MACHINE PLUNGES INTO GRAVEL PIT

T. W. DULANEY SUSTAINS PROBABLY FATAL INJURIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

BOTH LEGS ARE BROKEN

Party Had Taken Wrong Road By Mistake On Return from Henrietta Trip.

As the result of an automobile accident late last night near Holiday Creek, T. W. Dulaney lies at the Miller Sanitarium with both legs broken and his chances for recovery are very slight. N. P. Blakemore is also at the Sanitarium with severe bruises. Spencer Talley and M. J. Moran were also in the accident, but escaped practically uninjured.

The party was returning from Henrietta in Mr. Moran's automobile and upon nearing Holiday Creek they turned off from the right road and through a mistake took one which led to the gravel pit in that neighborhood. The mistake was not discovered until the machine was almost upon the pit. Mr. Moran managed to bring it to a standstill on the very edge of the pit, but the side of the latter caved in, the machine falling about fifteen feet. Moran, Talley and Blakemore jumped to safety, but Dulaney fell with the machine, which overturned, the rear seat striking him just below the hips.

The injured men were brought to the Miller Sanitarium, where it was found that both of Dulaney's legs were broken above the knees. About a dozen small pieces of bone were removed from the fracture, in the hope of saving the limbs, but amputation will probably be necessary. Dr. W. A. Derringer of Fort Worth will arrive tonight to consult with the local physicians who are in charge of the case and it is thought that he will advise the double operation. It is believed that the chances for recovery are very slight, even with the amputation.

Mr. Dulaney formerly resided at Burkburnett, but recently moved to this city. He is about fifty years of age and has a family. Dr. R. L. Miller, Dr. Mike Walker and Dr. Smith are in charge of his case.

Mr. Blakemore has a badly wrench-

HENRIETTA WINS FROM THE WICHITA TEAM IN TWELVE INNING GAME

Special to The Times. Henrietta, Tex., May 3.—In a twelve-inning game, Henrietta defeated Wichita Falls yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 6. The Wichitans out-hit the locals, but the latter connected with the ball at needed moments. Weather for Wichita Falls, got four hits, one of which was a home run, and Farrow was landed upon rather freely. Word pitched for the visitors.

ed back and hips and will probably be confined several days.

Spencer Talley, who was one of the party of four who occupied the machine, says the accident occurred at 9:45, and that the machine was going only at a very moderate rate of speed when it struck the gravel pit. He and Delaney occupied the rear seat and Moran and Blakemore sat in front, the former operating the machine. Just as the front wheels went over the embankment, he jumped from the machine, as did all the others, except Delaney, and that all lit at the bottom of the pit by the side of the machine, which had reversed and struck bottom side up, with Delaney under it. He and Moran escaped with only slight injuries, and were able to lift up the machine and pull Delaney from under it. Seeing that he was seriously injured, Mr. Talley went to the residence of Mr. Caskey, only a short distance from the scene of the accident and phoned to the city for doctors and a wagon in which to carry Delaney and Blakemore to the sanitarium. Drs. R. L. Miller and Mike Walker responded to the call and the two men who sustained the worst injuries were taken to the Miller sanitarium.

HASKELL TRIAL NOW ON; CONTINUANCE MOTION PROBABLY OVERRULED

Tulsa, May 3.—Judge Marshall in the Federal Court today, trying Governor Haskell and five others charged with conspiracy against the government in the Muskogee town lot cases, declared "I will not hold up the trial of these cases on mere technical grounds." A motion to continue the cases is now being argued and it is believed the motion will be overruled. The government today replied to the defendants making a sweeping denial that they had no access to the records in Muskogee and Washington. A message received from Secretary of the Interior, Ballinger said that Haskell and co-defendants had been supplied with several hundred carbon copies of the records. A decision on the motion will be made this afternoon.

COUNTY IS VISITED BY SHOWER TODAY

NEARLY HALF AN INCH OF RAIN THIS MORNING IS RECORDED LOCALLY.

OF BENEFIT TO CROPS

Country To South and West Also Visited Today By Heavy Precipitation.

Rain fell early this morning throughout the eastern part of Wichita county and over a section of country extending as far west as Spur and Snyder and as far south as Abilene, where it was almost a cloudburst. Locally, from one-fourth to one-half an inch of rain fell. This rain will be very beneficial to some of the wheat in this county and will prove helpful to practically all crops.

A substantial rain fell at all points down the Wichita Falls and Southern, and all points on the Wichita Valley to the southward were visited. Bowie enjoyed a heavy shower, while Henrietta and other points to the southward on the Denver experienced lighter showers.

The weather was decidedly cool this morning, the thermometer registering forty-five degrees at 7 o'clock. The sky has been more or less cloudy ever since yesterday morning and every few hours it would give indication of an early rain, only to be practically cloudless again an hour later. Practically no rain fell to the northward, either on the Fort Worth and Denver or the Northwestern, but all points to the south and southeast were visited.

