HENRIETTA DEFEATED BY LOCAL BOYS—TEAMS PLAY HERE TOMORROW

The Wichita Falls boys obtained partial revenge from the Henrietta team yesterday afternoon, winning a well-played game by a score of 7 to 5. The features of the game were the home runs by Weber and McDonald of the Wichita nine, the latter scoring three runs. Gibson pitched and held Henrietta down fairly well, though both sides hit heavily.

These teams play again at Henrietta today, returning tomorrow for a series of four games on the home lot. At present, Henrietta has won two out of three games and the supremacy is still undecided. The nines seem to be very evenly matched and the series will be hotly contested.

ing, the Galveston cotton exchange today adopted resolutions urging all bankers and importers to refuse bills of lading from any port after August 31st that are not signed by authorized ship agents after the cotton has been delivered into their custody on their wharves. This action was taken following the receipt of a letter from the Bills of Lading Conference in Liverpool denouncing Mobile bills of lading. The local exchange declares that if European takers will adopt this method there will be a big decrease in the frauds and that the financing of the crop will not be hampered.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE CONVENES TODAY AT ASHEVILLE

By Associated Press. Asheville, N. C., May 4.—With three hundred and twenty-five delegates, lay and clerical, and six bishops present, the sixteenth quadriennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, opened here today. Bishop Wilson called the conference to order and Apostles Creed and offered the opening hymn. Bishop Wilson recited the Apostles Creed and offered the opening prayer, while Bishops Key and Atkins read from the Scriptures.

Rev. Watkins of Mississippi, was chosen secretary and a committee was named to provide orders and rules of business.

Aside from devotional exercises, which form a major portion of the conference, the main feature of the program today was the Episcopal address. It was a composite address to which all of the bishops contributed.

The Episcopal address was read by Bishop Hendrix and states that the Methodists now number two million souls, the second largest protestant church in the world, with a gain in the last four years of two hundred and seven thousand. The church property is worth seventy-five millions.

Bishop Hendrix in his Episcopal address flatly opposed the demands of the women of the church for laymen's rights and representation in the conference.

IS HERE TO START NEW BRICK PLANT

O. A. KENTNER AND PARTY ARRIVE FROM SAPULPA TO LOOK LOCAL FIELD OVER.

MAY COMMENCE AT ONCE

Matter Hinges Upon Making of Cheaper Gas a Certainty—Outlook Good.

O. A. Kentner of Sapulpa, who is contemplating the erection of a brick plant in this city, arrived here last night with a party of his associates, and it is believed that this visit is made with a view to taking definite steps looking to the construction of the plant. The proposition has, for some time, been held up pending the natural gas developments, Mr. Kentner preferring to wait until cheaper gas was assured. As yet, the well which is being sunk for cheaper gas has not come in, but there is little doubt that it will be.

Mr. Kentner spent this morning with several local parties on a trip about the city, visiting the plant of the Wichita Brick and Tile Company and other local industries. It is probable that he will meet the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon and make arrangements for beginning work at once. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to donate a site for the plant, but beyond this donation will not be required to put up any bonus or stock subscriptions. Mr. Kentner has already constructed three brick plants which are now in operation. The newest one, at Sapulpa, Okla., was opened for operation only last week.

The Chamber of Commerce has until May 15 to close the proposition, but little difficulty is anticipated in carrying the matter beyond that time if the natural gas question is not settled at that date. In the opinion of the new gas company, there is very little, if any, doubt that this feature of the situation will be soon settled, and Mr. Kentner may be induced to proceed at once with the construction of his plant.

ACCIDENT TO AUTO RESULTS IN DEATH

T. W. DELANEY SUCCEUMBS TO INJURIES AT HOSPITAL THIS MORNING.

WAS PROMINENT FARMER

Moved Here But Recently From Burkburnett and Was Well Known and Esteemed.

As a result of the horrible automobile accident which occurred at 9:45 on Monday night of this week, T. W. Delaney died at Miller's Sanitarium at 10 o'clock this morning.

The funeral is announced to take place from the residence of Mrs. Seelinger, 1722 Ninth street, who is a sister of the deceased, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, conducted by Rev. R. E. Farley, pastor of the M. E. church.

At the conclusion of the funeral services at the residence, the Knights of Macabees, of which deceased was an honored member, will take charge of the remains and escort them to Riverside Cemetery where they will be laid to rest with all the honors to be conferred by that order to a deceased brother.

T. W. or Tom Delaney as he was more familiarly known to his friends has been a resident of Clay and Wichita counties for the past twenty-five years, residing a greater portion of that time on his farm six miles east of this city. Later he disposed of this farm and moved with his family to Burkburnett, and had just disposed of his holding there and moved to this city to make his permanent home a few weeks before the accident occurred. At his death he was 46 years and 15 days of age, and leaves a wife and six children surviving him.

Shortly after the terrible accident occurred, the attending physicians who had examined the nature of his wounds, gave little or no hope for his recovery, and his death has momentarily been expected. Both legs were horribly crushed above the knees, and even had he survived the shock, the amputation of both would have been necessary.

