars. Policemen believe a gang of boys broke into the place and started the blaze. Clues are being followed.

An Outing in Oklahoma

Through courtesy of the Northwest a small party of Wichitans were treated to a most delightful outing in Oklahoma yesterday on a special which left this city at 8:30 yesterday morning, arriving "at the front," which, in railroad parlance, means as far as the track had been laid at 2:30 p. m.

This point was within two and one-half miles of Elk City, a distance of 135 miles from Wichita Falls. At "the front" vehicles were provided and the men of the small party were conveyed to the cut on the outskirts of Elk City, where the contractors were busy with a great force of men and teams in removing dirt and rock from the cut, which, by the way, is more than thirty feet deep in places, and is by far the heaviest work that has so far been encountered in the building of the Northwestern. The contractors say they will finish their work within the next week, and as the track laying crew is right up with them, it is expected that within the next ten days, passenger trains over the Northwestern will be running into Elk City.

It was the opinion of all in the party that the country traversed by the Northwestern was just as fine as it could be, though there was evidence of the dry weather all along the route, and there is no doubt but that the wheat and oat crops have been greatly damaged, but with a good rain within the next week, a fairly good yield will be made.

On every quarter section along the route is a well-improved farm, and a majority of them seem to have soil specially adapted to the raising of alfalfa. In fact, the route after crossing to the north bank of Red river, seems to be literally lined with alfalfa farms, and while the wheat and oat crops have undoubtedly been greatly damaged by the dry weather, it is hard to imagine how the fields of alfalfa could have been made to appear more luxuriant and beautiful, even if there had been so much of rain. Alfalfa is the principal money crop in Oklahoma, and the fellow who has his farm in alfalfa can readily get as much as $100 per acre for his holdings. Many farmers receive as high as $150 per acre. The crop is just now ready for cutting and some of the farmers along the route had already

MOBILE REUNION IS IN PROGRESS

ALABAMA CITY THRONED WITH VISITORS WHEN CONVENTION OPENS.

SCENES ARE TOUCHING

"Dixie" Brings Forth Repeated Overtures—Davis' Granddaughter Honored.

By Associated Press.
Mobile, April 26.—Veterans and visitors continued to pour into Mobile today to attend the United Confederate reunion. The wind died down today and the sun came out brightly long before the time for the opening session. Bands are playing Dixie all over the ground, whirling away the tune until the opening of the reunion arrives.

It was after 10 o'clock when the reunion opened. The sessions are being held in a huge tent and it was filled long before the opening number. The arrival of General Claimant Evans was a signal for the first ovation.

"Dixie" was called for and the Little Rock band answered, an ear-splitting demonstration following. The confederate choir under the leadership of Mrs. Edwards then sang the South's war song and another demonstration resulted. Miss Vera Williams recited an original poem and Governor Comer welcomed the guests to Mobile. In his address the Governor criticized Attorney General Wickham for the prosecution of the men alleged to have operated the bull pool in cotton.

The touching scene of the day occurred when Chairman Wilson asked the convention to rise and greet the granddaughter of the only President of the confederacy, Miss Lucy White Hayes. The throng of veterans arose to their feet, swayed towards the platform and turned loose the old "Rebel Yell."

One by one the grizzled and bearded officers crowded around Miss Hayes and with bowed heads and reverent lips kissed her hand. The young girl, overcome with emotion was led away. The speech of welcome by Mayor Lyons, the acceptance by General Evans, some more music and the naming of committees rounded out the morning session, and adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock.

Mike Kerrigan of Quanah, president of the district association, denies that he is in the race for the legislature from this district, saying he would be unable to run. This will be unwelcome news to his many friends throughout this section.

The ladies of the Christian church will serve a chicken pie dinner in the Wilson building, Saturday, April 30th. Dinner thirty-five cents. 297-2c a townsie war on between Kempton and another town just about two miles distant, neither seem to be making much progress and perhaps will not until it is settled definitely by the Oklahoma Corporation Commission as to which town is entitled to the depot. The railroad company prefer to put the depot at Kempton, and in fact have already done so.