While up to this afternoon the rain had not been as heavy as would have been liked, it is believed that considerable benefit has been done to crops in this vicinity, and the appearance of the sky indicates that still more rain may be hoped for.

HON. W. C. SHERROD

Among the many others who have made Wichita Falls their home there is none who have had a more varied and exciting experience than Col. W. C. Sherrod.

Accidentally learning that he had been a member of the Charleston convention in 1860, and was a member of the legislature of Alabama when the ordinance of Secession was passed, a Times representative called on Colonel Sherrod and finally succeeded in getting him to give a brief history of his personal connection with those stirring days which we reproduce below.

As will be seen Col. Sherrod was of the class of Southerners, who, while opposing Secession, yet when Alabama did secede, went with the South and did his whole duty by active service in the field under General Forrest. After the war he was elected to congress from Alabama and served one term declining renomination.

Owing to the constant decline in the price of cotton, which together with a destructive overflow finally swept away his entire fortune, he removed to Texas with his family in 1893, and soon after made Wichita Falls his home, where he hoped in the great Southwest his children might have a better showing than in Alabama.

In 1895 he was elected Mayor of Wichita Falls but the corporation being declared invalid did not serve.

For years he was a member of the Executive Committee of the democratic party in Wichita county and has also served as county chairman and chairman for the Congressional District.

A strict party man and usually identified with the progressive wing of the party, he has always insisted on the rights of the people to rule untrammelled by bossism and dictation.

While from his age not taking of late years as active part as formerly he is a man whose counsel is sought by party leaders.

While a gentleman of the Old South with all its courtly manners, he never for a moment brooded over the losses of the war, but has been actively identified both in Alabama and Texas with the new order of things, and is a great believer in the future of the South.

Now nearly 79 years of age, and probably the sole survivor of the famous Charlestown convention of 1860, having served in almost every civil capacity from road overseer up to member of congress, and still interested in everything which effects the welfare of Texas and the South. A typical Southerner, and yet broad enough to rejoice that the wounds of the war are practically healed, and (Continued on page two)

"I CAN STAND IT IF JOHNSON CAN"

JUDGE POINDEXTER THUS COMMENTS ON RANKIN'S BOOST OF TYLER-MAN.

SPENDS NIGHT IN THE CITY

Left Over Valley this Afternoon for Extensive Tour of West Texas Towns.

Judge William Poindexter of Cleburne, candidate for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, spent last night and this morning in Wichita Falls as the guest of relatives, leaving over the Valley this afternoon for Seymour, where he is to speak tonight. While in the city, Judge Poindexter was the guest of relatives, Mrs. E. G. Beachman-Rowell and Mrs. M. Norvelle.

"I guess I can stand it if he can," was the only reply the candidate would vouchsafe to a question by a Times reporter regarding Dr. Rankin's recent endorsement of Cone Johnson. Further than this, Judge Poindexter would not talk about the matter and his air during its discussion was one of unconcern.

Judge Poindexter will speak at Seymour tonight and will go from there on an extensive tour of West Texas. His route will include Seymour, Haskell, Stamford, Aspermont, Spur, Hereford, Lubbock, Tulsa, Canyon City and a number of others.

"I am coming to make a speech at Wichita Falls later in my campaign," said Judge Poindexter. "I don't know just yet when I will be here, but your city is not going to be overlooked. During his brief stay in this city, Judge Poindexter met a number of voters and a great many former Johnson county people who have moved to this section also called upon him. He expressed himself as being well pleased with the situation and said that he was gaining steadily.

STATEWIDERS LOSE IN ELECTION IN ALABAMA; TEN THOUSAND VOTES

By Associated Press. Montgomery, Ala., May 3.—Returns today indicate that the majority of Oneal, local optionist, over Mallory, statewide prohibitionist, may go as low as ten thousand, but every prospect indicates that Oneal is safely nominated. Bankhead, for the United States senate, has more votes than both combined.

Dowdell's lead for chief justice of the supreme court is strong. The count is coming in slowly.

Mallory's headquarters later calculated that Oneal, in fifty-three counties, is leading Mallory by only twelve hundred votes. This gives Oneal Montgomery county by one thousand, Mobile by three thousand and Jefferson by one thousand.

See the lady blacksmith, barber, porter, butcher, dentist, etc., in the Carnival, tonight at the opera house. You will enjoy it. Full of good hearty laughs. A fine program. Seats: adults 35 and 50c., children 25c. 303-10

Personal Recollections in Regard To Secession.

I was a member of the Charleston Democratic convention which convened in 1860; that was a very important period for the South, and the Nation, as well. I was a member of the Alabama legislature, being twenty-eight years of age at the time; was made a delegate to the State convention held at Montgomery, and there made a delegate to the National convention that was held at Charleston, S. C.