The accident which cost Mr. Delaney his life and leaves a widow and six children, is the direct result of carelessness or thoughtlessness on the part of some one. The road over which the automobile passed was the one which, up to a short time ago, was regarded by the traveling public, as the regular road, and when a death-trap was dug into it and left exposed, some precaution should have been taken to warn the unsuspecting of the danger ahead. That this was not done is plainly the fault of some one. According to statements made by two of the occupants of the wrecked machine, it was going only at a very moderate rate when it pitched over into the gravel pit, and if this be correct, the same sort of an accident might occur again even though the machine is in the hands of the most careful driver.

The Elks will entertain with an informal dance at the lodge rooms tomorrow night.

JUMPS ON ANTI LEAGUE

Characterizes Statutory Prohibition as Falacious—Attacks Opponents.

Special to The Times. Seymour, Texas, May 4.—The visit to this city yesterday of Judge William Poindexter, candidate for Governor, was featured by a very hearty and enthusiastic reception of that gentleman. His ride from Wichita Falls here was more or less of an ovation all the way here, his friends crowding about his car at every station to greet him. At Archer City a number of citizens accompanied by the public school children, greeted him enthusiastically.

Upon arrival here he was greeted by about four hundred citizens, accompanied by the band, and he was kept busy shaking hands with the voters for some time. He spoke last evening at the opera house, which was filled to its capacity. Features of his address were his attack on statutory prohibition, which he characterized as fallacious, and his comment on the anti-saloon league. He declared that he would win without the support or endorsement of the latter body and summed matters up by saying:

"I was a prohibitionist long before the anti-saloon league existed and will continue to be one long after that organization ceases to exist."

He also paid his respects to Johnson and Colquitt, attacking several of their recent statements and he also paid attention to a number of pending questions. His address here was very well received. It was heard not only by many Seymour people, but by visitors from Vera, Archer City, Dundee and other points.

Taft, Wilson and La Follette Back to Nature at Farmers' Convention in St. Louis Today

Leaving Washington on April 25, President Taft is now on another tour of the middle west. While speeches at Buffalo, Pittsburg and Cincinnati are important dates, St. Louis to be the real effort of the president, for there he will be under the guiding hand of Secretary Wilson, and the president talks on farmers and explains what he knows about reaping the harvest. The Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union of America is said to be the largest organization in the country. The promoters claim 50,000 delegates have been appointed to join in the session, which opened May 2, in the Coliseum. Educational exhibits will be one of the attractions of the convention, and farmers will be given pointers on how to gather the harvest as well as the best way to plant the seeds in the spring. The question of feeding stock will be discussed at great length. The uniting of the southern agriculturists and the American Society of Equity with the Farmers' Educational union gives the convention a nationwide importance.

BURIALS IN RUSSIA.

Cost Proportionate to Wealth and Influence of Family.

Russian burial customs and the charges which arise in connection with the disposition of the dead have been made the subject of a report by Consul General John H. Snodgrass of Moscow, who writes:

"The cost of funerals in this empire depends entirely upon the wealth and influence of the deceased. The rule holds good in any civilized land, but it is particularly pertinent to Russia, where the peasant is laid away for only $5 and, on the other hand, the citizen of wealth and high standing has thousands spent upon him in the way of special and lengthy services and for gorgeous trappings and dress parade. The average cost of a funeral is in the neighborhood of $100, but the following arrangements for $250 afford some idea of Russian methods of disposing of the dead:

"Coffin covered with glazed brocade or cashmere, pillow and lining of coffin in white satin; hearse to the home and church; lace lined cover for coffin, candlesticks and crape scarfs for the same; baldachin, brocade covered, white or gilt wooden parts, drawn by six horses—saparisoned with black cloth; sixteen uniformed servants, six leading horses, three walking on each side of coffin, four carrying candlesticks; spreading branches of juniper trees from church to cemetery; cloth for carrying the coffin; choir of twenty-five when taking the body from the house to the church, during mass and burial service; choir of eight at the four masses for the dead; choir of ten accompanying the body to the cemetery; twelve two-horse carriages; funeral notice in two newspapers; four mounted policemen from the church to the cemetery; one metallic wreath; black cloth draperies in the church; filing of burial permit at the office of the cemetery.

"These items are all embraced in one bill rendered by the undertaker. Other expenses in connection with the burial place and its care include the cost of a grave or plot, charges for the use of the mortuary chapel and assembly halls, fees to gatekeepers, bellringers and gravediggers, and to other attendants for the care of grass and flowers. Lining a grave with masonry of one-half brick thickness costs $45 for a single grave and $87.50 for a double grave. A cross of pine with the name in oil painted costs $2, and if the cross be half oak and half pine the charge is $5. No cost attaches to the privilege of placing a monument on the burial lot. The committee of the Cemetery of Foreign Confessions undertakes to keep a grave in order forever for $200.