Elk City, the present terminus of the Northwestern, is a live-wire town of at least 5000 population, and to illustrate how alfalfa and hog raising pays in that section of the state, it is only necessary to state that 500 car loads of hogs were shipped from that point last year. It is also the second largest broom corn shipping point in the United States. As for civic improvements, the city has just recently voted $200,000 worth of bonds to carry on improvements. The city has streets paved with vitrified brick, a splendid sewer system including storm sewers, five large brick school buildings and many other evidences of thrift. The coming of the Northwestern will give to that city its second railroad, the other being the Rock Island.

Leaving "the front," or Elk City at 5 o'clock on the return trip the special reached Wichita Falls at 11:30, and all expressed themselves as having had a most delightful trip.

Next month, or when the road is completed, Mr. Kemp expressed the hope that the business men of Wichita Falls would make a trip in a body over the Northwestern and become better acquainted with the country and the people.

The personnel of the party was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kemp, and daughter, Misses Sibyl and Jewel, and Master Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cotter; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson and children, Elizabeth and Eleanor; Mrs. Frank Kell and daughter, Miss Willie Mae, Sibyl and Mary Joe; Mrs. M. M. Adickes and little daughter, Sadie and Frankie; Dr. and Mrs. J. L. McKee; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Howard and son Leslie; and Mr. Newton Maer.

TRADE EXCURSION OVER NORTHWESTERN COUNTRY BEING AGITATED NOW

The question of a trade excursion out of Wichita Falls to points on the Northwestern and Northwestern, especially those points reached by recent extensions, is being agitated at present and it is probable that the trip will be taken. It will be possible to take it as far north as Elk City within two or three weeks and the matter will be brought up before the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Association.

There is some sentiment in favor of a trade trip covering every part of Wichita Falls' trade territory—a matter the Times has often advocated editorially—and it is not unlikely that an excursion of this kind will be taken this spring.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Pennsylvania republicans will hold their state convention in Harrisburg, June 22.

It is rumored that William R. Hearst may again become a candidate for governor of New York.

W. C. Liller of Indianapolis has been elected president of the national league of democratic clubs.

The opinion is gaining ground in California that Governor Gillett intends to try for a seat in the United States Senate.

The retirement of Aldrich of Rhode Island and Hale of Maine will remove two of the most prominent veterans from the United States Senate.

Leading civic and commercial bodies of Pittsburg have declared in favor of the adoption of the commission plan of government for their city.

Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, son-in-law of former President Roosevelt, will deliver campaign addresses in several of the Northwestern states this fall.

Governor B. F. Carroll of Iowa, has set the minds of the politicians at rest by making the definite announcement that he intends to become a candidate for a second term.

So far there appears to be no opposition among Massachusetts republicans to the re-nomination of Governor Draper this fall. The governor is now serving his second term.

The Brooklyn democratic club hopes to secure William J. Bryan to deliver the principal address at its Andrew Jackson dinner and celebration the third week in May.

California prohibitionists hope to have ten thousand delegates and visitors in attendance at their state nomination convention to assemble in San Jose, on May 18.

The celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's nomination which was planned to be held in Chicago next month has been deferred until next year, owing to the time being too short in which to make the necessary arrangements.

Judge R. R. Kinkade of Toledo, who is chiefly known to fame as the judge who sent the Toledo ice man to jail for forming a trust to boost prices, is now mentioned as a possible candidate for governor of Ohio on the republican ticket.

When the Illinois prohibitionists meet in convention at Decatur next month to name candidates for state offices they will take steps to push the movement for a vote at the November election on the proposition of whether the legislature shall pass a statewide prohibition measure.