The Alabama convention directed its delegation to withdraw from that convention in the event of the convention refusing to guarantee the right of persons to carry their slaves into the Territories and they demanded that the government should protect them in so doing. This was not in accordance with the views of Stephen Douglas on the subject of slavery. Mr. Douglas was the foremost candidate before the convention for the presidency—he advocated the doctrine of "Squatter Sovereignty," with which I entirely agreed, and endorsed Mr. Douglas' candidacy, but could do him but little good, as I believed that a State convention had a right to instruct its delegates, which instructions I obeyed to the letter. The delegates failing to get a plank endorsing the Alabama views agreed to by the Committee on Platforms, withdrew, I think it was on the 23rd day of April, from the convention. We all returned to Alabama. There was a division in the delegations as soon as the withdrawal was accomplished; about one-third of the delegates favored by Mr. Douglas, and his idea of Squatter-sovereignty, and the other two-thirds demanded unconditional protection; one set of delegates were called "Secessionists" the other set, "Submissionists." The Secessionists called a convention to meet at Montgomery, Alabama, and the Submissionists called a convention to meet at Selma, Alabama: Both conventions sent delegates; the Secessionists to Richmond, Va.; the Submissionists to Baltimore, Md., where the regular Democratic convention had adjourned at Charleston to meet at Baltimore. So far as I am advised, I am the only living delegate who was at that convention. I could not attend the Baltimore convention with others who were appointed at Selma. The other delegates who met at Montgomery were appointed to Richmond. The Richmond convention ultimately adjourned and met at the same time with the other convention at Baltimore, but there were two separate conventions. Douglas was nominated immediately by the regular convention, and Breckenridge by the seceding convention; then, the warmest political canvas imaginable was inaugurated in Alabama. I was still a member of the Alabama legislature, and the Governor issued a call for a special session of the legislature, which met at the same time that the secession convention met at Montgomery. The Secession convention formed a government known as the "Southern Confederacy."

I did not think it best for the South to secede; and, with two other members, never signed the ordinance of secession. I believed that we would have a war that would be disastrous to the South, that our best young men would all be sacrificed, and the property of the South, which consisted mostly of negroes, would be lost. I had no idea at any time of separating myself from the South, preferring to be with them believing them to be wrong, than to be with the Northern army knowing it to be right. At the beginning of the war I was engaged in special service the most of the time. I was in the last battle East of the Mississippi river, which was fought after the surrender of both Lee and Johnson. General Forrest, with whose command I was attached, fought General Wilson with about four thousand Confederates; the Federals having ten thousand as fine cavalry as ever followed any commander in line of battle. The last command that I ever received as a Confederate soldier came from General Bedford Forrest in person at the battle of Selma, which was, to have all of the dry grass removed from the breast-works; that it would catch on fire whenever the fire became hot, and smoke us out.

"William C. Sherrod was born at Courtland, Alabama, August 17, 1831. His ancestors on both sides were active in their sympathies with the Revolutionary war and furnished many soldiers. His father was a large cotton planter and prominent politician, and one of the earliest and most active promoters of railroad building in the United States, having projected and built the Decatur & Tusculum railroad, the second railroad built in the United States, and the first road built in Alabama.

Copied from History of Public Men of Alabama.

William C. Sherrod is a native of Lawrence county, Alabama; a son of Benjamin and Taletha Goode Sherrod and was born August 17th, 1831. The Sherrods came originally from England and settled in North Carolina. The Goodes, also English, were from the Bermuda Islands, and went to Richmond, Va., as early as 1760.

The subject of this sketch was prepared for college at Edgefield, S. C., and finished his course at the University of North Carolina. In early life he was engaged in cotton planting in Lawrence county, Alabama, extending his planting interests into Arkansas, where, in Deshay county, on the Arkansas river, he is the owner of an immense plantation, which annually yields him many bales of fibrous fabric. He also owned and managed the old homestead in Lawrence county, one of the finest plantations in the Tennessee Valley. As was his father in his life time, Col. Sherrod before the war was one of the most extensive planters and slave owners in Northern Alabama. He represented Lawrence county in the legislature sessions of 1859-60, and was a delegate to the Charleston convention of the latter year. In the legislature he was a Union man, and was distinguished as one of the three members that refused to sign the ordinance of secession. In the Charleston convention he supported Stephen A. Douglas, as he did at Baltimore, where he was also a delegate. Notwithstanding his opposition to secession; after his state withdrew from the federal union, he as did every other true Southern man, espoused the cause of the South and at once volunteered his service in her defense.

At the beginning of the war he was appointed captain of commissaries for Patterson's brigade of cavalry, and was connected with the service from the first to the last, participating in many hotly contested battles in Alabama and

States, and the first road built in Alabama.

The subject of this sketch prepared for college at Edgefield, S. C., and was educated at Chappel Hill College, North Carolina under the presidency of Governor Swaine. He afterwards engaged in cotton planting, at the same time devoting some attention to politics and was a member of the National Democratic convention held at Charleston in 1860, and of the Alabama legislature in 1858-59-60, and was one of three members of that body who persistently refused to sign the ordinance of secession; he finally however cast in his fortune with his state and entered the army of the Confederate States. At the close of the war he resumed his occupation as a cotton planter, conducting his operations on an extensive scale. He was elected a representative from Alabama to the Forty-first Congress as a democrat; he served on the Committee on Railroads and Canals, and devoted himself with untiring industry to the success of the Southern Pacific railroad, which carried an appropriation of twenty-seven million acres of land, the largest appropriation ever given any railroad in the United States, and he contributed more to the accomplishment of that end than any other representative in congress.