"Burials are made three days after death, except in the case of infectious diseases, when prompt interment is required. From the house to the church the body is carried by four men, in open coffin, preceded by a person who carries the lid upon his head. Only in cases of infectious diseases is the casket closed in the house. Embalming is not much practiced in Russia, except by the wealthy, and the charges range from $50 up. There are no coroners in Russia. The burials are under the control of the churches and the police, and all cemeteries are owned by the church and the municipality. Cremation is contrary to law, but it has been suggested from official sources.

"In case of the death of a foreigner, a permit to transport the body to another country is obtained from the local authorities; similar permits must also be secured from the consuls representing the countries through which the body is carried.

"The chief medical officers at St. Petersburg has suggested to the government that (1) the minimum depth of a grave should be forty-two inches; (2) the distance between graves should be forty-two inches; (3) that a permit to bury within two days, or even less, should prevail if the body is examined by postmortem or is decomposed; (4) cremation should be permitted (a) if an adult has left a will to that effect, or if relatives so desire, there being no will, and witnesses can prove the deceased did not object; (b) if upon police and medical statements there is no doubt as to natural cause."—New York Tribune.

"PORE OLE DAD."

Ye can scarce pick up a paper
An' its "Poets Corner" greet,
'Cept ye'll see a pretty poem
'Bout the mother, saintly, sweet;
But ye'll have a time a-searchin',
Ere ye'll overtake a poem
At this time for pore ole dad!

No, it isn't willful in 'em,
Them that write of mother dear,
That there's never notice taken
Of her ole man settin' near.
No, it's never meant to slight him,
But it looks a little sad—
All the boquets made for mother,
Not a bloom for pore ole dad!

True, our mother watched above us
'Till her dear old eyes would ache,
But ole dad he humped to feed us
'Till his back would nearly break;
Mother crooned above the cradle,
Gave devotion, all she had,
Still that wasn't any circus
At this time for pore ole dad!

Do not take one from mother
When ye write the soul-sweet song,
But if there's a word for father
Now and then it won't be wrong.
Pore ole soul! He's bent and wrinkled,
An' I know 'twould make him glad,
If while ye are praising mother,
Somethin' said for pore ole dad:

Rhode Island's July 4.
Providence, R. I., May 4.—The anniversary of Rhode Island's declaration of independence, which the local historian claim antedated by two months the general Declaration of Independence of the thirteen colonies, was celebrated as an official holiday today throughout the state. Rhode Island claims the distinction of having been the first of the original thirteen colonies to renounce the sovereignty of Great Britain. According to the historical records it was on May 4, 1776, exactly two months before the Declaration of Independence was signed at Philadelphia, that the members of the general assembly of the colony of Rhode Island and the Providence Plantations took the first steps toward a stand against English rule in the shape of a formal renunciation of allegiance to the British Crown.
Two years ago the legislature declared for the observance of the anniversary as a public holiday throughout the state. Today's celebration consisted of patriotic exercises in the public schools and historical exercises in the hall of the old state house in this city, where the declaration of independence was signed 134 years ago by the statesmen of Rhode Island. In further observance of the anniversary a salute of thirteen guns was fired at noon in Providence, Newport, Bristol and other cities.

The Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., and other organizations affiliated with the veterans are also holding their annual sessions here.

Why Delay?

The hot weather will soon be here. People must eat, even in hot weather. Gentlemen, don't allow your wife to go into a hot kitchen to worry and fret with coal or wood. Avoid the disagreeable odor that gasoline or oil makes in a room. Keep up with the progress of your city.

REGARDING CENSUS TAKING.

Supervisor Lindsay Requests All Who Have Not Been Counted to Send in Names.

Your city wants a complete census taken, so that you will make as good a showing as possible, and the United States Government wants to help you out in every way. Some persons are bound to be overlooked, no matter how well or how carefully our enumerators work their respective districts, owing to the fact that many people are out of town or make your city their place of residence while spending the major part of their time in other places. I respectfully request all persons who have been overlooked to send their names in to my office, and I will see that they are properly enumerated.

Supervisor of Census, 15th District of Texas, Gainesville, Texas.

Dr. Rankin says Cone Johnson is the candidate for prohibition democrats to support in the race for governor, and that settles it, so far as Dr. Rankin is concerned; but does it make Cone Johnson any stronger?—San Antonio Express.

It certainly does—one vote, at least, and one vote is just as good as ten thousand, provided it is all that is necessary to elect. But Dr. Rankin is not such an unimpartial man, even if he has halted and hesitated between Davidson, Poindexter and Johnson, and all the Times needs to convince it of this fact is a simple reference to the files of some very prominent and influential Texas papers during the progress of the Bailey-Johnson campaign for delegate-at-large to the National Democratic Convention. At times Dr. Rankin's influence was sought and the bouquets showered upon him for the stand he had taken in this political scrap were numerous. Compare them with the "lemons" these same people are handing out to him today.