The two main factions of the democratic party in New Jersey are engaged in a fight to determine which will control the convention that will nominate a candidate for governor of the state, to be voted on next November. Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., of Trenton, and State Senator George S. Silzer of Middlesex county, are the two men over whom the fight is being waged.

Taft and Carnegie at Dedication.
Washington, April 26.—In the presence of an imposing assemblage of diplomats representing the republics of the Western world and a number of other distinguished guests, the new million-dollar home of the International Bureau of American Republics was dedicated this afternoon with an interesting program of exercises. The principal addresses were delivered by President Taft and Andrew Carnegie, who donated $750,000 toward the erection of the building. Secretary of State Knox as chairman of the governing board of the bureau, presided over the ceremonies and other prominent participants were the Mexican ambassador, Senor de la Barra, who responded to the address of President Taft, Senator Root of New York and John Barrett, director of the bureau.

The dedication ceremonies took place in the large assembly hall of the building, known as "the hall of ambassadors." The spacious chamber was handsomely decorated with flowers and the flags and colors of the United States, Mexico and the various republics of Central and South America. Added brilliance was given the scene by the presence of the numerous diplomats in their gorgeous uniforms with gold lace and decorations. The Marine band furnished the musical features of the program.

The new edifice occupies a commanding site at the corner of 17th and B streets, overlooking the Potomac. The corner stone was laid in May, 1908, with ceremonies at which President Roosevelt and other distinguished persons spoke. The building, which is considered one of the architectural features of the capital, cost nearly a million dollars. It is of the Latin-American type of architecture. The scheme of decoration is artistic and handsome, the bronze frieze for the board room being particularly fine.

The International Bureau of American Republics, which is to have its home in the building was established in 1890 in accordance with resolutions passed at the first international conference of the American republics, held in Washington in 1889-90, and presided over by James G. Blaine, then Secretary of State.

Where Quality Tells and Price Sells

All Eyes on Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 26.—Although the democratic state convention does not meet until tomorrow evening, the leaders, as well as most of the 1,747 delegates, are here today. About the corridors of the Denison hotel, where the most of the leaders have established headquarters, political discussion buzzed at a lively rate.

The proposal to indorse a candidate for United States Senator, the plans of the Taggart and anti-Taggart forces, the platform to be adopted by the convention, especially with reference to the temperance question—these were the chief topics of discussion at the button-hole conferences in the hotel lobbies and other places where the politicians congregated. The nomination of the state ticket, which is ostensibly the chief work of the convention, probably received less attention than any of the foregoing topics.

The old-wheel-horses of the party will endeavor to make "Harmony and Enthusiasm" the keynote of the convention. They realize that a hard battle is in prospect this fall with the chances of democratic success brighter than for many years providing the party presents a solid front. Indiana has a normal republican majority of about 35,000. Last fall, however, the democrats succeeded in electing Thomas R. Marshall governor by about 16,000, and they also elected eleven out of the thirteen congressmen, two or three other state officers and a majority of legislators. From this they are taking hope for the coming fray. According to the program, mutual concessions are to be made by the opposing factions.

Whether Governor Marshall's proposal to indorse a candidate for senator shall be acted upon, is to be left entirely in the hands of the convention itself. As temporary chairman of the convention Governor Marshall will deliver the opening address. He will probably take occasion to explain his views in regard to the senatorial indorsement, but without specifically urging the convention to adopt his suggestion. He will point out that the democrats, since 1894, have been advocating the election of United States senators by popular vote, and that can not be done, the nearest approach to it is to have the state convention name a man to whom the democratic forces shall rally. He believes further that such action on the part of the convention would place the democratic forces on an equality with the republicans, whose only candidate in the field will be, as far as can be discerned, Senator Beveridge.