At the beginning of the war he was appointed captain of commissaries for Patterson's brigade of cavalry, and was connected with the service from the first to the last, participating in many hotly contested battles in Alabama and other gulf states. At the close of the war he returned to Lawrence County and engaged in cotton planting, spending his time there until 1880.

He was a member of the forty-first United States congress and had charge of the Southern Pacific railroad bill, conducting it to its final passage. During his term in congress his record shows that he devoted his time and his talents to the advancement of the internal improvements to the exclusion of political discussion and the history of the legislation during that period attests the fact that he was one of the most useful members of that body. In 1879 he represented the second senatorial district in the upper house of the legislature, and, as a member of the finance committee, assisted in framing the revenue bill that piloted the state out of its indebtedness. He removed to Florence in June, 1883, for the purpose of educating his children.

In June, 1886, with Hon. W. B. Wood, he formulated the idea of the Florence boom and was one of the originators of the Florence Land and Mining Company, of the W. B. Wood Furnace Company, of which he was vice-president; also of the Florence Coal, Coke and Iron Company; the Florence, Tuscaloosa & Montgomery Railroad Company, of the Tennessee and Alabama Railroad; the Alabama, Florence and Cincinnati Railroad, in all of which he is of the several boards of directors. To recur to his congressional record, we find that the Southern Pacific Railroad bill was turned over to him after it had been abandoned by all others, and was placed in his hands at the special request of General Jno. C. Fremont.

Col. Sherrod knew almost intimately every leading man in the forty-first congress and was on terms of amity with them without regard to politics. To his credit it may be said that he had at all times to rebuild the country and that he participated in no political dissensions.

He was married at Nashville, Tenn., on October 21st, 1856, to Miss Amanda Morgan, the accomplished daughter of Col. Saml. D. Morgan, whose body lies in the state capitol of Tennessee by order of the legislature.

FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, April 30.—Notwithstanding many predictions to the contrary, blouses will be worn as usual during the coming summer. The plainness of the new blouses shown in the shops is particularly noticeable this year. A few tucks and a frill are the sole trimmings in many cases, or there is a simple banding of embroidery introduced down the front. But, materials, in the case of the best waists, the beautifully fine, some of these exquisitely fine blouses with daintily run pin tucks and a pleated frill along one side of the front are quite as attractive and in much better taste than the honeycombed lace and lawn models of a few seasons ago. A marquisse blouse for wear with tailored suits was made in this fashion, the material being fine French batiste. Half-inch tucks were run across the front from shoulder to bust, continuing all the way down the front as the center was reached. The blouse fastened toward the left, and the edge was finished with a shaped frill of the lawn some four inches wide at the top and tapering to a point at the bottom. Down the center front of the blouse went a row of fine Hamburg embroidery. The sleeves of this waist, in bishop style, were gathered into cuffs of tucking and the upper sleeve was made smaller by rows of tucks running from the top down to about the elbow.

Many colored effects are shown in the new summer shirt waists and some of them are very pretty. A white batiste waist, tucked across the front, has a pleated frill bordered with blue and white dotted lawn, and the dotted lawn also furnishes cuffs and collar. This blouse would be very dainty with a blue serge suit. A pink and white cotton voile in blouse in tiny stripes had a plain pink lawn frill set under the striped one of voile, and pipings of the plain pink were used on cuffs and collar. This model was also shown in green and white and was much admired.

Lingerie blouses, like the tailored styles, show more fineness of material and less elaboration of trimmings than formerly. Very dainty models of sheer batiste, tucked all the way across the front and back and with three-quarter sleeves finished with tucked cuffs may be purchased for very little and by adding a few yards of good lace may be transformed into handsome blouses that could not be purchased for twice the price.

Many women, undoubtedly, will be pleased to hear that Dutch necks are still in vogue and promise to remain thus during the hot summer season. Nothing so cool and comfortable for hot summer days was ever devised, and one pities the poor masculine folk who may not doff their horrible linen collars and go about with their throats bared to the cooling breezes. The woman who cannot stand the severe test of a round Dutch neck may have her high-boned stock if she will, or she may wear one of the coquettish little French frills which encircle the throat, lying flat like a collar and finished with a pert, becoming bow of dark velvet under the chin.

Women have not put aside black with the coming of spring days and springtime colorings and a surprising number of black street costumes are to be noted wherever fashionable folk congregate. Many of these costumes are in soft satiny black silk and chiffon, silk and tulle, silk and cashmere or serge, or all silk, and they usually take the form of trotting frock and coat, the coat being entirely of the silk, while the frock is largely of the other material trimmed with the silk. Often the frock skirt is of silk up to where it meets the coat.