Texas is the greatest state in the Union. There is no sort of doubt as to that statement, but occasionally some of our more enthusiastic boosters who go abroad make talks that are misunderstood. Everybody's Magazine, in printing a story under the caption or title of "The Land of the Lonesome Census," says:

At the International Sunday School convention at Louisville, in answer to the roll call of states the reports were verbally given by the various state chairmen. When the Lone Star state was called, a brawny specimen of Southern manhood stepped out into the aisle and with exceeding pride, said: "We represent the great state of Texas. The first white woman born in Texas is still living—she now has a population of over three millions."

There was a pause of bewilderment for a moment and then a voice from the gallery rang out clear and distinct: "Send that woman out to Wyoming—we need her."

The Standard Oil Company has been "outed" again, this time from the state of Tennessee by a decision of the United States Supreme Court. The trouble with ousting the Standard Oil is that it refuses to stay ousted.

A storm of protest is going up from every section of the south against a recent decision of the Louisiana supreme court, in which it is held that the legal term of "negro" means a full-blood, and that the law does not prohibit the intermarriage in that state of the whites and colored unless the latter are full blood. Most people have the idea that the law prohibits the marriage of the white race with any person of African descent.

SHOOTING IN HOTEL

House Detective Kills Man He Found in Room.
Texas News Service Special.
Houston, Tex., May 4.—Investigation by the police today revealed the fact that the man shot in the room of the Brazos Hotel late last night was Robt. G. McArtor, a hotel barber. House Detective Scott, who was arrested following the shooting, says he fired in self-defense, as he believed McArtor had drawn a revolver. Scott had previously forced an entrance to the room, finding McArtor and Mrs. Ed C. Learmont there and ordered McArtor to leave. The woman's husband, a Houston embalmer, cared for McArtor's body, not learning until afterwards that it was his wife who was implicated in the tragedy.

HEAVY FREIGHT HAUL

The train consisted of twenty seven loaded cars, forty empties and one private car which was occupied by officials interested in the train. The Katy has been increasing the tonnage of its freight trains going north for several weeks following completion of the double tracks.

What Are You Willing to Pay for Coffee

20, 25, 35, 40c per lb.—you, of course, don't want anything cheaper than 20c and in the range quoted we have the very best coffee that can be produced for the price.

Continental at 20c and Concord at 25c are, of course, the most popular, because of the price.

"Lexington" is a new grade we have just added; it is 35c, while "Revere" is the top notch of coffee perfection, at 40c.

Now let us give you a coffee secret: When you pay 25, 35 or 40c per lb. for either Concord, Lexington or Revere you are not extravagant in the least, for you get enough additional strength for each 5c extra that you pay to make that many more cups of better coffee in each case for each step up in price you naturally get better flavor and more of it.

Give Lexington or Revere a try out on our recommendation.

JAPANESE STREETS.

They Swarm With Sideshow and Playing Children.

A Japanese street is a delightful place to play in, for grownup people in Japan do not seem to mind if the tail of a kite flaps right into their smiling faces and only laugh when they are turned out of their way by some huge pegeop which hums like an angry bee around their feet.

Wee, dark eyed maidens in butterfly kimonos of brilliant coloring turn their skipping ropes gayly, the tiny black heads of the babies they carry strapped to their backs bobbing up and down like small round balls. Their brothers plays at "flags," which is a favorite game of theirs. They divide themselves into two parties, one carrying white flags and the other red ones. At a given signal the "reds" attack the "whites," striving to wrest away their flags, and the side which carries off most of these is proclaimed victor.

Wonderful conjurers are to be found at the street corners. They make swarms of birds fly from crystal bowls and flowers spring as if by magic from slender stems of bamboo.

Others show marvelous beetles harnessed with wax to paper carts or command the snakes that accompany them everywhere to perform extraordinary tricks.

A little farther on you will find an old woman who is making a curious sweetmeat of beans, called "torfu," over an oval brazier, and you can buy a big slab of this wrapped up in a cool leaf for a very small sum or, if you prefer it, a piping hot griddlecake costing no more. Acrobats, too, are as common as conjurers, and surely in no other land than this quaint little Japan do they twist themselves into such strange shapes.—Home Chat.

Chamois Tobogganers.

"Chamois toboggan down the steep white sides of the Alps with the skill of Norwegian skiers," said a millionaire. "I know," he went on, "for I have seen them do it. I spent a winter at St. Moritz, and on many a skating trip I saw a chamois lie on his back and go skimming like the wind down a white precipice—a pretty sight. The creature's paws would be folded on his breast. His head, uplifted and frowning, would keep watch. Thus he'd skim down a half mile slope, growing smaller and smaller and finally disappearing in a whirl of snow."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Real Disappointment.

"Yes, sir," Uncle Eben said to his nephew, "there are all kinds of disappointments in this world, Charley, and some of 'em are worse'n others. But they're all jest ways of feelin' bad for a minute, I guess. 'Bout the disappointin'g disappointment I ever have is when I feel and feel like meanin' and it won't mean! That kinder gives you a notion of how all disappointments feel till you get over 'em."—Youth's Companion.