Thomas Taggart, whose influence is still paramount in the controlling faction of the democratic party in Indiana, has taken no pains to conceal the fact that he is opposed to the governor's suggestion to indorse a senatorial candidate. The reasons for his opposition, he declares, are not of a personal character, though the general understanding is that he will be a candidate for Senator Beveridge's seat in the event the democrats capture the next legislature. Mr. Taggart takes the stand that the governor's plan would have the disadvantage of removing all the candidates for United States senator except one from the race and that the candidates eliminated and their friends might not, therefore, be so active in the campaign.

Next to the senatorial question, the party platform is the chief subject of discussion today. A tariff for revenue only has for years been the democratic shibboleth in Indiana. Mr. Hendricks and Mr. Turpie used it with emphasis in their day and other leaders have never missed the opportunity to denounce protection in all of its forms. It is not difficult, therefore, to predict that the deliverance of the convention on the tariff question will be in keeping with the party's record. But the tariff will not be the only issue in Indiana this year, and it may not be the paramount one. There is also a temperance question. The republicans did not mention it in their platform, but the democrats feel obliged to deal with it in some form. Many delegates are in favor of an outright indorsement of city and township local option, while others believe in high license and close regulation for the saloon. The convention will nominate candidates for all important state offices except governor and lieutenant governor. Prof. Robert J. Aley, of Bloomington, will be re-nominated for state superintendent of public instruction without opposition, but contests with from two to half a dozen entries each are on for the nominations for auditor of state, state treasurer, attorney general, judges of the supreme and appellate courts and other places on the ticket.

FAMOUS COW MAKING TOUR OF COUNTRY IN PRIVATE CAR

Here's a cow without any name, which is not strange, but her ladyship is due to be a famous cow before very long. Leaving the University of Cornell April 18, the cow is now making a tour of the country in a private car—not a private stock car, but a real, up-to-date car. A guard of honor is along composed of six college professors. In fact, she is fed by a college professor, her bed dressed down each night by a college professor, and a college professor grooms her, another milks her and the other two talk about her.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

If You Have it, Read This Letter.
MI-ONA is Guaranteed.
"I was taken last August with a severe stomach trouble. The doctor said it was nervous dyspepsia. I took his treatment four weeks but did not feel any better. I took everything I heard of. The first day of December, 1908, I got a box of MI-ONA. I took them that afternoon and the next day and haven't had one bit of pain in my stomach since the 2nd day of December. I took five boxes. Feel well now, and sleep good—Mrs. M. E. Maxfield, R. F. D. 2, Avoca, N. Y.

MI-ONA is surely the best prescription for indigestion ever written. It relieves after dinner distress, belching of gas, foul breath, heartburn, etc., in five minutes.

It is guaranteed to permanently cure indigestion acute, or chronic, or any disease of the stomach or money back.

MI-ONA stomach tablets are sold by Week's Drug Co. and leading druggists everywhere at 50 cents a large box.

The president of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange declares that the passage of the Scott anti-futures bill will not, if enacted into law, stop gambling in futures, but, on the other hand, will legalize what is commonly known as "bucket shops" and other forms of "speculative rascality."

There is a growing demand among the people that the Fourth of July shall hereafter be observed in a more orderly manner than heretofore. Foolish observance of the day has cost many lives and much valuable property.

While all the balance of the country was shivering in the grasp of a cold snap, Walla Walla, Washington, was experiencing the hottest weather in its history. Anything is liable to happen to a town with that name.

If you know of anybody who has been overlooked by the census enumerator, call the attention of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to the fact, in order that every person may be reached.

TENNESSEE'S COURTS.

In defending the pardon of Col. Cooper for the killing of Senator Carmack, Gov. Patterson, who has announced for a third term as governor of Tennessee, has this to say about the courts of Tennessee:

"I have always thought that the system of punishment in our state was guesswork, that punishments were too severe for some offenses and that they were otherwise defective in that they held out no promise of reformation for the prisoner."