Some exceedingly good looking tailored models are in black raw silk, which probably bears the name of some kind of pongee, and, oddly enough, several of the smartest models of this type seen recently have been trimmed in a black silk of high lustre or satin. One model from Francis which was particularly trim and knowing looking was of the black raw silk with pipings of black satin and had a curious Eton or bolero jacket arrangement with a collar of Japanese blue embroidery.

Less soutache embroidery is seen than last season, yet it appears effectively on many of the most successful models. Tavenier has a frock which has been copied frequently and with various modifications. In one version it is of white crepe, a simple bodice and skirt, the latter trimmed in a deep flounce of Valenciennes lace inset with Venetian motifs. This flounce is weighted down by a wide border of "antique" grinted cotton which almost loses its identity by having its design outlined by fine white soutache. The soutache not only outlines the design, but is massed in scroll design here and there over the surface. Revers of the soutached cotton are on the bodice, which is largely of the lace, and bands of the trimming finish the short, wide peasant sleeves of crepe.

The pelerine of the period of 1830, but in modernized form, has arrived. Drecoil was one of the first Paris designers to show what a charming little thing an adaptation of a scarf can be. Of supple cloth or silk, chiffon or net, the pelerine may be fashioned. It is best when made to match the gown. At any rate there is a wonderful possibility in the garment, for the changes are legion, the effect always charming. When viewed from the front the pelerine has the effect of a crossed fichu. This is quite attainable when the soft silk is used. The narrow ends encircle the waist and tie in a butterfly bow at the back. Or, if the material be perishable, the bow can be permanent and the fastening secured by a hook. At the back this little wrap is caplike, dropping in folds over the shoulders. The top edge is kept in shape by the narrow collar; the lower part is finished with a ruffle of the same material, or chiffon, that exactly matches the shade of the wrap, or by long silk fringe that is again invading fashion's realm.

The sailor dress and the middy blouse have reached a state of perfection, so far as pattern and workmanship go, that makes them more than ever desirable for little boys and girls, as well as for older girls, and even for their youthful mothers, who need the outing garment for camping or seashore wear. It is not now possible to escape the becoming line in the middy garment, since they have been planned in many ways to suit various figures and faces. Collars are elongated as to the front, or they are short and broad in effect; they are even square. Some of them are of moderate size, while others extend down, covering the shoulders and nearly half of the back.

Some Men Can't See Straight

A board may be half an inch wider or quarter of an inch thicker at one end than at the other, yet they can't see the difference. They discover the difference, however, when they come to use the lumber. Then they kick. If you would avoid lumber of this kind, buy from us. We are the most particular people in the country about good mill work. We do all the kicking that is necessary, to the manufacturer. The result is, that we get the best lumber, and so do you when you buy here. Let us make you an estimate on whatever you want.

Edwin Waller, of Austin, candidate for State Comptroller, was in the city yesterday looking to his political interests. Mr. Waller has been a clerk in the Comptroller's department for the past nine years, and has five opponents, but refuses to divulge their names. He says there is only $2500 per year in the office, and if his opponents want to get acquainted with the public they will have to travel like himself and spend their good money for railroad fare, or do worse—walk or ride in the side-door sleepers. Mr. Waller is a pleasant gentleman and easy to get acquainted with, and his opponents, whoever they are had better get busy if they expect to be in the running.

Japan-British Exhibition.
London, May 3.—A mighty throng of visitors journeyed to Shepherd's Bush today for the inauguration of the great Japan-British Exhibition. Though much remains to be done in the way of putting on the finishing touches it was apparent to all who attended the opening that the exhibition is destined to eclipse in many respects all of the similar international shows held in London during the last few years. The display comprises a wealth of magnificent exhibits illustrating the manners and customs, arts and industries of the Japanese. Models and other exhibits show the progress of the kingdom in agriculture, manufacturing and commerce. There are also typical Japanese tea gardens, bazaars and theatres, for the entertainment of the visitors. The deep interest which the British public has of late manifested in Japan and the Japanese is sufficient to insure the success of the exhibition, which will continue through the summer.

Tri-State League Ready for Opening.
Altoona, Pa., May 3.—Everything is in readiness to begin the race for the championship pennant of the Tri-State League tomorrow. In the opening games Williamsport is scheduled to play in Harrisburg, Lancaster in York, Trenton in Reading and Johnstown in Altoona. Every club feels that it has a chance to finish the season in first place and the outlook is bright for an exciting race for the championship. The season will continue until Sept. 7, the schedule providing for 112 games.

Mr. Moran, owner of the wrecked car, says the accident was unavoidable; that he was following the road which had been mostly traveled, and did not know of the gravel pit. The machine was reversed and all brakes applied, but the momentum carried it over the embankment. He thinks the machine was not running over four miles an hour when the accident took place. Was within six feet of the gravel pit before any one in the car saw it, and it was then too late to do anything but reverse the machine, and apply the brakes. Mr. Moran says he stayed with the machine until the jar threw him from it.