The Direct Action Gas Range IS BEST

BECAUSE:

- It has no oven bottom to burn out.
- No dangerous pilot lights to cause explosions.
- Enameled steel walls which do not rust.
- 5 feet of gas will finish biscuits on both racks starting with cold oven.
- Burner caps not connected, but loose; easy to clean.
- Does not heat the boiler when you bake or roast.

of the fine and ultra palatable in pickles is found in the Heinz Line. Heinz Pickles, whether in bulk or in bottles, are uniform in size and color and are exactly right in flavor and quality. We call special attention to the bulk sweet mixed pickles. These are prepared from choice "Heinz-Grown" vegetables, preserved in a sweet, spicy liquor made of granulated sugar, old malt vinegar and pure spices. They are thoroughly sweet, but delightfully piquant—not insipid like ordinary sweet pickles.

It is safe to buy bulk pickles, if they are "HEINZ-MADE."

OLD MEXICO

The Coming Great Mining District of this Continent

Mining Progressing

It is known that for centuries before the advent of the white man into Mexico, the natives gathered from the surface or gleaned from the river beds, great quantities of the precious metals, which they cast into bars or skillfully wrought into useful and ornamental forms. Their conquerors found walks paved with silver; temples lined with gold, and gold and silver articles of great variety and beauty for personal adornment and other purposes, but the treasures which they received as gifts or took by force, gave them only a hint of the marvelous mineral wealth of the country they had captured. However, the passion for gold has been ever strong in the human race, and the adventurous prospector and industrious miner were soon abroad seeking the hidden source of Mother Earth from which the filmy flakes, and tiny grains and shining nuggets of the Aztecs had come. They found them, too, and since the day when Montezuma, under stress of circumstances, surrendered up the golden treasures of his people in the tribute of the invaders, the Empire over which he ruled has yielded many billion dollars worth of new mineral wealth, and Mexico now stands as the greatest producer of silver, the second greatest producer of copper, and one of the leading producers of gold in the world.

Investment

Mining goes steadily on and the industry is in a more active and flourishing condition in Mexico than it ever was before. The mineral production of the country now amounts to many million dollars per month in value. The government is doing every thing it can to popularize the mining business and as a result, signs of substantial progress are to be found on every side.

The Mining Industry of Mexico

It is evident that an era of great prosperity and wide-spread development of the rich mineral resources of the country is now starting on its way. Extensive mineral grants, long inactively held, and rich old mines, heretofore unpurchasable at any price, and for generations worked merely enough to meet family expenses, are opening to persistent efforts of foreign capital, courage and energy, for commercial operation.

Modern methods are superceding the crude and primitive ones that have prevailed for hundreds of years. Machinery is supplanting and supplementing human muscle and animal power, and science is solving difficult problems in the treatment of ores. Mills and smelters are getting more numerous and are affording greater accommodations and conveniences than have heretofore existed.

Native mining labor is cheap and plentiful, mining supplies are conveniently obtainable, and the laws, have been liberalized so as to foster and protect the mining business, means of transportation and communication are being constantly extended; money has been placed on a gold basis, exchange is stable and commercial facilities with other countries are good.

With this great record of the past with thousands of tons of ore cropping out in its mineral sections everywhere and with its large area of virgin mineral ground still remaining untouched, and unexplored, Mexico today, offers opportunities for successful mining ventures not surpassed in any country in the world.

Investments are as safe as in any of the mining sections of this country, and already immense amounts of American and European capital are going into every line of business there.

The Rothschilds, and other leading bankers of Paris, Berlin and London, the Guggenheims, Green, Lewisohns, Schwab, Hearst, and others of New York. M. W. Gates and associates of Chicago, Lawson and others of Boston, and many prominent people of Philadelphia and elsewhere are some of the well known capitalists who are largely interested in mining enterprises there.

The first mining boom to affect this continent concerned the deposits of Mexico, and although mining has been carried on actively for nearly four centuries, and the production of silver exceeds that of the United States, it is believed that the development of the mineral resources of the republic has been only begun.

The extension of railroad lines throughout the republic is certain to prove a great stimulus to mining in the territory affected. The development of water power also promises to be a great benefit to the industry. Movements are on foot to supply several of the historic camps with electric current from power stations upon neighboring streams.

Mexico deserves all the attention which it is receiving from mining men, and will continue to be of especial interest for years to come.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

MAKING CLEAN MONEY

Rev. Robert McIntyre, a noted divine, in a sermon some few years ago, said "I admire a miner's wealth. It is clean. There is neither blood nor tears on it. It is acquired away from the cut throat competition that characterizes ordinary ventures, nobody has been pinched; nobody has been wronged. The miner who digs a fortune out of the ground has the satisfaction of knowing that he hasn't robbed a soul, even though he becomes a thousand times a millionaire. The man who makes a fortune on the Board of Trade or the Stock Exchange, or in building up a gigantic business house, adds nothing to the world's store of available wealth, in other words, the world is no richer because he is richer, but he is richer rather because someone is poorer. The miner, whether he digs out $10 or $10,000, adds that much to the world's wealth and with the added wealth he contributes just that much to the possible amount of the world's comforts and pleasures. The miner is today the king of wealth producers of the country, and I honor him above all others. It needs no apology to emulate his example or assist him in his efforts.