If what Gov. Patterson says is true, that state stands very much in need of a lot of reforms. But there are many people in Tennessee, and elsewhere, who believe that there is not so much "guess work" on the part of the courts as there is partisan politics on the part of the governor. It might be a good idea as a step toward reformation, if the state really stands in need of it, to retire Gov. Patterson to private life. That, at least, would improve the grade of politics which has prevailed in that state for some years.

FREE TRADE BILL.

Senator Hale of Maine, who has declared his intention of retiring from the senate after a service of thirty years, is quoted as saying that "should the democrats carry the next house of representatives, within 90 days after the opening of the next congress a free trade tariff bill will be sent to the senate, in which Maine's principal industries and interests will be marked for slaughter."

Commenting upon this statement, the Arkansas Gazette says:

"Senator Hale surely does not mean that the tariff bill that would be passed by a democratic house would actually provide for free trade. What would the congressmen representing the sugar interests of Louisiana, the tobacco interests of Kentucky and Virginia, the iron interests of Alabama, the fruit interests of Florida, the rice interests of Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas, the lumber interests of nearly every southern state, be doing when a free trade tariff bill was being passed?"

IT BRINGS BETTER RACE.

Immigrants Do Not have Large Families After First Generation.

There is a popular impression that immigrants have larger families than the native-born; and this is true of the early settlers. Prof. Boas of Columbia University, who has recently conducted an extensive investigation of our immigrants, finds that, in the second generation, the size of families is about the same among the immigrants as it is among the native stock, two or three children to a family. Whatever bearing this fact may have upon individual morality and the future of the nation, Prof. Boas clearly shows that race suicide also spells race improvement.

When a family has one child the height of that one tends to be considerably above the normal. When a family has two children their height is still above the normal, but not so far as that of the child of the one-child family. In families of three, four and five children the average height is still above the normal, although in decreasing stages; but after the fifth child the stature becomes abnormally low. This fact is partly but not entirely explained by the better care and nutrition of the earlier children.

HOW THE BAT FLIES.

Its Large Ears Are More Sensitive Than Human Organs.

When the long-eared bat commences to fly it erects its large ears, and in flight it is continually twitching them about, and it is probable that they serve as huge ear-trumpets, enabling it to detect sounds that are quite beyond the range of the human sense of hearing. It therefore, may be able to hear the approach of a flying insect as small as a gnat, or even smaller; while the movements of the wings of a moth of moderate size may be to it like the rush of a locomotive. It happens that this is the true function of these enormous and delicately sensitive ears.

That the sense of hearing of this bat is very acute is shown by the voice of the animal, which is a very raspy edge of sound, many people being quite unable to hear its fine and high-pitched notes even though it may screech with terror while held in the hand. Since, then, it possesses a voice almost inaudible to human ears, but which doubtless its mate can hear from a distance, we may reasonably conclude that it is able to hear delicate sounds; and, by analogy, if the human ear can detect the sound of a bird flying close by, that the long-eared bat may likewise distinguish the flight of a moth or even a gnat. Also, there is the further evidence in the fact that when its feeding is done it folds up its delicate ears and puts them away—almost extraordinary action, yet a very natural one if the animal has to depend on these organs for its livelihood. Furthermore, it selects the stillness of the night for its wanderings abroad, when other bat species have largely ceased flight, probably that it may the more readily detect the almost silent movements of its quarry, and so pursue them in their flight.

These huge ears of the long-eared bat, then, point to the fact of an advanced evolution. While the night-flying moths have, like the owls, developed soft wings and a silent flight, those of the long-eared bat have kept pace and evolved concurrently an acute sense of hearing. —"How a Bat Goes to Sleep" in May Strand Magazine.

Sentence of Death Passed.
Amarillo, Tex., April 25.—Sentence of death was today passed upon G. R. Miller by Judge J. N. Browning of this city, at Clarendon, for the murder of Floyd Autry of Fort Worth, on a morning Fort Worth and Denver freight train, March 30th, 1909. Date of execution will be Friday, June 3. Miller had previously been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary for killing an unidentified man on the same train on which he is alleged to have killed Autry. He was returned to Clarendon, tried and convicted for the murder of Autry, and the Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld the trial court in imposing the death penalty.