Several parties who have passed the gravel pit say it is a most dangerous place for people to travel, especially at night, and that it is a wonder that an accident of the nature of that which took place last night, and which will, in all probability cost one of the victims the loss of both limbs, and probably his life, has not occurred long before this.

At a late hour this afternoon but small hopes are entertained for Delaney's recovery.

County Judge Yeager and Sheriff Walkup went out to the gravel pit this afternoon to see just how conditions were, and see if they cannot be remedied.

King's Daughters and Sons.

Savannah, Ga., May 3.—Members of the King's Daughters and Sons assembled in this city today for what promises to be one of the most successful as well as the largest annual convention ever held by the Georgia branch of the organization. Delegates from Atlanta, Augusta, Waycross, Gainesville, Brunswick, and other cities are here. The convention has its formal opening this evening and the proceedings will continue until Friday.

Animal vs. Vegetable.

There is not a single kind of animal food which we might not replace with a vegetable counterpart. In most cases it is merely a matter of choice which is preferable, the animal or the vegetable. In the matter of cooking fats, however, the vegetable has far the advantage. Lard is made from the fat of hogs—often impure and unclean, always indigestible. Cottolene comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South. It makes food that can be digested with ease, even by invalids. Cottolene is recommended by both physicians and noted cooking experts as a much more healthful and desirable cooking fat than lard.

Burr W. Jones, a leading lawyer of Madison and a former member of congress, is being boomed for the democratic nomination for Governor of Wisconsin.

COLONIZATION SCHEME.

Germans Planning to Bring Many to This State.

Houston, Texas, May 3.—Reports received today by the representative here of the Texas Commercial Secretaries Association indicate that a plan is under way in Germany through some well-to-do Germans of St. Louis, Chicago and New York for a great colonization scheme in Texas.

It seems that a prominent German, interested in an enormous early vegetable market gardening scheme, visited in company with Germans of several of our cities, the early vegetable and fruit sections of Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Mexico and Southern California, and as far as can be learned, the Texas coast country and Rio Grande districts were the most favorably thought of for early gardening of any visited, though nothing definite could be learned, the promoter having returned to Germany at once by way of Chicago and New York. As far as could be learned, no settlement was intended before this fall or winter.

Should such a colonization scheme be located here in Texas, there is little doubt of its success, as the Germans are generally very successful in market-gardening, and they certainly would have in Texas all the necessary and favorable conditions for winter vegetable and fruit growing, marketing and shipping. The big movement on here in Texas for macadam and modern road construction, also favorably impressed them.

The Very Limit

of the fine and ultra palatable in pickles is found in the Heinz Line. Heinz Pickles, whether in bulk or in bottles, are uniform in size and color and are delectably right in flavor and quality. We call special attention to the bulk sweet mixed pickles. These are prepared from choice "Heinz-Grown" vegetables, preserved in a sweet, spicy liquor made of granulated sugar, old malt vinegar and pure spices. They are thoroughly sweet, but delightfully piquant—not insipid like ordinary sweet pickles.

It is safe to buy bulk pickles, if they are "HEINZ-MADE."

HEINZ always has been the leader in his line of products and here is his latest lead:

He uses fresh apples as a filler in making both strawberry and blackberry preserves.

The combination is a delicious surprise.

This combination is not used so much to cheapen the product, as to get the combined flavor of both fruits and yet it does lower the cost, considerably, for Heinz strawberry and blackberry and cherry preserves—PURE—sell at 90c and $1.00 per crock, while the combination sells at 75c PER CROCK.

Don't fail to order a crock of this, as you are sure to like it immensely.

New Bishops to Be Chosen.
Asheville, N. C., May 3.—During the three weeks beginning tomorrow, Ash-
ville is to have the honor of entertaining the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the meeting being the first ever held by that body in North Carolina. It will be the sixteenth quadrennial session of the general conference and from present indications
it is likely to be one of the most interesting and important meetings in
the history of the church.
More than one thousand delegates
and visitors have already arrived in Asheville to attend the gathering, and
it is expected that the number will be more than doubled before the end of the week. From St. Louis, Louisville, Memphis, Baltimore, Birmingham, Atlanta, Jacksonville, New Orleans and from the chief cities of Texas special trains are arriving almost hourly with large delegations. Page
after page of the registers at the Battery Park and other hotels are filled
today with the names of distinguished churchmen and lay delegates from
every section of the south.

The choice of new bishops is the staple topic of discussion among the delegates in the city. Six members of the episcopacy have passed away
since the last quadrennial conference,
so that it will be necessary to elect
at least that number of new bishops.
This number may be increased if it
is decided to superannuate several of the present bishops on account of age.