Mining Investments Pay Largely.

The Daily Mining Record says: It is an undeniable fact that the most influential business men of the world have turned their attention to Mr. W. I. Wainwright, of nearly all wealth; for he is the man who has enslaved to the idea that the five per cent, or six per cent work, many millions of interest through heading the advice of those interested in cheap

The Board of Directors of this company decided at their meeting yesterday to place 100,000 shares only of this stock on the market at the price of par value being $1.00. The money derived from the sale of the first 100,000 shares is to be used for immediate development. This is all that will be placed on the market at this price.

money, and that among the banking institutions of the west, eight and twenty per cent per annum is not considered a hazardous western profit or excessive dividend on the great majority of our guilt-edged mining securities, and further, the richest men in the world are mining kings, many of whom have grown powerful enough through the proper application of originally a moderate capital and it is proven that while millions of dollars have been lost in railroads, farm mortgages, eastern industrial and building associations, the mining industry steadily advances, making enormous profits for its supporters, building great states and cities, and points with pride to the American possession of 253 mines that have paid dividends over $625,000,000.

U. S. Government reports show that the mines of the United States produced $1,092,224,380 in 1901, which exceeds the total combined value of the wheat and cotton crops.

The mineral resources of the United States show a greater ratio of increase than any other industry.

The annual dividends of the mines are greater than those paid by all the railroad interests in the country.

The profits of the mines exceed the profit of all the banks of the country.

Mining is one of the most certain and profitable of all pursuits, and when conducted under proper conditions may be considered as safe as the most conservatively managed manufacturing business.

The products of the mines represent the basis of all prosperity and wealth. The miner is in reality the only permanent wealth producer. Wealth taken from the ground is new wealth that is actually created, and no one is wronged or made poorer through its creation. It belonged to no other man, and it does not lessen the value of the property that any man possesses.

PROFIT IN MINING

Comstock sold one-quarter interest in his mine for $6000. The mine produced afterwards $600,000,000 and shares sold at $1875 each. Calumet and Hecla paid its early investors $1500 on each $1 invested, and shares went from $1 to $340 each. United Verde sold for 50 cents a share and is now paying 8700 per cent. dividends at that price. This mine went begging for $30,000 fifteen years ago, until it was purchased by Senator Clark, who recently refused a $100,000,000 offer for it made by a Belgian syndicate. The Le Roy mine was sold entire in 1890 for $12.50. Its market value is now $10,000,000, and its stock has gone from 2 cents a share to $50 a share, and paid 6000 per cent. on first cost. One hundred dollars invested a few years ago in it is now worth $250,000 and has paid $35,000 in dividends. Gold coin sold at 1 cent a share, is now worth $5.50 and has paid 4800 per cent. on first cost. One hundred dollars invested in it in 1896 is now worth $55,000, and has paid over $11,000 in dividends. Home Mining Company stock advanced in seven months from 30 cents to $25 per share. Granite Mountain advanced in two years from 10 cents to $75 per share. The Copper Queen was once offered for $2000 and refused. It pays now millions every year. The Bonanza Mine, of Eastern Oregon was offered for $500 in 1896, with no takers. It is now producing $1,000,000 a year. The Independence Mine, at Cripple Creek, was located as a prospect. A few years later it was sold to an English syndicate for $10,000,000. Two hundred and fifty dollars invested in Silver King in 1893 is now worth $9000, and paid over $4000 in dividends. Parrott has paid $5,750,000 in dividends. Ten dollars invested in Swansea in 1895 is now worth $4500, and has paid $3100 in dividends. The Homestead Mine, in Dakota has paid $12,000,000 in dividends, and its stock advanced 5000 per cent. Alaska Treadwell has paid $5,000,000 in dividends, and its stock has advanced 3200 per cent. Anaconda has paid $22,000,000 in dividends and was recently sold to Rothschild for $40,000,000.

Boston & Montana has paid $25,000,000 in dividends. Quincy has paid $13,000,000 in dividends. United Verde has paid $17,900,000 in dividends. Calumet & Hecla has paid $80,000,000 in dividends. Ontario has paid $14,000,000 in dividends. Con. Cal. & Virginia has paid $77,500,000 in dividends. Homestake has paid $12,000,000 in dividends. Granite Mountain has paid $12,120,000 in dividends. St. John del Rey has paid $13,736,000 in dividends. Tamarack has paid $8,500,000 in dividends. Parrott has paid $5,750,000 in dividends.

Fifty other mines have paid from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 in dividends. No commercial business can begin to compare with mining as a profitable pursuit.