An Attractive Country Home.

Design 922, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

This design makes a splendid country home. The circular porch is an interesting feature, seldom incorporated in smaller houses. Two large bays give the living room a beautiful symmetry and afford a view in all directions. The large reception hall may be entered through either of two vestibules. The parlor is made a part of the reception hall by columned archways. There are four chambers upstairs and a hall large enough to accommodate several chairs or a table. Size thirty-six feet wide and forty feet deep. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $8,000.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish a complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 922 for $50.
GLENN L. SAXTON.

HEINZ always has been the leader in his line of products and here is his latest lead.
He uses fresh apples as a filler in making both strawberry and blackberry preserves.
The combination is a delicious surprise.
This combination is not used so much to cheapen the product, as to get the combined flavor of both fruits and yet is does lower the cost, considerably, for Heinz strawberry and blackberry and cherry preserves—PURE—sell at 90c and $1.00 per crock, while the combination sells at 75c PER CROCK.
Don't fail to order a crock of this, as you are sure to like it immensely.

The Direct Action Gas Range IS BEST

BECAUSE:

- It has no oven bottom to burn out.
- No dangerous pilot lights to cause explosions.
- Enameled steel walls which do not rust.
- 5 feet of gas will finish biscuits on both racks starting with cold oven.
- Burner caps not connected, but loose; easy to clean.
- Does not heat the boiler when you bake or roast.

CAPTAIN HELMS ON LONG WALK.

Sharpshooter and Wife Take Novel
Trip—To Give Rifle Exhibitions.
John H. Helms, companion of the first class of the medal honor; member of the order of St. Stanislaus for distinguished services rendered the Czar; holder of the West Indian campaign medal awarded by act of congress; scout, soldier, sailor and formerly United States Secret Service agent, seeks a new honor. He wants to circle the United States, traveling the whole distance on his feet.

Helms, who was the terror of quickly made citizens during his services with the government, will be accompanied by his petite, pretty wife. They propose to make a double track of footprints around the domain of Uncle Sam, and though there will be accompanying burro hoofprints, the beats of burden will do nothing more than pack the supplies, the tent, the cooking utensils, the guns, pistols and such other things as may be necessary for the subsistence of the two way-farers.

The tent under which they will rest at night is provided with nearly all the comforts of home. The hammock, by a peculiar contrivance of Helms'
invention, is made into bed shape, and, though swung from above, does not sag uncomfortable as a hammock is wont to do. A lantern which folds up to a size to fit to carry in the coat pocket is slipped with many other needed articles into hamper bags of canvas ready to be thrown over the back of the burro. Never was a house of such possibilities in comfort reduced to such low terms.

"It is our promise to ourselves that under no circumstances will we ever sleep under the roof of a hotel or farm house."

Helms is known as a dead shot. "We shall give shooting exhibitions among other things," said Helms.
Thereupon his wife took a hand in the conversation. She must have supreme faith in his unerring aim, for she quite calmly displays a hood which she will wear. It is spiked like the crown on the head of the statute of liberty, and on each spike, which is set in the metal comb, will be placed a glass ball. He will break them with a bullet from his rifle. There are five of these glass-topped spikes, about two inches long, and he will use just five bullets in the work of shattering them. The lady whose confidence in her husband's nerve and skill is equal to such a test then exhibited a dress of peculiar make. Down its sleeves run metal buttons and button holes stitching up from the arms about two inches. He hits these buttons with straight going leaden missiles and the waist drops off. Similar fastenings at the side of the skirt are similarly treated and the gown drops off, bullet-perforated, and the young woman is revealed in the costume of a mountain climber and huntress, leather skirt, tight-fitting boots and khaki waist.—

HETTY GREEN WILL RETIRE.