While there are no active candidates,
strictly speaking, all of those who are
regarded as possibilities have their
following of friends, and admirers
who are urging their claims to election. Among the many who are mentioned as the possible choices of the conference are Dr. M. F. McMurray
of Louisville, secretary of the church extension board; Dr. C. W. Byrd of Dallas, editor of the Texas Christian Advocate; Dr. W. B. Murrah of Jackson, Miss., president of Millbrook College; Dr. J. C. Kilgo of Durham, N. C.,
president of Trinity College; Dr. W. N.
Ainsworth, president of Georgia
Wesleyan College; Dr. R. G. Water-
house, president of Emory and Henry College; Dr. W. F. Tillett and Dr. Collins Denny of Vanderbilt University;
Dr. DuBose of Nashville, general secretary of the Epworth League; Dr.
Gross Alexander of Nashville, editor of the Methodist Review, and Dr. C. M.
Bishop of Missouri.

In addition to the election of new
bishops, there is a large amount of business of a legislative character to
be discussed and acted upon at the conference. Among the leading questions on the agenda are those relating to the episcopacy, the time limit of
the pastorate, lay representation of the women of the church, a change in the manner of appointing presiding elders
and the order of worship.

The demand for more democratic form in the church government will come to a head in the presentation of a number of resolutions. Various restrictions upon the bishops to prevent the exercise of "arbitrary power" will be proposed. A limited instead of life-incumbency for the bishops is suggested, while another proposal is for the adoption of the "recall" system.

There is also a strong sentiment in favor of an enactment by which the
presiding elders of the future shall
be elected by the annual conferences instead of being appointed by the bishops. A proposal to abolish the time limit of the pastorate will also be discussed.

A memorial from the Women's
Board of Home Missions will be presented to the conference asking that
the rights of the laity be granted to the women of the church. This will be the first time that such a request
has been made and there is a marked diversity of opinion among both the
women and the men of the church on the subject. Should the proposal be adopted the women would be given
the right of membership in the board
of stewards, and quarterly conferences
and logically, the district, annual and general conference.

In accordance with the rules of the general conference, Bishop Wilson of Baltimore, the senior bishop, will preside at the opening tomorrow, and
the other six bishops will take their
turn, according to seniority, in presiding over the sessions for a day
each. In addition to the eminent di-vines a number of distinguished laymen have been engaged to address the delegates during the three weeks' session. Among them are Senator Gore
of Oklahoma, ex-Governor F. Frank Haily of Indiana, and Dr. Samuel Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn.

President Taft in Home City. Cincinnati, O., May 3.—President Taft received an enthusiastic welcome in his home city today. A great crowd gathered about the station to witness his arrival shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and he was loudly cheered as he stepped into an automobile which carried him to the home of his brother, Charles P. Taft. There was no entertainment arranged for the forenoon, the President desiring to be left free to receive some of his friends and neighbors. With the members of his party he was entertained at luncheon at the home of Lucien Wilson.

Tonight the President is to be the guest of honor at the opening performance of the Cincinnati May Music Festival, an organization in which both he and his wife have for many years taken a warm interest. During an intermission in the performance the President will speak at the unveiling of the new memorial statue of Theodore Thomas erected in the foyer of Music Hall, where the festival is held. The statue, which is the first to be erected in memory of the great orchestra conductor, is of bronze and stands on a handsome granite pedestal. It is the work of Clement Darnborn, a Cincinnati sculptor, and was erected by public subscription.

Immediately after the concert-President Taft, the German ambassador and other guests of note will be taken to the Queen City club, where they will be entertained at dinner by the May Festival Association. At 11:45 the President and party will leave the city for St. Louis.

Men's National Missionary Congress.

Chicago, May 3.—As a climax to the series of conferences of the Laymen's Missionary movement held during the past year throughout the United States and Canada there was opened in this city today a Men's National Missionary Congress, with an attendance of more than 5,000 delegates, who come from many parts of the continent and represent nearly all religious denominations. The sessions are being held in the Auditorium and will continue through the remainder of the week. Not only will the leading missionary speakers of North America be heard at the congress, but more important in many respects will be the adoption of a worthy national missionary policy which is expected to mark a new era in the history of Christianity.

New Bishops to Be Chosen.

Asheville, N. C., May 2.—During the
three weeks beginning tomorrow, Ash-
ville is to have the honor of entertaining the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, the meeting being the
first ever held by that body in North Carolina. It will be the sixteenth
quadrennial session of the general conference and from present indications
it is likely to be one of the most interesting and important meetings in
the history of the church.

More than one thousand delegates
and visitors have already arrived in Asheville to attend the gathering, and
be more than doubled before the end of the week. From St. Louis, Louisville, Memphis, Baltimore, Birmingham, Atlanta, Jacksonville, New Orleans and from the chief cities of Texas special trains are arriving almost
hourly with large delegations. Page
after page of the registers at the Battery Park and other hotels are filled
today with the names of distinguished
churchmen and lay delegates from
every section of the south.

The choice of new bishops is the
staple topic of discussion among the
delegates in the city. Six members of the episcopacy have passed away
since the last quadrennial conference,
so that it will be necessary to elect
at least that number of new bishops.
This number may be increased if it
is decided to superannuate several of the present bishops on account of age.