That carefully selected mining investments are safer, more permanent and more profitable than any other, there can be no question. The comstock Lode of Virginia City, Nevada, has produced in twenty years the enormous sum of $316,880,486, while it is estimated that there is yet $35,000,000 in the tailings; and the output of the Witwatersrand district in South Africa for ten years previous to the Boer war was more than $400,000,000. And mining is yet in its infancy.

Anaconda paid a profit of $6,000,000 in 1901; Calumet and Hecla has paid $88,000,000 in dividends; Crown Point stock advanced from $274 to $1825 in one year; Consolidated Virginia stock sold 1885 at 11 cents a share, in 1886 at $65; Best & Belcher advanced from 60 cents to $23.50 in one year; Belcher sold at $6.50 per share in 1871 and $1550 in 1873, and the mine has paid $15,379,200 in dividends; the Idaho Gold Mining Company has paid its stockholders in dividends seventeen and one-half times more than its entire capital stock, 1750 per cent profit.

We cannot impress too strongly upon those desirous of taking advantage of the opportunities offered for large returns upon investments, that it is at the initial stage—when most investors are timid—that decision and action should be made.

In all the millions made out of mining—and they are larger than all other business of a commercial character combined—by far the greater part has been made by early and decisive action. Hundreds of cases can be cited where the investor looked into the prospects of large returns with the same care as he would into any other investment—and every investor should exercise this caution—and considering the well known fact that over 50 per cent of mining businesses are large successes, as against 5 per cent. in ordinary businesses—was rewarded with returns that no other business could possibly yield.

In a report made on these properties, the Santa Rosa, Roberts and Nevada Mines, the firm of Place Elton, Mining Engineers of Oaxaca, say: "The three properties together form a good basis for a strong mining company and the very fact that they have been chosen from among the best available properties in each district of the gold belt makes failure impossible, provided the mines are developed in a rational and scientific way and by men competent to handle them. By having sufficient capital ready to gain each point of the development scheme in turn, and using everything to best advantage, there is no failure possible, and it can be expected that the three mines will in time become one of the largest gold producers in Oaxaca and the world."

HURRAH FOR HOT BREAD!

Editorial Writer is Elated With Expert's Decision.

Buried deep in the dusty ages of official reports are often bright gems of truth that wait in silent beauty the resurrecting hand of the patient investigator. For weeks there has reposed on the Journal's editorial table a brochure sent out by the Department of Agriculture bearing the somewhat unimpressive title: "Bread and Breadmaking." We confess that we are not irresistibly drawn to pursue this bulletin, for while the title is alluringly suggestive to the dull masculine fancy such things are properly relegated to the mysterious recesses of ovens and kitchen ranges. But in toying idly with this little publication the writer's listless eye suddenly caught upon these fascinating lines:

"Statements of a popular nature are frequently met with regarding the wholesomeness of hot bread. The fact that bread is hot has doubtless little to do with the matter. New bread, especially that from a large loaf, may be readily compressed into more or less solid masses, and it is possible that such bread would be much less finely masticated than crumbly, stale bread, and that, therefore, it might offer more resistance to the digestive juices of the stomach. However, when such hot bread as rolls, biscuits or other forms is eaten in which the crust is very large in proportion to the crumb, this objection has much less force. As far as is now known the changes ordinarily occurring in good bread as it ages do not affect its digestibility unless it becomes so dry as to be unappetizing."

There we have it at last—the triumphant vindication of hot bread! free from sectional prejudice and untinctured of partisan spirit, is the official and authoritative dictum that hot bread, radiating the rare and intoxicating aromas of all the Arabians, in measured and scientific formula, is nourishing and wholesome. Who could have guessed that it would be the Department of Agriculture that would perform this last essential service in reuniting a republic once torn and rent asunder over the question of human slavery and hot bread! The final eraser has been run over the Mason and Dixon's line. Everywhere, save possibly along the stern and inhospitable shores of chill New England will there be rejoicing. The Adames, Ben Franklin, Otis Warren, Daniel Webster and Henry Cabot Lodge were men of cold bread and of smaller nature. But the warm and impulsive spirits of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Calhoun, Clay, Marshall and Lee were nourished upon hot bread that steamed an invocation to the god of appetite. Hail to the ameliorating influence of Hon. James Wilson and the Government printing office. And to thee, too, sweet Helen Atwater, author of "Bread and Breadmaking," in farmer's bulletin 289!—Kansas City Journal.

HIS FIRST COLT TO START IN RACES

ASHLAND R. is by Ashland Wilkes, 2.17 1/4 the sire of John R. Gentry 2.00 1/2 and 140 others with records better than 2.30. His dam Wilkie McGregor is a great brood mare by the greatest stallion of his day, Robert McGregor, 2.17 1/2. His second dam Virtie Wilkes is also a great brood mare and is by Red Wilkes, sire of 177 standard performers.

HERE IS ONE OF THE BEST BRED STALLIONS IN AMERICA, and if you will send for his tabulated pedigree and study it you will find that he traces to George Wilkes, Hambletonian 10, American Star, Pilot Jr., and other great sires through producing and performing lines that prove the above statement beyond all doubt.