Daughter of World's Richest Woman
Will Assume Charge of Affairs.
New York.—Mrs. Hetty Green, celebrated for years as the richest and shrewdest business woman in the world, will soon retire from active business life and will turn over the handling of her immense fortune, estimated at $50,000,000, to her daughter, Sylvia, now Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks.
For months it has been rumored that Mrs. Green's health is failing and these rumors have been partially substantiated during the last few weeks
by the irregularity of the aged woman's visits to her office in the Chemical National Bank and her feeble appearance when she does appear there.
Among the few persons in close touch with Mrs. Green it is understood that for years she has been quietly training her daughter to successfully manage her immense fortune and that since her daughter's marriage to Mr. Wilks with its accompanying possibility of an heir, this training has been increased.
It is reported that the transfer of the active control of Mrs. Green's millions to her daughter for management is only a question of a few week at most.

Wiley After the Candy Makers.
Washington, D. C., April 26.—Whether the use of shellac to give a glossy surface to chocolate bon bons is a violation of the pure food laws is to be determined at a series of hearings begun today by the federal bureau of chemistry. The manufacturing con-fectioners admit that some of their number use shellac to varnish their candies, but the most of them, they declare, use gum benzoin, which, they claim, is purely a vegetable product and entirely harmless. Dr. Wiley, chief of the chemistry bureau, intends to make a thorough investigation of the subject.

ONLY WAY TO SLEEP.

Open Veranda is Best Chamber of Health.
One chilly evening up at Lake Hopatcong, in the New Jersey highlands, a number of people were loitering about in the hotel sitting-room before a big blazing log fire. Edwin Markham, author of "The Man With the Hoe," was there, talking poetry with some literary-minded newcomers.

"Well, it's about bedtime," said one pale city man. "And a mighty cold night too. This is the kind of nights when I pity those who have to sleep outside."

"Pity me then" said Markham.
"Why so?" said the man, curiously.
"You don't have to sleep out, do you,
Mr. Markham?"

"No, I don't have to," was the poet's quiet reply. "But I do." Then he explained that during his annual six months' stay up at the lake he always slept out on the open veranda of his cottage, no matter what the weather.

"Quite a good many do that nowadays, you know," said Markham. "It seems that people are just beginning to discover that they have lungs and that their lungs have to be fed as well as their stomachs."

No one who has thoroughly enjoyed his bed in the open, night after night and summer and winter, ever willingly relinquishes it and is generally eager to get back to it. And here are some of the reasons.

The sweet feeling of naturalness
and bodily well-being.
Freedom from insomnia, for which outdoor sleeping is an absolute specific.

CHORUS GIRLS "KEEP TIME."

Manager Receives Many Excuses for Lateness Under Stage Rule.
De Wolf Hopper has struck a staggering blow at the stage door Johnny and at the same time has broken the hearts of the members of the chorus. Mr. Hopper believes that the stage is as much a business as a department store, and he insists that the members of his company shall keep as regular office hours as any employe in a commercial business.

Last week he gave orders that the members of his chorus must register the hour of arrival and departure on a time clock, which is now carried by the company.

Several young women who were expected to show up for rehearsal at 2 o'clock caused the loss of the Hopper temper and made that comedian voice a demand that resembled a wall of anguish in its insistence for some way of making chorus girls amenable to discipline. Out of forty young women who were called, only sixteen appeared. Hopper was furious.

"I'm going to know the reason for this," he said. Just then Miss Williams tripped onto the stage. She was only three-quarters of an hour late.

"Why are you late?" asked Mr. Hopper. Miss Williams explained with tears that her taxicab had broken down and that she had to walk to the theatre. Each girl, as she straggled in, had a different excuse. Alisa Craig said she couldn't get anyone to button up her dress in the back. She was rewarded with cold and withering glances.

The dress excuse was Hopper's finishing blow. To use a slang phrase, Hopper has "pulled a clock" on his chorus and is making them keep time. —Pittsburg Leader.