While there are no active candidates,
strictly speaking, all of those who are
regarded as possibilities have their
following of friends and admirers
who are urging their claims to election. Among the many who are mentioned as the possible choices of the
conference are Dr. M. F. McMurray
of Louisville, secretary of the church
extension board; Dr. C. W. Byrd of Dallas, editor of the Texas Christian Advocate; Dr. W. B. Murrar of Jackson, Miss., president of Millbrook College; Dr. J. C. Kilgo of Durham, N. C.,
president of Trinity College; Dr. W. N.
Ainsworth, president of Georgia
Wesleyan College; Dr. R. G. Water-
house, president of Emory and Henry
College; Dr. W. F. Tillett and Dr. Collins Denny of Vanderbilt University;
Dr. DuBose of Nashville, general secretary of the Epworth League; Dr.
Gross Alexander of Nashville, editor of
the Methodist Review, and Dr. C. M.
Bishop of Missouri.

In addition to the election of new
bishops, there is a large amount of
business of a legislative character to
be discussed and acted upon at the
conference. Among the leading questions on the agenda are those relating
to the episcopacy, the time limit of
the pastorate, lay representation of the
women of the church, a change in the
manner of appointing presiding elders
and the order of worship.

The demand for more democratic
form in the church government will come to a head in the presentation of a number of resolutions. Various restrictions upon the bishops to prevent the exercise of "arbitrary power"
will be proposed. A limited instead of life-incumbency for the bishops is suggested, while another proposal is for the adoption of the "recall" system.

There is also a strong sentiment in favor of an enactment by which the
presiding elders of the future shall
be elected by the annual conferences instead of being appointed by the bishops. A proposal to abolish the time limit of the pastorate will also be discussed.

A memorial from the Women's
Board of Home Missions will be presented to the conference asking that
the rights of the laity be granted to
the women of the church. This will be the first time that such a request
has been made and there is a marked
diversity of opinion among both the
women and the men of the church on
the subject. Should the proposal be
adopted the women would be given
the right of membership in the board
of stewards, and quarterly conferences
and logically, the district, annual and
general conference.

In accordance with the rules of the general conference, Bishop Wilson of Baltimore, the senior bishop, will pre-
side at the opening tomorrow, and
turn, according to seniority, in presiding over the sessions for a day
each. In addition to the eminent di-
vines a number of distinguished lay-
men have been engaged to address the
delegates during the three weeks session. Among them are Senator Gore
of Oklahoma, ex-Governor F. Frank Hanly of Indiana, and Dr. Samuel Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn.

President Taft in Home City. Cincinnati, O., May 2.—President Taft received an enthusiastic welcome in his home city today. A great crowd gathered about the station to witness his arrival shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and he was loudly cheered as he stepped into an automobile which carried him to the home of his brother, Charles P. Taft. There was no entertainment arranged for the forenoon, the President desiring to be left free to receive some of his friends and neighbors. With the members of his party he was entertained at luncheon at the home of Lucien Wilson.

Tonight the President is to be the guest of honor at the opening performance of the Cincinnati May Music Festival, an organization in which both he and his wife have for many years taken a warm interest. During an intermission in the performance the President will speak at the unveiling of the new memorial statue of Theodore Thomas erected in the foyer of Music Hall, where the festival is held. The statue, which is the first to be erected in memory of the great orchestra conductor, is of bronze and stands on a handsome granite pedestal. It is the work of Clement Darnborn, a Cincinnati sculptor, and was erected by public subscription.

Immediately after the concert President Taft, the German ambassador and other guests of note will be taken to the Queen City club, where they will be entertained at dinner by the May Festival Association. At 11:45 the President and party will leave the city for St. Louis.

For District Attorney.

The Times is authorized to announce A. S. Moss of Henrietta, as a candidate for district attorney, subject to the action of the democratic primary to be held on July 23rd. Mr. Moss is now county attorney of Clay county and he has the endorsement of the Clay county bar for the position to which he aspires, which endorsement is herewith reproduced as follows: To the Voters of the Thirtieth Judicial District of Texas:

We the undersigned members of the Henrietta Bar take pleasure in recommending to your favorable consideration the candidacy of Mr. A. S. Moss of this Bar to the office of District Attorney for this district.

Mr. Moss is a young man, and is well qualified to fill the office to which he aspires. He has been vigorous, active and aggressive in the discharge of his duties as County Attorney of Clay county, and in assisting the District Attorney of said county. He has demonstrated the fact that he is an able and fearless prosecutor.

He is a man of the highest character, is honest and conscientious and is a thorough gentleman.

It is our judgment that he will make a district attorney far above the average, in point of ability and vigorous prosecution.

Signed—P. M. Stine, W. T. Allen, Wm. Wantland, S. A. Denny, J. C. Chesnut, R. E. Taylor, T. K. Jones, Geo. A. Watts, H. A. Allen, L. W. Parish, Leslie Humphrey.

Men's National Missionary Congress.

The sessions are being held in the Auditorium and will continue through the remainder of the week. Not only will the leading missionary speakers of North America be heard at the congress, but more important in many respects will be the adoption of a worthy national missionary policy which is expected to mark a new era in the history of Christianity.