He is one of the BEST LOOKING STALLIONS and best dispositioned horses in the country as you can see by calling at the stables.

Bred in Kentucky, Ashland R. is now nine years old, stands nearly 16 hands high, weighs over 1,100. His colts are larger than he is even from small mares, are the same rich bay with black points, heavy manes and tails, round full made bodies on good legs with plenty of bone and muscle and sell for fancy prices on account of their style, action and speed.

Messrs. Kemp and Kell asked Mr. Palmer L. Clark, President of the Chicago Horse Sale, Co. and former owner of Clark's Horse Review, one of the leading turf papers, to select a horse that would do the breeding interests of this section the most good, and his choice as a result of thirty years experience is in keeping with the many solid improvements and expensive advantages Wichita Falls has been favored with by these gentlemen.

Ashland R. will make the season at the low fee of $15.00 cash. For years past he has commanded the best mares in Ohio at $50.00. NO OWNER INTENDING TO BREED A MARE THIS SUMMER CAN AFFORD TO MISS THIS CHANCE.

FAMOUS FISH EATERS.

The Love of Sea Food Was a Mania in the Time of Lucullus.

Many famous persons both in modern and ancient times have been known as devoted fish eaters. Gattia, queen of Syria, was so fond of fish that she ordered all caught within the limit of her kingdom to be brought to her in order that she might be continually supplied with the choicest quality. Philoxenes of Cytheria, on learning from his physician that he must die of indigestion from having eaten excessively of a delicious fish, said, "Be it so, but before I go allow me to finish what remains."

Athens was a city of fish eaters, and its cooks were famous for their knowledge of cooking fish. The wise writers of the day spent much time in recording recipes for preserving fish in salt, oil or herbs. There was a law in the city that forbade a fishmonger to sit down until he had disposed of all his stock on the ground that a standing position made him more submissive and inclined to sell at a reasonable price.

The Romans inherited from the Greeks their love for fish. Rome's soldiers were fed on fish, her generals ate fish, her senators were epicures in fish, and her emperors recognized no dish more desirable than fish.

Lucullus caused a canal to be cut through a mountain near Naples to bring up the sea and its fishes to the center of the gardens of his sumptuous villa. The love of fish in those days was a mania. The red mullet was prized beyond all food. A sauce called garum, made from the entrails and blood of mackerel and other fishes, brought high prices, and great prizes were offered the man who could make a similar sauce out of the liver of the red mullet.

In more modern times kings have been known for their liking of fish. In the reign of Edward II. in England sturgeon could be served only on the king's table. In France fishmongers were licensed by the king. Louis XII. was so fond of fish he appointed six fishmongers to supply his table. Francis I. had twenty-two and Henry the Great twenty-four.

Under the reign of Louis XIV. fish eating became as popular at the French court as it had ever been in Rome. A story is told that when fish failed to arrive from the seacoast in time for a grand dinner being given by the Prince of Conde to the king the prince's chef, an illustrious purveyor of fish, was so chagrined he ran to his chamber, took his sword and pierced his heart.—Boston Globe.

Forgetful.

Absentminded Annette belongs to a club of young women in the west end of town. She went to a bridal shower given by the club and left her present at home.

"I'm so sorry that I forgot it," she said.

"Never mind," the other girls told her. "You can send it around later."

A few weeks later the club gave another bridal shower, and again Annette left her gift at home.

"Do you know what I've done?" she said when she discovered her mistake. "I've forgotten my present."

No one felt disposed to help her out.

"But, then," she added, "didn't one of the girls forget her present last time, and didn't we say it would be all right if she sent it around later? I'm sure that happened to somebody."—Newark News.

Hampered by Conventionalities. Washington was crossing the Delaware river at Trenton.

"Of course," he said, "I don't mind standing up in this boat and gazing sternly in the direction of the unsuspecting foe, since the artists insist on depicting me in this absurd attitude, but the blithering chumps ought to know better than to paint these blocks of floating ice projecting a foot above the water. Any man with an ounce of gumption knows that the ice in this river isn't eight feet thick."

Angered by these reflections, he fell upon the Hessians shortly afterward with extreme ferocity.—Chicago Tribune.

Easy.

"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle," said a writer, "sat at dinner on his last visit here beside a lady who asked leave to consult him about some thefts."

"My detective powers," he replied, "are at your service, madam."

"Well," said the lady, "frequent and mysterious thefts have been occurring at my house for a long time. Thus there disappeared last week a motor horn, a broom, a box of golf balls, a left riding boot, a dictionary and a half dozen tin pie plates."

"Aha," said the creator of Sherlock Holmes, "the case, madam, is quite clear. You keep a goat."—Exchange.

Suffers For Her Belief.

"There are no martyrs these days."

"Oh, I wouldn't say that."

"Do you think there are any people today who would suffer tortures for their beliefs?"

"My wife believes that an eighteen inch waist looks better than a twenty-two, and I think she suffers a lot of genuine torture because of that belief."—Houston Post.