Confederate Veterans in Session.

Mohlye, Ala., April 26.—In the Monroe Park auditorium, within the sight of the scenes of one of the greatest naval engagements of the Civil War, the twentieth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by Major General George P. Harrison, commanding the Alabama division. The convention hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion and filled to overflowing with enthusiastic men and women. The general officers of the Confederate veterans and of the several auxiliary bodies occupied the places of honor on the platform.

The program for the opening session was as follows:

Invocation by Rev. P. Linn Cave, and music by band and United Confederate Chorus; addresses of welcome by Governor Comer, Mayor Lyons and Clarence J. Owens, commander-in-chief of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans; turn over of the auditorium by Jacob D. Bloch, chairman of the local executive committee; response by General Clement A. Evans, commander-in-chief.

This afternoon the veterans reassembled to listen to a program of music and the delivery of the annual memorial address by Hon. L. B. McFarland of Memphis. The regular business of the reunion will be transacted tomorrow, including the reports of committees, the selection of the next meeting place and the election of officers.

NEW CURE FOR RABIES FOUND.

University of Michigan Professor Sees Much Merit in Discovery.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—At the first meeting of the sixteenth annual session of the Michigan Academy of Science being held here the last three days of this week Dr. George Cumming, director of the Pasteur Institute of the University of Michigan, announced for the first time a new method of treatment of hydrophobia that he has been working upon for several months past, a treatment that not only reduces the time required to effect a cure in rabies from three weeks to two, but also eliminates many of the dangerous elements of the old Pasteur treatment.

By this new treatment Dr. Cumming produces immunity in patients by the means of a product of the infection rather than by the living organisms.

He uses a virus made from the spinal tissue of a mad animal, which he prepares in such a manner that all virulent poison is destroyed and a chemical product is made something like an antitoxin. This is used hypodermically, the same as the old Pasteur treatment. He has experimented on rabbits for months and of late has used the treatment on human beings with fine results.—Chicago Record-Herald.

"THIS IS MY 39th BIRTHDAY."

Hutch I. Cone.
Lieutenant Commander Hutch I. Cone, whom President Taft selected some time ago for the important position of chief constructor of the navy, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 26, 1871. At the age of nineteen he was appointed to the United States Naval Academy from Florida and graduated from that institution in 1904. Within a few years he became known as one of the foremost engineering experts among the younger officers of the navy. Lieutenant Commander Cone took the torpedo flotilla to the Pacific coast through the Straits of Magellan in December, 1907, preceding the battleship fleet from Hampton Roads. Later he became fleet engineer for the Atlantic battleship fleet on its memorable cruise around the world. He is the youngest officer who ever held the important post of chief constructor of the navy, which carries with it the rank and pay of rear admiral.

Wealthy Young Man Weds Sherman Girl.

Special to The Times.
Vernon, Texas, April 26.—E. P. Waggoner, youngest son of W. T. Waggoner, one of the wealthiest men in Texas, and Miss Helen Buck of Sherman, Texas, were married here Saturday afternoon. They left immediately after the ceremony for Quanah where they boarded the east bound midnight train for Fort Worth, from which place the young people expect to make an extended automobile trip through southern Texas.

As is well known W. T. Waggoner is an extensive land and cattle owner in this section of the state, having holdings in Wilbarger, Wichita and Baylor counties. He is also the head of several of the leading financial institutions in Fort Worth, which is the present home of the Waggoner family. North Sidney, N. S., April 25.—A collision off Fortune Bay, Newfoundland, of two Newfoundland schooners, the Edna Carter and the Victoria, by which the former vessel was sunk, was reported today. The two vessels crashed in the darkness five miles off Brunette Island. For two hours they hung together with the rigging entangled and in the heavy sea which was running it was feared both would founder. After they were cut apart, the Edna Carter went down. Her crew escaped to the Victoria, but lost all their effects.
